SKINNED BY AGENTS.

One of Numerous Instances Where the People Are Robbed by Smooth [Tricksters.]

At least two Rowan county men have been skinned to a finish by agents for a washing machine. The machine, which ordinarily retails for from 75 cents to $1.00 is sold for $10.00 by the agents and is really a valuable invention. But the excessive retail price is not where the Rowan buyers were hurt. They were sold the universal right for $500. In addition they are to be allowed $250 for every other man to whom they could sell a right. One sale would reduce the cost of the right to $250, $250 would make it a gift and all others would put a bonus of $250 in the pockets of the seller. In the two instances referred to the buyers were scarcely able to make the outlay of $500, but they saw so many millions ahead that they strained several points and acquired the right which, of course, turns out to be worth nothing.

In Montgomery county, the Post is told, these agents reaped a harvest.

One young man who had just bought a horse and buggy for which he paid $250 was selected by one agent who found that the young fellow had $200 in cash besides. He got his horse, buggy and $200 and his victim got a gold brick. A gentleman from Montgomery says this is but one case of the kind in that county, and adds that the life of any of the agents who turned the trick there would not be safe in the county.—Salisbury Post.

Guess these are the same washing machine right fellows that were working Pitt county a few months ago. If folks would read the newspapers like they ought to, they might escape being taken in so easily by such tricksters.

The Threatened Telegraph Strike.

Scarcely less than the railroads, the telegraph companies render a vitally necessary public service, and the threatened interruption of that service through an operators' strike is clearly a very serious matter. Those classes of business which are, by their nature, geographically extensive have most to fear, but scarcely any portion of the public is secure against loss or serious inconvenience. It goes without saying that if a strike is called those who call it will assume a very grave responsibility; in fact, this looks like one of those cases where, in the public interest, compulsory arbitration of differences might be required by law. Appeals by business interests to President Roosevelt have been without material result. Because nothing in the nature of an actual convulsion of the body politic threatens, the President, declining to follow the much-criticized precedent of moral intervention established by him in the anthracite coal strike, has simply turned the matter over to Commissioner of Labor Neill, who can only investigate and report after the trouble is over. No benevolent despotism unknown to the law will be exercised in this case. The dispute, except for such aid as may come from unofficial quarters, must be settled between the disputants themselves.—Charlotte Observer.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina.

The most extensive raid of moonshine stills that has taken place in the State was made in Stokes county Wednesday. Thirteen stills and ten men were captured. Twenty seven officers took part in the raid.

The Chronicle says Charlotte is enjoying watermelons.

Express Company's Melon.

Two days ago a citizen of Louisburg happened to be talking to a friend in Raleigh about the extortionate express charges on mail packages. He cited an instance that a charge of forty five cents was made for carrying a small hand-satchel from Dunn to Louisburg, though the contents of the little satchel were worth little more than the express charge. Is there no remedy from high express charges in North Carolina?

On the day following the above conversation, the New York World printed the following:

"The Adams Express Company cut a $24,000,000 melon for its stockholders yesterday. The news was not announced until after the business day in Wall street had ended, but the cutting will probably do something today in the way of knocking holes in the financial district for months.

"Once before, in 1898, the Adams Express Company cut a huge melon for its stockholders. That was a $12,000,000 melon, just half the size of the one handed out yesterday.

"The $24,000,000 melon amounts to a 200 per cent dividend distribution on the stock. The capital of the company consists of 120,000 shares which are generally quoted as at a par value of $100. Adams is a joint stock association which was formed in 1854. On a basis of 100 the 120,000 shares have a par value of $12,000,000, but the stock has a market value of $300 a share, or a total of $36,000,000.

"The $24,000,000 melon will be distributed in the form of collateral trust 4 per cent bonds, just as the $12,000,000 was distributed nine years ago. For each share of stock a shareholder will get $200 in bonds."

It is because express companies cut such watermelons that they must charge the public two prices for carrying express packages. An express company is a public service corporation. It ought to earn fair dividends for its stockholders, but government regulation ought to be such that the public would have reduced rates on express packages before such watermelons are out for stockholders.—Raleigh News Observer.

Tillman Strikes it Rich.

Special to Reflector.

Joplin, Mo., June 31.—United States Senator Benjamin Tillman, of South Carolina, is the latest to enter the lists of magnates in the "town that jack built," having recently purchased a mining property in the district on which an exceptionally rich strike has been made. Assayers report that the vein is unusually good and that it may in time make South Carolina statesman a millionaire. Senator Tillman has christened his property the Pitchfork Mining company. He has refused to sell any interest in it and the company will remain a close corporation.

Felt in Love With Prison Walls.

The town lock up had a peculiar prisoner last week, so we are informed by Chief Dickens. It appears that an old colored woman had been placed in the town lock up on account of her being unable to fork over the amount of $5 and costs for being disorderly. Later Mayor Goch instructed the Chief to give the old woman her liberty, provided she would leave town. The doors were thrown open, she being the only occupant, and she was informed that she could depart in peace. Several hours later Chief Dickens had occasion to visit the lock up. To his surprise the woman was seated upon the bed enjoying a dip of snuff. She had made up the beds in both cells, swept the floors of the cells, vestibule and jail yard and to all appearances was happy and contented. She explained that she had no objection to the place, whatever, provided she was not locked up in the cell.—Weldon News.

Trade Report.

Bradstreet's to-morrow will say for Richmond, Va. and vicinity, which includes Greenville.

Wholesale dealers in dry goods are taking orders for fall shipments, as yet the season is not far enough advanced to indicate the comparative volume of business.

Filling in orders have been light. The produce market is quiet, receipts are smaller. The weather has been more favorable this week for growing crops, all staple crops are late, larger shipments of vegetables are noted from North Carolina to northern markets. Retail trade shows slight improvement. Collections continue backward.

A Fine Team.

Did you notice J. F. King's thousand dollar pair of horses out today. They drew the carriage occupied by Secretary of State J. Bryan Grimes and his escort. It is seldom such a beautiful and well matched pair of bays can be found. Mr. King is a judge of fine horses and has cause to be proud of this pair.

Where Illiteracy is Rare.

The lowest rate of illiteracy in the world is found in Sweden, Norway and Germany. In the two first-named countries there is no person above the age of ten years who can't read and write unless he has forgotten those accomplishments or his mental faculties are so feeble that he has not been able to acquire them. This fact is so well understood that the census enumerators do not inquire whether a person can read or write. It is not considered necessary to do so. Education is compulsory. Every child is required to attend school and there is no community too small or too poor to provide educational facilities for its children. The same is true, in a great measure, throughout Germany. The only people who cannot read and write are the feeble minded and the aged who have outgrown their knowledge.—Washington Star.

PERSONAL POINTS.

People who Come and Go.

Miss Nancy Coward went to Ayden Thursday.

W. P. Edwards went up the road this morning.

Miss Frances Bagwell went to Gastonia this morning.

Miss Janie Brown went to Tarboro this morning.

J. B. Higgs returned Thursday evening from Norfolk.

Walter Sheppard, of Farmville, is visiting Mrs. Alice Harper.

C. W. Harvey returned Thursday evening from Rocky Mount.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lang returned Thursday from Baltimore and Norfolk.

Mrs. D. L. Hoyt, of Knoxville, Tenn., is visiting Misses Bessie and Bertha Patrick.

Rev. W. E. Cox returned Thursday evening from Washington, D. C.

Miss Lula O'Connor, of Knoxville, Tenn., arrived Thursday evening to visit Miss Eula Cox.

David Dixon, of Kinston, who has been visiting H. L. Coward, returned home Thursday evening.

Harold Parson, of Philadelphia, who has been spending a few days in town, returned home this morning.

Mrs. P. E. Dancy and daughter, Mrs. M. M. Nelson, returned Thursday evening from a visit to Philadelphia.

Mrs. E. H. Shelburn, and daughter Miss Mary and Miss Ruth Shelburn of Durham, went to Washington this morning.

Misses Lizzie Baker and Annie Baker Gaskill and Harry Eure, of Tarboro, who spent Thursday and Thursday night here, returned home this morning.

What a Boy Should Possess.

A New York paper asked a number of prominent persons what they considered the most important things for a boy to possess. A high-school master answered:

"There are some things in a boy that have very little effect on me. One of these is good looks. So long as a boy is strong, healthy, with a clear eye and a clean, manly face, it makes little difference to me whether he is red-headed and freckled, or not."

Another school principal expressed his preference for—

"Boys that refuse to borrow their neighbors' brain."

"Boys that study to know, and not to show off, or to pass examination."

"Boys that work hardest at the work which they find most difficult."

"Boys that don't hate a teacher because she has to reprimand them, but still regards her as a friend."

"Boys that don't make excuses, but, when corrected, take it like a soldier."—Selected.

The Boys are Coming.

Greenville is not taking much interest in base ball except on the part of the boys. Among them some fine players are developing, and if they keep it up this town will turn out some players in a year or two that can't be beat.

To Our Patrons.

It has been reported around town that we would handle ice only a short while and then our customers would be left without ice. I will say to the public that we are in the ice business to stay, and will be prepared to furnish you ice summer and winter, Guarantee good service. Polite drivers and prices to meet the lowest. C. W. Harvey & Co.

VISIT OF THE BOARD.

Five of Them in Greenville.

Five members of the State Board of Education were in Greenville today on their tour of inspection of sites offered in competition for the location of the Eastern Carolina Training School for teachers.

Secretary of State J. Bryan Grimes was already in Greenville, being summoned to a sick child. He left here Thursday morning to be with the board at Rocky Mount and Tarboro, and returned to Greenville that evening. Auditor B. F. Dixon also came to Greenville Thursday evening and spent the night here as the guest of ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis.

Lieutenant Governor F. D. Winston and Attorney General R. D. Gilmer, could not accompany the other members of the board, they both having important court engagements this week.

Governor R. B. Glenn, Treasurer R. B. Lacy and Superintendent of Public Instruction J. Y. Joyner arrived on the forenoon train.

At 11 o'clock carriages assembled at the office of County Superintendent W. H. Ragsdale, in Masonic Temple building, which was headquarters for the day. Here Mr. H. W. Whedbee took charge and directed subsequent movements for the day. First the carriages with escort of citizens went to the depot to meet the distinguished visitors and they were brought down to the office of Superintendent Ragsdale, in the following order:

Governor R. B. Glenn in carriage with ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis and Col. F. G. James.

Secretary of State J. Bryan Grimes in carriage with Mayor F. M. Wooten and chairman of County Commissioners R. W. King.

Treasurer B. R. Lacy in carriage with Senator J. L. Fleming and Mr. R. J. Cobb.

Auditor B. F. Dixon in carriage with Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse and Mr. H. A. White.

Superintendent of Public Instruction J. Y. Joyner in carriage with County Superintendent W. H. Ragsdale and Mr. J. L. Wooten.

Representative J. J. Laughinghouse and Editor D. J. Whichard were in carriage to escort Attorney General R. D. Gilmer.

There were many other prominent citizens of the town and all parts of the county in superintendents' office to meet the honored guests.

Governor Glenn dined with Col. F. G. James, Secretary Grimes with Hon. J. J. Laughinghouse, Treasurer Lacy with Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse, Auditor Dixon with ex-Gov. Jarvis, Superintendent Joyner with Mr. T. E. Hooker.

The afternoon was devoted to inspecting the different sites offered here for the school and in driving over and viewing the town.

It was not much of a game of ball here Thursday afternoon between the Tarboro and Greenville small boys. The score was 5 to 1 in favor of the visitors.

After tomorrow there will be but one more Saturday for tax listing.

They have seen Greenville and Greenville has seen them.

Most children are in doubt as to who their earthly parents are. Yes; most children have no "proof," documentary or technical, that their parents are their parents. They need none, and they would refuse to consider any. So it is with men's knowledge of their heavenly Father. That knowledge is never gained by "proof." The very Book which under the Father's inspiration, tells us all that we know of him, contains not a syllable to prove that there is a God, and that he is our Father. Affirmations of the fact are there in abundance—not as proofs, but as declarations of a truth in which men's hearts rejoice because they know with a knowledge that is beyond and better than proof. The fact that some few question or deny this knowledge does not mean that it is lacking even from their own hearts. And if they are to be won back to its recognition, this will be done never by a massing of proofs, but by patient love that reveals their Father to them.—S. S. Times.

Distance and the Eyes.

The best eyesight is possessed by those people whose lands are vast and barren and where obstacles tending to shorten the sight are few. Bedouins will detect a white fox in the snow at a great distance away, while the Arabs of the deserts of Africa have such extreme powers of vision that on the vast plains of the desert they will pick out objects invisible to the ordinary eye at ranges from one to ten miles distant. Among civilized people the Norwegians have better eyesight than most, if not all, others, as they more generally fulfill the necessary conditions.

The Mighty Caesar.

It was on his way to the battlefield of Pharsala that Caesar uttered the famous saying to the fishermen. He had come down to Brindisi to cross to Dyrrachium and, finding no galley, commanded the owner of a small sailing boat to put him across the Adriatic. On the voyage a violent storm occurred, and even the experienced mariners were terrified, but the great captain said: "Have no fear! You carry Caesar and his fortunes."

Four Miles a Minute.

The most wonderful bird flight noted is the migratory achievement of the Virginia plover, which leaves its haunts in North America and, taking a course down the Atlantic, usually from 400 to 500 miles east of the Bermudas, reaches the coast of Brazil in one unbroken flight of fifteen hours, covering a distance of over 3,000 miles at the rate of four miles a minute.—Dundee Advertiser.

THURSDAY JUNE 20th 1907.

June has the reputation of being the hardest month in the year, and this month is not going back on the record.

The view the members of the State Board of Education have taken of Greenville today, shows them that we have a good town.

It is in order now a days when a public man makes a speech for some sensational reporter to accuse him of saying things that he did not say. Then there comes the denial to fill more space.

Though Schmitz is in jail he still contends that he is mayor of San Francisco. But we see no accounts that persons arrested for offences in the city are flocking to the jail for their crimes to be tried before him.

That was a nice little sensation sent out from the Jamestown exposition about the girl sticking a hat pin in a sailor. All of them that wear sailors stick hat pins in them, the elastic string under the chin having long since gone out of style except with the little folks.

Jones is in the penitentiary, yet hardly for as long a term as his crime deserved. So the matter, so far as he is concerned, might as well be dropped. Being a confessed criminal his accusations implicating others will have no great weight, even if much he said should be true. Without substantiating testimony nobody knows how much of what he says to believe.

The fools are not all dead, but one of them has had a close call. It was an employ of the zoo at Columbus, Ohio. To prove President Roosevelt's contention that a wolf will not attack a man except under unusual circumstances, he entered a wolf cage and the animal chewed him up considerably. He might claim that his entering the cage was "unusual," but it was fool-hardy to say the least.

Greenville wisely concluded that making the bid for the Eastern training school along with the other towns, on the 5th of June, ended the matter so far as anything they could do, and has not been going wild over it since then. All that remained of making the bid was for the gentlemen composing the State Board of Education to inspect the sites offered, as the law directs, and render their decision. Greenville has confidence in the wisdom of these gentlemen, and patiently awaits their verdict.

Mr. Roosevelt would call Aunt Betsy Ray, color d. of Cumberland county, "a desirable citizen." She has 146 descendants, one of whom is a Methodist bishop in Pennsylvania. "Still more remarkable," says the Fayetteville Observer, "is the fact that not one of her descendants has ever been charged with a crime of any sort."—Raleigh News and Observer.

There is no doubt in the world that the Mecklenburg squirrel hunters did pass resolutions against British oppression on the 20 of May, 1775, and it is equally certain that Andrew Jackson was born on the right side of the State line near Waxhaw; so let us go right on believing it just as we believe the old State was first at Bethel and last at Appomattox. The more we controvert with the Charleston papers on those subjects the more they will get red in the face and swear that they could not be. The man with the facts against him loves an argument.—Charity and Children.

CLIMBING A CLIFF.

A Moment of Extreme Peril and an Obedient Substitute For a Rope.

Major John W. Powell, whose right arm was shot off during the civil war, undertook and brought to a successful issue one of the most daring feats of modern times. While making his explorations of the canyons of the Colorado river in 1869, says the author of "The Masters of Fate," he was called upon to face great dangers and trials. His own account of his explorations gives some idea of the difficulties encountered.

"I have a barometer on my back, which rather impedes my climbing. The walls of the fissure are smooth limestone, offering neither foot nor hand hold, so I support myself by pressing my back against one wall and my knees against the other, and in this way lift my body in a shuffling manner a few feet at a time until I have perhaps made twenty-five feet of the distance, when the crevice widens a little, and I cannot press my knees against the rocks in front with sufficient power to give me support in lifting my body, and I try to go back. This I cannot do without falling. So I struggle along sideways farther into the crevice, where it narrows.

"I find I can get up no farther and cannot get back, for I dare not let go with my hand and cannot reach foothold below. I call to Bradley for help. He cannot reach me. Then he looks around for some stick or limb of a tree, but finds none. The moment is critical. Standing on my toes, my muscles begin to tremble. If I lose my hold I shall fall to the bottom and then perhaps roll over the bench and tumble still farther down the cliff.

"At this instant it occurs to Bradley to take off his trousers, which he does, and swings them down to me. I hug close to the rock, let go with my hand, seize the dangling legs, and with this assistance I am enabled to get to the top."

A Game Two Could Play.

A once well known old time Louisville gambler on one occasion thought he had struck a good thing when a stranger who looked as if he had plenty of money came along and suggested a friendly game of poker. The game ran along very smoothly for awhile, and at last, when the opportune moment came, that unregenerate native dealt to the guileless stranger four queens and gave himself four kings.

Of course the betting became interesting right away, and after all the cash was up and it came to a show down the Louisville man laid down his four kings and the stranger showed four aces.

"Take the money, mister!" gasped the astonished Kentuckian as he nearly fell in a fit. "Take it if you have the heart to do it. But I'll be darned if that was the hand I dealt you!"

Central Neglected Her.

"May I use your telephone?" a woman asked the cashier in a restaurant. She wound the coil of the receiver around her finger and dangled the instrument.

"What do you think of my hat?" she asked, wheeling herself around for inspection.

"It cost just"—And she whispered the price confidentially. Then a long conversation followed. The telephone receiver dangled and bumped against the cigar case while its holder ran on about hats. After several minutes had elapsed the receiver was placed to her ear for the first time.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

LAUGH AND BE HEALTHY.

Don't Bottle Yourself Up and Court Nervous Prostration.

"If I were to assign any one special cause for nervous breakdown," said the doctor, "I would say lack of a sense of humor. You may retort that a person on the eve of a collapse doesn't feel particularly humorous and dismiss my suggestion with a laugh, but there's more to it than perhaps you think. I regard humor as one of the most valuable assets of mankind. In fact, there's nothing that can replace it, and I am genuinely sorry for the mortal from whose composition it seems to have been left out. It always has been a good thing for its possessor, but in this day of rush and more or less worry it is especially to be appreciated, for the man who is able to see the funny side of things, even though the joke may be on him, has a sort of safety valve, and he isn't likely to go to pieces as the result of a nervous explosion.

"Serious folk, you see, are invariably engaged in bottling things up—experiences of various kinds, their own impressions, and so on. They don't give themselves the outlet that is enjoyed by the man fond of a laugh and whose knowledge of the ridiculous enables him to regard things in proper perspective. The unduly serious don't dismiss trifles with a shrug and a smile. They exaggerate matters which should only be given a moment or so of amused attention, and the first that they know they have so much to think of that the poor brains become overtaxed, and off they must go to sanitariums or to sea or some place where, the theory is, some of the supposedly important affairs which have been troubling them can be eliminated from the mind."—New York Press.

Why She Wouldn't.

The proud parents who love to out their children on show are often disappointed through the perverseness of the youngsters. An incident of the kind occurred in a Columbus home when the fond mother asked her little daughter to sing a song for the guests of the evening. Great pains had been taken to teach the song to the child, and brilliant results were expected. But when the time for the singing came the little girl was not disposed to sing. The company begged and the mother insisted, even offering the child another piece of cake. But still the child refused.

"But why won't you sing?" the mother asked impatiently. "Mamma," said the child, "it hurts my finger nails." She did not sing.—Columbus Dispatch.

An Author's First Strike.

Justin McCarthy in his early days once submitted a story to a magazine called the Galaxy. One day he said to the editor, "I have come to see if you will take that story I offered the Galaxy."

"Yes," cordially responded the editor, "and sixty more like it."

Time passed, and one day Mr. McCarthy walked into the Galaxy office with an imposing pile of manuscript under his arm.

"What is that?" asked Mr. Sheldon.

Mr. McCarthy laid the bundle of manuscript upon the publisher's desk and replied, "Here are the sixty stories you ordered on the occasion of my last visit."

He got a check covering the whole sixty.—London Telegraph.

Didn't Mind the Disgrace.

Walter Howard, the London dramatist, was leaving the stage door of a theater one evening when an anemic looking youth stepped up and said, "Are you Mr. Howard?" The author replied in the affirmative, whereupon the young fellow said he wanted to go on the stage. Noticing his evident unfitness for such a life, Howard advised him to stick to his present occupation, whatever it was. "I am assistant to the pawnbroker across the way," said the ambitious young man. "And what do your people think of your going on the stage?" asked Howard. "Oh, they are right against it," was the jaunty reply, "but I shouldn't mind the disgrace myself."

Times Had Changed.

"Did you and pa start with plenty of money?" asked the daughter. "We lived upon very little but love, dear," was the mother's gentle answer.

"But I suppose pa soon got lots of salary?"

"No, dear; it was a great struggle at first."

"Then how did you manage? Pa had a little in the bank?"

"Not a farthing."

"Oh, my! George is in just the same position, and we love each other, and"

"If that penniless adventurer ever dares to enter this house again I will tell him what I think of him! Go to your room at once!"—London Queen.

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

Digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the stomach and digestive tract, nervous dyspepsia and catarrh of the stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured. MRS. LORING N. OHOLS, Penn Yan, N. Y.

I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me. D. KAUBLE, Nevada, O.

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the sneezing stage—they break, or head off these early colds. That's surely better. That's why they are called Preventics. Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no phlegm, nothing sickening. Nice for the children—and thorough y safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you ache all over, think of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child, if there is feverishness, night or day. Heroin probably lies Preventics' greatest efficiency. Sold in 1¢ boxes for the pocket, also in 25¢ boxes of 48 Preventics. Insist on your druggists giving you

Preventics

About That No.

Do You Contemplate Owing One?

If so the first thing to consider is a good lot in a desirable location and you can't not be better suited in a lot than the Sam White Property.

No property surpasses this for a desirable home. Lots can be bought there now at reasonable prices and on easy terms. There is every indication that property around Greenville is going to be higher, and the longer you defer buying the lot the higher it will cost.

This property is located only 5 minutes walk from the business part of the town. See Sam White and let him explain prices and terms.

There is no case of indigestion, no matter how irritable or how obstinate that will not be speedily relieved by the use of Kodol. The main factor in curing the stomach of any disorder is rest, and the only way to get rest is to actually digest the food for the stomach itself.
Kodol will do it. It is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids containing the very same juices found in a healthy stomach. It conforms to the Pure Food and Drugs Law. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Some people think if they have a little money they are rich—what would they think if they were in Rockefeller's place.

All stomach trouble are quickly relieved by taking a little Kodol after each meal. Kodol goes directly to the seat of the trouble, strengthens the digestive organs, supplies the natural digestive juices and digests what you eat. It is a simple, clean, pure, harmless remedy. Don't neglect your stomach. Take a little Kodol after each meal and see how good it makes you feel. Money back if it fails. Sold by John L. Wooten.

truth others are unable to recognize it.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr.
Shoop's Restorative has made its fame.
No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves". Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or constipation, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Advice as to the Proper Care of the Hands—Timely Hints.

For stains on the hands of nearly all kinds as well as for many other sorts of household emergencies, says an authority, every woman should have a bottle of peroxide of hydrogen, which is invaluable for the cleansing of cuts or other wounds and for the removal of discolorations on the finger nails. Add a few drops of ammonia to a 50 per cent solution of the peroxide when you use it for removing stains.

Lemon juice and salt are also effective for this. Some housekeepers never throw away the rind of a squeezed lemon, but keep all such for rubbing on their hands to whiten them, says an exchange. Sulphur water is another good and harmless bleach, especially effective for ink and fruit stains. Unpleasant odors clinging to the hands may be put to flight by mustard, either rubbed on dry or applied in a mustard bath.

Lemon Juice For the Toilet.

On every washstand a lemon or two should be kept. Nothing is better for the toilet than the juice of this fruit. It is refreshing to the taste, and it is cleansing to the skin. A few drops squeezed into the water with which the teeth are cleaned not only will aid in keeping the tartar away from them, but it will also make the breath sweet and pure.
Lemon juice rubbed on the face aids in keeping the skin soft and fresh. If persistently used it will remove freckles, and when applied to the hands it will whiten them.

Sewing Room Hint.

In cutting up materials for dresses and waists many small pieces are left over. These pieces place on a safety pin, all of a kind on a pin. Hang this pin up or put it in a drawer, and without unrolling or getting disordered get any small piece just the right size by cutting it off the pin, as it was pinned on in an extreme corner. No time lost, no time wrapping up and doing up again. All the rest are in place.

Washing Fluid.

For a good washing fluid take one pound of borax, one pound of potash lye, one pound of washing soda and one pint of ammonia. Mix the first three ingredients in an enameled pan (not tin) with five quarts of boiling water. When cold add the ammonia and pour into an earthen jug. About half a cupful of this fluid is enough in the water of an entire wash.

Restoring Straw Matting.

Matting that begins to show wear so that little ends stick up may be rendered quite as good as new by a coat of thin white shellac. After taking up the matting and cleansing it as usual relay it on the same side and then go over it with the shellac, using about two quarts to a room of the ordinary size.

DUCK HUNTING.

The Way the Indians Get the Fowl Without Shooting.

A tribe of Indians had come for their annual trapping and hunting, and as I knew many of them I spent several days in their camp. One bright, cool afternoon in October a young buck said to me: "You come, me show how catch duck alive. No shoot." He gathered up a bunch of long dried grass, willow twigs and leaves and beckoned me to follow. We went nearly two miles to the edge of a large lumber slough, the banks of which for some distance back were covered with willow and other brush. Cautiously and noiselessly he made his way through the bushes until a view of the water could be had, ourselves remaining unseen. A large flock of luttballs were swimming near the lower end of the slough. Going back, he divested himself of blanket and what little other wearing apparel he possessed. Picking up the hay bundle, which was built around a sort of skull cap or head covering, with openings for the eyes, and adjusting it on his head, he slipped silently into the water. Getting in a position where I could watch him, I witnessed the gradual floating toward the ducks of the small partly submerged bundle of dried grass and twigs, now stopping, turning around, advancing a few feet and then checking again, naturally and deliberately, as if moved by the current until it was in the midst of the flock without exciting any suspicion on their part. Suddenly two of their number were jerked under water, the balance of the flock arising with loud quacks and flying away. In a minute or so the Indian emerged from the water, holding a duck in each hand by the legs, shook himself and, shifting his hands, wrung the neck of first one duck and then the other, threw them on the ground and with the Indian "Ugh" said: "Me got um. Had to have."—Forest and Stream.
