THAT GOLDSBORO EARLY TRAIN.

Greenville Should be Interested in This.

President J. A. Taylor, of the Chamber of Commerce, ex-officio chairman of the Transportation Committee of that body, to which was recently referring the matter of inducing the Atlantic Coast Line to run the Norfolk "shoo-fly" train through from Goldsboro to Wilmington on a schedule about like that which now obtains on the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta division, yesterday addressed a letter to Fourth Vice President John R. Kenly, asking for a conference with him on the subject. It is expected that this will be granted at once and that the committee will appear before Mr. Kenly this week. In view of the compromise on the recent efforts to secure a union depot for Wilmington, it is hoped that the railroad will readily accede to the request and it is believed by the public, which has taken great interest in the matter, that the request will not be denied.—Wilmington Star.

While this question is up at Wilmington might be a good time for Greenville to take further action toward getting connection this way from Norfolk. To extend this "Shoo-fly" train on from Goldsboro to Wilmington, as the people of the latter city desire, may necessitate some change in the time that train leaves Norfolk in the afternoon. If a change in this respect is to be made it might be so arranged that connection can be made at Hobgood with the train coming to Greenville. Such a change in schedule would enable people to leave Norfolk in the afternoon and make connection for any point east or south of Parrale on either the Plymouth, Washington or Kinston branches of the Coast Line. If people down this way want such a schedule now is the time to act so as to work in conjunction with the people of Wilmington.

Still Holding Back Spring Knit Goods.

Special to Reflector.

New York, June 13.—There is very little in the way of change in the knit goods market to comment upon for the past week except that prices have continued to show an upward tendency with sellers refusing to book orders for 1908 lines until the situation clears up somewhat. Underwear manufacturers who opened their 1908 lines a week or more ago have become alarmed over the situation in the raw material market, notably the withdrawal of yarn prices. Then it is taken into consideration that many of the new lines were opened and prices named without the manufacturers having covered requirements on yarns, the anxiety displayed by manufacturers over the present situation is not to be wondered at. Frominent manufacturers who are handling well-known lines of underwear, who refused to name prices and are still holding back, are now congratulating themselves much on having followed this policy. It looks at the present time as if a very much sharper advance than was expected will be named on these lines when they are opened on the 15th of this month. Everything points to higher raw material and also to difficulty in getting sufficient supplies even selling agency's in this market to withdraw all prices.

Reception Tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Tunstall will arrive this evening from their bridal tour, and a public reception will be given them tonight at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Tunstall, in West Greenville.

THE MEETING.

"Ye Must Be Born Again."

This was the subject of Rev. W. F. Fry's sermon in Memorial Baptist church Wednesday night. Discussing this from a legal reason he said it was God's law that a man should be born again. It matters not what man's opinion of such a law may be, it is what God has decreed, and with that law unrevoked a man must be born again or he cannot see the kingdom of God. Discussing it from a spiritual standpoint, he said heaven being a spiritual kingdom the new birth, the spiritual birth, is necessary to inhabit that kingdom. If it were possible to place a man in heaven without this new birth it would not be heaven to him for he could not enjoy it. God has made this new birth possible for all, and it is experienced through repentance of sins and faith in God.

An invitation was extended at the conclusion of the sermon and one young lady made a profession of faith in Christ.

This morning service was a precious one, Mr. Fry's talk being on "Mary's love expressed for Jesus" based on the narrative of the anointing of Jesus found in the 12th chapter of John. Love expressed, love that costs something and, love approved were the divisions of his subject, and he urged Christians to more earnestly show their love for Jesus, for each other, for those in sorrow and for the unsaved. Services tonight at 8:15 and tomorrow morning at 10.

The Iron Horse in the Holy Land.

According to a recent consular report, the railroad is extending through Asia Minor and reaching into the Holy land. The traveler can go from the port of Beirut by rail to Damascus, and a continuation of the line southward reaches within a few hours ride of Jerusalem by carriage or horseback. Another railroad extends to Nazareth and Tiberias, and steam launches are being placed on the Sea of Galilee. The tourist can now visit the ruins of Petra, southeast of the Dead Sea, and other historic sites beyond the Jordan by railroad from Damascus. So rapidly are transportation facilities extending through the country that the proverbial saying that Jordan is a hard road to travel is now quite out of date. The time is approaching fast when modern pilgrims can survey the holy places from the windows of Pullman cars.

The change implies a revolution in the mental attitude, the customs and the industrial situation of the people of the country so great as to be almost inconceivable. But while the East cannot be hushed it can learn, and in the last decade it must have become more tolerant of the ways of the iron horse. Railroad development is now going on in Mesopotamia and Arabia, and eventually vast changes will result from its influence.—Baltimore News.

He Paid Up.

A subscriber once received a dan through the postoffice, and it made him mad. He went to see the editor about it, and the editor showed him a few duns of his own—one for paper, one for type, one for fuel and several others. "Now," said the editor, "I didn't get mad when these came, because I knew that all I had to do was to ask several reliable gentlemen like you to come and help me out, and then I could settle all of them." When the subscriber saw how it was he relented, paid up and renewed for another year.—Exchange.

Weather.

Rain late tonight or on Friday.

ANTI-CIGARETTE DAY.

Prominent Periodical Gets Opinions From Leading Men on the "Coffin Nail."

In view of the setting apart of June 30 as anti-cigarette day in the Sunday-schools of America, The Sunday School Times asked a score of prominent business men educators, and others for opinions on the cigarette. The vigorous replies, including letters from William Jennings Bryan, the Hon. Ben B. Lindley of the Deaver Juvenile Court, Orison Sweet Marden, editor of Success, and F. W. Ayer, of N. W. Ayer & Son Advertising Agents, are printed in The Sunday School Times of June 15. One of the most striking features of the symposium is this letter from John Murphy, General Superintendent of the Pittsburg Railways Company, in explanation of an order, recently posted forbidding employees to use liquor or cigarettes.

Being an officer of a company that carries—and of course is responsible for the safety of—over two hundred and twenty-five million people per year, it becomes my moral and legal as well as my public duty to use all reasonable means to protect the lives and further the comfort of this large number of passengers. Having for some time back noticed that our accidents were increasing, upon investigating the cause I satisfied myself that the standard of our men who did not use liquor or tobacco (the latter in the form of cigarettes) was much above that of those who used either. I therefore deemed it my duty to abate the evil so far as lay in my power to do so, and tried to uproot it and cast it out through discipline, but found this method inadequate and ineffectual. I then went further, and concluded the desired end could be attained only by removing from the service or refraining from employing all men addicted to the objectionable habits alluded to.

It is my aim and intention to pursue this policy without abatement since I have by it proved beyond all doubt that it has raised the standard of our men. I have been criticized for the stringency of the order especially the prohibition of the use of cigarettes, but on the other hand I have the assurance of our division superintendents (of which we have twelve), aided by my own observations, that persons addicted to the use of cigarettes, especially young men are the most careless in their duties and less able to perform them than men using liquor in moderation. I may also mention that in seventeen years' experience as manager of public utility corporations I have had occasion to promote many of our men from the rank of conductors and motormen to officers, and in no case has a man using whiskey come up to the requirements.

John Murphy,
General Superintendent.

Wed Boyhood Sweetheart.

There is a romance attached to the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Kenna, of Charleston, W. Va., a bride and bridegroom of a few days, who are staying at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Mr. Kenna is a son of the late United States Senator Kenna, of West Virginia. He married Miss Gertrude Higgins in St. Joseph's church, in Washington, on Wednesday. They have come here on their way to the Jamestown exposition for their honeymoon.

The wedding grew out of a boy-and-girl romance, which began soon before the death of Senator Kenna several years ago, when young Kenna was but 16 years old. When the Senator died his son put on overalls and went to work to learn the railroad business, with which his father had been connected. He worked hard and he worked long, and in the meantime he kept in touch with his child sweetheart, who encouraged him in his work. After five years of work he felt in a position to ask her to marry him.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenna will leave for Boston today.—New York Times.

Nordica's New Temple of Music.

Special to Reflector.

New York, June 23.—Mme Lillian Nordica is busily engaged in Europe in perfecting her plans for the establishment of her great project, a Bayroth festival on the shores of the Hudson. The probable location of this realm of music is on the Hudson between the Croton reservoir and the Hudson river, where a tract of twenty acres has been purchased by the singer. Mme Nordica can furnish a large share of the funds necessary herself, but she has enlisted enough people in the project in this city and other parts of America to make the securing of the funds a sure thing. Upwards of a million dollars will be expended altogether, and beyond this endowment will be furnished sufficient funds to carry along the enterprise on all the lines designed in a satisfactory shape, so that the best results will be obtained.

He Certainly Did.

"Adam was a patient man," said the parson. "He never said a word when he was turned out of the garden of Eden." "Mebby he didn't," rejoined Deacon Cobb, "but accordin' to th' records he raised Cain afterward."

GLENN CAPTURES NEWSPAPER MEN.

His Speech Applauded Again and Again.

Jamestown Exposition, Virginia, June 12.—Governor Glenn captured the National Editorial Association today when once during his speech and again at his conclusion he was given a demonstration such as has not been accorded any speaker by the association during its history. He was at his best and speaking to the subject: "The Power of the 'Press,'" he handled it in a masterly fashion. The ovation that was given him came from men from all sections of the United States when the governor departed from his subject and told the story of the New South, the section of this nation to which he welcomed his hearers and to which some, he said, objected for reason which he enumerated. He explained conditions in the South by decades and then painted the true picture of this section as it is today. He tore down the barriers between the people of the various sections of the great nation, and in a burst of oratory revealing the conditions during reconstruction and comparing them with today, he brought tears to the eyes of half his hearers and in the midst of his speech was interrupted by applause lasting for several minutes, during which the entire audience came to their feet cheering wildly and with handkerchiefs and hats waving in the air. By members who have attended every session of the association for twenty years, it was declared the greatest speech ever delivered before the National organization.

Before Governor Glenn concluded his speech, in which he had paid tribute to nation and section, he brought to the attention of the editors the good old North State. Taking up each industry separately he drove home the facts regarding progress, he quoted authoritative figures, showing the development of the State and among the editors it was commonly remarked that they had received a liberal education relative to North Carolina. The speech undoubtedly did great good. The North Carolina delegation were the happiest and proudest people here today (Virginia day) on account of the brilliant work of Governor Glenn and the ovations given him.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Don't Neglect Your Garden.

What of your garden? Farmers, as a rule, are now getting "too busy" to bother with the garden, and that is just why so many farmers have poor gardens and an insufficiency of vegetables, small fruits, etc., both in quality. We are given to neglecting this very important part of real farm work. The early set cabbage now need attention. Cultivate frequently and use fertilizers with a lavish hand. A mixture as follows will be about right for them: One hundred pounds nitrate of soda, 200 pounds cottonseed meal, 300 pounds sixteen per cent acid phosphate, 100 pounds muriate of potash, at the rate of 1000 per acre as a side dressing. This same mixture will do for many other garden crops.—Progressive Farmer.

Novel Contest for a Wife.

William A. Kirby, of Trappe, has been building a fine new residence, and has decided upon a novel method of providing a mistress for it. When it is finished he is to give a big house warming, which has been arranged for fourth of July.

The builders and decorators have promised to have everything ready for the glorious day, the neighbors have promised to provide the fireworks. Mr. Kirby will supply the refreshments and entertainment, and as all the girls of Trappe are among the prettiest in Maryland, there promises to be a very lively contest for husband and home.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Uncle Sam is turning his attention to the coal trust now. May be that is an indication of warm weather.

The Greensboro Record has also found that the coming out of the street sprinkler is followed by rain, and advises the people to run for shelter when they see the sprinkler coming.

Governor Hughes, of New York, vetoed the bill passed by the legislature of that state making a two cent passenger fare on railroads more than 1.5 miles in length.

T. G. Cobb, editor of the Morganton Herald, announces himself a candidate for nomination as commissioner of labor and printing by the next Democratic State convention. Four newspaper men one now seeking the nomination for this office.

As Greensboro has granted a franchise, and limited the construction to eighteen months, the electric road from that town to High Point may be built.

The president's Ananias club seems to have stopped growing. No announcement of new members lately.

When talking about greater things do not overlook Greater Greenville. This town has recently become greater in boundaries, greater in railroad facilities and greater in State wide reputation. Now we must become greater in population and greater in business and manufacturing enterprises. Everybody work to this end and lets have the greatest town in Eastern Carolina.

GOVERNMENT MONEY IN BANKS.

There is now $185,000,000 of government money on deposit in national banks without interests. The interests on this sum, at 5 per cent, would be $9,250,000; and this amount measures the bonus or subsidy, which the Federal government annually bestows upon the bankers as a class. True, it is a small sum in comparison with what it allows the tariff sheltered trusts to steal from the people, but it is nevertheless an outrage and a swindle, perpetrated to gain support for the party in power. -Greensboro Record.

It is true that government money deposited in banks pays no interest to the government and banks favored with these deposits make clear whatever they make by using the government deposits while the money is with them. This gives banks something for nothing and gives it to a few banks at that. The practice is unfair, of course, and the Landmark doesn't defend it. But let's look at the other side. If the government kept all its money in the national banks it would receive no interest on the deposits; therefore it is no worse off financially when it lets the banks have money without interest. Further, the idea in placing government money in national banks is to get the idle money among the people, which is a great relief in times of monetary stringency. The banks which receive government money are responsible for the deposits and they must make good when the government calls the loan. Whatever the bank makes out of money while it has it is clear gain, but the bank takes all the risk. If it loans the money and suffers a loss the loss comes off the bank.

While it is a great advantage to the banks to get the money it is also some advantage to the folks who want money the banks can't supply. The government loses nothing for it would make nothing if it kept the money in its treasury. On the contrary these deposits of public money may sometimes prevent a panic which would work very harmful results to the country.

It's just as well to look on all sides of a proposition. -Statesville Landmark.

RANDOM REFLECTIONS.

By a Contributor.

"What a great world this would be," reflects the Baltimore American, "if the business man could banish care like the boys and girls on roller skates." Often it is the youngsters on roller skates who make it impossible for him to banish care.

The per capita distribution of wealth in this country, is reported to be $1,310. The fact that John D. Rockefeller has cornered the vast majority of the per caps, somewhat detracts from the exceeding joy that this item might be expected to arouse.

Among other things, California now comes forward with the meanest man in the country. A bridegroom of that State is accused of forcing his bride to eat all the biscuits she bakes.

"Ohio Democrats hopeful" says a headline in the Baltimore Sun. It has been a long time since they were pieful however.

Medicine in Ancient Egypt.

There is in evidence in inscriptions and manuscripts that the ancient Egyptians practiced medicine and surgery extensively. Probably their practice was based on little knowledge of anatomy. Each physician treated only one or two diseases. The sick were exposed in public places, so that others who had suffered similarly might tell them of helpful remedies. Diseases of the eye were best understood and received both medical and surgical treatment. The most important medical manuscript found in Egypt is "Papyrus Ebers," written 3000 B. C. and discovered in Memphis. Disease, according to the Egyptians, was due to the anger of some deity, the result of the triumph of evil in its struggle with good, an idea which is still very general throughout Africa and Asia, and which at some time has been prevalent in modified forms in almost every race. -Records of the Past.

A Memory With One Failing.

Jones was telling his friend Smith of an incident that had occurred some twenty-five years ago, and the latter remarked on the wonderful memory his friend possessed. The compliment seemed to please Jones. "Yes, my boy," he said, "I never forget anything when it is once in there," pointing to his forehead.

"You surprise me. But I think I can tell you of a little thing about which your memory has singularly failed."

"What is it?"

"Well, old man, how about that half sovereign I lent you a month or so ago?"

"Ah, you see, that's different. I put that in my pocket." -Pearson's Weekly.

Amusing Shop Signs.

English shop windows often provide amusing notices. A Rochdale clothier named Brown had his window smashed by a boy with a hand cart. Five minutes afterward the broken pane was covered by a square of white paper, on which these words appeared in bold letters: "An absentminded beggar did this with a hand cart. Don't say 'Poor Brown' but come in and buy an overcoat." Over the door of a Whitechapel tailor may be seen this sign, which displays a sense of humor rare in the east end: "Send your clothes here to be mended. I am deaf and dumb. Least said, soonest mended." -Grand Magazine.

COLIC AND DIARRHOEA

Pains in the stomach, colic and rheas are quickly relieved by the Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by All

It feels like a pill but it is not. The Early Riser. Small pills, easy to take. Pleasant and efficient. Drives away the drowsiness. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

When some people tell the truth others are unable to recognize it.

For scratches, burns, cuts, insect bites and the many little hurts common to every family, DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve is the best remedy. It is soothing, cooling, clean and healing. Be sure you get DeWitt's. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

And a good looking detective isn't necessarily a good looker.

A prompt, pleasant, good remedy for coughs and colds, is Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It is especially recommended for babies and children, but good for every member of the family. It contains no opiates and does not constipate. Contains honey and tar and tastes nearly as good as maple syrup. Children like it. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

There are many large tails connected with small fish.

Bert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says "I have only taken four doses of your Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills as I want a perfect cure." Mr. Barber refers to DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills, which are unequalled for Backache, weak kidneys, inflammation of the bladder and all urinary troubles. A weeks treatment for 25c. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

It's useless to forgive an injury if you can forget it.

All stomach trouble are quickly relieved by taking a little Kodol after each meal. Kodol goes directly to the seat of the trouble, strengthens the digestive organs, supplies the natural digestive juices and digests what you eat. It is a simple, clean, pure, harmless remedy. Don't neglect your stomach. Take a little Kodol after each meal and see how good it makes you feel. Money back if it fails. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Beware of mad dogs and backbiting people.

There is no case of indigestion, no matter how irritable or how obstinate that will not be speedily relieved by the use of Kodol. The main factor in curing the stomach of any disorder is rest, and the only way to get rest is to actually digest the food for the stomach itself. Kodol will do it. It is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids containing the very same juices found in a healthy stomach. It conforms to the Pure Food and Drugs Law. Sold by John L. Wooten.

About being carried away with enthusiasm the worst feature is that we nearly always have to walk back.

Mothers who give their children Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup invariably endorse it. Children like it because the taste is so pleasant. Contains honey and tar. It is the original laxative cough syrup and is unrivaled for the relief of croup. Drives the cold out through the bowels. Conforms to the Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Of course, it is absent-mindedness when you forget, but it is gross negligence when your wife forgets.

Piles get quick and certain relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Please note it is made alone for Piles, and its action is positive and certain. Itching, painful, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large nickel-capped glass jars 50cents. Sold by Bryans Drug Store.

Get a free sample of Dr. Shoop's "Health Coffee" at our store. If real coffee disturbs your Stomach, your Heart or Kidneys, then try this clever Coffee imitation. Dr. Shoop has closely matched Old Java and Mocha Coffee in flavor and taste, yet it has not a single grain of real Coffee in it. Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted grains or cereals, with Malt, Nuts, etc. Made in a minute. No tedious wait. You will surely like it. Sold by T. E. Hooker & Co.

There are lots of dead ones in every community who are not doing their duty by the undertaker.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Bock on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves". Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write today for sample and free Book. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by Bryans Drug Store.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

Game of London Bridge Played With Flower Names.

A pretty flower game for children is a version of London bridge. Two children clasp hands, holding them in the form of an arch, as in the older game. Under this arch the rest of the party pass, the two children forming it singing meanwhile:

We're looking for a daisy, a daisy, a daisy,
We're looking for a daisy,
And here's one now.

So singing they capture some child and add him or her to their lines, the prisoner choosing his captain, as in London bridge.

The song remains the same, but the name of the flower is changed after each capture. As the tug of war is considered rather strenuous for a company including little girls, we would suggest dancing in a ring in place of it. The smaller ring dances inside of the larger one when all the flowers have been found.

After Eating.

Boys and girls—as well as grown-ups—should be cautioned against taking violent exercise just after eating. Moderate exercise will not hurt any one, but everybody should avoid any bodily exertion that tends to heat the blood. When food is taken into the stomach blood rushes to the stomach and heats it, for heat is necessary to promote digestion. Violent exercise, on the contrary, calls the blood from the stomach to the surface of the body, and under those conditions digestion cannot go on properly. Mental work should be avoided, too, for a little while after eating, as it takes the blood from the stomach to the brain. The dumb animals set us a good example in the matter of eating, for most of them are in the habit of sleeping after a meal. Restless people can often be quieted at night by eating a little digestible food.

Poisonous Common Plants.

The things that give the most pleasure in life frequently can also cause the greatest pain. Among flowers, for instance, the beautiful snowdrop, the hyacinth, jonquil and narcissus are all poisonous, and to eat the smallest part of the root of either of them would produce fatal results, while the juices of the leaves will cause violent vomiting.

The berries of the yew tree have killed many people, and the opium obtained from poppies has also claimed its victims. Lady's slipper and lily of the valley are both dangerous, and if the blossoms of crocuses are chewed they will cause vomiting.

Experiment With a Pea.

Run a needle through the center of a pea, taking care to get the pea absolutely in the center of the needle. Stick one end of the needle in a piece of straw about three inches long and, holding the straw in a perpendicular position, blow through it, first slowly and then stronger and stronger. The pea will be raised from the straw and float in the air with lively motions as long as the pressure of air is even and uninterrupted.

The Pyramids.

Like the pyramids themselves, the object of their erection is a mystery. No one knows why the pyramids were built. There are, however, three principal guesses on the subject—first, that they were erected to memorialize the reigns of certain kings; second, that they were royal tombs; third, that they were built for astronomical purposes.

Getting Acquainted.

It was so hard at first, you know,
To think just what to say,
But by and by one said, "Hello!"
And the other said, "Let's play!"
—Youth's Companion.

Clever Peter.

A dog in Cambridge, Mass., had to be sent to the hospital several times. The third time, when the dog's owner went for him to take him, he was not to be found.

The telephone bell rang and a message was received from the doctor saying that Peter had come there of his own accord.

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol

Dyspepsia Cure

Digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

MRS. LORING NICHOLS, Penn Yan, N. Y.

I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the sneeze stage—they break, or head off these early colds. That's surely better. That's why they are called Preventics. Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Nice for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you ache all over, think of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child. If there is feverishness, night or day, Heroin probably lies Preventics' greatest efficiency. Sold in 5c boxes for the pocket, also in 25c boxes of 48 Preventics. Insist on your druggists giving you

Revival Notes.

If you are not attending the meeting in Memorial Baptist church this week, you are depriving yourself of a blessing in hearing the delightful gospel preaching of Rev. W. F. Fry.

Many professing Christians keep themselves poor in spirit by not taking advantage of the opportunity to hear such gospel sermons as are being delivered in Memorial Baptist church this week.

Have you a friend in whose salvation you feel interested? Pray for him and ask him to attend the meeting now going on in Memorial Baptist church.

Many people pass their time in this world apparently without giving a thought as to where they will spend eternity. "What doth it profit a man if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul?"

Buried in Grave Formerly Occupied by Brother's Body.

A rather unusual proceeding took place Sunday, when the body of Mr. Zack F. Stroud, who died Saturday morning, was, at his request, buried in a grave from which the remains of his brother, Ivey Stroud, had been disinterred some time before. When Mr. Ivey Stroud died he was buried beside his father and mother in Woodington, and later his widow bought a farm in another part of the county and had the body exhumed and buried near her home. During Mr. Zack Stroud's recent illness he requested that if he died his body be buried in the grave formerly occupied by his brother's remains and this request was complied with Sunday.—Kinston Free Press.

Buys Cotton in England.

Atlanta, Ga. June 13.—A strange freak of commerce has occurred in the cotton industry in this city, when a Georgia cotton mill has bought for the first time in the history of Georgia five hundred bales of cotton in Liverpool, and in order to get it has willingly paid the transportation and other charges, which increase the price of the staple about 1 1/2 cents a pound. Never before has such a thing been known to Atlanta cotton experts.

Potatoes were quoted in New York today at $3 to $4.

A colored base ball team of Tarboro came here today to play a game with a local team. The visitors brought a brass band with them.

Commercial Spirit.

M. Salas-Sues, the French composer, during his visit to Chicago made a brief address on America at a dinner party.

"The American business spirit," he said in the course of his address, "is an excellent thing. To it undoubtedly America's unexampled prosperity is due. But I think that this spirit is sometimes carried too far."

"For instance, in a hotel barber shop yesterday I heard the barber say he had ever heard a certain celebrated pianist."

"No, sir," he replied emphatically. "These pianists never patronize me, and so I never patronize them."

CONDENSED STORIES.

Loser Paid the Bet, but the Winner Also Suffered.

Patrick Gleason, the well known shoe manufacturer of Brackton, is very particular as to the work that leaves his factory, says the Boston Herald. One day he hired a laster who was a very poor workman. The first shoe the man took off his last was so badly lasted he did not dare put it on his rack for inspection, but hid it under his bench, intending to make a better job of it during the noon hour. The second shoe was not much better, but he thought it would pass and started on the third.

"I'LL TAKE YOU ON THAT BET."

Mr. Gleason, coming along just then, picked up the shoe that lay on the rack and examined it. Then turning to the laster he said angrily, "I'll bet you $10 you can't show me a shoe in this factory as badly lasted as this."

"I'll take you on that bet," said the laster. And reaching down he took the first shoe from under his bench and handed it to Mr. Gleason. Mr. Gleason paid, but the laster lost his job.

A STRANGE CUSTOM.

Curious Ceremony in the Burial of the Kings of Spain.

The burials of the kings of Spain have been for hundreds of years and still are attended by a most curious ceremony. The burial place of the royal family of Spain is in the Escorial palace, and when a monarch dies his funeral is placed in the hands of the Espinosa family, who have lived for generations on a government estate which was given to them in recognition of having performed their duties well.

When the royal family train starts the members of this family, dressed in ancient costume, head the procession, which stops about halfway to the Escorial and rests for the night. In the morning at daylight the oldest member of the Espinosa approaches the coffin of the dead king and knocks on the lid and asks the king if it is his wish to continue the journey to the last resting place. Then the cortege resumes its journey.

The doors of the church are always found locked, and some of the leaders of the procession knock for admittance and are greeted by a clamoring of the monks within, who ask, "Who is there?" The Espinosa then answers, "A man of peace." A great hubbub then begins, and there is much pounding of the doors both from without and within. At length the priests cry, "What do you want?" And the answer is, "To bury the king." "How do you know the king is dead?" "Because we saw him die," answer the Espinosa.

The priests at first refuse the funeral party admittance. But when the latter threaten to break down the doors they throw them open, and the body is carried into the church, where high mass is held, and the king is then interred in the gorgeous circular pantheon below the church. Around this circular chamber are the sarcophagi of all the rulers of Spain.—Pittsburg Post.
