WINTERVILLE HIGH SCHOOL.

Present Session one of Great Promise.

It will give anyone an inspiration and fill him with pride to go to Winterville and visit Winterville High School. The school has been a success from its beginning, and it grows stronger each year, with its influence continually extending. This year it has overstepped the borders and drawn pupils from other States. The enrollment was above 150 the first week of the session and pupils are continuing to come.

The faculty are Prof. G. E. Lineberry, principal, Prof. F. C. Nye, assistant, Misses Elizabeth Boushall and Ethel Carroll, teachers, and Miss Vivian Roberson, music instructor. Such a corps as this, with such excellent material in the student body, cannot fail to accomplish good work.

The pupils of Winterville High School have good advantages outside of those found in the recitation rooms. The two literary societies and excellent library are very helpful, and beside these there are every few weeks during the session lectures and speeches by men of note or entertainments of some kind. The first of these for the present session was held Friday night; it was somewhat in the nature of a welcome to the pupils and an acquaintance meeting between them and the people. There was instrumental and vocal music that were much enjoyed.

County Superintendent W. H. Ragsdale was present and delivered an address characteristic of his deep interest in education. What he said seemed so appropriate at the beginning of the session and will no doubt inspire the boys and girls there to put forth their best effort. If good things are not heard from the present session at Winterville we shall be surprised.

Shot His Girl's Brother Dead

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 19.—Theodore Darby, aged 21, shot and killed Samuel Blackman at the church door near here. Darby had taken a sister of Blackman to services and the girl's brother objected. Blackman attacked Darby with a club, when the latter pulled a revolver and shot Blackman to death.—Raleigh Times.

Its a settled fact that lawyers on one side or the other have certainly got to feel weak when the United States Supreme Court renders its decision in the railroad case, and lawyers on one side or the other of those who volunteered their opinions will have to realize that people's confidence in their legal knowledge has been shaken.—Wilmington Dispatch

Permanent Court of Arbitration Defeated.

The Hague, Sept. 19.—The American plan for the organization of a permanent court of arbitration has failed. It was suggested by Joseph Choate that fifteen judges be selected by direct vote of the governments, but this was also defeated by the special committee before whom the matter was considered. Mr. Choate in his speech said:

"On behalf of America, we believe in the election of the judges and we are perfectly willing to take our chances, even though such election might result in not having a judge from the United States on the court. The delegation from the United States did not come here to advance the selfish interests of its own country, but to promote the cause of justice and the general welfare of mankind for which we deemed the creation of the permanent court to be essential."

A proposal introduced by Sir Edward Fry of Great Britain was adopted. It was to the effect that the conferences should pass the scheme for the organization and procedure of the court and remit the complete convention to the various governments, leaving blank the article providing for the election of judges, but recommending that the governments consider among themselves how best to overcome the difficulty.

Delegates of Italy and Argentina have signed the treaty of arbitration negotiated at the conference. The two countries agree to submit to arbitral differences except those concerning questions of nationality or affecting provisions of the constitution.—Raleigh Times.

Woman Dying; Her Home Robbed.

New York, Sept. 19.—After being bound, gagged, beaten, and robbed by two burglars in her home at 499 East 162d street, opposite the Bronx Detective bureau, Mrs. Estelle Hughes, wife of Joseph Hughes, a city employe, is dying today. Her skull is fractured, her arms and limbs torn and lacerated, her body bruised and her face discolored.

After the men had stricken her insensible they ransacked her rooms, taking away silverware and bricabrac. Several large articles, too bulky to carry, were broken by the robbers from pure maliciousness.—Raleigh Times.

One Cause for High-Priced Cotton.

About a year ago September cotton was selling in New York at 86 1/2 cents a pound, while the corresponding quotation for 1907 was 11.74. Noting this difference of 3.1 cents a pound, the Wall Street Journal expresses the view that it can not be wholly due to differences between crops. Last year's yield was approximately 13,500,000 bales, and no one expects this year's crop to furnish less than 12,500,000. Our financial contemporary seeks the chief explanation elsewhere. "Probably more than anything else," it confidently surmises, "what has brought cotton to its present high value is the increase in consumption which has been going on all over the world, sustained by the fear that if America falls short the whole textile world will be obliged to suffer. One sees the force of this when he recalls that the above crop and about 5,000,000 bales more from other sources, an actual consumption of over 17,000,000 bales has to be provided for the world's needs. The margin is narrow enough to cause some forethought."

We entirely agree that narrowness of margin between production and consumption must be accounted a strong factor in the present situation. Increased consumption is running production so close a race that the spinner, especially the foreign spinner, feels it necessary to protect himself against the possibility that he may be unable to secure his share at any reasonable price.

This feeling, much stronger than in former periods, must be recognized as a strong and relatively new speculative force on the bull side of the market. So long as the cause for it exists in such measure as at present, the Southern grower need not grow a small crop in order to receive a good price. The time when he doubled his crops over those of the preceding decade and owing to halved prices, received no more money than before, seems remote. Such conditions no longer exist. It is not for the farmer to worry about producing too much but for the spinner to guard against the possibility that he may produce too little. No wonder the agitation in favor of reducing acreage has died out. The farmer today views the situation contentedly, and for this he has good cause.—Charlotte Observer.

WINTERVILLE ITEMS

Notes From Our Hauling Neighbor

Winterville Sept. 18. Miss Lena Dawson, of Ayden, spent Friday here with relatives Hon. A. L. Blow, of Greenville, was here on business Thursday.

Chas. Elks and Misses Louise Satterthwaite and Annie Stallings left Friday evening to spend Sunday at their respective home.

M. O. Blount, of Bethel, was here Thursday on business.

D. W. Wood, of LaGrange, was here Friday afternoon. He was here in school last year and we were glad to see him.

D. J. Whichard and W. H. Ragsdale returned to Greenville this morning.

Julius Bennett, an old student of W. H. S., is spending a few days here. His home is near Oak City.

Hearing the sound of the whistle and the hum of the machinery we were reminded that the Pitt County Oil Co., had begun to operate for this season. We at once made our way to the operating mill and to our surprise new machinery had been installed and improvement had been made which made it quite evident that a progressive spirit was behind the mill and that its operation should be first class in every respect. We also found that they had discontinued the old fashion way of taking toll, but was simply ginning a 500 pound bale of cotton for $1.50 which is about half price. The farmer who pays the 20th in toll to get his cotton ginned $3.00 per bale provided he sells his cotton at 12 cents per pound. We also noticed that when the cotton was ginned the farmer was getting 27 cents per bushel for his cotton seed and this we considered a fancy price for the seed and saved considerable trouble in hauling. Such advantages to the farmer we predict a big percentage for this season.

RAGSDALE AND WHICHARD AT WINTERVILLE.

Last night at 8:15 our hearts were gladdened by the familiar faces of our friends, Prof. W. H. Ragsdale and D. J. Whichard, of Greenville. These gentlemen always have something rich in store for us, Prof. Ragsdale, the spokesman and Mr. Whichard the sweet singer. After an instrumental solo by Miss Jane Kittrell and a vocal solo by Mr. Whichard, Prof. Ragsdale was introduced by Prof. Lineberry, who referred to him as the leading county superintendent in the State and he was well sustained in this by the magnificent address of Prof. Ragsdale. We have heard a great number of fine speakers on the same rostrum, but none fuller of excellent advice to young men and young women and none that seemed to come deeper from the heart of the speaker.

His subject was "What does it all mean?" and "Is it worth while?" He referred to his impressions of the magnificent progress of the State in his extensive travels over its borders. It means that the people are awakening as never before; that the people are seeking better things, that there is a better day for the young men and young women, who are prepared to seize these opportunities. He gave education as the reason for all this awakening. The point that education is only acquired by hard and close application and that each one in order to acquire the power that it gives, must work it out for himself, was sent home to the hearts of every one present. The cry of the age is for men and women of power and character. The world asks two questions, "What are you? and What can you do?"

He referred to the grand possibilities held out to our women in school work, that there was a demand for a thousand or more of teachers that were not in sight, in our State at this time. Prof. Ragsdale was at his best and the rapt attention of the audience showed the effect of his address.

At the close of the address, Miss Venetia Cox played a piano solo which was followed by another beautiful vocal solo by Mr. Whichard and a piano solo by Miss Vivian Roberson. Thus has our series of lectures for the session begun. A good sized audience was present.

Prof. Lineberry dismissed the audience by referring to the grand opportunities of a teacher and of the reveries of the quiet hour as he thought over the lives of those who had been under his care, of sweet memory of those who had gone out and were successful and appreciated the training they received from their teachers, of the sad regret that probably an opportunity had been lost in failing to make something out of those who were not successful from a neglect of their opportunities while in school.

These gentlemen have a warm welcome to our town any time they wish to come.

WHITE CAP CASE ENDED.

Plea of Nolo Contendere and Defendants pay all costs and Damages.

By an agreement between attorneys for the defendants and the solicitor, the noted "white cap" case came to an end in court today. Just before adjournment for dinner the plea of the defendants was read by Attorney Whedbee. This was followed with a lengthy statement bearing upon the case by Solicitor Abernethy in which the plea of the defendants was accepted, and upon terms stated and agreed to the matter came to an end with the approval of the court.

Owing to the length of the papers and the lateness of the hour we cannot publish them in full today; but will do so in Monday's issue of the Reflector. We believe every citizen will approve of the course that has been taken in settling the case.

The conditions briefly stated are that the defendants be fined $1 each pay costs in the case, that the county be reimbursed the sum of $458.72 incurred in the first trial, and they pay W. J. Teel, the prosecuting witness, $1,000 for damages incurred by him.

WANTED—A PREACHER.

Runaway Couple From Kinston Marry Here.

Friday afternoon's train from Kinston brought a couple to Greenville who took a carriage at the depot and drove to Hotel Bertha. It soon became known that they wanted a preacher, and wanted him in a hurry. Several gentlemen around the hotel forthwith got busy phoning and inquiring for the minister who could be reached first. Rev. J. E. Ayscue had gone in the country on another mission and was not available. Rev. W. E. Cox was somewhere enjoying that part of the afternoon with a good looking Miss and could not exactly be located. Rev. M. T. Plyler had no phone and a messenger failed to catch him at home. Finally the ear of Rev. D. W. Arnold was reached at the other end of the phone and he was told what was wanted, but he was some distance away and wanting to make a bit of preparation before coming down put him too late on the scene.

In the meantime impatience and anxiety on the part of the couple had increased with each moment, and to relieve the tension Justice H. Harding was called. The Major, always ready for matters of this kind, was soon at Hotel Bertha proceeding with the ceremony that united Mr. Winnie Jordan and Miss Kate Chadwick. The ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock, too late to catch the evening train back, so the couple spent the night here and returned to Kinston on the midday train today.

Mr. Jordan is manager of the telephone exchange at Kinston, and his bride is a very popular young lady. A sister of the bride was also one of the principals in a runaway marriage a year or two ago.

The New York thief who has a mania for stealing clocks and watches, ought to be doing time in jail or on the roads.

When the president flips over the country and unloads those six speeches, he can then settle down to his Thanksgiving proclamation.

We doubt if anybody supposes Wellman will ever find the North pole, but his project is serving as a good advertisement and thus fulfilling its purpose.

There is hope for South Carolina as long as a jury can be found who will say "guilty" even if the defendant is a beautiful woman.

If a place with the reputation that Wadesboro once had can get rid of bar rooms, Wilmington should not despair. Folks in that city are already sitting up and taking notice of what bad places saloons are.

When the Standard Oil Company and the railroads come down to strict honesty and fair dealing with the people, there will be another epoch in our history.

Notice the improvements around school houses and grounds throughout the country. Children trained amid such surroundings will carry the idea of improvement into their homes when they come to make one of their own. Improved conditions and higher citizenship should be the ambition of every one.

There are farmers that are suspicious and so easily influenced, that they will not take a step that is direct in their interest. If this were not so they would long ago have united and been the most powerful organization in the world. Their suspicions and gullibility, if we may so call it, keeps many of them from uniting with the Southern Cotton Association that is seeking to control the price of cotton, and the very same reasons keep them out of the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Company that wants to do the same thing with the tobacco crop. Perhaps some day the farmers will see what is best for them.

Scratched Mahogany.
 To remedy a scratched mahogany surface take the kernel of a Brazil nut, separate through the center and rub the oil thoroughly into the scratched or marked place. The white mark will disappear entirely. Then your favorite furniture polish may be applied to the restored surface.

Wicker Furniture.
 Natural colored willow or wicker furniture should be washed quickly in warm soapsuds in which about a tablespoonful of borax has been placed for a pail of water. Dry in the sun after first rubbing off most of the water with a clean cloth.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

Story of a Squirrel and What Happened to Him.
 Once there was a squirrel that did not like his home, and he used to scold and find fault with everything. The papa squirrel had long gray whiskers, and so was wise—besides which he could shake his whiskers quickly. He said to the squirrel, "My dear, as you do not like your home there are three sensible things you could do—

Any one of these would help you in your trouble."
 But the little squirrel said: "Oh, I do not want to do any of those. I had rather sit on the branch of a tree and scold."
 "Well," said the papa squirrel, "if you must do that whenever you want to scold just go out on a branch and scold away at some one you do not know."
 The little squirrel blushed so much that he became a red squirrel, and you will notice that to this day red squirrels do just that thing—St. Nicholas.

How to Play Wonderment.
 It is necessary that two only of the party should have a knowledge of the game, and then wonderment is sure to be the result.

The two players agree that a certain word shall be regarded as a signal word. As an illustration, imagine this word to be "and."
 One of the players asserts his belief that he is gifted with second sight and states that he is able, through a closed door, to name any article touched by any person in sympathy with him notwithstanding that said person may attempt to mystify him by mentioning a lot of other articles. He then chooses his confederate as being one with whom he may be in sympathy and goes outside.

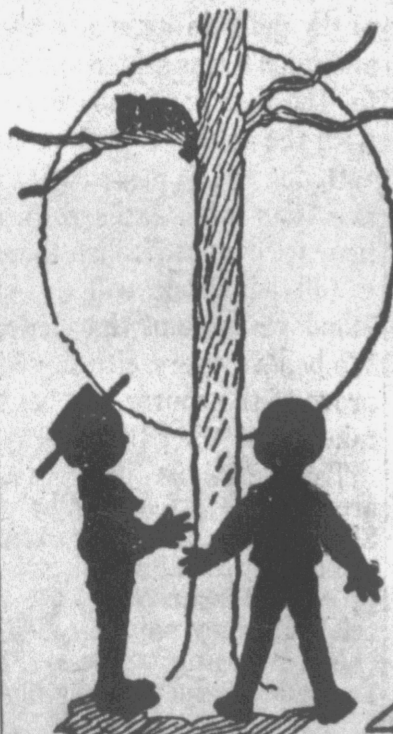

The partner in the room then proceeds to call out perhaps in this way: "Table," "Hearth rug," "Piano," "Footstool" and "Chair," "Lamp," "Inkstand," etc. He then places his hand on the back of a chair and asks, "What am I touching now?" The answer will of course be "Chair," because the signal word "and" came immediately before that article.

If players are skilled the trick need not be discovered for a long time.

Swapping Party.
 A "swapping party" is one of the latest forms of amusement at a young people's gathering.
 Each guest is asked to bring a certain number of articles with which he or she is willing to part. The more trifling in value and the older these are the more fun it will be toicker for somebody else's well worn treasures.
 Old toys, valentines, bits of bric-a-brac, cherished neck ribbons or cravats, photographs, dance programmes, games and a hundred other relics of bygone days will suggest themselves as contributing to the amusement of the affair. The one who has succeeded in swapping for the most articles by the time the fun ends is awarded a modest prize of some sort.

Thread and Eggshell.
 Some interesting and effective little tricks may be performed with the aid of thread that has previously been soaked in salt and water. This renders the ash of the thread when burned sufficiently strong to support a light weight, such as an empty eggshell, provided there is no vibration in the article to which the thread is attached.
 Having suspended an egg by a prepared thread, a match can be applied and the thread burned right through without the egg falling to the ground.

Slightly Altered.
 District Attorney Jerome of New York said one day of a piece of suspicious evidence:
 "It is evidence that has been tampered with, colored. It is like the lady's report of her physician's prescription."
 "A lady one day in July visited her physician. The man examined her and said:
 "Madam, you are only a little run down. You need frequent baths and plenty of fresh air, and I advise you to dress in the coolest, most comfortable clothes—nothing stiff or formal."
 "When she got home her husband asked her what the physician had said. The lady replied:
 "He said I must go to the seashore, do plenty of automobiling and get some summer gowns."

Gerald the Chinaman.
 It takes old Greenwich village to turn out real curiosities. Where else in Manhattan borough, the New York of the strangers, could there be found a Mongolian sporting the fine old Norman name of Gerald? This Chinese laundryman is proud of it and is not to be convinced that it doesn't fit his family name of Ing just as well as Moy or Toy or Joe. He is careful to insist to his patrons that his name is Gerald, but Bleeker street hasn't time to bother with the "motions of the chink." Jerry doesn't shock their security in the familiar, but it is still Gerald on the sign and on the price lists.—New York Tribune.

Knew His Fate.
 Professor Brander Matthews, the essayist, enlivened with an anecdote a Shakespeare-Bacon discussion at the Players' club in New York.
 "A literary woman," said Professor Matthews, "said one night to her husband:
 "When I get to heaven I am going to ask Shakespeare whether or not he wrote those plays."
 "The husband chuckled.
 "Maybe he won't be there," he

JOB PRINTING AT THE REFLECTOR

I will mail you free, to prove merit samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves". Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write to-day for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by Bryans Drug Store

The wise man looked not at the thermometer during July and August

When you feel the need of a pill take DeWitt's Little Early Riser. Small, safe pill, sure pill. Easy to take, pleasant and effective. Drives away headaches. Sold by John L. Wooten's drug store

You can never make another noise with the cracker that has been exploded.

A prompt, pleasant, good remedy for coughs and colds, is Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It is especially recommended for babies and children, but good for every member of the family. It contains no opiates and does not constipate. Contains honey and tar and tastes nearly as good as maple syrup. Children like it. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

Some bargains are expensive.

Get a free sample of Dr. Shoop's "Health Coffee" at our store. If real coffee disturbs your Stomach, your Heart or Kidneys, then try this clever Coffee imitation. Dr. Shoop has closely matched Old Java and Mocha Coffee in flavor and taste, yet it has not a single grain of real Coffee in it. Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted grains or cereals, with Malt, Nuts, etc. Made in a minute. No tedious wait. You will surely like it. Sold by T. E. Hooker & Co.

Politics sometime makes strange cellmates.

All stomach trouble are quickly relieved by taking a little Kodol after each meal. Kodol goes directly to the seat of the trouble, strengthens the digestive organs, supplies the natural digestive juices and digests what you eat. It is a simple, clean, pure, harmless remedy. Don't neglect your stomach. Take a little Kodol after each meal and see how good it makes you feel. Money back if it fails. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Worry never completed a task worth while.

Bert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says "I have only taken four doses of your Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills as I want a perfect cure." Mr. Barber refers to DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills, which are unequalled for Backache, weak kidneys, inflammation of the bladder and all urinary troubles. A weeks treatment for 25c. Sold by J. L. Wooten's drug Store.

The vacation earned is the vacation enjoyed.

There is no case of indigestion, no matter how irritable or how obstinate that will not be speedily relieved by the use of Kodol. The main factor in curing the stomach of any disorder is rest, and the only way to get rest is to actually digest the food for the stomach itself. Kodol will do it. It is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids containing the very same juices found in healthy stomach. It conforms to the Pure Food and Drugs Law. Sold by John L. Wooten.

The pies are just as good as ever—your "taster" is out of whack.

For scratches, burns, cuts, insect bites and the many little hurts common to every family, DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve is the best remedy. It is soothing, cooling, clean and healing. Be sure you get DeWitt's. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

The vacation we miss is the one we would have enjoyed the most.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. GHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

PARKER FOUNTAIN PEN

The Reflector Book Store, which is sole agent in Greenville for the Parker Fountain Pen, is going to give away one of these famous Pens, absolutely free, to the person who guesses exactly or nearest to the number of pounds of tobacco sold on the warehouse floors of the Greenville market during the month of September.

The only condition in this guessing contest is that you come to the Reflector Book Store in person and write your name and guess, with a Parker Fountain Pen, on a list prepared for the guessers. If you have not a Parker pen of your own one will be loaned you with which to write your name and guess. The guessing will close at 9 o'clock p. m. Saturday, Sept 20th.

When Mr. C. W. Harvey, secretary of the Tobacco Board of Trade gives out the figures of the sales for September, the person who has guessed exactly or nearest to the right figure can call at Reflector Book Store and take his choice of pens from the 6 dozen case on display. The prices of these pens are from $1. to $6. and the lucky guesser can take his choice absolutely free.

For the information of guessers Secretary Harvey has furnished us the figures of the tobacco sales for the month of September for the last four years, which are as follows

September 1903	1,685,511
September 1904	1,916,468
September 1905	2,841,726
September 1906	2,839,960

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold—only you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label. If poisons are in your Cough Mixture, Good! Very good!! Hereafter for this very reason, ordinary and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

Two Dyspeptics

If you are too fat it is because your food turns to fat instead of muscle—strength. If you are too lean the fat producing foods that you eat are not properly digested and assimilated.

Lean, thin, stringy people do not have enough Pepsin in the stomach, while fat people have too much Pepsin and not enough Pancreatine.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

contains all the digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach, and in exactly those proportions necessary to enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all foods that may be eaten. Kodol is not only a perfect digestant, but it is a reconstructive, tissue building tonic as well. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Palpitation of the Heart and Constipation. You will like it.

Digests What You Eat

Rests the stomach, rebuilds the tissues and gives a firm flesh.

Small bottle holds 30 doses as much as the large, 50 cent size.

TO MY FRIENDS.

Having been away for several my friends and patrons of the "empire" of Pitt that I am still connected with the firm of Chas.

M. Stieff, and if bachelors are

We also offer a special school piano for $225 00 fully measuring up in standard to any $350 00 pecially built for college and school work for the special price named above and is full guaranteed by my firm for 10 years.

Those interested in a school piano or in a good slightly used piano for the home should write me at once and will profit by it, and as ever I am always mindful of my patrons' protection and interest as well as my firm's interest. Careful of past

MEXICAN WILD HOG.

Small but Fierce and Sometimes Used as a Watchdog.

Ranchmen in the vicinity of Colquitt, Tex., use the javeline, or Mexican wild hog, as a watchdog, says the Kansas City Star. The javeline is far superior to the ordinary dog when it comes to guarding the home and premises to which it has become attached. It is easily domesticated if taken when it is a pig. There is hardly a Mexican household in this section that does not have a pet javeline, which serves many useful purposes.

The javeline of the southwest has very few characteristics of the hog.
Beyond the fact that it closely resembles the hog in appearance, it might well be classed as an entirely different species of animal.
In point of fearlessness it surpasses any other animal that roams the chaparral of the southwest. It is one of the few wild animals that do not hesitate to attack man. It is feared by every deer hunter who visits the region. Innumerable instances are known of hunters having been forced to seek refuge in trees to avoid being torn to pieces by enraged javelines. They are so ferocious in their wild state that only the most intrepid sportsman will brave the dangers of hunting them.

When taken as a pig and domesticated the javeline can easily be trained to do almost any trick that can be taught the most intelligent dog. It is quick to learn to know the members of the family and will protect them against harm with its life if necessary. No strange human being or animal is permitted to enter the house or yard where a pet javeline is on guard. It has a bark something similar to that of a dog, and when danger approaches it sets up its peculiar cry.

The javeline is almost as fleet as a dog, and one javeline will whip several dogs. They weigh when full grown from fifty to eighty pounds.
They are taller in the fore part of their body than in the rear. In this respect they resemble the wild boar.

The javelines in their wild state run in droves of twenty to fifty.
They always travel in single file and appear to have a recognized leader.
When feeding or bedded for sleep or rest one of the javelines is always on guard. Whenever a drove of animals is about to cross an open space a sentinel is first sent out to take a view of the situation. If everything is found to be clear the signal is given by the sentinel and the whole drove trots across the clearing and re-enters the chaparral.
