

GRADED SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

The Exercises a Great Success.

An immense throng gathered in the opera house Thursday night to witness the first entertainment of the closing exercises of Greenville graded school. The building was filled to overflowing and the exercises were entertaining to a high degree. Of course everybody feels a keen interest in little children and the part the first grade took in songs, drills and kindergarten games was much enjoyed. The children acquitted themselves most creditably.

The feature of the evening was the debate by the Grady Debating Society. The query was "Resolved, that foreign immigration would be beneficial to North Carolina." The affirmative was represented by Conrad Lanier, Alfred Schultz and Harry White and the negative by Ben Taylor and James Evans. One of the speakers for the negative, Charles Haskett, was sick and could not be present.

Each of the boys made excellent speeches and well sustained his side of the debate and received liberal applause. A gold medal was offered to the one who made the best debate in the contest.

While the committee selected to decide the contest as to which side won the debate and which speakers was entitled to the medal, was out considering the points, Superintendent Smith announced that the debating society itself had offered a medal to the member making the most improvement in debate during the past session. He said that while the contest for this had been strong it was decided by a vote of the society and had been awarded to Bruce Hooker. He called the winner to the stage and presented him with the medal.

The committee then rendered its decision on the debate of the evening, that the negative had won the contest, and awarded the medal for best debate to James Evans. The medal was presented by Mayor Wooten. While the committee in considering the real points of debate and language used decided that Mr. Evans' speech was best, the sentiment of the audience was largely with Ben Taylor. His speech delighted them more than any other and he received the great ovation. Many expressions were heard at the close of the exercises that he also should be given a medal, as he richly deserves one.

At the closing concert tonight the graduating class will read their essays and be presented with diplomas. Lieut. Governor F. D. Winston will deliver an address.

The Richmond Dispatch contains an account of a white girl being held in actual slavery by a farmer near Richmond. The girl, an orphan, was exchanged by the executor of her father's estate, there was some property, for an old horse, worth about fifty dollars. This happened ten years ago, at a time when the girl was too young to know anything about her rights, and she has been kept at the heaviest manual labor and reared in the most abject ignorance. The law will be invoked to liberate the girl, but it is hard to say what punishment is suitable and severe enough for the rascal who sold her into slavery.

The rain kept up a patter last night.

NOTICE

The people of the town and county, having voted in favor of issuing bonds to secure the location of the Eastern Training School in or near the town of Greenville, now becomes necessary to take up the question of securing a proper site for the same.

The State Board of Education is charged by law with selecting and determining this site, and that Board has said that they will not consider a site that contains less than twenty-five (25) acres.

The undersigned committee, therefore beg all persons having a suitable site, to submit to this committee sealed proposals for a site of not less than 25 acres, to be made upon blanks which anyone can obtain for that purpose by applying to A. L. Blow Secretary Committee. It is hoped that those offering sites will exercise all possible liberality in the location, price, etc., and they are requested to give a general description of the site in filling up the blanks.

The bids or offers for site should be handed to A. L. Blow Secty before 6:00 p. m. on Friday the 24th instant. After the bids are in the persons making them will be expected to put their offers in legal forms by giving to the State Board of Education an option on such site conditioned in accordance with the offer, and also, upon the location of the school by State Board on site so offered. Any person or persons may make any number of different propositions, provided the site offered contained not less than twenty five acres.

This committee wishes to emphasize the fact that the acceptance or rejection of any proposed site, rests solely with the State Board of Education, and all sites offered of twenty five acres or more will be submitted to them and that this committee is simply taking this action for the purpose of getting the matter in proper shape for the consideration of the State Board of Education.

Respectfully,
Thomas J. Jarvis,
H. A. White,
J. L. Wooten,
A. L. Blow,
L. E. A. Moye,
H. W. Whedbee,
W. H. Ragsdale.

A Chicago man took his life for six reasons, or an account of six circumstances which he called reasons: He had been dissatisfied since he was a child, he had been handicapped through life with deformed feet, one side of his body has been paralyzed for ten years his right hand had been ruined by an accident, he had been a sufferer from neuralgia, and he had been up against a score of financial misfortunes. The man surely lacked a good deal of having average blessings, but there have been many men and women who have lived their natural term of life and lived it cheerfully and bravely under worse misfortunes. There is never any excuse for suicide, though there is no room for harsh criticism of the Chicago man. The first reason that he advanced for his rash act, namely, that he had been dissatisfied since he was a child, was probably the circumstance which led to his untimely end. A discontented man is liable to take his life even when he has not the physical infirmities which Beauford L. Leeds, of Chicago, suffered. — Greensboro Telegram.

TO CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

General Carr's Call to Reunion at Richmond, May 30th.

Durham, N. C., May 11.—The seventeenth annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans will be held in the city of Richmond, beginning on Thursday, May 30, and ending June 3, 1907. As North Carolina sent to Richmond during the war between the states more soldiers than any other state, except Virginia, so at this reunion at the former capital of the southern confederacy, North Carolina should send more veterans than any other state. It is earnestly hoped therefore, that there will be a grand outpouring of the old "Tarheels" at this great reunion.

All veterans of this division are requested on their arrival at Richmond, to report and register at the headquarters selected for North Carolina, at Sanger Hill, on Seventh street, between Clay and Broad streets. They can there meet each other and their visitors from each other states, and make themselves at home. The hospitable and public-spirited citizens of Richmond have made arrangements to feed and lodge all veterans who are unable to pay, but they must notify at once the chairman of the entertainment committee, Capt. D. A. Brown, Jr., of Richmond, and secure their quarters in advance, and not wait until they arrive at Richmond. This is very important, and unless such is done veterans need not expect to be entertained free.

Special trains as may be desired will be run by the Southern and the Atlantic Coast Line and the rate on all will be one cent a mile each way. The exact fare from every station can be learned by application to local railroad agents.

It is suggested that every veteran from this state wear on the lapel of his coat a sprig of long leaf pine, as an appropriate badge for Tarheels.

The veterans of this division will have the honor of having as their sponsor the granddaughter of Stonewall Jackson, Miss Julia Jackson Christian.

By order of
Maj. Gen. J. S. Carr.

Secretary R. D. W. Connor has issued an official notice that the session of the North Carolina Teachers Assembly that was to have been held in Durham this year is cancelled on account of the burning of Hotel Carolina. The secretary states that it would be impossible to arrange for holding the assembly at any other point this year and loss of the financial aid that Durham was to have given would make it impossible for the assembly to meet this year now without the loss of several hundred dollars. All these things make it the part of wisdom to hold no session this year. Secretary Connor says preparations are already on foot for the holding of the greatest session next summer in the history of the assembly. It will be the twenty-fifth anniversary and the purpose is to make it an epoch in the history of the educational development of the State.

Grifton Graded School Closes.

The closing exercises of Grifton graded school took place last night and today. Lieut. Governor F. D. Winston made the commencement address there today. We hope "Vanderbilt" will send us a good report of the school closing, as the editor could not divide himself up and be at three commencements today.

ANY OLD STAMPS.

A Particular Kind Not Necessary for Special Delivery After July First.

Washington, D. C., May 15.—No special delivery postage stamps will be needed after the first of next July to insure immediate delivery of a letter. Pursuant to an act of the last session of Congress, Postmaster General Meyer today issued an order that on and after July 1, next, if there is attached to any letter of package of mail matter ten cents worth of stamps, of any denomination with the words, "special delivery," written or printed on the envelope or covering, in addition to the postage required for ordinary delivery, the article will be handled as if it bore a regulation special delivery stamp.

Five Hundred Children Sing.

Special to Reflector.

Washington, D. C., May 17.—The festival committee has arranged its third outdoor annual song festival, at which five hundred children will sing at the New National Theatre for the benefit of the school playgrounds. On account of the public nature of the event, the Navy Department has interested itself in the extent of practically assuring the committee that the Marie Band shall accompany the big chorus, and assist in the entertainment by rendering several important numbers. Great interest has been taken in the festival by the art students of the various high schools, who completed a large number of great art posters to advertise the event. These greatly pleased the committee and prizes were offered for more of such work.

Four Legged Duck.

There is now at the drug store of Hackney Bros., a curiosity in the shape of a young duck. This fowl was hatched by W. G. Crabtree, Jackson street, and lived for some days. It has four well formed legs but only one body and one head. The young duck died and was then taken to the drug store named and is now being preserved in alcohol.—Durham Herald.

Thought Postmaster Should Know.

A man dropped a letter in the post office that failed to have an address on it. The letter was placed in his box so the address could be put on. Upon getting the letter of his box he said "Umph!" I thought a postmaster was smart enough to send a letter if it didn't have an address on it. Anybody would know where to send it was addressed."

Looks Like Greenville.

The bond election in Pitt county to vote $50,000 to the Eastern State Industrial school carried by a good majority. Greenville voted $75,000 for the same purpose a few days ago all of which makes Greenville, Pitt county, loom up very large on the map as being an especially available place for the school.—New Bern Journal.

Russell's "Brainstorms."

The comment Judge Parnell has to make upon ex-Governor Russell's roast of himself is that Russell is suffering from "brainstorm." By whatever term he may designate it, Judge Parnell is bound to admit that when the gray matter in Governor Russell's cranium gets busy something usually drops.—Salisbury Post.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town.
Ayden, N. C. May 17, 1907.

Rev. J. R. Moose, a returned missionary from Corea, will lecture in the Methodist church here May 23rd at 4 o'clock in the afternoon to the ladies, and at night he will lecture to the public generally. He has many curios and other relics of that country the explanation of which will make his lectures the more interesting. All are invited to attend.

Prof. J. A. McArthur left Wednesday for the commencement at Winterville after which he will go to his home to spend the summer. He has been unanimously re-elected principal of the graded school here for next year. He has by his gentlemanly courtesy and polite conduct rendered himself very popular with all classes of our people. In manner he reminds us very forcibly of Prof. Harry Harding whom every one in Greenville knows as the very quintessence of politeness and fitness of a Chesterfield. Ayden is fortunate in securing the services of this estimable gentleman and teacher. She is indeed to be congratulated and all will hail with delight the return of Prof. McArthur next fall. His address during the summer will be Fayetteville, N. C.

It is very gratifying to the many friends of civilization, advancement and progress that the bond issue won out in the recent election. It is only too sadly evident that many among us are to learn the ignorant man or woman of this progressive age is out of it.

In a game of ball yesterday at Winterville between the Ayden and Winterville teams there were only two innings played which resulted in a score of 3 to 0 in favor of Ayden. Rain broke up the game.

The postoffice here we learn is to be remodeled, newly painted and otherwise changed that will make it a credit to the town.

G. W. Dail has been on a visit to Vanceboro.

D. G. Berry, J. T. Smith, Jr., E. G. Cox and Robert Worthington attended the meeting of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows at Elizabeth City this week.

The commencement exercises of the Free Will Seminary will take May 28, 29, 30.

Wednesday a large number of our citizens in carriages, buggies and wagons went out to Rizzell's mill pond, about three miles in the country and enjoyed a delightful picnic. There was a large crowd with plenty of something good to eat and not a jar to molest or disturb the pleasantness of the occasion. Our girls all came back in town singing "Oh! where's Bud Joe."

All the lady teachers of the graded school have gone to their homes for vacation. They will return about September to resume their duties having been re-elected to the positions which they occupied and which they so acceptably filled.

Important Notice.

All the ladies of the Methodist church are most earnestly requested to meet at the church Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Matters of great importance in regards to the missionary meeting of next week are to be considered. Let all be present at this the last meeting. Mrs. H. L. Carr, Chm. Com.

Don't forget the reception at Carolina Club tonight. Every body invited.

FRIDAY MAY 16th 1907.

Maybe the way he spelled his name, Franc, had something to do with his going wrong.

The debate Thursday night shows that Greenville has some coming orators, too.

There will be plenty of candidates for governor by the time the returns are all in.

Of course Pitt is the greatest county in the State. Everybody will concede that after a while.

Adams is apparently just finding out the kind of man Butler really is. The balance of us know it all along.

There seem to be enough other things interesting the country just now, so the president is doing nothing out of the ordinary.

When some men play a thing for politics, and see the props all get knocked from under them, wonder if the fall don't make them feel bad.

When Greenville does get in the midst of the municipal campaign, lets try and not do like some other towns in the State in stirring up a lot of bad feeling.

Pitt county does not fail to feel good over the result of the bond election which makes it almost certain that the county will get the Eastern training school for teachers.

It is not the price wheat is bringing now that interests the farmers down this way, as they have none to sell. But the price they pay for flour is giving them some concern.

Our Kind.

Greenville voted the $75,000 proposed bond issued to secure the Eastern training school without a dissenting vote, Tuesday, May 7, and every man registered voted except 8. That's a citizenship to be proud of. There are men whose view is so obscured by a dollar that they can see no further into the future than they could into a millstone. Greenville is to be congratulated. -Snow Hill Laconic.

Our Home does not believe in distributing public offices that carry with them the responsibility of dealing with the public in a business way, as slices of charity. To be plain we do not believe in putting a man in office to manage other people's business just because he has failed to manage his own private affairs successfully and puts up a pitiful plea to be fed out of the public crib. If a man is an object of charity and deserves help, by all means help him by voluntary contribution and not by putting him in a responsible position to manage other people's business for them.

It seems strange to the average citizen of our great Republic

lic that the birth of any baby should have created such a sensation in Spain as did the birth last week of the young king's son and heir. When its birth was announced cannons boomed, bands played, trumpets blared and the people shouted with joy. All Spain rejoiced and this utmost enthusiasm prevailed. And yet just as fine babies are born every day in the free land of ours, and no public demonstration whatever is ever made! -Pittsboro Record.

There are candidates galore for the governorship, but the fight will narrow down, we predict, to Kitchen and Craig, and these gentlemen have the stuff in them to put up a real fight. Either would make an admirable governor. Both are men of which the Democratic party of North Carolina may well feel proud. -Greensboro Telegram.

A John D. Rockefeller term. Mr. Rockefeller is something of a dialect expert, and some of the stories he regaled us with were of the Hibernian, German and southern type, writes Victor A. Watson in the New York American. One of the former was: "An old lady went to a haberdashery and called for a 'craveit' (cravat). The clerk said he thought she meant a necktie and directed her to the next counter. "Oi want a craveit for me husband," said she to the second clerk. "Don't you mean a necktie?" "Sure, an' that's phwat Oi sed." "Well, I'll recommend this beautiful green one for you. Your husband will like it." "Sure, an' me husband will have no choice i' th' matter. He's a corpse."

Before Longfellow Died. The breeziest reminiscence of Longfellow is this extract from one of the poet's letters which his grandson has been reading in public: "As I was standing at my front door this morning a lady in black came up and asked, 'Is this the house where Longfellow was born?' "No, he was not born here." "Did he die here?" "Not yet." "Are you Longfellow?" "I am." "I thought you died two years ago." -Boston Herald.

American Navy is Third. Investigation by the navy department shows that the United States stands third as a naval power and Japan fifth and that if all the ships now building in the two navies were completed the relative positions would remain the same. The warship tonnage of the world on Feb. 2 stood: Great Britain, 1,612,857; France, 625,498; United States, 525,970; Germany, 475,067; Japan, 347,461; Russia, 261,945; Italy, 204,253; Austria, 114,127.

Singers of the Future. The prediction is made by one giving much thought to music that the majority of the American singers of the future will hail from the south. This belief is founded on the fact that the people of southern climes have the soft voices and temperament requisite to the success of a singer. The prediction is of especial interest, as it comes from a woman of New England origin and training. -Circle Magazine.

INSECT WISDOM.

The Wonderful Ratiocinatory Power of the Busy Bee.

It would be easy without appeal in any prehistoric event to bring together a large number of facts that would show that the faculty of adaptation and intelligent progress is not reserved exclusively for the human race.

Transported to Australia or California, our black bee completely alters her habits. After one or two years, finding that summer is perpetual and flowers forever abundant, she will live from day to day, content to gather the honey and pollen indispensable for the day's consumption, and, her recent and thoughtful observation triumphing over hereditary experience, she will cease to make provision for her winter. Buchner mentions an analogous fact, which also proves the bee's adaptation to circumstances, not slow, secular, unconscious and fatal, but immediate and intelligent. In Barbados the bees whose hives are in the midst of the refineries, where they find sugar in plenty during the whole year, will entirely abandon their visits to the flowers.

Let us lastly recall the amusing contradiction which the bees gave to two learned English entomologists, Kirby and Spence.

"Show us," said these, "a single case in which, under stress of circumstances, the bees have had the idea of substituting clay or mortar for wax and propolis, and we will admit their reasoning faculties."

Hardly had they expressed this somewhat arbitrary wish when another naturalist, Andrew Knight, having coated the bark of certain trees with a sort of cement made of wax and turpentine, observed that his bees entirely ceased to gather propolis and used only this new and unknown substance, which they found prepared for them in abundance in the neighborhood of their home. Moreover, in the practice of agriculture, when pollen is scarce, the beekeeper has but to place at their disposal a few pinches of flour for them to understand at once that this can serve the same purpose and be turned to the same use as the dust of the anthers, although its taste, smell and color are absolutely different.—Maurice Maeterlinck in Harper's.

Artemus Ward.

There was something very fascinating in his presence. Never was a man more misunderstood. He had not one trace of coarseness or real awkwardness. Though far from handsome, he had a fine, lithe figure, with smooth, light hair, teeth white and delicate and the most beautiful hands. His voice was peculiarly soft, and his whole demeanor was that of a well bred, sensitive and modest gentleman. Even his most intimate friends could hardly understand why nothing of the clown ever cropped out in facial or bodily contortion when he was saying his odd things, but surely it never did, and his perfect poise and gravity on these occasions no one who knew him can ever forget. Artemus Ward had no trace of local coloring or local prejudice, nor was his speech marked by a single provincialism. He was a cosmopolitan gentleman.—Putnam's Monthly.

Got the Best of Bismarck.

When "Bull Run" Russell was with the German army in 1870 he reported a long interview with the crown prince (Frederick), some expressions in which gave umbrage to Bismarck. Bismarck sent for him, lost his temper and said, "I suppose you couldn't resist showing your importance by reporting all that that 'dunderhead' confided to you?" Russell replied: "Your excellency knows that I always respect confidence. There is much that you have said to me yourself that I have not reported." "Pouf! Anything I say to you you may bawl from the top of St. Paul's." "I thank your excellency," said Russell. "I shall use that permission to record your opinion of the crown prince."

Stains on Leather.

Stains from leather are removed by the use of paraffin. It likewise gives a brilliant polish. To remove sugar and sirup stains wash the stained part with warm water without soap, then rub with ammonia diluted with warm water. If not washable, use diluted alcohol.

Baked Shad.

Clean a shad and stuff with mashed potatoes to which is added a teaspoon of finely minced parsley. Lay the fish on a baking dish on several slices of salt pork. Bake and baste often with the fat from the pork.

The Care of Carpets.

Sponge carpets occasionally with hot water in which either common salt or powdered alum has been dissolved. This not only brightens the carpets, but prevents moths.

COLD FEET.

This Trouble Is Due to Defective Circulation of the Blood.

Many persons are seldom really comfortable as regards their feet, except perhaps in midsummer. Their feet are always cold, not only during the day, but also at night, especially when in bed. Associated with this condition we often find chilblains—not so frequently in this country as in England, yet often enough to warrant a few words regarding their prevention and cure.

Persistently cold feet are due to defective circulation. There is a lack of tone in the blood vessels or a weakness in the contractile force of the heart, which results in a stagnation in the outlying parts of the body. The sufferer from cold feet usually has cold hands as well and is in danger of having his ears frostbitten on a stinging cold day if he does not keep them well rubbed or protected by ear mitts.

One who is troubled with this condition should have the feet well protected by stout shoes with thick soles, which will keep out the moisture, and if the feet have been wet there should be no delay in changing shoes and stockings on returning home. Overshoes may be worn on cold and snowy days, but rubbers should be avoided, except the kind that cover only the soles of the shoes, which are sometimes necessary, since waterproof soles are unfortunately seldom found on the ordinary shoe.

Better, however, than protecting the feet by extra covering is treatment directed to improving the local and general circulation. The best local treatment is by means of water. Night and morning the feet should be immersed in hot water for a minute, then plunged into cold water—the colder the better—kept there while one counts ten slowly and then rubbed briskly with a coarse towel until they are thoroughly dry. They should then be stroked for a minute or two, with the hands pressed firmly against the skin, in an upward direction. This treatment should be kept up for a long time—a year or two if necessary, until the tone of the vessels is restored.

As the condition is one of faulty general circulation, general treatment should also be instituted. Indeed habitually cold feet and hands constitute a danger signal. The sufferers are in a condition of weak resistance and are especially prone to become consumptive. Fatty foods are usually required, especially butter and cream.

If the simple uses of water that have been indicated and changes in diet do not overcome the tendency a physician should be consulted, for there is a constitutional fault that calls for remedy.—Youth's Companion.

The Tactful Woman.

A fashionably attired young woman seated between two strange men in a Sixth Avenue elevated car started suddenly, felt twice in her muff, rose and looked at the seat, then anxiously scanned the floor.

"Anything wrong, madam?" one of the men asked.

"Yes, I've lost my purse," the young woman snapped. "I'm sure I had it when I entered the car."

And she fixed the men on either side of her alternately with a stare. Both flushed and hastened to aid in a vain search.

"Well, it's very queer," the victim exclaimed. "Now I'll have to go back."

She left the train at the next station, and two wholly innocent and reputable citizens rode on downtown, each wondering if the other was a thief.—New York Globe.

His Way of Pairing.

A number of years ago at a small town in Maine an important local election was to take place, and there was strong rivalry between the Republicans and Democrats. Old Hiram Morse, the blacksmith, was a strong Democrat, but many of the farmers were Republicans. On the morning of the election a farmer came to have his horse shod. The blacksmith said to him: "We're both busy. You're a Republican, and I'm a Democrat. Let's pair off. We'll neither of us vote, and it will amount to the same as if both went to the polls." This was agreed upon. After election it was found out that Morse had paired off with five Republican farmers.

Moan.

A lady was reproaching a bachelor friend for never having married when her husband, a little bored perhaps, said gruffly:

"He says he could have cut me out and married you if he had wanted to."

The lady started. "Indeed!" she cried. "Why didn't he do it, then?"

"He says he owed me a grudge," the husband explained, with a chuckle.

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured. MRS. LORING NICHOLS, Penn Yan, N. Y.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

TOUGH OLD CANNON.

A good story is being told at the Mare Island navy yard concerning a San Francisco contractor, who bought all the old obsolete cannon which were sold at the local yard some time ago. The cannon were all of the smoothbore kind, and in order that they might be easily handled for shipment to the city all sorts of schemes were tried in an endeavor to break them with dynamite and blasting powder, but they were unsuccessful. An electric drill machine was even set up at the yard, and the cannon were drilled full of holes in order to weaken them for breaking open with wedges, but this was also unsuccessful. The cannon were then taken away, and the last heard of them they were corralled in the hills near Point Richmond, where an effort was being made to break them open with dynamite again. The cannon which proved to be so strong were among the armament of the war craft which sailed the seas in 1812. —San Francisco Chronicle.

Squaw at a Bank.

A full blood Indian squaw attired in the regulation costume of a well bred society woman in Indian life—brightly colored blanket and skirt with beaded leggings and moccasins, with the latest approved Cheyenne coiffure, which is the same they have been wearing the past hundred years—was recently seen to walk into the El Reno State bank and fill out a check in a full round hand, which she presented at the proper window and received her pin money, supposedly. The officials at the bank say it is a common occurrence, but to the average citizen it seemed a singular proceeding.—El Reno American.

A Curious Cave.

An immense natural cave of great beauty has been discovered underlying three of the principal streets of Constantine, Algeria. The interior is of dazzling white stone, worn by the forces of nature into all kinds of fantastic and beautiful forms. There are three ponds, the water being lukewarm and crowded with fish.
