AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town.
Ayden, N. C. July 16, 1907.

Clifton Edwards, of Greenville, is here on a visit to relatives.

Sunday morning Augustus Moye, colored, took his family to church in a buggy behind a mule, one of the thorough bred variety. On his return home his muleship desiring to show the good qualities of which he was composed, and further desiring, no doubt, to occupy a high place in the estimation of his owner, availed himself of one of those Maud S. flights, and regardless of roads or paths took first to the woods and then to the fields, until he safely landed Augustus and his dear ones at the home place, without a break or hurt. So proud was Augustus of his muleship he called Jim, his son, and told him to unhitch and feed as he had never fed before, in fact, to give a double feed. Jim nothing loath to comply with an order so grand, proceeded forthwith to remove the harness and then the bridle, but alas! right here the trouble came. The bridle came off and "Balaam" saluted Jim in the mouth with as fine pair of heels as ever trotted a dusty road on a hot summer's day. Dr. Dixon finished the job with stitches in Jim's lip and chin and sent him home a sadder, a wiser nigger, and today he (Jim, not the mule) is tying tobacco for Greenville market.

Misses Carrie and Henrietta Wesson, of Winterville, are visiting in Ayden.

Mrs. Bettie McCullough has come home from a recent visit.

There was good crowd here from Winterville, Sunday, in attendance upon services in the Missionary church.

Miss Lena Dancy Hooks has returned from a visit in the country.

The newspaper tells us we are a great uncle again. Must we congratulate ourselves, or will somebody else do it for us!

Master Ormond Edwards being so very improved, his nurse, Miss Roe, has gone out in the country to nurse Mr. and Mrs. Dickerson, both of whom have the typhoid fever.

The family of J. A. Hatton, came home on Sunday evening's train from a visit to friends on the other side of Greenville.

Mrs. W. C. Jackson went up the road yesterday on a visit.

W. O. Bilbro, of J. R. Smith Co. is off on his summer vacation. He will visit Wilmington and other points before his return.

Rev. T. H. King, of LaGrange, was here Monday.

Ayden lodge A. F. & A. M. are invited to take dinner with Griffon lodge Wednesday and to witness the public installation of its officers.

Picnic Thursday.

The Sunday school of the Christian church will give a picnic to its members Thursday, the 18th, down the river to Yankee Hall, on the gas boat, "Myrtle." Boat will leave wharf at 8:30 a. m. All members will please take notice.

Those who attended were: Misses Emma Jeffreys, Mabel King, Annie King, Chaperones: Misses Ethel Pool, Blanche King and Alice Newton.—Goldsboro Argus.

DEATH OF LITTLE MISS MAGGIE PITTMAN MOORE.

Grimesland, N. C., July 15. Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Moore and took from their midst the little baby girl, Maggie Pittman Moore.

She had brightened the home with her sweet and happy life only eleven years and fifteen days, and with warning of only a few days was taken to her heavenly home.

The funeral was held at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the family burial ground, five miles from Greenville. Services were conducted at the home and at the grave by Rev. J. E. Ayscue, Baptist minister from Greenville.

The pall bearers Messrs John Warren, A. O. Clark, I. S. Fleming, J. Y. Holliday, R. M. Elks and Sam Holliday.

She was born June 24th, 1896. Her mother died and left her an infant of only a few weeks, and the youngest of three children. The oldest one, a boy, was drowned Sunday and the youngest called to rest on Tuesday.

She was taken by her aunt, Mrs. W. M. Moore and grandmother, Mrs. Susan A. Moore, the latter having died three years ago.

With love and affection she grew in our hearts as she was reared in our home, for to us she was always our little baby sister.

When God in His wisdom and power broke our family circle, it cast a gloom and shadow over the home that had never been felt before.

We are thankful for the few short years she was given us, her life has so often brightened the lives and hearts of her loved ones, who watched over her day by day. The entire community feels her loss for she was always cheerful and happy, spreading sunshine where ever she went, she never met a stranger and always had a word for every body.

But why should we weep for the dear little soul, that has been transplanted in a brighter, happier home?

Mr. and Mrs. Moore deeply feel the loss of their little baby girl, for they were always to her mama and papa. She leaves four sisters. Miss Inez Pittman of Greenville, Misses Lizzinia, Susie and Ward Moore, of Grimesland.

May God bless the family in their hours of sadness and bereavement.

TRIBUTE TO MR. J. J. TUCKER.

Mr. Joe J. Tucker died at the home of his son, Mr. S. D. Tucker, near Grimesland, July 9th, 1907. He was born January 14th, 1835, and had therefore passed the three-score-year-and-ten mile post.

In his early life and maturer manhood, he was energetic, industrious, economical. And by dint of hard labor and strict frugality he had accumulated some property and capital. He was a strict business man and knew how to invest money.

But during his latter days he was a great sufferer from rheumatism in its worst form. So much so that he had not walked a step or used his hands except a very little in six or seven years.

In April, 1867, he married Miss Susan Galloway. She died several years ago. There are now eight living children as follows: Mrs. Fred Edwards, Mr. S. D. Tucker, Mrs. H. J. Corey, Mr. W. J. Tucker, Mrs. John Edwards, Mrs. D. S. Smith, of Greenville; Mrs. O. J. Galloway, Mrs. Jesse Wilson.

Brother Tucker was one of the first members of Salem Methodist church. He was a member for thirty-two years and did a great deal toward the building of it. For a long time he was steward and trustee, but afflictions necessitated his giving these up.

May the Comforter be with the sorrowing children and other relatives who mourn, and may we all meet again over the river. B. E. Stanfield

Pitt County Annual Farmers Institute, Greenville, Thursday, Aug. 15, 1907.

The annual Farmers Institute for Pitt county will be held at Greenville, Thursday, Aug. 15, 1907.

There will be two or three speakers present from the State department of agriculture in addition to the local speakers.

These institutes are for a free and informal discussion of every day farm problems and no farmer can attend and take part in these discussions without receiving more than enough benefit to pay for the time spent.

No attempt will be made at this meeting to lay down hard and fast rules by which any man should run his farm, but improved farming methods will be discussed and the reasons why these methods are better than many of those now practiced will be given. We are assured that no speaker will recommend anything he has not himself done and that dozens of farmers in this part of the State are not also doing at this time.

Do not forget the date of this meeting, Greenville, Thursday, Aug. 15, 1907, and see that your neighbors know of it and attend.

THE YOUNG PEOPLE.

They Enjoy a Delightful Evening With Miss Mabel King.

Miss Mabel King entertained at a delightful "porch party" at her home on James street, complimentary to her visiting cousins, Misses Mattie Moye and Amine King, of Greenville, N. C. The house and lawn were brilliantly illuminated with Japanese lanterns. There was music and singing, and the evening was spent in playing games of various description, that young people delight in, and not a dull moment was passed.

At ten o'clock delicious refreshments were served on the lawn.

Those present were Misses Mary Slaughter, Marcha Hines, of Kinston, Mattie Moye and Amine King, of Greenville, Almada Carr, Annie Smith, Eunice Taylor, Mildred Edmondson, Maggie Powell, Alva Brown, Eleanor Crabtree, Mattie Parker, Carol Collier, Emma Jeffreys, Blanche King, Alice Newton, of Falkland, Masters George Collier, James Jeffreys, Wille Jenkins, Spicer Holmes, Tom Holmes, Kenneth Royall, Claiborne Royall, Edson Carr and Ray Parker.—Goldsboro Argus.

Broke His Neck.

John Pendleton, a colored man who worked for Mr. E. M. McGowan in the market, fell off a wagon this morning and broke his neck. John was sent out in the country after a load of beef, and was seen to have a well filled bottle of whiskey with him. It is supposed that he drank so much that he lost his balance on the wagon seat and fell off.

Small Wreck.

There was a small wreck between here and Grimesland on the Norfolk & Southern road, Monday, that delayed the train a few hours. No damage of consequence resulted.

If you see the notice in time be sure to attend the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

Notes From Our Hustling Neighbor.

Winterville, N. C., July, 13. Miss Jennie Brooks, of Kinston, is visiting relatives and friends here this week.

Frank Edmondson went to Greenville Friday afternoon.

Jno. Nichols, of Kinston, was here visiting relatives Wednesday.

The railroad is trimming down the right-of-way through town which improves the appearance very much. The railroad ought to be asked to fill in the ditches with tiling on each side from the depot to the crossing. Then Main street could be leveled up. We hope to see this done in the near future. Good streets are necessary to have a nice town.

Mr. and S. L. Ange, of Jamesville, are visiting their son, A. W. Ange, of our town.

Congratulations to Greenville on securing the Training school. We lend you our heart and hands for its success. We rejoice with you and when that celebration comes off we will be there.

Robert Abbott, who has been away several days on vacation, returned a few days ago to take up his work again at the oil mill. R. Croper & Son have moved their stock of goods to their old stand and A. W. Ange & Co. will occupy their brick store. They will use it for a furniture store. W. C. Jackson, one of Ayden's leading merchants, spent the afternoon here Wednesday on business.

DOINGS AROUND FARMVILLE.

Farmville, N. C., July 15. J. Stanley Smith and family left today for Booth Bay Harbor, Maine. They were joined in Tarboro by Mrs. H. H. Shaw Mrs. Smith's mother. They will visit relatives in Boston on their way up. Mr. Smith expects to return in fifteen days but Mrs. Smith and mother will remain until October.

Miss Lula Lee Joyner, of Littleton, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. F. Joyner, of this place.

Quite a little party of young people came in on the Norfolk & Southern train from Greenville today.

J. T. Thorne and wife, Misses Agnes Moore and Ada Tyson, B. O. Turnage, R. O. Lang, W. G. Gay, and Redding Fields left today for Norfolk to take in the Jamestown exposition.

Horse thieves have made another raid in our community. Last Saturday night Mrs. J. A. Taylor's stables were entered and her drive horse was taken away. The stables of Mr. Redding Lewis was robbed also of one mule. No clue as yet has been learned in regard to Mr. Lewis' missing team, but Mrs. Taylor's horse was found near Greenville Sunday, being taken up by a colored man who found him in his field with bridle and lines thrown around his neck and no other harness. Charlie Joyner, son of Mrs. Taylor, took the house home this evening.

J. J. Hearne's family, of Farmville, left today to spend several weeks out at their commodious home near Old Sparta, in Edgecombe county.

R. E. Fulford and Miss Victoria Moye were married at the home of the bride, Mr. J. F. Case, Sunday about 4 o'clock p. m. J. W. Smith, Esq., of Beaver Dam, officiating. Immediately after the marriage they departed, not for the Jamestown exposition but over in Beaver Dam to the home of the groom's father, J. G. Fulford, accompanied by a host of invited guests, where one of those old fashioned country wedding suppers awaited them. We hope the young couple may ever be as happy as they appeared on this eventful day.

A TESTIMONIAL.

Farmville N. C. July 1st 1907.

To whom this may concern. This is to certify that I suffered with constipation and indigestion for twentyfive years. In fact my stomach trouble was contracted during the civil war while living and serving on the frontier with Co. E. 43 N. C. Reg., Daniel's Brigade. Upon returning from the war my health gradually became worse until my condition was such, that I almost gave up to die. I was treated by the best skilled physicians within my reach, without any satisfactory results, and finally I was advised by Dr. C. J. O'Hagan to discontinue all medicines and drugs and try the waters of Green Spring, on the late Howell Joyner's farm, which I did. From that day I never took another dose of medicine, and to my surprise in a few days.

I found that I could eat almost anything I pleased without any unpleasant feeling or burning sensation in my stomach. My constipation was changed into laxation and instead of wretched and tired some nights I enjoyed sweet rest and blissful sleep. In two months I gained from 120 lbs. to 165 lbs. Furthermore during my suffering from indigestion I had on both my legs

Mosquitoes and White Stockings.

The recent discovery that army posts are thriving places for mosquitoes because these insects breed in old cannon and in the piles of old cannon balls may be supplemented by another discovery which women attached to these posts made in the Philippines with regard to mosquitoes. An officer's wife at Fort Slocum told about it the other evening when some men visitors wearing low shoes and black hose were slapping their shins.

"If you were here long you would notice," she said, "that every woman around here wears white hose. It isn't because it is the fashion, but because mosquitoes rarely bite through white stockings. We learned that in the Philippines. Black hose seem to attract these pests. There is something about white that repels them.

Tell your women folks that when they visit an army post in mosquito time and expect to be out of doors to be sure to put on white stockings. It will save them a good deal of annoyance. A woman rubbing her ankles together because of the misery of mosquito bites is not altogether attractive."—New York Sun.

what the doctors pronounced eczema ulcers, which were as large as the palm of my hand. I began bathing them in the water and they healed in two weeks without leaving the least sign or scars. Twelve years have elapsed since I began using this water, and I have not felt the least symptoms of indigestion or seen any sign of ulcers. I can truthfully say I only wish all suffering humanity knew as much of the virtues of the waters of the Green Spring as I do. W. H. Wilkinson.

Analysis of Green Spring water, made by the State Chemist at Raleigh is as follows:

THE RAILROADS TO BLAME.

Following Judge B. F. Long's charge to the grand jury of Wake county Superior court, four true bills were found against the agent of the Southern railway at Raleigh for violating the law in charging more than 2 1/2 cents per mile for passenger tickets sold. No doubt a test case will be made right there. If that agent is convicted, as it looks like he will be, and Judge Long passes sentence, as he will be quite sure to do, there is every likelihood that the opposing railroads will soon find themselves without agents to conduct their business. The agents will either have to refuse to do business for the railroads contrary to law, or make themselves amenable to the law for helping the violation, it being a misdemeanor for the agents to sell tickets at a higher price than the law stipulates. It is useless to try to arouse sentiment that the agents are merely servants and should not be punished. The people are already aroused because of the defiance of State laws by the railroads, and it will be no surprise if harsh measures are used to bring them to obedience of the law.

HEAPING UP TROUBLE.

The railroads that are opposing the rate enacted by the last legislature, are going right on heaping up more trouble for themselves, and first thing they know there will be a crash that is disastrous. Public sentiment and the law are both against the railroads in the matter and these two combined are hard to combat. The controversy is going to cost the railroads more than the difference in the fares would amount to, in years, and there they will lose the fight in the end. The railroads made a serious mistake in opposing the 2 1/2 cent fare bill two years ago, which would have put an end to the matter had it become a law. Another mistake has been made in going to Federal judges for injunctions and thus bringing on a clash between Federal and State authorities that the government cannot consistently sanction. North Carolina is bound to win out in this fight and the railroads will save themselves trouble by yielding to the law.

NOW FOR A HOSPITAL.

Lets get back to the idea that Greenville should have a hospital. This question was agitated a few years ago, and for a time looked like success would come out of it, but for some reason it was allowed to fall through. It is useless to argue the need of a hospital or the benefit one would be to the entire county—that fact is too plain. The thing to do is start the movement over again, and keep behind it until the hospital is secured. The Reflector is going to say right here, that it believes if the physicians of the county will unite in an earnest movement for a hospital, it will not be long before there is one here. No class of men come in such close touch with all the people as do the physicians, and none are in position to exert more influence in matters of public good. Now for a start, and bring the town and county together in a movement for a hospital.

If those fellows monkeying with Judge Long don't look out somebody is going to get in jail.

The Scrap Book

Collecty's Fardon. Governor Oglesby went down to Raleigh to inspect the state prison. In one of the cells was a very ugly man. "How did you get in here?" asked Oglesby. "Abduction," was the reply. "I tried to run off with a girl and they caught me."

Two Halves Make One. Violet and Ivo, has two grown-up sisters and several brothers. A neighbor asked her how many brothers she had, and she answered correctly. "How many sisters?" was then asked. "One," she replied. "Think again, Violet," said her mamma, who was present. "You know there's Mary and there's Katherine." "Yes, I know, mamma," said Violet, "but they are only half sisters."—Chicago Tribune.

Past Failures Redeemable. There is no failure for a man whose spirit is unconquered. No matter how late the hour or how many and repeated his failures, success is still possible. The evolution of Scrooge, the miser, in the closing years of his life, from a hard, narrow, heartless money grubber, whose soul was imprisoned in his shining heap of hoarded gold, to a generous, genial lover of his kind is no mere myth of Dickens' brain. Time and again in the history of our daily lives, chronicled in our newspapers, recorded in biographies or exhibited before our eyes, we see men and women redeeming past failures, rising up out of the stupor of discouragement and boldly turning face forward once more.—O. S. Marden in Success.

Art of Dyeing Cloth. A dog gave us the art of dyeing cloth. One afternoon, so many years ago that the date is of small consequence, a noted man and his sweetheart went for a walk along the sands of the seashore in a faroff country. A little dog trailed along at their heels and, becoming weary of much love making, finally ran ahead and went fishing among the rocks. One particular shellfish which he captured and devoured exuded a fluid which dyed the hair about his mouth a pretty purple. Investigation of this incident founded the science of dyeing cloth, which now gives a happy feminine world the pleasure of flaunting so many brilliant colors in its attire.

Information at Hand. A lady who had gained quite a reputation in her own community because of her strict regard for the quietude of the Sabbath had occasion to walk by a vacant lot on the outskirts of the town. There she perceived a crowd of boys and men playing "scrub" with great vim. She accosted the nearest boy, who was playing center field, and asked him, "Little man, what would your father say if he saw you playing ball on the Sabbath?" "I dunno. There he is over there playin' first base. Go ask him."—Boston Herald.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves". Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write to-day for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by Bryans Drug Store.

THEODORE TILTON'S WIT.
Although the last years of Theodore Tilton's life were spent in retirement and poverty and he avoided the society of all but a few of his most familiar friends, he never ceased to enjoy the company of young people, punning and joking with the merriest of them. One young member of the American colony in Paris who knew him well has related some of his quaint witticisms.
"I remember once," she said a few days ago, "that he had been to the hairdresser and had his long, flowing white mane considerably shortened. As soon as we saw him we all called out, 'Oh, Mr. Tilton, what did you have that done for?' 'For 50 centimes,' he quietly replied, with a merry twinkle in his eye.
"On another occasion he received a letter from the late Philip Marston, the blind poet, who was very anxious to live in Paris, but who was not certain that he could do so on his slender means. Accordingly, he wrote to Mr. Tilton, asking him to go to the Palais Royale and to test the two franc dinner served there and to let him know the result. Mr. Tilton's reply was:
"My Dear Friend—Do not ask for a too frank criticism on that two franc dinner, Yours, are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and put up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol
Dyspepsia Cure

Digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

POOR, BUT HONEST.

In Earning His Money He Did Just What He Said He Would.
The other noon, on a downtown street where a crowd of men gathered along the sunny walk after their trips to nearby "quick lunches," there was a little scene enacted which illustrates vividly the attitude of "live and let live" which is the mark current of the ordinary New Yorker.

A young, smooth faced, sharp eyed chap climbed up on an empty box where the crowd of idlers from the shops and offices was thickest and began in a perfectly calm way to harangue those who would stop to listen to him. He gathered a number to him with his first few sentences:
"My friends, I ask you to pause for a moment and listen to my narrative. I am a poor but honest man. My motto is 'Excelsior,' with accent on the second syllable. My parents are dead, and I am a lone orphan.
"These personal facts are not related here to arouse your charitable instincts. I do not ask for charity. All I desire is a fair show to make my way in life, and, having walked these pavements for several days in search of work, I have come to this desperate pass.
"I propose to try to do something never yet done since Adam first wore trousers. I am going to pass among you with my hat and ask you to chip in a nickel apiece, and then, my friends, I shall attempt this wonderful feat. I shall try to turn a quadruple somersault in the air."
He jumped down from the box, gravely passed his hat around, paying no attention to the chaff addressed to him, and actually collected a score or more of nickels. When he was confident that no more were to be obtained he returned to the box, put it aside, carefully buttoned his coat, spat on his hands and turned a pretty fair somersault. He turned another and another, and then remounted the box and again addressed the crowd:
"Kind friends, I have tried to turn a quadruple somersault, as I said, but I cannot do it. Thanking you one and all, I remain yours truly."
And not a man in the crowd uttered a complaint as he faded swiftly from their midst.—New York Tribune.

THE KING GEORGE.

In the Deadly Wake of the Famous Old West Indian.

If ever you happen to be so fortunate as to take a trip down the west coast of Africa you'll be sure to hear of the famous old West Indian, King George. This yarn is backed up by the records of the British admiralty, so of course it is true. She was wrecked in the year 1789 during a hurricane that devastated the coast of Cuba and the West Indies generally. Every man, woman and child aboard of her was lost, and the ship herself was stripped of her top hamper, masts and spars and went drifting, a helpless wreck, "bawd to all disaster."
She was first reported by a ship of the same company some hundred miles north of the point where the storm is supposed to have struck her. Men were sent aboard her from her sister Indian and reported that she was sinking rapidly. After that she was never completely lost to sight for the best part of five years, when she vanished in a storm off the Grand Canaries. In that time she had drifted upward of 10,000 miles and had been the direct cause of at least four wrecks and the indirect cause of three more.
Her travels were strange enough, especially at that time, when the locations of the ocean currents were but vaguely guessed at by the most speculative of mariners. She journeyed northward and eastward from the gulf of Mexico to the British isles and then, making a long curve, to the west coast of Africa. During all that time she was constantly reported by passing ships, many of which sent men aboard of her. At last the British government dispatched a man-of-war after her, with orders to blow her up. Instead the frigate ran on a reef and was wrecked. Another, the Daphne, was then sent out, but she encountered a slaving dhaw and was sunk in the ensuing fight.
By this time the whole English speaking seafaring world was agog over the mystery. When a third warship was dispatched and in her turn ran high and dry on the beach superstition had its way, and the King George was allowed to proceed on her ghostly path in peace. She was reported a few times after that by passing merchantmen, then disappeared for good and all in a tornado that destroyed much beside the derelict. But her name is still a thing to conjure with in some parts of the world.—New York Herald.

Hello Girl Got it All Down.
"Hello! Is this the Grand hotel?" asked the man at the phone.
"It is," sweetly responded the young woman at the other end.
"Will you please ask Henry Perkins, who is stopping there, to ring me up this afternoon?"
"Yes, sir. Who shall I say he is to ring?"
"D. B. Feely."
"B. D. Greeley?"
"No, no! D. B. Feely."
"P. Beef Healy?"
"No! Can't you get it? Listen —D. B. Feely. Understand?"
"Spell it, please."
"D—get that? A, B, C, D—get it? B—understand? A, B—all right? F E E L Y—Feely. Got it? All right. Just tell him to ring me up. He'll know what it means."
When Mr. Perkins returned to the hotel he received a memorandum saying, "Please call up Mr. A. B. C. D. A. B. F. E. E. Yelly."—Judge.

The Canadian Habitant.
The rural population of French Canada is unlike that of any other country. The habitant is the result of peculiar conditions. Transplanted originally from the north of France, the stock has been modified and transformed by the environment of the new world. It retains the simplicity and poetic temperament of the old stock, combined with a measure of the vigor and self reliance of pioneer life. And with it all, remarks a correspondent of the Nation, in an appreciative tribute to the patois story of the late Dr. William Henry Drummond, the habitant remains to this day almost untouched by the influences of modern civilization, living his life in his own sufficient way, oblivious of many things that the rest of us think indispensable.—New York World.

The Savory Seemless Roaster.

Is far superior to any other Roaster made, not an ounce of substance lost. Other roasters waste from 10 to 20 per cent. The Savory seamless roaster needs no water, grease or attention of any kind. It simply asks to be let alone. Retains all juices and flavors, renews the youth of the toughest fowl. One great feature of the Savory roaster is the oval bottom, with the ordinary flat bottom roaster the moisture brought out of the meat by cooking has no chance to accumulate and is burned and dried up in the bottom of the pan. In the oval bottom this meat juice flows continuously to the lowest point of the bottom, where it is turned into steam and condensed on the surface of the meat. This condensation continues until the roast has become heated through to the temperature of the atmosphere in the roaster, when the condensation stops and the brown ing of the roast begins.

The Savory roaster is self basting and self browning. The bottom is raised off the oven by the outside heat-retaining jacket, which applies a uniform heat to the roast from all sides.

The Savory roaster is in a class to itself. Is guaranteed to give satisfaction when used according to directions. Buy one, take it home, go by the directions, use it thirty days, if not all we claim for, return it to us and we will give you back your money, providing the roaster when returned, is in good condition.

See our window display of the Savory roasters. We will be glad to show you. Call and see them.
