

THE HELL-BOUD TRAIN—A DREAM.

The following poem was found on the street between Spencer and Salisbury and is supposed to have been lost by some unknown traveler on his journey from the latter place to Spencer.]

Tom Gray lay down on the bar-room floor
Having drank so much he could drink no more.
So he fell asleep with a troubled train
To dream that he rode on a hell-bound train.

The engine with blood was red and damp
And brilliantly lit by brimstone lamp,
An imp, for fuel, was shoveling bones,
While the furnace rang with a thousand groans;

The boiler was filled with lager beer,
And the Devil himself was the engineer.
The Passengers made such a motley crew,
Church members, atheist, Gentile and Jew.

Rich men in broadcloth and beggars in rags,
Handsome young ladies with withered old hags,
Yellow and black, red, brown and white,
All chained together, what a horrible sight;

While the train dashed on at an awful pace,
The hot winds scorched their hands and face.

Wilder and wilder the country grew,
And faster and faster the engine flew,
Louder and louder the thunder crashed,
And brighter and brighter the lightning flashed;

Hotter and hotter the air became,
Till the clothes were burned from each quivering frame.

Then in the distance there rose such a yell
"Ha! Ha!" cried the Devil, "We're nearing hell!"
Then Oh! how the passengers shrieked with pain,
And begged the Devil to stop the train,
But he capered out and sang with glee
And laughed and joked at their agony.

"My faithful friends you have done my work,
And the Devil can never pay day shirk,
You have bullied the weak and robbed the poor,
And the starving brother turned from your door,
You have laid up gold where the canker rusts,
And given free vent to your fleshy lusts;
You have justice scorned and corruption sown,
And trampled the laws of nature down.

You have drank and rioted and murdered and lied
And mocked at God in your hell-born pride
You have paid full fare, so I'll carry you through,
For it is only right you should get your due;

Why, the laborer always expects his hire,
So I'll land you safe in the lake of fire,
Where your flesh shall roast in the flames that roar,
And my imp torment you more and more."

Then Tom awoke with an agonized cry,
His clothes soaked with sweat and his hair standing high;
Then he prayed as he never prayed before
To be saved from drink and the devil's power,
And his vows and prayers were not in vain,
For he never more rode on a hell-bound train.

FIRE AT GRIFTON.

Three Large Stores and Contents Destroyed.

Grifton, N. C. Feb. 22.—Early this morning fire visited the new business section of Grifton and destroyed three of the brick stores that were built only a few years ago.

The fire was discovered about 5:30 o'clock, from some unknown cause, in the store of A. L. Jackson & Bro., and had made such headway that it could not be checked. This building and all contents, together with the stores of R. C. McCotter & Bro., and J. Z. Brooks with their contents were burned.

By hard work the fire was checked at the thick wall between the McCotter store and G. Bland's store. But for this several other buildings would also have been destroyed.

Individual losses cannot be given at this time, but the total loss is about $30,000 with insurance $18,000. Mr. Brooks was the heaviest individual loser. The Grifton Drug Co. also lost considerably by moving stock, but this was covered by insurance.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes from a Hustling Town
Ayden, N. C., Feb. 22nd.

We are pleased to learn that J. A. Hatton, who has been confined to his room for some time, is able to be out.

Several from here expect to attend "The Clansman" at Greenville next Tuesday evening.

W. E. Hooks left yesterday for Greensboro.

Herman Smith has accepted a position with J. R. Turnage & Co.

There are still some streets in Ayden that a little repair work upon them would not be very much out of place.

Harry Lindley with an entire new company and new plays will be here March 13th and 14th.

The Disciple church will be dedicated first Sunday in April, Rev. C. W. Howard, of Kinston, preaching the dedicatory sermon. The church is a handsome brick building and is a special credit to our Christian friends and the community.

We hear the debate at the Seminary last Wednesday evening highly complimented. We are told by those who were present that it was of a high order and reflected much credit upon the young men who participated, as well as upon the faculty of this excellent school.

H. L. Coward, of Greenville, was here Tuesday.

J. R. Turnage has been to Newberne this week on a visit to relatives.

F. Lilly went to Hookerton and Snow Hill Tuesday on business for his firm and he informs us he had a successful trip. His is a good firm and is rapidly forging to the point as one of the best business houses in our town.

W. J. Hemby has moved his family into the house formerly owned by B. S. Sumrill.

The Pythians here anticipate having a banquet sometime in April. A big time is in view. It will mark the first year of the order in Ayden. The order has been prosperous and is flourishing. Starting with only nine members, they now have a membership of more than twenty-five and this too from the very best element of the community.

Wanted—To exchange corn for 3 or 4 Lean, Healthy Shoats weighing from 40 to 60 pounds. If preferred I will pay cash market price for same. W. A. Darden, 1td 3tw Ayden, N. C.

R. W. Smith went to Greenville Thursday.

N. R. Cory has moved to South Ayden. D. Gibbs has moved to the house made vacant by Mr. Cory.

E. Hardy and wife, of Greene county, are visiting at H. C. Ormond's.

Mrs. H. C. Ormond left Thursday to visit relatives at Whitakers for several days.

Richard Wingate went to Smithfield Thursday.

Messrs. W. G. and Gideon Lamb, two well known traveling men, spent Wednesday in town.

We are glad to know that Mr. Ed Garris is improving.

The Masonic, Odd Fellow and Pythian lodges are in flourishing conditions, they have work to do at every meeting.

Carriers Holiday.

The rural mail carriers had holiday today and did not go out on their routes. The boys get but few holidays through the year and are entitled to one occasionally.

THE FAMOUS CAVE SCENE.—The "Clansman," Act III.

"THE CLANSMAN" TUESDAY NIGHT

Greenville to Witness This Celebrated Play.

Since the announcement was first made last Saturday that Thomas Dixon, Jr.'s renowned drama, "The Clansman," was to be presented in Masonic Temple opera house on Tuesday night, 26th, the people of Greenville and community have manifested much interest in it and look forward with much pleasure to its coming. From advance expressions it is evident the people appreciate the effort and expense to which the opera house management have gone in securing such an attraction and will manifest this in a liberal patronage. The result of this presentation and the satisfaction given such a large company will go a long way towards influencing other leading attractions to come here and in enabling the managers of the house to secure them.

Not only is Greenville interested in the coming of "The Clansman," but the enthusiasm has extended to nearby towns and the surrounding country, and many people from outside the town will be here. Every effort will be made to accommodate all who come. Enough requests for seats have already come in to indicate that the demand will be unusually large, and a rush is looked for when the sale begins at 9 o'clock Monday morning.

Mr. Henry I. McMahon, advance agent of "The Clansman" company, came in Thursday evening to arrange the final details for handling the company and play here. He expressed admiration of Greenville's handsome opera house, and was pleased at the prospects of business here. One thing he requires of the management of the house, and that fact is here impressed on all purchasers of tickets, is that the curtain must rise promptly at 8:30 o'clock and all who are not in their seats will have to wait until the end of the first act to be seated.

Therefore under this requirement ushers will be forbidden to take any persons to seats while an act is in progress, hence all must be in their seats when the curtain first rises or wait until the act is completed.

The company will come by special train from Newport News, Va., and at this writing expects to reach Greenville about midday Tuesday. Remember seats will go on sale at 9 o'clock Monday morning at Reflector Book Store. It is possible that some seats may be purchased for speculation, but effort will be made to prevent this; and if it is done it will be without the consent of the house management or the company. To avoid this people should come to the sale in time to get their seats.

JARVIS AND RAGSDALE HONORED.

Citizens Extend Them an Ovation

As it was known that Prof. W. H. Ragsdale was to leave for Grifton on Thursday evening's train to participate in the flag raising exercises at Quinerly school, and that ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis was expected home from Raleigh on the same train, the citizens of Greenville planned a surprise for these gentlemen by way of expressing appreciation of the work they had done toward inducing the legislature to establish a training school for teachers in Eastern North Carolina.

A number of citizens went to the station in carriages, and a special carriage with committee went by Prof. Ragsdale's home to take him to the station, the same carriage to take Governor Jarvis to his home.

As the train came in and Governor Jarvis was alighting Mayor Wooten proposed three cheers for him which were given with enthusiasm. This was followed by three cheers for Prof. Ragsdale which was equally as enthusiastic.

Governor Jarvis was escorted to the station where he was greeted by Prof. H. B. Smith and introduced as "the man who helped save the day in Raleigh." Governor Jarvis responded in a brief speech in which he expressed appreciation of this demonstration by his townsmen, but said he could not take unto himself the honor for the great achievement at Raleigh. This, he said, belonged to the splendid delegation of citizens of Greenville and Pitt county who had gone there with their claims and made such profound impression on the legislature.

He said he now had no doubt that the training school would be established, though the fight was not yet ended. However, if the people of Pitt continue their earnest efforts as they have heretofore, he had every reason to believe the school would be located in our borders. At the conclusion of his remarks there were calls for a speech from Prof. Ragsdale, but this gentleman had gone aboard the train which was about to depart and could not respond. Governor Jarvis was then escorted to his home.

These two honored men have been the leading spirits in the fight for the establishment of this training school, and Eastern North Carolina can never do enough to repay the debt it owes them.

This being a legal holiday there were no market reports.

PERSONAL POINTS.

ANOTHER CLAIMS THE GROOM.

Chapel Hill Villager on Return From Hillsboro With Bride is Faced With a Most Unfortunate Circumstance.

An incident in which figured two women and one man caused much sensation in Chapel Hill. Saturday Robert Brockwell, a resident of the village, went to Hillsboro and proceeded to take unto himself a wife. Hardly had he returned to Orange with his bride when Lula Couch, with whom Brockwell has been very intimate for some time, proceeded to claim him as her husband also. However, at the trial today, she withdrew the accusation and plead guilty of fornication and adultery. Brockwell denied both charges. Both were bound over to court, Brockwell on a bond of $100, and the woman on a bond of $50. It is not known what the bride in the case has decided to do about the matter.

During the trial Mayor Roberson caused a few extra thrills by imposing a fine of $10 for contempt of court upon one of the many students who had crowded into the room and were creating a disturbance. Mayor Roberson finally withdrew the fine however. —Charlotte Observer.

RESOLUTIONS OF APPRECIATION

Adopted by Mt. Herman Lodge, F. & A. M.

The passing of John Quince Jackson brings to view the good and beautiful that is in the hearts of the advanced white citizenship of our Southland. The white man best equipped for being the negro's benefactor is the man who knows him.

Could we burn this truth into the hearts of white and black alike, that the Southern white man is the natural teacher, benefactor and leader of the negro. They know each other and love each other. No member of the human race is more tractable, docile and plastic. He is rich in imagination, his reason and other faculties of mental life are as strong as could be expected of one in his state of development. And the beautiful evidences of esteem shown by you, Messrs. Flanagan, Greene & Co, to our late craftsman, bespeaks a fact incontrovertible that for his moulding he needs a sympathetic hand, the guidance of an interested life.—You and your predecessors gave this to John Q. Jackson, and his life was that of many in this Southern country. We would be derelict of duty, were we not to tender you by his lodge a vote of sincere appreciation, wishing your business unbounded success and The Reflector increased patronage for its pleasant kindly notice of his death.

YOUNG LADIES MADE SICK.

As a Result of Eating Whipped Cream.

As a result of eating gelatine with whipped cream on it last Sunday for dinner, 57 of the young ladies of Elizabeth College were made sick. The poisoning is supposed to have come from the vanilla extract used in flavoring the cream. Shortly after the meal was over a number of the students complained. The college physician was summoned post haste. By the time of his arrival others were ill. By nightfall there were a half hundred indisposed, many of them being deathly sick. Relief was given and in the course of a few hours almost all were up and out again. For the time being there were stirring times at Elizabeth. The breeze blew over as quickly as it came on, and by the next day the college work was moving along as usual.—Charlotte Observer.

FRIDAY, FEB. 22nd, 1907.

Congress is trying to keep up with our State legislature in the matter of work and gone to hold eight sessions.

Advocates of the bill to establish Lee county are not discouraged because the legislature defeated it by one vote, but are showing the fight with another.

Representative Laughinghouse introduced a bill in the legislature Wednesday to allow Greenville to issue bonds. This town has a number of improvements in contemplation.

A reform in the government printing bill is going to effect an annual saving of $1,500. How much would result from a general reform in the government printery?

Federic Messer, of Haywood county, the oldest white man in North Carolina, died Sunday. He was born August 12th, 1822, making him 114 years, 6 months and 5 days old at the time of his death.

The president has been keeping real quiet for a longer period than usual. But so many other things have been going on that the people have not had time to think about him. He may be expected soon to break out again.

Pitt county has two citizens—Gov. T. J. Jarvis and Prof. V. A. Ragsdale—she will not be quick to forget. She has honored them both in the past, and it is too great for them.

A party of ninety-two business men of Chicago, St. Louis, Boston and Cincinnati, sailed from Charleston Wednesday night for a trip to the West Indies and the Straits of Panama. We think they are going to see things about the canal different from what the president did.

The bill introduced by Representative Jones to establish a dispensary in Bethel has passed the legislature. A feature of this bill that would be a good one for all dispensaries, is that one-third of the net proceeds go to the graded school of the town, one-third to the general fund of the town and one third to the general fund of the county.

West Virginia must be yet outside the borders of civilization, if one can judge from what transpires in Charleston, the capital of that State. From a copy of the Gazette published in that city, sent us by a friend residing there, we see an account of the editor being dragged from his office and assaulted by two policemen and locked up in the station house, without a warrant or without any charge being edged against him. From an editorial in the same paper it is inferred that the editor had been exposing some of the rottenness of the city administration. Such an assault is an outrage, and might have been permissible in Russia. The editor of the Gazette is a North Carolina, Mr. J. O. Abernethy, whose nativity may account for his readiness to expose corruption in high places.

There was a strong delegation from eastern North Carolina in Raleigh last week, headed by Gov. Jarvis, pleading for the establishment by the legislature of a training school for teachers in some town in the East. These people have precisely the same grounds for asking for this school that the Greensboro Normal and Industrial people had for urging that.—Charity and Children.

$100 Reward, $100. The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they have offered One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of opium, chloroform or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in cough remedi. Dr. Shoop, it seems has welcomed the Pure Food Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines for many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure containers have had a warning printed on them against opium and other narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by Bryan's Drug Store.

Two Dyspeptics

If you are too fat it is because your food turns to fat instead of muscle—strength. If you are too lean the fat-producing foods that you eat are not properly digested and assimilated.

Lean, thin, stringy people do not have enough Pepsin in the stomach, while fat people have too much Pepsin and not enough Pancreatine.

Kodol

Dyspepsia Cure

contains all the digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach, and in exactly those proportions necessary to enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all foods that may be eaten. Kodol is not only a perfect digestant, but it is a reconstructive, tissue building tonic as well. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Palpitation of the Heart and Constipation. You will like it.

Digests What You Eat

Rests the stomach, rebuilds the tissues and gives firm flesh.

Small bottles hold 34¢ each as much as the trial, or 40¢ each size. Prepared at the Laboratory of E. O. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, U.S.A.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, it alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, head-ache and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

CRITICISED HIS COOK.

Then the Queen of the Kitchen Had Her Innings.

A citizen of Kiev, Russia, found fault with the dinner prepared by his new cook and rashly embodied his criticism in cutting sarcasms. The young woman heard him in silence. In the evening, he knocked up against a man in a deserted little street, and when he ventured to remonstrate he was vigorously assaulted. Unable to get the better of his adversary, he determined to do what he could at least to identify him later on, and with this object in view he tore his assailant's fashionable clothes into shreds. On his return home some hours later he found the cook standing at the door ready to shake the dust of his house off her feet. The gentleman, whose wounds and bruises left him in no very amiable mood, simply said: "Joy be with you! Some time will pass before you get another place. And as to character—well, trust me to give you one that will stick."

On the following morning he discovered that his best clothes in the wardrobe were in tatters and his glossy silk hat an unsightly wreck. Hastily summoning the other servants to his room, he angrily asked them what they knew about the matter, whereupon the nurse replied that the cook in one of her freaks of fun had donned her master's garments and gone out to walk in them the evening before, sticking on an artificial mustache to help to keep up the illusion. Then it dawned upon the wretched man that his assailant of the day before was the touchy, turbulent cook. Less than a fortnight later he received a letter through the city post informing him, in somewhat ungrammatical but unmistakable language: "You lied about the place, respected sir, when you said I could not get another if I left yours. I've been in five different places since then, and I'll be going to the sixth next Monday. Trusting your bones isn't aching, I remain Praskovia."

Spotted in Transmission.

"Algy, here's a good story," said Percy. "A man named Swords has been arrested for assault with a deadly weapon, and his case was on trial."

"Mr. Swords," asked the judge, "how will you be tried?"

"And Mr. Swords said he wanted to be tried by a jury of his spears. See?"

"Sure," answered Algy. "That's a good one."

Later in the day Algy tried it on the boarders at Mrs. Irons' hashery.

"I heard a good story this morning," he said. "A man named Swords had been arrested for assault with a deadly weapon, and his case was on trial. The judge asked him how he wanted to be tried."

"I want to be tried, your honor," said Mr. Swords, "by a jury of my peers." See?"

But the boarders gave him the stony stare, and Algy doesn't know even yet what ailed his story.—Chicago Tribune.

Troublesome Matches.

Small Boy (who has come five miles to country grocer)—Please, I want a penn'orth of matches.

Country Grocer—Here you are, my lad.

Two hours later the boy turns up again with the matches in his hand.

"Please, mother says as how these 'ere matches won't strike."

Country grocer remarks "Rubbish!" and proceeds to strike one of the matches on his trousers.

As the shades of evening are falling and the stars begin to blink the boy creeps wearily into the grocer's shop.

"Please, mother says she ain't got no time to come round here to strike matches on your trousers!" he says.—London Graphic.

To Restore Ivory Carvings.

Ivory carvings which have darkened and become discolored may be restored to their first whiteness by exposure under glass to the rays of the sun. Remove the dust by brushing with warm water and soap. Place the carving under glass and turn from time to time so that all sides will be equally bleached or brush with pumice stone calcined or diluted, and place under glass while yet wet, exposing to the sunlight until perfectly bleached. Be extremely careful to place it under glass before exposing to the sunlight.

Paris Cabby's Ruse.

Paris cab drivers are in the habit of causing their taximeter to register the waiting tariff every time their progress is blocked by traffic or any other obstacle. In this way the traffic obstruction which makes Paris insupportable is to them a nice little source of profit. All is grist that comes, sou by sou, to their mill by causing their horses to move the wheels back and forth in a confined space.—Paris Figaro.

Riddles.

She was reading a paper before the Mothers' club.

"And here I will insert," she said, "half a dozen questions of the sort my little boy asks me every night before he falls asleep."

"Why does Santa Claus give children skates when there ain't any ice?"

"When I drink water, why don't it run down into my legs?"

"Is it his very best medicine that the druggist has in them big green and blue bottles?"

"Why is it I breathe out smoke when I'm cold and not when I'm warm?"

"Who cooked dinner when all the big folks was little boys?"—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A Collector's Bequest.

"My wish is that my drawings, my prints, my curiosities, my books—in a word, these things of art which have been the joy of my life—shall not be consigned to the cold tomb of a museum and subjected to the stupid glance of the careless passerby. But I require that they shall all be dispersed under the hammer of the auctioneer, so that the pleasure which the acquiring of each one of them has given me shall be given again in each case to some inheritor of my own tastes."—From the Will of Edmond de Goncourt.

His Pretty Thanks.

It is strange how differently children sometimes express their thanks. Alec, aged three, was given a coveted toy. He took it without a word and turned away and began to wind it up. I took it gently back again, and, bending over, I said, "Alec, what do you say to me?" He merely stared solemnly up at me and then at the toy, as though puzzling how to get it back. "What are you going to say for that nice toy, Alec?" I repeated. "Are you pleased?"

"Aye," he nodded, still staring wistfully up at the toy.

"Well," I insisted, determined to teach him better manners, "and what are you going to say to me?"

I had to bend to hear the shyly uttered answer:

"I—love—ye," he whispered as he pleadingly held out a small, fat hand.—New York Globe.

About That Home

Do You Contemplate

Owning One?

If so the first thing to consider is a good lot in a desirable location and you cannot be better suited in a lot than the

Sam White Property.

No property surpasses this for a desirable home. Lots can be bought there now at reasonable prices and on easy terms. There is every indication that property around reenville is going to be higher, and the longer you defer buying the lot the higher it will cost.

This property is located only 5 minutes walk from the business part of the town. See Sam White and let him explain prices and terms.
