AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town.
Ayden, N. C. May 3rd 1907.

There were people here last Sunday almost from everywhere. Grifton and Winterville both had large delegations and from every point of the compass they seemed to come.

The protracted meeting in the Disciple church will close Wednesday night with a magic lantern entertainment by Evangelist Hamlin and Mr. Doherty. There has been continuous preaching every night for the past two weeks and while only six have united themselves with the church we feel assured very much good has been accomplished and the visit of these two gentlemen and their earnest efforts in behalf of the Christian religion will yet manifest itself among our people.

Prof. T. A. Carlyle, of Wake Forest, delivers the address at the closing exercises of the graded school here next Friday, May 10th. There is a great feast in store for our people and all are cordially invited to attend.

That Evangelist Hamlin did his subject justice last Sunday afternoon admits of no question. It was just grand. Naturally a forcible and powerful speaker, his eloquence at times was simply superb. That he is a Master Mason his enunciation of the beautiful truths of Masonry and its beneficial influences would have convinced the most skeptic mind. That he has made it a careful study the logical and convincing manner of its secret as well as open conduct showed too plainly even to those not versed in Masonic love, that he was walking and talking along paths that were not strange to him. The effect upon the brotherhood who were present was beneficial and we feel sure will tend toward making them better and more earnest in their emulation of Masonic virtues and the practice of its precepts. There were about 50 Masons present as well as a very large audience. After the sermon Brother Hamlin fell in line and marched with us to our hall where again he made some timely remarks that were highly appreciated. We feel his coming has been of great benefit to Masonry, in and around Ayden and the influence of his words and advice will long live among us after he has gone.

J. Benjamin Higgs, of Greenville, was here Monday.

Miss Earl Tucker, of Grifton, was a visitor in our town Sunday.

Miss Annabel Kittrell spent from Saturday until Sunday afternoon with friends in Winterville.

Mrs. W. C. Buhmann and little son, Mack, have returned from a visit to Dundee, Va.

Miss Clarence Buhmann, who has been teaching school in Goldsboro, is here visiting relatives.

The Knights of Pythias anticipate having an ice cream supper Thursday night in honor of their wives and sweethearts.

Mrs. B. S. Sumrell, of Wharton, is here on a visit to relatives.

Local Option Election at Maysville, Ky.

Special to Reflector.
Maysville, Ky., May 7.—A special election for determining whether this city and county shall have liquor selling or temperance, is under way today with both side fighting vigorously. All the ministers and church members of churches are warmly urging citizens to give them relief from the presence of saloons and liquor selling.

High Praise for a North Carolinian.

The following with reference to a former resident of Forsyth county is from the Louisville Herald of April 21:

R. Gratz Cox, to whom much of the great success of the Louisville May music festival is due, was unknown to Louisville two years ago, and until four months ago when elected conductor of the Musical Club, was known to only a few, who knew him as choir-director of the First Christian church, but his almost miraculous work in so short a time in building up and perfecting so large a chorus as was heard at the festival has given him a prominence and distinction that comes to few men of his profession. Nothing but the best of training could have brought the chorus up to such a degree of perfection as was evidenced by the work done in the festival.

When Mr. Damrosch came to Louisville last month to conduct a rehearsal of the chorus, he was so satisfied with Mr. Cox's methods and interpretations that he would not change a single thing. He congratulated Mr. Cox for his good work and urged him to conduct some of the numbers in the festival, but the young conductor declined as Mr. Damrosch had been engaged to do some of this work, and he preferred to remain with the chorus.

Mr. Cox is a North Carolinian, and from his boyhood has been devoting his entire time to music. He is a valuable acquisition to the music contingent in Louisville.—Winston Sentinel.

Mr. Cox is a cousin of Mrs. S. Meredith who now lives at Hotel Macon in Greenville.

Look Out For The East.

The Salisbury Post in an editorial thus speaks of the gubernatorial outlook for next year:

"The news that the Hon. Locke Craig may be counted upon as a gubernatorial candidate means that some spice is to be thrown into the campaign next year. It seems to be certain that Hon. R. A. Doughton, of Alleghany, will be in the race, and his following is not to be underestimated if one wishes to make an accurate forecast. It may as well be admitted, for it is a fact, that Representative W. W. Kitchin has now the strongest hand. Whether the entrance of Mr. Craig will detract most from the fifth district statesman or the Alleghany county representative is a question. Whatever happens to these three and the other gentlemen from the east who are grooming for the job there will be something doing, politically speaking, in North Carolina next year."

The aspirants in the West are going ahead just as if the East doesn't know that it is its time to have the Governor. The "unwritten law" and precedent of the Democratic party in North Carolina is for the East and the West to take turn about in furnishing the candidate for governor. Both sections of the State have scores of men qualified by character and ability to be Governor, but those good men of the West ought to lie low till the East trots out the man for Governor. Men good and true and strong will be out in time, and we are thinking that when the next Governor settles down at Raleigh he will look like a man from the East.

Keep your eye on the East.—Wilmington Star.

The rains give the streets an occasional gully washing.

The Negro in the North.

In one little New Jersey town, the mayor has ordered all children to keep off the streets after 8 o'clock at night, unless accompanied by some older person. This order was issued in consequence of the attacks made on children by negroes. In another small town in the same State, a few days ago, the populace was much excited over an attack on a young woman by a negro. When the negro was taken before the mayor of the town for trial, and the testimony was being given, the mayor became so greatly infuriated that he smashed the negro in the face and then hustled him off to jail without bond. The South has been accused of all sorts of mean treatment of the negro, but we do not recall an instance of this kind of a prisoner being assaulted by the court—ever having occurred in the South. The court is one place where the negro is sure of being protected in his person and in his rights as a citizen. But we started out to say that scarcely a day passes that does not give some evidence of the Northern man's savage hatred of the negro—in the North. He loves the negro—in the South—but he does not love him so well close at home.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Scheme Didn't Suit Josh.

Sometime ago a barn belonging to a farmer over in Jersey was burned to the ground and as the building was fully insured Josh lost no time in notifying the agent of the company of his loss. Instead of him paying him the claim in cash, however, the agent built a new barn, all of which made him exceedingly thoughtful. Finally he again called on the agent.

"I've got some insurance on my wife's life in one of your companies," said he, "and I think we had better discontinue it."

"Surely you don't mean it, man?" exclaimed the surprised agent. "What do you want to discontinue it for?"

"Instead of giving me the money when my barn burned down," explained the farmer, "you went ter work an' put me up a new one, an' I kalkerlate that if my old woman should happen to die ye would be wantin' to give me a new wife."

New Postal Rates to Canada.

Special to Reflector.
Washington, D. C. May 7.—Today there goes into effect the new arrangements to postage on second-class matter, negotiated by Postmaster General Meyer and Postmaster General Lemieux, of Canada. The agreement as reached, amends the postal convention between the two countries in so far as it effects the transmission of newspapers and periodicals known as second-class matter, between the two countries.

Confederate Veterans Congregate at Columbia.

Special to Reflector.
Columbia, S. C., May 7.—The Confederate reunion gathered in this city today for a three day's stay. Gen. Carwile, commanding the South Carolina Division of the U. C. V. is in command. There is a general turnout of the veterans and their families, and they are receiving the most generous hospitality at the hands of the Columbia citizens.

COTTON SEED MEAL.

For Mules and Horses.

At a meeting of the South Carolina Live Stock Association held at Columbia, S. C., on Feb. 8th and 9th an address full of practical advice, backed by scientific knowledge, was delivered by the eminent Dr. Tait Butler, of Raleigh, N. C., on "Practical Stock Feeding in the South." Dr. Butler is a recognized authority on feeds and feeding and what he says should have a special weight and influence throughout the entire South and that part of his discussion touching the feeding of horses, mules and colts is of special importance to the Southern breeder.

In the official report of the general discussion which followed Dr. Butler's address, this occurs: Dr. Butler was asked: "You speak of feeding horses on cotton seed meal. What about the muscular forming properties of cotton seed meal, on the animal, compared to corn and oats?"

Dr. Butler: "There is enough known about feeding horses cotton seed meal for me to state that if you had a horse that you were feeding, 14 pounds of corn daily, that you could take out four pounds of that corn and put in two pounds of cotton seed meal and get better results. Not because corn is not the best feed we have for supplying heart and energy, but there is another thing needed. When that horse supplies you muscular energy he is burning up his muscles just as you burn coal in a furnace to supply energy to run the machinery in your factories, and he has got to have something to build up those wasted muscles, and corn does not contain it in sufficient quantity. A little cotton seed meal is better than an additional amount of corn. When you are already feeding your horse stover and ten pounds of corn, I would rather have two pounds of cotton seed meal added than four pounds of corn. I would rather have two pounds of cotton seed meal added than four pounds of oats. Corn is a splendid horse feed, but we are wasting two million dollars a year in South Carolina in a feeding an all-corn ration."

"In what proportion would you feed corn and cotton seed meal?"

Dr. Butler: "That will depend upon your hay."

"Plenty of hay?"

Dr. Butler: "An average ration for a thousand-pound horse doing real hard work is about 15 pounds of grain and 12 to 15 pounds of fodder and 15 pounds of corn, I would take 5 pounds of peavine hay and 7 to 8 pounds of stover, and then add 10 pounds of corn and 2 pounds of cotton seed meal, and get better results. If I had oats to feed and had some peavine hay or clover hay, I do not think I would feed any cotton seed meal at all, because it is bad to feed unless you can mix it with something else. If I did not have any peavine or clover hay, I would certainly put some cotton seed meal in the ration of a hard working horse, unless I had plenty of oats, and they were cheap."

This is important testimony from the highest authority, and should interest every farmer and horse owner in the South. We send thousands of dollars into the Northwest every year for corn. We send into the Northeast every year thousands of dollars worth of our Cotton Seed

TIS TIME FOR HOLIDAY.

By Edward Hearne.

'Tis just the time for freedom,
'Tis just the time for fun,
And we can make it honestly,
For all our work tis done.

We've learned and said our lessons,
We've put our books away.
Hurrah! boys, school's out of session.
'Tis our holiday.

'Tis just the time to ride in.
Just the time to row,
'Tis just the time for anything
That's fair and right to do.

So bring the bat and ball, boys,
'Tis the very kind of play,
And lets be off together,
For it is our holiday.

AT REST IN CHERRY HILL.

In the first hour, of the first day of the week, when a beautiful Sunday had just closed forever its claims on earth, the spirit of Miss Martha Ida Teel took its flight, and went to live in the paradise of God.

Her death occurred at the home of her brother, Mr. Joseph Rawls, on Pitt street, after a period of long suffering which she bore with Christian fortitude and without murmuring or complaint. She leaves a mother, brother and nephew. Her little nephew, Louie, to whom she had been so devoted and motherly, all his life; feels his great loss with a sensitive keenness inexpressible.

She was a devout Christian and member of the Methodist church of Greenville. The interment took place at 3 o'clock p. m. today, in Cherry Hill cemetery, the Rev. M. T. Plyer, pastor of the Jarvis Memorial church, conducting the services.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the sorrowing members of her home and family.

"Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep,
"From which none ever wakes to weep."

The pall bearers were: D. C. Moore, H. A. White, J. D. Garden, J. N. Hart, J. R. Moye, R. Williams, J. L. Fleming, Frank Wilson, Dr. D. L. James, Julius Brown, C. W. Harvey and R. C. Flanagan.

Atlanta Has Plenty of Conventions This Month.

Special to Reflector.

Atlanta, Ga. May 7.—Two important conventions assembled in this city this month, the Georgia State Dental Society and the Southern Bill Posters' Association. The first assembled here today for a convention lasting until May 10, the other will come on May 22, 23 and 24. The attendance on the Dental Society's convention is about 500, delegates coming from the entire state.

Accidental Shooting at Farmville.

On Monday two young men, one named Riggan and the other Stallings, were in a store at Farmville examining some pistols. No one had an idea that either of the weapons was loaded, but suddenly there was a report and a ball from the pistol Mr. Stallings was looking at struck Mr. Riggan on the nose and lodged in his cheek, giving him a severe wound.

Speaking at Winterville.

There will be speaking on the training school and bond issue at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Winterville. Names of speakers will be announced later.

Meal. Nobody is benefited by this but the railroads. If we keep our cotton seed meal at home to feed it will help us, and Dr. Butler says it will help our horses—and Dr. Butler knows.

TUESDAY MAY 7th 1907.

Do not block the progress of your county. Vote for bonds next Tuesday.

Give the boys and girls a chance to get an education. Vote for bonds next Tuesday.

Push Pitt county ahead as the foremost county in North Carolina. The way to do this is to vote for bonds next Tuesday.

Wilmington cut out a moving picture show of the Thaw trial. Not a bad idea, as that is one of the things that should be soon forgotten.

Greenville is doing her part in the election for bonds to secure the Eastern training school. Let the county do as well as the town does and Pitt will get the school.

It would be hard to get a man to admit that he is opposed to schools, yet there are some who say they will not vote for bonds and pay a little interest in order to locate in Pitt county the best school in the State.

The changing is all one way. Not a man who started out in favor of bonds to secure the Eastern training school has been reported as changing to oppose them, but many who were at first opposed to bonds have changed to favoring them.

It was not expected that every person in the county would favor a bond issue to secure the Eastern training school, as some men will oppose any and every thing regardless of how good it may be. But it would certainly reflect more credit on any who do oppose it if they would stop making false statements in the hope of making sentiment against bonds.

The Reflector believes there are enough men in Pitt county who realize the incalculable benefit the Eastern training school will be to the county, to vote for bonds and carry the election next Tuesday in their favor. Not to do this would be a disastrous blow to the future of the county. Every citizen should desire to see the county prosper and advance, and all who hold this view will vote for bonds.

THIEVES' SLANG.

The Traveling Irish Tinkers and the Romany Rye.

The origin of the thieves' slang or cant? Well, I guess that's a thing that's buried in the mists of antiquity, as the scholars say. But I once read up on the subject, and they say the Irish are responsible—at least for its introduction into our language. There used to be men who traveled the roads of England known as Irish tinkers.

They were traveling machinists and did all sorts of repair work. They were a canny lot—sort of a labor union—they were the wisest men in England in their way. It was worth a man's life to break into their organization irregularly.

Along about 1530 the Romany Rye people—gypsies, they call them—came to England from the continent. They were wanderers like the tinkers, and naturally the two classes came together. The tinkers picked up a few words of the gypsy lingo.

The tinkers took to the jargon, added new words to it, and it became the language in a way of their class. Finally it drifted to the criminal element, and thus was born thieves' patter, flash, lingo, jargon or whatever you may call it.

The origin of many of the words is quite plain when one stops to study for a moment. Now, take the word "bull," which is used to distinguish a policeman in plain clothes. In the early days the roundsmen of London carried bullseye lanterns because of the unlighted condition of the streets. Roisterers could tell the approach of the roundsmen or constables by their lanterns. "Here comes a bullseye!" was the natural cry.

This was contracted to "bull," and the appellation still sticks. Take the word "toy," which thieves use as the slang term for a watch. Years ago only the very rich could afford a watch because of the expense, and those who could not own a watch and therefore did not realize their usefulness called them "toys," as the rich were not supposed to purchase anything useful.

The word "Bible," to distinguish a pocketbook, comes from the fact that the Bible is the most respected of all books, and as thieves respect a well filled pocketbook above all things they designate it as a "Bible." So it is with most of the words.

American thieves are constantly inventing new slang terms and abandoning old expressions. Many cant words have been adopted as good English. They often have a pat quality that appeals to the mind and by constant usage are coined into the language of the realm.—Chicago Tribune.

The Unattached Woman.

Nowhere else in the world is the woman who has chosen the single life so thoroughly her own mistress, so wholly the arbiter of her own destiny, so completely at liberty to create the atmosphere that shall make for her happiness as in New York. In Paris she is declassé—an object of social suspicion, because she has not openly annexed a bread winner. In London she becomes the mother by proxy of her sister's children or some distant relative's children. In the lesser cities of the United States, a writer in Woman believes, some of the old prejudice remains against the woman who has missed or declined matrimony. She is to a degree the superfluous woman and as such is tolerated or pitied, but never approved.—New York World.

Wasn't Delicate at All.

A young man not regarded as a very desirable suitor had called upon a young lady a number of times, each time to be told by the maid that "Miss Florence is not well today."

One day in response to his card the young lady's mother, who was a recent accession to the newly rich ranks and whose education was not as sure as it might be, appeared and explained once more to the young man that the daughter was not well.

"I am very sorry, indeed," said the young man as he rose to go, "that your daughter is so delicate."

"Delicate?" sniffed the mother. "Florence delicate? Not at all. Why, she is the most indelicate girl you ever met."

His Scheme Worked All Right.

It is related that a certain man was recently very sad because his wife had gone out of town on a visit, which she would not shorten in spite of his appeals to her to come home. He finally hit upon a plan to induce her to return. He sent her a copy of each of the local papers with one item clipped out, and when she wrote to find out what it was he had clipped out he refused to tell her.

The scheme worked admirably. In less than a week she was home to find out what it was that had been going on that her husband didn't want her to know about.

NOTICE TO THE VOTERS OF PITT COUNTY.

Notice is hereby given to the voters of Pitt county that the board of county commissioners, at their meeting on the first Monday of April, 1907, it being the first day of said month, ordered that an election be held at the various voting places in said county on Tuesday, May 14th, 1907, for the purpose of taking the sense of the qualified voters of said county on the proposition to confer upon the board of county commissioners of said county the authority to issue and sell interest bearing coupon bonds, of said county, not to exceed the sum of fifty thousand dollars to run for thirty years and to bear interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent. The proceeds of the sale of said bonds to be used in aiding in erecting suitable buildings at some point in Pitt county for a training school for white teachers, and the excess, if any, of the fund arising from the sale of said bonds, after securing the location of said school in the county, to be used in the purchase of machinery for the use of the convicts in working the public roads and to aid building and repairing bridges in the county of Pitt.

A new registration of the voters has been ordered for said election, so that it may be definitely and accurately ascertained who are qualified voters at said election. The law authorizing said election requires those favoring the issuing of said bonds to vote a written or printed ballot with the words thereon, "for bonds" and those opposed to vote a written or printed ballot with the words thereon "against bonds." The registration books will open on Thursday, April 11th, 1907, and close at sunset on Saturday, May 4th, 1907. Only those who register can vote.

By order of the board of county commissioners of Pitt county.
This the 1st day of April 1907.

SPONTANEOUS REMARKS.

Cases Where One Has Called For Another's Remarks.

Charley Stone was one of many unfortunates who took one night stands in the wild, wild west, with a repertory of Shakespeare and other grands of the classics. The first violin in the orchestra played altogether on the E string until a well armed cowboy arose and said: "Pardner, I'm a graduate of Yale. I've been in this part of the country for nigh on nine years. I love music." Then, drawing his seven shooter, he added, "Fiddle a little on some other string or I'll make you look like a coal sifter."

Intense excitement was caused in De Give's Opera House in Atlanta a number of years ago when Jefferson was playing Rip Van Winkle. Every county in the state was represented in the audience. Emotions were deeply stirred and but ill suppressed when the profligate Rip was driven from home. A very distinguished looking old gentleman arose in the center of the auditorium and relieved the situation by crying in a loud voice: "Don't go, Rip! Don't go!" Then the lachrymal dams burst, and everybody wept. Of course we all know that men are hired at times to create these effects, but now and then such actions are spontaneous.

In Bartley Campbell's day there came pretty near being a riot over a lost baby in one of Harry Miner's theaters. It was a stage baby—a bit of real property, however—and its mother was almost crazed when some bandits kidnaped it. The Bowery audience were wrought up to the highest pitch of melodramatic interest. An attenuated westerner, over six feet high, unable longer to stand the strain, stood up and, pointing to the wings, yelled with fearful emphasis: "That's the brat over in the corner! Give it back to its mother an' let the play go on or I'll wreck the whole darn concern!" It took several policemen and ushers to restore him to reason and quiet the fury of the gallery gods.—Exchange.

A Doubtful Compliment.

A clergyman was about to leave his church one evening when he encountered an old lady examining the carving on the font. Finding her desirous of seeing the beauties of the church, he volunteered to show her over, and the flustered old lady, much gratified at this unexpected offer of a personally conducted tour, shyly accepted it. By and by they came to a handsome tablet on the right of the pulpit. "This," explained the good man, "is a memorial tablet erected to the memory of the late vicar."

"There now! Ain't it beautiful!" exclaimed the admiring old lady, still flustered and anxious to please. "And I'm sure, sir, I 'ope it won't be long afore we see one erected to you on t'other side."

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart.

Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

FLAT FOOT.

The Proper Way to Treat This Very Common Affliction. It is a common affliction. It is a disease which is frequently overlooked by physicians says the Medical Journal.

The patient to complain of pain in the heel, the ankle, the inner border of the foot, great toe, the muscles of the calf, the knee or even the hip. The busy practitioner notes these symptoms in a hurried, casual way, attributes them to rheumatism, prescribes salicylates and what not, and another flat footed individual plods his weary way.

Increased deformity is added to what may have been merely foot strain in the first place. A curable case has become well nigh incurable, and the medical profession is again justly liable to well deserved censure.

Any factor which tends to diminish the muscular power of the foot may cause flat foot. A great increase in the weight borne by the foot may cause it.

The increase in weight may be actual, such as occurs in people who put on a great deal of fat, or it may be relative, such as occurs in athletes, jumpers especially. But by far the most common cause is a cramping of the foot, brought about by improper shoes.

For treatment of this condition mechanical support to the deformed foot is practically all that is necessary. This mechanical support is best afforded by means of the footplate made from highly tempered steel and molded upon a plaster cast of the foot.

The footplate should be worn as long as it is required, but no longer. Additional wearing of the plate beyond the time necessary, as indicated by the symptoms, is simply an additional cause of harm. With the footplate a shoe should be worn fitting the normal contour of the foot.

Which Side?

Some years ago while the writer was returning from Raleigh, N. C., on an excursion train over the Seaboard Air line he was accosted by the conductor of the train, one who had evidently spent his youth in keeping away from anything that pertained to education and who proceeded to unfold the following example of "down home" wit:

"I declare, some people can ask the most foolish questions I ever see. What do you suppose some woman asked me just now?"

I replied that I was unable to guess and requested him to enlighten me. He then proceeded to tell his story, which ran as follows:

"While I was passing through a coach just now some woman stopped me and asked me how far we were from Weldon. I replied that we were about fifty-five miles from Weldon. She then asked, 'This side or the other side?'—Harpe's Weekly.

He Probably Returned.

"Sam, did you ever study spiritualism?" asked a traveling man who hasn't a very high reputation among his creditors.

"Not much," was the reply. "I never had time to give it any thought."

"But you believe that the dead return, don't you?"

"Well, to tell the truth, I haven't been bothering myself about the dead returning. I've only thought about it long enough to come to the conclusion that there is an awful lot of the living that don't return."

"How do you mean?"

"Why, if they did, maybe you'd be returning that ten dollar bill you borrowed from me six months ago."—Kansas City Independent.

A Language Maker.

A teacher in a certain fourth term class at Erasmus Hall High school was explaining to her pupils the significance of the German prefix "zer." The English equivalent is "to make smaller," she explained. "For instance," she continued, "the word 'brechen' means 'to break,' while 'zer-brechen' means 'to break into smaller pieces,' or 'to shatter.'"

"Now," she concluded when she believed that she had made her pupils understand, "can any one give me another example?"

Promptly from the rear came a voice in low, hurried tones: "Sprechen, 'to speak' or 'to talk,' 'zer-sprechen,' 'to talk in bunches.'"—Brooklyn Eagle.

PERSONAL POINTS.

People who Come and Go.

Mrs. B. E. Partick went to Norfolk today.

Rev. Hearne went to Ayden this morning.
