

SOME BENEFITS OF THE SCHOOL.

Johnsons Mills, N. C. April 20th
EDITOR REFLECTOR:—

Kindly allow me a little space in your paper to speak a word in favor of this bond issue, especially to the people of Swift Creek township.

The last legislature appropriated fifteen thousand dollars to establish a training school to be located in some eastern county. This is to come from the State taxes. If there were to be no tax whatever and the county were to give its permission to locate the school within its borders, every one would vote to give that permission. Why? "Because," you would say, "it will help the county. We can educate our daughters at less expense and it will help to build up the county."

The man who sells a good many cattle, will see a greater market for his beef—for what school is there which doesn't give the students beef? The woman who sells eggs and chickens, can take them herself, to Greenville, where even now, is an easy market for all the supply. The fruit man can do likewise. Any enterprise, which will cause people to congregate in one place is a call to each of these, for people must be fed and the country—not the town—must feed them. The town can supply them with dresses, hats shoes, etc., but the country people, those who raise cattle, hogs, fruit, chickens, etc., must sell their three meals a day. An enterprise that brings more business to the county must, of course be a benefit.

Now, if the school would help us, if we had no tax to pay to get the benefit will be the same with the tax. In this case, however, you would be paying a small tax to receive the same benefit. You have to decide whether this benefit will be twenty five cents worth each year: You may say you have no chickens or cattle to sell and no children to send to school. If you haven't any, in ten years your children may be running incubators, raising cattle and sending their children to this school, which you helped to establish by voting to give twenty-five cents on every thousand you had, for its maintenance. The school once here will be carrying on its work when your grandchildren are the voters will be looking to them for meat butter and eggs, for carpenters, plumbers, teachers, seamstresses. As long as the State of North Carolina is a State the school will be here and "your children and your children's children" will get the benefit.

While all will acknowledge that it will help the county, some may not feel it will benefit them personally and therefore vote against it. That might be justifiable if we were to ever have another chance at it. But we have not. Now is the time. It is coming to some county. You—the man with the vote—are you going to put it forever out of your reach because now you can't see it will help you? A year from now you may change your mind, but the chance will be gone. It will be in some other county.

Your vote will say one of two things. It will say whether you will pay twenty five cents on every thousand you have or whether you won't pay a quarter of a dollar to insure to your children and grand-children the advantages of having a good school in the county. They may want the school, but they won't have any vote in the matter. You are to say whether the school, with all the good it will locate within twenty miles of you, shall come or the benefit go to some other county.

Some of you may say you are not able to pay twenty five cents on every thousand. If that is true, then you wouldn't have to pay twenty-zents, for you wouldn't have the thousand. Say you have only five hundred, the tax would be twelve and one half cents. For two hundred and fifty dollars worth of property, it would be six and a quarter cents. Eggs are now a penny each. Seven of them would pay tax on that much property.

If the school goes to another county, that county gets all the benefit I have pointed out, while you get nothing. Still you will be taxed for your part of that $15,000 the legislature has voted to maintain the school. Do you see that whether you want to or not, you will have to pay that tax, even though the school is not in this county. Now, Mr. Gruding Voter, won't you pay twenty five cents extra to get it in the county? Sit down and estimate your property. Think whether you will pay twenty-five cents extra to get the school in the county or whether you will pay your part of that $15,000 to some other county.

It's up to you, voters of Pitt, to say which you can best afford to do. On May 14th are you going to vote to help some other county or yourself?

Mrs. Walter F. Harding.

Found After 21 Years Search.

Mr. W. H. Settle, who called at this office Tuesday, relates the following interesting narrative: He says twenty-one years ago he and his brother, the late B. F. Settle, were tossing up silver dollars for pastime in a field near their home, and they lost a dollar, which diligent search for several days failed to locate. It was one of the first coins they ever owned and they spent many hours trying to find it. Season after season the land has been cultivated by Mr. Settle, and he said he never plowed the place where the dollar was lost without looking for it. The other day while riding by the place he spied something which looked like a box top. Dismounting to investigate, it proved to be the long lost dollar.—Reidsville Review.

The Editor's Trials.

Few business men have more to contend with than an editor. The only means the editor has to make a living for himself and family is by selling space in the columns of his paper. His newspaper columns are the same to him as the shelves of dry goods are to the merchant. No one thinks of asking the merchant to give him the dry goods from his shelves, but few there are who hesitate to ask the editor to give them free space in his columns or extra copies of the paper without a thought of the expense incurred and loss sustained by him in thus depriving him of his legitimate source of income.—Farmville (Va.) Herald.

The Boys Like Him, Too.

The boys wish Judge W. H. Neal could live forever and come to Pitt county every time to hold court. Another little fellow—Walter Linden Whichard—was made happy today by getting his name recorded as an officer of the court and receiving a dollar for drawing the grand jury.

A Famous Choir of Vienna Starts For New York.

Special to Reflector.

Vienna, April 22.—What is generally regarded as the best male choral society of the world, the Wiener Männergesang-Verein started today from Genoa in the H. A. S. Oceana, chartered exclusively by the society, and is expected to reach New York May 5th. They will give two concerts in New York, May 5, and 9, in Carnegie hall, and during their stay they will be the guests of the German Leidenkrantz. All their concerts are given for charity, and the results of the two concerts in New York, will be for the benefit of the German society and of the Austrian society of New York. They will give concerts in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Buffalo and Milwaukee, for the benefit of local charities, besides, they will pay their respects to the president of the United States on May 6th. Of the active singers of the society two hundred will come to the United States.

Porto Rico has a New Governor.

Special to Reflector.

Washington, April 22.—Regis Henri Poso, of the Porto Rican government, former secretary took possession of the government of that island today as governor. He is one of the younger well-to-do New Yorkers, who have entered political life. Mr. Poso is a descendant of that Post who was numbered among the settlers of Southampton, Long Island, in 1615. He was born in Bellport, L. I. January 28, 1870. In 1891 he was graduated from Harvard university, and then studied law at the university of New York. He early manifested an interest in the political affairs of Suffolk county, serving several years as a member of the Republican county committee. After serving a year in the New York Assembly, he became auditor of the Porto Rican government. He next became secretary, and now is governor. He is a personal friend of President Roosevelt.

Big Lot of Land Thrown Open in Idaho.

Special to Reflector.

Milner, Idaho, April 22.—Thirty thousand acres of irrigable land were thrown open at noon today for public entry, and hundreds of people came to make their flings upon the allotments available. The opening is conducted by the State land board of Idaho, which sells the land to settlers at 50 cents an acre, of which 25 cents is paid down. The perpetual water right is $30, of which $3 an acre is paid down and the balance in nine annual installments. The intent of the Carey Act, which governs this opening, is to enable a settler to pay for his land from his crops. This is the first opening of public land in the Northwest this year, and will be followed by others when the remainder of the tract is thrown open.

Railroad Case Heard.

Special to Reflector.

Washington, April 22.—The United States Supreme court advanced till today, the cases of the Southern railway company and the Illinois Central railroad company against the interstate commerce commission, involving the right of the railroad companies to advance the freight rate on lumber, and set them down for today, and they are accordingly being heard in Chicago today.

SPEAKING ON TRAINING SCHOOL.

Strong Argument in its Favor.

It had been previously announced that a speaking on the matter of the Eastern training school would take place in the court house at noon today. Judge Neal not arriving until the noon train there was no court during the morning, and it was decided that it would be better for the speaking to take place before court.

The ringing of the bell a little past 10 o'clock assembled a good sized crowd in the court room which was first addressed by Senator J. L. Fleming. He pointed out how in past years Eastern North Carolina had been practically ignored by the legislature in locating State institutions, while this section was taxed year after year to enrich the Piedmont section. He also told that out of our necessity in the East, and because of our having as much right to help from the State treasury as any other section, had come the movement to establish the Eastern training school. Senator Fleming then went into the discussion of the bond issue to secure the school and plainly showed the duty of the people of the county to vote for it. His speech was strong and forceful.

Ex-Governor Jarvis also made one of his practical speeches on the question showing the great advantage the school will be to Pitt county and how little it will cost the people of the county to get it. His argument was so plain that it looks like every one who heard him could see that it is his duty to vote for the school.

In closing his appeal Gov. Jarvis said it so happened that he was shot down on the battlefield on the 14th day of May. That was the last fight in which he engaged for the Confederacy. He was again looking to the 14th day of May on which the bonds election would be held, and he felt like this would be the last fight of his life in behalf of education for the children of Pitt county and North Carolina, and he did hope that the result would be a great majority in favor of the bonds for the school.

Lady Kills Mad Dog.

Last Tuesday afternoon a mad dog ran amuck on Crowell street, snapping and biting at everything in sight, causing consternation among passersby. Plucky Miss Maud Walston, seeing the danger to all living creatures, procured a pistol and forthwith begun target practice on the rabid canine. She sent five shots after the brute, three of which took effect, and now that little dog is where all good dogs are to be found—dead.—Wilson Messenger.

JEFFERSON DAVIS STATUE.

Bronze for Monument Drawn Through Streets By 3,000 Children.

The bronze statue of Jefferson Davis for the elaborate monument to Mr. Davis to be unveiled in Richmond, June 3rd, was drawn through the streets of the city to the monument site by some 2,500 or 3,000 children, who did the hauling by means of a double rope some two or three squares long. The children were led by Lee and Pickett Camps of Confederate Veterans, and these in turn were headed by a handsomely uniformed boy fife and drum corps. Many of the girls among the children were dressed in white and a large proportion of the youthful enthusiasts in the "Lost Cause" carried small Confederate battle flags, which they waved industriously throughout the march. The scene was a very pretty and inspiring one and was witnessed by thousands of people. The rope used in hauling the statue was after the ceremony cut into many thousands of pieces for souvenirs of the occasion.

A BUSINESS ORGANIZATION.

It has been said so often that farmers will not organize, will not stand together for their common interest, that it has come to be accepted almost as an established fact. Those, however, who think that such is the case, should have witnessed the proceedings of the annual stockholders' meeting of The Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Co. on the 18th inst. The editor of The Reflector was present on this occasion and witnessed the proceedings.

Men who start out to kill themselves politically sometime find the road a short one. That slight earthquake shock in Charleston a few days ago, no doubt took the minds of the people back to 1886.

No, the Reflector is not Greenville crazy, either. But it is Greenville sane, and thinks it can see some of the things this town is going to do. Certainly Greenville will have street cars some of these days. It will be a long step from Southeast Greenville to the park and from Southwest Greenville to the wharf. Just watch us grow.

Ever see a little dog run out and bark at a flying train like he thought it was going to stop just because he barked? That is what some folks remind us of when they try to stop Greenville's progress.

The president of the company stated that he would be glad to answer any inquiry he could about the business and invited all to ask for any information they desired. He stated that the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Co., unlike many corporations which did not invite its stockholders to participate in its proceedings, desired the stockholders to come forward at least once a year and make such inquiries as they wished and any suggestions from them would be appreciated, that in order to succeed well, the company deserved to succeed. It was all important and necessary to have the full and hearty co-operation of all the stockholders, that he wanted a full and free discussion of all matters pertaining to the company; that while it was necessary for the company to be managed by a board of directors yet the directors were selected by the stockholders and unless they took an interest in its affairs they could not act intelligently in the selection of men to be directors.

He showed that this company was managed on the same principle precisely as the government of the State and nation, that the officers were merely the servants of the stockholders and that the directors who managed the affairs of the company and elected its officers were themselves elected and received their power from the stockholders.

The whole proceedings were characterized by a spirit of perfect harmony that is rarely witnessed in so large a number of people. We seriously doubt if any equal number of well drilled and experienced business men would have transacted their business in a more perfect spirit of unity than was shown by these tobacco farmers who own and constitute The Consolidated Tobacco Co.

We rejoice with the tobacco farmers in the success they are making in their efforts at organization. If their present policy is continued and the spirit of co-operation and harmony prevails as we witnessed it at their annual meeting, we make the prediction that before many years, and it will not be many either, the bright tobacco farmers of eastern North Carolina will have built for themselves the most perfect business machine for taking care of their product ever established by any farmers on the globe.

Notice is hereby given to the voters of Pitt county that the board of county commissioners, at their meeting on the first Monday of April, 1907, it being the first day of said month, ordered that an election be held at the various voting places in said county on Tuesday, May 14th, 1907, for the purpose of taking the sense of the qualified voters of said county on the proposition to confer upon the board of county commissioners of said county the authority to issue and sell interest bearing coupon bonds, of said county, not to exceed the sum of fifty thousand dollars to run for thirty years and to bear interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent. The proceeds of the sale of said bonds to be used in aiding in erecting suitable buildings at some point in Pitt county for a training school for white teachers, and the excess, if any, of the fund arising from the sale of said bonds, after securing the location of said school in the county, to be used in the purchase of machinery for the use of the convicts in working the public roads and to aid building and repairing bridges in the county of Pitt.

A new registration of the voters has been ordered for said election, so that it may be definitely and accurately ascertained who are qualified voters at said election. The law authorizing said election requires those favoring the issuing of said bonds to vote a written or printed ballot with the words thereon, "for bonds" and those opposed to vote a written or printed ballot with the words thereon "against bonds." The registration books will open on Thursday, April 11th, 1907, and close at sunset on Saturday, May 4th, 1907. Only those who register can vote.

Two Dyspeptics

If you are too fat it is because your food turns to fat instead of muscle—strength. If you are too lean the fat-producing foods that you eat are not properly digested and assimilated.

Lean, thin, stringy people do not have enough Pepsin in the stomach, while fat people have too much Pepsin and not enough Pancreatine.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

contains all the digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach, and in exactly those proportions necessary to enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all foods that may be eaten. Kodol is not only a perfect digestant, but it is a reconstructive, tissue building tonic as well. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Palpitation of the Heart and Constipation. You will like it.

Digests What You Eat

Rests the stomach, rebuilds the tissues and gives firm flesh.

Dollar bottle holds 2 1/2 times as much as the trial, or 50 cent size.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds, strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen those nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

Dr. Shoop's Restorative

About That Home Do You Contemplate

Owning One?

If so the first thing to consider is a good lot in a desirable location and you cannot be better suited in a lot than the

Sam White Property.

No property surpasses this for a desirable home. Lots can be bought there now at reasonable prices and on easy terms. There is every indication that property around Greenville is going to be higher, and the longer you defer buying the lot the higher it will cost.

This property is located only 5 minutes walk from the business part of the town. See Sam White and let him explain prices and terms.

IN THE TOYSHOP.

A Small Sale With a Large Portion of Human Nature.

'Twas a delightful toyshop, full of all sorts of tricksome things—dolls for the girls, guns for the boys and rattles for the babies—says the Reader Magazine. And everything was a different color from everything else, while some things were in spots a different color from themselves in other spots. Surely the end of the rainbow was in that toyshop, and what one found there was better than a pot of gold.

As the front door opened a bell jangled gayly, quite in an old-fashioned manner. A stooped old crone came out of the room in the rear of the shop. She had iron gray curls and spectacles and wore a little gray cape over her shoulders and walked with a cane, quite like a picture book grandmother.

She stopped short and smiled at sight of her small customer. "How do you do?" she said. "I suppose you have one penny to spend and know exactly what you want for it," for it was a man child.

"Yes; I want a jumping jack," answered the miniature man.

"A jumping jack? What kind of a jumping jack? Would you like a lady jumping jack? It is the very latest thing."

"I should like to see one first," said the small boy cautiously.

"We have two styles of lady jumping jacks. This style, you notice, is very strongly made. It is of very good quality wood and warranted to wear well. The paint will not lick off. This other, you will observe, is a very flimsy affair, a tawdry gew-gaw, not worth considering. Shall I wrap up a style No. 1?"

"No, thank you," said the small boy. "I'd rather have the other kind."

"But, it's not half so much for the money," said the old crone, astonished.

"I know, but it's pretty."

"It won't last half so long."

"I know, but it's pretty."

"Oh, very well. It's your penny," said the old lady in a huff as she wrapped up the parcel with a vicious jerk.

The bell jangled again as the little boy went out, tearing the wrapping from the beautiful lady jumping jack. The old crone took up the despised, strong, reliable, well painted wooden thing and held it close for a moment.

"It's a pity to last too long," she said.

A Philadelphia Dream.

"I nearly had a fit in a street car the other day," said one woman with a basket on her arm to another in a West Philadelphia market recently. "I was on my way home from downtown. As the conductor in his round of fare collecting neared me the car stopped, and when we looked ahead every one saw that there was some sort of a block. Every other time this has happened to me I have had to pay my fare just the same, and I was meditating whether I should get out and walk and save my money or take chances on the car starting up again. Just then the conductor himself seemed to realize there was a block, and he actually stopped collecting. 'This may be a long block,' he said, 'and I'll wait until we start again before I get your fare.' From the way the passengers acted at this you'd have thought the conductor was making each of us a present of a ten dollar bill."—Philadelphia Record.

Panama Canal—Erie Canal.

Machinery is digging the Panama canal a thousand times quicker than the shovel dug the Erie.

Machinery produces the L. & M. paint at 50 times less cost for labor, than if made by hae.

The L. & M. gives the best job in the world, because L. & M. Zinc hardens L. & M. White lead and makes L. & M. paint wear like iron for 10 to 15 years.

It only requires 4 gallons of this celebrated paint and 3 gallons of Linseed Oil at 60 ct per gallon, to paint a moderate sized house.

If any defect exists in L. & M. Paint, will repaint house for nothing.

No Room For Argument. Promotion time in the public schools is invariably a season of undue elation and of heartburnings among the pupils. "Did you get promoted?" asked a small girl in front of a Brooklyn school of a larger companion. "Yes. It was easy for me in that class," was the reply. "Well, they left me back," remarked the small girl, and then, with bitterness, "But you're not so smart anyway." "Oh, I don't know," said the other, with an air of superiority. "There ain't many in this school that has a better education than me. I was promoted, and the teacher was left back."—New York Globe.

Marriage In Italy. Why does the signorina marry? In seeking the answer to this question, says the Italian sociologist, Ferriani, I chose very young women for my experiments, directing my questions to ninety-five between the ages of fifteen and seventeen years, scattered all over Italy, with the following results: Five answered that they married in order to go out walking alone, ten in order to have a good time, in contrast with the austerity of their life up to that time; five in order to travel, seven in order to have homes of their own and sixty-one for no reasons at all in particular. Three really didn't want to marry anyhow, while only four dwelt upon the joys of home and housekeeping. Only four had been educated properly in the school of the household. To the majority marriage seems to mean only freedom from the convent-like seclusion of the young girl, the getting out into the great world and seeing something of life.
