RALEIGH TO WILSON

First Train Over Norfolk & Southern Made Its Trip Yesterday

In direct connection are now Raleigh and Wilson, and the first railroad trip direct was made yesterday.

This was on the Norfolk and Southern Railway, the line of which between Raleigh and Wilson has just been completed, and the trip was made by Vice President C. O. Haines, of this road.

The road is not yet open to traffic and it will be some time before all is in readiness for this, but as the date is uncertain on which business will be begun no definite day for the first schedule train has been made.

Vice President Haines was exceedingly pleased with the work of pushing on the road and said he enjoyed the trip to Wilson. He left Raleigh and went through to Wilson direct, a trip that will soon be possible for all travellers. It is a matter of rejoicing to Raleigh that it is now tied to Wilson with steel rails, and the friendship that exists between the two places is apt to grow the closer. It is understood that when the line is formerly opened that there will be a celebration in Wilson and later one in Raleigh.

In the meantime, the work of building the Norfolk and Southern beyond Wilson is being pushed, and before long there will be trains in operation from Raleigh to Washington by way of Wilson, and Eastern Carolina will have a new outlet.—News & Observer.

Our Governor is Popular.

Wadesboro, N. C. August 15.—Our people are to be congratulated upon another opportunity to hear North Carolina's great temperance governor, Robert Broadnax Glenn. He will arrive here on Saturday August 24th, and will go to Deep Creek where he will speak at 10:30. He will then go to Morven and speak at 4 p. m. Sunday morning at 11 o'clock he will speak at Ansonville and at 8:15 p. m. he will address the people of Wadesboro. He will have a good audience at every appointment.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

People can be good if they don't know what fun is.

A girl will never let you kiss her except when she says she won't.

One reason a girl doesn't like automobile riding so much is a man can't run it all the time with one arm.

A woman waits for a man to propose, but after they are married she waits a good deal more for him to come home nights.

What's the use of having family arguments when you can get almost as much noise by going to Niagara Falls without working so hard?

Essay.

A boy wrote an essay on bees as follows:

"The bee is a queer sort of an insect that gives people points that they don't appreciate. The queen bee bosses the hive just like ma bosses our house. The drone bee is like pa, he don't care much about work. There are other kinds of bees including political bees, quilting bees and husking bees. But the best bee of all is the kissing bee in our parlor every Sunday night, and I get a nickle not to tell about it. When it comes to a choice of bees give me a kissing bee every time."—Exchange.

Hon. W. W. Kitchen.

Hon. W. W. Kitchen is making a vigorous canvass in his race for the governorship. Last week at Morganton he made a speech in which he said among other things, "the people are entitled to know where men who aspire to public office stand on the questions of the day." He regretted that certain news papers in the State had divided the Democratic party into Radicals and Conservatives.

He scored trusts and railroads. He then stated that if any opponent or friend of an opponent challenged any statement he made he challenged him to a joint debate.

He stated that he wanted the railroads to live and earn just compensation, but they should be restrained by law to earn only what is a just and fair compensation; that it was self evident that we must leave it to the legislature to deal fairly with the railroads or the railroads to deal fairly with the people, and that for a generation the people had left it to the railroads to deal fairly, and that they had failed to do justice; therefore the legislature must control and see justice done.

He stated that the Southern Railroad was against him for governor and that every salaried attorney except two or three of his personal friends were against him, but he stated further that many railroad employees, conductors and agents were for him. He claimed that the Charlotte Observer favored the election of his opponent when he was the unanimous choice of his party for Congressman, and the further, every Democratic paper in the State which favored the subsidy bill which he opposed in Congress is against his candidacy for governor. He stated the railroads had rather have any candidate now before the people than him, that they may not want the other candidates, but wanted him not at all.

Another great combine against Mr. Kitchen is the American Tobacco trust. If our readers doubt this just mark the efforts of those friendly to the trust.

Watch their conversation and you'll soon be convinced. What does Mr. Kitchen need further to recommend him to the people of this State. A record in Congress in which he has valiantly, and many times successfully, defended the rights of the people against the encroachments of the trusts and combines and special interests and two of the most powerful aggregations of capital now sapping the life blood of the people of this State in open opposition to him.—Exchange.

Hearing Aug. 19.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 15.—Next Monday, August 19th, has been fixed as the date for completing the hearing in the investigation of the coroner's jury into the criminal liability in connection with the terrible wreck of freight and passenger trains at Auburn last week. This date is fixed with the expectation that Engineer Rippey will be able to attend and testify. He and conductor Oakly admit having forgotten their orders.

Exit the Negro in Ga. Politics.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 15.—By a vote of 150 to 16 the house today passed the negro disfranchisement bill which previously was adopted by the senate. The lower branch of the legislature made a few minor amendments to be concurred in by the senate.

From The Capital City.

Raleigh, Aug. 15.—Insurance Commissioner James R. Young paid into the state treasury today $37,944, representing the receipts of the department for July. This is an especially good month's business. The commissioner also paid into the treasury $280.41, representing a part of the insurance that was carried in the dissecting hall recently burned at the state university.

In the work of compiling and auditing the roll of Confederate pensioners as just approved by the pension board it is discovered in the state treasury that one U. S. Dollar is a pensioner in Ashe county.

It will be learned with general regret that Mr. Gaston Broughton, father of Dr. Len G. Broughton, pastor of Tabernacle Baptist church, Atlanta, is desperately ill with no hope for his recovery. In fact death is expected at any time. Dr. Len Broughton is on his way here from Northfield. Another son, Dr. Joseph Broughton, has been here from Atlanta for a week or longer.

Tar Heels Take Norfolk.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 15.—North Carolina has captured Norfolk, Portsmouth, Perkiely, Newport News, all the near by hotels and boarding houses and if you could see the North Carolina flags waving from one end of Norfolk to the other you would think sure enough that this is a North Carolina town, that Governor Glenn was the chief magistrate and that the North Carolina flag was supreme over land and harbor.

It looks like all North Carolina is here. Tonight there are at least thirty thousand Tar Heels on deck, and by tomorrow morning the number is expected to be 50,000. They are here from all sections of the State and it is a body so fine looking that the comparatively small number here from other States are mingling with Down Homers and hoping to pass off as North Carolinians.

President Takes No Action.

Oyster Bay, L. I., August 15.—President Roosevelt will not concern himself personally with the telegrapher's strike, according to the best information obtainable here tonight.

Appeals to the President to take some action looking to a settlement of the strike were received at the executive office here today, from boards of trade and commercial bodies of a large number of cities. The applications were similar in character to those formulated yesterday by the Chicago Board of Trade. Each emphasized the importance of direct action by the President.

An Unjust Report.

The Fayetteville Observer of the 14th says:

"There appeared in this paper and several other State papers a report from Wrightsville Beach in regard to what was termed 'A Cowardly Act' in a gentleman, whose name was not mentioned, in connection with the rescue from drowning of a Miss Riley. This gentleman arrived in Fayetteville yesterday, and in an interview with an Observer reporter he clearly shows that the report was cruelly unjust, and that he did just exactly as he should have done. For obvious reasons, we refrain from giving the name of the gentleman, but take pleasure in correcting a false impression."

Just received a recent shipment of turnip and rutabaga seeds. 14 4td

NEW YORK HEARING

The Dispute Between State and Federal Courts Being Aired

New York, August 15.—The dispute between the authorities of North Carolina and the Federal courts over observance of a 2 1/2 cent rate law reached another stage today when former Judge Montgomery, of North Carolina, who was appointed by Judge Pritchard, of the Federal court, as special master to take depositions, sat here today and heard the testimony of several witnesses. General Counsel Alfred P. Thom, of the Southern railway company, of Washington, represented his company's interests at the session. The testimony was taken behind closed doors at the office of the Southern Railway in this city.

Counsel representing the North Carolina Corporation Commission at today's hearing included former Judge James E. Shepherd, Walter Daniel and F. A. Woodard, former Governor Charles B. Aycock, of North Carolina, and Speaker E. J. Justice, of the State house of representatives, were also present.

A Little Politic Story.

A correspondent of the Charlotte Observer sends in this:

And here is another story. A few days ago I met an old friend of mine who was born and brought up in Cornwall, England, but is now a naturalized American voter.

"Jorge," said he, although that is not my name, "Oo the 'ell is this 'ere Hashley 'Orne I 'ear so much talk habout for Governor 'ere lately?"

"He is a farmer, a manufacturer and a merchant in Johnston county," I answered; "has been in the Legislature and president of the State Fair."

"Ow is 'e hon the liquor subject?"

"I don't know. As far as I have heard he has expressed no opinion so far."

"Well, hif 'e's a prohibitioner, Hi won't vote for im. Hi want a glawss of hale right now and Hi dont like hany bloom'n, blawsted laws that won't let a man 'ave hale when 'e wants it and needs it, ye know."

"When is the helection?" My English friend asked.

"Next November a year." I answered.

Well, wot are these fellys in such a 'ell of a 'urry habout then?"

"I could not answer this."

Pig's Tails as Barometers.

The secret of "Uncle Billy" Waring's ability to forecast the weather has leaked out. Recently he has been able with an exactitude not equaled by the best barometers to tell his neighbors 24 and sometimes 36 hours ahead what weather to expect. His predictions have been of great benefit to farmers. Now it is learned that he gets his tips from his two pigs.

In dry weather the tails of the pigs have one curl, in wet weather two curls, and just before a rain their tails hang limp.—Exchange.

Man's Love For Woman.

"If a man loves a woman for her looks he will love her for five years. If he loves her mind he will love her for ten years. If he loves her ways he will love her forever." And every woman believes when she marries that her lover loves her ways.—Exchange.

Young Lady Drowned.

Elizabeth City, N. C., Aug. 15.—Last night about 11 o'clock, while a sailing party were returning to the city in a launch, the launch was rammed by a sloop, throwing a young woman into the river, drowning her and injuring several others. The young woman was Miss Bessie Whedbee, aged 19, of this city, book-keeper for the B. F. White Hardware Company. She was sitting on the cabin. The launch was struck bow-on by the sloop, the bowsprit of the sloop passing over the launch's cabin, where she sat. The young men on each side of her received serious injuries.

No one saw the young woman disappear, but it is supposed that she was impaled on the bowsprit, carried across the cabin of the launch and dropped into the river.

Searching parties have continuously dragged the river for her body all day, and at six o'clock this evening were successful.

The body was found near the channel of the river in plain view from the harbor, and was brought ashore, where Coroner Fearing pronounced death by accidental drowning.

The young lady was of lovable character and was loved by all who knew her.

Hurt in Trolley Accident.

In an accident to an exposition-bound car, at Norfolk yesterday, Mr. E. B. Lewis, of this city, was pretty badly injured, his left jaw being dislocated and chin and nose cut. The car, on the Atlantic Terminal division of the Norfolk & Portsmouth lines, was thrown off the track by the wheels splitting a switch. Although the car was crowded there were but two persons injured. These were Mr. Lewis and a Mr. L. R. East, of Greensboro. Mr. Lewis was carried by Surgeon Winston to the North Carolina State Guard camp at the exposition.—Kinston Free Press.

Convicts to Build Hyde Railroad.

Washington, N. C., Aug. 15.—Fifty convicts arrived in the city yesterday from Raleigh, en route for Hyde county where they will be set to work on the grading of the Mattamuskeet railroad from Hyde county to this city. Fifty more are expected to arrive in the next few weeks and the work will be pushed forward in dead earnest. The building of this road through Hyde county will open up one of the richest counties in the state and add vastly to the business of this city.

Pitt County Lady in Wreck.

Asheville, Aug. 14.—Passenger train No. 8, of the Southern Railway, which left Asheville this morning for Lake Toxaway, was derailed at Selica, four miles beyond Brevard. All the cars were overturned and went down a small embankment with the result that 13 persons were injured, though not seriously. The wreck is said to have been caused by spreading rails.

Among thirteen persons injured is Mrs. L. H. Shaw, of Falkland, Pitt county.

Mrs. Eddy Insane.

Concord, N. H., August 15.—Information from a reliable source states that Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, head of the Christian Science Church, is suffering from senile dementia, and is in an incurable condition.

A Thought for Each Day

Monday—Mountains of difficulty always appear steeper at a distance.

Tuesday—When a man builds castles in the air he leaves out the trouble.

Wednesday—Life without love is like flowers nurtured without sunshine.

Thursday—Success in war, like charity in religion, covers a multitude of sins.

Friday—Good fortune sometimes comes to us in a very shabby looking carriage.

Saturday—Modesty seldom resides in a breast that is not enriched with nobled virtue.

Sunday—Not education, but character, is man's greatest need and man's greatest safeguard.—New York Evening Telegram.

Daily Freights Again.

The Kinston Free Press is authority for the following:

The local office of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad announces the reinstatement, today, of the daily freight service. It was found, after several days trial, that three trains a week could not handle all the freight. It's well that they have done so.

Now What Do You Think of This?

"It was the biggest break of the season on the local tobacco market today. The good prices established at the opening break are still maintained and the promises of high prices through the season have so far been fulfilled. We heard yesterday afternoon of a farmer, who took two wagons and loaded them with tobacco from the same curing, same barn, same grade. One wagon he sent to Greenville, the other to Kinston. On the Kinston market he secured $3.50 a hundred better than in Greenville, for exactly the same grade of tobacco."—Kinston Free Press.

The Cotton Crop.

The Wilmington Star credits this to the New Orleans Picayune: "The month of August is generally recognized as the most critical month in the growing seasons as far as the crop is concerned. It is the month of the highest temperatures, and where the rainfall is deficient, the crop undergoes rapid deterioration. This year, owing to the backwardness of the crop and the low vitality which the plant has shown during the whole growing period to date, the hot spells of August have been looked forward to with more than the usual apprehension.

The past week has been a period of unbroken high temperature and insufficient rain ranging from timely showers in the eastern belt to insufficient moisture in the central belt and no rain at all west of the Mississippi River. In Texas the dry spell has assumed the character of a veritable drouth, the effect of which has been aggravated by the very high temperature recorded from the Lone Star State. The cotton crop has commenced to show the effect of this combination of adverse conditions, as it has ceased to grow and is, shedding, with bolls opening prematurely.

And the Star remarks: "It seems that the weather conditions in the Western portion of the cotton belt and those of at least a part if not all the eastern portion of the belt are exactly opposite. Over here in North Carolina and other eastern sections we have had hot weather and plenty if not too much rain. In the Western belt they have had hot weather and little rain."

The growth of the cotton crop has been seriously handicapped owing to unfavorable weather the country over. Locally, the crops are doing well. Right here in Pitt county, the conditions have not been such as the farmers desired but the crop will be good.

The most disgusting press dispatch in recent times is that from Omaha, about two men swapping wives lawfully. And it brings to memory a case near Elizabeth City a few years ago when two men swapped wives, one giving a shot gun to boot.

Poor Thaw! He is now afflicted with another malady. We won't even try to name it, but it's something like "linotypy," or "typography."

We are surprised that the Wilson Times would credit such a list of farmers as it published yesterday to Edgecombe county.

Judge Pritchard's latest injunction will at least put the lawyers to thinking.

"I have been wondering about that myself, and I don't understand it," said the man. "That the most curious part of it is that on the shoe box stands another pair just like this one."

IS IT TRUE?
Is it true, O Christ in heaven,
That the highest suffer most?
That the strongest wander farthest
And more hopelessly are lost?
That the mark of rank in nature
Is capacity for pain?
And the anguish of the singer
Makes the sweetness of the strain?
Is it true, O Christ in heaven,
That whichever way we go
Walls of darkness must surround us,
Things we would but cannot know?
That the infinite must bound us
Like a temple veil unrent,
Whilst the finite ever wears
So that none's therein content?
Is it true, O Christ in heaven,
That the fallness yet to come
Is so glorious and so perfect
That to know would strike us dumb?
That if even for a moment
We could pierce beyond the sky
With these poor, dim eyes of mortals
We should just see God and die?

Generous.
"Tommy, did you give your brother the best part of the apple, as I told you to?"
"Tommy—Yessum; I gave him the seeds. He can plant 'em and have a whole orchard."—Ladies' Home Journal.

As Children See Things.
A Canadian school principal, Miss Angas Cameron, in the Century tells of a boy who wrote:
"When a gentleman walks with a lady on the public street, no gentleman walks inside the lady."
To the question, "What is dew?" another child answered: "The earth revolves on its own axis 265 times in twenty-four hours. This rapid motion through space causes its sides to perspire. This is called dew."
In a geography class I asked: "Tom, your father is a sailor. Would it be possible for him to start today to go round the world and keep on sailing always in the same direction till he came back to his starting point?"
"No, Miss Cameron."
"Why?"
"He's in jail."

It was a little girl whose imagination took the bit in its teeth with this audacious run across country: "Elizabeth is well known in literature. She patronized Shakespeare and encouraged Sidney. She was dearly fond of hawks and horses and hounds, chivalry and cavalry and other animals of the chase. In glory and honor and majesty we see her strut in her German garden. Rabelais had his cloak for her, but Elizabeth finally died a maiden queen."

Home, Sweet Home.
The wife of a naval officer attached to the academy at Annapolis has in her employ an Irish servant who recently gave evidence of homesickness. "You ought to be contented and not pine for your old home, Bridget," said the lady of the house. "You are earning good wages, your work is light, every one is kind to you, and you have lots of friends here."
"Yis, muan," sadly replied Bridget, "but it's not the place where I be that makes me homesick; it is the place where I don't be."—Lippincott's

The Greatest Indian Organizer.
Pontiac exemplified at once the best and the worst traits of the American Indian. He seemed not to have been so great a warrior as Osceola or as able a general in the field as Cornstalk or so unselfish a patriot as Tecumseh, but as an organizer among a people with whom organization is almost impossible and as a master of the treacherous statecraft of his race he probably surpassed them all. As soon as his death was known the French governor at St. Louis sent for his body and buried it with full martial honors near the fort. "For a man of his name," Parkman finely says, "a great city has arisen above the forest, and the race whom he hated with such burning rancor trampled with unceasing footsteps over his forgotten grave."—New York Globe.

Were Superstitious Too.
A woman who takes her superstitions seriously started to enter a department store one morning last week when she noticed a porter on a tall step ladder that stretched directly across the doorway. In spite of the fact that there were five women behind her eager to pass into the shop she came to a sudden halt, looked up at the ladder and cried out, "Oh, I'll never walk under that!" saying which she turned and strode away. Before she had gone far her sense of humor rose superior to her fear of ladders, and she looked to see if her remark had had any effect on those who had been within sound of her voice. Walking directly behind her were the five women who had heard her exclamation.—New York Press.

Sure to Keep His Word.
A well known clergyman on one occasion preached a sermon in a prison. During the services he noticed that one of the convicts present seemed very much impressed. Later in the day he sought him out and said:
"My friend, I hope you will profit by my remarks just now and become a new man."
"Indeed I will," was the cheerful reply. "In fact, I promise you that I will never commit another crime, but will in future lead an exemplary life."
"I am very glad to hear you say that," said the clergyman heartily. "But are you certain you will be able to keep the promise?"
"Oh, yes," said the convict. "I'm in for life."

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves". Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write to-day for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by Bryans Drug Store

Wooten's Drug Store.

The vacation earned is the vacation enjoyed.

There is no case of indigestion, no matter how irritable or how obstinate that will not be speedily relieved by the use of Kodol. The main factor in curing the stomach of any disorder is rest, and the only way to get rest is to actually digest the food for the stomach itself. Kodol will do it. It is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids containing the very same juices found in healthy stomach. It conforms to the Pure Food and Drugs Law. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased part on of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. GHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

THE CURIOUS MAN.

"He Acks Personal C... That Embarras His Friends."
"There are a great many different kinds of bore," remarked the thin fellow who wore glasses, "but the worst of the lot, in my estimation, is the fellow who meets you on a street car or in an elevator and insists on discussing your private affairs. There's a little chap, for instance, whom I've known for years. He's inquisitive and hard of hearing. Great combination, isn't it? Well, sir, if I meet that fellow once I meet him every day in the week, and he never fails to shake my hand and make eager inquiries as to the state of my health and occupation. He then inquires about my father and three brothers, wanting to know where they each live and how they are making their living. I really think this fellow's intentions are of the best, but he is simply overstocked with inquisitiveness."

"There is another pest I know who runs an automobile agency. Great chap to 'bawl you out' in a street car or any place where there is a bunch of people within earshot. Makes you wish he would get a stroke of heart failure and never recover. I hadn't seen this bore in question for a couple of years until the other day, when I was in an elevator bound for the tenth floor of a skyscraper. He got in from the second floor and gazed about the car for a victim. I pulled a newspaper from my pocket and was endeavoring to hide my features, but, by jiggers, if he didn't recognize me anyway. I saw the game was up and held out my hand. 'Haven't seen you in about two years,' I ventured, wishing my floor would arrive. 'How'd you recognize me?'"

"Recognized the clothes," he replied, smiling warmly.
"Of course that put everybody next to the fact that I had worn the same clothes for two years. I could have strangled that fellow without the least compunction. But my floor came finally, and I stepped nimbly into the hallway."
"What are you doing now?" bawled my inquisitive friend as the elevator crawled slowly upward.
"Nothing," I fired back almost savagely. "Nothing at all!"
"Well, you look it," came the withering reply. — Kansas City Star.

Meanings of Dyke.
"Dyke" has even more divergent meanings than ditch in Lincolnshire and bank in Holland. In Scotland it means a low wall or fence of turf or unmortared stones, and in some parts of northern England a "dyke" is a hedge. Yet there are other northern districts where it is a pond. Originally, in English, at any rate, "dyke" or "dike" and "ditch" both mean what ditch still means to us. But as the digging out of a ditch necessarily involves the raising of a mound with the dug out earth the words came to signify ditch and mound together and eventually in some cases the mound alone. An even more curious instance of a word that has developed a sense apparently quite opposed to its original one is that of "down a hill." "Of down" the Anglo-Saxon for "from the down, or hill," became "down," and this was contracted into our modern adverb "down," which certainly has no hilly sense now.—London Chronicle.

He Dodged.
The men who run seaside and mountain hotels have ever a ready excuse for the mosquitoes. There is never a place where they are normal nuisances. They have come under special conditions. It has been too wet or too dry or the wind has carried them from some other place. And each one caught or slapped at is always the first one of the season. A hotel keeper at a certain resort offered to treat any guest who would show him a mosquito on his premises. A couple of guests caught a dozen, put them in a covered glass tumbler and took them to him. "There you are," they said in triumph. He gave them a look of contempt and said: "I offered to treat if you would show me one. I didn't say anything about a dozen."

The Future American Highway.
The "future American highway," according to an inventor who's pamphlet is reviewed in Engineering News, will be a paved roadway 120 feet in total width, divided by longitudinal curbs into eight separate roadways, four for passage in each direction. He provides two sixteen foot roadways for animal traction vehicles and a four foot walk at each side for the stray pedestrians who may still indulge in the antiquated method of locomotion that nature furnished. The rest of the width is devoted to automobile roads. As the cost of this remarkable highway would mount up to between $100,000 and $200,000 per mile, the inventor does well to call it a "highway of the future."

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pang of this deplorable disease.
In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfect, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now at last, I uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend Lean, thin, stringy people do not have enough Pepsin in the stomach, while fat people have too much Pepsin and not enough Pancreatine.

The Savory Seamless Roaster

Is far superior to any other Roaster made, not an ounce of substance lost. Other roasters waste from 10 to 20 per cent. The Savory seamless roaster needs no water, grease or attention of any kind. It simply asks to be let alone. Retains all juices and flavors, renews the youth of the toughest fowl. One great feature of the Savory roaster is the oval bottom, with the ordinary flat bottom roaster the moisture brought out of the meat by cooking has no chance to accumulate and is burned and dried up in the bottom of the pan. In the oval bottom this meat juice flows continuously to the lowest point of the bottom, where it is turned into steam and condensed on the surface of the meat. This condensation continues until the roast has become heated through to the temperature of the atmosphere in the roaster, when the condensation stops and the brown ing of the roast begins.

The Savory roaster is self basting and self browning. The bottom is raised off the oven by the outside heat-retaining jacket, which applies a uniform heat to the roast from all sides. The Savory roaster is in a class to itself. Is guaranteed to give satisfaction when used according to directions. Buy one, take it home, go by the directions, use it thirty days, if not all we claim forth, return it to us and we will give you back your money, providing the roaster when returned, is in good condition.

See our window display of the Savory roasters. We will be glad to show you. Call and see them.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

A Little Care Will Prevent Flatirons Becoming Rusty.

Many housekeepers are annoyed by their flatirons becoming rusty from dampness in the cupboard. This may be easily prevented. Before putting the irons away after the ironing is finished rub them with a little warm grease on a piece of soft paper and wrap them in thick brown paper. When they are to be used again dip them into very hot water with a little soda dissolved in it and wipe them dry before putting them over the fire to heat. When taken from the fire for the ironing have some brown paper on the table with a little powdered bath brick on it, and rub the iron on this. Have a piece of paraffin tied in a nut line and rub this lightly over the iron, then push it on a soft cloth. It takes longer to tell this than the actual work does, but the process makes the iron delightfully smooth and easy to use, and consequently one may get over the clothes more quickly.

Apple Jelly.

Quarter an apple but do not pare the apples; put into porcelain lined kettle, cover with cold water and bring to a boiling point. Turn into a bag and drain overnight. Allow three-quarters of a pound of sugar to a pint of juice. Boil the juice ten minutes. Add the sugar and boil ten minutes more. Skim and pour into jelly glasses and cover the glasses over with a piece of common glass to keep out dust while cooling. Next morning cover the tumblers with tissue paper or tops and keep in a dark closet. If the jelly seems thin cover it with glass and let it stand in the sun for a day or more until it thickens.

ORIGIN OF THE HALO

Conventional Emblem of Sanctity signed as an Umbrella.

"Few people—few even among artists—have any idea of the humble origin of the halo, that conventional emblem of sanctity in all artistic portrayal," said a well known painter just returned from a sojourn in Europe. "It is commonly accepted as the badge of holiness on the part of the figure whose head it crowns. The old masters used it generally as the hall mark of a saint regularly canonized as such by the Catholic church. My attention was first attracted by the fact that the earliest paintings of Giotto did not represent even the members of the holy family with the conventional circle of light above the heads of the figures, but instead a flat, opaque disk, somewhat like a mortarboard cap, was limned upon the head of each. This led me into an investigation of the strange head-gear. The result was interesting.

"In the eleventh and twelfth centuries, years rich in the building of churches and cathedrals, there were erected around the outside of the sacred edifices, statues of the saints, long rows of them sometimes stretching the length of the buildings and placed for the most part just under the eaves. In time the caretakers of the buildings perceived that the droppings of birds and the discoloration from the rains falling from the roofs disfigured the images. Accordingly they placed over the tops of them flat wooden disks of sufficient size to protect the statues, embryo umbrellas, as it were. Giotto began to paint holy pictures when a mere country boy, and his ignorance assumed the protecting disk as an essential part of the saint; hence his earliest paintings represent each sacred figure topped off with what looks much like the bottom of a barrel. Later he idealized this into a circle, dark at first, but growing more luminous with each successive production of his artistic fancy, until he developed the circle of light that has come down unchanged through generations of painters as the badge of sanctity. An artist would as soon think of leaving the rays of light from the picture of a setting sun as the halo from the head of a saint.

"But," concluded the man of colors, "that celestial sign, emblematic of all that is supernal, began business merely as an umbrella." — Washington Post.

Astronomy and a Girl.

They were enjoying a quiet stroll out under the star strewn veil of evening, and he, bashful youth, eagerly grasped a stray opportunity to keep alive the languishing conversation.

"Yes, Miss Georgiana, that star over there is the planet Jupiter, which, they say, is about 400,000,000 miles from the earth, and that bright red planet overhead is Mars, which just now is only a little over 40,000,000 miles away. It's a great question among scientists whether or not there are inhabitants on either of them."

"Well, George," said the fair listener, in her thirst for astronomical knowledge drawing a little closer to her informant, "if there really are it doesn't seem to me they're near enough so that they could see us on a dark evening like this, even though they were looking this way."
—Judge.

Babies in India.

There is a widespread prejudice in India against the birth of twins or triplets, which is supposed to be natural among animals, not among human beings, says the Dundee Advertiser. In former times such children were killed, though in some places this was avoided by making them over to some wandering fakir as disciples. For an Indian baby the sixth day after its birth is the most dangerous; hence Shashti, the "goddess of the sixth," is specially worshipped. This is rather curious when taken with the fact that surgeons tell us that this is just the period when infantile lockjaw, caused by want of care and cleanliness, is likely to attack the child. On this night a fire is kept burning to light the room, and the infant's bed is surrounded with iron and other things which are said to scare evil spirits.
