OBEY THE LAW OR TAKE THE CONSEQUENCES

Says Governor Glenn to the Railroads—Cease Selling Tickets at Unlawful Rate and Suits Will be Stopped

Asked what he thought of the verdict of the jury and the sentence of the court in the case of State vs. T. E. Green and the Southern railway, the Governor replied:

"It is about what I expected. Upon the testimony there being no evidence offered by the defendant to show the rate was confiscatory and therefore unconstitutional, the jury was compelled to convict, and the judge was right in putting the fine on the real offender and not the agent who simply sold the ticket under orders.

"What will be your future action?" the Governor was asked. "That depends," he said, "on the course pursued by the Southern and Coast Line railroads. If they will acquiesce in the law like the other roads have done, then no further indictments will be made, but if they persist in selling tickets at a higher rate than 2 1/2 cents, I will instruct the State's attorneys to aid the solicitors in sending new bills, and in prosecuting the same, until those railroads obey the law, or the courts of highest jurisdiction declare the rate act unconstitutional.

"As I have before stated, I regret this conflict; I want it settled, and if the railroads will withdraw their attempt of injunction, until the evidence is taken and the court passes upon the constitutionality of the act, in the meantime selling tickets at the rate fixed by the statute, I will aid them in hastening the hearing of the case, stopping all indictments and asking all citizens to cease bringing penalty suits. If however, they refuse to recognize the law, and as a result fines, costs and odium attaches to them, and their agents, who persist in obeying them in defiance of law, go to jail, they will have no one but themselves to blame, as the State is ready to stop, when the law is obeyed.—News and Observer.

Under a different head, the News and Observer says:

Mr. Thomas E. Green, lately selling tickets for the Southern railway, and who gave his promise to Judge Long not to again sell tickets at a rate above two and a quarter cents, was not on duty in the ticket office of the Southern railway yesterday. Supplying the place at present is Mr. R. H. DeButts, the Greensboro city ticket agent.

Seen on the street yesterday afternoon and asked if he would say anything as to his future work, Mr. Green declined to make any statement. It can be stated, however, though not officially, that Mr. Green is still in the employ of the Southern railway, and is yet to be assigned to some particular field of work with that road, which will not include selling tickets.

Captured a Still

Washington, N. C., July 20.—Deputy J. C. Mockins, assisted by his son, Master Charles Mockins, captured an illicit distillery about five miles from Jamesville a few days ago. The distillery was of about eighty gallon capacity and was filled with the still was about 300 gallons of beer and fifteen gallons of hard push. The owners had fled and soon after the discovery a terrific explosion occurred. It is believed that the operators had set a trap with the intention of blowing up the revenue officers, but fortunately no one was hurt by the explosion.

MRS. A. W. SETZER DEAD.

The Interment to be in Oakwood Cemetery This Afternoon.

It will be learned with much grief by many friends that Mrs. W. Setzer, formerly a popular young woman of this city is dead. She passed away yesterday at the home of Mr. John D. R. Allen, of this county, where she had gone to spend the summer, death resulting from typhoid fever and heart trouble. Mrs. Setzer, who was about twenty eight years old, was the wife of Rev. A. W. Setzer, who for the summer has been preaching in Winston. She was the daughter of Mrs. S. D. Harrison of this city, and was Mrs. Luke White when about four years ago she became the bride of Rev. A. W. Setzer. She was a very lovely and attractive young woman and had many friends. She leaves three small children.

The remains will be brought to Raleigh and the interment will be in Oakwood cemetery at half past two o'clock this afternoon.—Raleigh News and Observer

Mr. Setzer was once pastor of the Memorial Baptist church in Greenville, and many friends here sympathize with him in his bereavement.

THE GLOOMY MANTEL.

A gloom fell over the pleasant and joyous Bible School last Sunday afternoon, when, just at its close it was rumored that one of our favorite town boys, nearly 15 years of age, was accidentally drowned. A Jackson Pittman, the son of Frank and Maggie Pittman. The rumor, discredited at first was sadly too true. The blow fell with crushing weight upon loving hearts, and was intensified as they returned from the burial to their lonely home, by a message that the 11 year old daughter, living with her grandmother, had died suddenly with typhoid fever. Three times in the past year has the death chariot called at this home. Were it not for the precious promise that "When thou passeth through the waters, I will be with thee, and through the rivers they shall not overflow thee" these afflicted ones would be utterly crushed. But we believe that

When thou art in the Redeemer's hands, He will wipe away all tears. The joys of that home will be sweeter for heart crushing sorrows down here.

Prisoners Removed.

AGRICULTURAL MEETING.

Important Occasion for Farmers of Pitt County.

Under an arrangement made by Congressman John H. Small, an agricultural meeting will be held in the court house, on Friday, August 9th, beginning at 10 o'clock.

There will be present two experts from the bureau of plant industry. One of these will be Mr. Shamel, who is one the best equipped men of all the United States department of agriculture.

He comes very highly commended. He is well informed on tobacco culture, but is an all around good man. The other men from this Bureau will be Mr. Boykin, who is an expert on cotton. Mr. Boykin will bring with him one of his devices for testing cotton seed, which is a simple arrangement whereby farmers can screen out poor seed. There will also be an expert on drainage, probably, Prof. J. D. Wright.

There will also be an expert from the bureau of public roads, probably, Mr. Spoon, who is most familiar with the construction of sand-clay roads. We have these materials in our Eastern counties, and this method appears, at the present time to afford the best solution for constructing better public highways.

There will also be an expert from the bureau of forestry. The conservation of our forests is a most important matter, and will become more important in the future. This man will have with him stereoptical views, and he will be able, at night, to give an exhibition, which will be exceedingly informing.

Each of these men will make short concise talks, in which they will endeavor to lay down a few important propositions, and make them perfectly clear to the audience. Each will talk about twenty minutes. I will wish you to take charge of the meeting, and I will also make a brief talk, probably, at the close.

This meeting will in no wise conflict with the farmers' institutes, being conducted by the State board of agriculture. The main object is to bring our people as far as possible, the beneficial results of the work of the United States Department of Agriculture.

An Unfortunate Synonym.

An American girl who studied in Germany tells of a German girl who was studying English and who used to write letters in English to her parents. One day the German girl handed a letter to her, saying:

"Here is the letter which I have written to my mother. I want you to read it over and see if it is properly written."

The letter was all right, excepting the closing phrase, which read as follows:

"God pickle and keep you."

An investigation proved that the young German woman in looking for a synonym for "preserve" had come across "pickle."

A Husband's Creed.

"Yes," said the business man, "I have been trying to collect that little bit of money. You see, he is a very nice fellow, and he used to be a very good fellow."

"That's what I thought. So I got one and sent her around, but she never came back."

"The married her."—Spare Moments.

FARMERS INSTITUTE.

Greenville, Thursday, August 15.

It is quite certain that a large majority of our farmers are not getting as good results from their farming operations as is possible without increasing either labor or expense.

Take for instance our great crop, corn. Do the 2,750,000 acres planted in corn produce what they should? Can we not increase the yield and the net profit by better methods? Do we select the seed in the best way? Do we plant the best varieties? Are the right kinds and amounts of fertilizers used and applied in the best way? Is our method of cultivation the best and done at the least expense? Is the crop harvested so as to secure the greatest feed value from it and at the least expense?

As long as the average yield for the State remains below fifteen bushels per acre it is certain that the average man still has much to learn about growing corn and it is probable that the best corn grower can also learn something and still improve his methods.

The purpose of the farmers institute is to discuss just such questions relating to corn culture and similar questions about all other crops and farming operations. If the farmers of the county will come out and discuss such questions with a view of increasing their knowledge and improving their farming this institute may be of untold value to the county.

It has been made clear that North Carolina can enforce her laws, in spite of the attempted interference of a federal judge. Now that this fact is established Governor Glenn gives out a statement that if the contending railroads will acquiesce and obey the laws, the suits and prosecutions will stop, otherwise they must expect the consequences. No one prefers to see the railroads and their employes punished, but they should be made to keep the laws just as other citizens are required to do. We hope the railroad rate trouble is nearing its finish.

During the past week The Reflector has published a number of excellent articles taken from the State papers, that made kind reference to Greenville in connection with the location of the Eastern Training school. To read these articles ought to fill the heart of every citizen of Pitt county with pride. For The Reflector and the people of the county we desire to thank the brethren of the Press for their kind expressions.

Saturday's issue of The Reflector containing the special illustrated edition has been read eagerly by those into whose hands it has fallen. Thousands of copies are being sent over the land, and wherever they go people will learn the advantages Greenville offers to the home seeker. That copy of the paper is well worth preserving.

In Mississippi a negro was lynched by a mob of thirty of his own race. Being a man of bad character, they took the shortest route to get rid of him, following a bad example that had been set them by their white neighbors.

The Anson county lynchings, tried last week in Monroe, were acquitted. Nevertheless the State made out a strong case against them. You cannot always tell what a jury will do.

The Southern railway undertook to make a cat's paw of Agent Green, but Judge Long reached clear over him and struck higher up.

Thirty thousand dollars is a good sized fine, and it ought to learn the Southern railway that it is better to keep the law.

Keep your eye on Greenville and you will see a town that is doing something.

STAGE REALISM.

Something in Which the Ancients Far Exceeded the Moderns. In the days of Nero the Romans glared on realistic plays, often having men actually burned to death and slaughtered on the stage. Often in the production of "Hercules Furens" the death of Hercules was depicted by the actual burning to death on the stage of a condemned criminal.

Plus, the great Greek actor, believed in feeling simulated emotions. When he played in Sophocles' "Electra" he was supposed to break into tears over an urn containing the ashes of Orestes. The audience often wondered at his deep, woebegone sobbing. It seemed to penetrate their souls and make them shudder. It was afterward discovered that in the urn the tragedian had placed the ashes of his only son.

A rather grim piece of realism was brought out in a play, "The Glory of Columbia," produced in Philadelphia, July 4, 1807. In the play the execution of Major Andre was portrayed. Before his execution as a spy in 1780 Andre wrote plays and painted stage scenery. It was a curious coincidence that the scenery used in the play in which his execution was depicted had been painted by Andre decades before.

During the production of a mystery play in France in the seventeenth century a man who took the part of Judas got his neck tangled in a rope during the production and unwittingly hanged himself.

A passion play was performed in Sweden in 1513. An actor who took the part of a Roman soldier was so carried away by dramatic enthusiasm that he plunged his spear into the side of the man representing the Christ and killed him.

Uttering the words, Reason thus with life: That if I do lose thee, I do lose a thing That none but fools would keep.

An actor named Patterson fell over dead while playing as the Duke in "Measure For Measure." Perhaps you will remember the death of Edmund Kean. While playing Othello Kean fell over dead after exclaiming: "Farewell! Othello's occupation's gone."

Sometimes in trying to attain realistic effects a manager outdoes himself. Beerbohm Tree was listening to a rehearsal of thunder in His Majesty's theater, London. There was a loud peal. Tree rushed behind the scene. "That's not a bit like thunder!" he shouted to the man who operated the machinery.

"Excuse me, boss," replied the man, "but that was real thunder outside." Again Mr. Tree during a production rushed excitedly back of the scenes and began berating a "super" for not blackening sufficiently to represent a negro. And he found that he was talking to a real ducky.—Philadelphia North American.

Dampened Their Ardor. Some time ago four college boys went gayly forth one night to serenade two belles of Princeton. Arrived at the house of the fair ones they took their stand under the correct window, as they thought, and for some time made the night more or less melodious. They were just preparing to leave when a door opened and the jolly old father of the girls appeared. Had it been light they might possibly have seen a wrinkle in his eye.

"Boys," he said, "we are much obliged. That is, I am much obliged, for I happen to be alone tonight. I'm sorry to say the family's in New York. But I thank you for coming. Maybe if you come again you will have better luck. But in the name of old Princeton, boys, if you do come on the girls are here, don't play on the bathroom window!"—Exchange.

Origin of the Days of the Week. Sunday, the day devoted to the worship of the sun by our forefathers. Monday, the day devoted to the worship of the moon by our forefathers. Tuesday, the day devoted to the worship of Tiu or Tyw, the god of war. Wednesday, the day devoted to the worship of Woden or Odin, the god of wind. Thursday, the day devoted to the worship of Thor, the god of thunder. Friday, the day devoted to the worship of Freya or Friga, the Venus of the north. Saturday, the day devoted to the worship of Saturn, the god of agriculture, or Satyr, the god of the forest.

Perplexity. A certain man, having become possessed of untold wealth, and in the natural order, grown tired of it, was now chiefly anxious to die. Two honorable courses lay open to him. Which of them should he choose? "Shall I kill myself by being a thoroughly good fellow, or shall I become a philanthropist and get myself pestered to death?" quoth he, and found it really a delicate matter to decide.—New York World.

Wonders of the Deep.

Jack had just come home from sea after a long voyage, and his granny wanted to hear some of the wonders of the deep. "Well, granny," said Jack, "the first thing that surprised me was the flying fish." "Flying fish?" said granny. "You won't call me with cock and bull stories about flying fish! Tell me something true." "Well, then, granny, I've been in a deep sea, and I've seen a lot of things that you wouldn't believe. I've seen a shark that was as big as a house, and I've seen a whale that was as big as a mountain. I've seen a lot of other things that you wouldn't believe. I've seen a lot of things that you wouldn't believe. I've seen a lot of things that you wouldn't believe."

A family is very useful to teach a man not to throw away any money on himself.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves". Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write to-day for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by Bryans Drug Store.

If you can smile when your rival is praised you have tact.

A prompt, pleasant, good remedy for coughs and colds, is Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It is especially recommended for babies and children, but good for every member of the family. It contains no opiates and does not constipate. Contains honey and tar and tastes nearly as good as maple syrup. Children like it. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

There is always a demand for the man who does his best.

Get a free sample of Dr. Shoop's "Health Coffee" at our store. If real coffee disturbs your stomach, your Heart or Kidneys, then try this clever Coffee imitation. Dr. Shoop has closely matched Old Java and Mocha Coffee in flavor and taste, yet it has not a single grain of real coffee in it. Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted grains or cereals, with Malt, Nuts, etc. Made in a minute. No tedious wait. You will surely like it. Sold by T. E. Hooker & Co.

As a rule, other people are the best judges of your importance.

All stomach trouble are quickly relieved by taking a little Kodol after each meal. Don't neglect your stomach. Take a little Kodol after each meal and see how good it makes you feel. Money back if it fails. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Drifting with the tide is a slow way to get anywhere; the tide flows both ways.

Bert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says "I have only taken four doses of your Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills as I want a perfect cure." Mr. Barber refers to DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills, which are unequalled for Backache, weak kidneys, inflammation of the bladder and all urinary troubles. A weeks treatment for 25c. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

The way to make admirers is to make a fortune.

There is no case of indigestion, no matter how irritable or how obstinate that will not be speedily relieved by the use of Kodol. The main factor in curing the stomach of any disorder is rest, and the only way to get rest is to actually digest the food for the stomach itself. Kodol will do it. It is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids containing the very same ingredients in healthy stomach. It conforms to the Pure Food and Drugs Law. Sold by John L. Wooten.

The aggressive man is usually only a polite way of referring to your quarrelsome friend.

For scratches, burns, cuts, insect bites and the many little hurts common to every family, DeWitt's Carbolyzed Witch Hazel Salve is the best remedy. It is soothing, cooling, clean and healing. Be sure you get DeWitt's. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

Don't air your family skeleton. People know enough about it when it is kept locked in the closet.

Some women can fool you about whether their complexion is made up even when you taste it.

Mothers who give their children Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup invariably endorse it. Children like it because the taste is so pleasant. Contains honey and tar. It is the original laxative cough syrup and is unrivaled for the relief of croup. Drives the cold out through the bowels. Conforms to the Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

MARSEILLES MARKETS.

The Curious Fish They Use For Food Purposes in France.

If the traveler approaches Marseilles by water, he will be rewarded by a novel pageant of fisher folk, gamins who have rowed out and are on the lookout for coins and a stretch of ocean liners representing nearly every port in the world floating peacefully in the foreground, while, high above all, like a silhouette against the sky, rises the statue of Notre Dame de la Garde, the sailors' patron and the chief landmark of the city. The entire population of Marseilles seems to be occupied with either buying or selling fish. The wonder of it is that when anybody apparently might catch all the fish that he wants—for the city centers right around the harbor—the markets, which in the morning are piled high with every variety of sea food, are in a few hours depleted of stock, although there is no canning or preserving establishment to use up the supply. And these markets are scattered about in all parts of the city and are quite independent of the street sellers with their accompanying baskets. The most curious edible fish in the world are to be found here for sale. Fish which it would seem from their color and oddity should be relegated to the aquarium are used as food. A species of octopus with its long tentacles is one of the most popular, and, strange to say, the hideous looking arms are the most delicate and the most valued part. Huge crabs, known best in either Havana or in the cities along the Pacific coast, are also here in quantity. Sea slugs, several varieties of scallops and other shellfish not generally eaten in America, although they are found in some parts, are on display, and they seem to be much in demand. The Mediterranean fish are more brilliant in color than and differ in many other respects from the fish of the Atlantic. Their flavor is undoubtedly influenced by the deposit of salt in the water, which in the Mediterranean is 7 per cent, while it is only 2 per cent in the Atlantic—Leslie's Weekly.

Johnny Was a Sport.
It happened in a Sunday school. None of the children had studied their lessons, apparently, and as for Johnny, the new boy, he wasn't supposed to know much about it, anyhow.

"Now, Willie," said the teacher, "who was it swallowed Jonah?"
"I dunno," giggled Willie.
"Bobbie, can you tell me who swallowed Jonah?" continued the teacher.

"You can search me," said Bobbie.

"Tommy, who swallowed Jonah?" asked the teacher, a little severely this time.

"Please, ma'am," whimpered Tommy, "it wasn't me."
"Well, I declare!" ejaculated the teacher. Then turning to the new boy she asked, "Johnny, who swallowed Jonah?"
"I'll bite," said Johnny. "What's the answer?"—Harper's Weekly.

His Little Eye.
Mr. Corson, owner of the saw-mill, had his eye on every stick of timber in the county, and the owner of every poor little clump and grove had his eye on Mr. Corson and the rising prices of lumber.

George Wales cut his thin squad of pines, trimmed the logs and piled them in his front lot by the road. Then he waited for the time when he should accidentally be visible on the place and Mr. Corson should drive by.

The encounter took place in due time. Mr. Corson rattled past in his wagon, took a sidelong look at the pile of logs and called, "Say, George, don't you know it ain't polite to throw your toothpicks round the front yard?"—Youth's Companion.

A Queen's Scarf.
Powerscourt contains the splendid saloon in which a banquet was given in honor of George IV. in 1821. In the house is a portrait of the founder of Powerscourt, in which he is represented as wearing a scarf. It is said that when Wingfield returned to the court of Queen Elizabeth after efficient services in Ireland, the queen asked him what he expected as his reward. He was a gallant courtier, and replied: "The scarf which your majesty wears around your neck will be reward enough for me."—London On-looker.

Prompt Answer.
The lecturer on health had finished his discourse and invited his auditors to ask any questions they chose concerning points that might seem to need clearing up when a lean, skinny man rose up and asked: "Professor, what do you do when you can't sleep at night?"
"I usually stay awake," replied the lecturer. "Although, of course everybody should feel at liberty to do otherwise if he chooses. Are there any other questions?"

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Possibly not too weak heart in a hundred is in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative

are caused by Indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—a well, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After getting my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.
MRS. LORING N. CHOLS, Penn Yan, N. Y.

I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.
D. KAUBER, Nevada, O.

Digests What You Eat

Dollar bottle holds 1/2 ounce as much as usual trial, or 50 cent size.
