AN EVENING WITH LONGFELLOW. Cheap Knit Goods Lines Are Becoming Scarce.

Minerva Literary Society Entertains.

On Thursday evening in the chapel of the graded school building, the Minerva Literary Society, composed of a number of girls of the school, held the closing meeting of the present school term. The parents of many of the members were present, and the boys of the Henry Grady Debating Society were guests of honor.

Miss Abbie Smith is president of the literary society and is a most graceful presiding officer, while Miss Lillie Tucker is the efficient secretary.

The subject of the evening was Longfellow, and as the roll was called each member arose and gave a quotation from the writings of this famous poet. Then this program followed:

Essay—"Longfellow, his life and works," Miss Ethel Skinner.

Recitation—"The Famine", Miss Essie Whichard.

Song—"Song of the Summer Night," chorus.

Synopsis of Longfellow, Miss Lillie Tucker.

Recitation in concert—"Psalm of Life."

Recitation—"An Old Sweetheart of Mine," Miss Lillian Burch. Piano accompaniment by Miss Ethel Skinner.

Song—"The Bridge," chorus.

Every number on the program was excellent and reflected credit on those taking part and on the work of the society.

Following the program the literary society entertained the debating society, ice cream and cake being served. There was also an original contest arranged by the teachers, the answers being twenty counties in North Carolina. So many filled out the list correctly that the prizes were drawn for. Miss Lillie Tucker getting the girl's prize and Harry White the boy's. These were presented by Prof. Smith. Another interesting event was a mock marriage that gave a little amusement.

B & I. Statement.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town.

Ayden, N. C. May 10, 1907.

The following gentlemen were duly inducted into office yesterday to which they were last Monday elected for the next year: Mayor, J. F. Barwick; mayor pro-tem J. R. Turnage, commissioners, Stancill Hodges, R. C. Cannon, W. J. Boyd, J. R. Turnage and H. C. Ormond. They elected Stancill Hodges, treasurer; H. C. Ormond, clerk; J. W. Alexander, police.

It was J. B. Carlyle and not T. A. Carlyle, as you had it in my last items, who is to deliver the address at the closing exercises of the graded school tonight.

The protracted meeting has closed and we sincerely hope much good was accomplished and our people made better on account of it.

Miss Olivia Berry has gone to Scotland Neck to visit her sister.

Dr. D. L. James and H. W. Whedbee, of Greenville, spent Tuesday night here.

Miss Minnie Dawson, of Maple Cypress, has been here for several days attending the Harlin Daughtery meeting.

W. S. Blount, assisted by his excellent daughters, Misses Florence and Lizzie, are conducting a splendid hotel here. The travelling public speak of them in the highest terms.

The directors of the graded school have elected the same teachers for next session as had for the past.

W. B. Wilson, of Greenville, was here Thursday.

Miss Carrie Smith, of Greenville, is visiting relatives in Ayden.

There was a good sized crowd here from the Grimesland section Wednesday in attendance upon J. P. trial.

C. K. Johnson has returned from a business trip to Hamilton.

Prof. Cecil has opened a business school here and we learn he has met with much encouragement.

W. L. Browning and J. B. Pierce, who have been quite sick, are rapidly getting well.

A Railroad Well Advised.

The Virginia Corporation Commission recently passed an order fixing the rate for passenger transportation in the State at 2 cents a mile. A material reduction in freight rates was also made. The order affects five railroads. It is understood that the Seaboard Air Line will abide by the order, but that the Southern will resist it. The Seaboard's counsel "advised against taking the order to the courts, giving as reason therefor that the people are not in humor to stand further opposition on the part of the roads toward the commission, or attempts at legislation aimed to regulate railway charges." That lawyer has a level head and the Seaboard will profit by his advice. There seems to be question, under the laws of Virginia, as to the powers of the State commission to make and enforce these laws and the road that goes to court about it is only wasting time and making enemies.—Charlotte News.

Speaking at Winterville.

Tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock, Prof. W. H. Ragsdale will speak at Winterville on the school bond issue.

Moseley Bros., the real estate men do some talking in their advertisement today that is worth your while to consider.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Appropriately Observed in Greenville.

Hallowed memories of the past have established a beautiful custom of bringing together in annual reunion the surviving heroes of the Confederacy. All over the south today the 10th of May is observed as Memorial Day. It brings together the old soldiers in greetings to each other, and also the younger generations who love to honor them for their deeds of valor and patriotism.

As each year rolls around the people of Greenville and Pitt county come together in observance of the day, taking pride in doing all they can for the pleasure and honor of the old heroes who are fast passing away.

At 10 o'clock Bryan Grimes Camp of Confederate Veterans met in the court house to transact its routine business. The camp was called to order by Commander H. Harding, who briefly addressed his comrades and outlined the program for the day.

The roll call of the camp was dispensed with and the following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year:

Commander—Henry Harding. Lieutenant—F. L. Brown.

Secretary—H. A. Blow.

The following names of members who had died during the past year were read: James Elks, Beverly Daniel, J. L. Daniel, B. M. W. James, J. Q. Matthews, J. M. Fulford, J. F. Parker, Alfred Leggett, Asa Garris, W. T. Godwin, Louis Hudson, Samuel Mumford, Richy Moore, Jesse Nelson, R. L. Johnson, G. A. Meeks, S. H. Spain, E. D. Holliday.

This large list shows how rapidly time is thinning the ranks of the brave boys who wore the grey.

C. D. Rountree, G. F. Evans and S. V. Laughinghouse were appointed a committee to draft suitable resolutions to the memory of the departed comrades and have them published in the county papers.

The line was then formed in front of the court house and the camp, followed by a large concourse of people, marched to Cherry Hill cemetery. It was noticed that a number of the older soldiers who had become feeble with age had to drop out of line, as they were not strong enough to march like in the days long gone.

At the cemetery the line was met by the Daughters of the Confederacy who had flowers to decorate the graves of departed soldiers. A circle was first formed around the Confederate monument and after flowers were placed on this and the old cannon beside it the line moved to different graves and stood at rest while the flowers were being placed. It was with solemn tread the gallant old heroes moved through the cemetery and paused silently as the decorations were placed as a mark of esteem on the graves of their departed comrades. Doubtless many of them realized that the summons must soon come to them and they too be called to join the ranks "beyond the river."

The line then returned to Masonic Temple opera house where the program previously published was carried out. The members of the camp occupied front seats and they fully enjoyed the songs and other exercises of the day. The introduction by Col. F. G.

James of ex-Gov. Jarvis, the orator of the day, was a master stroke of eloquence. Gov. Jarvis was greeted with applause as he arose. Though somewhat feeble from recent sickness his speech was a magnificent one. He referred but briefly to the heroism and valor of Confederate soldiers during the war amid the hardships that they endured, but said he wanted to speak more of his courage and patriotism in repairing the devastation caused by the war in the years following it. The world had not produced men more noble, more patriotic, more self-sacrificing than these.

His rehearsal of scenes following the war, and the struggles through which the people of the South passed, was vivid and thrilling. Coming on down to the present he expressed gratitude at the era of peace and prosperity surrounding us today. The Confederate soldier has taken a large part in bringing this about by his devotion to duty, his love of country and the school houses he has builded to educate his children. His tribute to the noble women of the South touched every heart, and he said that the esteem in which the heroes are held by our women is far better than any monument that could be raised.

At the conclusion of the speech Mr. F. C. Harding, in behalf of the Daughters of the Confederacy, presented Governor Jarvis a handsome bouquet. His remarks in presenting this were beautiful, referring to Governor Jarvis as a double hero, one most gallant in battle, and one yet among us devoting his best efforts to our progress and development.

The children of the graded school then sang "Dixie," which was so much appreciated that the "Rebel Yell" was given by the veteran in return, much to the delight of the large crowd that filled the opera house.

After the exercises in the opera house dinner was served on the court house lawn.

These annual reunion days are looked forward to with much pleasure, and today will be long remembered by the veterans and all who participated with them in the exercises.

FRIDAY MAY 10th 1907.

WONDERFUL PHENOMENA IN GREENVILLE

It is scarcely in the history of any town as large or as small as Greenville, that a matter so much agitating the minds of the whole people as the training school now engrossing everybody, should meet with such unanimity as was shown last Tuesday. There were 329 registered voters and 321 votes were cast, every one of them for bonds, and of those not voting only three were in reach of the polls.

Truly the millennium of thought and spirit is among our people. There never has been such union among them before. When a Doubting Thomas understood fully what the election meant and what great benefits were to be derived from the school by the boys and girls of today and the generations that will follow, there could be but one sentiment and that was to have the school located in Pitt county.

Pitt county will be the center of attraction and all eyes will be turned towards this great commonwealth. It is impossible to estimate the great and continuous good that will result. Other counties are looking on with jealousy and surely they are interested and feel deeply the effect the great institution will have on the immediate community in which it is located.

There has never been in the history, and from the present viewpoint never will be again, such a great opportunity for the development and advancement of the county. We do sincerely hope the good people of the county will rise up as one man and carry forward this greatest of all measures ever before presented, and the generations of boys and girls to come will call them blessed.

If Editor Clark, of the Statesville, succeeds in finding the whale that swallowed Jonah, he will have an 'exclusive' scoop.

Pitt county has the chance. Let her show to the world next Tuesday that she is going to grasp the opportunity to become the greatest county in North Carolina.

Beyond question, the most comprehensive review ever published of the industrial and agricultural advance of the South since 1880, and of the material resources on which Southern progress and prosperity are based, is given in the Manufacturers' Record of May 9th. This elaborate review must for all time to come be the final authority in fact and figures about the South. We believe that it should appeal with greater force than anything ever before issued or likely to be issued for years to come to every intelligent man in the South,

It is a story of the South, past and present, and a forecast of the future. It deals with the facts of antebellum days and of the last quarter of a century, and covers the foundation on which the South is building for the future.

This great story, covering nearly 20 pages of the Manufacturer's Record, and this particular issue of that paper as a whole, are good examples of what the Manufacturer's Record is doing every week. We do not believe that any thoughtful man in the South can be otherwise than interested in a close acquaintance with what this section is doing and what it may accomplish. The facts bearing on these questions touch the life of every man and woman in the South, and never before were they so comprehensively presented as in this special article.

New York's Extra Bachelors.

There are in New York at the present time 75,680 more bachelors than spinsters of twenty years and over. In the population of the city there are, of ages from twenty up, 357,986 single men, 626,603 married men, 48,272 widowers and 1,899 divorced men. Of women of like age there are 282,306 spinsters, 616,377 wives, 147,386 widows and 2,040 divorced. Pearson's estimates that the widows and widowers alone of the metropolis would make a city bigger than Providence, R. I.

Why He Would Be Absent.

A suburban train was slowly working its way through one of the blizzards of a recent winter. Finally it came to a dead stop, and all efforts to start it again were futile.

In the small hours of the morning a weary commuter, numb from the cold and the cramped position in which he had tried to sleep, crawled out of the train and floundered through the heavy snowdrifts to the nearest telegraph station. This is the message he handed to the operator:

"Will not be at office today. Not home yesterday yet."—Everybody's Magazine.

The Greatest Volcanic Eruption.

It is generally agreed that the greatest recorded eruption was that of Mount Krakatau, near Java, in 1883. Among other things the eruption created dust finer than any rock can be found by man, and this dust floated around in the air in visible quantities for three years. The eruption was heard 3,000 miles away and broke windows 100 miles from the crater. It threw a tidal wave 100 feet high a distance of five miles inland and caused air waves that circled the earth.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of opium, chloroform or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in cough remedies. Dr. Shoop, it seems has welcomed the Pure Food Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines for many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure containers have had a warning printed on them against opium and other narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure Sold by Bryan's Drug Store.

THIS SETTLES THE QUESTION.

THE TOWN AND COUNTY STAND TOGETHER AND WILL BOTH DO THEIR PART.

It is strange what statements people will sometimes make in their eagerness to turn sentiment. It reached the ears of The Reflector that some people were trying so hard to defeat the proposed bond issue to secure the Eastern training school in Pitt county, they have been telling that Greenville did not propose to apply any of the town bonds toward the school but was going to use them all for town improvements, and would depend upon the county bonds to get the school. Of course such a statement is absurd, and that no one might be deceived by it we addressed a letter to the board of county commissioners while that body was in session Monday, to get an expression from the members that will settle the matter. The letter and reply are published below:

Greenville, N. C., May 6, 1907

To the Board of County Commissioners,

It is reported that if the County Bond issue passes that the town of Greenville will not pay its part towards locating the Eastern Training School in Pitt County. Will you please say for publication what you, as representatives of the county, will do in issuing these county bonds, should you be authorized by the vote of the people on the 14th., to do so?

D. J. Whichard, Editor Reflector.

Dear Sir:—

Your letter received. In reply will say that we will see to it that the County does not pay one dollar more for the purpose of locating the Eastern Training School in Pitt County than the town of Greenville pays.

THIEVES' SLANG.

The Traveling Irish Tinkers and the Romany Aye.

The origin of the thieves' slang or cant? Well, I guess that's a thing that's buried in the mists of antiquity, as the scholars say. But I once read up on the subject, and they say the Irish are responsible—at least for its introduction into our language. There used to be men who traveled the roads of England known as Irish tinkers.

They were traveling machinists and did all sorts of repair work. They were a canny lot—sort of a labor union—they were the wisest men in England in their way. It was worth a man's life to break into their organization irregularly.

Along about 1530 the Romany Rye people—gypsies, they call them—came to England from the continent. They were wanderers like the tinkers, and naturally the two classes came together. The tinkers picked up a few words of the gypsy lingo.

The tinkers took to the jargon, added new words to it, and it became the language in a way of their class. Finally it drifted to the criminal element, and thus was born thieves' patter, flash, lingo, jargon or whatever you may call it.

The origin of many of the words is quite plain when one stops to study for a moment. Now, take the word "bull," which is used to distinguish a policeman in plain clothes. In the early days the roundsmen of London carried bulls-eye lanterns because of the unlighted condition of the streets. Roisterers could tell the approach of the roundsmen or constables by their lanterns. "Here comes a bulls-eye!" was the natural cry.

This was contracted to "bull," and the appellation still sticks. Take the word "toy," which thieves use as the slang term for a watch. Years ago only the very rich could afford a watch because of the expense, and those who could not own a watch and therefore did not realize their usefulness called them "toys," as the rich were not supposed to purchase anything useful.

The word "Bible," to distinguish a pocketbook, comes from the fact that the Bible is the most respected of all books, and as thieves respect a well filled pocketbook above all things they designate it as a "Bible." So it is with most of the words.

American thieves are constantly inventing new slang terms and abandoning old expressions. Many cant words have been adopted as good English. They often have a pat quality that appeals to the mind and by constant usage are coined into the language of the realm.—Chicago Tribune.

NOTICE TO THE VOTERS OF PITT COUNTY.

Notice is hereby given to the voters of Pitt county that the board of county commissioners, at their meeting on the first Monday of April, 1907, it being the first day of said month, ordered that an election be held at the various voting places in said county on Tuesday, May 14th, 1907, for the purpose of taking the sense of the qualified voters of said county on the proposition to confer upon the board of county commissioners of said county the authority to issue and sell interest bearing coupon bonds, of said county, not to exceed the sum of fifty thousand dollars to run for thirty years and to bear interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent. The proceeds of the sale of said bonds to be used in aiding in erecting suitable buildings at some point in Pitt county for a training school for white teachers, and the excess, if any, of the fund arising from the sale of said bonds, after securing the location of said school in the county, to be used in the purchase of machinery for the use of the convicts in working the public roads and to aid building and repairing bridges in the county of Pitt.

A new registration of the voters has been ordered for said election, so that it may be definitely and accurately ascertained who are qualified voters at said election. The law authorizing said election requires those favoring the issuing of said bonds to vote a written or printed ballot with the words thereon, "for bonds" and those opposed to vote a written or printed ballot with the words thereon "against bonds." The registration books will open on Thursday, April 11th, 1907, and close at sunset on Saturday, May 4th, 1907. Only those who register can vote.

By order of the board of county commissioners of Pitt county.
This the 1st day of April 1907.

His Way of Pairing.

A number of years ago at a small town in Maine an important local election was to take place, and there was strong rivalry between the Republicans and Democrats. Old Hiram Morse, the blacksmith, was a strong Democrat, but many of the farmers were Republicans. On the morning of the election a farmer came to have his horse shod. The blacksmith said to him: "We're both busy. You're a Republican, and I'm a Democrat. Let's pair-off. We'll neither of us vote, and it will amount to the same as if both went to the polls." This was agreed upon. After election it was found out that Morse had paired off with five Republican farmers.

Morn.

A lady was reproaching a bachelor friend for never having married when her husband, a little bored perhaps, said gruffly:

"He says he could have cut me out and married you if he had wanted to."

The lady started.

"Indeed!" she cried. "Why didn't he do it, then?"

"He says he owed me a grudge," the husband explained, with a chuckle.

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina.

On account of the recent destruction by fire of the largest hotel in Durham the meeting of the State Bankers' Association May 22nd to 24th has been changed from that city to Winston Salem.

The one-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. John Botts, living eight miles from Salisbury, was drowned in three inches of water. The mother left the child and returned to find it lying face downward in the tub, dead.

At Fort Caswell, Wednesday, Private Henry Hamilton shot his wife three times, seriously wounding her, and also shot an officer who tried to prevent him harming his wife. Hamilton was shot and killed by another officer who was a brother-in-law of his wife. The trouble grew out of a disagreement between Hamilton and his wife.

Begins Sentence Today.

Special to Reflector:
New York, May 10 --- William Murphy, whose conviction on the charge of bribery has been confirmed by the Supreme court, will enter today upon his sentence of one year in the house of correction. Under the rules governing Supreme court proceedings, the papers were not filed for thirty days after the decision was rendered, and until they are filed they do not become effective. It is not likely that a rehearing will be granted, and the sentence will, accordingly, take full effect.

First Steamer for Nome.

Special to Reflector.
Seattle, Wash., May 10. The steamer Corwin, owned by the L. N. Gray Steamship Company, left this port today for the north mining towns. She is the first vessel to make the trip this season. Although the Corwin is the first boat to leave, the season will practically open with the sailing of the steamships Ohio, Victoria, Pleiades and Senator, which depart on June 1st. The Pleiades is the only steamer that does not carry passengers, and all available space on the other steamers has already been engaged. The Corwin has the distinction of having been the first vessel into Nome every season for the last six years. The first vessel to arrive at Nome is always greeted with great enthusiasm.

WHY HILL SUCCEEDED.

James J. Hill entered the railroad business in 1881 as general manager of the St. Paul and Pacific railroad, and a clew to the reasons of his success may be found in the following from an article in Everybody's Magazine:

"He was baggageman, conductor, engineer, track walker, fireman, passenger agent, freight agent, traffic manager and everything else on the road at different times," one of the men who was with him as assistant at this time told me. "He looked after every detail until those who watched him were appalled. Not a box of rubber bands was bought that he didn't O. K. the order and supervise payment. He not only learned how the work was being done, but devised methods of doing it differently, doing it better, more economically, more expeditiously. System followed in his wake, system in every department. Railroad as he found it was an involved, cumbersome, chaotic affair. He made it a science."

Midair Photography.

Cameras on the wing are flying through Germany. A projectile to take photographs and claimed to have been successful at heights of half a mile is the idea of Herr Marie, a German photographer. A camera having the form of the usual kind of conical shell is thrown into the air by means of a kind of trap. At a predetermined angle as the camera turns to make its descent and is pointed slightly downward the shutter is automatically released, and a picture is taken of a broad expanse of country. In still air the flight and spot at which the aerial camera will fall can be calculated with much precision. Precautions are taken to avoid damage by concussion, and the results are expected to be of great possible value in military operations. — Chicago Tribune.

The Greatest Inventors.

Professor Alexander Graham Bell of telephone fame the other day was in Washington, where as he strolled along Pennsylvania avenue his snow white hair and beard, ruddy face and easy carriage attracted much attention. A newspaper correspondent long known to the professor joined him and in the course of their chat asked Mr. Bell's opinion of newspaper men. "You know, professor," said the correspondent, "but for us you great inventors would not be so widely known." "That's very true," coincided Professor Bell, who added dryly, "And do you know I sometimes think you newspaper men are the greatest inventors in the world."

Proper Lightning Protectors.

In an address to the Royal Engineers at Chatham, England, Alfred Hands said that too much importance is attached to the form and composition of lightning conductors and not enough to the fact that the efficiency depends almost entirely on the way the apparatus is attached and little on what it is made of. Lightning conductors in the hands of experts, he said, may be likened to drugs in the hands of doctors—they must be suited to the particular case. As to the relative value of iron and copper for conductors, there is but a trifling difference except that for conductors expected to last long iron is too perishable.

Leads the World in Phones.

A comparison of the telephone development of New York with that of foreign cities shows that New York has more telephones than London and the ten other largest cities of Great Britain combined, according to a careful review just printed in the Electrical Engineer; not only more than Paris, but more than all the telephones in France, Belgium, Holland and Switzerland combined; more telephones than are to be found in the twenty largest cities in Germany. — New York World.

Freak Insurance.

"Is it a fact?" asked a judge—Justice Darling—the other day of counsel in a case that was before him, "that insurance companies insure against a successful appeal by the other side?" "Yes," answered the learned gentleman. "I have been told so, and they have different rates for different judges." — London Mail.
