

WHERE YOU LIVE.

And Where You Must Register.

Under an act passed by the last legislature the charter of Greenville was amended, the limits of the town extended and the boundaries of the wards changed.

An election will be held in the town Tuesday, May 7th, on the question of issuing bonds in an amount not exceeding $75,000, and an entire new registration is ordered. Registration books for this election will be open Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, and only on those three days can voters register.

That each voter of the town may know in which ward he lives and where he must go to register, the following facts are here given: The first ward embraces all that part of the town lying between Third street and the river, and the polling place is the grand jury room in the court house. W. E. Goolsby is registrar for this ward.

The second ward embraces all that part of the town lying between Third and Fifth streets and the polling place is Winslow's stables on Fourth street. L. W. Lawrence is registrar of this ward.

The third ward embraces all that part of the town starting at Five Points and lying between Fifth street and Dickinson avenue. The polling place in this ward is the Forbes store on Five Points, and C. D. Rountree is registrar.

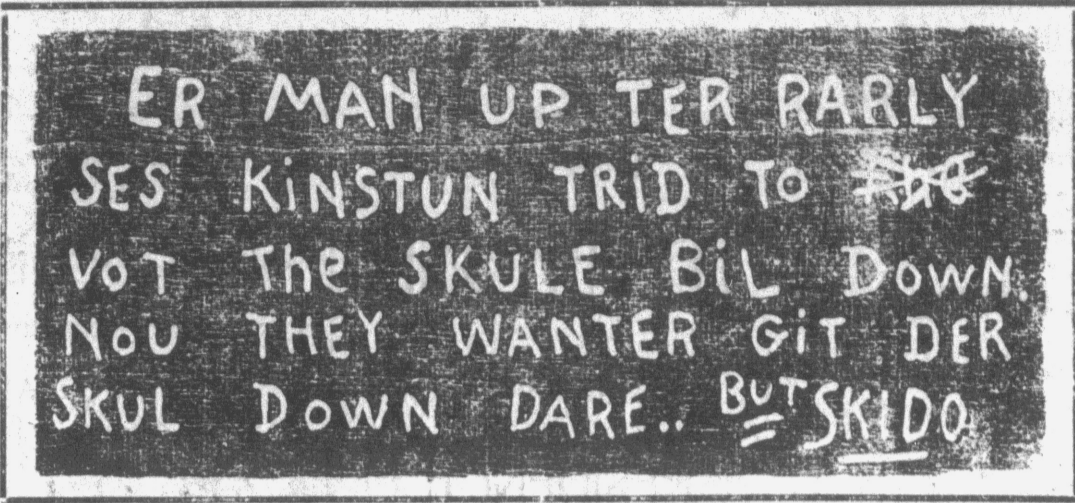

The fourth ward embraces all that part of town beginning at Five Points and lying between Dickinson avenue and Evans street. The polling place is Turnage's store, on Five Points, and H. A. Timberlake is registrar of this ward.

The fifth ward embraces all that part of the town beginning at Five Points and lying south of Fifth street and east of Evans street. The polling place in this ward is King's stables, near Five Points, and D. S. Smith is registrar.

With this information it is easy for every voter to see in which ward he lives and where he must register. If any one fails to get his name on the registration book of his ward it is his own fault. Remember the books will be open only three days from 9 o'clock a. m. to 5 o'clock p. m.

Law About Hauling Logs on Roads

If any person, company or corporation shall damage any public road, bridge or causeway by hauling logs or sawmill timber thereon, and shall not repair the damage done thereto within five days after being notified of said damage by the overseer of said road, or by any member of the board of supervisors of the township in which said damaged road is situated, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars, or be imprisoned not exceeding thirty days: Provided, if any person shall pay the damage as assessed by board of supervisors for injury to such road, the payment of such damages shall be a complete bar to any criminal prosecution under this section and if any criminal prosecution shall have been commenced prior to the payment of said damages, all further proceedings in said criminal prosecution may be ended by the defendant paying the cost necessarily incurred in said criminal prosecution and satisfying the court that said damages and all proper costs have been paid.

LAXITY OF HOME RESTRAINT.

"Oh, where is my wandering boy tonight?" Take a walk down the street about ten or eleven o'clock. Notice the signs being torn down, boxes over-turned, rocks hurled through windows, shutters pried open. Who are these types of unmitigated public nuisance? "What," you exclaim, "my boy there?" We do not say so, but since he is not at home suppose you look and ascertain, and it is possible you may be surprised. Somebody's boys are there and we ask whether is the tendency and ultimate result of night rambling and such doing? A few words will suffice as an answer. They are in the training school of vice from which are graduated hoodlums, loafers, gamblers, sneak thieves, burglars, and in fact all the crimes that curse society, and yet parents and guardians will unthinkingly permit those whose future well being is in their hands, to run night after night in unrestrained and unrestrained companionship with those whose example and influence is continually in the direction of evil. To this laxity of home restraint, more than all other causes is due the appalling increase of crimes throughout the nation. No boy is safe who is allowed access to the streets at night. Parents beware.

New Point on Prohibition Question.

An Indiana judge has just raised a new point on the liquor question. He holds that the licensing of a saloon by a state is an endorsement of such an evil that the license is unconstitutional. He cites cases of the court of last resort of the different states and of the Supreme court of the United States which he claimed upheld his position, especially a decision of the Supreme court of Indiana which declared that a law permitting prize-fighting was unconstitutional because "it was opposed to the spirit of the constitution." By the same reasoning he held that the states had no right to license the evil of conducting saloons. The applicant for license in this case did not appeal, so a direct decision of the court could not be had from the court of last resort; but the friends of prohibition are in hopes of having the same point raised in other cases which will be taken up for final decision.—Wilmington Messenger.

Waterway's Commission Meeting.

Washington, April 29.—The initial meeting of the waterways commission is being held today. Chairman Burton and W. H. McGee of the bureau of ethnology, who is a member of the commission, had a talk with the president about the proposed work of the body. Mr. Burton expects the commission will make at least one trip down from St. Paul along the Mississippi to New Orleans with incidental visits to places along the stream.

Thousand Shares of New Concern Already Subscribed

High Point, N. C., April 27.—The Guilford Building and Loan Association has been organized here by H. A. and J. H. Mills and others and will be formally opened for business on May 15. Over 1,000 shares have already been subscribed for the concern, which will start off with bright prospects. High Point's belief in building and loan associations is said to be one of the secrets of High Point's wonderful success.

Greenville people are also great believers in building and loan and today this town has one of the best associations in the State. It is accomplishing much good in our town. The association here is not quite a year old, but has over 1200 shares in force. The third series will be opened next Saturday, May 4th., and all our citizens who are not already shareholders should buy in this series.

Gamblers Will Avoid Tennessee.

Special to Reflector. Nashville, Tenn April 29.—Professional gamblers must either go to work, leave town, or go to jail. This will be the new order of things within a few weeks, as sheriff Johns, is preparing to rid the town of professional knights of the green cloth. The new vagrancy law, passed by the legislature places a powerful weapon in the hands of the officers of the law, and the sheriff has announced his intention to see that it is enforced in Nashville. The new law, known as the McFarland law, is one of the most radical and far-reaching measure that it was possible to draft. It is modeled after the Mississippi statute on the subject, and is designed to reach every possible description of man or woman who does not earn an honest living. It goes into minute detail in describing the classes of persons declared to be vagrants. There are about twenty-five different descriptions of men set out, and under some one of them it will be possible to convict any man who does not work for and honest living.

Sales for delinquent taxes will take place next Monday.

Part of the Editor's Life.

To many newspaper readers, it is read as a joke, the receipt by the editor of something in the way of the "first fruits" of the season. To the editor, himself, it is the receipt of such friendly tokens, from his good friends on the farm, of the first box of strawberries, the first "mess" of greens, or the first melon, that makes the editor's life seem bigger, broader and more worth the living. It is the friendly token that makes the editor feel more kindly, if that was possible, towards his fellow men. It is sort of a connecting link, some good thing, fresh from the farm that gives the editor the rich feeling the present realization that his palate is being tickled with as "good stuff," as the rich man on the corner, who does not care whether strawberries cost one dollar a piece, or ten cents per quart.—New Bern Journal.

Mrs. Isaac Hardy D'ad.

Mrs. Bettie Hardy, wife of Mr Isaac C. Hardy, died about 9:30 o'clock Saturday night, at her home just west of town. The interment took place at 5 o'clock Sunday evening in the family graveyard, near the home, funeral services being conducted by Rev. M. T. Plyler.

Mrs. Hardy was 55 years old and is survived by her husband and five daughters. Mrs. J. C. Albritton, Mrs. Charles Baker, Mrs. R. T. Evans, Mrs. W. E. Nichols and Miss Emma Hardy. She also leaves one brother, Mr C. L. Patrick, of Ayden and one sister, Mrs. A. J. Outterbridge, of Greenville.

The Bible on Trial.

From Japan comes the story of an exposition of Christianity from a man who obtained a Bible which he read with much interest. When he had finished, he said: "This is a fine thing in theory, but I wonder how it would work in practice?" On the train on which he was traveling, he noticed a lady, who, he was told, was a Christian. He watched her attentively, to see how she would act, and said: "If I can see anything in her conduct like this Book, I will believe it." Before the day was over he had seen so many little acts of unselfishness on her part, and so much thoughtfulness and consideration for the comfort of her fellow passengers, that he was deeply impressed. The result of that railway ride was that he went to his home determined to make the Bible the guide of his whole life. How many of us would have stood the test to which that Christian woman in the train was unconsciously put? The Ram's Horn.

Bold Robbery.

Special to Reflector: New York, April 29.—Mrs. John Frazer, of Bronx, was awakened last night by a cold steel muzzle against her head. The weapon was held by a masked burglar who had entered her sleeping apartment. She was robbed of $1,600 which was hid under her pillow. The burglar made his escape with the money.

Publicity a Great Deterrent.

The "booze artists" are not having an easy time before the new recorder's court at Monroe. To have to "cough up" heavy fines or go to the chain-gang in not very encouraging to the fellow whose tank has been full and who is passing through the reaction and depression that follows. And while we are thinking of this subject we are reminded that a recorder's court could certainly do a thriving business at Wadesboro. The Ansonian of last week refers to some drunks in that town and says if the names of the men who were drunk were published the people of the county would be shocked. It would not shock the people to see those names in print as much as it would shock the individuals who got drunk. If they lived over in Union and should appear before the recorder's court on the charge of drunkenness, or on any other charge their names would adorn the pages of the Monroe papers.—Marshville Home.

Pitt county is going to lead the East. Just watch her.

The season may be backward otherwise, but the big hail stones are getting in the papers about as early as usual.

Queer world this. In one part of it store houses and barns are filled with plenty, while in another part people are starving to death for want of bread.

In the midst of other important things that engross attention just now, do not overlook the reunion of the Confederate veterans of the county on May 10th. Let every preparation be made to give the old heroes a good time.

In area Pitt county is among the largest in the State, and when it comes to people she has the best in the world. While these people have in the past moved slowly in the way of enterprises, the last few years have brought about remarkable changes. The prime cause of this change is education, for along with education comes everything else, and without education there is little progress. Pitt county has led the State in public school improvement in the last five years, and out of this advancement has arisen the desire for more progress. The people are opening their eyes to the possibilities of the future, and they realize that Pitt can be made the greatest county in the State. This creates in them the desire to secure the Eastern training school for teachers, and they will leave nothing undone to locate that school in Pitt county. They are going to vote for bonds by a large majority, and when the school gets in operation you will see old Pitt go forward and flourish as never before.

RANDOM REFLECTIONS.

By a Contributor.

Jacob Riis says he has never known the president to be wrong. The Anamas club, however, may offer a few objections.

With the coming of Admiral Evans into Hampton Roads, it is reported that the air became as blue as the ocean.

A public square in Tokio has been named after President Roosevelt. That is the reward for the timely interference in the San Francisco school matter.

A Texas woman's magazine thinks that bridge has reached the proportions of a national evil. But the rest of the country will not take the same view of the matter so long as the police do not interfere.

The Thaw jury disagreed, the lawyers disagreed, the family disagreed, and the alienists disagreed. But as the people seem to be in the same fix, the disagreement bug at least made a good job of it.

That New York man who lost his last hundred dollars, and then committed suicide, leaving word that he was going to heaven, may find that he played on another bad tip.

Some one has discovered that three of the five jurors who voted to acquit Thaw, are bald-headed. From which, it appears that Evelyn still makes a hit with the bald-head row.

It is asserted that in Milwaukee, beer is bottled at the rate of a million a minute; but it is really the rate at which the bottles are emptied that made Milwaukee famous.

All that Andrew Carnegie needs to fill up his cup of happiness to the brim, is the assurance that some day his features will adorn a postage stamp of some large denomination.

Harriman Defines Function.

Recently on a western trip Mr. Harriman made in effect this statement concerning his functions:

"My work has been to harmonize different opinions held by the members of the board of directors."

That statement went the rounds of the press and the people. As it ran on the tickers of Wall street, it raised quite a lot of comment. The writer brought it to the attention of a man who once was a director of the Union Pacific, but is not now. He laughed.

"I guess the reporter got him wrong," he said. "I guess he really said 'Harrimanize!'"—Wall Street Journal.

Has No Leaning That Way.

The Duke of Northumberland, replying to the remarks of a lord whose bill he supported for politeness' sake, told of a Scotch preacher who asked all his hearers who wished to go to heaven to stand up.

When the majority had arisen and again seated themselves the alternative choice was offered for all who were bent upon going to the other place. After an awkward pause one man got up and said to the revivalist:

"I have no particular leaning that way, but I really do not like to see you standing alone."—Rochester Herald.

A FAMILY AFFAIR.

It Was Nice to Have the Children of the House Help Out

The Friday Afternoon Whist club had assembled at the home of one of its leading spirits on the upper west side when it was discovered that two members were absent, and therefore there were two hands short. The ladies were in a quandary till the hostess announced that her two children, Clarence, aged eleven, and Gwendoline, aged thirteen, had picked up a little knowledge of the game from watching their elders. She suggested that as it wouldn't do to call the game off after so many had taken the trouble to come, and as she could think of no other way to get two substitute hands, the two children would at least help to fill out the tables—that is, if every one was perfectly agreeable.

"Just the thing!" declared all the ladies in chorus. The hostess was urged to bring them in at once. Every one would be just delighted.

Clarence and Gwendoline were duly summoned and introduced. They took their seats modestly, the ladies promised to assist them on knotty points, and the game commenced.

There were two prizes offered, and both were of considerable value. Every woman present made up her mind to have one of those prizes at any cost. The game was entered into with abandon, and no quarter was shown to any one. So far from needing any assistance Clarence and Gwendoline seemed to hold their own pretty well. In fact, they seemed so perfectly at home that when in the stress of excitement a member failed to adhere strictly to the rules Clarence would call attention to the error gravely and Gwendoline with ladylike dignity. The upshot of the game was that when the afternoon was over and the final count was made Gwendoline and Clarence were in possession of both prizes.

The ladies took leave of their hostess in a body with profuse thanks for the pleasant afternoon, all declaring they had had just the loveliest time, and she had been so sweet to them all they really must thank her again.

But as the door closed after the last smile and goodbye there was an ominous silence in the ranks of the Friday Afternoon Whist club.

"How nice to have children who can play whist so well," said one lady sweetly, with a small gleam in her eye.

"Isn't it?" agreed another. "It must be so nice to be able to buy lovely prizes and then keep them in the family!" And there was scarcely any sarcasm in her voice at all.—New York Press

Calendar Curiosities.

There are some curious facts about our calendar. No century can begin on Wednesday, Friday or Sunday. The same calendars can be used every twenty years. October always begins on the same day of the week as January, April as July, September as December. February, March and November also begin on the same days. May, June and August always begin on different days from each other and from every other month in the year. The first and last days of the year are always the same. These rules do not apply to leap year, when comparison is made between days before and after Feb. 29.

Paid in Shingles.

The records of the squire's court at Blaine, Whatcom county, Wash., a little town near the British Columbia line, bear testimony to the financial stringency of the early nineties. Whatcom county is in the heart of the lumber-country, and as there was no money to be had, "shingle scrip" became the currency of the land. The court records show that John Smith was "fined 10,000 shingles for drunkenness." The books show further that the fine was paid. It was an able judge who could so accommodate the law to prevailing conditions.—New York Sun.

Glove Money.

In the early days of English law it was a custom for the clients to send a pair of gloves to the counsel who undertook their causes and even to the judges who were to try them. These gloves were usually the cloak for a bribe, Mrs. Croaker, for example, presenting Sir Thomas More with a pair lined with £10, which he returned. A bribe given in such circumstances continued to be called "glove money" long after gloves had ceased to hold a place in the transactions.—Glasgow Herald.

Two Dyspeptics
If you are too fat it is because your food turns to fat instead of muscle—strength. If you are too lean the fat producing foods that you eat are not properly digested and assimilated.
Lean, thin, stringy people do not have enough Pepsin in the stomach, while fat people have too much Pepsin and not enough Pancreatic.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

contains all the digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach, and in exactly those proportions necessary to enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all foods that may be eaten. Kodol is not only a perfect digestant, but it is a reconstructive, tissue building tonic as well. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Palpitation of the Heart and Constipation. You will like it.

Digests What You Eat

Rests the stomach, rebuilds the tissues and gives firm flesh.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.
This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.
If you would have strong hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

Dr. Shoop's Restorative
