

SHOVING THE QUEER.

Counterfeit Dollars and other Silver Coin in circulation in High Point.

Several years ago a band of counterfeiters operated here and a large amount of the spurious coin was in circulation. A detective of Uncle Sam was sent for, and after staying here several days, not only located the counterfeiters, but the den and some of the tools used in coining the "queer."

Two of the parties were convicted and served time, and since that time none of the unlawful money has been discovered so far as known.

This week several silver dollars and coins of smaller value have been taken in by citizens here, and it is believed that another band of counterfeiters is at work here in close proximity. As was the case in the former counterfeit money, showed the hallmarks of the "queer," but not so with the dollars turned loose here recently. One examined by your correspondent has the weight and appearance of the real dollar with Uncle Sam's stamp, it being clear cut and in every way a good counterfeit, the only serious drawback in the ring.

Babbitt metal is supposed to be the material used in making them. The dollar in circulation bears the date of 1870, and one that was examined closely had scars on the face, just as if it had been carried in the pocket. The merchants have been notified to look out and inform the officers if they take in any of the "queer." In the meantime, they are on the lookout to see if there is any foundation for a probable counterfeiting of the spurious coin in High Point. - High Point Special to Industrial News.

Husband Claimed Body.

Norfolk, Va., Feb 12 - Henry Mortimer Wilson, aged 31 years, the Boston shoe factory superintendent, whose wife died here from a broken heart yesterday, three days after he deserted her, following a flirtation with a trained nurse at Southern Pines, where the Wilsons had been for the husband's health, arrived here today and claimed the body of the poor woman, which was tonight shipped to Boston for burial at Wilson's direction.

Seeing the error of his way and tiring of the trained nurse, Wilson telegraphed from Raleigh late last night to the hotel at which he had deserted his wife, asking that she forgive him and await his arrival from Raleigh today. The word went back that she was dead. Wilson upon his arrival today went to the hospital where she died. He made no request to view her body as it lay in the chapel morgue, being apparently unmoved.

The trained nurse in the case is supposed to be still in Raleigh.

A bill has been introduced in the house that certainly ought to be passed. It allows fees to county officers for seizing illicit distilleries. As the law now stands no pay is allowed for such work, and the result is there is little or no effort made by county officers to capture "moonshine" stills. In a very few counties of the State is an illicit distillery ever captured by a sheriff or his deputy. Probably a fee may induce some of them to do their duty in this respect. -Pittsboro Record.

DEATH OF PRESIDENT OF S. A. L.

Alfred Walter Passed Away in New York Yesterday.

Richmond, Va., February 12--The Seaboard Air Line office has been informed by wire of the death in New York of President Walter of that road. Mr. Walter was elected president about six or eight months ago to succeed J. M. Barr.

New York, Feb 12.-President Alfred Walter, of the Seaboard Air Line, died at his home, 441 west 75th street, in this city, today. He had been ill only about two weeks.

Mr. Walter was 56 years old and was a railroad man all his life. He began as a rodman on the Allegany Valley road in 1872, and worked gradually upward, until he had held important positions with several of the big eastern lines. In December, 1891, he became president of the Delaware, Susquehanna and Schuylkill railroad; in July 1897 was made president of the Lehigh Valley, and a few months ago he was elected to the presidency of the Seaboard Air Line.

Norfolk, February 12.-Mr. Walter had been ill for 10 days or two weeks. He was taken sick with a slight indisposition which was first not considered serious but which became more alarming the last few days. The exact cause of his death could not be stated at the general offices of the Seaboard in this city.

The funeral and interment will take place in New York on Thursday. Vice President and General Manager W. A. Garrett of the Seaboard leaves tomorrow night for New York to attend the obsequies.

Mr. Walter who was 55 years of age, was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., October 2, 1851. He first entered railroad life July 12, 1872.

Mr. Walter is survived by a widow and one son the latter now being at college in New York.

No Cause for Regret.

There are some things which it is evident that the believer will neither regret when on his death-bed nor at the judgment. The following are among the number: That he gave his heart to God too early.

That he had too much of the mind of Jesus.

That he was too patient and long-suffering.

That he was too holy.

That he sacrificed too much for the salvation of souls and the extension of Christ's kingdom.

That he was too fearless and aggressive for God and holiness.

That he was too tender and forgiving.

That he loves God and man too much.

That he spent too much time in prayer.

This being true, happy are they who devote their lives fully to these things that will never be regretted, a d less along lines that are doubtful. -The Revivalist.

Fire in Beaver Dam.

W. A. Nichols, of Beaver Dam township, had the misfortune to lose his dwelling house and kitchen and contents by fire on Tuesday evening about 2 o'clock. Mr. Nichols had no insurance and it is a heavy loss to him.

The Little Helpers of the Methodist Sunday school will have a Valentine party at the old Eborn house tonight.

THE BEST FRIENDS MUST PART.

Judge Justice Seeks to Console Colonel T. L. Kirpatrick.

An amusing incident occurred in court yesterday when Colonel Thomas Leroy Kirpatrick sought to intercede with Presiding Judge M. H. Justice for his client, a blind tiger who had just been found guilty of that most heinous of offences, selling liquor in Mecklenburg county.

"He is a hard worker, your honor, and I sincerely hope that you will impose as light a sentence upon him as possible," besought Col. Kirpatrick. "You say he is a good worker?" asked Judge Justice, smiling.

"Yes, sir, your Honor," the colonel replied hopefully.

"Very well," continued the judge, "road making is a little behind, so I'll send him to the chain-gang for 12 months."

"If your Honor please," protested the colonel, "I'd hate to see him sent to the roads."

"I'm sorry, but the best of friends must part you know," quoted Judge Justice consolingly as he bent over to record the sentence, and call for the next case.

The laugh was on the colonel, and the bar as well as many of the spectators roared. -Charlotte Observer.

The Weather.

Sometimes it's calm and sometimes rough,

But, let it shine or rain,

About it people talk enough

To make the weather vain.

-Pittsburg Post.

It's vain about it's shap--You're right:

Just take my quiet tip--

Open the door most any night

And see the weather strip!

-Cleveland Leader.

So many garbs it has in fact,

In grades from hot to cold,

The weather bureau must be packed

As full as it can hold.

MRS. COBB ENTERTAINS.

Reported for Reflector. One of the most delightful card parties of the season was the one given Tuesday evening by Mrs. R. J. Cobb, at her beautiful home on Fifth street to quite a number of her friends.

Five Hundred was the game of the evening and the contest was full of keen zest. Miss Nellie Skinner was the lucky winner of the first prize, a beautiful Christy picture, and the consolation, a hand painted plaque, went to Mrs. Harry Whedbee. After the game delicious refreshments were served.

Weather.

Fair tonight and Friday. Colder tonight except on the coast. Colder Friday.

The Altar Workers of the Methodist church will celebrate Washington's birthday at the Perkins' opera house on the 22nd. A good time is promised. See notice.

Seats are now selling for the Grundy Butcher Co. in Vaudeville, at the opera house tomorrow night.

Grundy and Butcher Co. in Vaudeville at the opera house tomorrow night. All specialties and sketches.

Blessed is he That Considereth the Poor.

A well-to-do deacon in Connecticut was one morning accosted by his pastor, who said, "Poor Widow Brown's wood is out. Can you not take her a cord?" "Well," answered the deacon, "I have the wood and I have the team; but who is to pay me for it?" The pastor, somewhat annoyed, replied, "I will pay you for it, on condition that you read the first three verses of Psalm 12, before you go to bed tonight." The deacon consented delivered the wood, and at night opened the Word of God and read the message: "Blessed is he that considereth the poor; the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble." The Lord will preserve him and keep him alive, and he shall be blessed upon the earth; and thou wilt not deliver him unto the will of his enemies. The Lord will strengthen him upon the bed of languishing; thou wilt make his bed in sickness." A few days after, the pastor met him again, "How much do I owe you, deacon, for that cord of wood?" "Oh!" said the now enlightened man, do not speak to me of payment; I did not know those promises were in the Bible. I consider it a privilege to have been able to supply the old widow's wants." -The Lutheran.

Life, Not Death.

There is much difference in the psychological effect of the two ideas "life" and "death." This was illustrated, says the writer of "Letters From a Surgeon," in the case of General Frank Bartlett, who was wounded on the Fredericksburg pike in 1864. General Bartlett was brought to the surgeon bleeding profusely from a wound in his head. He was unconscious and white as death. The surgeon called his name, but could not rouse him. Passing his finger into the wound, he found the ball had not penetrated the bone, but had simply cut an artery in the scalp. This the surgeon bound with a ligature. He laid the general on the ground and completed dressing the wound.

"No harm done, old boy!" he shouted. "This is only a flesh wound. You will be all right when I take a stitch or two."

The good news seemed to bring General Bartlett to consciousness. He rallied completely.

"I thought I was done for," he said. "Well, if I'm all right, here goes." Before the surgeon could stop him he was in the saddle and riding at the best gait of his horse back to the front again.

The Ways of the Moonshiner.

The ways of the moonshiner are pretty much the same everywhere. A suitable location consists of a secluded spot with water in abundance. It is important, should he ever be called upon to defend a case in court, for the question of the ownership of the land upon which the still is located, to be involved in doubt; hence the moonshiner gets as near the line of his own land or the land he controls as possible. The stills are primitive affairs and are often made complete in the neighborhood in which they are operated. With two or three square yards of sheet copper the still maker requires but a few hours to make the "biller." Home-made hogheads are usually used as fermenters, and the only thing that the illicit distiller has to send "off yander arter" is the worm. Being difficult to secure, the moonshiner prizes his "worm" highly, and that part of the distillery is usually taken away when the operator leaves. -David A. Gates in Metropolitan Magazine.

Origin of "Bluestockings."

Burke, apropos of "Evelina," paid Fanny Burney this high compliment: "We have had an age for statesmen, an age for heroes, an age for poets, an age for artists, but this"--with a gallant bow to Fanny--"is the age for women." The name "bluestockings," given to these distinguished women, arose, according to Fanny Burney in her "Memoirs of Her Father," from an apology made by Mr. Stillingfleet in declining an invitation of Mrs. Vesey's to a literary meeting at her house. "I am not properly dressed for such a party," he pleaded. "No, no," she cried, taking him and his dress all in at a glance, "don't mind me! Come in your blue stockings." This he did, and "those words ever after were fixed in playful stigma upon Mrs. Vesey's associations." -T. P.'s London Weekly.

Some people think it is a mystery that not withstanding good advice their boys grow up to be wild and reckless young men. If these boys were taught from infancy that home was the proper place for them after dark rather than prowling around the streets, annoying well and sick people alike, much of this mystery might be explained, and young men with better moral character and more intelligent minds would be the result. No parent need expect pure morals in a boy that prowls the streets at night, even if he does go to Sunday School.—Charlotte Herald

Before adjournment we hope the legislature will not neglect to pass a law preventing farmers increasing the price of wood and the landlords from going up on rent. We delight to abuse the trusts, but these are the things that most of us are feeling.—Durham Herald.

The railroads do not pay taxes on a full valuation nor does anybody else. A full valuation of all property in the state would mean a much smaller tax rate, and while it would make no difference to us, it would make a much better showing to outsiders.—Durham Herald.

About the only men who learn a trade any more," says a Kansas paper, "are those who are sent to the penitentiary. The country is being imposed upon more and more every year by men who have not mastered the trade which they claim to understand. As soon as a young man can distinguish the difference between a handsaw and a jack-plane he is a 'carpenter.' If he can tell mortar from a pancake batter he is a plasterer. If he can pick a paint brush out of a pile where half of the bunch are whisk brooms he hangs up his sign as a painter. If he can screw the lid on a fruit jar so it won't leak he is a plumber." Of course, this is going it a little too strong, but truth is undoubtedly present in paying quantities.—Charlotte Observer.

The old regulations in regard apprentices were possibly a little severe, but if a boy had anything in him he was a finished workman when his apprenticeship was completed. The greatest trouble under present conditions is that about 90 per cent. of boys or young men who apply for work want to start in a new trade or business, about which they know nothing, at a salary that ordinarily would be sufficient after they had worked for months. After a few months they demand as much wages as a man who has worked at the business for years. In other words, it is the practice now for beginners to set themselves up as masters of a trade or business in a few months—or at least they ask for the salary of a full hand in a few months. Mastering the details of the trade or business and demonstrating their capacity to earn more wages is utterly foreign to them. The one idea is to do as little work as possible and to get all the money possible out of the job.—Statesville Landmark.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of opium, chloroform or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in Cough remidier. Dr. Shoop, it seems has welcomed the Pure Food Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines for many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure containers have had a warning printed on them against opium and other narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by Bryan's Drug Store.

ADVERTISE.

Two Dyspeptics

If you are too fat it is because your food turns to fat instead of muscle—strength. If you are too lean the fat producing foods that you eat are not properly digested and assimilated.

Lean, thin, stringy people do not have enough Pepsin in the stomach, while fat people have too much Pepsin and not enough Pancreatic.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

contains all the digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach, and in exactly those proportions necessary to enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all foods that may be eaten. Kodol is not only a perfect digestant, but it is a reconstructive, tissue building tonic as well. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Palpitation of the Heart and Constipation. You will like it.

Digests What You Eat

Rests the stomach, rebuilds the tissues and gives firm flesh.

Half-dollar bottle holds 2 1/2 times as much as the trial, or 50 cent size.

Prepared at the Laboratory of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, U.S.A.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the local. Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well to the system.

Birds and Kites.
No bird, so far as known records show, has ever alighted on a kite or attacked one. While a scientist was flying a train of five kites some years ago a large silver tipped eagle came suddenly out of the higher air and swooped round and round the first kite, looking against the sunset sky like a huge silver ball. As the train of kites was pulled in the eagle followed, visiting one kite and then another, seeming uncertain just what to do. In a few minutes, when he seemed to have decided that they were not good to eat and he knew nothing about them, anyway, he indignantly flew off and was lost to view. While the scientist's kites were high in the air one March flock of geese flying in the wedge flew over. They invariably stopped, broke up, hovered above the queer object and at last slowly reformed and flew away. While the larger birds all come from heights above the kite, the small birds of the air will alight on the string holding the kite and sway to and fro.

Mysterious Glass Balls.
According to a foreign correspondent of the geological survey at Washington, among the most interesting features of the small island of Billiton, between Sumatra and Borneo, an island long famous for its rich tin mines, controlled by the Dutch government, are the "glass balls of Billiton," found among the tin ore deposits. These natural glass balls are round, with grooved surfaces. Similar phenomena are occasionally found in Borneo and Java as well as in Australia. The correspondent quoted thinks they cannot be artificial, and there are no volcanoes near enough to support the theory that they are volcanic bombs. Besides, it is claimed, the glassy rocks produced by the nearest volcanoes are quite different in their nature from the material of the balls. It is suspected that the mysterious objects were ejected ages ago from the volcanoes of the moon and afterward fell upon the earth.

"Caracul"—Its Etymology.
I have often been asked for the etymology of "caracul," which is a term now largely used by furriers to denote a variety of the fur called astrakhan. The new English dictionary does not contain caracul, but it has caracal, which is liable to be confused with it, though really quite a different word. The caracal is an animal, but caracul, like the nearly synonymous term, astrakhan, is the name of a place—Kara Kul—i. e., the Black lake, near Bokhara, which has long been celebrated for its output of furs. The earliest reference I can find to it in English is in Matthew Arnold's "Sohrab and Rustum."

And on his head he set his sheepskin cap, Black, glossy, curled, the fleece of Kara Kul.

—London Notes and Queries.

Living in the Electric Light.
Writing to a friend in the country, a New York merchant says: "I live in the electric light. I leave my home at 7 o'clock, after dressing and taking my breakfast by electric light. Then I go to the subway, one block distant, and ride to within a block of my office. There I work all day by electric light and go home again by the subway and spend the evening in the glare of the incandescent lamp. The weather conditions make no difference, because my flat and my office belong to the semidark kind. Sometimes I wonder what I would do without electric light, and sometimes I ask myself when I yearn for a little sunlight, is the new light really a blessing?"—New York Tribune.

John Stuart Mill.

The genius of this great Englishman was such that before he was twenty he was recognized as the champion and future leader of a powerful school of philosophy and politics. John Stuart Mill is said to have studied Greek at the age of three and at fourteen had begun logic and political economy. The writings and doctrines of this master mind were and are still read and preached not only in this country, but throughout the world. John Stuart Mill stands out prominently among nineteenth century thinkers.—London Mail.

Hardened.

"Listen to this, Maria," said Mr. Stubb as he unfolded his scientific paper. "This article states that in some of the old Roman prisons that have been unearthed they found the petrified remains of the prisoners." "Gracious, John!" replied Mrs. Stubb, with a smile. "I suppose you would call them hardened criminals."—Chicago News.

But He Was Cured.

"I think I'll have to take treatment for the forgetting habit. From whom did you take your treatment that was so satisfactory and successful in improving your memory?"

"From—ah, from—ah—oh, I forget his name, but wait a minute, and I'll get one of his cards out of my desk."—Exchange.

Supremely Exasperating.

"Don't you think Mrs. Spurrell has an awful temper?"

"She has, but can you blame the poor woman? She has a husband who just absolutely won't get mad at all."

Dear, Indeed!

"The dear, dear girls!" exclaimed Mrs. Pawkins, looking at her fashionable daughters enthusiastically.

"Yes; the dear, dear girls!" muttered Mr. Pawkins despondently.

Man yields to custom as he bows to fate—in all things ruled, mind, body and estate.—Crabbe.

The Treacherous Lioness.
"Lionesses are far more dangerous than lions," said an animal trainer. "Their tempers are more uncertain. They are more treacherous. They are more wily. If a lion is in a bad humor, he shows it. He growls and snarls and lashes his sides. You know what is in the wind and prepare accordingly. But a lioness in a bad humor is as affectionate as a girl. She brushes, purring, against your leg, and she minds you with the joyous alacrity of a good fox terrier. Then, as soon as your back is turned, whizz—a yellow streak shoots through the air, and you are on your back, and she is at your throat. With all the cat tribe it is the same. Whenever you hear of a trainer mauled or mangled, be sure it was a female, not a male, cat that did the deed."

Greenland's Glaciers.

Nearly all the Greenland glaciers and tongues from the internal ice cap terminate in vertical faces from 100 to 1,000 feet high, presenting facilities for investigation. The vertical faces reveal pronounced stratification on the basal ice, even earth materials in the bases, carried by the ice being arranged in layers. Fine laminations were seen twelve or twenty to an inch. The layers are sometimes twisted and contorted and even "shoved" over each other. The glacier movement at the ice border is a foot per day to a foot per week.

Force of Example.

"Talk about the instinct of the lower orders! I built a little two story house for our parrot not long ago, and the very next morning after I put her in it she looked out of the window and greeted me in a very profane fashion."

"Why should she do that?"

"Complaining about the house, I fancy."

"But why should she swear at you?"

"Took me for the janitor, no doubt."

—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

His First Love Affair.

Mrs. Rose—Did your husband ever have more than one love affair? Mrs. Pose—Oh, only one. I believe! Mrs. Rose—And that was when he fell in love with you? Mrs. Pose—Oh, dear, no! He had fallen in love with himself long before he had met me.

Women in Medicine.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they have offered One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
