

DOINGS AT FARMVILLE.

Farmville, N. C. July, 9.

On last Tuesday night about 2 o'clock John J. Baker lost his barn and stables. The fire was discovered by the night police, R. A. Smith, who promptly gave the alarm by firing his pistol three times and ringing the town bell. Soon there was quite a crowd of amateur fireman assembled around the scene that gave the ferocious flames a hot fight, especially in preventing the spreading as there was several wooden buildings nearby. Mr. Baker's loss was quite heavy, amounting to over one thousand dollars with about four hundred insurance. In the fire he lost a valuable horse that cost him $330, 30 barrels of corn, one buggy, three sets harness, a good riding saddle. It is supposed to be another case of incendiary.

W. M. Wilkinson has taken a relapse during the past week, but his condition was somewhat favorable at last report.

Peyton Barrett, colored, fainted and fell in Mr. W. H. Wilkinson's field while outting oats last Monday evening, overcome by heat.

Since the beginning of the schedule between Washington and Farmville on the N. & S. it is just grand to us Farmville people to see so many of our Greenville and Washington friends on our streets for about three hours every day, and especially about noonday when trade and business is somewhat dull. Hope to soon have the mail so we can get an eastern daily before it is three days old.

Putting in tobacco is in order this week among our farmers and many of them are a "little stuck up" as it were, but I guess about as good ability as any is stickability, and our farmers have it.

Miss Olive Morrill, of Snow Hill, spent the past week with Miss Vivian Parker.

Miss Venetia Smith, of Greenville, returned home today after a pleasant visit to relatives here.

Mrs. B. S. Smith spent several days in Greenville the past week visiting the family of R. L. Smith.

Mrs. Mary E. Lang has returned home after quite a visit to relatives in Greenville and Kinston.

Dr. Nash, State evangelist for the M. E. church, left today after conducting a week's meeting for the church at this place. Dr. Nash is a broad minded Christian gentleman and did some fine preaching which was greatly enjoyed by all Christians at this place and we were sorry to have him leave so soon.

Mrs. M. E. Shaw left for her home in Tarboro Tuesday, after a pleasant visit to her daughter, Mrs. John Smith.

BEAUTIFUL HOME WEDDING.

On Thursday night at eight o'clock at the home of Mrs. Ida May was solemnized one of the most beautiful home weddings ever witnessed in this community when Miss Olga May became the wife of Mr. Dwight Arnoys, of Newark, N. J. The bridal party marched in the parlor which was tastily decorated in palms and cut flowers, in the following order:

Misses Venetia May and Tabitha DeVisconti. Misses Lady Turnage and Margurite Gay. Next came the ring bearer, little Miss Grace Whitaker, and following came the bride tastily gowned in white silk mull with laces and pearl trimmings, leaning on the arm of her brother-in-law, Mr. W. A. B. Hearne. They were met at the rear of the room by Mr. Adolph May as best man and the groom. Here they pledged their betrothal as Rev. W. E. Cox united them in the holy bonds of wedlock with that most beautiful and impressive service of the Episcopal church.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnoys left on the north bound train for the Jamestown exposition and from there they expect to visit New York and several points from that place.

Will be at home after Aug. 15, Newark, N. J.

Out of town guests, Mrs. W. P. Ainslie, of Norfolk, sister of the groom, Mrs. Whitakers, of Enfield, Mr. and Mrs. Robert May, of Greenville.

Best wishes from a host of friends follow her to her new home and through life. Quite a number of beautiful and valuable presents were received as a token of friendship and esteem the young couple bore.

Two Boats Collide.

Washington, N. C., July 8.—The gas boat Victor and the Alteiro had a collision about 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon while on Pamlico river near this city. The Victor is owned by Mr. R. H. Lane, of Aurora, and had brought an excursion of colored people to this city. There were about 40 people on board when the accident occurred. The Alteiro, which runs between this city and Greenville, caused the collision by running into the Victor. The Victor had one side smashed in, but was run aground before she could sink. The Alteiro was apparently uninjured and proceeded on her trip. One colored man was knocked overboard, but was rescued before he could drown.

A peonage case from Fayetteville will also be tried at the same special term.

Wreck on Seaboard.

Sunday afternoon two Pullman cars on the Seaboard train turned over near Kittrell, and Mrs. C. E. Harris, of Alabama, was crushed to death. Col. Harry Skinner, of Greenville, was a passenger on the train, going to Raleigh, but had gone in one of the forward cars before the accident occurred. Several people were hurt in the two cars that turned over.

Mr. J. J. Tucker Dead.

On Tuesday morning Mr. J. J. Tucker died at his home in Chocowinity township. For some years he had been in poor health. Mr. Tucker was about 70 years of age and a most excellent citizen. He is survived by several children all of whom are grown.

No Tidings Yet

Greenville has eagerly waited through the day for news from the meeting of the State Board of Education in Raleigh as to the location of the Eastern Training school. The Reflector had hoped to give the information in this issue but is unable to do so. It was learned at 2:10 p. m. that no decision had been reached at that hour and probably would not be before 4 o'clock. Really the location ought to have been decided in five minutes after the bids were opened on the 5th of June.

Warehouse Enlarging.

Work has commenced enlarging the Star warehouse for the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Co. The house will be made 60 feet wider and when completed will perhaps be the largest tobacco warehouse in the State. The Consolidated is preparing for large business the coming season.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Hints on Dressing and Serving Salads.

Most salads should be dressed just before serving, whether French dressing or mayonnaise is used. Celery or lettuce wiffs if left in oil and vinegar. Celery should not even be washed long before serving, as it becomes rusty. Potato salad, however, is an exception to the rule. Potatoes take up large quantities of oil and need to be very well mixed with whatever dressing is used.

Salads made of greens should always be served crisp and cold. Canned or cold cooked left over vegetables are well utilized in salads, but are best mixed with French dressing and should be placed in the refrigerator an hour or so before serving. Meats for salads should be freed from skin and gristle, cut into small pieces and allowed to stand with French dressing before combining with vegetables.

Ribbon Sandwiches.

These are made in different ways, varying both breads and filling, according to fancy. For instance, take six thin slices of bread and butter on both sides. Spread layers of sliced ham or chicken between, then press the slices firmly together. Slice crosswise, making thin ribbon-like sandwiches, or use alternate slices, wafer thin, of white and brown bread, with a filling of cream cheese and chopped nuts or olives.

Panned Lambs' Kidneys.

Fry thin slices of bacon until crisp, then take up and put into the hot fat left in the pan lambs' kidneys that have been soaked in salt water, then dried, split and rolled in flour. Cook five minutes, add a couple of tablespoonfuls of hot water or stock and season with pepper, Worcestershire sauce and a tablespoonful of mushrooms or tomato catchup.

Kitchen Walls.

If tiles are out of question oil paint is the only available wall covering for a kitchen and should be finished with a coat of enamel. The kitchen walls will require washing quite as much and almost as frequently as the floor. White tiles make the finest possible covering, not only because they show dirt, but because they can be easily cleaned.

Finger Marks on Paint.

For cleaning black marks on doors or shutters without injury to most delicate shades of paint a rub with a clean cloth dipped in petroleum is the best. Petroleum is also useful for cleaning the hands after doing some work which would stain or discolor them. The petroleum oil makes them soft and velvety.

Washing Flannels.

The best way to wash any kind of flannel garments, to keep them soft and woolly as when new, is to put a teaspoonful of liquid ammonia in the water when washing, and again in the warm rinsing water. If this be done flannel of any kind will never get hard and spoiled as one sometimes sees it.

Ivory Knife Handles.

When the blades of knives require washing or standing in water, it should be done in a pitcher with water enough to cover the blades but not to touch the handles, and the water no hotter than is absolutely necessary. Soaking the handles in water makes them crack.

To Wash Pongee.

Plain pongee may be washed in warm soapsuds and ironed when quite dry. If ironed on the wrong side the new effect will be retained. If the material is embroidered in colors it should be washed in gasoline. It is well, however, to experiment with a sample first.

When Soup is Too Salt.

When too much salt has been put in the soup a little vinegar and sugar carefully added will often remedy the fault. If discovered in time a few pieces of potato scalded in it will have the same effect. They should be strained out before the soup is served.

Ironing Table Linen.

Linen articles of all kinds should get as much fresh air as possible, and should be ironed while damp. The use of hot, heavy irons and pressing on the damp are two of the most important points to be borne in mind when ironing table linen.

Reflected in the mirror of the law, the grand jury of Wake county Superior court that began in Raleigh Monday, gives these railroads that are defying the North Carolina passenger rate law something to think over, and shows that the position they have taken is only piling trouble for themselves and their employees. Judge Long emphasized the fact that no Federal injunction can stop the execution of the criminal law of the State, and charged the grand jury that it was their duty to indict every railroad and agent of a railroad charging more than 1-4 cents per mile for passenger fare since the first day of July when the law went into effect.

Judge B. F. Long's charge to the grand jury of Wake county Superior court that began in Raleigh Monday, gives these railroads that are defying the North Carolina passenger rate law something to think over, and shows that the position they have taken is only piling trouble for themselves and their employees. Judge Long emphasized the fact that no Federal injunction can stop the execution of the criminal law of the State, and charged the grand jury that it was their duty to indict every railroad and agent of a railroad charging more than 1-4 cents per mile for passenger fare since the first day of July when the law went into effect.

Two of the leading railroads of the State applied to the Federal court for an injunction against the reduced passenger fare law going into effect, and the court granted a restraining order until the matter comes up regularly for a hearing. But the law as passed by the last legislature makes it a misdemeanor for any railroad subject to the law to charge more than 1/4 cents per mile after the first of July. This part of the law the Federal court cannot nullify. In the enforcement of its criminal laws the State is supreme, and it is the duty of every officer to see that the laws enacted by the State are properly enforced.

It was this phase of the law that Judge Long was so clearly calling to the attention of the grand jury, and their duty in the matter is very plain. The interference of Federal judges with the execution of the State laws has become a sore subject in North Carolina, and it is high time the supremacy of the State in such matters was being asserted. Every criminal court of the State should follow the lead of Judge Long in the performance of duty by prosecuting every violation of this law.

As Chairman Simmons of the State Democratic executive committee insisted on his resignation being accepted, the committee at a meeting in Raleigh, Monday night, accepted his resignation and elected Mr. High Chatham, of Surry county, as chairman. Mr. Simmons has been chairman of the committee for ten years and the party never had a better one.

Mayor Schmitz, of San Francisco, still claimed that he was mayor of the city after being placed in jail, but no what he has been given five years in the penitentiary he may feel that he has lost his job.

The Charlotte Observer has been deluged through ancient and modern history and discovered authority for many expressions now in use that it thought were of 17th day origin, saying 'just as it thought until Friday that 'munching the dog' was brand new.' We don't want to keep hitting a fellow after he is down, but for the sake of a little further enlightenment would like to ask The Observer what authority it has for saying a thing is 'brand new'?

As the Greenville Reflector has noticed the fact of New Bern's privilege taxes, we would direct Brother Waichard's attention to the further fact that these taxes were somewhat modified at a late meeting of the aldermen.—New Bern Star

Glad to note this, and we expect a further modification would be helpful to the city in a business way. It has always struck us peculiar that so many cities and towns show a disposition to tax out business enterprises instead of encouraging them to come in. We never could see the reason for privilege taxes on the regular business enterprises that are the mainstay of a town, the enterprises that make the town, and when such are levied they ought to be very moderate.

Under a bush now, he being sent back for it after their return home. The bet was accepted. Directly after returning home the captain sent his dog back for the money.

Now it so happened that a traveling tailor sat down to rest under that very bush where the thaler was deposited, found the money and put it in his pocket. When the poodle arrived he smelled the coin and fawned upon the tailor. The man, highly pleased at having found a thaler and such an amiable dog within an hour, took him to his stopping place in town. The poodle watched the tailor's clothes all night and when, early the next morning, the door of the room was opened, he stole out, carrying the tailor's trousers with him and brought both them and the thaler to his master.

This little adventure had been put into verse under the title, "The Cunning and Serviceable Poodle," and Haydn put the text to music.

Gladstone's Ruse.
Mr. Gladstone was once guilty of deliberately evading an international regulation at the Franco-Italian frontier. He was carrying for his refreshment a basket of fine grapes, which stringent regulations at the time forbade being taken from one country to the other, on account of phylloxera, an insect that attacks the roots and leaves of the grape vines.

Mr. Gladstone's great brain reviewed the situation: he must obey the law, but he was determined to have the grapes, so he sat down then and there on the railway station bench and ate them.

Committed to Hoke Smith.
"I remember so well once when Joe Blackburn and I were on the same committee," said Senator P. "It was during a Democratic administration and there had been a good deal of bother trying to get the secretary of agriculture to agree to a certain thing, and Blackburn had been sent to talk him over to the committee's plan. In fact, the whole cabinet had been difficult to deal with. When Joe came back several of us were assembled in the committee room, among us Senator Vest, who was sunk dejectedly into the depths of an armchair. Some one asked: 'Well, Joe, did you succeed?' 'Succeeded? he echoed. Then he began to tramp up and down, fuming and fussing. Finally he broke out: 'Of all the obstinate things in the shape of a cabinet officer I ever encountered, commend me to J. Stephen Morton! Don't you agree with me, Vest?' 'Vest roused up slowly and answered: 'I'm sorry, Joe, but I am committed to Hoke Smith.'"

A Double Penalty.
An officer came to report to General Wrangel. The general noticed that the officer's spurs were not those prescribed by regulations. He took him to task about it and gave him twenty-four hours' house arrest. The officer, seeing that Wrangel wore the same spurs, made a remark about it. "Very well, my son," said the general, "then you stay another twenty-four hours for me!"

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh cure. Send for circulars, free.

Machinery is digging the Panama canal a thousand times quicker than the shovel dug the Erie.

Machinery produces the L. & M. paint at 50 times less cost for labor, than if made by hand.

The L. & M. gives the best job in the world, because L. & M. Zinc hardens L. & M. White lead and makes L. & M. paint wear like iron for 10 to 15 years.

It only requires 4 gallons of this celebrated paint and 3 gallons of Linseed Oil at 60¢ per gallon, to paint a moderate sized house.

If any defect exists in L. & M. Paint, will repaint house for nothing.

A man's idea of a close friend is one who will loosen up occasionally.

There is no case of indigestion, no matter how irritable or how obstinate the stomach of any disorder is rest, and the only way to get rest is to actually digest the food for the stomach itself.

Kodol will do it. It is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids containing the very same elements in healthy stomach. It conforms to the Pure Food and Drugs Law. Sold by John L. Wooten.

The Ways of Congressmen.
It was at a banquet in Washington given to a large body of congressmen, mostly from the rural districts. The tables were elegant, and it was a scene of fairy splendor, so to speak; but on the table there were no decorations but palm leaves.
"Here," said a congressman to the head waiter, "why don't you put them things on our tables, too?" pointing to the plants.
The head waiter didn't know he was a congressman.
"We can't do it, boss," he whined confidentially; "they's mostly congressmen at all de tables 'ceptin' dat one, an if we put palms on dere tables dey take um for celery an' eat um all up sho. 'Deed dey would, boss. We knows 'em."

MORTALITY.
Ashes to ashes, dust to dust!
What of his body? What of his lust?
What of his passion? What of his pain?
What of his poverty? What of his pride?
Earth, the great mother, has called him again.
Deeply he sleeps, the world's verdict defied.
Shall he be tried again? Shall he go free?
Who shall the court convene? Where shall it be?
No answer on the land, none from the seal
Only we know that as he died we must—
You with your theory, you with your trust.
Ashes to ashes, dust unto dust!

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart.
Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol
Dyspepsia Cure

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.
MRS. LORING N CHOLS, Penn Yan, N. Y.

I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as my heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.

Weak Women
To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.
Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the local.
Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.
The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr.
Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve,
all tissue, and all blood ailments.
The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weakness and discharges, while the Restorative, ceases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

He Kept Cool.

A man and his wife were once staying at a hotel, when in the night they were aroused from their slumbers by the cry that the hotel was afire.
"Now, my dear," said the husband, "I will put into practice what I have preached. Put on all your indispensable apparel and keep cool!"
Then he slipped his watch into his vest pocket and walked with his wife out of the hotel.
When all danger was past he said, "Now you see how necessary it is to keep cool."
The wife for the first time glanced at her husband.
"Yes, William," she said, "it is a grand thing, but if I were you I would have put on my trousers."—Boston Herald.

The Scrap Book

The Odd Pair of Boots.
"Why, John, what a stupid action this is," said a captain of the horse to his servant. "You have brought me a pair of boots that do not match. One has a high top and the other a low one."
"I have been wondering about that myself, and I don't understand it," said the man, "but the most curious part of it is that on the shoe box stands another pair just like this one."

IS IT TRUE?
Is it true, O Christ in heaven,
That the highest suffer most?
That the strongest wander farthest
And more hopelessly are lost?
That the mark of rank in nature
Is capacity for pain?
And the anguish of the singer
Makes the sweetness of the strain?

Is it true, O Christ in heaven,
That whichever way we go
Walls of darkness must surround us,
Things we would but cannot know?
That the infinite must bound us
Like a temple veil unrent,
Whilst the finite ever wears
So that none's therein content?

Is it true, O Christ in heaven,
That the fullness yet to come
Is so glorious and so perfect
That to know would strike us dumb?
That if even for a moment
We could pierce beyond the sky
With these poor, dim eyes of mortals
We should just see God and die?

Generous.
"Tommy, did you give your brother the best part of the apple, as I told you to?"
Tommy—Yessum; I gave him the seeds. He can plant 'em and have a whole orchard.—Ladies' Home Journal.

As Children See Things.
A Canadian school principal, Miss Angus Cameron, in the Century tells of a boy who wrote:
"When a gentleman walks with a lady on the public street, no gentleman walks inside the lady."
To the question, "What is dew?" another child answered: "The earth revolves on its own axis 365 times in twenty-four hours. This rapid motion through space causes its sides to perspire; this is called dew."
In a geography class I asked: "Tommy, your father is a sailor. Would it be possible for him to start today to go round the world and keep on sailing always in the same direction till he came back to his starting point?"
"No, Miss Cameron."
"Why?"
"He's in jail."

It was a little girl whose imagination took the bit in its teeth with this audacious run across country: "Elizabeth is well known in literature. She patronized Shakespeare and encouraged Sidney. She was dearly fond of hawks and hounds and hounds, chivalry and cavalry and other animals of the chase. In glory and honor and majesty we see her strut in her German garden. Raleigh set his cloak for her, but Elizabeth fondly died a maiden queen."

Horns, Sweet Home.
The wife of a naval officer attached to the academy at Annapolis has in her employ an Irish servant who recently gave evidence of homesickness.
"You ought to be contented and not pine for your old home, Bridget," said the lady of the house. "You are earning good wages, your work is light, every one is kind to you, and you have lots of friends here."
"Yes, mum," sadly replied Bridget; "but it's not the place where I be that makes me homesick; it is the place where I don't be."—Lippincott's.

The Savory Seemless Roaster

Is far superior to any other Roaster made, not an ounce of substance lost. Other roasters waste from 10 to 20 per cent. The Savory seamless roaster needs no water, grease or attention of any kind. It simply asks to be let alone. Retains all juices and flavors, renews the youth of the toughest fowl. One great feature of the Savory roaster is the oval bottom, with the ordinary flat bottom roaster the moisture brought out of the meat by cooking has no chance to accumulate and is burned and dried up in the bottom of the pan. In the oval bottom this meat juice flows continuously to the lowest point of the bottom, where it is turned into steam and condensed on the surface of the meat. This condensation continues until the roast has become heated through to the temperature of the atmosphere in the roaster, when the condensation stops and the browning of the roast begins.
The Savory roaster is self basting and self browning. The bottom is raised off the oven by the outside heat-retaining jacket, which applies a uniform heat to the roast from all sides.
The Savory roaster is in a class to itself. Is guaranteed to give satisfaction when used according to directions. Buy one, take it home, go by the directions, use it thirty days, if not all we claim for, return it to us and we will give you back your money, providing the roaster when returned, is in good condition.
See our window display of the Savory roasters. We will be glad to show you. Call and see them.
