

WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

Notes From our Husting Neighbor.

Ayden, N. C. Feb. 23rd. Miss Laura Cox returned to LaGrange Thursday after spending several days at home.

R. H. Hunsucker went to Kingston on business Friday.

Miss Mollie Bryan left Friday afternoon for Bethel where she will spend Saturday and Sunday with relatives and friends.

L. L. Kittrell and Purnell Tripp returned from Washington Friday. They brought back some shad which looked exceedingly appetizing.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Tucker went to Greene county Friday to visit relatives for a few days.

Several of the Seminary boys from Ayden came over to the debate Friday night.

We are pained to hear of the severe illness of J. H. Corey, who lives about two miles from here.

About twenty-five of the members of Winterville Council of Jr. O. U. A. M., went to Quinerly school Friday, where they presented to that school a flag and a Bible which represent the principles of this noble order—virtue, liberty and patriotism—the three of the grandest principle, that are able to be conceived by the human mind.

Prof. G. E. Lineberry was at his best and delivered a most excellent address in presenting the Bible and flag. Prof. W. H. Ragsdale was present also and in behalf of the teachers, pupils and community extended to the Juniors their sincere thanks and appreciation of the flag, and Rev. W. E. Cox delivered an address thanking them for the Bible.

The boys last night were in excellent spirits when they came in and were speaking in the highest terms of praise of the Quinerly people for their kind hospitality and appreciation shown them while there. The teachers and pupils of this school may rest assured that Winterville Council No. 37 ever stands ready to lend them a helping hand if possible.

J. R. Johnson went to Grifton Friday.

Miss Louise Satterwhite left this morning to spend Sunday at her home at Pactolus. Miss Bettie Bridgers and Mattie Wiggins left to spend Sunday in Greenville.

J. R. Turnage and Heber Mumford of Ayden were here at the debate last night.

Mrs. Murphey Woolard of Stokes came in Friday night to spend sometime at the home of M. G. Bryan.

The debate given by the Vance Literary society Friday night was one of the best ever given by this excellent society. The affirmative was represented by J. D. Rodges, W. L. Gay and D. R. Jackson; the negative by W. A. McLawhorn, C. F. Perry, and R. T. Cox. The query was: "Resolved, That the government should own and control its railroads." The contest was close and exciting through the entire debate but the judges rendered a decision in favor of the affirmative after much difficulty.

There were several of the old pupils present which always make a pleasant reunion and adds no little pleasure to these occasions.

Among the old pupils present were: Misses Louise Fleming and Nannie House of House, R. H. Parker of Conetoe, Thos. Moore, of Coxville and Miss Elenor Manning, of Roanoake Rapids.

"OLD GLORY" WAVES.

And Bible Rests on Desk.

True to the principles of the patriotic and moral teachings of the noble order, the Junior Order of United American Mechanics believe that the American flag should float over every public school building in our land and that the Word of God should have a prominent place on the desk within each school. In keeping with this principle, the lodge of that order at Winterville celebrated Washington's birthday by presenting a flag and a Bible to the Quinerly school near Centerville.

This is one of the best rural schools in the county, and is located in as fine a section and people as can be shown anywhere. They had a nice school building which was destroyed by fire about a year ago, but not undaunted by the loss the people came together and rebuilt on a larger plan ever before. The school now has three teachers—Miss Bettie right, principal, and Misses Lillie Pair and Huldah Morris assistants—and is the pride of all that section and a credit to the county.

It was to this school that the Winterville Jr. O. U. A. M. went in a body to honor with their presence and present the emblems of patriotism and virtue. A large crowd was in attendance and the exercises gave keen delight to all. The following program was carried out in the school building;

Song—"Carolina"
Announcement of work of Betterment Association.
Song—"America"
Addresses and presentation of flag—G. E. Lineberry.
Address accepting flag—W. H. Ragsdale.

Song—"Red White and Blue."
Presenting Bible—G. E. Lineberry.

Address accepting Bible—Rev. W. E. Cox.

Song—Medby of National airs.
Following this the flag was raised over the building and a shout arose from the multitude as "Old Glory" unfurled its folds to the breezes.

An elegant dinner was spread in the grove near the building and afforded a good finale to the exercises.

Several persons from Greenville were present and speak in highest terms of the occasion. The editor of The Reflector intended to be with the people of Centerville that day, but sickness among the office help made it impossible for him to get away, hence we can only give a report of the exercises from facts told us by others.

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION.

Pitt County Association of Rural Letter Carriers.

A meeting of the rural free delivery mail carriers of Pitt county was held in the court house on Friday, 22nd. Permanent organization was effected with C. L. Barrett, of Farmville, president; C. T. Gaskins, of Grifton, vice president; J. W. Brown, of Greenville, secretary.

The meeting was enthusiastic and all expressed themselves as pleased with the prospects. The carriers had the pleasure of listening to an encouraging talk from Postmaster R. C. Flanagan, of Greenville, which was much enjoyed.

THE CLANSMAN' IN RICHMOND.

Governor Swanson the Guest of Honor. Special to Reflector.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 22.—Governor Swanson, of this State, occupied a stage box tonight in the Academy of music at the performance of "The Clansman" and joined in the enthusiasm that greeted the presentation of the widely discussed play. He was the guest of George H. Brennan, the producer of the drama, who came from New York to attend the performance.

Extraordinary interest had been created in the appearance of the production through the protests that had been raised against it by leading negroes aided and abetted by a prominent local paper. Mayor McCarthy of this city heard the complaints and dismissed the complainants.

Has Tobacco Heart.

The case of an eminently respectable woman of Baltimore, who is suffering with tobacco heart in one of the city hospitals, but who never used tobacco in her life, has been brought to the attention of Commissioner of Health Boley.

The name of the woman has not been divulged, but the doctor explains the case as follows:

"The lady in question has been living in a tobacco smoke infected atmosphere for years, first her father, then her brother, next her husband, and finally her sons smoked in the winter, especially when the house is tightly closed during most of the day, she was living entirely in a smoke-filled atmosphere.

"It was natural that she and the hundreds of other women who live under the same conditions should inhale tobacco smoke. It is the inhaling that hurts.

Women living under the conditions I describe are actually eating tobacco smoke for long the ill-effects at a time, may eventually develop a tobacco heart."—Baltimore dispatch to N. Y. Herald.

There will be a call meeting of the Sans Souci club Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Miss Irma Cobb.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Christian church will meet Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. D. W. Arnold. This being a social meeting refreshments will be served at 10 cents. The public is invited to be present.

"THE CLANSMAN."

Notice Regarding the Seat Sale.

Seats for "The Clansman" which will be presented in Masonic Temple opera house Tuesday night, will go on sale at 9 o'clock Monday morning at Reflector Book Store. It is expected that there will be a rush for seats when the sale opens, and to avoid any contention as to who came first and be absolutely fair to all this plan will be followed: The building will not be opened to the public until 8 o'clock, and the first person coming in after that hour will be given a slip marked No. 1, the second No. 2, and so on in the order in which they come until the sale begins. Then the holder of slip No. 1 will be entitled to first choice of seats, No. 2 to second choice, and so on until all are supplied. Any one getting a slip and leaving to come back later will forfeit his place in the line to the holder of the next number.

There should be no special rush, however, as all the seats are good ones, so the only danger in waiting late is that the seats may all be sold.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church will meet with Mrs. W. B. Wilson on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The new railroad track in town is nearly completed up to the depot site. We understand that a nice depot will be built here.

AYCOCK AND JARVIS

Only Two Living Democratic ex-Governors Travel Together.

The only two living Democratic ex-Governors of North Carolina yesterday left Raleigh on the same car. These are ex-Governor Chas. B. Aycock and ex-Governor Thomas J. Jarvis. They had been here a day or two on business, and returned yesterday their homes in Goldsboro and Greenville, respectively.—Raleigh News Observer 22nd

And these two are the kind who are the salt of the earth

Gen. Beverly S. Royster.

The newspaper people of the state ought not to forget Gen. Beverly S. Royster, of Granville, who so eloquently eulogized and defended the editors of North Carolina from the implied charge that they were bought and owned by the railroads. He not only secured the passage of his amendment leaving the law relating to contracts as it now stands, but said among other things:

"Editors cannot be bought, subsidized or muzzled. They are on a higher plane. They have done more than any other class of people for North Carolina. They stand for the moral uplift and make fewer mistakes than any other class of our citizens."

His tribute to the press," said the News and Observer, "was warm, glowing and appreciative."

Gen. Royster is easily a leader in the house and one of the biggest men in the legislature. If there were more of him down there, there would be more brains mixed up with our laws. Under Gov. Aycock he was adjutant-general for four years. He is a prominent Mason and has been Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina. He is a Baptist and in his home town of Oxford he stands high with his people. The most remarkable thing about him is that, although a very able lawyer with a fine practice, withal a highly educated man, he never spent an hour in a college, had to leave even the old field schools at the age of 14. He educated himself, and is pre-eminently a selfmade man. The fifth district has no bigger, better man in it and the people over there ought to be proud of him. He is a clean, honorable, able Christian gentleman, with the elements so mixed in him that anybody can see he is a man. Lexington Dispatch

END OF CENTURY CLUB.

Reported for Reflector.

The End of the Century Book Club met with Mrs. T. J. Jarvis on Tuesday. The subject for the afternoon was: "The Sculptors and Art Galleries of Florence"—Donatello and his works, read by Mrs. F. C. Harding.

The Uffize Palace and the Niobe—Mrs. W. A. Bowen.

The Pitti Palace—Mrs. E. B. Ficklin.

In connection with these readings several small pictures were shown giving a glimpse of the beauty of these statues and art galleries.

The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Ficklin in April.

"Clansman" Better Than Ever.

Manager George H. Brennan presents "The Clansman" this season with many improved features. While all the sensational elements have been retained, the dialogue has been carefully revised, the Ku Klux given new habiliments, the scenes have been entirely repainted and the big climaxes quickened. The company remained practically the same as won such plaudits on its previous Southern visit. Patrons of the Masonic Temple opera house will see "The Clansman" at its best on Tuesday evening, February 26th.

SATURDAY, FEB. 22nd, 1907.

Greenville is certainly letting the outside world know that it is on the map.

Sampson county with a defaulting sheriff to the amount of $30,000 is paying dearly for Butlerism.

The present congress is making the record of beating any of its predecessors in the way of spending money.

This legislature is wisely doing a thing that has long been neglected, in making ample provision for the insane and mentally afflicted persons of the State.

If every county in the State had as much educational enthusiasm as Pitt, it would not be long before North Carolina would have no place in the illiterate column.

But Mr. Rockefeller could have kept that thirty-two million and raised the price of oil just the same.—Durham Herald.

Sure, but in that event he could not have had the credit for giving away so much.

Beginning March 1st the Western Union Telegraph Company will make a 10 percent increase in the salary of employees at all independent offices. This will make lots of the boys feel 10 percent happier each month.

All Pitt county sympathizes with the people of Grifton in the fire that visited that town Friday morning, and especially with County Commissioner J. Z. Brooks who was the heaviest loser. Grifton has several times suffered from fire, but the plucky people show a determination to rise from the ashes and come again.

Senator Fleming has this week introduced bills in the legislature to extend the corporate limits and amend the charter of the town of Grifton, to extend the corporate limits and amend the charter of the town of Greenville, and to give Greenville authority to issue bonds. All of which goes to show that the towns down in the State of Pitt believe in going forward.

The recent letter in the Raleigh News and Observer from Dr. L. W. Crawford, of Greensboro, regarding ex-Gov. Jarvis and the proposed Eastern training school, shows how much even a very smart man can say on a matter about which he knows nothing. It is a bit surprising that a man of Dr. Crawford's intelligence should assume to speak emphatically about the needs of the East, when he knows nothing of the real conditions that exist. Some men's zeal carry them too far in passing judgment.

In Honor of Mrs. R. N. Hackett. Mrs. J. Bryan Grimes entertained yesterday in honor of Mrs. Richard N. Hackett, who has just returned from her bridal tour. Those present were as follows: Mrs. Richard N. Hackett, Mrs. George L. Morton, Mrs. W. Stampf Howard, Mrs. R. D. W. Conner, Mrs. Wallace W. Riddick, Mrs. Alfred Williams, Mrs. T. Palmer Jerman, Mrs. Charles Owens Haines, Mrs. Herbert Buell.

The color scheme in the dining room was pink and white. The guest's places were marked by dainty cupids bearing bunches of bride roses. The ices served were in the shape of cupids and wedding bells.—Raleigh News and Observer.

$100 Reward, $100. The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they have offered One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of opium, chloroform or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in cough remedies. Dr. Shoop, it seems has welcomed the Pure Food Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines for many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure contains have had a warning printed on them against opium and other narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by Bryan's Drug Store.

Two Dyspeptics

If you are too fat it is because your food turns to fat instead of muscle—strength. If you are too lean the fat producing foods that you eat are not properly digested and assimilated. Lean, thin, stringy people do not have enough Pepsin in the stomach, while fat people have too much Pepsin and not enough Pancreatic.

Kodol

contains all the digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach, and in exactly those proportions necessary to enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all foods that may be eaten. Kodol is not only a perfect digestant, but it is a reconstructive, tissue building tonic as well. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Palpitation of the Heart and Constipation. You will like it.

Digests What You Eat

Rests the stomach, rebuilds the tissues and gives firm flesh.

Small bottles hold 2 1/2 times as much as the trial, or 50 cent size.

Prepared at the Laboratory of Dr. J. C. Dewitt & Co., Chicago, U.S.A.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not the cause of, a true disease. We think of Indigestion, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific disease—nothing else. It was this fact that first convinced Dr. Shoop of the location of that very popular Stomach Remedy, Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success which no other medicine could give. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is not a strong narcotic, it works over to the stomach, distending, relaxing, dilating, and bringing about a normal condition. It is Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Bills, Liquor, and all set for you—what you want and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

LIGHT VIEW OF A CITY.

Carlyle's Forceful Picture of Its Pathos and Its Tragedy.

"Ah, my dear friend," said he once at midnight when he had returned from the coffee house in rather earnest talk, "it is a true sublimity to dwell here. These fringes of lamplight, struggling up through smoke and thousandfold exhalation, some fathoms into the ancient reign of night, what thinks Bootes of them as he leads his hunting dogs over the zenith in their leash of sidereal fire?"

"That stifled hum of midnight, when traffic has lain down to rest, and the chariot wheels of vanity, still rolling here and there through distant streets, are bearing her to halls roofed in and lighted to the due-pitch for her, and only vice and misery, to prowl or to moan like night birds, are abroad—that hurr, I say, like the stertorous, unquiet slumber of sick life, is heard in heaven! Oh, under that hideous coverlet of vapors and putrefactions and unimaginable gases, what a fermenting vat lies simmering and hid!"

"The joyful and the sorrowful are there; men are dying there, men are being born; men are praying; on the other side of a brick partition men are cursing, and around them all is the vast, void night."

"The proud grandee still lingers in his perfumed saloons or reposes within damask curtains. Wretchedness crawls into trundle beds or shivers languor-stricken into its lair of straw. In obscure cellars rouge-et-noir languidly emits its voice of destiny to haggard, hungry villains, while councilors of state sit plotting and playing their high chess game, the pawns being men."

"The lover whispers his mistress that the coach is ready, and she, full of hope and fear, glides down to fly with him over the borders. The thief still more silently sets to his pick locks and crowbars or lurks in wait till the watchmen first snore in their boxes."

"Gay mansions, with supper rooms and dancing rooms, are full of light and music and high swelling hearts, but in the condemned cells the pulse of life beats tremulous and faint, and bloodshot eyes look out through the darkness which is around and within for the light of a stern last morning. Six men are to be hanged on the morrow. Comes no hammering from the Raven's Rock? Their gallows must even now be a-building."

"Upward of 500,000 two legged animals without feathers lie around us in horizontal positions, their heads all in nightcaps and full of the foolishest dreams. Riot cries aloud and staggers and swaggers in his rank dens of shame, and the mother, with streaming hair, kneels over her pallid dying infant, whose cracked lips only her tears now moisten—all these heaped and huddled together, with nothing but carpentry and masonry between them, crammed in like salted fish in their barrel, or wretched, shall I say, like an Egyptian mother of tired vipers, each endeavoring to get its head above the others. Such work goes on under that smoke counterpane! But I sit above it all. I am alone with the stars."—From "Sartor Resartus."

Faithful "Mammy."

A southern lady in a letter written after the close of the civil war told her correspondent: "I have something strange to tell you. Mammy has been free since before I was born. I never knew till now." She goes on to tell how she discovered the fact. The account is taken from "Dixie After the War."

I was wretched and exclaimed, "Well, mammy, I reckon you'll go too!" She took it as a deadly insult. I had to humble myself. While she was mad the secret burst out.

"Ef I'd wanted to go, I could ha' gone long time ago. No Yankees sot me free. My master sot me free."

She showed me her manumission papers in grandfather's hand, which she had worn for I don't know how long in a little oil silk bag round her neck, never caring to use them.

What the Composers Say.

Schumann is always more interesting for what he says than for the manner in which he says it. Berlioz's magnificent orchestration does not conceal his poverty of style. The dexterity of Liszt is often set to embroider a thin or ill woven texture. Even Wagner's "romantic" operas alternate their wonderful strokes of genius with passages of sheer clumsiness or vulgarity. All these men made their own way by the force of almost unaided ability. They were saturated with the poetry of music, they were keenly susceptible to literary influence, they were full of fervor and passion, but they had not acquired the full artistry which cost Bach and Mozart so many years of patient endeavor.—Edinburgh Review.

A BASEBALL STORY.

The Pictures of a Pitcher That Were on Exhibition.

Dad Clark, once a pitcher of the New York club, who was perhaps the most unconscious humorist the game has ever known, could be made to believe the tallest story ever told, provided the teller kept a serious face, and this sublime faith of Clark's caused him to be "stung" on many occasions.

One of the most notable cases wherein Dad got "stung" happened one morning when that genial soul and prince of good fellows, Parke Wilson, the New York catcher at that time, came hurriedly into the clubhouse just when the fellows were preparing to don their baseball clothes for morning practice and excitedly exclaimed:

"Say, men, what do you think? As I came to the park this morning I walked by Siegel, Coomer & Co's place and saw a big crowd gathered about their largest show window."

"Getting curious myself, I went up to see what the trouble was, and what do you imagine caused the street to become blockaded? Why, nothing more than this—they have the entire window filled with canned goods, and on each can is the picture of Dad Clark!" shouted Parke.

"What?" shrieked Dad as he began pulling on his street clothes. "Me picture on cans in Siegel-Cooper's window? Now, you fat heads, see whose the popular guy of the punk outfit! I'm de little boy who's fillin' up de park every day, and I'm goin' to strike for a thousand dollar raise in me salary right away. Me picture on cans in Siegel-Cooper's window! If de folks at home could only see me now!"

All during this spiel Dad was hustling on his duds, and the moment he put the last garment on, he rushed out of the clubhouse and raced for dear life to get to Siegel & Coomer's store.

He arrived there all right, but rushing up to the window he saw the cause of the commotion. They had put up a picture of Dad Clark in front of a window, and it was a picture of a great pitcher, and it was luth Hen.

Don't Side-Line Your Pigs.

We know a farmer who formerly regarded his hogs as a side line to his business of grain growing. He raised a number every year, but they were very scrubby stock; yet he always looked to hog money for taxes, insurane, fence repairs, etc., says Farm and Fireside. An old schoolmate called on him one day, and in one of their chats he pointed out to him how he was losing money in raising such a poor quality of hogs. He told him he would not have a meat animal on his farm that was not of the best quality. They looked well and sold well when young, and invariably topped the market when matured. He advised him to sell off all his scrub stock and buy three or four first-class young sows and raise pigs he would be proud of. He said: "Don't side-line your pigs any more, but make them a leading product of the highest quality, and they will make you a greater profit than the best crops of grain you grow." This farmer dates the beginning of his prosperity from the visit of that old schoolmate. When he obtained fine stock he immediately set about providing it with the most comfortable quarters and giving it the best care, and the results can easily be guessed. As we have said before: One who has a small sum lying idle usually can find a place on the farm where it can be employed to good advantage—where it will earn much more than three to five per cent. interest.—Ex.

Congressman voted themselves a 50 percent, increase in salaries to meet the increased cost of living largely brought about by their legislation for special interests. The people have to go on grinning and bearing the increased cost of living because Congress refuses to relieve them of the burden of unreasonable tariff taxes.—Wilmington Star.
