

THEY ALL MADE EXCUSE.

THE VOTE FOR BONDS.

OVER IN MARTIN.

PERSONAL POINTS.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

It Takes the Lieutenant Governor to Tell it on Them.

There is no mistaking the fact that Lieut.-Governor F. D. Winston loves a joke, and he lets pass no good opportunity to make or tell one. On his visit to Pitt county last week he made one that is too good to let pass without telling.

He spoke at Grifton Friday at the closing of the graded school in that town, and several gentlemen went down, both for the purpose of attending the commencement exercises there and to escort Judge Winston back to Greenville where he was to speak that night. These gentlemen were Senator J. L. Fleming, Superintendent W. H. Ragsdale, R. W. King, chairman of the board of county commissioners, L. C. Arthur, member of the board of education, and Esquire C. D. Rountree.

It so happened that these gentlemen went up in a body to greet Judge Winston, and instantly his face beamed with merriment in anticipation of a bit of fun he was going to have at their expense.

"What meaneth this delegation?" he inquired. "I imagine you have formed a conspiracy to influence my vote for the location of the training school, and if it can be proven on you I shall have you all arrested for attempted intimidation Senator, explain yourself!" he demanded.

"No, governor," rejoined Senator Fleming, "that is not our mission. Doubtless you recall our happy meetings together in the recent State senate over which you presided with such marked ability, therefore for 'auld acquaintance sake' I came down to greet you and bid you welcome to Pitt the best county in the State."

"A rather plausible excuse and you stand acquitted," the judge replied with a bow. "Ragsdale, what is your plea?" he said turning to the professor.

"Well, judge, you know I am superintendent of public schools of the county, and as this school at Grifton is under my supervision it was fitting that I should come down to see that the closing exercises are carried out with credit to the community and honor to our distinguished guest."

"Judgment is suspended on condition that your duty is well performed and I don't catch you making eyes at the teachers," he replied. "And you, sir?" this time addressing Mr. Arthur.

"Likewise, governor, I have the honor of being a member of the board of education of this grand old county, and having deep interest in the welfare of our schools I get around to some of them occasionally to see how they are getting on."

"Another slips through the meshes. Now, Dick, it is your turn," referring to Mr. King.

"You know, judge, its a matter of business with me. I am chairman of the board of county commissioners and had to come down to look after a bridge we are going to build across the creek here."

"Oh, that's slim, yet it may have to pass. But if you don't get to looking after that bridge pretty quick I shall think you guilty."

By this time all had run the gauntlet but 'Squire Rountree. He had bravely faced all kinds of battles in the war, but was getting a little nervous under this charade. His eyes were blinking, the speed of his teeth had quick-

County Commissioners Canvass the Returns

The board of county commissioners, every member present, met at noon today to receive and canvass the returns of the bond election held on the 14th, and to declare the result of said election. The finding of the canvass on the returns from the different precincts was as follows:

Precinct	Reg Vote	For Bonds	Against Bonds
Baver Dam	107	61	22
Belvoir	93	31	39
Rethel	191	80	55
Carolina	209	33	144
Chicod	377	255	21
Cont'ta No 1	430	197	121
Cont'ta No 2	108	43	130
Falkland	186	68	76
Farmville	195	53	87
Greenville	733	656	10
Pactolus	107	70	3
Total	3008	1680	730

The returns show that 598 of the registered voters of the county did not vote at all, and these added to the 730 voting against bonds makes 1328 of the registered vote stand against bonds and 1680 for bonds, a majority of 352 for bonds. In the actual voting the number cast for bonds was 950 over the number cast against bonds.

Pilgrims to Jackson's Home.

Special to Reflector. Nashville, Tenn., May 20.—The Hermitage, Gen. Jackson's old home is the scene today of a pilgrimage from St. Louis. The Jefferson Club, one of the most notable organizations of St. Louis, conducts the pilgrimage. Gov. Joseph Folk, of Missouri, and William Jennings Bryan, of Nebraska and several hundreds of St. Louis Democrats are with the club. A number of the pilgrims made speeches and Gov. Patterson, of Tennessee, also delivered an address. This is not the first pilgrimage of the Jefferson Club. Two years ago its members made a similar pilgrimage to Monticello, the home of Jefferson.

Conspiracy Charged on Today.

Special to Reflector. Baltimore, Md., May 20.—Today will be tried the conspiracy to defraud against Olin Bryan and Walter A. Mason. They are charged with having conspired to defraud the Mutual Reinsurance Company of $49,550, in March 1905.

New Boat Arrives.

Capt. Ola Forbes, and the party who went to Morehead City to return with him, arrived here about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon on his new yacht, Eagle, that he had built at Morehead. The boat is a beauty and many people have been to the wharf to see it. As soon as the Eagle is inspected for service by government officials, Capt. Forbes will take her to Norfolk to run between that city and the exposition grounds.

Williamston Enterprise Harshly Criticizes Chairman of Board of Commissioners and Latter Replies.

On the first Monday in this month the chamber of commerce of the town of Washington tried to get the board of commissioners of Martin county to adopt a resolution endorsing Washington for the location of the Eastern training school. The Williamston Enterprise gave the following account of what transpired in the meeting:

"There was a warm time when the commissioners began to consider and discuss the location of the Eastern training school. The sentiment of the majority of those present was for the location of the school at Washington. The chairman of the board was in favor of Greenville. A vote was taken to decide what point should be endorsed by this county and two of the three commissioners voted for Washington, the chairman voting for Greenville. The warm time mentioned came when the chairman refused to sign the order of the commissioners. Judge Hobbs, who was in the commissioners' office at the time, reminded the chairman that it was not a personal matter that the commissioners were voting upon, but it interested the people of Martin county, and as a representative of the people it was his duty to sign the order. At this the chairman became very indignant and so much enraged that he ordered the clerk of the court to leave and stop interfering with his business. The clerk very rightly told him to put him out. There was, of course, no effort made to put the clerk out.

"The commissioners' meeting adjourned and still the chairman had not signed the order endorsing Washington as the location desired by the people of Martin for the training school."

In the same paper was an editorial harshly criticizing Mr. Salsbury, chairman of the board, for his refusal to concur in the resolution, and in the next issue of the Enterprise was published the following card from Mr. Salsbury in explanation of his action.

Mr. Editor:—Having been very much misrepresented in the last issue of your paper and misunderstood as to my intentions and actions at our last meeting of the board of county commissioners in regard to the resolutions endorsing Washington, N. C. as the place for the Eastern training school, I desire to herewith state the facts in order that the people of Martin may understand my position. I am accused of becoming very indignant at Judge Hobbs, simply because he reminded me that it was not a personal matter upon which the board was voting. The facts of this matter is, the editor is publishing things which he does not understand, thereby placing me before my people in a wrong light. I wish to remind the editor that this was a personal matter in one sense, and that each commissioner was voting his own personal opinion, as a member of the board, there having been nothing done to ascertain the sentiments of the people. Therefore, the editor should think and understand things more fully before placing any citizen in a false light. I did not think that I had a right to vote for it as a representative of the people, but as an individual member of the board. As long as I remain in office I shall never vote away the rights of the people, before ascertaining their sentiments. Too much of this kind of thing has already been done by public officers. Some seem to think as Vanderbilt does "The people be damned" but I think that their rights should be carefully guarded. I wish to state that I did not become indignant at Judge Hobbs because he reminded me that this was not a personal matter, but I did become indignant when he asserted that I was trying to run the board. We had discussed this matter pro and con for some time, each giving his views.

Judge Hobbs continually insisted that I did not look at the matter in the right way. I contended and still contend that Greenville is the most central point and a more healthful place, and that we should take a broad view and try to locate it in the interest of all the Eastern counties. After the vote had been taken, and I had instructed our clerk to draw up a set of resolutions, stating just how the vote stood, two for, and one against. Whereupon Mr. Hobbs said I ought to sign it, and that it was not a personal matter, but interested the people of the county. I said that I would not sign the resolutions, as it would make it a unanimous vote. Then was when he remarked that I was trying to run the board, and continued to talk upon the subject, detaining me from my duties. Instead of me trying to run the board, it looked very much like Judge Hobbs was trying to run it. It was very necessary that I proceed rapidly with the work in order to clear it up that day, this I could not do as Judge Hobbs continued to make remarks about the matter, which had been laid aside. I therefore asked Mr. Hobbs to stop talking or leave the room. I remarked to Mr. Hobbs that I would not dare go in his office and unnecessarily detain him from his regular duties.

With the strain of our regular work, we had in connection, to draw the jurors, to hold the meeting of the sanitary board, county superintendent to be elected and numerous other things. Therefore I was not in a condition to take an insult without resenting it. I regret the difficulty very much, as I have always held a great esteem for the Hon. Judge Hobbs, and did all I could to get him first nominated for clerk. I have always done my duty, and tried to do what I thought was right for the interest of the people and I trust they will see this matter in the proper light, though if I should be condemned for it I would say away with all offices, if I must sit and be dictated to by any one. R. H. Salsbury.

Modern Criminals.

In extension of the failure of the present New York detective bureau to run down present day big cases, a retired detective sergeant declared a few days ago that the criminal of today was a better educated, more cunning and more clever man than the malefactor of twenty-five years ago. "Detective work is a dozen times harder today than it was twenty-five or thirty years ago," he said. "The thieves, for one thing, are now much better educated than they were. A new generation of daring and clever crooks has sprung up, and they are very smart. Therefore a detective has to work much harder to catch them than we did when I first started out."

A Curious Band.

Probably the most extraordinary band on earth is that which is stationed in the Imperial palace at Moscow. A famous composer was recently taken into a darkened room to hear one of his new compositions played by this band. The composer was mystified until the lights were raised, when 200 soldiers were revealed, each with a horn or trumpet in his hand varying in size from one and one-half inches to twenty feet. Each instrument and each performer produced only a single note, but the playing was so perfect that the sound was just as if from one grand instrument played upon by a master hand.

A Motor Toll Road.

With a few exceptions, the toll road in this country is a thing of the past. A project, however, is now on foot to construct the greatest toll road in the world between New York and Chicago for the use of automobiles. If built it will have a roadway sixty-six feet wide, cost $10,000,000 and be the most perfect road in the world. Motorists would pay a toll of 1 cent per mile, or $10 for the round trip, and motor cars in which the public may ride as passengers would run daily between stated points for fare—Argonaut.

Why the South is Spending Money.

The careful student of year-by-year developments recognizes that mighty things have been wrought in the South in the past 10 years, and understands why on every side, in the city, in town and in country, building improvements representing the expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars are under way, first class streets and rural high-ways are being made, sewerage and drainage systems, water works and electric-light systems are being installed, railroads are double-tracking and extending their lines, modern docks and terminal facilities are being built; and, understanding these things, he sees why the call for labor, on the farm, in the field, in the mill, in the factory, in the lumber camp and in the mine, is far in excess of the supply.—From Manufacturers' Record, May 9.

MONDAY MAY 20th 1907.

MR. SAULSBURY IS RIGHT.

It seems that the board of commissioners of Martin county, at their meeting the first Monday in May, undertook to endorse our neighboring town of Washington as the proper place for the location of the Eastern training school. It also seems that the board was seriously divided and that some unpleasantness occurred between the chairman of the board and the clerk of the court who spoke for Washington. An editorial followed in the Williamston Enterprise which Mr. Saulsbury, the chairman of the board, thinks does him an injustice and to which he has replied. We take pleasure in publishing this reply in The Reflector today.

The boards of county commissioners are created by law and they have jurisdiction over such matters as are set out in the laws of the State and no other. The location of the Eastern training school is not one of the matters over which the county commissioners of Martin and Hyde have jurisdiction. When corporate bodies of any kind undertake to do things over which they have no jurisdiction, their action is ultra vires and of no effect. It therefore follows that the action of the board of commissioners of Martin was purely personal and can only be received and treated as the individual opinion and preference of the three excellent gentlemen who compose the board. Mr. Saulsbury was everlasting right when he said that the action of the board was not official but purely personal. We feel confident that the State board of education will attach the same importance to the action of the Martin county board that it will to the recommendation of any other three good citizens of that good old county, and no more.

While Greenville will appreciate any good word spoken in her by any citizen of Martin or any other county, she has appealed to her own county for help save her own great county of which she is a part. School buildings cannot be erected on resolutions and recommendations. It takes something more substantial, and Greenville, with help of her own county, is preparing to offer that.

In this day and time people need to hear more sermons like the one delivered by Rev. J. E. Ayscue in the Memorial Baptist church Sunday morning. His text was "Ye are the light of the world," and from this he pointed out several things practiced by some church members—social drinking, card parties, punch bowl entertainments, dancing, etc.—that dim their Christian light and sap their lives of spiritual influence and usefulness in Christ's service. It was a well applied sermon and struck deeply at evils that largely exist today. That the practice of these things has crippled the churches of Greenville in their high mission of leading people to Christ is evidenced by the long time it has been since there was a conversion in any church in the community. If such things go on, the condition of society in the next generation can be well imagined. Church members need to improve the shining qualities of their Christian light.

Does not look like Mr Bryan wants it so bad, as he has recommended Hoker Smith, of Georgia, as the next Democratic nominee for president.

Couldn't do it. Willie (who was traveling alone for the first time, to conductor)—What is the meaning of "W" and "R" on the signposts along the road?

Conductor—Mind and whistle. Willie (after a pause)—I can see how "W" stands for whistle, but I'm blessed if I can see how "R" stands for whistle.

The Appian Way.

The Appian Way, the oldest and best of all the Roman roads, was begun by the decemvir, Appius Claudius, B. C. 315. This famous road led from Rome to Capua, a distance of 125 miles. The Romans called it the "queen of roads," and so solidly was it built that to this day parts of it are still in use.

Panama Canal—Eric Canal. STAT OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, Lucas County.

Machinery is digging the Panama canal a thousand times quicker than the shovel dug the Erie. Machinery produces the L & M paint at 50 times less cost for labor, than if made by hand. The L & M. gives the best job in the world, because L & M. Zinc hardens L & M. White lead and makes L & M. paint wear like iron for 10 to 15 years. It only requires 4 gallons of this celebrated paint and 3 gallons of Linseed Oil at 60 ct per gallon, to paint a moderate sized house. If any defect exists in L & M. Paint, will repaint house for nothing. Sold by H. L. Carr, Greenville. 5 2w

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

Was Not the Only Husband in the Same Fix.

When an old lawyer who has had a great deal of experience meets with a case that he declares unique it is sure to be something very much out of the common.

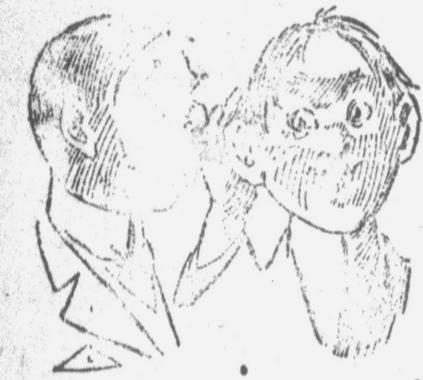

"I had a man come to my office the other day," relates an attorney who has long done business on Broadway street, "to have me make a deed for a nice piece of real estate that he had just purchased for his wife as a birthday present. He is a bright business man, had made a good deal in this instance and wanted the papers just as soon as they could be prepared. Full description was afforded by the abstract, and all went swimmingly till he turned to him and asked his wife's name.

"Oh, yes, of course—wife's name—very necessary, to be sure," and it was plain to be seen that he was sparring for time, while making every effort to bring his memory into play. He had a rash of blood to the face, looked sorely troubled and finally turned his back on me while he looked out of the window, as though relief were to be found there.

"Wouldn't that beat you!" he exclaimed, as he turned slowly back. "I'll be blown if I can recall her name. You see they used to call her 'Pet' when she was a girl at home, and that was her name with me up to two years after our marriage, when I began calling her 'Mamma.' I couldn't tell you her name if it were a capital offense not to know it. Where it wouldn't do to just call her 'Pet' in the deed?"

It was plain to be seen he was hurried away and in a few minutes was back, with his wife's name on a slip of paper.

Toilet Hints.

Never use pure glycerin on the face. It will cause the skin to become yellow and hair to grow.

When washing the hair a little good toilet water in the last rinsing water gives a faint suggestion of perfume, which is refreshing.

When the eyes are inflamed from cold or loss of sleep, use the following wash: One ounce of distilled witch hazel with one ounce of pure water.

The Kitchen Floor.

Throw a dash of cold water on the hot grease spilled on the kitchen floor. This will prevent it from penetrating the wood, and it can be washed up with cold suds later. Try painting or oiling the kitchen floor, and the grease spots will not show. If it is of soft wood, give a good stain before applying the oil.

Sardine Crisps.

Sardine crisps are made of bread cut in long, narrow pieces and evenly toasted. These are then buttered and spread with a mixture of boned sardines, lemon juice and the oil that the sardines come in, or preferably olive oil. Only a thin coating of this will be necessary to use with the toast.

Fricassee of Dried Beef.

One cupful of dried beef chopped fine, one large tablespoonful butter, one-half pint milk, two eggs. Melt the butter in the milk over hot water, put in the meat and cook about five minutes. Add the beaten eggs slowly and stir until the sauce is thick. Serve immediately on toast or fried bread.

Making Extracts.

To make violet extract use eleven ounces of essence of violet, two ounces of essence of cassia, one ounce of tincture of musk and two ounces of stronger tincture of orris. To make rose geranium extract mix one ounce of oil of rose geranium with fifteen ounces of alcohol.

Mook Oysters.

One-half can corn, one-half cupful milk, salt and pepper to suit taste. One cupful flour, one teaspoonful baking powder. Drop with a teaspoon in small dabs in hot grease and fry brown.

Ink Stains on Carpet.

Make a paste of buttermilk and starch and cover the spot with it. Leave it for three days, rinse in place and rub dry. Renew the paste.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

The Proper Way to Cleanse Lace Curtains—Domestic Helps.

Great care should be taken to remove all iron rust or mold stains with oxalic acid before the curtains are wet. The curtains should be placed in cold water to soak about twelve hours and then should be squeezed out and placed in a fresh lot of water for some hours, repeating this until no more dirt comes out. Then they should be thoroughly washed in warm water, with plenty of soap. After washing it improves the looks of the curtains to boil them. They should be passed through blue water to avoid the yellow appearance and afterward dried outdoors in the bright sun. After the curtains are dried they should be starched, using raw starch if they are to be ironed and cooked starch if they are to be dried in a frame or pinned to the floor. If they are to be ironed they must be rolled in a clean cloth for some hours, and if they are to be dried by pinning out flat they should be pinned to a sheet and pulled out evenly, so that the pattern and shape appear all right. Ironing should be done on a board of such length that the full width of the curtain can be ironed at once. Moderately hot irons should be used, and the curtains should be kept square as the work proceeds.

Household Helps.

The knife used for peeling a pineapple should not be used for slicing it, as the rind contains an acid that is apt to cause a swollen mouth and sore lips.

If a bottle of the oil of pennyroyal is left open in a room at night not a mosquito will be found there in the morning.

Mix potash with powdered meal, and throw it in the rat holes of a cellar, and the rats will depart. For mice in the pantry, stuff a saturated rag with a solution of cayenne pepper into the hole and no mouse will touch the rag.

Boiled Apples.

This is the time of year to boil apples instead of baking them, as you can use the small and wilted ones that are good for nothing else. Fill your granite kettle half full of whole apples after digging out the blossom end. Put in a cupful of sugar and add water to a little more than cover them. Boil slowly several hours, or until the water is mostly boiled away and only a thick sirup remains, then take up the apples and pour the sirup over them.

WEAK HEARTS

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, heartburn, and indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Using direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

NOTICE.

The people of the town and county, having voted in favor of issuing bonds to secure the location of the Eastern Training School in or near the town of Greenville, now becomes necessary to take up the question of securing a proper site for the same.

The State Board of Education is charged by law with selecting and determining this site, and that Board has said that they will not consider a site that contains less than twenty-five (25) acres.

The undersigned committee, therefore beg all persons having a suitable site, to submit to this committee sealed proposals for a site of not less than 25 acres, to be made upon blanks which anyone can obtain for that purpose by applying to A. L. Blow Secretary Committee. It is hoped that those offering sites will exercise all possible liberality in the location, price, etc., and they are requested to give a general description of the site in filling up the blanks.

The bids or offers for site should be handed to A. L. Blow Secty before 6:00 p. m. on Friday the 24th, instant. After the bids are in the persons making them will be expected to put their offers in legal forms by giving to the State Board of Education an option on such site conditioned in accordance with the offer, and also, upon the location of the school by State Board on site so offered. Any person or persons may make any number of different propositions, provided the site offered contained not less than twenty five acres.

This committee wishes to emphasize the fact that the acceptance or rejection of any proposed site, rests solely with the State Board of Education, and all sites offered of twenty five acres or more will be submitted to them, and that this committee is simply taking this action for the purpose of getting the matter in proper shape for the consideration of the State Board of Education.

Respectfully,

Thomas J. Jarvis, H. A. White, J. L. Wooten, A. L. Blow, Dr. E. A. Moye, H. W. Whedbee, W. H. Ragsdale, Committee.
