WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

Notes From Our Hustling Neighbor.
Winterville, N. C., June 19.

M. G. Bryan spent Sunday with relatives near Stokes and returned Monday accompanied by Mrs. Bryan who had been spending some time with her mother.

The tax lists and assessors will be here again the 24th.

Robt. Abbott, book-keeper for the Pitt County Oil Co., is spending some time at his home near Grifton.

Mrs. B. G. Taylor, who had been at the hospital in Kinston, was able to return home Sunday morning. She stood the trip all right and is improving rapidly.

A. G. Cox and J. L. Jackson attended services at the Baptist church in Greenville Sunday morning.

Miss Mimie Cox returned home from Greenville Sunday afternoon after having spent several days with Miss Hennie Ragsdale.

Rev. B. E. Stanfield filled his regular appointment at the Methodist church Sunday night.

Quite a number of our people attended services at Bethany Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Barnhill spent Sunday with relatives near Onley.

F. C. Nye spent Sunday in Goldsboro and returned Monday morning.

Theodore Cox went to Parmele Tuesday on business.

The new gates are up, to our delight and convenience.

The people of Winterville were delightfully entertained at the Methodist church last Sunday afternoon by the Bright Jewels who gave a children's day service, the program of which was as follows:

Opening song, by the school.
Prayer by the pastor.
Responsive Bible reading.
Gloria Patri.

Creed and Lord's prayer.
Bible reading, Jesse Rollins.
Song, "We praise thee O God" school.

Introductory dialogue, Mamie Chapman and Olivera Cox.

Song, "Golden Harps are Sounding," by the school.
Children's offering, five little girls.

Song, "Little Workers," by smaller children.

Recitation, Jeanette Cox and Jasper Corey.

Song, "Remember the Sabbath Day," by school.

Recitation, "The Bible," Esther Johnson.

Song, "An Open Bible for the World," by school.

Recitation, "First children's day," Clyde Chapman.

Duet, Olivera Cox and Myrtle Nobles.

Recitation, Leon Kittrell and Carrie Manning.

Song, "Scatter Sunshine," by school.

Recitation, Elithe Uzzelle.

Song, "Sabath Praises," by larger children.

Recitation, "Grandpa and Children's Day," Lula Nelson.

Chorus, by school.

Recitation, Lillie Morris, Leta Manning, Lottie Belle Aldridge.

Song, Hosanna, by school.

Song, Farewell, by school.

The society has its right name for during the entire service the eyes of each girl and boy sparkled like the precious jewels of old mother earth. These were not all who had sparkling eyes for you could see from the countenances of Misses Bryan and Chapman, directors, that they were very much pleased by the success their many anxious hours had achieved.

The program was followed by a short talk from our much beloved pastor, Rev. B. E. Stanfield which was very instructive and much appreciated.

Weather.

Unsettled weather with occasional showers tonight and Thursday.

DOINGS AROUND FARMVILLE

That Enterprising Town is Moving.
Farmville, N. C. June 18, 1907.

Everything has been very quiet the past week except the weather which has been running its 1907 schedule. General green even seems slow in making his annual June charge on our farmers.

Tobacco continues to button, cotton still suffering from the cool nights, corn is looking a little stronger.

Our merchants seem to be taking life easy, while our mechanic's are steadily hammering their time away. The railroad forces have passed us by, both Norfolk and Southern and East Carolina, and now we are patiently waiting for a regular schedule. Some of our townpeople remarked today, we might soon look out for a palace car, for Assistant Vice-President Sunderland, of Raleigh passed through on horse back inspecting our depot and line.

Ed. Edwards is in our town placing sidewalks and curbing on some of our streets.

Maybe the electric light man will some day put in his appearance, or the water man may stroll along to quench our thirst. Our brick manufacturer opened his kiln of 100,000 last Monday morning and before Tuesday night had sold and delivered the last load. He says he could have sold more if he had had them. Mr. Belcher knows exactly how to make and burn them to please his many customers.

The sale of lots on last Thursday was very satisfactory, there being some over twenty lots sold to some of the most prominent farmers in our community. Townsend and Windham know just what to do with real estate placed in their hands, and they have quite a number of vacant lots that will soon be on the market, so any one wishing to purchase can get all necessary information by addressing or calling on the above named gentlemen.

Our friend Bill Wilkerson, Jr., who was so severely stricken with paralysis a few days ago, was brought home last Friday. He is slowly improving, we are glad to note, and hope he will soon get on his feet again.

The juniors of Farmville, were on the ball grounds practicing this afternoon. They say they are going to just beat the socks off the Snow Hill boys next Tuesday.

H. C. Turnage, of Turnage, was the guest of his sister, Mrs. Martha Joyner, Sunday. He informs us his loss by the hail storm was quite heavy. He had one hundred acres of cotton that had been chopped over and ploughed twice when the hail struck it. He now has a good stand since planting over.

We heard today several carriages of Farmville would give the class of orphans expected in Farmville next Saturday night a drive out in the country Sunday evening to visit the Green Spring. Visitors at the spring were 216 during the week and everybody we hear of is coming to the picnic next Tuesday.

Notice.

The children of the late Mrs. P. R. Hooker wish to extend their sincere thanks for the many expressions of sympathy shown during the illness and death of their beloved mother.

We hope the streets will be dry before Friday.

BLOODHOUNDS TRACK MAN.

Mr. Hines' Man Hunters Follow Tortuous Trail for Seven Miles in Carteret and Suspect Arrested.

Jim Harrington, of Carteret county, was arrested at his home and taken to Beaufort, tried and held under $500 bond to court to answer to the charge of arson, as a result of Mr. Hines', of Greenville, dogs trailing from the rear of Mr. Graham's store, which was burned at Harlowe Saturday night. The dogs were not put on the track until at least 36 hours after and it was feared that the trail was too cold, but they followed from immediately back of the burned store a track made across a field by a running man, and taking this through a tortuous trail, seven miles, to where Harrington was plowing in a field near his home. Mr. Hines was accompanied by the deputy sheriff of Carteret and Mr. Pratt, of the Dixie Insurance Company, at whose instance the dogs were brought, and Harrington made no resistance when the dogs pointed him out as the man.

A repeating Winchester rifle was found in Harrington's house and this the officer took charge of. He was taken to Beaufort and given a preliminary hearing at which some other evidence was offered besides the dogs' trailing him, and bound over to court in the sum of $500. Harrington mortgaged property for his bond. It developed at the trial that there was feeling on his part against Mr. Graham, whose store was burned, and witnesses swore that they saw two men, one resembling Harrington, crossing the river at the point the dogs trailed to. The tracking lasted three and a half hours; winding through tortuous bypaths twice the distance it was by a direct road from Harrington's to Graham's store.

The fire occurred about 1 o'clock Sunday morning and Mr. Graham, a saw mill man and merchant at Harlowe, lost his store, entire stock and $500 in cash burned, with only $1,000 insurance, making a loss to him of $2,500, at least. The money was chiefly in silver and this melted and all run in.

The insurance people paid Mr. Hines $50 and expenses for his dog's work, and were highly pleased at the result.—Kinston Free Press.

Seven Bodies Found.

Newport News, Va., June 17.—Clad in full naval uniform and with faces and hands fearfully mutilated, the bodies of Midshipmen W. C. Ulrich, of Wisconsin, class 1907; W. H. Stevenson, of North Carolina class 1906, and F. P. Holcomb, of Delaware, class 1907, were found in Chesapeake Bay today. The bodies, after being examined and identified, were taken by the naval hospital at Portsmouth.

Newport News, Va., June 18.—Today the waters of Hampton Roads gave up the bodies of four more victims of the Minnesota's launch disaster, two dead midshipmen and two bluejackets being picked up about a mile off Fort Wool Ripraps, within half a mile of where the launch was sunk. The corpses were those of Midshipmen Walter Carl Ulrich and Herbert Leander Holden, Ordinary Seaman H. L. Van Dorn and Coal Passer Jesse Conn.

Conferring About Bridge.

Dr. Tull, chairman of the board of commissioners of Lenoir county, and Mr. Gilbert, a member of the board, were here today in consultation with the board of commissioners of Pitt county in regard to building a steel bridge across the river at Grifton. This river there is the dividing line between the two counties.

THE MEETING.

Will Come to an End Tonight.

Owing to the rain there was only a small attendance at Memorial Baptist church Tuesday night. Rev. W. F. Fry did not preach, but the pastor, Rev. J. E. Ayscue, made a very earnest talk. Before concluding he announced that the services this morning and tonight would close the meeting. He urged all to be faithful in their work on this last day of the meeting and to come out tonight praying for and expecting a great blessing from God.

The doors of the church will be opened tonight to receive candidates for baptism.

Post Cards Cause Romance.

Special to Reflector:

Brockton, Mass., June 19.—A romance that began with a post card acquaintance culminated today in the marriage of Miss Grace Gladys Hathaway, daughter of Mrs. James McDevitt, of Campello, near this city, and Frank Ross Cash, of Vesuvius, Va. Miss Hathaway, a beautiful young woman of 22, some time ago became a member of a post card club in Campello. One card sent out by Miss Hathaway found its way into the hands of Mr. Cash, who belonged to a similar club. This ultimately led to a correspondence, and in time the young man proposed by mail and was accepted.

Telegraphers in Session.

Special to Reflector.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 19.—Knights of the key from nearly every State of the union assembled in Atlantic City today for the twenty-sixth annual convention of the association of railway telegraph superintendents. The sessions will extend through tomorrow and a large number of matters pertaining to railroad telegraph service will be discussed by experts. One of the principal subjects up for discussion is that of the use of concrete for telegraph and telephone poles, and engineers, manufacturers and representatives of leading telegraph and telephone companies will present reports.

An Old Knife.

Mr. Jesse L. Smith, of Beaver Dam township, on Tuesday showed us a very old pocket knife. Mr. Smith says the knife was given to him some years ago by Mrs. Eliza Phillips, who was then 73 years of age. Mrs. Phillips told him the knife was owned by her grandmother who died during the Revolutionary war. The knife has a slightly curved handle and the blade has worn down keen and small. It is well preserved and stronger now than most modern knives after they have been used a little while.

Will Be Here Friday.

The State Board of Education will visit Greenville Friday to inspect the sites offered for the location of the Eastern training school. Under the first itinerary announced for the movement of the board, their arrival in Greenville was expected on Thursday evening train, spending the night and Friday morning here. A letter today announces that schedules are such that the board cannot reach Greenville until the for noon train Friday, and they will spend that afternoon and night here.

Potatoes.

Today Philadelphia quoted potatoes at $2.50 and Washington $3 to $3.50.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina.

Dr. D. S. Rowland and wife, of Raleigh, have both been committed to jail without bail, on the charge of murdering his wife's first husband.

Edward Ashby, a white man of Cabarrus county, on Sunday morning shot and killed his brother-in-law, Dan Overcash. Ashby also killed his father a few years ago.

The Masonic fraternity of Tarboro has let the contract for a temple to cost $18,000.

Charles Cheek, of Burlington, was found dead Tuesday morning beside the track of the Southern railway, two miles from Greensboro.

The Modern Country Girl.

The old-fashioned country girl of fiction, the girl with "the rustic woodland air" of poetry, the unsophisticated girl of the imagination of sophisticated city folks, has disappeared, and in her place is a highly intellectual maiden to whom rusticity is a matter of psychological analysis and unsophistication a sociological problem. As the country girl is in so many cases a college girl a new value has been given to country life. To her "the meanest flower that blows" can give not only thoughts that lie too deep for tears, but can also afford opportunity for the use of a knowledge of botany. She understands the physiological value of sunburn and the chemical constituents of fresh air. She talks learnedly about soils and subsoils, and has ideas about the rotation of crops. She may be discovered "coming through the rye," but ten to one, her interest is in the quality of the rye rather than in any amorous wayfarer, and should she meet the song hero is likely that she would ask his opinion upon some agricultural question rather than his sympathy for her loveless state.

There is no doubt that in the future one must look in the old songs and romances for the old-time country girl, but in real life would anyone dare to prefer the blushes of unsophistication to the pale cast of thought?—Chicago Tribune.

Is it Persecution?

The investigation of the affairs of the deaf and dumb school at Morganton has become tiresome. The first investigation which was inspired by a former teacher, in the institution, consumed several days, cost the State a pretty penny, and resulted, as all who knew him believed it would, in the complete vindication of Prof. Goodwin. Now comes W. A. Self, Esq., of Hickory, who charges that Miss Jessie Ball, a teacher, whose testimony at the investigation was unfavorable to the superintendent, was persecuted until she was driven to self-destruction. We can but believe that Mr. Self has permitted his zeal to get the better of his judgment in this matter. We would not attribute any unworthy motive to his request for another investigation but we are forced to conclude that there are moving spirits behind the proposition other than our Hickory friend. In fact it looks like Professor Goodwin is the victim of persecution. That he should have permitted a young woman to be hounded and tormented to her death to vent a spite is unbelievable.

If Governor Glenn will first trace the origin of these charges he may find another investigation unnecessary.

The sewerage system is about completed and ready to be turned over by the contractors to the town.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

The boys play ball tomorrow afternoon.

Deep sea mullets at S. M. Schultz.

The weather man missed it Tuesday night, and instead of being fair there was rain a plenty.

Buy odorless refrigerators of S. M. Schultz.

Cotton seed meal and hulls at F. V. Johnston's. 15 2nd Itw

Mr. W. H. White today brought The Reflector a box of elegant peaches for which we thank him.

Car strictly first class, corn at F. V. Johnston's. 1J 2td Itw

We will tell it anyhow, the sun is shining again.

Time you were making up your mind to get a fountain pen, Parker is the best. Nice line of them at Reflector Book Store.

The Masons will hold their annual meeting here tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock.

If you want to see something nice in the way of fountain pens, look at the new lot of Parker lucky curves just received at Reflector Book Store. A whole show case full of them, and they are the best made.

PERSONAL POINTS.

People who Come and Go.

G. G. Fineman has returned from Norfolk.

David Dixon, of Kinston, is visiting H. L. Coward.

Miss Lillian Nobles left this morning for a visit to Hamilton.

A Through Ticket.

A farmer who was the father of twelve children had rocked each one in the same cradle by the same great toe. He was rocking the newest arrival one evening when his wife remarked: "John, that cradle is nearly worn out; it's so rickety I'm afraid it will fall to pieces."

"It is about used up," replied her husband. Then handing her ten dollars, he added, "The next time you go to town, get a new one, a good one, one that will last."—Peoples Paper.

Distance and the Eyes.

The best eyesight is possessed by those people whose lands are vast and barren and where obstacles tending to shorten the sight are few. Eskimos will detect a white fox in the snow at a great distance away, while the Arabs of the deserts of Africa have such extreme powers of vision that on the vast plains of the desert they will pick out object invisible to the ordinary eye at ranges from one to ten miles distant. Among civilized people the Norwegians have better eyesight than most, if not all, others, as they more generally fulfill the necessary conditions.

The Mighty Caesar.

It was on the way to the battlefield of Pharsalia that Caesar uttered the famous saying to the fishermen: "He had come down to Brindisi to cross to Delos and, finding no galley, commanded the owner of a small sailing boat to put him across the Adriatic. On the voyage a violent storm occurred, and even the experienced mariners were terrified, but the great captain said: "Have no fear! You carry Caesar and his fortunes."

Four Miles a Minute.

The most wonderful bird flight noted is the migratory achievement of the Virginia plover, which leaves its haunts in North America and, taking a course down the Atlantic, usually from 400 to 500 miles east of the Bermudas, reaches the coast of Brazil in one unbroken flight of ten days, covering a distance of over 3,000 miles at the rate of four miles a minute.—Dundee Advertiser.

Sailors have a way of caulking bottoms that leak. The professor might take some lessons from them.

Astronomer See says that the earthquakes are being caused by leakage of ocean bottoms. However, he fails to tell how to remedy the trouble.—Wilington Dispatch.

San Francisco has fired Mayor Schmitz from office. The city would have been the savior both in cash and reputation to have taken this step sooner.

The Norfolk & Western railroad has announced that it will submit to the law passed by the last legislature putting the 2 cent passenger fare rate in effect July 1st. That is the common sense view to take of it, and should have been the policy of all the other roads in the State.

Dr. Kincaid, in the First Presbyterian church of Charlotte, on Sunday administered the ordinance of baptism to his baby girl, and concluded the ceremony by imprinting a resounding kiss on the baby's lips. The Charlotte News says "it was the most unique baptismal service ever witnessed in the staid old First Presbyterian church." Now that Dr. Kincaid has started it he may have to kiss all the babies as a part of the baptismal service, or run the risk of making some parents feel that their little one has been slighted.

TIMELY WARNING TO BOYS.

We would like to whisper into the ear of every young man in this community to shun the card table. Shall we sketch the history of the gambler? Lured by bad company he finds his way into a place where honest men ought never to go. He sits down to his first game, but only for pastime and the desire of being thought sociable. The players deal out the cards. They unconsciously play into Satan's hands who takes all the tricks and both the players' souls for trumps—he being a sharper at the game. A slight stake is put up just to add interest to the play. Game after game is played. Larger stakes and still larger. They begin to move nervously on their chairs. Their brows lower and eyes flash until now they who win and they who lose, fired alike with passion, sit with set jaws and compressed lips and clinched fists and eyes like their sockets, to see the final turn before it comes; if losing, pale with envy and tremulous with unuttered oaths cast back red hot upon the heart, or, winning with historic laugh. While gambling in itself is bad enough it is the stepping stone to all other vices and evils which inflict mankind. Young men, shun the gambling table as you would a poisonous serpent.—Fort Mill Times.

Lost: $8,000,000 on Cotton.
President C. C. Moore, of the Southern Cotton Association, figures that "the old system of marketing cotton has cost our State from two to twenty million dollars annually," and he adds "if there had been some system by which our 1906 crop of about 625,000 bales could have been held from market, until this time, the value of the crop to the State would be near $3,000,000 more than we did receive for holding cotton. The farmers sold most of the crop in the fall. If all the crop could have been sold at present prices, we would be twice as prosperous in the cotton section, or if we could have held one-tenth of the crop until today, that would have made a big difference. The present prosperity of the South is chiefly due to the prosperity of cotton farmers. While our industries are varied, cotton is the true barometer of the South's financial status.—Raleigh News and Observer.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.
Suggestion For a Practical Work-bag—Domestic Helps.

A sensible suggestion is that of making a workbag with the sewing implements on the outside of the bag instead of the inside. When spools, needles, scissors and other articles are carried inside the bag they are invariably getting mixed up with the work and are hard to find when wanted. To finally gain possession of a particular spool of thread it is generally necessary to dump the entire contents of the bag out into one's apron and then patiently put the things all back again. If the different articles needed for sewing were suspended from the rim of the bag by ribbons they would not only be accessible when wanted, but would leave more room inside the bag for the work. This plan would not make it impossible to carry the bag on the street when about to start for a thimble party; the ribbons with the different objects attached to them could be dropped inside the bag.

Hot Water For Medical Purposes.
Hot water has far more medical virtues than many believe. Because it is so easily procured many think it valueless. There is nothing that so promptly cuts short congestion of the lungs, sore throat or rheumatism as hot water applied promptly and thoroughly. Headache yields to frequent application of hot water to the feet and back of the neck. A towel wrung out of hot water and held to the face will generally give relief in neuralgia and toothache. A napkin wrung out and put around the neck of a child suffering from croup will sometimes bring relief in ten minutes. A tumblerful of hot water taken in the morning half an hour before breakfast will help cases of stomach trouble. Very hot water will stop dangerous bleeding.—Housekeeper.

To Take Out Paint.
Equal parts of ammonia and turpentine will take paint out of clothing, no matter how dry or hard it may be. Saturate the spot two or three times, then wash it out in soapsuds. A tablespoonful of oxalic acid dissolved in a pint of hot water will remove paint spots from the windows. Pour a little in a cup and apply to the spots with a swab, but be sure not to allow the acid to touch the hands. Braseros may be quickly cleaned with it. Great care must be taken in labeling the bottle and putting it out of the reach of children, as it is a deadly poison.

To Remove Iron Rust.
Make a solution of tartaric acid by dissolving one teaspoonful of the powder in one-half a cupful of water. Dip the spots of rust in this and hang in the sun a few minutes. It will disappear as if by magic. If the rust is of long standing a second application of the solution may be necessary or even a third. This will remove all the color, so it can only be used on white goods. It is harmless to the fabric, is a vegetable acid and acts like lemon, only it is much more powerful.

A Mending Device.
When a rip or tear appears in a dress do not patch or sew together, but use the following hint, which is a very good one: Cut a piece of mending tissue the size of the rip or tear, also a piece of material to match the garment of the same size. Place the garment on the wrong side and over the rip or tear place first the piece of material, then the mending tissue and press with a hot iron.

Household Hints.
A pint milk bottle makes a first rate pestle in the absence of an ordinary one.
If aprons are always hung up by the strings instead of by the middle of the front they will not be so liable to become torn and wrinkled.
If the china gets a rust spot on it rub the place with a cloth dipped in salt. It works like magic and does not scratch the china as a scouring soap would do.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
—We will give One hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh cure. Send for circulars, free.

A prompt, pleasant, good remedy for coughs and colds, is Kennedy's Luxative Cough Syrup. It is especially recommended for babies and children, but good for every member of the family.
It contains no opiates and does not constipate. Contains honey and tar and tastes nearly as good as maple syrup.
Children like it. Sold by J. L. Wooten's
Drug Store.

There is no case of indigestion, no matter how irritable or how obstinate that will not be speedily relieved by the use of Kodol. The main factor in curing the stomach of any disorder is rest, and the only way to get rest is to actually digest the food for the stomach itself.
Kodol will do it. It is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids containing the very same juices found in a healthy stomach. It conforms to the Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by J. L. Wooten

Some people think if they have a little money they are rich—what would they think if they were in Rockefeller's place.

All stomach trouble are quickly relieved by taking a little Kodol after each meal. Kodol goes directly to the seat of the trouble, strengthens the digestive organs, supplies the natural digestive juices and digests what you eat. It is a simple, clean, pure, harmless remedy. Don't neglect your stomach. Take a little Kodol after each meal and see how good it makes you feel. Money back if it fails. Sold by make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr.

BOYS WANTED.

"Boy Wanted" is a sign that is seen more frequently in the windows of business places now than for many years, according to the Philadelphia Record. Business men of all classes and conditions are complaining of the scarcity of boys of a suitable age who are willing to work, and a bright, active lad of the legal age will find no trouble in securing his choice of any number of good offers. The reasons advanced for the scarcity are varied. Some men of business say it is a direct result of the labor laws, which keep a boy from working as young as was formerly possible. There are many offices in which a boy is required to act only as messenger, and the wages are not sufficient to attract a boy of the age required by law.
Others say that the lack of working boys is due to the prosperity of the masses of the people, making wage earning by the younger members of the family less a matter of necessity than it was years ago.

History of Creased Trousers.

"Did you ever hear the history of the crease now uniformly worn in trousers and occasionally extending to the sleeves of coats? No.
Well, it's a funny one. In former years creased trousers were the signs of a hand me down suit," says a fashionable tailor. "One day while on his way in a carriage to the Goodwood races, in England, King Edward happened to spill a glass of red wine on his light fawncolored broadcloth trousers, and,
unwilling to return to the palace,
he stopped at a ready made clothing store and bought a pair. In his haste he could not wait to have the creases ironed out. As a consequence he was seen at the races with creased trousers. The fashion was set, and it has stayed ever since.
Yes, we're all—that is, all men—
subjects of King Edward in a sartorial sense. Fortunately he is a careful dresser or the consequences
might be serious." — Philadelphia Record.

Tobacco in Colonial Days.

The Jamestown exposition brings to mind many incidents showing the important part which tobacco played in the early history of the country. It was the famous James Rolfe, the husband of Pocahontas, who first adopted from the Indians
the idea of cultivating tobacco, and he sold his first crop in London for $2.50 a pound. Shortly afterward it became a form of currency in the colony, and before the century was out the women went trading, followed by a cart of green tobacco in charge of their servants. On one occasion anyway this tobacco currency exercised a transcendently important function. In 1619 there came to Jamestown a shipload of maidens as wives for the settlers, and the price set upon each damsel was 120 pounds of tobacco.—Ex-

A Young Man's Essay.

About forty years ago the adju-dicators of the Arnold historical essay prize at Oxford university were wearily plowing through the usual
lot of commonplace compositions when they suddenly lighted on one which was not commonplace. The subject was "The Holy Roman Empire," and it is not too much to say that these cynical dons were electrified to enthusiasm. Hastily awarding it the prize, they opened the sealed envelope and found that it was the work of one James Bryce, aged twenty-five, who is now British minister to the United States.
His essay has been reproduced in several languages and to this day is a standard on the subject.

He Didn't Care.

The usual large crowd was gathered at the New York end of the Brooklyn bridge waiting for trolley cars. An elderly lady, red in the face, flustered and fussy, dug her elbows into convenient ribs irrespective of owners. A fat man on her left was the recipient of a particularly vicious jab. She yelled at him, "Say!" He winced slightly and moved to one side. She, too, sidestepped and thumped him vigorously on the back. "Say," she persisted, "does it make any difference which of these cars I take to Greenwood cemetery?" "Not to me, madam," he answered, slipping through an opening in the crowd.—

Maxims of Medical Value.

The bulletin of the Kansas state board of health contains some maxims which, while at first thought seem somewhat out of place in such a publication, really have a therapeutic application. Here they are:
Get busy. Monotony kills.
Faith in one's cause is half the battle.
Nine-tenths of your troubles are imaginary.
Turn it around. Look at the other side.
You have mistaken the purpose of your grindstone if you are holding your nose to it.

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart.
Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak.
Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the sneeze stage—they break, or head off these early colds. That's surely better.
That's why they are called Preventics.
Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Nice for the children—and thorough & safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you ache all over, think of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child, if there is feverishness, night or day. Herein probably lies Preventics' greatest efficiency. Sold in 1c boxes for the pocket, also in 25c boxes of 48
Preventics. Insist on your druggists giving you

DUCK HUNTING.

The Way the Indians Get the Fowl Without Shooting.

A tribe of Indians had come for their annual trapping and hunting, and as I knew many of them I spent several days in their camp. One bright, cool afternoon in October a young buck said to me: "You come, me show how catch duck alive. No shoot." He gathered up a bunch of long dried grass, willow twigs and leaves and beckoned me to follow. We went nearly two miles to the edge of a large lumber slough, the banks of which for some distance back were covered with willow and other brush. Cautiously and noiselessly he made his way through the bushes until a view of the water could be had, ourselves remaining unseen. A large flock of butterballs were swimming near the lower end of the slough. Going back, he divested himself of blanket and what little other wearing apparel he possessed. Picking up the hay bundle, which was built around a sort of skull cap or head covering, with openings for the eyes, and adjusting it on his head, he slipped silently into the water. Getting in a position where I could watch him, I witnessed the gradual floating toward the ducks of the small partly submerged bundle of dried grass and twigs, now stopping, turning around, advancing a few feet and then checking again, naturally and deliberately, as if moved by the current until it was in the midst of the flock without exciting any suspicion on their part. Suddenly two of their number were jerked under water, the balance of the flock arising with loud quacks and flying away. In a minute or so the Indian emerged from the water, holding a duck in each hand by the legs, shook himself and, shifting his hands, wrung the neck of first one duck and then the other, threw them on the ground and with the Indian "Ugh," said: "Me got um. Had to have."—Forest and Stream.

Baby's Unconscious Charm.

Members of the woman's club were talking about babies.
"I like them when they're pretty," said the president.
"I don't care especially whether they're pretty or not if only they're bright," said the secretary, who was a literary woman.
The club hostess smiled benignly. She was a spinster and was therefore without maternal prejudices.
"It's all in the care of them," she said. "I once had to take care of a baby for two weeks. It was without doubt the homeliest baby I had ever seen—if any one may apply that adjective to a baby—and it looked as dumb as an owl in the daytime. It was thrust upon me against my will, and I had the sole charge of it. At the end of the two weeks I thought it was the most beautiful thing on earth and the smartest child that had ever been born. When its mother came to take it away I felt deeply injured."—New York Press.
