AYDEN ITEMS.

Newy Notes From a Hustling Town.
Ayden, N. C., June 18, 1907.

There are more billy goats and nannie goats here subject to delivery on demand. Is there no demand? Somebody demand quick or else the natural love we feel for all human kind will fade away and our dislike for goats will run us crazy.

Mrs. Charles Skinner, of Greenville, spent the day here yesterday with her son, Dr. L. C. Skinner.

Miss Annie Nelson, of Winterville, spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Myrtle Smith.

A. M. Mosley, of Greenville, is here on business.

Mrs. Rebecca McLawhorn, a very aged lady near Ridge Spring, died Sunday and was buried Monday afternoon. She was the mother of Mr. John McLawhorn, a prominent farmer of that section.

Sunday night the wife of Big Six, a colored man living in Renston died. Yesterday Big Six, in company with a friend, came here for a coffin. Before leaving he visited the store of J. J. Hines and made some purchases. Upon being politely asked if there was any news, he replied with loud "ha! ha! my old woman died last night." The clerk expressing surprise, Big Six said "fore God she did and yonder's the box. I am going to put her away in." Yet they say ignorance is bliss.

D. Gibb has moved to the new residence recently built by R. H. Garris on Third street.

M. M. Sauls is off on a visit to friends in Fremont.

J. J. Smith told us Saturday he had last week sold a bale of cotton in Norfolk for 14 cents per pound, the amount received for the bale being $73.34.

Miss Lizzie Blount came up Sunday from Grifton and spent the day with her brother, W. S. Blount.

J. B. Pierce has come home from Seven Springs where he has been for some time recuperating. He looks very much better.

Mrs. W. E. Hooks has come home from a week's visit in the country.

Miss Lula Smith who has been away for a week visiting, returned home Sunday.

Irish potatoes are being shipped in large quantities. The price for them is very much off. The farmers are shipping too early.

Mrs. Georgia Baker has moved her goods to the store occupied by W. E. Hooks.

Mrs. Lou Nichols is here on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Hemby.

George Allen, of Beaver Dam, was here Monday for the first time in nine years.

Miss Tucker, of Kinston, is visiting Miss Florence Blount at the hotel.

Mrs. E. C. Cox and Mrs. W. J. Boyd spent yesterday in Greenville with friends.

A telegram was received this morning from Fremont announcing the death of Mr. Jesse Sauls, which occurred last night. He was father of our druggist, Dr. M. M. Sauls, who was in Fremont at the time. Mr. Sauls was a prominent farmer and highly esteemed man. All here express sympathy for the bereaved ones.

Is there a woman in the moon as well as "the man in the moon"? The circumstantial evidence is strong that the woman is right there. The man in the moon wouldn't make such a good appearance if there weren't a woman to put him up to it, and every man knows that no man would stay in the moon so long unless there was a woman in it. —Wilmington Star.

RAISE OF SALARY.

Good News From the Department for Rural Free Delivery Carriers.

It was announced a few days since that the salary of railway postal clerks would be increased on the first of July $100, and an order has now been issued by the fourth assistant postmaster general to the effect that the rural mail carriers will get a raise on the first, the increase being greater in proportion than that given the postal clerks. There are a few instances where the raise will not apply.

Carriers that have been receiving $720 per year will be raised to $900; those receiving from $684 to $702 will get $864; $648 and $666 class is raised to $810; $612 class to $720, and $76 class to $630.

It can be seen that the highest salaried men will get the largest increase, the greatest raise being $180.

Enormous Movement of Truck

The heaviest moving of freight ever witnessed in this city occurred this afternoon when the Norfolk and Southern railway's double-header truck passed through from New Bern with 75 car loads of truck for the northern markets.

It gave the appearance of prosperity and progress, seeing the products of the fertile fields of eastern North Carolina shipped in such enormous quantities by quick dispatch to the cities that are anxious for them at a good price.

The country being developed by this railroad is rich in natural resources and the new transportation facilities will place it in touch with the outside world, which will bring it to the notice of capital, home-seekers and investors.

It has become necessary for the Norfolk and Southern to increase its depot accommodations on account of the constantly increasing volume of business and this work is being done as rapidly as possible. —Washington Messenger, 14 h.

Cardinal Gibbons in Worcester.

Special to Reflector.

Worcester, Mass., June 18.—The greatest demonstration ever witnessed by the Catholic residents of Worcester is taking place today in receiving Cardinal Gibbons, who has come here to attend the graduation exercises at Holy Cross college. The streets were filled at an early hour with earnest Catholics. The demonstration was made by Catholics without regard to racial differences, as none were known as French or Irish Catholics, but simply as Catholics. The cardinal's carriage was surrounded by a body-guard of horsemen, representing the Catholics in the State militia. This is Cardinal Gibbons' first visit to Worcester and it is feared that it will be his last, owing to his advanced age.

Mayo-Patrick.

Mr and Mrs. Benjamin F. Patrick invite you to be present at St. Paul's Episcopal Church Greenville, North Carolina on Wednesday morning, July the third at half after seven o'clock to witness the marriage of their daughter Bessie Virginia to Mr. Cary Burwell Mayo. No cards issued in town.

Bitten by Dog.

Frank Bradley, a son of Mr. C. E. Bradley, and one of the Reflector carrier boys, was bitten on the leg by a dog while going on an errand through "New Town" this morning. The dog ran out from under a house and grabbed Frank as he was passing by. He is not hurt much.

THE MEETING.

Two More Edifying Sermons.

Rev. W. F. Fry's sermon in Memorial Baptist church, Monday night, was from Isaiah 55:7 "Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon." The text was a gospel sermon within itself, but he enlarged upon it with much interest. Merely turning from sin, he said, that is to quit doing certain things, is not the requirement to obtain God's mercy and will not save a man, but it is repentance and forsaking sin because God hates sin. To him who sincerely repents and forsakes sin God gives abundant pardon, not merely forgiving without forgetting the sin. It is blotted out and remembered no more.

The sermon this morning was on what Christ teaches regarding forgiveness of personal wrongs. These points were emphasized; Granting forgiveness of wrongs done us by our fellow man is a prerequisite to God's forgiveness of our wrongs, not a procuring cause. The wronged shall take the initiative in seeking reconciliation. God's forgiveness to us should be an incentive to us to forgive others. Forgiveness should be without reserve. Repentance of wrong done should precede forgiveness, but be careful about mistake here, as there should be constant yearning in the heart for reconciliation and love for one who has wronged you.

It was an earnest sermon and clearly showed one's duty in this important teaching of Christ. There was one profession at this service.

Services tonight and tomorrow morning at the usual hours.

Masons Annual Meeting.

May Make Brown Non-Secretarian.

Special to Reflector.

Providence, R. I., June 18.—At the meeting of the associated alumni of Brown university today an effort will be made to petition the general assembly of Rhode Island for permission to amend the charter of the university so as to make the institution non-sectarian, instead of Baptist. At present the charter of the institution provides that a certain number of the board of fellows shall be members of the Baptist denomination and the charter also provides that the majority shall always be of the Baptist faith. Those in favor of the proposed change claim that many desirable students are deterred from attending the university and that in several instances the college has been unable to participate in valuable bequests owing to the denominational clause in its charter.

The Best Plan.

The Statesville Landmark declares with conviction that "it is infinitely better to have property assessed at its true value—not only because the law requires it but as a matter of policy—and have a low tax rate, than to have a low valuation of property and a high tax rate." The Landmark holds that an actual-value assessment would make a difference only to the large taxpayer, who as it truly says does not bear his proportion of the burden under the system now generally prevailing and would consequently have no just cause for complaint.

We do not believe that these propositions regarding the assessment of property can be successfully controverted. —Charlotte Observer.

Record of Disaster.

The year is not yet half gone, yet statistics compiled by the Chicago Tribune shows that its record of casualties already exceeds that of 1906. Two hundred and seventy-three persons have been killed and 925 injured in thirty-eight railroad wrecks, and 902 lives have been lost in twenty-three steamer wrecks. There have been thirteen mine accidents in which 35 persons have perished. Tidal waves have claimed 2,240 victims, earthquakes 5,100, hurricanes 530 and cyclones 70. Thus it would seem that 1907 has started out to write its record in human blood. —Savannah News.

Bank Increases Capital.

Special to Reflector.

New York, June 18.—The stockholders of the New York County National bank met today and passed a motion to increase the capital stock from $300,000 to $500,000. They also authorized the directors to declare a special dividend of $500,000 out of the surplus to be used in paying for the new stock. The stock of the New York County National bank is quoted at $1,200 bid. In 1906 the bank paid 50 per cent. dividends, and in 1905 dividends amounting to 100 per cent. were paid.

A man that is forever opposing everything that is in a community for the moral, educational, religious and industrial development of that community is a curse and can be of no benefit. —Clarkton Express.

SIX YEARS FOR JONES.

Took Bank's Money to Speculate in Cotton Futures.

Charlotte, N. C. June 17.—"Let the defendant serve six years in a Federal prison, the term beginning today." This was the sentence pronounced by Judge James E. Boyd this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock upon Frank H. Jones, the self-confessed defaulting cashier of the Charlotte National Bank.

It was a hushed scene in the crowded court room when the presiding judge pronounced sentence after expressing much feeling for the widowed mother and the faithful wife of the condemned man. The defendant himself heard the sentence without a tremor, having stood his trying ordeal with all the fortitude that a man can command after fully determining to meet his fate regardless of the consequences.

As soon as the sentence was pronounced the large crowd began to disperse. But a number of people for a long time friends of the man who is now a prisoner remained behind to take him by the hand and express to him their sympathy in his giving way to a temptation over which it was shown in his confession that he had no control.

Jones in his confession said that sickness of his father and in his own family made such demand on him for money that he could not meet it out of his salary. He resorted to speculation in cotton futures, won on his first venture, but lost always afterward and became an embezzler.

North Carolina and the Railroads

The North Carolina business men do not simply want to know "why" North Carolina is discriminated against in freight rates, but they want a stop put to it. It is results and not talk they are after. When goods are hauled through the State to a point beyond for less than the rate would have been to stop them in the State, there is good ground for a kick. North Carolina wants her rights. She needs every cent of money, for education, for religion and for industrial advancement, and it is but right that our people should seek to get justice for the old North State in the matter of freight rates.

Love is apt to make a fool of a man, but most men are willing to take chances.

Some men are so nice to their wives that it arouses the suspicion of the neighbors.

California is getting ahead of the game. They have found a chicken out there that talks.

Secretary Cortelyou has decided to call in the $10,000 bills. He will not find any of them on us, so there is no worry in this quarter over the call.

There are always doubtless who think it is too good to believe. All the same we keep up the advice to watch Greenville. There are bigger things yet to be told.

The astronomers are working the sun spots again and accusing these of causing this foakish weather.

Manufacturing enterprises are what Greenville needs and must have. The people getting interested in these things shows that they are becoming aroused along the right line. The merest mention of a contemplated enterprise starts them to talking and many express themselves as ready to take hold and co-operate with the movement. For years the town has been losing, or rather failing to go forward as fast as might have been the case, for want of manufacturing enterprises, but now that we are waking up to this important need greater things may be expected. There is not a better location for factories, nor one that offers better opportunities for investors.

HAS THE WORLD BONDED.

A ten-million-bale crop of cotton ought to bring 15 cents a pound. This would yield to the farmers of the cotton State $750,000,000. A fifteen million-bale crop will bring 10 cents a pound which would yield $750,000,000. It looks as though the cotton farmer had the world bonded for about $750,000,000, whether the crop is a big one or a little one. It is up to the individual farmer not to get left on his share. — Charlotte Chronicle.

With this view of the matter it would be money in the pockets of the farmers if they would keep the crop cut down. If a ten million bale crop will bring as much money as fifteen million bale crop it would be better to make only ten million bales and save one third of the expense of cultivating a big crop.

RANDOM REFLECTIONS.

By a Contributor.
If Mr. Roosevelt ever has anything to say about the fish prevaricators, we know of a Princeton man who will call on Webster's dictionary for an overwhelming reply.
A man inserted an ad for a wife in the Chattanooga Star and because he secured one the next day, the paper announces with a great flourish that advertising pays. We shall await the post-nuptial statement of the defendant before rendering final judgment.

An incoming ship recently unloaded ten tons of Limburger cheese in San Francisco. If there is any city in the United States where the presence of such a cargo will not be especially noticeable, that is the one.

The vote of the 2-cent fare bill by Gov. Hughes, was a great shock to the people of the Empire State. It was fondly hoped and believed that he was free from "corporate influence." But his veto of the bill to give 2-cent rate to passengers within the State of New York, shows that he is merely a "corporation tool" as Mr. Hearst declared last fall. The reason that the governor assigns for his veto is the veriest rot. He says that the matter had no legislative inquiry or investigation. Has not Ohio and other great States been enjoying such a law for years, and the railroads of Ohio, and the other States show no signs of going into bankruptcy. If Gov. Hughes ever had the presidential buzz in his bonnet, he might as well bid him a dieu.
A Detroit man was trying to support three families has just been declared a bankrupt. In view of the cost of living, it is a wonder he was not also declared insane.
"If dollar wheat makes $6 flour," asks the St. Albans Messenger "where does the great public benefit come in?" Why the public has less trouble getting rid of its money of course. Ask us another.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

Wonderful Skill Shown by Birds. Their House Building.

It is only within recent years that men have learned how to make houses and other structures of cement. This art is probably yet in a crude stage, and by and by mankind may learn to use the material in a more skillful and efficient way.
But many of the lower animals have for ages been making their houses of mud or of similar plastic and hardening substances. The cliff swallow's skillfully built home is indeed a wonderful structure, especially when we take into consideration the simple way in which the bird does the work. Imagine a boy or a girl trying to make such a structure of mud and handling the material only by the aid of pointed pliers. Yet the bird does it and does it well with her pointed bill. In some cement structures, especially in railroad embankments, you have probably noticed that the workmen first put in several iron rods to increase the strength of the wall. This is practically what the phoebe, the robin and other birds do when they mix a liberal supply of grasses and other plant fibers, and even strings, through their concretions of mud. — From "Nature and Science" in St. Nicholas.

Origin of the Cornucopia.

The cornucopia, or "horn of plenty," is a familiar figure in architecture and sculpture, where it is represented as filled to overflowing with fruits and flowers. Most boys and girls have seen it no doubt, but it may be that they do not know how it originated. The old writers say that it came from Jupiter, the supreme deity of the Romans, and this is the way of it: Rhea, Jupiter's mother, soon after he was born gave him to the daughters of Melisseus, king of Crete, as his nurses. They fed him with milk from the goat Amalthea, an animal that was sometimes badly treated by the infant god. One day, it is said, in a fit of temper he broke off one of Amalthea's horns and gave it to his nurses, endowing it with the power of becoming filled with whatever its possessor might wish. That horn became the cornucopia. — Chicago News.

A Soap Bubble Party.

The best way to prepare the water for a soap bubble party is to break some white soap in small pieces and put them in a large basin of clear water. Add a little glycerin and leave it stand until the soap is very soft. Then stir for a few minutes, and the water will be foamy and ready for use. The guests should be seated in a row or circle and the basin placed on a low table within sight of all. Each player is provided with a penny clay pipe, and then the fun can begin. A judge is selected, preferably the mother or nurse of the hostess, and it is her duty to keep score and finally to decide who has blown the largest bubble. The game can go the round of the guests as often as desired. There can be a prize for the best blower for each round, or a prize will do for the largest bubble throughout the entire game.

When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

When you feel the need of a pill take De Witt's Little Early Riser. Small pills, easy to take, easy to get. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

A woman always likes to have the telephoning when she has company.

For scratches, burns, cuts, insect bites and the many little hurts common to every family, De Witt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve is the best remedy. It is soothing, cooling, clean and healing. Be sure you get De Witt's. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

All men are not dishonest; some of us have to furnish the incentive.

A prompt, pleasant, good remedy for coughs and colds, is Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It is especially recommended for babies and children, but good for every member of the family. It contains no opiates and does not constipate. Contains honey and tar and tastes nearly as good as maple syrup. Children like it. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

About all that some men are good for is to pose as horrible examples.

Bert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says "I have only taken four doses of your Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills as I want a perfect cure. Mr. Barber refers to De Witt's Kidney and Bladder Pills, which are unequalled for Backache, weak kidneys, inflammation of the bladder and all urinary troubles. A week's treatment for 25c. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

The president's Amias club seems to have stopped growing. No announcement of new members lately.

There is no case of indigestion, no matter how irritable or how obstinate that will not be speedily relieved by the use of Kodol. The main factor in curing the stomach of any disorder is rest, and the only way to get rest is to actually digest the food for the stomach itself. Kodol will do it. It is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids containing the very same juices found in a healthy stomach. It conforms to the Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Some men are so nice to their wives that it arouses the suspicion of the neighbors.

All stomach trouble are quickly relieved by taking a little Kodol after each meal. Kodol goes directly to the seat of the trouble, strengthens the digestive organs, supplies the natural digestive juices and digests what you eat. It is a simple, clean, pure, harmless remedy. Don't neglect your stomach. Take a little Kodol after each meal and see how good it makes you feel. Money back if it fails. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Piles get quick and certain relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Please note it is made alone for Piles, and its action is positive and certain. Itching, painful, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large nickel-capped glass jars 50cents. Sold by Bryans Drug Store.

At this season of the year the best game preserve is a refrigerator.

Get a free sample of Dr. Shoop's "Health Coffee" at our store. If real coffee disturbs your Stomach, your Heart or Kidneys, then try this clever Coffee imitation. Dr. Shoop has closely matched Old Java and Mocha Coffee in flavor and taste, yet it has not a single grain of real Coffee in it. Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted grains or cereals, with Malt, Nuts, etc. Made in a minute. No tedious wait. You will surely like it. Sold by T. E. Hooker & Co.

When some people tell the truth others are unable to recognize it.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Bock on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves". Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write to-day for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by Bryans Drug Store.

Love is apt to make a fool of a man, but most men are willing to take chances.

Mothers who give their children Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup invariably endorse it. Children like it because the taste is so pleasant. Contains honey and tar. It is the original laxative cough syrup and is unrivaled for the relief of croup. Drives the cold out through the bowels. Conforms to the Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

THE TIPPING NUISANCE.

to Sway Within and Without the Theaters of Paris.

"When a Parisian hits on the unhappy idea of going to the theater," writes one of them, "he has to run the gantlet of a rare collection of nuisances and plunderers. First there is the crowd outside the theater, and then there is another gang inside.

"He must give one tip to the coachman who drives him and another to the nimble person who springs to open the carriage door, even if he opens it himself. Then come the flower girls and the ticket speculators and the programme vendors. They stand in his way and importune him. He has almost to use violence to rescue his coat tails from their clutches.

"At last the theater foyer swallows him up. He is saved from one parking pack, but new persecutors are ready. There is, first, the refreshment counter attendant. Won't he buy oranges? No, he won't. Then won't he buy candy for the lady? No. Then maybe a sandwich to eat between the acts, and so on. Next to this plague comes, second, the programme peddler—only authorized and official programme, of course—and, third, the opera glass man."

There is a fourth, too, but the fourth interior plague of the theater takes a great deal of space and ill temper to describe it. She is the ouvreuse, the official box opener and seat finder, the counterpart of the usher in New York, but displaying an itching palm and a very unpleasant disposition when not paid to be genial. The ouvreuse is the worst parasite of the Parisian theater, and few indeed are they from whom she fails to draw blood.

Her hand is not extended until the close of the performance, but she begins to get her fine work in at once. Not that she makes any pretense of finding the boxes or seats that the tickets presented to her call for. The kicker defies any one in Paris to come forward and swear that she ever found his place for him. Nobody could make such an affidavit without committing perjury, he says. But what she does is grab his hat and overcoat and walking cane. These she locks up in a chamber of horrors which she calls the cloakroom, and thenceforward the victim is at her mercy. He can not escape without paying tribute.

It is no wonder that the ouvreuse devotes more attention to collecting her revenue than to seating the audience. It is a serious matter for her. Not only has she to make her living out of it, but she must also make up the quota of "the house." In one theater the ouvreuse pays 7 francs, or $1.40, a night for her privilege. Sometimes it is more or less, but always somewhere between 5 and 10 francs, except in two or three of the best theaters, which have tried to reform the system. One or two go so far as to pay a salary, but even in these there is such a pleading look in the poor woman's eyes as she surrenders one's light baggage that no man with a tender heart can keep his hand out of his change pocket. He knows the woman is under heavy expenses. She must be expensively dressed in up to date style to keep her job.

But occasionally a man will revolt. One tells how one June evening he went to a variety theater alone. He dodged the ouvreuse at a busy moment, slipped down the aisle, found his seat by himself and sat down in it with an expression of unconscious innocence. As it was warm, he had no overcoat, and he hid his hat under the seat. All the same, toward the end of the performance the ouvreuse appeared with outstretched hand.

"What for?" he asked.
"For service," she answered.
"What service?"
"The customary service."
"But you gave me none. Why should I give you anything?"
"Oh, pardon," she explained in a good audible tone. "I did not recognize that monsieur was a dead-head!"

This brought him to time, and he gave her a franc.—New York Sun.

Making Panama Hats.

The panama hat industry is carried on in the departments of Cundinamarca, Tolima, Antioquia and Santander, in the republic of Colombia, but mostly in the last named department, where it is the breadwinner to more than one-half of its population. There are no regular factories, but the hats are hand woven by thousands of peasant women in almost as many households and sold or traded in the local stores in exchange for provisions or articles of clothing, the hat being in these regions a convenient medium of exchange, the housewife exchanging the product of her labor for so many pounds of flour, sugar, etc. Panama hats are made with the veils of fibers of a palm leaf, the tissues of which are scraped off or combed in much the same way as hemp.—Baltimore Sun.

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart.

Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Nice for the children—and thoroughly safe too. ### THE ANCIENT BO TREE.

Oldest Living Thing of Which Man Has Kept Record.

This bo tree (the Ficus religiosa) is probably the oldest living thing in the world of which record has been kept by man and, with the possible exception of the sequoia, the oldest of living trees. It was brought from India by the Princess Sanghamitta and was planted by King Dewananiya Tissa in 288 B. C. It is therefore 2,195 years old. The preservation of this tree has been an object of reverent solicitude to successive dynasties, and either through superstitious reverence or because of its worthlessness to a plunderer it has been spared amid all the havoc of repeated invasions. As recently as 1739 A. D. it was endowed with lands by Raja Sinah, a Kandian chief.

The bo tree's age and identity are matters of absolutely faithful record, and when one recalls that in the rigorous climate of northern Germany, in Hildesheim, there grows a rosebush which is a thousand years old it does not seem so remarkable that in the balmy climate of Ceylon this tree should have lived twice as long. It is gnarled and unsymmetrical, because many of its branches have been cut off and sent to distant temples. This bo tree is a branch of the tree under which Guatama Buddha sat when he attained Nirvana, and Buddhists say the passion through which he passed communicated itself to the tree and caused all the leaves to tremble. Each of the millions of pilgrims who have toiled along the sacred way which leads to this shrine has hoped to bear away with him a leaf from the sacred tree, and happy is he at whose feet one falls.

The leaves hang on a slender stem and are easily stirred by the slightest breeze, so each petitioner is rewarded for his pilgrimage by feeling that the tree responds to the fervor of his soul, but few take home a leaf. Many bring offerings to the tree, and on a number of the lower leaves are sheets of gold placed there by jewelers and other wealthy worshippers.—Rosalie S. Morton in Century.

Wall Paper and the Sick.

"I am glad the walls of my bedroom are not papered," said the invalid. "Nobody but the sick knows how nerve racking it is to lie all day long looking at the wall paper that doesn't match. It matches well enough, you understand, for people who are well. They never would notice where the flowers failed to hitch or the stems met too far down the fraction of an inch, but we notice it and worry over it and cry sometimes because it worries us so. My wall is painted light blue, the color of the skies. It doesn't hurt my eyes at all to look at it. It doesn't worry me. When the curtain is down it is the very softest kind of blue, so gratifying that I fall asleep looking at it. Oh, yes; the only thing to do with the walls of the sickroom is to paint them light blue."—New York Press.
