EASTERN TRAINING SCHOOL.

Gov. Glenn's Interview—Greenville's Bid Contains Nothing Ambiguous.

From the Greensboro Telegram of June 30th we make the following extract from an interview with Governor Glenn:

"A laudable spirit of enterprise, he said, was evident in every town. At each place the committee was assured that if enough land had not been offered for site they could have more, and in one place the land offered was said to be worth $1,500 an acre. It was this spirit of generosity which made the trip delightful, said the governor, but out of this wonderful enlargement of original bids, grow the trouble he said, which resulted in the boards postponing action until July 10 so as to allow these additional offers to be made in writing. Greenville, for instance, had not only offered over $100,000 but the choice of eight fine sites containing from 30 to forty-five acres, and to each site the committee was assured that if the State needed more, it would be provided."

We feel quite sure that the reporter of our esteemed exchange misunderstood the governor.

Greenville filed its bid with the State Board of Education on June 5th in writing and sealed, as required by the rules of the board. The bid was $100,000, $50,000 from the town and ($50,000 from the county,) in money, less $2,000 and the cost of the site selected. With this bid the representatives of the town and county filed with the board options on sites in four different localities. These options were signed by the owners of the property and their wives and are duly acknowledged by the grantors, and the privy examination of the married women taken before the proper officer.

These options thus signed were filed with the board of the 5th of June and are now in their possession.

The board arrived in Greenville on the 11.25 a. m. train on Friday, June 21st, and proceeded to examine these sites. These sites are known as the Mumford site, the Harrington site, the Arthur site and the Higgs site. They were each inspected by the board in the order named, the inspection being finished about 2 o'clock. These sites contain an area from 25 to 45 acres, and they range in price in the options and in the bid from $5,000 to $8,000. Intrinsically they are worth upon the market much more, but these are the prices the owners offered to take for the purpose of locating the school at Greenville. These options and the bid now in the possession of the board are so plainly set forth that we think it is not possible to misunderstand them. It is left with the board to select either, and the price of the one selected is to be deducted from the $100,000.

So we repeat that the bid made by Greenville and Pitt county is absolutely free from any ambiguity. It will be entirely agreeable to both the town and the county for the bid to be published at any time when the board sees proper to do so. We make this epitome of the bid because we have nothing to conceal or keep from the public. Our people have tried to act in a straight forward business like way from the beginning, and so far as The Reflector can control the situation they will continue to do so.

Excursion to New Bern and Morehead.

The Norfolk & Southern railroad will run an excursion on Thursday, 4th, to New Bern on account of the Red Men's celebration there. Those desiring to do so can go on to Morehead or Beaufort and spend the day there. Train will leave Greenville at 6.25 a. m. returning at 11.50 p. m. Fare for round trip to New Bern $1.25; to Morehead $1.75 to Beaufort $1.95;

Yes, we have seen it hotter.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Husling Town. Ayden, N. C. July 2, 1907.

Is the training school stock watered?

A little excitement was created on our streets yesterday morning by two men engaging in a fistuff. No serious damage was done, but the boys enjoyed the fun just the same. The mayor closed the last act in the drama.

W E Hooks went to Wilmington Sunday.

Ayden plays Snow Hill on the glorious Fourth.

J. J. Stokes admitted a lad in to his family circle on the 27th, it being understood he could remain for the next 21 years on good behavior. If the lad should fail to keep his promise Mr. Stokes will turn him over to Alexander's new force.

We had one of the heaviest rain falls here Saturday during the whole year. If the farmers should make so much as a half crop of cotton this year they will be very fortunate.

J. J. B. Cox, of Swift Creek, was here Sunday.

Merrimon McKinnie, of Belhaven, is here on a visit to his mother and other relatives.

Miss Meta Mewborne, of Kinston, and Miss Courtney, Greenville, of Alexandria, Va., have been visiting Miss Helen Quinley for the past several days.

Archie Tripp, a former Ayden boy, but now of Norfolk, is at his old home on a visit.

Miss Cenie Nichols of Beaver Dam, is visiting Mrs. W. J. Hemby.

The moon is still shining, but it seems to be under a dark cloud just at present.

A. S. Moore and Bently Harris, of Greenville, were in Ayden Monday.

Josephus Cox, of Winterville, has been a visitor here during the week.

Rev. R. H. Jones came home Thursday evening from his summer outing.

Elias Turnage and wife, of Omondsville spent Sunday with W. M. Edwards.

We are pleased to learn Miss Annie Edwards and Master Ormond Edwards are very much better.

Mrs. W. J. Coward came up on the afternoon train from Kinston yesterday.

David Gibb has returned.

Miss Stella Lupton, who has been on a visit here to friends returned to her home in Winterville Monday.

Miss Helen Dudley, from near Greenville, is visiting Miss Della Smith.

Ernest Hardee and wife came home from Norfolk Saturday.

Rev. W. E. Cox held services 5th Sunday in the Episcopal church. Rev. Mr. Duncau will preach each 4th Sunday hereafter for our Episcopal friends.

R. W. Smith went to Greenville Monday.

Mrs. Titus Hart, of Florida, is spending the summer with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Minnie Hart near here. She and her husband went to Florida 19 years ago and have accumulated quite a fortune. To their credit they have not neglected their relatives.

Mrs. E. L. Brown came home Saturday from an extended visit in Bertie county.

Dick Smith, son of Cicero Smith left here 16 years ago making his home in Brunswick county is now here on a visit to his father who is very ill with a carbuncle on his neck. Dick says he would have never known the old place as only a small depot and a few houses composed Ayden when he left and in the surrounding country the change has been equally as great. He seems to be proud of it.

Man Hurt.

One of the foreigners working on the railroad construction, near Farmville, was badly hurt Monday. The work train was about to move to get out of the way of the passenger train, when a sudden jerk caused the man to fall off the car, and in the fall his hip was broken.

TOWN MATTERS.

Report of Mayor to Aldermen.

Mayor's Office, Greenville, N. C. July 1st. 1907. To the Board of Aldermen of Greenville, N. C. Gentlemen:

It is my pleasure to submit to you the following report for the fiscal year just ended: That during the fiscal year, ending this date, I have as mayor heard 301 cases. Of this number I took final jurisdiction of 265, and from this number 3 appeals were taken to the superior court, and there were 36 cases bound over to the superior court.

During this fiscal year, fines were collected amounting to $338.32, which has been paid over to county treasurer, for the general school fund. And costs were collected amounting to $707.03, making a total sum passing through this court $1,045.35, exclusive of the sums worked out on the streets.

The sewer system is, practically, completed, there yet remaining to be done, the inspection only which will be finished and the system tendered to the town this week. There are five and six tenths miles of sewer pipe laid, with two out-falls.

There are a few items in the final estimate under the head of extra work, the cost of which can not be definitely stated at this time, but it can be stated that the approximate cost of the construction of the system is $23,700 including the right-of-way. There is to the credit of the sewer fund about $4,990, which will, very probably, be sufficient to pay the final estimate, including the 10 per cent guaranty reserve fund held by the town.

Respectfully,
F. M. Wooten, Mayor.

This shows well for the departments referred to in Mayor Wooten's letter, and we feel sure that when the annual statement of the other departments of the affairs of the town is ready for publication it will show up equally as well. Conducting the administration of a town as large and as important as Greenville is no small undertaking, and the officers in charge of this have much work to do in order that all may be carried on wisely and economically.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

The sad intelligence having reached us of the death of the little son of our brother, L. A. Arnold, therefore be it resolved:

1st. That we, the members of Withlacoochee Tribe No. 35 I. O. R. M., extend to Brother Arnold and his family our sincere and heartfelt sympathy in their loss. We commend them to the Great Spirit who alone can comfort them in their sorrow.

2nd. That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our minutes, a copy be sent to the family of Brother Arnold, and a copy be sent to The Reflector with request to publish same.

Off to Exposition.

The largest crowd from here that has gone so far left this morning for the exposition at Norfolk. If other towns are doing as well there will be much improvement in the exposition gate receipts.

They Are Spirited.

The town horses run away again this morning and collided with an electric light pole. A broken single tree was about the extent of the damage.

Weather.

Showers this afternoon or tonight, cooler in northern and western portion. Wednesday partly cloudy.

SNOW WHITE.

Greenville Audience was Delighted.

If applause counts for anything, the audience in Masonic temple opera house, Monday night, was delighted with the presentation of the operetta "Snow White" by the young people of Washington. It was bright, catchy and the music was fine.

Of course Miss Lottie Blow, as Princess Snow White, was the centre of attraction, but she had good support in the large chorus of pretty girls, the seven bright boys as dwarfs, and in the prince and other characters. Mr. Tyler, of Richmond, as the prince, came in for a good share of applause, and the chorus girls got an ovation when they came out.

The young people came up from Washington on a gas boat late in the afternoon and returned after the performance. Greenville was glad to have this visit from them and would like to see them again.

The party was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Fulford.

CATARACT OF THE EYE.

The Causation and the Treatment of the Disease.

A cataract is a dimming or decreasing transparency of the crystalline lens of the eye. This lens serves to refract the rays of light. It is composed of a soft material inclosed in a transparent membrane called the capsule.

The loss of transparency, which causes the cataract, may reside in the substance of the lens or in the inclosing capsule, but most commonly in the substance of the lens itself. It may be what is called idiopathic—that is, due to no apparent cause—or "traumatic" due to direct injury. It may exist from birth, but most commonly comes on late in life, at or after the age of sixty years, and is caused by some not yet well understood degenerative change in the lens substance. The usual term for this form is "senile cataract," although the name is not well chosen, for often it occurs in individuals otherwise vigorous and giving no other manifest signs of senility.

It sometimes occurs in those suffering from Bright's disease or diabetes, but more commonly afflicts those who are otherwise seemingly in perfect health and who present no other signs of malnutrition.

Heredity seems sometimes to be an active cause of the opacity of the lens, but how it acts is as great a mystery as many other facts of the hereditary transmission of personal characteristics or of tendency to disease. It may indeed be that heredity has no part in the causation of the disease, and its successive appearance in parent and child may be a mere coincidence. Both eyes are usually simultaneously affected, although the disease may occasionally be more advanced in one eye than the other, and rarely one eye alone may be affected. In the latter case, however, the cataract is more commonly due to accident.

Operation for the relief of this condition is usually not undertaken until the cataract is "ripe"—that is, until the loss of transparency affects the entire lens. A person with simple cataract is blind only so far as the distinction of objects is concerned, but still retains the perception of light. If the sufferer is unable to distinguish between light and darkness, there is some other disease present.

There are three kinds of operation for the relief of cataract, but this is not the place to discuss their relative merits. The choice will depend upon circumstances and must be left to the decision of the surgeon. A fair degree of vision is usually obtained from operation.—Youth's Companion.

Lunch as a Business Adjunct.

In the large cities there are so many clubs, and so many of the business men live in the suburbs, that club life plays comparatively little part in business except during the luncheon hour. This period has therefore grown to be a highly appreciated part of the business day. Meeting at such a time men come to know their competitors or customers or those of whom they do their own buying on the basis of a social, friendly and perhaps gossipy hour. It is recognized as an adjunct of business without which conditions would indeed be very different. No one will dispute, says the Iron Age, that such places have a vast advantage over those where the manufacturers meet but seldom, and then usually by chance and without the intimate friendliness which comes with repeated social hours together.

Wall Paper and the Slek.

"I am glad the walls of my bedroom are not papered," said the invalid. "Nobody but the sick knows how nerve racking it is to lie all day long looking at the wall paper that doesn't match. It matches well enough, you understand, for people who are well. They never would notice where the flowers failed to hitch or the stems met too far down the fraction of an inch, but we notice it and worry over it and cry sometimes because it worries us so. My wall is painted light blue, the color of the skies. It doesn't hurt my eyes at all to look at it. It doesn't worry me. When the curtain is down it is the very softest kind of blue, so that when I fall asleep looking at it. Oh, yes; the only thing to do with the walls of the sickroom is to paint them light blue."—New York Post.

INDIGNATION REIGNED SUPREME!

On the Streets of Greenville Yesterday

C. T. Mumfords' gigantic sale and the throngs of wise shoppers who have patronized this great bargain carnival since the opening has roused our competitors from their slumbers. Yesterday evening C. T. Mumford's original wagon was on the street heralding the numerous bargains to be had at this sale as well as the Free Jamestown trip to be given away next Saturday night. When going by a certain spot on main street five or six of the "have beens" were discussing their troubles and wondering among themselves how it was possible for C. T. Mumford to sell his goods so cheap. The boys voice in the wagon kinder made them lose the chain of their conversation that aroused their feeling to such a pitch that they appointed a committee to send to the authorities which was done. The results were that not to disturb these disciples of Morpheus from their daily snooze. C. T. Mumford's herald will have to drive the chariot and keep mum. But nevertheless this gigantic sale will last until this Saturday. Be sure and come don't forget to get your Jamestown ticket free from C. T. Mumford.

AGAIN, WHY TH'S CONFUSION?

The Reflector has said it before, but can repeat it without the least fear of contradiction: There was nothing whatever in the bid made by Greenville and Pitt county for the Eastern training school that could in the least be misunderstood by the State Board of Education. If the board became confused because of any of the bids handed it certainly cannot be said that Greenville's bid was in the least responsible for this. Our people were not playing in the matter. They went at it in a business like way and submitted a business like bid. So explicit was this bid, so minute in every detail, that after it was read a member of the board was heard to remark "it is a clear case". It is known also that Greenville's bid was higher than any other made. Then with a bid that was clear and unmistakable on every point, and one recognized to be higher than any other, the board certainly had light enough before them to know what to do. They certainly know what kind of bids they advertised for in the rules laid down, and it is known that the bid from Greenville met the requirement.

Charlotte is to embrace Carrie Nation. Second handed, however, as Salisbury got the first pass at her.

The 24 cent railroad fares intended to go in effect July 1st are held up, Judge Prichard having granted the injunction to prevent the law becoming operative. In this instance the Federal court is bigger than the State, but it is piling up future trouble for the railroad.

The Sun is the name of a new morning paper published at New Bern which made its first appearance Sunday morning. It is eight pages in size and makes a creditable appearance. The Sun is published by a stock company with Mr. R. M. Phillips as editor.

There should be no child's play over the training school matter. The Board of Education advertised for sealed bids and got sealed bids. If the members of the board afterward turned their ears to outside propositions not embraced in the bids and thereby allowed themselves to become confused, the fault is in themselves and not in the bids. Greenville and Pitt county on the 5th of June made a plain, practical bid, and since that time nothing whatever has been added to or taken from it. Nor has anything been said or done in the effort to unduly influence the board in arriving at a decision. The part about it the people cannot understand is why the whole matter should be reopened again.

RANDOM REFLECTIONS.

By a Contributor.

A Texan claims to have caught a trout with a mouth fifteen inches wide. The curious thing about the story is that it is claimed that the man caught the trout and not the trout the man.

Secretary Taft denies that he snubbed Senator LaFollette at Madison, and says that he was very polite to both LaFollette and Spooner. Who said that Taft was not a candidate?

"I doubt not that Satan rides in an automobile" says a Detroit minister. Yes, we have heard that Satan was a scorcher.

Senator Foraker and his friends have again notified the administration that they are in hurry to get out of the trouble zone.

Editor Watterson says he has begged the paragraphers to let up on his dark horse because he doesn't want the public to get the idea that paragraphers feed on chestnuts. That seems to bear out Mr. Bryan's contention that Watterson's dark horse is a chestnut.

"It takes more nerve for a woman to open a telegram than it does for a man to open a jack-pot" says the Philadelphia Inquirer. And the result is far less startling.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol relieves indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol for dyspepsia does not only relieve indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy helps all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

DINING IN FRANCE.

Taot With Which Guests Are Brought Into a Social Group.

Every one knows his position and his cue, and every hostess knows that part of her duty is to indicate and to give them, says Professor Barrett Wendell in Scribner's. Perhaps the most characteristic instance of the way in which this affects social conduct is what generally happens at a dinner party. Instead of sitting at the ends of the table, where they are far apart, the host and the hostess sit opposite one another in the middle, where the table is narrowest and where they are able at once to keep in touch with each other and easily to talk with the guests on either side of each. Thus a company of twelve is at once brought into a single social group, and the outlying members of a larger party are not so far away that they cannot readily listen to the general talk or even take part in it.

And the talk is always general, addressed no doubt to one or another of the company, as the tact of the hosts happens to find pleasantest, but never broken into a system of separate confidential dialogues, as is generally the case at home. A French dinner is not noisy any more than is a French drawing room. But in either case the deeply subdued tone of voice prevalent in England and among the better sort of Americans would be almost a breach of polite manners. Every social function in France, even to the most informal, has a social character far more pronounced than ours.

The individual is there to enjoy himself. But he is also there to play his part. In consequence all social intercourse in France has a quality less personal, less confidential, somewhat more reserved, than an American is used to. Whoever, even in private places, finds himself in the presence of his fellow beings conducts himself in many ways as if he were in public. The French are in no way conscious of this phase of their manners. It is as normal to them as it is novel to an American visitor. And it results in a general and cheerful, though not quite intimate, conviviality which makes our own manners seem in contrast somewhat melancholy in their dual isolation.

PANACEA MINERAL WATER CURES.

Read one among a hundred of such testimonials. "I have suffered with NERVOUS Dyspepsia for past 10 years and have received more beneficial and lasting results from the use of PANACEA MINERAL WATER than from any other remedy of the many I have had prescribed for me. It gives me great pleasure to testify to its marvelous results in my own case and many others I have personally observed.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves". Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write to-day for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by Bryans Drug Store.

Many a married man is a silent hero.

Drivers of delivery wagons are always there with the goods.

Get a free sample of Dr. Shoop's "Health Coffee" at our store. If real coffee disturbs your Stomach, your Heart or Kidneys, then try this clever Coffee imitation. Dr. Shoop has closely matched Old Java and Mocha Coffee in flavor and taste, yet it has not a single grain of real coffee in it. Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure tasteless grains or cereals, with Malt, Nuts, etc. Made in a minute. No tedious wait. You will surely like it. Sold by T. E. Hooker & Co.

All stomach trouble are quickly relieved by taking a little Kodol after each meal. Kodol goes directly to the seat of the trouble, strengthens the digestive organs, supplies the natural digestive juices and digests what you eat. It is a simple, clean, pure, harmless remedy. Don't neglect your stomach. Take a little Kodol after each meal and see how good it makes you feel. Money back if it fails. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Bert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says "I have only taken four doses of your Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills as I want a perfect cure." Mr. Barber refers to DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills, which are unequalled for Backache, weak kidneys, inflammation of the bladder and all urinary troubles. A weeks treatment for 25c. Sold by J. L. Wooten's drug Store.

A man's idea of a close friend is one who will loosen up occasionally.

There is no case of indigestion, no matter how irritable or how obstinate that will not be speedily relieved by the use of Kodol. The main factor in curing the stomach of any disorder is rest, and the only way to get rest is to actually digest the food for the stomach itself. Kodol will do it. It is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids containing the very same juices found in a healthy stomach. It conforms to the Pure Food and Drugs Law. Sold by John L. Wooten.

For scratches, burns, cuts, insect bites and the many little hurts common to every family, DeWitt's Carbolyzed Witch Hazel Salve is the best remedy. It is soothing, cooling, clean and healing. Be sure you get DeWitt's. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

A pawnshop where we could hock our troubles would fill a long-felt want.

A prompt, pleasant, good remedy for coughs and colds, is Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It is especially recommended for babies and children, but good for every member of the family. CONDENSED STORIES.

An Occasion When Mme. Blavatsky Failed to Convince a Skeptic.

In a discussion of the occult with Julian Hawthorne the following story was told, much to the discomfort of one of the followers of Mme. Blavatsky, who happened to be present:

Blavatsky and a party of her adherents were traveling in India and halted one evening at a small village for supper. There they were joined by Julian Hawthorne and Colonel McClure. After supper, served in the open, Blavatsky was asked for a "manifestation," and, being in an especially good humor, she complied, much to the edification of the onlookers.

THE RING WAS HANDED TO HAWTHORNE.

The spot where the gathering took place was more than ideally beautiful, and after several mystical incantations a shower of roses descended, covered with dew and out of apparently a clear sky.

A particularly lovely full blown rose fell in front of Colonel McClure, and Blavatsky commanded him to tear the leaves away and see what was concealed in the heart of the flower. One by one the petals were scattered on the ground, and lovingly concealed in the heart of the flower was a splendid ring, with a fiery ruby for a center stone and surrounded by diamonds.

The onlookers were silent with amazement, and the ring was passed from one to another for inspection, while Mme. Blavatsky gave a pertinent lecture on the possibilities of her own particular world.

The ring was finally handed to Julian Hawthorne, who, after a close examination, remarked dryly: "I am glad to see, madam, that the artisans of your clime are appreciative of our refinement of gold. The ring is marked 24 carat." — New York American.

Apparently Impossible.

Alexander Graham Bell, the famous inventor of the telephone, was discussing flying machines. Professor Bell speaks with authority on this subject, for it is his tetrahedral kite that gives the unit upon which flying machines must be proportioned, and Santos-Dumont's success has been due to his observance of the principle first enunciated by the great American scientist.

"We go very awkwardly about flying," said Professor Bell. "In all inventions the first steps are taken with an awkwardness that to later generations seems ludicrously incredible. Indeed at the start we are like the two men with the plank."

"One man asked another to help him carry a long and heavy plank home. Accordingly they stooped down, back to back, took it up and—of course they couldn't make any progress with it."

"No, no," said the owner after awhile of balking. "Turn around."

"They both turned around and were face to face. With the plank on their heads they stood in this strange posture, regarding one another stolidly for some time. Then the first man said disgustingly:

"Heave the beggar down, Jack. No two men can carry one plank. I'll take her home myself."

She Meant a Mantle.

Thomas A. Edison was discussing at Atlantic City the various devices for increasing the brilliance and diminishing the cost of a gas jet.

"Many of these devices have for base a mantle," he said. "You know what a mantle looks like? Then you'll appreciate a remark overheard in a hardware dealer's."

"A young woman entered the shop and said:

"Have you got those things for improving a gas light?"

"Yes, madam," said the dealer. "Here is a complete set, fittings, chimney and mantle, all for—"

"Oh, I don't want the set," said the young woman. "I've got the metal part and the chimney, but the little white shirt is busted. It's only one of them I want."

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

Digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the stomach and digestive tract, nervous dyspepsia and catarrh of the stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured. MRS. LORING N. GHOLS, Penn Yan, N. Y.

I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me. D. KAUBER, Nevada, O.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the local. Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional. The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue and all blood ailments. The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, ceases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

Cleaning the Hands.

The best cleaning agent for the hands is to take one tablespoonful of common (yellow) and four tablespoonfuls of vinegar, rub well into the hands for about two minutes, then wash off in clean cold water, dry carefully, and the hands will be soft, clean and velvety. Sour milk can be used in place of vinegar with just as good results.

Wash Clotheslines.

When your clotheslines get black and sooty, as they are sure to do, wind them around the elbow and hand, then to a common twin around through the loop, shake them out and lay on the washboard in a tub of hot suds. Take the scrubbing brush and scrub it, brushing always downward.

Washing Handkerchiefs.

For washing handkerchiefs that have been used when one has had a bad cold make strong salty water in a basin, place the handkerchiefs in and put them on the stove and gradually heat. Remove them and rinse in clean water, and they can be put in with the rest of the laundry.

Thread and Needles.

To prevent thread snarling thread the needle with the first end of the thread that comes from the spool. To save labor keep two needles threaded always (one with white, other with black thread) to mend at once the first discovered rip or sew on a button.

Cleaning Sponges.

To clean an old and foul sponge first soak it for several hours in a solution of permanganate of potash, then squeeze it and put it into a weak solution of hydrochloric acid, about one part acid to ten parts water.

A Sewing Wrinkle.

When stitching thin silk or other gauzy material on the machine if it shows a tendency to pucker place a sheet of tissue paper between the material and the feed of the machine and it will sew without puckering.

The Savior Seamless Roaster.

Is far superior to any other Roaster made, not an ounce of substance lost. Other roasters waste from 10 to 20 per cent. The Savory seamless roaster needs no water, grease or attention of any kind. It simply asks to be let alone. Retains all juices and flavors, renews the youth of the toughest fowl. One great feature of the Savory roaster is the oval bottom, with the ordinary flat bottom roaster the moisture brought out of the meat by cooking has no chance to accumulate and is burned and dried up in the bottom of the pan. In the oval bottom this meat juice flows continuously to the lowest point of the bottom, where it is turned into steam and condensed on the surface of the meat. This condensation continues until the roast has become heated through to the temperature of the atmosphere in the roaster, when the condensation stops and the brown ing of the roast begins.

The Savory roaster is self basting and self browning. The bottom is raised off the oven by the outside heat-retaining jacket, which applies a uniform heat to the roast from all sides.

The Savory roaster is a class to itself. Is guaranteed to give satisfaction when used according to directions. Buy one, take it home, go by the directions, use it thirty days, if not all we claim forth, return it to us and we will give you back your money, providing the roaster when returned, is in good condition.

See our window display of the Savory roasters. We will be glad to show you. Call and see them.
