

Envy of the Barefoot Boy in Spring-time.

But to the fellow who has passed hopelessly out of his teens, there is hardly anything more tantalizing in all the world than the freedom of a barefoot boy in spring-time. Ah, what memories it calls back to your mind! You know exactly how cool and clean the freshly-plowed earth felt to your feet when you dropped the corn, and how you would stretch your toes apart and let them exult in their new freedom from the bondage of copper-toed shoes! When a fellow grows up there's little consolation in having big feet, but when you are a barefoot boy it is a blessing for the reason that a greater expanse of your human territory may come into contact with the good red earth—or better still, the cool clear water that bubbles by the alder catkins and that little mass of peppermint and calamus and pickered weed down by the spring branch (Branch we say, for "brook" is an imported affection not to be endured among us) But of course, there are some drawbacks to going barefoot, notably when you have to go after the calves or cows and have to cross a broomage field that has been burned off, or have to work in the "rocky field" on the hillside. By the way, the "blue flags" will soon be blooming now, the snakes are beginning to come forth again, the lizards will soon take sun baths along the rail fences, and now that dogwoods are blooming, the cows that belong to shiftless farmers take fresh courage since it is said that no cow need starve after the dogwood blooms. The crows moreover, are watching the sprouting corn, and it is not likely that even our friend "Rustic" can convince our women readers that hawks were not invented by the devil for the express purpose of trying the patience of women whose yards are now dotted with little fluffy chirping biddies from the nest.--W. F. Marshall in Progressive Farmer.

Not Prayer But Corn Liqueur Worked the Cure.

The talk had turned to holiness and sanctification. "You know folks who believe in sinless perfection lay great store by prayer and faith in lieu of doctors and medicine," said one. "Well, once in this county I knew a man who had 'drunk' himself the D. T. stage. They put him to bed and they wouldn't give him another drop. Really, he was about to die because he couldn't get any more of the dog's hair to put on the bite. Prayer went up for him unceasingly. One day a neighbor dropped in and while the attendant was out, gave the fellow a half pint of corn. He drank it and was made whole. 'Praise the Lord!' he yelled, raising straight up 'Glory to God!' he landed in the middle of the floor. 'Gimme my britches,' he demanded, and put on his clothes 'Rejoice and sing hymns, and shout with exceeding great joy,' he continued, and the attendant came in. He was open mouthed astonishment, but quickly assumed credit for the miraculous cure. Prayer had done it. Months afterward, when he was bragging about his stunt, the neighbor spoke up and allowed, says he, 'Mebbe it was your prayers, but I think it was that half pint of corn I give him while you was out.' For a year the holy one refused to exchange salutations with the neighbor."--Lexington Dispatch.

Uneasiness in London Circles About American Tourists.

By Cable to Reflector; London, April 16.—London purveyors to the tourist class, are greatly worried over the American tourists who every year fill the old Metropolis. Ten new hotels and scores of new boarding-houses await the visitors, but now a great lot of uneasiness has set in lest financial disturbances may have cut off the resources of the great spenders who have left untold sums in the coffers of the hotel men and the army of subordinates who have fattened on the millions spent by the lavish Americans. Many noted spenders in the London metropolis will be missed, for a lack of spending money, which took its flight in Wall street.

REGISTRATION NOTICE First Ward.

The voters of the First Ward of the town of Greenville will take notice that I have been appointed registrar for said ward for the purpose of registering the qualified voters of said ward, and to aid in the conduct of an election called to be held in the town of Greenville on the 7th day of May, 1907. I give notice that the registration books are now in my hands, and all qualified voters of the first ward of the town of Greenville may come and be registered. I also give notice that I will be at the polling place of said ward, to-wit: the Grand Jury Room in the Court House, on Wednesday, May 1st, Thursday, May 2nd, and Friday, May 3rd, 1907, from 9 o'clock a. m. until 5 o'clock p. m., with my book of registration prepared to register such persons as may be entitled to register in said ward for said election. An entirely new registration has been ordered in accordance with the Act authorizing said election, and notice is given that no person shall be allowed to vote who does not register. Expense of Thaw Trial.

It costs something to try a millionaire who commits murder. Up to the close of the mistrial of Harry K. Thaw charged with the murder of Stanford White in New York, the expense was scheduled at $308,486. That includes cost for the defense. The cost, it is stated, is as follows: The defense—experts, $45,000; fees (chief counsel), $100,000; assistant counsel, $40,000; original lawyers, $20,000; detectives etc., $15,000; prisoner's meals, $1,500; traveling expenses, $1,000; cables, etc., $2,500; tracing testimony, $10,000. Total $235,000. The State—experts, $22,000; jury fees and expenses, $6,736; district attorney's salary, $3,000; assistant and clerks, $3,875; judge's salary, $4,375; witness fees, $10,000; stenographers, $4,500; court attaches, $3,000; detective service, $18,000. Total $73,486.

The probability is that the case will cost a half million or more dollars before we see the end of it.

Financial Value of the School.

Wherever the Eastern training school is established, it will be the richest and best equipped state school ever established in North Carolina. The immense territory from which it will draw patronage will soon make it one of the most largely attended schools in the State.

Now, suppose it averages only 250 students a year, and suppose that each student spends on average $175 per year, a very low estimate; most of them will spend much more. At that rate the students alone will spend $43,750 per year in our midst. Add to this the State appropriations, and you have something like $60,000 per year, and each legislature will increase the State appropriations.

If getting the school were to cost Pitt county $100,000 it would be a splendid investment, viewed from a mere financial standpoint. The bonds will extend over a period of 30 years. In that time the school will net Pitt county over $2,000,000.

Close of Smith's School.

The close of Smith's school in Beaver Dam township, taught by Misses Delle Clements and Ellen Tyson, took place Wednesday night. A large crowd was present and every one greatly enjoyed the splendid exercises by the pupils. After the program was completed Prof. W. H. Ragsdale delivered a fine address.

I give notice that the registration books are now in my hands, and all qualified voters of the second ward of the town of Greenville may come and be registered. I also give notice that I will be at the polling place of said ward, to-wit: Winslow's Stables, on Wednesday, May 1st, Thursday, May 2nd, and Friday, May 3rd, 1907, from 9 o'clock a. m. until 5 o'clock p. m., with my book of registration prepared to register such persons as may be entitled to register in said ward for said election. An entirely new registration has been ordered in accordance with the Act authorizing said election, and notice is given that no person shall be allowed to vote who does not register. The Local Newspaper.

It is the local press which serves you in every emergency. There you go in trouble. It is there you go in prosperity. If you want to boom any manufacturing enterprise, any railroad project, any scheme for the development of your town, or if your lodge desires to add to its membership or to erect a hall or in any way advance its interests, the local press is immediately appealed to for help. So it is with your churches. If it is a picnic or a festival, a new carpet or an organ, the local press is found to be useful in furthering every good object. If a raid is to be made on sin by the ambassadors of Christ, the columns of the local paper are used freely and gratuitously in advertising the revival or protracted meeting. The candidates and politicians find also the importance of the local press.

Clearly there are many reasons why the local press should be cultivated. Yet in spite of all these facts the people most interested in the local paper are the last to give it their support and frequently known to take several metropolitan papers and shut out their local paper altogether. If there is anything in the argument about the advantages of home trade, surely it makes a strong appeal on behalf of the local press, because the money of the labor is always expended where the paper is printed, and if paid out with one hand for subscription, advertising, or job printing it comes into the other hand and thus remains with you. If by any means you freeze out your local paper and leave yourself at the mercy of the foreign, you would find out more fully than words or arguments could explain why the local paper should be cultivated.—Derry (Mass.) Enterprise.

REGISTRATION NOTICE Third Ward.

The voters of the Third ward of the town of Greenville will take notice that I have been appointed registrar for said ward for the purpose of registering the qualified voters of said ward, and to aid in the conduct of an election called to be held in the town of Greenville on the 7th day of May, 1907. I give notice that the registration books are now in my hands, and all qualified voters of the third ward of the town of Greenville may come and be registered. I also give notice that I will be at the polling place of said ward, to-wit: Forbes' Store at Five Points, on Wednesday, May 1st, Thursday, May 2nd, and Friday, May 3rd, 1907, from 9 o'clock a. m. until 5 o'clock p. m., with my book of registration prepared to register such persons as may be entitled to register in said ward for said election. An entirely new registration has been ordered in accordance with the Act authorizing said election, and notice is given that no person shall be allowed to vote who does not register. This the 18th day of April, 1907. C. D. ROUNTREE, Registrar of the Third Ward of the town of Greenville.

Speakings on Training School

After the regular business at the meeting of the stockholders of the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Company today, Representative J. J. Laughinghouse made a strong speech to the large attendance of farmers on the Eastern training school. He showed them the great benefit that would come to our people by the school being located in Pitt county, and pointed out why everyone should vote for the bond issue to secure the school.

In the court house this afternoon ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis and Prof. W. H. Ragsdale also made forcible speeches on the school. As the people hear the matter discussed they become more and more in favor of the school.

FARMERS' CONSOLIDATED.

Declare Handsome Dividend—Business Growing.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Farmers' Consolidated Tobacco Company was held today with a large number present. The principal business was hearing the report of President O. L. Joyner of the business done the past year. His report showed the affairs of the company to be in excellent financial condition, and all were gratified at the announcement of a 15 per cent dividend after paying all debts and running expense. This makes a total of 97 per cent the company has paid in dividends since it was organized four years ago. We do not know a better business enterprise in which farmers could engage.

The success of the company has been so marked that its operations will be considerably enlarged for the coming season, for in addition to increased business in Greenville it will also operate two warehouses on the Robersonville market.

THURSDAY, APR. 18th, 1907

The stranger in town Wednesday was impressed with the fact that Greenville is a well dressed town.

If you want your children to be taught by better teachers you should favor the training school for teachers.

Charlotte is not going at it in a bad way. The citizens of that town are taking an interest in local politics and are asking for what they want.

The Greensboro policeman who sucked through a hot air pump has been discharged from the force, that kind of drunk being considered as bad as any other.

President Roosevelt may be able to make things go more his way with the aid of that five pound stick the people of Brownsville, Texas, sent him.

A registered package containing $10,000, sent by mail from a Wilmington bank to New York, was stolen in transit. The government has been investigating but failed to find the money.

The bandit who walked into the office of the Northern Express company, at St. Paul, Minn., and at the point of a pistol compelled the clerk to open the safe and hand him a $25,000 package, had his nerve with him.

Some people have the idea that the teachers training school located in Greenville will be of benefit to the town only, and not to the county. On the contrary the school would be ten fold more benefit to the county than to the town. Look into it and see where the public school teachers are—whether in the town or in the country schools. There are ten times as many teachers in the country as in the town, therefore the country would be the greatest beneficiary of the training school for teachers. Every man who has a child to educate, or wants to see his county progressive, should vote for the school to secure the training school.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

"What is My Thought Like?" is a Mirth Provoking Game.

One of the players thinks of some object—it may be a person, an animal or a thing—and each player is questioned by the "thinker," "What is my thought like?" and must make answer, "Like a monkey," "Like a table," "Like a fish," "Like a kite," and so on. When all have answered, the "thinker" tells them the object thought of. Perhaps it was a person present, and each player must then justify his reply or, failing this, must pay a forfeit.

For instance, the one who said the object was like a monkey when told the name of a boy present as the object thought of might reply, "I said Bobby was like a monkey because he is fond of nuts." The next could say, "I said Bobby was like a table because he is rather wooden looking." "He is like a fish because he is fond of water." "He is like a kite because he is given to lofty flights," and so on.

Oldest New Yorker.

Just listen to this. The oldest living thing in New York is a great big tortoise. He is 306 years old. His name is Buster, and he weighs 237 pounds. He is very gentle and eats from the hands of his keepers. A gentleman who lived in Honolulu many years ago told me the big old turtles used to walk about the streets there and eat the scraps of food people would throw to them. They were so large that the little children used to climb up on their backs and ride about. How queer it would look to us to see turtles roaming about the streets, and how very funny it would seem to ride on one!—Circle.

NOTICE TO THE VOTERS OF PITT COUNTY.

Notice is hereby given to the voters of Pitt county that the board of county commissioners, at their meeting on the first Monday of April, 1907, it being the first day of said month, ordered that an election be had on the various voting places in said county on Tuesday, May 14th, 1907 for the purpose of taking the sense of the qualified voters of said county on their proposition to confer upon the board of county commissioners of said county the authority to issue and sell interest bearing coupon bonds, of said county, not to exceed the sum of fifty thousand dollars to run for thirty years and to bear interest at a rate not to exceed six percent. The proceeds of the sale of said bonds to be used in aiding in erecting suitable buildings at some point in Pitt county for a training school for white teachers, and the excess, if any, of the fund arising from the sale of said bonds, after securing the location of said school in the county, to be used in the purchase of machinery for the use of the convicts in working the public roads and to aid building and repairing bridges in the county of Pitt.

A new registration of the voters has been ordered for said election, so that it may be definitely and accurately ascertained who are qualified voters at said election. The law authorizing said election requires those favoring the issuing of said bonds to vote a written or printed ballot with the words thereon, "for bonds" and those opposed to vote a written or printed ballot with the words thereon "against bonds." The registration books will open on Thursday, April 11th, 1907, and close at sunset on Saturday, May 4th, 1907. Only those who register can vote.

By order of the board of county commissioners of Pitt county.
This the 1st day of April 1907.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Suggestions as to the Proper Garnishing of Various Dishes.

In garnishing food one may exercise as much originality and ingenuity as one is capable of. There are only one or two limitations to this rule. One is that a certain harmony of colors and flavors should be observed. The other is that the overfanciful in the way of food ornamentation should be avoided.

Here are a few suggestions as to the appropriate garnishes for different dishes: With fish use lemon or parsley and potatoes cut in balls or latticed and fried. A platter of cold meat may be garnished with cubes of tomato aspic, parsley, crescents or thin slices of lemon. For fried foods lentils and parsley make the most attractive garnishes, while celery tops, stuffed olives and slices of raw tomato are also desirable. For lamb chops green peas are the usual garnish and are generally arranged in a border around the meat. Radishes cut in slices or in fancy shapes add to the attractiveness of a platter of steak, while for creamed dishes or dishes au gratin hard boiled eggs may be used in some form. Desserts may be garnished with nuts, candied fruits and bottled cherries.

To Clear Soup.

To clear soup put the stock to be cleared in a stewpan, allowing the white and shell of one egg to each quart of stock. Beat the white of egg slightly and add to the stock with the shell broken in small pieces. Place on the front of the range and stir constantly until the boiling point is reached; then let boil without stirring for two minutes. Set on the back of the range, where it may simmer for twenty minutes. Remove the scum and strain through a double thickness of cheesecloth placed over a fine strainer.—Woman's Home Companion.

Uses of Onions.

Onions chopped in small pieces and laid between thin slices of bread or crackers and eaten as a sandwich are most soothing and effectual for insomnia. Raw onions are more digestible than cooked ones and are especially good for complexion, liver and kidney troubles. A small quantity of onion is a decided improvement to baked tomatoes and squash, and an onion boiled with macaroni removes the pasty taste.

Herring Salad.

Herring salad is a veritable tidbit to those who like the fish flavor. Take two skinned, sound, boned herrings (smoked, of course). Cut into quarter inch squares. Mix lightly in a bowl with two cold boiled potatoes, medium size; two peeled raw apples, two cold hard boiled eggs and one pickled red beet, all cut in dice. Pour French salad dressing over this mixture, mix lightly, but thoroughly, and serve at once ice cold.

To Restore Gray Hair.

For restoring gray hair the following is recommended: Half a dram of sulphate of iron, half an ounce each of fluid extract of jaborandi and glycerin, quarter of an ounce of sulphure, two drams of extract of rosemary, the same of extract of thyme, half an ounce of rectified spirits and a quarter pint of elderflower water. Apply nightly to the scalp with massage.

Why the Stranger Followed the Nervous Man.

A nervous man on his lonely homeward way heard the echoing of following footsteps, and dim visions of hooligans, blackmailers and garroters coursed through his brain. The faster he walked the more the man behind increased his speed, and, though the nervous one took the most roundabout and devious course he could devise, still his tracker followed. At last he turned into a churchyard.

"If he follows me here," he mused, "there can be no doubt about his intentions."

The man behind did follow, and, quivering with rage and fear, the nervous one turned and confronted him. "What the dickens do you want?" he queried. "Why are you following me?"

"Do you always go home like this," said the stranger, "or are you giving yourself a treat tonight? I am going up to Mr. Brown's, and the porter at the station told me to follow you, as you lived next door. Excuse me asking, but are you going home at all tonight?"

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds, strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

SLEEPING AFTER MEALS.

It is Apt to Have a Harmful Effect Upon Digestion.

Science in its study of men and animals finds all sorts of contradictory evidence respecting the relative values of exercise and of rest during the process of digestion. It has been proved that climate is the principal consideration at the outset.

In the tropics the siesta, or short nap, after the midday meal is found to be a natural development and a necessity for human beings, while in the temperate zones sleep immediately after eating is apt to prove harmful, though rest in a waking state is desirable in most cases.

The whole subject is well outlined in a Paris journal, Cosmos, from which the following paragraph is translated:

"In temperate climates an adult in good health who eats moderately does not feel the need of sleep immediately after eating. Somnolence attacks only dyspeptics, aged persons and excessive eaters. In warm climates, especially in the tropics, it is impossible to go out of doors between 11 a. m. and 2 p. m. or to occupy oneself in any way. People are thus led to lie down, heat and digestion aiding this tendency, and the siesta becomes a habit, not an absolute necessity."

If one does lie down after meals should he sleep or remain awake? Dr. Schule, an assistant of Baumbler at Freiburg, has analyzed the contents of the stomachs of two normal subjects removed several hours after an identical test meal of bread and distilled water, followed in the one case by sleep, in the other by simple rest in a horizontal position. He shows that sleep during digestion always results in weakening the motility of the stomach and increasing the acidity of gastric juice—a fact attributed by Schule to the irritation caused by the chyme's remaining abnormally long in the stomach.

He has also remarked that simple repose in a horizontal posture, not accompanied by sleep, stimulates the gastric function without increasing the acidity.

The conclusions of this physiologist need to be supported by a very large number of tests. The simplest test is to ask whether persons who sleep after eating experience any discomfort. Numbers of them say that a siesta interrupts digestion and that on awakening they have a bitter taste in their mouths.

A Losing Agreement.

A Jenkintown grocer says that there is nothing like being accommodating, even if it goes so far as to cause a loss in cash. About a year ago a character well known in that section of Montgomery county, who lives alone in a small house nearly a mile back in the country, happened to be in the store and said his stock of provisions was low. He asked the grocer to sell him 8 cents' worth of flour. "Why don't you buy a dollar's worth?" asked a bystander. "I ain't got no bag," was the reply. "Oh, well, I'll lend you one," said the merchant. "But I ain't got no money with me," the man said. "You can pay for it when you bring back the bag," was the reply, and the man went home with his flour. One day last week the man was again in the store, and the grocer said to him: "I have a little bill against you for flour. Do you remember about it?" His eyes opened with astonishment as he gazed at the grocer and replied, "I ain't brought the bag back yet." The bill has been charged to profit and loss.—Philadelphia Record.

No Room For Argument.

Promotion time in the public schools is invariably a season of undue elation and of heartburnings among the pupils. "Did you get promoted?" asked a small girl in front of a Brooklyn school of a larger companion. "Yes. It was easy for me in that class," was the reply. "Well, they left me back," remarked the small girl, and then, with bitterness, "But you're not so smart anyway." "Oh, I don't know," said the other, with an air of superiority. "There ain't many in this school that has a better education than me. I was promoted, and the teacher was left back."—New York Globe.

SCHOOL CLOSING

Three Take Place This Week.

The school at Ballards' X Roads will close next Friday. The teachers, pupils and people of that community are preparing to make it an occasion worthy of that splendid school. This school won second prize last Saturday on improvements in house and grounds.

Gov. T. J. Jarvis and Supt. W. H. Ragsdale will speak that day at 10 o'clock and the school will have appropriate exercises. Everybody in the community ought to take enough interest to go out that day and make it a rally day for the school work so splendidly begun there.

TO WHOM THIS MAY COME, GREETING.

I shall be making and placing "concrete curbing" in the cemetery for the next few days and I wish all those who are interested in having their grave lots neatly and carefully preserved and ornamented to come and see for themselves what it is and what it is worth. I am also prepared to place this curbing around the yards of the homes in town or country. I specially wish the people to come to the cemetery and see for themselves the work that I am doing. They will then see what they are missing every day.
