CHILDREN'S DAY EXERCISES.

Large Audience and Interesting Program.

Anything that has to do with children always awakens the interest of the older, people, hence there was a large audience in the Memorial Baptist church Sunday night to witness the children's day exercises by the Sunbeam Society. The children had been admirably trained by Mrs. J. E. Ayscue, Mrs. B. E. Parham and Miss Hennie Ragsdale, as the splendid manner in which every number was rendered gave evidence. The program was as follows:

Song—"Tis the Children's Day" by the Sunbeams.

Exercise—"Little White Daisies," by eight girls.

Recitation—"Annie Lee," by Annie Lee.

Politics sometime makes strange cellmates.

Wabbly Doll," by Ernestine Forbes.

Remarks by W. H. Ragsdale.

Recitation—"Taking Up Collection," by David Whichard.

Collection.

Song—"Just a Sunbeam," by class.

Exercise—"Rose of Sharon," by eight girls.

Recitation—"Mountain of Wee," by Essie Whichard.

Closing Song—"Praise Song," by class.

Benediction by Rev. Mr. Davis.

The baby song by William Tyson, a little 3-year old tot was one of the cutest things our people have ever witnessed.

A Word to Boys.

Our young friend, did you ever know—can you call to mind a single case of a person, who, having his own way to make in the world, spent his time on the street or in any other form of illness or dissipation, to succeed in an eminent degree in any enterprise? Look over your list of friends and acquaintances and note their course. Do you not find upon examination that those who today are men of influence and honor, were the youths who made the most of valuable time turning it to good account? And, on the other hand, do you not find that those who stood on the corners with a pipe or a cigar in their mouths, went from bad to worse, from worse to ruin? Sadly must the answer be made—oh, that it were not so—they have failed. Will you profit by the experience of others? Go not that way. Never be idle. Every moment of your time is a golden one, use it as such, improve the mind, fix your mind on some noble object; be men. The call is for men: will you not be one of that number who can say—"I am a man?"—Ex.

Music at the Graded School

The board of trustees of the Greenville Graded schools will maintain a department of music, instrumental and vocal, this year Miss Gaston, the teacher, is a graduate of the school of music of Syracuse University, New York, and comes to us very highly recommended.

We shall be in position to give the people the best of advantages. Rates of tuition will be the same as those usually charged in Greenville.

We are now enrolling music pupils. Persons interested would do well to see Supt. H. B. Smith at an early date. 5 3 wks

An Amiable Husband.

During the recent hearing in London of the divorce suit brought by the daughter of the late Sir John Blundell Maple against her German husband, Baron von Eckhardstein, one witness testified respecting the baron's neglect of his wealthy wife, who lavished money upon him. The witness reported this conversation between the couple, which she overheard, "Will you give me one hour a day of your company?" pleaded the baroness. The baron replied laconically, "Not one." "I want you to be seen walking or driving with me," said the wife. The baron declined to make any concessions. "Just one hour a week," urged the baroness at last. "No, it would spoil my career," declared the baron.

Alias Was His Real Name.

In the South Orange (N. J.) police court recently a prisoner on being asked his name responded, "Alias Shaheen."

"Aliases don't go in this court," said Justice Roll, with some asperity. "What's your real name?" "Alias Shaheen," reiterated the accused.

Of course no police justice would ever submit tamely to such foolishness as that, and the offender was standing face to face with trouble when a police officer explained that he was a Syrian and told the literal truth about his name. Much mollified, Justice Roll extracted $5 from Alias for peddling towels without a license and allowed him to go on his way rejoicing.—Law Notes.

Wooden Flywheel.

After an accident to a flywheel in a large European electric station the superintendent designed and had constructed a flywheel of wood which has a diameter of eighty-five feet and a rim width of ten feet. The thickness of the rim is about twelve inches, and it is made up of forty-four thicknesses of beech planks with staggered joints. The boards were glued together and then bolted. The inside consists of a double wheel, the twenty-four spokes of which are fastened to two hubs. Spokes and hubs are operated at seventy-six revolutions a minute, which corresponds to a peripheral speed at the rim of 139 feet a second.

Victims of Poor Food.

At a recent military enrollment in Baden, Germany, of 604 young men liable to service only 20 per cent were found to be up to the physical standard. The peasants of this country were at one time among the most robust in the empire, but owing to the dearthness of meat and the fact that the milk, which once was a staple article of food, is now sold to cheese factories their physique has degenerated.

SUPERSTITIONS OF NINE.

A Number Conspicuous in Ancient and Modern Speech.

Of all odd numbers the one which would seem to be the most conspicuous in ancient lore and modern speech and in allusions of all sorts, whether classic or vulgar, is 9. Whether this is because it is a multiple of 3, a triple trinity, or not we need not stop to inquire. The connections in which 9 figures are very numerous and extraordinarily varied. Of old there were nine muses and also nine rivers in the infernal regions. In classical mythology we read of nine heavens and nine worlds, and the hydra had nine heads.

In mediaeval times there were nine "worthies of the world," the places in this select assembly being differently allotted by different authorities, the usual division being three gentiles, or paynims, three Jews and three Christians. One of the oldest English games is nine men's morris. It could be played either indoors or outdoors, on a folding board marked with the necessary lines and squares or on a board marked out on field or down by stones or by cuts in the turf. In Dorset they still play the game under the name of marnull.

Nine appears frequently in popular medicine. A Sussex collector referring to the very common rural belief in the efficacy of passing a ruptured child through a cleft ash tree says that the patient must be attended by nine persons, each of whom should pass it through the cleft from west to east. A Perth kirk session record of 1623 refers to the preparation of three cakes for some medicinal purpose from nine portions of meal contributed by nine maidens and nine married women. Threads with nine knots and straws with nine joints are used for various healing purposes, while nine successive mornings are often prescribed for the performance of certain folklore ceremonies.

The great Lambton worm, one of the best known of English dragon myths, had nine eyes and was fed from the milk of nine cows.

Again, the same number is prominent in various common phrases and proverbs. Nine tailors make a man. Queen Elizabeth is alleged to have once addressed a deputation of eighteen tailors with a "Good morning, gentlemen both!"

Every one knows that a cat has nine lives, while the "cat" that is used for the castigation of evildoers has nine tails.

When Mercutio insults Tybalt and the latter inquires, "What wouldst thou have with me?" the volatile but fiery partisan replies, "Good king of cats, nothing but one of your nine lives." Heywood, the proverb monger, has the saying, "A woman hath nine lives, like a cat," which will be news to most folk.

Three more examples may be given from a collection of applications of this remarkable number 9 which is not easily exhausted. Possession, we often hear, is "nine points of the law." A person who has paid some attention to his or her attire is said for some inscrutable reason to be dressed "up to the nines," while the most startling event is but a "nine days' wonder." The last phrase, though truer now than ever, was familiarly used, with many other still current forms of popular speech, in the days of Chaucer.—London Globe.

Shot His Wife.

Ivy Slade, colored, a resident of Twelfth street in New Town, has for some time been making trouble with or for his wife, so the story goes. Saturday night he had a row with her because she cooked for a white family, and failing to make her promise to quit her job he pulled a pistol and fired at her. The ball struck the woman in the thigh, making a painful but not very serious wound. After the shooting Ivy ran and has not yet been captured.

Minister Had to Leave.

Rev. E. B. Barnes, of Noblesville, Indiana, who arrived here Saturday to hold a series of meetings in the Christian church, had to leave this morning for his Western home after holding only two services, preaching to large congregations Sunday morning and night. Mr. Barnes received a telegram Sunday evening announcing that his mother was dying, and he decided to start home this morning. Just before the departure of the train this morning he received another message stating that his mother was dead. Our people are sorry both for the bereavement of the evangelist and that the meeting could not go on as contemplated.

Dressing For the Hair.

A very pleasant dressing for the hair, which renders it soft and glossy, is made thus: Dissolve half an ounce of the best white wax in seven ounces of almond oil. When nearly cold add any perfume that is preferred, such as twelve drops of oil of cloves, ten drops of essence of almonds and twenty drops of essence of lemon.

Hemming Napkins.

Every one knows how hard it is to turn a narrow and perfectly even hem on a table napkin. Put the hemmer attachment on the sewing machine, but do not use thread. Just run the napkins through the hemmer without sewing them and they are creased as narrow as desired, and they are all ready for hand sewing.

Kitchen Hints.

A teaspoonful of strong coffee added to chocolate at the last moment will give it a delicious flavor. In making a plain fruit cake if the raisins and currants are warmed in the oven before mixing them in they will not sink to the bottom in "that distressing way."

Toilet Soap Jelly.

A soap jelly which is excellent for softening and whitening the hands is made by pouring boiling water on the bits of toilet soap which accumulate and adding the juice of a lemon and a teaspoonful of glycerin to a pint of the jelly.

Fried Cereal.

Cook any cereal as for breakfast and turn it out into a bread pan to cool. When cold cut in thin slices, fry until crisp in a very little butter. Serve this with maple sirup or melted light brown sugar.

1907 Cotton and Average Frost.

When will damaging frosts begin to occur in the cotton belt? With a crop from two to four weeks late, this is the feature of prime importance at present. No man, however, can do more than state the probabilities. Average dates when Jack Frost makes his first killing onslaught at different points are well known, but the range is so wide in North Carolina—of late years from October 22d to November 23th—that these possess a very limited value. North Carolina, nearly all South Carolina and the greater part of the States of Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi may ordinarily expect killing frost to arrive between November 1st and November 15th. Northern Louisiana, Northern Texas, over half Arkansas and a good part of the Territories are similarly situated. In the northern fractions of Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas the time is a little earlier. In southern Georgia and all along the upper gulf December 1st or a little earlier is the rule. Below there Jack is so seldom an important crop season factor that he can be dismissed with little consideration even this year.

These data show that the present crop has nothing much to fear if only the killer does not come ahead of time; if an unusually early frost does not smite an unusually late crop. This year's crop though belated thus enjoys more than a fair chance to escape any serious damage. It simply has a diminished margin of probable safety.—Charlotte Observer.

SUPERIOR COURT.

September Term in Session.

The September term of Pitt Superior court commenced this morning with Judge C. C. Lyon presiding and Solicitor C. L. Abernethy representing the State.

The grand jury was drawn and sworn as follows: H. L. Carr, foreman, S. D. Tucker, J. L. Jones, B. P. Cobb, Oscar Jolley, M. T. Horton, J. A. Davis, S. G. Forbes, R. S. Warren, Mc. D. Horton, J. B. Carroll, J. A. Higpen, C. L. Stokes, T. B. King, Claude Jackson, H. B. Smith, W. J. Lewis, B. T. Heath.

C. E. Fleming was sworn as officer of the grand jury and L. W. Lawrence is court crier.

Judge Lyon's charge to the grand jury was a good one, covering clearly such points as were deemed necessary to call to the attention of the body of inquest. He told them no man could be put on trial unless the grand jury had first found a true bill against him, hence it was in the power of the grand jury to let guilty persons go unpunished or to molest and humiliate good citizens who were innocent of crime. A strict regard for their oaths will prevent grand jurors from either of these extremes.

Upon the illegal sale of liquor Judge Lyon said fully 75 percent of the crimes committed can be traced directly to liquor. He was solicitor several years before coming to the bench and can verify this. A man who will sell liquor illegally, the judge said, will sell it to anybody, regardless of age or condition.

Judge Lyon read the statute of the last legislature in regard to bawdy houses, and said that under this law it looked like any of them could be reached and no community should allow a house of such character to exist in it.

You are not going to lose Greensboro. The fair to be held there Oct. 15th to 18th is also to have W. J. Bryan as an attraction.

Between the tobacco stemmeries and cotton patches there is little opportunity left to get cooks and wood choppers.

Sir Thomas Lupton is not satisfied over his numerous defeats in races with American yachts and has sent another challenge to the New York Yacht club. We will just have to beat him.

The aldermen of Greensboro are preparing to make war on bill boards. They are unsightly things in any town and mar the looks of streets on which they are placed.

The navy department of the government has come around to its senses and decided to abandon the proposed cruise by the battleships of the Pacific. That is as it should be, as there was never any reason for contemplating such a cruise.

Better be careful how you associate with the little knotty watermelons that represent the frazzled end of the crop. The things carry chills many times their size and are bad to fool with.

Lots of people don't think so, but we believe that the Democratic party has several men that could be elected President if they were nominated.—Clarkton Express.

Lets have their names and see how they look.

President W. W. Finley, of the Southern railway, in an address recently delivered in Chicago, said that the railroads should be frank with the Press and give the newspapers correct information in regard to railroad matters and policies. He also said that the railroads should be ready to co-operate with shippers. That is good doctrine, and if these two principals had been in practice by the railroads there would have been a different feeling toward them on the part of the people, and less need for legislation regulating traffic.

An observant business man remarked to The Reflector, that with as much money as there is around he is unable to understand why Pitt county does not have several cotton mills. It does seem strange that our people have never become thoroughly aroused on the question of cotton factories. Pitt county makes an abundance of the raw material, every advantage for manufacturing is here, and good dividends can be made out of such enterprises. Aside from this factories increase population and create demand for all other products and help build up wherever they are established.

MEXICAN WILD HOG.

Small but Fierce and Sometimes Used as a Watchdog.

Ranchmen in the vicinity of Colquitt, Tex., use the javeline, or Mexican wild hog, as a watchdog. The javeline is far superior to the ordinary dog when it comes to guarding the home and premises to which it has become attached. It is easily domesticated if taken when it is a pig. There is hardly a Mexican household in this section that does not have a pet javeline, which serves many useful purposes.

The javeline of the southwest has very few characteristics of the hog. Beyond the fact that it closely resembles the hog in appearance, it might well be classed as an entirely different species of animal.

In point of fearlessness it surpasses any other animal that roams the chaparral of the southwest. It is one of the few wild animals that do not hesitate to attack man. It is feared by every deer hunter who visits the region. Innumerable instances are known of hunters having been forced to seek refuge in trees to avoid being torn to pieces by enraged javelines. They are so ferocious in their wild state that only the most intrepid sportsman will brave the dangers of hunting them.

When taken as a pig and domesticated the javeline can easily be trained to do almost any trick that can be taught the most intelligent dog. It is quick to learn to know the members of the family and will protect them against harm with its life if necessary. No strange human being or animal is permitted to enter the house or yard where a pet javeline is on guard. It has a bark something similar to that of a dog, and when danger approaches it sets up its peculiar cry.

The javeline is almost as fleet as a dog, and one javeline will whip several dogs. They weigh when full grown from fifty to eighty pounds. They are taller in the fore part of their body than in the rear. In this respect they resemble the wild boar.

The javelines in their wild state run in droves of twenty to fifty. They always travel in single file and appear to have a recognized leader. When feeding or bedded for sleep or rest one of the javelines is always on guard. Whenever a drove of animals is about to cross an open space a sentinel is first sent out to take a view of the situation. If everything is found to be clear the signal is given by the sentinel and the whole drove trots across the clearing and re-enters the chaparral.

Corner Trees Are Delicate.

A man owning corner property planted three trees, one at the corner, the other two about fifteen feet down either street. The trees down the street thrived, but the one on the corner withered and finally died. Again and again the man set out new trees at the corner, but his efforts to beautify that spot failed. Each tree made a feeble attempt to take root, but soon gave it up and followed in the way of its predecessors.

"How do you account for it?" asked the property owner of an arboriculturist. "The soil is good, and I take excellent care of the trees. Why do they die?" "I don't know why," said the expert, "but it is a fact that a corner tree is twice as likely to die as one in the middle of the block. Look at all the dwarfed, stunted trees in New York's streets and you will find that three-fourths of the failures stand on the corner."—New York Press.

She Didn't Count.

A writer, to illustrate one view of charity, said that two old men were smoking and drinking together after dinner. The host rang the bell and an old woman appeared. "Confound you, stupid!" said the host. "Didn't I tell you I wanted the Scotch? Take this back and bring what I asked for, you old fool!" "Come, come," said the guest after the old woman had hurried away in a great fright. "Come, come, my friend, don't you think you are rather too sharp with your old servant?" "Oh," said the other, "she's not a servant. She's only a poor relation I'm keeping out of charity." The guest looked relieved. "That alters the case, of course," he said.

The Interest Worked Backward.

"Look er heah, man," said Mr. Green, who had lent Deacon Foxie $10—"jes fuh a day or so till I draws," the request had been. "You done owe me dat money now goin' on 'lehen months. Ef yo' doan pay me right erway I gwine mek de sheriff level on yo' wages." "Mr. Green," said the deacon impressively, "I's s'prised at yo' ignorance. I sho' is! Doan yo' know de interest done et up dat $10 long ergo?" Mr. Green is still figuring.—Lippincott's.

WEIRD ODD LOTS.

The mummy of an Egyptian princess, said to be over 3,000 years old, which was knocked down for a few guineas in Covent Garden, is the latest addition to the long list of weird lots which have figured in auction sale catalogues in recent years. Not long ago the head, little larger than a hen's egg, of a central Mexican pygmy was an offer, and after we read of such greswome lots as a piece of the skin of a notorious pirate, a book bound in a malefactor's skin and a strip of epidemics labeled with Jeremy Bentham's name. A hangman's rope, a donkey's skin in pickle, coffins (bankrupt stock) and relics of prisons and criminals have all found recent purchasers, while a few years ago a colonial official entered a London auction room just in time to bid (if he had been so disposed) for the mummy of a Maori chieftain who had once dined as a guest at his own table.—Westminster Gazette.

Bull Fights in Japan.
 "Few of us, however long we live in Japan, know about all its customs and habits," writes a correspondent. "Bull fighting is the great semiannual sport for the people in Uwajima and vicinity. The fights are generally held in the country on the mountainsides, where thousands of people can see the bulls gore each other. They are great, heavy, rolling, fat animals, such as I have never seen in any other part of the empire. They are not allowed to kill each other, but are gored enough to do considerable damage. It is also dangerous for bystanders."
 "A few months ago I saw five or six of them being led through the streets on their way back from the fight, and they were still snorting and looked so fierce that I got out of the street till they passed. I was perfectly willing to give them complete right of way."—New York Herald.

PANACEA MINERAL WATER CURES.

Read one among a hundreds of such testimonials. "I have suffered with NERVOUS Dyopeppria for past 10 years and have received more beneficial and lasting results from the use of PANACEA MINERAL WATER than from any other remedy of the many I have had prescribed for me. It gives me great pleasure to testify to its marvelous results in my own case and many others I have personally observed

JOB PRINTING AT THE THE REFLECTOR

I will mail you free, to prove merit samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves". Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write to-day for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by Bryans Drug Store.

The wise man looked not at the thermometer during July and August.

When you feel the need of a pill take DeWitt's Little Early Riser. Small, safe pill, sure pill. Easy to take, pleasant and effective. Drives away headaches. Sold by John L. Wooten's Drug Store.

You can never make another noise with the cracker that has been exploded.

A prompt, pleasant, good remedy for coughs and colds is Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It is especially recommended for babies and children, but good for every member of the family. It contains no opiates and does not constipate. Contains honey and tar and tastes nearly as good as maple syrup. Children like it. Sold by John L. Wooten's Drug Store.

Some bargains are expensive.

Get a free sample of Dr. Shoop's "Health Coffee" at our store. If real coffee disturbs your Stomach, your Heart or Kidneys, then try this clever Coffee imitation. Dr. Shoop has closely matched Old Java and Mocha Coffee in flavor and taste, yet it has not a single grain of real Coffee in it. Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted grains or cereals, with Malt, Nuts, etc. Made in a minute. No tedious wait. You will surely like it. Sold by T. E. Hooker & Co.

Politics sometime makes strange cellmates.

All stomach trouble are quickly relieved by taking a little Kodol after each meal. Kodol goes directly to the seat of the trouble, strengthens the digestive organs, supplies the natural digestive juices and digests what you eat. It is a simple, clean, pure, harmless remedy. Don't neglect your stomach. Take a little Kodol after each meal and see how good it makes you feel. Money back if it fails. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Worry never completed a task worth while.

Bert Barber, of Eiton, Wis., says "I have only taken four doses of your Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills as I want a perfect cure." Mr. Barber refers to Dr. Wooten's Kidney and Bladder Pills, which are unequalled for Backache, weak kidneys, inflammation of the bladder and all urinary troubles. A weeks treatment for 25c. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

The vacation earned is the vacation enjoyed.

There is no case of indigestion, no matter how irritable or how obstinate that will not be speedily relieved by the use of Kodol. The main factor in curing the stomach of any disorder is rest, and the only way to get rest is to actually digest the food for the stomach itself. Kodol will do it. It is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids containing the very same juices found in healthy stomach. It conforms to the Pure Food and Drugs Law. Sold by John L. Wooten.

The pies are just as good as ever—your "taster" is out of whack.

For scratches, burns, cuts, insect bites and the many little hurts common to every family, DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve is the best remedy. It is soothing, cooling, clean and healing. Be sure you get DeWitt's. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

The vacation we miss is the one we would have enjoyed the most.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. GHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

PARKER FOUNTAIN PEN

The Reflector Book Store, which is sole agent in Greenville for the Parker Fountain Pen, is going to give away one of these famous Pens, absolutely free, to the person who guesses exactly or nearest to the number of pounds of tobacco sold on the warehouse floors of the Greenville market during the month of September.

The only condition in this guessing contest is that you come to the Reflector Book Store in person and write your name and guess, with a Parker Fountain Pen, on a list prepared for the guesses. If you have not a Parker pen of your own one will be loaned you with which to write your name and guess. The guessing will close at 9 o'clock p. m. Saturday, Sept. 20th.

When Mr. C. W. Harvey, secretary of the Tobacco Board of Trade gives out the figures of the sales for September, the person who has guessed exactly or nearest to the right figure can call at Reflector Book Store and take his choice of pens from the 6 dozen case on display. The prices of these pens are from $1. to $6. and the lucky guesser can take his choice absolutely free.

For the information of guessers Secretary Harvey has furnished us the figures of the tobacco sales for the month of September for the last four years, which are as follows:

September 1903	1,685,511
September 1904	1,916,468
September 1905	2,841,726
September 1906	2,833,660

Now get to guessing how much tobacco will be sold this September and win a

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold only—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label, if poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good! Hereafter for this very reason mothers and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's label—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know's best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

Two Dyspeptics

If you are too fat it is because your food turns to fat instead of muscle—strength. If you are too lean the fat producing foods that you eat are not properly digested and assimilated. Lean, thin, stringy people do not have enough Pepsin in the stomach, while fat people have too much Pepsin and not enough Pancreatine.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

contains all the digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach, and in exactly those proportions necessary to enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all foods that may be eaten. Kodol is not only a perfect digestant, but it is a reconstructive, tissue building tonic as well. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Palpitation of the Heart and Constipation. You will like it.

Digests What You Eat

Rests the stomach, rebuilds the tissues and gives a firm flesh.

TO MY FRIENDS.

Having been away for several months I wish to announce to my friends and patrons of the "empire" of Pitt that I am still connected with the firm of Chas. M. Stief, and if bachelors are allowed to misuse the happy term home as a synonym for a "hanging out place" I still call Greenville my home, and while I intend to be away from Greenville a great deal of my time during this fall a postal care of Box 325, Greenville, will reach me within a day or two. We now have a number of slightly used upright pianos, some of which have been rented during the summer months, others which were temporarily used by artists at the exposition and for orchestra work, at bargain prices.
We also offer a special school piano for $225.00 fully measuring up in standard to any $350.00 instrument. This piano is especially built for college and school work for the special price named above and is full guaranteed by my firm for 10 years. Those interested in a school piano or in a good slightly used piano for the home should write me at once and will profit by it, and as ever I am always mindful of my patrons' protection and interest as well as my firm's interest. Grateful of patronage. Very resp.,

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

For an Outdoor Party the Potato Race is a Great Funmaker.

Two rows of potatoes are laid along the ground for a distance of a hundred feet or so—about five feet apart. A basket is placed at the farther end, from which the contestants start. Two players begin together, each armed with a spoon, who must pick up the potatoes, one by one, with the spoon and carry them to the basket, into which they must drop them. The players may take up the potatoes in any order they please, but a separate trip must be made for each one. Sometimes they try to throw the potato into the basket from a distance, but if it misses it must be picked up, and so time is lost instead of gained. When all the players have had their turn the winners are pitted against each other until one of the two remaining contestants has shown himself or herself the more skillful.

A Poison Show.

Some people would call him a crank, but nobody could deny he had method in his crankiness, says the Chicago News. This is what he did: In the front window of his drug store, arranged in a semicircle, with a human skull in the center, he put a lot of things, mostly drugs, with labels attached giving their names. On a card conspicuously shown were the words, "Everything in this window is a deadly poison." It is worthy of note that among the articles was a cigarette, placed between the jaws of the skull; a deck of cards, some dice, a pint of whisky and a pint of wine. It is also worthy of note that a majority of the people that looked at the display voted for the cigarette as the most deadly poison in the lot.

Your Dog.

The more you talk to a dog the better he likes it, and he times his temper to your every mood. Are you merry? He frisks and frolics and jumps up at you with wild abandon. Are you sorrowful? He will lay his head softly on your knee, looking up into your face with adoring, kindly eyes that, far more prettily than any words, beg you to cheer up, and tell you that he, at all events, thinks you worthy of the utmost good fortune. The right kind of a dog never lets you forget how much he loves you.—From Paul and Fiametta.

Carriages That Were Not Carriages.

It has surprised many readers of the Bible to find the word "carriages" used in it, that being, as we use it, a modern word. It may be found in the fifteenth verse of the twenty-first chapter of the Acts, in the New Testament, the passage being, "And after those days we took our carriages and went up to Jerusalem." This means that the apostles walked and carried their belongings or baggage with them, the word that is translated "carriages" meaning "that which has to be carried."

Timbuktu.

While Tennyson was an undergraduate at Cambridge he won a prize for a poem on "Timbuktu." When the subject was assigned a discussion at once arose as to the possibility of finding a rhyme for the word. Many bright young fellows tried their wits at it in a sort of burlesque competition. The following lines were adjudged the best:
If I were a cassowary
On the plains of Timbuktu,
I would eat a missionary,
Prayer book, Bible and hymn book too.

Dictionary Girls.

Guessing the "dictionary girls" affords amusement for a dull hour. Here are a few of the list, and others will come readily to mind: A disagreeable girl, Annie Mosity; a warlike girl, Millie Tary; a geometrical girl, Polly Gon; a sad girl, Ella G.; a very pleasant girl, Jennie Rosity.

Miniature Trees.

Little oak trees an inch and a half in height are grown by Chinese gardeners. They take root in thimbles.

Banbury Cross.

This is the real, true Banbury cross. Here is the very same road where the horse bore the fine lady with bells on her toes. But whether she wandered off nobody knows.
Maybe the little boy riding astride His little cockhorse was asked up beside That very lady and both rode away To some pretty castle and there spent the day.
For more of the story we're quite at a loss. But this is the real, true Banbury cross.
