

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

Adopted by Societies of Baptist Church.

Our Heavenly Father in His unerring wisdom, having taken from earth to the celestial home above our sister, Mrs. Emma K. Hart, the members of the Woman's Missionary Society and Ladies Aid Society of Greenville Memorial Baptist church wish to express this testimonial of love and esteem for her.

Mrs. Hart was a woman of sterling worth, whom to know was to appreciate. Her church and its societies have never lost a more loyal or devoted member, as through life she was ever true and faithful. As a friend none was truer or more sympathetic.

We bow humbly to God's will in taking her, realizing that our earthly loss is her eternal gain.

We extend our deepest sympathy to the sorrowing husband who has lost a true and devoted wife, and to the three little children who are bereft of that most priceless of earthly possessions, a mother's love. May God's comfort and blessing be with the stricken ones.

Mrs. D. J. Whichard,
Mrs. H. W. Whedbee,
Miss Hennie Ragsdale. } Com.

Wants Signers of Declaration Descendants Meet Jamestown.

Special to Reflector.

Princeton, May 30.—Grover Cleveland is earnestly in favor of the plan of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Association to have the descendants of the signers of the Declaration of Independence meet at the Jamestown Exposition on the coming fourth of July. Such a meeting, it is considered, would be a most inspiring occasion and it would give new impetus to the movement to provide a worthy memorial of the great author of the immortal charter of our liberties.

Protracted Meeting.

Prayer services will be held in the Memorial Baptist church tonight and tomorrow night preparatory to the protracted meeting that will begin Sunday. The service tonight will begin at 7:45 and close at 8:15. Rev. W. F. Fry, of Goldsboro, will come Tuesday to assist in the meeting.

The Fifteenth National Irrigation Congress, which will be held in Sacramento, California, September 2-7 next, promises to be a very important national event. It is a forestry congress also and the discussions, which will include questions of national forest reserve extension and administration, as well as national irrigation, will be of interest and importance to every portion of the country.

Ticket Scalpers Enjoined From Dealing in Exposition Tickets.

Special to Reflector.

Norfolk, Va., May 30.—The motion comes up today before Judge Prentiss, in the Norfolk city circuit court to make his injunction against ticket scalpers from buying or selling all railroad and other non-transferable transportation tickets until today. Now the injunction will be made permanent if the exposition authorities have their way.

Grand Reunion of Confederate Veterans at Richmond.

Special to Reflector.

Richmond, Va., May 30.—Today commences the celebration of the Confederate seventieth annual reunion in this city, which will last from today until June 3. The crowd in the city is immense, all the South having turned out with full numbers of veterans and their friends, who have come from every town in the South. The reunion seems to have been taken as the family gathering of the entire Confederacy, and no state has been lacking in sending here the boys in gray who survive. The city itself looks like the capital of some proud country that has called all its sons to the family fireside, and then has dressed up the old town until she scarcely knows herself in her finery. Every house in the city is believed to be decorated with flags and bunting and the people wear a glad air as though all business has been laid aside. Much curiosity has been manifested to see the statue of the president of the Confederacy, Jefferson Davis. Charleston has sent a big crowd, as enthusiastic as though the reunion were in the Palmetto State, and Atlanta has a huge number here. Atlanta is after the next convention. Gen. Gordon commander of the Tennessee Division, is easily a marked man among the assembled hosts, and he is all alive over the presence of old comrades and old generals. He considers that the main event will be the unveiling of the statue of the former president of the Confederacy.

WILLIAM FERRALL BURCH.

A Man Greatly Esteemed Passes Away.

Mr. William Ferrall Burch died at 7:30 o'clock this morning at his home in West Greenville, after an illness of ten days with pneumonia. Almost from the beginning of his sickness his condition was serious, and though every effort was made to check the disease he continued to grow worse until the end.

Mr. Burch was 48 years of age and a native of Wilmington, in which city he spent his boyhood and learned his trade, that of printing. He came to Greenville in January, 1899, to take the position of foreman of The Reflector, which position he filled faithfully and successfully until the fall of 1899 when he went in business for himself. In 1904 he came back to The Reflector and continued until the fall of that year when he moved to Raleigh, and after a few months in that city went to Baltimore. His longing and fondness for Greenville brought him back here in the fall of 1905, where he knew there was always a place for him, and he again took his old position with The Reflector. When he returned then he said "I have come back to stay until I die," and his prediction was fulfilled.

"Billie" Burch, as everybody familiarly called him, was everybody's friend, yea everybody loved him. Kind, congenial, faithful to every duty, loyal to his friends, always having a cheerful word and pleasant greeting, he naturally won the esteem of all. To The Reflector his loss is felt most keenly. His relation to the editor was more like that of a brother than employee. Our interest was his interest, and about all his work that idea seemed first with him. He once spoke with some degree of pride "I have worked twelve years for a man with never a cross word between us." That was just his nature, not cross himself and no one could be cross with him. If anything went wrong with his work, as of course it sometimes would, he was always ready to laugh it off and say it will all come out right in the end. His relation with every one employed on The Reflector was most cordial and every one in the office held a brotherly esteem for him.

He was a member of the Memorial Baptist church and prominent in the choir work of the church, having by far the best voice in town. He was also a member of the Odd Fellows order. In March, 1890, he married Miss Maida Williams, and through seventeen years of marital devotion their home life was marked with ideal happiness. He is survived by the wife and two children, one daughter, Miss Lillian, and one son, Ferrall. These have the heartfelt sympathy of every one in their sorrow.

The funeral will be held Friday afternoon, interment being in Cherry Hill cemetery.

No Reflector Tomorrow

Out of respect to the death of Mr. W. F. Burch, foreman of the office, and to give all the employees, who esteemed him so highly, opportunity to attend his funeral. The Daily Reflector will not be issued tomorrow afternoon.

County Superintendent W. H. Ragsdale went to Washington today to speak at the close of Miss Nancy Coward's school near that town.

END OF CENTURY CLUB.

Reported for Reflector.

The End of the Century Club held its last meeting for this season at the home of Mrs. James Fleming on Tuesday afternoon, May 28th. The attendance was not large but the enthusiasm of those present compensated for the absentees.

The program for the next year was discussed. The subject chosen was "Our Country." It was unanimously decided that this subject is great enough and broad enough to merit the attention and stimulate the mental activities even of the End of Century Club.

The only visitor present was Miss Hadley, of Wilson, who, with Miss Rushia Whedbee assisted the charming hostess in serving the refreshments.

The purchase of new books and additional book shelves was discussed and the librarian instructed to place a good encyclopedia in the library.

The new officers were installed, and refreshments served after which the club adjourned until October.

Bank Statements.

In this paper will be found the statements of the banks in the county made on the last call of the corporation commission. A examination of these statements will show the splendid condition of our banking institutions. They are all sound, and people throughout the county who have surplus money should deposit it in the banks instead of running the risk of keeping it at home.

The Greenville Banking and Trust Company's new statement will appear in next issue.

Died.

Mrs. Harriet Mills, aged about 80 years, died Wednesday afternoon about 4 o'clock, at her home near Grimesland. She leaves eight children, one of them being Mrs. J. J. Elks, of Grimesland.

Attend Your Primary.

The men who are nominated for aldermen in the ward primaries tonight will be elected Monday, therefore it is important that every voter attend his ward meeting and help nominate good men.

Farmville Wants Him.

Wadesboro, N. C., May 29.—Prof. J. H. McIver, the recently elected superintendent of the graded schools for this place is expected here within the next few days. He will spend some time in the town and then decide whether or not he will accept the work here. We understand that a very strong effort is being made to retain him at Farmville, where he has taught for some time.—Raleigh News & Observer.

Notice.

Members of Covenant Lodge I. O. O. F. will meet at the lodge room this evening, at 5 o'clock to make arrangement for attending the funeral of Br. W. F. Burch tomorrow.

J. R. Corey, N. G.

R. F. D. Carriers.

The Pitt County Association of R. F. D. Carriers held a meeting here today with a good attendance. They had an interesting address from Mr. S. C. Wooten.

THE ANCIENT BO TREE.

Oldest Living Thing of Which Man Has Kept Record.

This bo tree (the Ficus religiosa) is probably the oldest living thing in the world of which record has been kept by man and, with the possible exception of the sequoia, the oldest of living trees. It was brought from India by the Princess Sanghamitta and was planted by King Dewananiya Tissa in 288 B. C. It is therefore 2,195 years old. The preservation of this tree has been an object of reverent solicitude to successive dynasties, and either through superstitious reverence or because of its worthlessness to a plunderer it has been spared amid all the havoc of repeated invasions. As recently as 1739 A. D. it was endowed with lands by Raja Sinah, a Kandian chief.

The bo tree's age and identity are matters of absolutely faithful record, and when one recalls that in the rigorous climate of northern Germany, in Hildesheim, there grows a rosebush which is a thousand years old it does not seem so remarkable that in the balmy climate of Ceylon this tree should have lived twice as long. It is gnarled and unsymmetrical, because many of its branches have been cut off and sent to distant temples. This bo tree is a branch of the tree under which Guatama Buddha sat when he attained Nirvana, and Buddhists say the passion through which he passed communicated itself to the tree and caused all the leaves to tremble.

Each of the millions of pilgrims who have toiled along the sacred way which leads to this shrine has hoped to bear away with him a leaf from the sacred tree, and happy is he at whose feet one falls.

The leaves hang on a slender stem and are easily stirred by the slightest breeze, so each petitioner is rewarded for his pilgrimage by feeling that the tree responds to the fervor of his soul, but few take home a leaf. Many bring offerings to the tree, and on a number of the lower leaves are sheets of gold placed there by jewelers and other wealthy worshippers.—Rosalie S. Morton in Century.

Wall Paper and the Sick.

"I am glad the walls of my bed room are not papered," said the invalid. "Nobody but the sick knows how nerve racking it is to lie all day long looking at the wall paper that doesn't match. It matches well enough, you understand, for people who are well. They never would notice where the flowers failed to hitch or the stems met too far down the fraction of an inch, but we notice it and worry over it and cry sometimes because it worries us so. My wall is painted light blue, the color of the skies. It doesn't hurt my eyes at all to look at it. It doesn't worry me. When the curtain is down it is the very softest kind of blue, so gratifying that I fall asleep looking at it. Oh, yes; the only thing to do with the walls of the sickroom is to paint them light blue."—New York Press.

To clean thread lace sew new white muslin around a bottle and then roll the lace smoothly and securely, tacking the ends. Touch the lace lightly with sweet oil while winding. Fill the bottle with cold water to keep it from bursting and set it upright in a strong suds of cold water and castile soap. Tie a string around the neck of the bottle and secure it to the kettle, and boil half an hour or more, or until the lace is clean. Rinse with hot water and set the bottle in the sun. When quite dry remove the lace and lay in long folds between sheets of white paper and press for a day or two.

Formula For Eyebrow Grower.

Ordinary vaseline makes the very best tonic for both brows and lashes, as it promotes the growth and also strengthens the eyes. Mix two ounces red vaseline, an eighth of an ounce tincture of cantharides and fifteen drops each oil rosemary and lavender. Apply once a day with a tiny tooth brush. The constant use of vaseline on the eyebrows will darken them.

To Make a Bath Bag.

Bags of cheesecloth are the best. These should be made about three or four inches square and filled with the following mixture. Not too much should be put into each bag: Two and a half pounds of oatmeal, half a pound of almond meal, half a pound of orris root (powdered) and quarter of a pound of pure soap, which has first been scraped to a fine powder.

Makes a Good Showing.

In the matter of banks and banking North Carolina made a splendid showing during the year of 1906. The report of Secretary Hunt, of the North Carolina Bankers' Association, made at the State convention at Winston showed that there are now 338 banks in the State, fifty four of which have been established during the present year.

Of the whole number fifty-seven are national banks.

Not a bank failure has occurred in the State in twelve months. The healthy condition of our banks is a gratifying index of the general industrial and commercial life of the State.—Salisbury Sun.

THURSDAY MAY 30th 1907

We are indebted to Secretary of State J. Bryan Grimes for a copy of "Captions of the Acts and Resolutions" passed by the last general assembly of North Carolina.

Our Kinston friends had a well fall in line and learn how to write it "Eastern Training School, Greenville, N. C." The balance of the folks are putting it that way.

The Raleigh News and Observer has invited all of its twelve thousand subscribers, and some more folks beside, to the "house warming" in its new office building early in June. If they all should accept the house would certainly be overrun.

Prof. J. L. Faust, who since the death of Dr. Meduer has acted as president of the Normal and Industrial college at Greensboro, has been elected president by the trustees of that institution. Prof. Faust has been connected with the college for five years and is thoroughly familiar with its work.

Since H. B. Varner, the present commissioner of labor and printing of the State, has announced that he will seek the nomination again, several persons have announced themselves as candidates for the position.

One of these is M. L. Shyman, an ex-editor who has been clerk in the office for three years. Another is J. B. Sherrill, editor of the Concord Times, and another is W. W. Wilson, of Raleigh. Heretofore since the office was established it has been filled by an experienced newspaper man, and we suppose the next Democratic State convention will follow that custom in making the nomination.

North Carolina has actually had a visit from "Uncle Joe," and Greensboro was in high feather over having him within her gates.

Latham, Alexander & Co., brokers and cotton commission merchants of New York, have sent out their first estimate of this year's cotton acreage under date of May 21. The estimate is based on 4,562 replies to inquiries sent banks, bankers, cotton commission merchants and farmers in every cotton growing county in the South, the replies being of average date of May 16. The estimated average is 27,674,770, 1,011,230 less than last year, a decrease of 3.52 per cent. The average planting of the crop is two to four weeks later than usual. The opening of the season was favorable for preparing land, but weather conditions during April and the first half of May were abnormal over the entire cotton belt. Temperatures have been unreasonably low and rains excessive in portions. Replanting has been necessary in many instances, there has been no growing weather and poor stands are the rule. On the whole, therefore, the cotton crop is in very poor condition just now. Latham, Alexander & Co. are reliable people and their estimate is doubtless as reliable as any one can make. But you can never tell about a cotton crop. It is all guess work which sometimes hits and more often misses - Stateville Landmark.

SHE TOOK HIS SPEECH.

Then the Bright Girl Got Work as His Stenographer.

She was riding into the city on the morning train in search of a position as a stenographer. Having seen the large, florid man in the seat in front of her cut an advertisement from his newspaper and put it away in his pocketbook, she was just curious enough to look up the corresponding place in her own paper. Finding there an advertisement for a stenographer, she noted down the address and thanked her feminine curiosity.

She then turned back to her pencil and notebook. It seemed as if, practice as she might, she never could keep her speed up to 100 words a minute. She tried copying from the newspaper, but the motion of the car made the words dance before her eyes until they hurt her. She tried making up sentences as she went along and failed. Finally she resorted to taking down the incessant chatter of two women behind her, but their talk was often drowned in the disturbances of a number of young people still farther back, who were riotously noisy.

The young lady struggled with a tirade on the servant girl problem, timing herself by the distance between stations—two minutes from Sherywood to Sherwood Corners. Could she do 200 words? As her hand dashed madly over the page a large wad of newspaper flew past her and struck the florid man in the neck. The laughter behind subsided into dismayed giggles.

Slowly the large man turned his injured neck. He was redder than ever as he started to speak. The words fell from his lips, hot but distinct, swiftly but smoothly. He was telling the boisterous young people seven seats back just what he thought of them.

The young woman with the pencil saw her chance and took it. Here was glorious dictation. Her pencil flew. The speech lasted a minute and a half and was cut short then only by the arrival of the train at the terminal. The stenographer slapped her book shut with a comfortable feeling of having done even better than a hundred words per minute and set off in search of her position.

When she arrived at the address she had noted down, she was ushered into a private office, where sat the man of the speech. She stammered a little until she saw that he did not recognize her. His mind had been full of bigger things. Then she smilingly told him her errand.

"Do you think you can take my dictation?" he said, frowning.

"Yes, sir."

"What makes you think so? I talk very fast."

"But very distinctly, sir." She produced her notebook and laid it open before him. "Here's a sample." She began to read her notes.

His jaw dropped. There was his masterpiece of the train, complete and unabridged. It really sounded very well, so full of fire.

When she finished, he looked at her sharply. His face was very red, but his eye twinkled.

"The job's yours," he said subdued voice.—Youth's Column.

Anxious to Oblige.

The manager of a telephone exchange recently gave employment as an operator to a young woman whose previous employment had been in a department store. The girl seemed so bright and willing and possessed such a clear and distinct voice that the manager resolved to give her a trial.

The newcomer, who was all amiability and willingness, rapidly learned her new duties, but one day an incident occurred that betrayed her department store training.

In answer to a ring she had asked sweetly, "Number, please?"

"Let me have 325," said the patron.

"I am sorry that 325 is busy just now," said the girl, "but I can let you have 323 or 326."—New York Herald.

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local. Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional. The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerves, all tissue, and all blood ailments. The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

Indian Philosophy.

The other day Elsie, the oldest living Tonkawa Indian, was making some purchases in one of our hardware stores, and the enterprising salesman called her attention to a washing machine which, he said, would make "Blue Monday" a day of pleasure. Old Elsie admired the gayly painted machine, but when she was made to understand for what purpose it was intended she sniffed the air in contempt. "Me no wash. Paleface wash, wash—all time wash. Wash Monday, Monday, Monday, Monday, heap wash. Indian no wash; all time dirty. Paleface wash; all time dirty too." —Tonkawa (Okla.) News.
