PAPERS IN THE CASE.

The White Cap Matter Was Terminated.

Below we give in full the plea of the defendants in the "white cap" case, and the answer and agreement of the State, as read in court Saturday and by which the matter was brought to an end.

The defendants, W. S. Briley, Walter Woolard, A. G. Whichard, Charlie Wynn, Zeb V. Whitehurst, W. T. Barnhill and W. H. Harrington, Jr., through their attorneys, come into court protesting their innocence and stating that they are unable and unwilling to further contend against the State, and therefore tender to the State the following pleas, and submit themselves to the judgment of the court:

1st. A plea of not guilty upon the count in the bill charging a conspiracy.

2nd. A plea of not guilty as to that count in the bill charging house breaking.

3rd. A plea of nolo contendere as to that count in the bill of indictment charging an assault.

H. W. Whedbee, J. L. Fleming, Of counsel for the defendants. The statements of the solicitor follows:

To his honor, C. C. Lyon, Judge presiding:

In the above entitled cases, numbers 11 and 12 in the docket, commonly known as the "white cap" cases, as solicitor at the last term of the criminal court in April, I requested a continuance of these cases so that I might make a thorough investigation of the cases, having but recently been appointed solicitor, and I did not like to go into a matter of such importance without investigating the same.

I have made the investigation and I have found that the prosecuting witness, W. J. Teel, and his family were most outrageously treated. There were supposed to be ten or twelve persons who were connected in the perpetration of the outrage upon Teel and family.

At the September term, 1906, of the Superior court in number 11 the State asked for a severance and put J. K. Barnhill on trial. The State was represented in said trial by Hon. Larry I. Moore solicitor, my predecessor, Governor C. B. Aycock, Col. F. G. James, Governor T. J. Jarvis and Mr. A. L. Blow. Each of these distinguished lawyers have assured me that the State tried its strongest case; that there was no evidence against the defendant J. K. Barnhill in either of the other defendants in either of the cases. After a hotly contested case costing the county of Pitt some five hundred dollars, the jury returned a verdict of "not guilty." The cases against the other defendants were continued for the State till the January term, 1907, and from the January term, 1907, and from the January term, 1907, when I was appointed solicitor, and at that term I asked for a continuance for the reasons hereinbefore stated.

I have been advised by Governor Aycock that if he were solicitor he would not prosecute the cases. I have been advised by Governor Jarvis to settle the cases with the defendants if the county of Pitt was saved harmless of all costs of these trials. The advice of such distinguished counsel and at the same time representing the private prosecution as they do, should be given the greatest consideration in determining what my course should be in these cases. The defendants counsel have tendered the State the proposition that each of them, except J. K. Barnhill, who has been acquitted by a jury, will enter the plea of nolo contendere as to an assault with a deadly weapon, the State to enter up a verdict of not guilty as to the charges of house breaking and conspiracy, the defendants to pay the costs paid by the county of Pitt in the case of state vs J. K. Barnhill, tried at the September term, 1906, amounting to $453.72, in addition thereto to save the county harmless as to all costs in the cases now on the docket, to wit: number eleven (11) an twelve (12), in addition thereto to pay to the private prosecutor, W. J. Teel, the sum of $1000.00 as damages for injuries received by him, and court to enter up a nominal fine of $1.00 against each of the defendants. This proposition of the defendants is acceptable to the private prosecutor and to the lawyers representing and assisting the State. It is understood that if the defendants' proposition is acceptable to the solicitor and to the court that this is to end and forever settle all matters that might arise in the courts from the "white cap" cases.

My information from reliable sources in that some of the defendants have been maltreated heavily by the United States Government on account of violations of the Internal Revenue laws, which were brought to light by the prosecution of the "white cap" cases, that they have spent large sums of money in the defence of the "white cap" cases and other cases growing out of the same, and it is my opinion that the prosecution of the cases so far, though the State was unsuccessful in the only case tried, has had a most wholesome effect.

I feel that the private prosecutor W. J. Teel is entitled to the approval and thanks of the law abiding people of Pitt county and elsewhere for the good he has accomplished for the public safety and law and order, in the prosecution of the "white cap" cases so vigorously.

Your Honor, I have therefore outlined the situation in these matters. After mature and deliberate reflection and upon the advice of the associate counsel representing the State and especially upon the suggestion of Governor Aycock and Governor Jarvis, I feel that as solicitor the public interest will be best subserved by accepting the proposition tendered me by the defendants, to be approved by the court. This means punishment to the defendants; the reimbursement of the private prosecutor who was injured, in damages he has sustained; relieving the tax payers of Pitt county of the entire cost of the "white cap" cases.

If your honor approves and confirms it, I hereby accept the plea and tender of settlement of the cases by the defendants.

Respectfully submitted,
Chas. L. Abernethy,
Solicitor.

It was not to be supposed that the negro Baptist convention in session in Washington could adjourn without taking a fall out of the president on account of the Brownsville affair. If it had done anything else we would have doubted the sincerity of its members. —Charlotte News.

SCHOOL BOND SUIT.

Matter Being Argued on Questions of Law.

By agreement the suit against the board of county commissioners to enjoin them from selling the bonds voted by the county to be used in the construction of the Eastern Carolina Teachers Training school, was called up in court today. The complaint was made in the name of A. D. Cox, H. T. King and P. A. Wayne. The defendants are represented by Wooten & Wooten and Paul Frizzelle, and the county commissioners by Jarvis & Blow, F. G. James, H. W. Whedbee, F. C. Harding, Julius Brown, J. L. Fleming and W. H. Long.

The matter in controversy being only questions of law, a jury trial was waived and the making up of the facts and decision being left to Judge Lyon. The day has been consumed by argument of counsel. From what has been brought out so far the plaintiff has very slim ground to base any action upon.

Greenville Boy Again.

Mr. J. Bert James was elected captain of the baseball team last night to succeed Romy Story, deceased. Mr. C. S. Forbes has moved into his pretty new home on Evans street near Seventh. The building is in a location that shows its attractiveness, is well designed, modernly constructed and is an ideal residence.

Over 20,000 Mulletts.

During the past week the catches of mulletts at Wrightsville Beach have been very gratifying to those engaged in the fishing industry, within the past five or six days, the crew commanded by "Captain" Jim Walton, the popular janitor at the Carolina Yacht Club, have been signally successful, having taken in their seines practically 5,325 bunches of mulletts. Averaging four fish to the bunch, this makes a total in round numbers, of 21,300 mulletts which have been caught. The prices obtained for the fish have been entirely satisfactory and the fishermen are looking forward to many more successful catches before the close of the season. —Wilmington Dispatch

To Freshen Black Lace.

Ladies who have rolls of old black lace put by and want to make it fresh again should make some green tea and while it is boiling hot hold the lace over it, so that it is completely steamed, pulling it well out with the hand during the process, and at once iron it between paper.

Pitch and Wheel Grease Stains.

To remove pitch, wheel grease or tar stains soften the spots with lard, soak in turpentine, scrape off carefully with a knife all the loose surface dirt and sponge with turpentine. Rub gently until dry and then place in open air for a couple of hours.

EXCESSIVE ATHLETICS.

The Danger of Weakening the Body and the Nerves.

Exercise is as necessary for the human body as food and drink. It is impossible to maintain perfect health without it. But it must be taken in moderation, for excess in this respect is as harmful in its way and sometimes in the same way as excess in eating.

The effect of exercise is to increase the tissue changes in the body. The weaker cells are destroyed and replaced by new and stronger cells, the nutrition is increased, and the waste products are thrown off. If the exercise is carried to extreme lengths, it may happen that the waste products are thrown into the system in so great a quantity that they cannot be disposed of in the ordinary way, and they accumulate to such an extent that the body is poisoned by its own waste. The result is the same as when an excess of food is taken, and so exercise, which in moderation tends to counteract the evil of overeating, in excess only increases the evil.

It has always been known that excessive physical labor has a tendency to shorten life, and the attainment of old age is seldom the lot of the laboring man. But the fact is often curiously overlooked that physical labor is physical labor, whether it consists in wielding a pick and shovel or in throwing weights, rowing a boat, running or jumping.

The dangers of inordinate devotion to athletics are that one part of the body, one set of muscles or certain organs, such as the heart, will be developed out of proportion to the other parts. This is especially the case in the young who have not yet attained their growth. Again, as has just been noted, the body becomes poisoned by its own waste thrown off more rapidly than it can be eliminated by the natural processes. The nervous system, which presides over and regulates all the functions of the body, is put to a great strain, and the overtrained athlete is in great danger of becoming neurasthenic. But it is especially the heart and arteries, the carriers of nutriment to all the organs and tissues, which are apt to suffer the most.

The heart is a patient organ, and when strain is put upon it it quietly increases its bulk and its strength to meet the task. So long as the strain is continued it works along, but when the call upon it is diminished suddenly, the young man giving up his athletics and taking to a sedentary life, its muscular tissue begins to degenerate.

The arteries under strain act in the same way, and when the tension is relaxed the condition known as arteriosclerosis develops. The tissues are poorly nourished, and the man ages before his time.

When devotion to athletics has been excessive, it is only by the greatest care in training down that the athlete can avoid the danger of weakened body and nerves.—Youth's Companion.

Dog Fennel to Start Balky Horse.

"A balky horse is the meanest thing this side of Memphis," said A. L. Nichols of Brentwood, Tenn. "I had a horse one time that balked on all occasions. He would balk if you whistled, balked if you laughed and balked if you looked from the corner of your eye. One day he balked and I could not make him move forward to save me. An old negro man happened along and supplied a remedy. Going to the side of the road, he pulled a handful of dog fennel weed. Taking this, he rubbed it under the horse's nose. The animal shook his head once or twice, raised up his tail and started down the road in the merriest trot you ever saw. That treatment of dog fennel cured the horse of balking. He never made another attempt to act ugly after that."—Nashville Tennessean.

An Actor's Coolness.

An actor who was playing Claude Melnotte lost his memory to such an extent in the scene where he makes love to Pauline and describes the imaginary villa by the lake of Como that the prompter was obliged to come to his relief and recite the whole passage in a loud voice.

Claude, however, was cool enough to do his part by saying, "Tell me, dearest, you like the picture?" turning to the prompter—"which this gentleman has been kind enough to submit to your consideration?"—Liverpool Mercury.

All of One Denomination.

Denominational prejudices cannot effect the nomination of the next democratic candidate for governor of this state, because fortunately all of of the aspirants (or at least the three who have announced their candidacy) are members of the same religious denomination. The North Carolina Baptist, of Fayetteville, is authority for the statement that Messrs Craig, Horne and Kitchen are Baptists, Mr. Craig, being a member of the Baptist church at Asheville, Mr. Horne a member of the Baptist church at Clayton and Mr. Kitchen a member of the Baptist church at Roxboro. This being true no one of the aspirants can have any advantage over his competitors, or labor under any disadvantage, because of his church affiliations. Chatham Record.

TO MY FRIENDS.

Having been away for several months I wish to announce to my friends and patrons of the "empire" of Pitt that I am still connected with the firm of Chas. M. Steff, and if bachelors are allowed to misuse the happy term home as a synonym for a "hanging out place" I still call Greenville my home, and while I intend to be away from Greenville a great deal of my time during this fall a postal care of box 325, Greenville, will reach me within a day or two. We now have a number of slightly used upright pianos, some of which have been rented during the summer months, others which were temporarily used by artists at the exposition and for orchestra work, at bargain prices.

We also offer a special school piano for $225.00 fully measuring up in standard to any $350.00 instrument. This piano is especially built for college and school work for the special price named above and is full guaranteed by my firm for 16 years. Those interested in a school piano or in a good slightly used piano for the home should write me at once and will profit by it, and as ever I am always mindful of my patrons' protection and interest as well as my firm's interest. Grateful for past patronage. Very respectfully,

THE KING GEORGE.

In the Deadly Wake of the Famous Old West Indian.

If ever you happen to be so fortunate as to take a trip down the west coast of Africa you'll be sure to hear of the famous old West Indian, King George. This yarn is backed up by the records of the British admiralty, so of course it is true. She was wrecked in the year 1789 during a hurricane that devastated the coast of Cuba and the West Indies generally. Every man, woman and child aboard of her was lost, and the ship herself was stripped of her top hamper, masts and spars and went drifting, a helpless wreck, "bawd to all disaster."

She was first reported by a ship of the same company some hundred miles north of the point where the storm is supposed to have struck her. Men were sent aboard her from her sister Indian and reported that she was sinking rapidly. A flag that she was never completely lost to sight for the best part of five years, when she vanished in a storm off the Grand Canaries. In that time she had drifted upward of 10,000 miles and had been the direct cause of at least four wrecks and the indirect cause of three more.

Her travels were strange enough, especially at that time, when the locations of the ocean currents were but vaguely guessed at by the most speculative of mariners. She journeyed northward and eastward from the gulf of Mexico to the British isles and then, making a long curve, to the west coast of Africa. During all that time she was constantly reported by passing ships, many of which sent men aboard of her. At last the British government dispatched a man-of-war after her, with orders to blow her up. Instead the frigate ran on a reef and was wrecked. Another, the Daphne, was then sent out, but she encountered a slaving show and was sunk in the ensuing fight.

By this time the whole English speaking seafaring world was agog over the mystery. When a third warship was dispatched and in her turn ran high and dry on the beach superstition had its way, and the King George was allowed to proceed on her ghostly path in peace. She was reported a few times after that by passing merchantmen, then disappeared for good and all in a tornado that destroyed much beside the derelict. But her name is still a thing to conjure with in some parts of the world.—New York Herald.
