AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes from a Hustling Town
Ayden, N. C., Feb. 15, 1907.

We being a J. P., yesterday a gentleman by the name of Joe applied for a warrant against a party named Joe. The witness in the case was a Joe also. We being a Josephus, the case ended in a Joe-key affair. Tell us is there nothing in a name? This is no Joe-ke but a fact.

Malcolm Prince, of Scotland Neck, with his family are visiting Mrs. Jack Smith.

Misses Agnes Dixon and Nora Smith went to Greenville Wednesday evening.

Mrs. R. H. Garris, from the country, spent one day during the week with her daughter, Mrs. W. E. Hooks.

Master Carroll Hooks is visiting his grandparents in the country.

The Williams Comedy Company were greeted with a large house last night. It is a good troupe and we can promise them good crowds during their engagement here, every one seemed pleased with their performance.

There has been something more than 150 bales of cotton sold on the market here this week.

Capt D. G. Berry has moved into the E. S. Edwards house on the corner of Lee and Second streets.

LITTLE FREDDIE SMITH.

Freddie, the little daughter of Brother John and Sister Mary Smith, passed away from this world to the beautiful home above about 2:30 o'clock, Saturday morning. Little Freddie was born Sept. 2nd, 1904, died Feb. 9th, 1907, of pneumonia. The family has our deepest sympathy in the loss of their dear little flower. We realize what it means to lose one of our dear ones, still God knoweth best, and he doeth all things well. Freddie was a member of our Sunday school, though being small her sister, May, a faithful member took her with her every Sunday the weather being favorable. We hope that each member of the Sunday school especially, and every one else will remember the bereaved family, and may the loved ones left behind strive to meet little Freddie in Heaven. Brother Smith is a faithful teacher of our Sunday school, we missed him so much on last Sunday. Little Freddie was loved by all who knew her her face was so sweet, she was so bright and active. Her seat will be vacant, at Sunday school, and in the home, which can not be filled. May the Lord bless and direct the loved ones. The funeral took place in Ayden cemetery Sunday p. m. at 2:30, attended by a large number, but owing to bad weather several were prevented from attending. The pall bearers were Messrs. E. G. Cox, F. Lilly, S. S. Hodges and F. Burney. The burial services were conducted by Brother R. H. Jones, assisted by Brother T. H. King. Little Freddie's memory will ever be sweet to us, and we feel that Heaven is more attractive in that she has gone on before.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we love is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
God in His wisdom,
Has recalled the boon.
His love had given,
And though the body slumbers here,
The soul is safe in Heaven.
Little eyes so soft, and gentle

POISON PORK KILLS THREE.

Mother and Two Children Die of Ptomaine Poisoning, and Father and Three Children Hopelessly Ill.

High Point, Feb. 14.—Ptomaine poisoning is the cause of sad affliction hanging pall-like over the household of Mr. Warner Jackson, of this city. Three have already died from the malady, which at first, was thought to be something else, and the remaining four members of the family are most likely to die.

Mr. Jackson moved to High Point with his family only a few weeks ago and they brought with them a quantity of pork of their own raising and curing, which had been packed down in their Reidsville home. All three deaths have now been traceable directly to ptomaine poisoning as the result of eating the death marked meat. Only last Sunday a child died and yesterday the mother and wife was given to cold earth. The remaining four members of the family, father and three children, are confined to their beds, and supposedly hopelessly ill with the same manner of poisoning. The case is one of the saddest on record and excites all the pity and feeling in one's nature.—Raleigh News & Observer.

Wheels Will Stop.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 14.—As a mark of respect for the memory of Alfred Walter, president of the Seaboard Air Line Railway was directed in an official order issued by W. A. Garrett, first vice-president and general manager of the Seaboard system, that all trains on the lines of the Seaboard come to a full stop, wherever they may be, at the funeral hour in New York at 3 p. m. (eastern time) and remain standing for a period of five minutes.

Thomas Gatlin Paralyzed.

Tarboro, N. C., Feb. 13.—Capt. Thomas H. Gatlin, of this place, was stricken with paralysis yesterday afternoon at five o'clock. He had just returned from the country and was in his room when the attack came upon him. Since yesterday he has not spoken, but still understands what is said to him. The paralysis is in the right side. Tonight he is resting well, but the doctors pronounce the attack a very serious one.

A Fire over the River.

The barn and contents consisting of cotton, corn and fertilizers, on the farm of Mr. C. T. Munford, the old Ben Jess Wilson place was destroyed by fire this morning about 8 o'clock. We could not learn how it caught or if any insurance. It was a total loss.

—According to the observant Washington Herald, 3,000 microbes can stand on a single pin point. They certainly can't be blamed if they don't sit down.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Little soul without a stain,
Little lips that smiled so sweetly,
Little form that suffered pain;
Little feet by angels guided
To our Father's mansion, fair,
Sad and sorrowful the parting.
But she found the gates ajar.

EASTERN CAROLINA TRAINING SCHOOL.

Sub Committee Appointed to Draw Substitute Bill.

The prayer of the educational spirit of the east was uttered last night before the joint committee of the senate and house on education. It was for the establishment of an Eastern Carolina training school, whose purpose would be to prepare teachers for the public schools, and the modest sum of $50,000 is asked for creating this institution. Representative men of the east appeared before the committee, and the members were greatly moved by the power of the speeches of Ex-Governor Jarvis and Professor Ragsdale, well known and loved citizens of this State, and other prominent easterners.

At the conclusion of the discussion of the bill by its advocates, there being no opposition, the committee went into executive session, after which it was announced that Senators Ormond and Mitchell, and Representatives Royster, Ehringhaus and Stieckley had been appointed as a sub-committee to prepare a substitute bill for the bill and report to the committee next Wednesday night.

Ex-Governor T. J. Jarvis, of Greenville, who spoke at the former meeting of the committee in favor of the bill, was the first speaker at the meeting last night. There was applause when this distinguished citizen of the State took the floor. Governor Jarvis disabused the minds of the committee of the impression that the east is seeking in any manner whatever to retard the growth, prosperity and usefulness of the State Normal and Industrial college at Greensboro. The thing of working for public education, he said, was no new thing for him, and he was glad it has become fashionable to be friendly toward the cause of education.

Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse, a physician of Greenville, spoke for the bill. He stated the difference between the climatic conditions of the east and west, holding that the teachers in the east must be indigenous, bred in the east, with a knowledge of the eastern people and conditions.

Prof. W. H. Ragsdale, superintendent of the Pitt county schools, said he was not before the committee pleading in behalf of any section in North Carolina, but when an opportunity presented he would raise his voice in behalf of the womanhood of the State, and declared he would not be fulfilling his duty unless he spoke in favor of the Eastern section. He had served successively since the administration of State Superintendent Scarborough, fifteen years, and he was fully justified in speaking for the teaching profession in Eastern Carolina. Unless the educational lines are changed, he declared, injury to the State would be worked. For fifteen or twenty years, he said, education has been talked and preached to the extent that the people have made such demands for education that they cannot be justified. He was astounded at the fact that North Carolina has not waked up to the truth that teachers must be trained. It is wrong, he held, to urge consolidation of school districts and push other policies until the demand for teachers can be supplied. He said in a large number of places in North Carolina the people are farther advanced in thought and along educational lines than teachers themselves. But the teacher should be capable of being an enlightenment in a community, with a capacity to advance intelligence and improve morals, but this cannot be done unless teachers are trained. He referred to the small attendance in some of the Eastern schools, and said the children cannot be educated unless they are put in the school and kept there; and there is only one way to get and keep the children in schools, and this is by putting a good teacher in the school. He thought competent teachers were necessary before local taxation. Professor Ragsdale said he believed it true that if he should begin the first of June and continue throughout the summer he could not secure enough competent teachers for his county. He said Eastern Carolina does not need a college now, because the children are not prepared to enter a college, but if there is anything that is needed anywhere on the face of the earth it is a training school for the teachers of Eastern Carolina. In the city of Raleigh last year, he said, he employed ten teachers to teach in his schools, but when he arrived home he found letters from six of them who said they accepted his offer sincerely, but upon their return home their parents had refused to give the permission to go to Eastern Carolina. He used this statement in some of his remarks about the impossibility of securing teachers from Western and Central Carolina, who are afraid of the supposed malaria in the East. In conclusion Professor Ragsdale said he believed there was no measure before the legislature which, if passed, would do more for the state than the establishment of this school in the East. He believed that such a school would help every educational institution in the state, male and female. He said if this bill is passed, for every dollar the state may put down another dollar will be put down by the East. If this school is established he said, in less than five years it will have more than 300 students being trained to teach in Eastern Carolina. He said if the legislature will make it possible for the East to get trained teachers, by establishing this one school, the members in time to come will be prouder for having voted for this bill than for any other at this session.

Senator Fleming stated that there was present a large delegation from the East, but unless there should be opposition to the bill, the discussion would cease here.

The joint committee was in executive session until 11:30 o'clock, when the joint committee was appointed to draw a suitable substitute bill and report it to the joint committee next Wednesday night.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Money talks, but all talking is not done by money.

February has given us enough weather already to last the remainder of the month.

June being the month of roses, February should be called the month of snows and blizzards.

The State horticultural fair is to be held this year at New Bern on the 22nd and 23rd of May.

Memorial services in honor of the late W. P. Fife were held in the Methodist church at Thomasville last Sunday, all the churches taking part.

A PAUPER'S GRAVE.

Husband Flickers After Showing up in Norfolk.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 13.—Though it was thought the body of Mrs. Herbert Mortimer Wilson, who died here Monday of a broken heart heart, following desertion by her husband a Boston shoe factory superintendent, was last night sent on to Boston, it developed today that the body was not shipped, and that Wilson, after making partial arrangements for its shipment last night, had deserted the corpse in the hands of the funeral director, whom he authorized to take charge of it. It now looks as though the city will in the end have to assume charge of the poor woman's remains and inter them in the potter's field.

The husband this afternoon called the undertaker by telephone, telling him that he would conclude arrangements for the shipment of the body to Boston, and later called in person, but left without making any arrangements whatever, and had not up to early tonight been heard from at the undertaking office where the body is held. It developed that Wilson was paying more attention to getting into communication with a trained nurse at Southern Pines, N. C., than he was to his dead wife's body.

Comedy of Errors in Forsyth Court Room.

Winston-Salem, N. C., Feb. 13.—"Mr. Clerk, give him five years on the roads. This was the sentence imposed upon John Miller, negro, by Judge Ferguson, in Forsyth Superior court, this morning. The defendant was convicted of stealing clothes from Walter Baynes, a white man residing just east of the city.

"You are charged with stealing five and a half pounds of butter. Are you guilty or not guilty?" asked Solicitor Graves of a young negro man named Hugh Flove.

"I see not guilty of five and a half, but if yer makes it three and half it'll be all right, kase I got that much," replied the defendant. After hearing one or two witnesses for the State, Judge Ferguson told the clerk to give the prisoner twelve months on the roads and it was so recorded.

Charles Glover, a young negro man, was up for carrying a concealed weapon and firing it in the Evergreen hotel. The evidence against the prisoner was damaging.

The prisoner was given an opportunity to question an important witness for the prosecution. Rising from his seat just behind the solicitor, Glover put this question: "How did yer know I shot a pistol, when I shot it in the dark?"

"Kase I saw yer have that pistol," said the witness. Sixty days on the road was the judgment of the court.

Weather.

Fair and continued cold tonight. Saturday fair, warmer.

E. M. Andrews, of Greensboro, has filed in the United States Court a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. He formerly conducted a large furniture store, but more recently has been in the business of selling musical instruments.

LADY KILLED BY BULL DOG.

Had Whipped Brute and Was Trying to Make Friends.

Philadelphia, Feb. 14.—Mrs. Lena Smith, of this city, who was terribly torn and bitten by a vicious bulldog at her home last night, died at a hospital today. The dog was whipped by Mrs. Smith on Monday and yesterday she went into the kitchen with a plate of meat for the dog when she was attacked by the animal. Her arm was torn into shreds and was afterward amputated. Attracted by her screams, her husband went to her assistance and killed the dog with a poker. Mrs. Smith said: I beat the dog for disobeying me, and it was sullen all day. I felt sorrow last night and was giving it a good supper when it attacked me."

Woman's Suffrage and Whiskey.

A curious fact in connection with the whiskey question's the effect that woman suffrage has had. Without doubt, women are more strongly inclined than men are to prohibition. Unrestricted woman suffrage prevails in but four states, Wyoming, Utah, Idaho and Colorado. In three of these states, Idaho, Utah and Wyoming, there is no provision for even local prohibition. The town and villages are all "wide open." It is simply a question of the amount of license. Going back to the statement, it will be observed that, in number of drink shops to the population, Wyoming is fifth in the list of states. Colorado is eighth, Idaho is eleventh and Utah is twenty-first. The drink shop is scarcest in the South, where there is no woman suffrage and where suffrage is most restricted. It would seem therefore, that woman suffrage has done nothing toward advancing the cause of prohibition.—David A. Gates, in June Watson's.

Authentic Epitaphs.

Under the yew
Lies Jonathan Blue,
(His name was Black,
But that wouldn't do.)

Beneath this sod
And under these trees
Lies the body
Of Solomon Pease.
Pease is not here.
But only his pod;
He shelled out his soul
And it went to God.

Here lies Thomas Bly.
Killed by a sky
Rocket
In the eye
Socket.

Viewing this gravestone with all gravity,
Dentist Jones is filling his last cavity.

Here lies, returned to clay,
Miss Arabella Young,
Who, on the 1st of May,
Began to hold her tongue.

It was a coughin' that carried me off
It was a coffin they carried me off in,

This corpse
Is Peter Thorpe's
Thorpe's Corpse.

[For an infant of two months:]
Since I am so quickly done for,
I wonder what I was begun for.

Here lies me and my three daughters,
Died of drinking selzer water.
If we'd a stuck to Epson salts,
We wouldn't have been in these here vaults.

Abe Dodd stood on the railroad track;

He did not hear the bell—
Toot, toot!

Farewell!
Here lies the body of Thomas
Lee
This is him. This is he.
A, B, C, D, E, F, G.

Here I lie, and no wonder I'm
For a wagon wheel ran over my head.

Here lies the body of Robert

Mouth almighty, and teeth according,
Stranger tread lightly over this wonder;
If he opens his mouth you're gone, by thunder!

Two Dyspeptics

If you are too fat it is because your food turns to fat instead of muscle—strength. If you are too lean the fat producing foods that you eat are not properly digested and assimilated.

Lean, thin, stringy people do not have enough Pepsin in the stomach, while fat people have too much Pepsin and not enough Pancreatine.

Kodol
Dyspepsia Cure

contains all the digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach, and in exactly those proportions necessary to enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all foods that may be eaten. Kodol is not only a perfect digestant, but it is a reconstructive, tissue building tonic as well. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Palpitation of the Heart and Constipation. You will like it.

Digests What You Eat

Rests the stomach, rebuilds the tissues and gives firm flesh.

Dollar bottle holds 2½ times as much as the 50 cent size.

Prepared at the Laboratory of E. O. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, U.S.A.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nervousness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

The Kindness of the Poor.

The old adage that the poor are the best friends of the poor was instanced in the story of a chambermaid, who is a young widow with two children to support. After a lingering sickness the younger of the children died, and, the young mother's bank account having been depleted from defraying the expenses of the weeks of medicine and doctor's visits, she was obliged to contract a debt at the undertaker's. After that she paid a small monthly installment until the bill was half settled, when one day there came through the mail a receipt for the remainder. The receipt was accompanied by a badly written and blotted note from a scrub-woman in a large uptown hotel, who knew of the trouble, knew the family and the circumstances and in her note explained that she had no family nor near relatives and that she earned enough to support herself and that she wanted to use this surplus money for the little mother, who needed all that she could make extra to support the remaining child. As scrubwomen receive only 50 or 75 cents a day, one will readily appreciate the spirit which moved one kind soul to help another in distress.—Leslie's Weekly.

What Words Can Do.

"Any one who swears," declared the bishop of Carlisle, "manifests the beggarliness of his vocabulary." The Concord Patriot puts it in this fashion: "People swear because they do not know the possibilities of plain English or have not the skill to manipulate it so that it will yield the amount of fire they want. You can do almost anything with common words. No matter how tame and lifeless they look standing in stupid rows as if they didn't know enough to come in when it rained, they can be made to dance like lumps, to frolic like fairies, to float angelwise on light wings, to glow like fire spirits. They can do things that make the ordinary bits of profanity look like feeble scarecrows stiffened up with a fence stake. The cure for profanity—reformers and educators please make a note—is merely wit enough to handle your words so that swearing will seem like baby talk in comparison."

When Blondin Was Afraid.

One of Blondin's favorite jokes was to offer to carry some distinguished spectator across the rope with him on his back. Everybody naturally refused, and the great equilibrist, with a genial smile, would say, "I am sorry you are afraid I should drop you." But he was hoist once with his own petard.

He was exhibiting in Paris and was about to cross the Seine on his rope. Cham, the great caricaturist, had come to make a sketch. Blondin, recognizing him, at once invited him to cross with him.

"With pleasure," replied Cham, "but on one condition."

"And that is?" queried Blondin.

"That I shall carry you on my back," answered Cham.

"Not if I know myself," answered Blondin.

"Ah," triumphantly exclaimed Cham, "this time, M. Blondin, it is you who are afraid!"

Illustrious Shoemakers.

Shoemaking is a calling which has given the world some very great men. One authority asserts that the majority of cobblers have exceptional brains, that their attitude when stooping over their work tends to a cranial development in the part where the intellectual faculties are seated. Some one has written a book on illustrious shoemakers. In it are Sir Cloudesley Shovel, Gifford the Tortoise, Bloomfield, author of the well known "Farmer's Boy," Carey, the orientalist; Admiral Myngs, George Fox, founder of the Society of Friends; John Kitto, the Biblical scholar, and Sturgeon, the electrician. The list of illustrious shoemakers runs into scores.

Rocks That Float in Water.

A geologist who is well up in his business can name a dozen or twenty different specimens of rocks and minerals that have less specific gravity than water and which will, if tossed into that element, float on the surface. Hubelite is one of the best known representatives of that class. The common pumice stone is another example. The rock with the very least specific gravity known is damari, a substance found in an extinct volcano in Damara-land. Its atomic weight is .5, or exactly one-half that of hydrogen.

The Sum of Genius.

Men give me some credit for genius. All the genius that I have lies just in this: When I have a subject in hand, I study it profoundly. Day and night it is before me. I explore it in all its bearings. My mind becomes pervaded with it. Then the effort which I make is what people are pleased to call the fruit of genius. It is the fruit of labor and of thought.—Alexander Hamilton.

Art of Reading.

To get the best out of reading we must begin early and work hard. It is an art like music or painting and demands its stern apprenticeship. It remains true that a man who knows only his own tongue does not know that.—Christian World.

Wonderful.

She—What interested you most in your travels, major? Major—Well, the mummy of a queen I saw in Egypt. It's wonderful how they could make a woman dry up and stay that way.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A fool can talk without knowing what he ought to say, but a wise man's silence is due to his knowing what he ought not to say.—Chicago News.

The Berry He Was.

When Bishop Berry of the Methodist Episcopal church was a young preacher he once gave a lecture in a rural community. Wishing to be witty, he announced to his audience that he was a berry and called upon them to state what kind of berry. Nearly every berry known in the vicinity was guessed, and the speaker refused to share the qualities of any of those named. At last an old lady who was not sympathetic with the seeming levity of the lecturer, arose and exclaimed in a squeaky voice: "I know what kind of a berry you are. You are a gooseberry and a very green one at that. Go on with the lecture." And the lecturer did quickly.—Christian Work.

Animal Shells.

It is a curious fact that the shells on certain animals, such as cephalopods, brachiopods and some bivalves, are commonly marked by retrogressive changes as age advances. "The old man returns to second childhood in mind and body," states a well known scientist at Washington, "and the shell of the cephalopod has in old age, however distinct and highly ornamental the adult, very close resemblance to its own young."

Started Early Enough.

"I want to talk to you, Mary, about that young man of yours," said her father. "When did he say good night to you last evening?"

"At 10 o'clock," replied the fair girl.

"What? Why, it was 1 o'clock at least!"

"Oh, that was when he finished saying it!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

His Second Book.

"Your first book, if it is a success, generally leads to the success of the second," remarked a rising author.

"Yes, indeed," said another. "It was the success of my first book that made my second. My second book," he added, "was a bank book."

Old Age and Rushing.

You may join the mile a minute class, but no oil has been discovered yet that will keep the cars in condition. Good old age was never a sequel to a rush.—New Eastern Union.

Modern Art.

As a proof of the power of language I have a specimen of a man, but that modern art has produced such an ancient Greek in the modern world.

If the power of a man is not great, the rich man is not a great man. It is the rich man's mind that counts it. Giles.

About That Home Do You Contemplate Owning One?

If so the first thing to consider is a good lot in a desirable location and you cannot be better suited in a lot than the

Sam White Property.

No proper lot surpasses this for a desirable home. Lots can be bought there now at reasonable prices and on easy terms. There is every indication that property around Greenville is going to be higher, and the longer you defer buying the lot the higher it will cost.

This property is located only 5 minutes walk from the business part of the town. See Sam White and let him explain prices and terms.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they have offered One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
