China Buyers offer to Sell American Goods Here.

New York, May 16.—The China buyer of cotton goods has completely turned the tables on the American seller, and is offering to sell in this market American sheetings which are now offered in China for less money than present open market quotations here. This is the first time in the history of the trade that goods shipped to China have been actually offered for resale and reshipment to this market, and at less than the goods are now selling here. The nearest approach to this condition of affairs was seen during the Sully boom when China buyers who had purchased cotton goods a long time ahead sold their contracts for delivery at a handsome profit in this market. Now, however, the trade is facing a condition of affairs where the Chinaman offers to reship and lay down in this market American goods for less money than the American manufacturers can sell the goods in the domestic market here.

Big Presbyterian Merger of Theological Schools.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 16.—A merger involving Presbyterian properties aggregating millions of dollars, is to be brought up in the General assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States, which opens in Columbus, Ohio, today. The proposition is the consolidation of the Lane Theological Seminary, the McCormick Theological Seminary, in Chicago, and the Western Theological Seminary in Pittsburgh. The three seminaries, whose consolidation is urged, graduate the majority of the young ministers for Presbyterian pulpits.

The habit of the street sprinkler is to precede a shower.

PIANO RECITAL.

Splendid Concert by Music Pupils.

The music pupils of Miss Bessie Patrick and Mrs. T. E. Hooker gave a joint recital in Masonic opera house Wednesday night. The program as previously published was carried out, each performance being excellently rendered. The solos, duets and trios were all much enjoyed, and impressed those of the audience who appreciate music with the range of instruction through which the pupils had been carried. The recital was creditable alike to teachers and pupils. Greenville people but seldom have the opportunity of such a musical feast, but the excellence of each selection on this occasion showed that with the talent in our midst the future has much in store for us. The entire program was so good that individual mention could not be justly made without reference to each performer.

Ten Thousand Baptists in Richmond.

Richmond, Va., May 16.—The Baptists overwhelmed the city, so that even the ample provisions made for the entertainment of the guests of this city, noted for its capability in the art of accommodating outsiders, has been put to its best to give each visitor a roof over his head. But in addition to the hotels and boarding-houses, all private houses of any pretension have been thrown open, and there guest chambers are fully occupied. This convention is considered the largest ever held in the United States by religious people, and has brought hither all the Baptist ministers in the South, while the list of delegates is truly a remarkable one. The Woman's Missionary Union is also in session. The convention will remain until the 20th inclusive.

New onions every day at John Smith's.

IT WAS FELT HERE.

And Thought to be an Earthquake.

Two people in Greenville spoke about feeling a slight earthquake shock Tuesday morning, but as no tidings of such an occurrence came nothing further was thought of it. There is hardly a doubt but the tremor the people felt was caused by a terrific explosion of dynamite at New Bern that was felt over an area of many miles. The explosion was caused by two men who were out target shooting with a pistol. One of them shot at a knot hole in the side of an old building and the explosion followed. It happened that 1,600 pounds of dynamite had been stored in the house. Much damage was done by the explosion and both the men were nearly killed.

The South by Comparison.

The South today, with a population of 25,900,000, against a population of 33,855,000 in the rest of the country in 1880 has more capital invested in cotton mills than the rest of the country then, and its consumption of cotton in its own mills is about double that of the mills of the rest of the country 26 years ago. Its production of bituminous coal is more than twice as great—83,000,000 tons against 35,900,000 tons; its coke production more than three times as large, its petroleum output 32,000,000 barrels, against 25,107,000 barrels for the rest of the country in 1880. The total value of its farm products is about $450,000,000 greater than the value of all the farm products of the rest of the country in 1880, and its railroad mileage is 7600 miles less. The value of the South's exports for the fiscal year of 1906 was greater than that of the rest of the country in 1880. The lumber output of the South in 1906 was valued at $300,000,000, or $106,000,000 greater than that of the balance of the country a quarter of a century ago.—From Manufacturers' Record, May 9.

Speaks at 11 o'clock.

Congressman W. W. Kitchen will deliver the annual address at Winterville High school tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Several people from Greenville contemplated going down on the noon train but this will put them in Winterville too late for the speaking, the hour for which could not be changed without disarranging the commencement program for the day. Those from here who wish to hear Mr. Kitchen can go down on the train this evening or drive down tomorrow morning.

Nashville is To Have a New Hostelry.

Nashville, Tenn., May 16.—This city is to have a new hotel to be built by Mr. S. Hartman that will be six stories in height and will front fifty feet on Broadway, and will run back 125 feet, and contain 200 rooms, half of them with bath-rooms. It will cost between $75,000 and $80,000. It will have a restaurant, and be run on the European plan. It will be the highest hotel in the city.

Matters have settled down to quietness since the bond election, but town politics will soon get them lively again.

It don't stay warm unless it wants to.

THE BANK OF GREENVILLE.

Annual Meeting of Stockholders and Election of Officers.

The annual meeting of the Bank of Greenville was held on the 15th. The following officers and directors were re-elected for the ensuing year. R. L. Davis, president, J. A. Andrews, vice-president, James L. Little, cashier, M. L. Turnage, teller and bookkeeper. Robt. I. Howard, collection clerk and assistant bookkeeper. Directors—R. L. Davis, J. A. Andrews, R. W. King, S. T. Hooker, J. G. Moye, O. Hooker, J. R. Moye, W. B. Wilson, J. L. Little.

A dividend of 10 per cent was paid to the stockholders out of the year's earnings and the balance left in undivided profits. The surplus and undivided profits now amount to $40,000.

The stockholders were much gratified at the splendid condition of the bank's affairs. The unanimous re-election of every officer shows the esteem in which each is held, and these officers as fully have the confidence of the patrons of the bank and the public.

San Antonio Wants The Baptist Convention For 1908.

Special to Reflector.

San Antonio, Texas, May 16.—San Antonio is making a determined effort to secure the Baptists' convention for 1908. The 1907 convention convened in Richmond today, and strong delegation from San Antonio, composed of pastors and laymen, and also from this section, who will advocate the selection of this city went to the scene. The convention membership is always from 5,000 to 7,000 which includes pastors and delegates from fifteen Southern States. Other places seeking the convention are Birmingham, Knoxville, Atlanta, Nashville and Hot Springs, Ark. The Baptist General Convention of Texas will meet in this city on Nov. 5, and will bring to this city between 3,000 and 5,000. Preparations are being made already to entertain these delegates in a most hospitable manner.

Developing Southern Water-Powers.

Energy long running to waste in the rivers whose source is in the Appalachian mountain, says the Manufacturers' Record of May 9, is being utilized in hydro-electric work on a scale which is making the south the greatest center in America, if not the world, for the development of hitherto unutilized water-powers for electrical energy. Even now over 500,000 horse-power is under development at a cost of $40,000,000 to $50,000,000, and the indications point to the doubling and quadrupling of this.

Winterville Commencement.

The commencement exercises of Winterville High School began last night with a sermon by Rev. J. E. Ayscue, of Greenville. There will be a concert tonight, an address by Congressman W. W. Kitchen tomorrow morning, a debate tomorrow afternoon and another concert tomorrow night. The exercises at Winterville High school are always interesting.

Weather.

Fair tonight, cooler in eastern portion Friday, fair, warmer in western portion.

The New Kind of Boy.

The new boy is a singularly delicate piece of mechanism. He has grown up in a period alleged to be strenuous. He puts on trousers at an age when his father was wearing kilts. He plays football, which the president says is a sure cure for mollycoddleness and potrooney. And yet he is such a delicate creature that it is hard to train him to anything. He can't stand discipline, and everybody and everything has got to be disciplined or degenerate.

The present boy's father didn't have football and he didn't have Roosevelt, and he didn't have some other things that are supposed to develop hardihood. But he could be handled with impunity and to his own great advantage. His father could take him in the woodshed and apply the shingle or the stay, with no result except the youngster's improvement. When he cut up at school the schoolmaster could flog him, and the only result was that he took more pains not to be caught. He ate everything he could get hold of; he had a bully good time, except for brief intervals of castigation, and he wasn't bothered with philosophy of life. But his son is a very different kind of a boy. If the schoolmaster flogs him he pulls out his "gun" and shoots him. If his father sends him on an errand he declares that he has been humiliated, and goes out in the barn and hangs himself. If his mother scolds him for coming into the house without wiping his feet he drinks carbolic acid.—Philadelphia Record.

The Man Who Does Not.

The man who does not advertise simply because his grandfather did not ought to wear knee breeches and a queue.

The man who does not advertise because it costs money should quit paying rent for the same reason.

The man who does not advertise because he doesn't know how himself ought to stop eating because he can't cook.

The man who does not advertise because somebody said it did not pay ought not to believe that the world is round because the ancients said it was flat.—Exchange.

Mrs. W. H. Harrington Dead.

Mrs. Emma Harrington, wife of ex-sheriff W. H. Harrington, died just before noon today at their home in East Greenville. Mrs. Harrington had been in poor health for sometime. She was formerly Miss Emma Lancaster, of Rocky Mount, and was married to Mr. Harrington in the fall of 1891. The husband and two children survive her.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon in Cherry Hill cemetery.

Graded School Commencement.

The commencement exercises of Greenville graded school will take place tonight and tomorrow night in Masonic opera house. The program for both nights is published elsewhere in this paper. The exercises will be interesting and everybody is invited.

That Wasn't Much.

A man was writing the date today and put it May 16th, 1905. When his attention was called to it he said "Oh, that ain't much, just two years out of the way. Some folks miss their calculations much further than that."

The boys usually get credit of being the worst behaved part of an audience in the opera house, but that is not the case every time.

A runaway engine in the railroad shops at Spencer plowed through the wall of the building. Two men were seriously injured.

Auto Accident.

Wellington, Mass., May 16.—One man was killed and four injured today at a bridge crossing Mystic river. They were in a large touring car approaching the bridge at a 50-mile clip, when the car struck a curb and turned turtle.

Oil Barge Fire.

New York, May 16.—At the burning of an oil barge in one of the docks here this morning, nine firemen were badly burned or overcome by the smoke. Some daring rescues were made by firemen diving into the stifling smoke after their comrades. The acting fire chief is among the injured.

 Ashley Horne, of Johnston county, is announced among the candidates for nomination for governor by the next Democratic State convention.

That China can buy goods in America and ship them to China, then ship them back to America and sell them here at a lower price than the American manufacturer sells to the home people, is an evidence of how our tariff system robs the American consumer.

The Raleigh News and Observer on Wednesday began a new volume, and the paper that day was printed on a new press in its new office building. The News and Observer has just completed an ideal building in Raleigh and will have a "house warming" on the 27th. The growth of the paper has been remarkable and it has the largest circulation of any daily paper in that state.

Walking Corpses.

A gentleman of broad and careful observation said yesterday that all over North Carolina, all over everywhere else as to that matter, you may find crowds of walking corpses. In fact, he said that about half the people are walking about dead. They are aimless, lifeless, thoughtless, purposeless, hopeless, helpless—in fact, count for nothing but to fill up space. We heard the remark and did not question the correctness of the statement, neither did we agree. We just heard it and waited to think of it in quiet. And having thought more about it, we are inclined to give more credit to the statement than at first seemed reasonable. There is an old saying that with men generally failure is the rule and success is the exception. We believe, however, that it depends largely on what one regards as success. If one regards success in the light of money-making and getting together much of this world's goods, then the rule for most men is failure; but money is not the only proof of real success in this life. Many men have made great success who have had little of this world's possession. One of the greatest and best thinkers of all time said that he did not have time to make money. And so, while the statement that half the people are walking corpses may be taken with a grain of salt, it is nevertheless true that more people belong to that class than would be willing to admit it.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

Charlotte seems to be uncovering things. It leaks out that its former treasurer was short a thousand or more dollars. He had always been a straight, upright man but he fell. There was pity somewhere, for his friends made up the shortage as soon as known. There is a lesson in these things. Not every man can resist temptation; the opportunity stares him in the face and he succumbs. The point is to keep opportunity in the back around this can only be done by a strict system and strict surveillance. Charlotte, like some other towns we could mention, seems to have been laying stress on morality. There is no objection to this; all towns should do it, but not to the extent of neglecting other matters. Morality had no doubt been pressed to the front until the officials up that way saw that the only thing to do was to stay moral or appear moral—stand in with the push—and go ahead; they saw that no attention was being paid to other things and that is what happened to Jones. When any official gets it into his head that his crowd will keep him in at all hazards that minute he is a dangerous man. Honesty is a good thing to have and to practice.—Greensboro Record.

Quick as a Wink
 That exactly expresses it. Just as quickly as you can stir the contents of one package of Jell-O THE DAINTY DESSERT into a pint of boiling water, you will have prepared a dessert which will surprise and delight all who taste it. When it has become cold it will jellify and be ready to eat. For a more elaborate dessert try the following:
Banana Cream.
 Peel five large bananas, rub smooth with five teaspoonsful of sugar. Add one cup sweet cream beaten to a stiff froth, then one package of Lemon Jell-O dissolved in one and one-half cups of boiling water. Pour in mold or bowl and when cold garnish with canned cherries. Serve with whipped cream.

If your stomach heart or kidneys can't stand coffee drinking, try Health Coffee. It is wholesome, nourishing and satisfying. It's safe even for the smallest child. Sold by T. E. Ewoker & C.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.
 Kerosene Useful in Various Ways in Domestic Economy.
 Kerosene oil is a great help to loosen dirt, used in various ways. It is good for cleaning an iron sink. If the children's hands are stuck up with balsam or wagon grease, try rubbing them with a rag wet in kerosene before applying soap and water. If they get wagon grease on their clothes, a little soap and kerosene will take it out. To clean dirty clothes, such as coarse towels, take a tablespoonful of kerosene and a small piece of soap. Boil these together with a quart of water till it makes an emulsion. Put this in your boiler with enough cold water to cover your clothes and let it come to a boil, stirring the clothes occasionally. This saves a lot of hard rubbing.—Suburban Life.
 Salted Almonds.
 Salted almonds prepared at home always seem better than those purchased, perhaps because they are usually fresher. One only needs to blanch them and to each half pint add one tablespoonful of melted butter and one teaspoonful of fine salt. Stir well and then spread the nuts in a shallow cake tin, baking in a rather cool oven until the almonds become brown. This will take about twenty minutes.

Household Hints.
 Remove vaseline stains by washing in warm water and soap; rinse and apply chlorinated soda to the stain.
 To keep brass or copper bright for some time after cleaning rub it over with beaten white of egg.
 To prevent cane or bamboo from yellowing when washed use warm salt water; rub with soft cloths until dry.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of opium, chloroform or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in cough remedies. Dr. Shoop, it seems has welcomed the Pure Food Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines for many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure containers have had a warning printed on them against opium and other narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by Wooten's Drug Store.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

Story of a Suburbanite Who Forgot What He Forgot.

"Wait a minute," said the suburbanite. "I've forgotten something."
 "What?" asked the man who was generally his running mate.
 "I forgot what I've forgotten."
 "That's plain enough."
 "Too bad I can't remember it."
 "My dear fellow, can't you see how impossible it is to remember what we forget or what we forget we've forgotten?"
 "That's all right, but what'll my wife say when I tell her I forgot to get what she told me to? And she'll be still sorer if I tell her I didn't forget to get it, but that I had forgotten what I was to get. I can't tell her I knew I had forgotten to get what I had forgotten, but that I remembered I forgot, can I? She'll tell me I should have forgotten to forget it."
 "Oh, come on! Forget it."
 "You mean I should forget that I forgot what I had forgotten?"
 But just then the car came along, and as he took his seat near the stove he remarked to his neighbor, "I remember now."
 "Remember what?"
 "I remember what I've forgotten."
 "Look at the impossibility of that proposition. How can you remember what you have forgotten any more than you can forget what you remember?"
 "But I do remember. It was coffee. Can't you see how I've forgotten what I remember? And I remember what I forgot too. And I remember what I had forgotten I had forgotten."—Chicago Journal.

How He Won Her.

"The man I marry," said the girl in the parlor scene, "must be but a little lower than the angels."

"Well, what's the matter with me?" queried the young man as he dropped on his knees at her feet. "You see, I'm a little lower than one of them."—Houston Post.

What One of the Tonsorial Craft Has to Say About Them.

"Superstitious? I should say 'yes.' They won't admit it to any one except members of the craft, but barbers are the most superstitious people in the world."

The man in charge of the second chair at one of the large hotel shops stropped his razor and loquaciously continued:

"You see that new man down at the end chair? He just came to work here this morning, and he'll have a nice large can tied to his coat tonight. Why? Because he's left handed. If he remained here every barber in the shop would quit before the week was out."

"A left handed barber is a hoodoo to any shop, and there's no getting away from it. You may think that's only a prejudice that barbers have for left handed knights of the razor, but it's a well grounded superstition, as old as the trade itself."

"We'd be apt to have all kinds of hard luck if that fellow stayed here any length of time. I once worked in a New York shop where there was a left handed barber, and almost every day an accident would happen to some of the others. We told the proprietor where the trouble lay, but as he was not a barber he could not understand what difference it made whether a man shaved with his right or left hand."

"One day a runaway horse plunged through the plate glass window, and another day a mad dog ran into the shop, followed by a policeman, who killed the beast under the left handed man's chair. Without any apparent reason the hot water faucets would get cold as ice and the razors would refuse to work properly. Customers who for years had been in the habit of getting shaved three or four times a week stopped coming, and it was all due to that left handed barber. During all the while he was there not one of us won a bet on policy, although the porter used to dream some of the best numbers I ever saw. This fellow I speak of had red hair, and that, of course, made it worse. We finally induced the boss to fire him, and just as soon as he was gone things began to get good again."

"Now, this fellow on the end, who drifted in this morning, looks to be a pretty good barber, but just as soon as the boss saw him strop a razor with his left 'mitt' it was all off for Julius. In most shops before a new man is hired he is asked whether he is right or left handed."

"Left handed men who learn the trade get on to this after awhile, and then they switch to the right hand—that is, if they can make good with the right. I'm scared to death that somebody is going to get killed around here before 8 o'clock tonight, when his 'nibs' will take off his coat and take it away with him."

"Another superstition among barbers is that they don't want to shave the first customer that comes in on Monday morning. That's a sure sign of poor business all week for the unlucky barber. Of course somebody has got to shave the first man in, but you don't see the barbers rushing madly up to their chairs and beckoning to the customer. You'll see one of them go for a drink of water, another is too busy reading the sporting page to look up, and the others are all doing something that occupies their time. Whatever chair the customer climbs into the barber who runs it is hoodooed for the week."

"Another peculiarity about barbers is that one of the craft can tell a fellow tradesman by shaving him, although he may never have seen the man before. The way a barber lies in a chair when he is getting shaved and the way he unconsciously assists the man with the razor tip him off every time. He will turn his head from one side to the other in a different way than other men who are not barbers, and when the razor is on his neck he'll raise his chin in a way that cannot be counterfeited. I never missed out on calling the turn on a barber in my life."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Ugly and Knew It.

A gentleman once said to Lord North, "Pray, my lord, who is that extremely ugly woman sitting over there?"

"That's my youngest sister," said his lordship.

"Good gracious!" said the gentleman. "I don't mean her. I mean the next."

"That is my eldest sister," replied the nobleman.

"I protest!" cried the unhappy gentleman. "I don't mean her, but the third."

"That is my wife," said Lord North.

"The mischief!" ejaculated the poor fellow.

"You may well say that," said Lord North, "for she is ugly. But console yourself, my dear sir. We are the ugliest family in England."

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brings that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, distension, bad breath and salivary complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

Freak Newspapers.

Of freak newspapers one of the most remarkable was the Luminaria published in Madrid. The ink with which it was printed contained a small percentage of phosphorus, so that letters were visible, and the paper could be read in the dark. Another was the Regal, printed with an ink guaranteed non-poisonous, on thin sheets of dough. After absorbing all the information the sheet contained, one could eat it, thus deriving from it nourishment for mind and body.—The Bellman.

Egyptian Draughts.

The ancient Egyptians played a game somewhat like chess. It was called draughts. The two players sat on the ground or on chairs, and the pieces, or men, arranged at either end of the table, moved probably on a checkered board, as in modern chess. Egyptian representations of the game, always being given in profile, do not show either the exact appearance of the board or the number of squares the same contained. The game was very popular both in the homes of the poor and in the mansions of the rich. Even Ramesses is portrayed on the walls of his palace at Thebes engaged in playing the game.—Circle Magazine.

An Oriental Story.

There is an oriental story of two brothers, Ahmed and Omar. Both wished to perform a deed whose memory should not fail, but which might sound their name and praises. Omar, with wedge and rope, lifted an obelisk on its base, carving its form in beautiful devices and sculpturing many a strange inscription on its sides. He set it in the hot desert to cope with its gales. Ahmed, with deeper wisdom and truer though sadder heart, dug a well to cheer the sandy waste and planted about it tall date palms to make cool shade for the thirsty pilgrim and to shake down fruits for his hunger.

Bird's Nest of Five Tons.

The largest birds' nests are to be found in Australia. The Australian jungle fowl build for nests great mounds 15 feet in height and 125 to 150 feet in circumference. Grass, leaves and other vegetable matter are used in the construction of the nests, which easily weigh a ton. The Australian brush turkeys, working in colonies, build pyramidal nests even larger. One of these nests on being removed filled seven carts, and its total weight was five tons.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
