

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO VOTERS.

Mayor's Office.
Greenville, N. C., May 1st, 1907.

This is to give notice to all concerned that the corporate limits of the town of Greenville were extended by the last legislature and that they now embrace the following territory, to-wit:

Beginning on the southern bank of Tar river at line between C. T. Munford and Frank Johnston, thence a southerly course with western boundary of Frank Johnston land to the southern side of the Greenville and Washington road, thence an easterly direction with the southern side of said road to the western side of the public road just east of W. H. Harrington's house, thence a southerly course with the western side of said road and continuing in same direction to the northern line of S. T. White's property, thence a southerly course in a direct line crossing the Raleigh and Pamlico sound division of the Norfolk and southern railway, at the point where railway crosses the county road near Greens mill run, to the southern boundary of the right of way of said railway, thence a westerly course with the southern boundary of said railway to the iron culvert across said railway at the line between the House and Atkins' property and T. R. Moore's land, thence a northerly course with a ditch to the old plank road, thence a northerly course in a direct line to the eastern side of roadway between the James L. Moore and the Perkins property at the southwest corner of the said Perkins' property, thence with the eastern side of said roadway or lane to the southern side of the Greenville and Falkland road, thence with the southern side of said road to a point opposite R. A. Tyson's southeast corner, thence across the road to said Tyson's corner, thence a northerly course with said Tyson's eastern line or a line continuing in same direction to Tar river, thence an easterly course with the southern bank of Tar river to the beginning.

That in all elections hereafter to take place in the said town, those recently annexed to the town by said extended limits are entitled to participate as fully as any other citizens and to this end I hereby notify them that in order to do so they must see that their names are entered upon the registration books of said town.

An election will be held on the 7th day of May, next, to vote on a proposition to authorize the Board of Aldermen to issue bonds. A new registration of all the voters has been ordered and the books of registration will be open on the first, second and third of May.

The voters of the first ward will register in the grand jury room in the court house, Mr. W. E. Goolsby is registrar.

The voters of the second ward will register at Winslow's stables, on Fourth street, Mr. L. W. Lawrence is registrar.

The voters of the third ward will register at Forbes store at Five Points, Mr. C. D. Rountree is registrar.

The voters of the fourth ward will register at Furnage store at Five Points, Mr. H. A. Timberlake is registrar.

The voters of the fifth ward will register at King's stables at Five Points, Mr. D. S. Smith is registrar.

It is hoped that every voter in the town, as extended, will register because if he does not he will be unable to vote on this important question.

Any voter can easily ascertain the place where he must register by inquiry, if he should be uncertain himself as to the place.

Very Respectfully,
F. M. Wooten, Mayor.

WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

Notes From our Hustling Neighbor.

Winterville, N. C., May 1st.
Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Daughety have our deepest sympathy in the loss of their baby which died Saturday evening. It lived to be about three days old. The funeral exercises were conducted Sunday afternoon by Rev. T. H. King, after which its remains were laid to rest in the new cemetery.

Rev. W. E. Cox and Hon. J. L. Fleming, of Greenville, delivered two most excellent speeches to a good sized crowd here Saturday night, in behalf of the Eastern training school. These gentlemen took up every argument against the issuing of bonds and answered it with argument that cannot be set aside.

Heber Mumford, of Ayden and Miss Hattie Kittrel spent Sunday with Miss Nannie House.

Rev. T. H. King filled his regular appointment here Sunday morning and night, having large congregations at each service. He gave us excellent sermons. Monday afternoon there was a baptismal service, at which the ordinance was administered to three.

Misses Annie and Daisy Mumford returned to their home at Ayden Monday after spending several days here with relatives and friends.

C. J. Jackson an old W. H. student, who is now at Wake Forest college, won a beautiful gold medal there Saturday night for the best speech in the sophomore contest in the Phetomathesian Society.

Miss Bessie Sams gave her class in music a most delightful outing trip to the ball game Saturday afternoon at Ayden. On their way back home they served lunch at the old Antioch school house, having invited the ball team. They all report a most excellent trip.

The city fathers held their regular convention Monday night for the purpose of nominating candidates for the different offices for the coming year, which resulted as follows: Mayor, J. S. Ross; aldermen, J. A. Manning, B. G. Taylor and E. T. Tucker; constable, L. F. Elliott.

Several of our young people attended the revival at Ayden Monday night.

Miss Maud Mooring, of Stokes, and old pupil of W. H. S. spent Sunday at the girls' dormitory visiting her school mates.

Miss Jennie Bennett, of Oak City, spent Saturday and Sunday here with her brother Julius a pupil of W. H. S.

LOOKING BACKWARD.

Greenville, N. C., April 29, 1922.

Dear Gar: rude:

You know that my greatest hope was to be a teacher. After learning at the Greenville graded school I entered the Eastern training school at Greenville. The school is situated in the suburbs of the town. It is a large, three story, brick building. It is on a high hill called Harrington's hill. The grounds are large, with beautiful trees upon them. After spending three years at this thorough school I was well prepared for teaching. Professor H. B. Smith, who has been in the Greenville graded school seventeen years, offered me a position. I accepted it, and am now teaching the third grade. My children are very bad. I have to keep them in the corner almost all the time. They sometimes have to go to Mr. Smith. I enjoy teaching very much. I wonder if I will always be a teacher?

Your true friend,
Pattie B. Wooten.

ODD FELLOWS CELEBRATE.

Eighty Eighth Anniversary of Order.

A large number of Odd Fellows, many from neighboring lodges, with members of their families and invited guests, assembled in Masonic Temple Tuesday evening to attend the celebration by Covenant Lodge No. 17, of the 88th anniversary of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

After going through the anniversary exercises by officers of lodge, Dr. D. L. James was introduced and delivered an interesting address on the "Foundation of Odd Fellowship." He spoke of the history of the order and the record it had made, and said that while the order cannot boast of the antiquity of its origin, it can point with pride to the record of its deeds of charity and the noble work it has done for mankind. The order was born to minister to human necessity regardless of rank or station. He paid an eloquent tribute to Thomas Wiley, the founder of the order in America in Baltimore on April 26th, 1819.

Ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis was then introduced and spoke on the "Objects of Odd Fellowship." Like all utterances of this greatest living statesman in North Carolina, his address abounded in earnest admonition, especially to the young. He said all through the ages there had waged a conflict between evil and good. Behind the good is God from whom springs every attribute of righteousness and goodness. Back of evil is the Prince of Darkness from whom springs everything base, vile and degrading. There is no mutual ground in this conflict—we are on the side of God working in partnership with Him in uplifting humanity or we on the side of evil helping to drag men down and strewing their pathway with wretchedness. No man can be a true Odd Fellow who is not on God's side in this conflict. The first great teaching of the order is service, and no man who is unwilling to serve his fellowman is worthy to be received in its portals.

After the exercises a banquet of cream and cake was served under the direction of the ladies of the Christian church. The tables were appropriately decorated in the colors of the order and the souvenirs were paper discs on which were painted tripple links and looped with tiny red, white and blue ribbons.

At the conclusion of the banquet Mrs. T. E. Hooker favored the assembly with a beautiful vocal solo. Crocchia's Italian band was present and rendered delightful music during the exercises.

Covenant Lodge is one of the strongest benevolent orders in our midst, and its work for good has been great.

The Home B & L Association Annual Meeting.

Former Greenville Lady Marries.

Mrs. Julia Nelson, who was formerly Miss Julia Humber, of Greenville, was married at her home in Baltimore, Monday morning, to Dr. Mann, of Fairfield Hyde county. She is a sister of Mr. R. L. Humber, of this town.

Must Submit to Velvia Today.

Special to Reflector:

Chicago, May 1.—This is the last day on which Zion City people must tender their submission to Velvia. If they do not by today, he will take radical action himself. Velvia denounced everybody who has opposed him, taking the occasion for his ultimatum an anniversary of his ejection of the late John Alexander Dowie from the church. The overseer declared he had made Zion City what it was, and predicted that he would make the community the wonder of the age, and get it on its feet financially. Or the fifteen hundred persons present when he made his declaration, twelve hundred said they would follow Velvia, who then launched into a denunciation of those who would not submit.

Rents Go Up in Houses and Stores.

Special to Reflector.

New York, May 1.—This is the great moving day of New York, as it is in most cities of the State. All leases are made to begin and expire on the first day of May, so terms of renting begin and end with this day. In consequence the streets are full of people who are moving their effects from one residence or store to another. Rents generally have gone up, and there is much groaning on the part of flat tenants, who find it very difficult to find quarters to suit both their wants and their pocket.

WEDNESDAY MAY 1st 1907.

Butler must be looking for the the president to pass something up to him.

To use an old saying, before a man makes up his mind to vote against the bonds to secure the Eastern training school he should "think twice."

Reports from the speakings throughout the county on the question of bonds to secure the Eastern training school, are that large numbers of people attend and when they hear the matter explained they favor the bonds.

Guatemala must be fishing for a slap from Uncle Sam and Mexico both. The United States and Mexican consulates in Guatemala City were stoned with mud and rocks a few days ago, hundreds of natives participating in the insult of the two governments.

The Supreme court of the United States has rendered a decision upholding the corporation commission of North Carolina in the matter of compelling the railroads to maintain connection at Selma. This settles the question of the corporation commission having authority to regulate such matters.

The Cultivation of a Cordial Nature.

The cultivation of cordiality and popularity early in life will have a great deal to do with one's advancement, comfort and happiness.

It is a mortifying thing to have a kindly feeling in the depths of one's heart, and yet not be able to express it, to repel people when once has just the opposite feeling toward them. To be incased in an icy exterior with a really warm heart is a most unfortunate thing.

Some people have a repelling expression in their faces and manner which is a constant embarrassment to them; but they do not seem able to overcome it. This is largely due to a lack of early training, or to the fact that sometimes these people have been reared in the country, away from the great centers of civilization, where they do not have the advantages of social intercourse and in consequence become cold and appear unsympathetic when they are really the opposite.

It is a very difficult thing to overcome these handicaps; but the cultivation of good will, of a helpful spirit and kindly feeling toward everybody, will go far to open up the hard exterior so that the soul can express itself.—Success Magazine.

Things He Didn't Understand.

A shrewd, worldly agnostic and a Christian clergyman dressed in a modern clerical suit sat at the same table in the Pullman dinner car. They were waiting a delicious first course at the dinner, a delicious Hudson river shad. Eyeing his companion coldly for a moment, the agnostic remarked: "I judge you are a clergyman."

"Yes, sir; I am in my Minister's service."
"Yes you look it. Preach out of the Bible don't you?"
"Oh, yes; of course."
"Find a good many things in that old book that you don't understand—don't you?"
"Oh, yes; some things."
"Well, what do you do then?"
"Why, my dear friend, I simply do just as I do while eating this delicious shad. If I come to a bone I quickly lay it out one side, and go on enjoying the shad and let some fool insist on choking himself with the bones."
Then the agnostic wound up his Waterbury watch and went into the smoker.

The Chronic Kicker.

The chronic kicker is about the most obnoxious specimen of mankind to be found in a day's journey. He growls about the thorns among the roses, but he would still complain if the thorns were removed. If he sees good in anything, he is usually so busy finding fault with something else that he forgets to mention it. In his eyes his home town is a poor sort of place to live in, but you couldn't run him away; with a gun. He grumbles about his neighbors, but asks favors of them when he wants anything. Complaining, if persisted in, becomes a disease beyond hope of remedy. Its victim suffers more, and his complaint more, and his complaints increase in proportion with his sufferings. The consumptive has at least the sympathy of his fellowmen the kicker alienates it. Whooping cough wears out after a while; fault-finding continues forever. The leper finds relief in death; the kicker never dies. You may shame a gambler, reform a drunkard, or cure a dope-fiend, but the case of the kicker remains always without the hope of improvement.—Enfield Progress.

HIS "DEAREST."

It Took More Than Coaxing to Make Johnny Use the Term.

Shortly after Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett's book, "Little Lord Fauntleroy," appeared she went with her two little boys to a seaside hotel. The story had made a great sensation, and there had ensued a regular epidemic of Fauntleroy curls, Fauntleroy suits and Fauntleroy youngsters. In the room next to that occupied by Mrs. Burnett was a dashing, rather overdressed widow, with a red haired, bullet-headed son of about seven, who was the terror of the hotel. Anticipating the arrival of the famous author, the mother had purchased a complete and elaborate Fauntleroy outfit, with which she proceeded to deck out her unappreciative and rebellious offspring.

Not content with this outward seeming, the woman desired to complete the caricature by compelling her precious child to address her as "dearest," after the manner of the hero of the book, instead of "mommy" or, more frequently, merely "say," as had been his previous custom.

Mrs. Burnett arrived no sooner than she had been expected, but apparently before little Johnny had entirely completed his course of instruction in filial courtesy, as was evident by the sounds which penetrated the thin lath and plaster partition between the rooms. This is what Mrs. Burnett heard:

"Johnny!"
Silence.
"Johnny, do you hear me?"
Silence.
"Call me 'Dearest!'"
Silence.
"Will you call me 'Dearest,' or shall I make you?"
"Yer can't make me."
"Yes, I can. Call me 'Dearest!'"
"Go ter blazes!"
"That's no way to speak to me."
"It's a good sight better'n you want me to say."
"It isn't. Call me 'Dearest!'"
Silence.
"Do you want me to use the trunk strap? Call me 'Dearest!'"
Silence.
"Call me 'Dearest!'"
Silence.
"Biff! Biff! Biff! Biff! 'Call me 'Dearest!'"
"I won't!" Biff! "I won't!" Biff!
Biff! "Ouch! You hurt!"
"Then call me 'Dearest!'"
"Oh, all right, then, dearest."
"Now, see here. If you don't remember to call me 'dearest' at dinner tonight I'll wallop you within an inch of your life, you ungrateful thing!"—Success.

Becomes a Little Rebel.

That there is a startling difference between the temper of the rising generation and that of the youth whose young ideas shot up according to the teachings of Mrs. Hannah More and Sanford and Merton has recently been proved by a little seven-year-old girl, who was laboriously spelling her way through a reading lesson.

"Always speak the truth," she said, "and obey your parents."
"Be gentle and quiet. Never slam the door and shout and scream about the house."

"At the table eat slowly, not in a greedy man-ner, like a pig."
Suddenly the little girl shut the book with a portentous bang and announced with firmness and decision:

"I'm not going to let any old Third Reader boss me like that!"—Rochester Herald.

Dodging the Question.

It is dangerous to possess a reputation for superior knowledge or wisdom. It is hard to live up to it. Next in importance to knowing everything perhaps is to be ranked the ability to conceal one's ignorance.

"Brown," said Jones, "Smith and I here have had a dispute and have agreed to leave the decision to you. Which is right, 'Tomorrow is Friday' or 'Tomorrow will be Friday?'"

"Today is Saturday, isn't it?" said Brown after some reflection.

"Yes."
"Then neither one of you is right."
And he waved them aside.

A Swindle.

Old Farmer—No, I don't want any more of your labor saving machines. I've tried enough on 'em. Look in there. There's a typewriting machine the missus spent all her egg and butter money on to buy for me 'cause I ain't so over handy with the pen. Just look at the swindle.

Friend—What's the matter with it?

Old Farmer—Matter! Why, you can't even write yer name with the bloomin' thing unless ye know how to play the pianner.—London Telegraph.

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart.

Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the stomach and digestive tract, nervous dyspepsia and catarrh of the stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and shallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

The Letter I.

The name of "I" is in Hebrew jod or jot, a hand, and the earliest characters representative of the sound closely resemble a hand with but three fingers. Little by little one finger after another dropped off until only the little finger was left, and the letter became the smallest in the alphabet, a jot or tittle—that is, the "I" and its dot being synonymous of the most insignificant things that could be described.
