

POTATOES FOR ALCOHOL.

How Farmers may Obtain them from the Government for Purpose of Experiment.

Perhaps the most important measure of the recent session of congress was the one perfecting the free alcohol law for the benefit of small producers. The requisiments of last year's act abolishing the internal revenue taxes on denatured alcohol could be complied with except by large establishments. There was, therefore, danger of the creation of a monopoly, which would have destroyed a good part of the benefits expected from the new law. Congress has now remedied this defect. The measures to be taken to guard the revenues have been so simplified that every farmer can meet them, either singly or in combination with his neighbors.

Concurrent with this action of Congress, it was announced that Prof. Hanson, of the United States Department of Agriculture, had visited several foreign countries and investigated the alcohol business. It was further stated that he had brought home seventeen barrels of what are called "alcohol potatoes," which will grow in dry ground and turn out 500 or 600 bushels to the acre. They are said to be full of alcohol, very valuable for fattening stock, but have a coarse fibre and are not delicate enough for table use.

As it is claimed an acre of them will make 500 gallons of alcohol, the Department wishes the farmers of the country generally to make experiment with them. The terms and conditions on which the potatoes may be obtained are set forth in a letter received from the Agricultural Department at Washington by Land and Industrial Agent Merritt of Norfolk & Southern Railway, as follows:

I beg to state that we have received a supply of these (alcohol potatoes) from Russia and that they were imported in anticipation of a demand for some product from which alcohol could be manufactured. These potatoes in their native home are said to be very prolific and like other potatoes are abundant starch producers, hence they are suitable for the manufacture of alcohol. These potatoes are originally of German origin but like most European potatoes may not be at all adapted to American conditions. This feature, however, remains to be brought out by experiment.

In regard to the conditions under which these potatoes may be received, I beg to advise you that any persons having suitable facilities for growing potatoes and who is willing to undertake a comparative test, i. e. raising these varieties side by side in similar conditions with some well known American variety, and who is willing to report the result of his trial to this office will receive from us free of charge, such amounts as may seem advisable to place with him. You say that you have received many inquiries regarding these potatoes and I would suggest that you put us in touch with these people as soon as possible as our supply is limited.

In view of the above, it would be well for farmers and others interested in this subject and who are desirous of making experiments with these potatoes to write at once to Mr. F. L. Merritt, Norfolk, Va., or directly to the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. agreeing to the above conditions and requesting some of the alcohol potatoes.

AN ACT TO AMEND CHAPTER ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN SECTION FIVE OF THE PRIVATE LAWS OF NORTH CAROLINA OF 1899.

The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

Section 1. That section five, of chapter one hundred and fifteen of the private laws of 1899, be amended by adding at the end of section five the following words, to-wit:

"That whenever any elderman elected in any ward in said town shall remove from the said ward from which he was elected, to any other ward within the said town to permanently reside therein, it shall be his duty to resign as alderman from the said ward and upon his failure to do so, the said board of aldermen shall at its next regular meeting, declare said office of alderman from the said ward, vacant, and proceed at once to elect from the said ward a successor for said alderman, so resigned or removed from said ward.

Section 2. That this act shall be in force from and after its ratification.

In the General Assembly read three times and ratified this 21st day of February, A. D. 1907.

Norfolk & Southern Colonization Company.

In another column in an advertisement of the Norfolk & Southern Colonization company announcing its purpose to bring to Eastern North Carolina desirable homeseekers. Though this company has no connection with the Norfolk & Southern railway, it is understood that it has already formed desirable connections in the west and northwest by which they are enabled to get in touch with the best element of that section seeking homes in other parts of the country. These people constitute the most desirable class of immigration that can today be secured. They are Americans, familiar with our language and customs, and readily adapt themselves to our climate and agricultural conditions. In fact, many of our most successful farmers and business men are among those who immigrated here from the Northern and Western States. It is the purpose of the Norfolk & Southern Colonization company to promote and encourage this movement.

With this end in view, they are listing for sale the best of farming lands throughout Eastern North Carolina. For these they find purchasers by co-operation with their connections in the west. Those who have more land than they need would therefore do well to correspond with Mr. W. E. Allen, secretary of the company, No. 301 Citizens Bank Building, Norfolk, Va. Mr. Allen is well known throughout North Carolina. He has long been identified with the insurance business in the State and has been eminently successful. He now gives it up to enter upon this colonization work. The president of the company is Mr. J. B. Blades, of New Bern; its vice president Mr. E. J. Becton, of Kinston, secretary, W. B. Allen, Norfolk, Va. These, together with Mr. W. B. Blades, constitute the board of directors of the company. It has strong financial backing and is entering upon its work under auspices that promise success for the company and good work in the development of Eastern North Carolina.

Trains coming all day and night gives an idea of how irregularly they can run.

POSTOFFICE RECEIPTS GROWING.

Greenville Pushing Toward the Free Delivery Class.

There is not a better index to the business growth of a town than its postoffice receipts, and Greenville is making a creditable showing along that line. Postmaster Flanagan has given us some figures from the records in the local postoffice that tell the gratifying growth in business.

For the year ending March 31st, 1905, the total receipts were $5,673.31; for the year ending March 31st, 1906, $6,262.23, and for the year ending March 31st, 1907, $7,247.47. This shows an increase of nearly a thousand dollars the past year. At the rate of increase the office is making it will not be long before Greenville is raised to the class for free delivery.

Proposals For New York State Bonds Received.

Special to Reflector:

Albany, N. Y., April 5.—Proposals for $5,000,000 bonds of the State of New York, at 3 per cent, for the canal, have been received today by State Controller F. Glynn. No bids were accepted for less than par. It is expected that there will be ample bids for the placing of bonds, but if not they will be taken over for the canal and good roads sinking funds.

Banquet to Teachers.

On the evening of Friday 12th, from 8:30 to 12:30, Carolina Club will give a reception and banquet to the teachers of Pitt county. Handsome invitations have been issued to the teachers. It is going to be a notable occasion, as the club always entertains royally.

Anniversary Service.

Sunday will be anniversary day with the Greenville Memorial Baptist church and services appropriate to the occasion will be held. It will also be observed as rally day and decision day in the Sunday school. A large attendance is expected at both the Sunday school and church that day.

Weather

Rain tonight and probably Saturday, colder in extreme western and northern portion tonight. Colder Saturday.

A congregational meeting is called to meet in the Presbyterian church Sunday April 7th at 11 o'clock. Business of importance, full attendance is desired. By order of session.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Nwsy Nots From a Hustling Town—Ayden, N. C., April 5th.

David Gibb will occupy the residence recently built by R. H. Garris on Third street.

Mrs. J. A. Davis has moved her millinery from the store on East Railroad street to the store next to J. J. Hines on Main street.

Mrs. Martha Kittrell, from near Standard, spent Wednesday with Mrs. W. E. Hooks.

At the regular meeting of the town commissioners Wednesday night, J. M. Blow was appointed registrar, and J. J. Stokes and Exum Dail, inspectors of the election, on the first Monday in May next, for town officers of said town of Ayden. The books of Registration for said election are now open and will remain so at the office of J. M. Blow as the law requires.

W. E. Hooks has been appointed by the board of county commissioners as registrar for the election of the $50,000 bonds to establish the training school in Pitt county in accordance with a special act of the recent legislature.

W. E. Patrick and family left in the train yesterday for a short visit to Washington after which they will spend a short time in Aurora, before returning home.

There were a large number of Odd Fellows to leave here Thursday for the purpose of attending the district meeting of that excellent order in Washington tomorrow.

At a meeting Tuesday evening of the stockholders of the Ayden bank a dividend of 24 per cent was declared, 15 of which was added to the surplus fund, the remaining 9 per cent was divided among the stockholders. If this is not a good showing, then our idea of a successful business is much at fault.

C. L. Cannon came home Tuesday from Morehead, where he has a position as pharmacist in a drug store, to spend a few days with friends, relatives and others. Others mostly.

Harry Skinner, Jr., of Greenville, was here Thursday as counsel before a magistrate in a civil action.

F. Lilly went to Greenville on the afternoon train yesterday.

There is a man here, as we understand it, who advertises himself as an ex-convict and sentenced also at one time to have been hung and came in three days of paying the penalty, only the governor of the State pardoned him. He proposes to lecture here next Saturday and hails from the State of Texas.

We tender thanks for an invitation to attend the marriage of our young friends, Mr. C. C. Skinner and Miss Nina Cherry James which happy event takes place in the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church in Greenville on the 17th inst.

Dr. L. C. Skinner, J. J. Hines and W. B. Quinerly have been re-elected as dispensary commissioners for another year, with J. B. Pierce as manager.

Perhaps some day those constant Kinston trips on the part of two of our handsome business men will be a sweet memento of a glorious past with a lovely bird in the cage.

C. C. Parkerson purchased the J. M. Moore & Bro. stock and has moved his former business from down town out to the store near the depot.

PERSONAL POINTS.

People who Come and Go.

E. O. Moore, of Kinston, was here today.

C. C. King left this morning for Goldsboro.

Rev. Mr. Fultz returned from Ayden this morning.

Hinton Prichard left this morning for Halifax.

Mrs. D. E. House went to Edgewood this morning to visit her mother.

D. C. Moore, D. L. James, F. J. Forbes and Jesse Smith went to Washington Thursday evening.

Forty Millions of Produce Tied Up in Canada.

Montreal, April 5.—The great depreciation in the market values of Canadian securities, which has been the feature of the Montreal and Toronto stock exchanges for the past three weeks, besides a sympathetic decline with the New York and London markets, been due also to the unprecedented stringency of money through the Canadian banks. Senator Forget, who is intimately in touch with the financial situation, said that it is estimated that at least the enormous amount of forty million dollars is tied up in produce awaiting transportation within the Dominion.

Famine Conditions in China.

Special to Reflector.

New York, April 5.—The famine conditions in China continue the same. All the help obtainable is necessary, and the Red Cross urges still further generosity on the part of the American people. The Christian Herald sent $50,000 to the Red Cross, and a ship loaded with flour and provisions has also been sent from San Francisco, of which the freight has been contributed by Harriman and others. The accounts of contributions received are not large enough.

Beasley Struck With the Resemblance But the Arkansas Boy is Not His.

Norfolk, Va., April 4.—S. M. Beasley, of Currituck, N. C., has returned from Arkansas after an unsuccessful effort to find his son, Kenneth, for the alleged kidnapping and murdering of whom Joshua Harrison was recently convicted at Elizabeth City, N. C., and sentenced to twenty years in prison. Senator Beasley saw the youth in Arkansas believed to be his son and says the boy was so much like Kenneth that it was hard to see how two boys not related could bear such resemblance to one another, but the Arkansas youth was not the lost child.

Tobacco Sales.

The sales of leaf tobacco on the Greenville market, as furnished by Secretary C. W. Harvey, of the Tobacco Board of Trade, for the month of March were 57,957 pounds. The total sales for the season up to April 1st were $355,799, and the average price per hundred was $9.90.

Will Donate Site for School.

I am authorized to say for Sheriff W. H. Harrington that he will give a proper site on the east side of Greenville for the training school. Any committee of gentlemen can go and select the site and a deed will be made for 25 acres or more.

Special to Reflector.

New York, April 5.—The big steamer Providence, of the Fall River line, had a narrow escape at Hell Gate this morning. The fire boat arrived just in time to prevent the swift current's sweeping the steamer to destruction.

NOTICE TO VOTERS OF THE TOWN OF GREENVILLE.

Notice is hereby given to the voters of the town of Greenville that the Board of Aldermen of said town at their regular meeting on the first Tuesday of April, 1907, it being the fourth day of said month, ordered that an election be held at the various voting places in the several wards of said town on Tuesday, May 7th, 1907, for the purpose of taking the sense of the qualified voters of said town on the proposition to confer upon the Alderman of said town the authority to issue and sell interest bearing bonds of said town, not to exceed the sum of $75,000.00 to run for thirty years, and to bear interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum payable annually. The proceeds of the sale of said bonds to be used in constructing, extending, enlarging and maintaining the sewerage system now in course of construction in said town and for the purpose of paving, or otherwise improving street and to aid in the establishment of a training school in or near the town of Greenville, if one shall be authorized by law, and allowing the board of aldermen to use so much of the proceeds of the sale of said bonds for either of said purposes as they may deem proper, but for no other purpose.

A new registration of the voters has been ordered for said election so that it may definitely and accurately be ascertained who are qualified voters at said election. The Act of the General Assembly authorizing said election requires those favoring the issue of said bonds to vote a written or printed ballot with the words thereon "For Bonds" and those opposed to the issuing of bonds to vote a written or printed ballot with the words thereon "Against Bonds." The registration books will be open at the various polling places in the several wards of the town on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the first second and third days, of May, 1907. Only those who register can vote.

This notice is given with a certain act of the General Assembly of North Carolina passed at its session of 1906, and entitled "An Act to allow the town of Greenville to issue bonds."

By order of the Board of Aldermen of the town of Greenville.
This the 4th day of April, 1907.

Reports from the trucking sections of the State are that crops suffered seriously in the recent cold snap.

It is unlucky that Thaw had money enough to put up such a trial, but there will not be much left with him when it is over.

Some of you fellows who have had in contemplation the purchase of a building lot in Greenville had better not wait too long about it. Do you think after the brick making plant gets to going, the new railroad gets to running trains, the eastern training school gets located, the sewerage system is completed, the streets paved and the town gets a cotton mill, that you can buy property as cheap as now? If you think so you will find yourself mistaken.

The view that some folks have of helping out a town or community in its struggles for growth is what they can get out of it for self. When that spirit becomes strong enough to defeat others who are honestly striving for advancement it becomes a positive curse and a hindering cause. But, shorn of its power, as sooner or later it must be, it takes the sweep of the boomerang and crushes the life that gave it growth.—Stanly Enterprise.

Origin of Plug Tobacco.

"Did you ever stop to consider why they call this plug tobacco?" It was one of the oldest members of the Louisville police force who spoke, as he took a good-sized chew "Well, there's all the difference in the world in tobacco I've tried 20 different kinds, but this is as good as we used to make ourselves down on the farm, from which the plug tobacco derived its name.

"In the first place, we would select the choicest of the leaves and soak them for a week or more in wild honey. Then we would take a maple log while it was green and bore a dozen holes in it with a 2-inch auger. A good, strong hickory tamping completed our outfit, and we would go to work.

"A little ball of honey soaked to jacco would be put in the auger hole and a hammer as solidly as we could plug it. Ball after ball would be rammed in and pounded until the whole became a solid plug. When the hole was nearly full the log would be put away to season.

"As the wood dried the moisture would be drawn from the tobacco, and when it was split the sweetest chew you ever had was taken from it. We called it 'plug' tobacco, and that's where the name originated"—Baltimore Sun.

VENEERED WOOD.
The Way It Is Built Up In Layers With Impervious Cement.

The veneered furniture of fifty years ago cannot compare with that made today. The former practice was to make a single piece of inferior wood as the base of the article and to cover it skillfully with paper thin veneer, glued into place. As a consequence the natural warpings of the base wood, its contraction and expansion under changing atmospheric conditions and, in moist weather, the failure of the glue caused the veneer to crack, undulate or peel off. The veneering of today is generally thicker and is placed upon a built up base of three ply or five ply sections, with the grain running in different directions in the various layers, so that the base is actually stronger than any wood that could be secured.

Great improvement has also been made in joining the pieces together, impervious cements having taken the place of inferior glues. It can be seen that this built up process is in no sense a cheap one, but in addition to giving more satisfactory results in the finished furniture it has its chief value in making the supply of choice material for the exterior finish go much farther. Moreover, by certain methods of cutting the veneer many beautiful effects can be obtained, and it is possible not only to match similar pieces of wood, but by cutting from the same stock to make all of a set of furniture similar in its effect. Sometimes one log, by judicious cutting, can be made to furnish a like pattern for the furniture and interior finish of any given room. Thus the manufacturer has not only perfected a device to make his supply go farther, but to make it more useful and beautiful. And use and beauty, by all the tenets of furniture making, are the two ends to be chiefly sought.—Woodcraft.

"As the wood dried the moisture would be drawn from the tobacco, and when it was split the sweetest chew you ever had

For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of opium, chloroform or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in cough remedies. Dr. Shoop, it seems has welcomed the Pure Food Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines for many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure containers have had a warning printed on them against opium and other narcotic poisons. A LIQUID GOLD CURE
AND LAXATIVE COUGH SYRUP

The Red Clover Blossom and the Honey Bee on Every Bottle.

"A Cold or a Cough nearly always produces constipation—the water all runs to the eyes, nose and throat instead of passing out of the system through the liver and kidneys. For the want of moisture the bowels become dry and hard." Nearly all other cough cures are constipating, especially those containing Opium. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar moves the bowels, contains no Opium.

LAXATIVE
HONEY AND TAR

Relieves Colds by working them out of the system through a copious action of the bowels.
Relieves Coughs by cleansing and strengthening the mucous membranes of the throat, chest, lungs and bronchial tubes.
For Croup, Whooping Cough, La Grippe, Influenza, Bronchitis, and all Coughs, Colds, Lung and Bronchial affections no remedy is equal to Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. Children like it.

Sold in 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottles at the Laboratory of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, U.S.A.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.
This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.
If you would have strong hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

Dr. Shoop's Restorative

J. W. BRYAN.

About That Home
Do You Contemplate

Owning One?
If so the first thing to consider is a good lot in a desirable location and you cannot be better suited in a lot than the

Sam White Property.

No property surpasses this for a desirable home. Lots can be bought there now at reasonable prices and on easy terms. There is every indication that property around Greenville is going to be higher, and the longer you defer buying the lot the higher it will cost.

This property is located only 5 minutes walk from the business part of the town. See Sam White and let him explain prices and terms.

CARLYLE ON JUSTICE.

"Nothing is Ever Settled Until it is Created Right."

From Carlyle's "Past and Present." "Parchment records, fixed forms and poor terrestrial justice, with or without horsehair—what sane man will not reverence these? And yet, behold, the man is not sane, but insane, who considers these alone as venerable. Oceans of horsehair, continents of parchment and learned serjeant eloquence, were it continued till the learned tongue were itself small in the indefatigable learned mouth, cannot make unjust just! The grand question still remains, Was the judgment just? If unjust it will not and cannot get harbor for itself or continue to have footing in this universe, which was made by other than one unjust. Enforce it by never such saluting, three readings, royal assents, blow it to the four winds with all manner of quilted trumpeters and pursuivants, in the rear of them never so many gibbets and hangmen, it will not stand, it cannot stand.

"From all souls of men, from all ends of nature, from the throne of God above, there are voices bidding it away, away! Does it take no warning? Does it stand, strong in its three readings, in its gibbets and artillery park? The more woe is to it, the frightfuler woe. It will continue standing, for its day, for its year, for its century, doing evil all the while. But it has one enemy who is almighty. Dissolution, explosion and the everlasting laws of nature incessantly advance toward it, and the deeper its rooting, more obstinate its continuing, the deeper also and huger will its ruin and overturn be.

"In this, God's world, with its wild whirling eddies and mad foam oceans, where men and nations perish as if without law and judgment for an unjust thing is sternly delayed, dost thou think that there is therefore no justice? It is what the fool hath said in his heart. It is what the wise, in all times, were wise because they denied and knew forever not to be. I tell thee again, there is nothing else but justice."

The O'Gorman's Retort.

Major O'Gorman, the man "of stupendous girth and volcanic voice," was a notable figure in the house of commons. "He was indescribably funny," says Toby, M. P., "the real Irishman in flesh and blood—and a good deal of both—whom Charles Lever used to draw. When he stood up the house began to laugh. If he coughed, it hilariously cheered. When he cried, 'Hear, hear!' everybody roared." He was the only man who could always be relied on to make Dizzy's sphinx-like face relax into a smile. The major (there was only one "major" in his day) said many a witty thing, but the cleverest of them all was his retort to a member who querulously demanded in the house, "Why are Irishmen always laying bare the wrongs of their country?" "Because," thundered the O'Gorman, "they want them redressed."

What Ailed the Speech.

At the close of one of the sessions in the trial of Warren Hastings when most of those engaged had gathered in the anteroom Dr. Parr stalked up and down the room in his pedantic, pompous way, growling out praises of the speeches of Fox and Sheridan, but saying not a word about Burke's. Burke, sensitive at this omission and anxious for some commendation from the great authority, could at last contain himself no longer and burst out: "Doctor, didn't you like my speech?" "No, Edmund," replied Dr. Parr, calmly eyeing his excited questioner. "Your speech was oppressed with metaphor, dislocated by parenthesis and debilitated by amplification!"

His Shaky Seat.

A small Canadian ventured into the room while his eldest sister was entertaining a masculine caller. "Mr. Harris," the youth finally interrupted, "I wish you would take me with you some day." "Take you with me!" echoed the caller. "Where do you want to go, Bobbie?" "I heard Mr. Grant, next door, say you were on the water wagon and he guessed you'd soon fall off. I'd love to help you drive."—Canadian Courier.
