GREENVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA, SATURDAY AFTERNOON, NOVEMBER 2 1907

FROM PORTLAND TO CHICAGO.

Edward Pason Weston Starts Out on Long Tramp.

Portland, Me., October 23.—Planning to repeat his feat of forty years ago, of walking to Chicago a distance of 1,230 miles in 26 days, Edward Payson Weston started at 5 o'clock tonight from the Portland post-office amid cheers and good wishes of 1,000 people who had gathered to see him start. He is 69 years of age. Mr. Weston was greeted by a number of friends including former Mayor James P. Baxter, who watched his departure 40 years ago, and was accompanied to the South Portland city line by Joseph C. Sterlin, who, as a police officer, escorted him over the same route on the first walk. Mayor Clifford witnessed his departure and administered an oath that the conditions of the feat should be complied with.

Mr. Weston expects to arrive at the Chicago postoffice at 2 p. m., Thursday, 27th, averaged 50 miles a day. He will go by the way of Boston, Troy, Utica, Syracuse, Buffalo, Toledo and Cleveland. There was an arrangement for Henry Schemel, of Chicago, to start at the same time for Portland.—Wilmington Messenger.

At last relief seems to be in sight for our tobacco farmers. The American Tobacco Company, which has so long ruled the tobacco world with the ruthlessness of a czar, is now to feel the "big stick" of an aroused National Government. Not only has the Department of Justice instituted proceedings looking to the complete dissolution of the Tobacco Trust on account of its violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law, but the Attorney-General last week astounded not only the trust itself but the entire country as well by producing a weapon of attack so covered with the dust of what Mr. Cleveland would call "innocuous desuetude" that few people were aware of its existence. Yet, there it is in Section 6 of the Sherman Law—the plain mandate of the law under which the Government in Norfolk, Va., last week seized $7,000 worth of trust-made goods—and now compels the American Tobacco Company to come into court and show cause why similar seizures shall not continue until it conforms to the laws of the land. Mr. Roosevelt himself is actively interested in these movements. With the active cooperation of the tobacco growers, the trust may now at last be outlawed and competition in tobacco markets restored.—Progressive Farmer.

WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

Notes From Our Hurling Neighbor

Winterville, N. C., Nov. 2, '07. Miss Sadie Carroll returned to her home yesterday afternoon, after having spent some time with Misses Lala and Kate Chapman.

J. E. Greene returned from a trip to his old home near Williamston Thursday evening.

Rev. Alexander Corey, of Jamesville, conducted prayer service at the Baptist church Wednesday night and spent Thursday here.

Miss Anna Little, of Falkland, an old pupil of W. H. S., is visiting her host of friends at the girls dormitory.

Miss Novella Bunting, assistant music teacher of W. H. S. left for Ayden Friday evening to visit friends Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. W. E. Cox will preach his farewell sermon in the Episcopal church here Monday night, Nov. 4. All are cordially invited to be present. Mr. Cox will soon begin his work in Wilmington. We regret so much to give him up. He may rest assured that he will have our prayers and best wishes for his success in his new field of work.

Misses Hattie and Janie Kirtrell went to Greenville shopping Thursday.

ELECTION NEXT WEEK.

There will be elections in twelve states next Tuesday. In Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Mississippi and Kentucky, a governor and other state officers are to be chosen. In New Jersey, two associate justices of the court of appeals; in Pennsylvania, a state treasurer, and in Nebraska, a railroad commissioner and two agents of the State University. In Ohio, Utah and California, municipal officers are to be elected, while in New York county a number of judges and a sheriff are to be voted for.

The prohibitionists have a state ticket in all the states, except Maryland and Mississippi, and city tickets in Cleveland and Cincinnati, but not in San Francisco or Salt Lake.

The Socialists also have tickets in all the states, except Mississippi and Maryland, and city tickets in Cincinnati (Cleveland and Salt Lake, but not in San Francisco.

The Socialist-Labor party has tickets in Kentucky, Massachusetts and New Jersey, while Union Labor made nominations for city officers in San Francisco.

In Massachusetts there are ten tickets, five being divided among Democrats, who are engaged in a fractional fight with the state delegation to the Democratic convention next year in prospective. The ballot law commission decided that Henry M. Whitney was the nominee for governor.

In Maryland there will be a straight contest between the Democrats and the Republicans only, the two parties having made nominations for state officers.

In New York county the Republicans and the Independence League (Hearst) forces have fused on the county ticket, which is made up of a number of court justices and a sheriff. This gives unusual interest to the contest.

Soon after the nominations were made, Mayor McClellan, who had been opposed to the present Tammany machine, announced that he would support the Democratic ticket against the Republican-Hearst combine.

In Cleveland, Congressman Theodore E. Burton is contesting the mayoralty with Thomas L. Johnson. There are four tickets in Salt Lake City, the American or Anti Mormon party having made nominations for local officers, as have the Republicans and Democrats and Socialists. In San Francisco the Democrats and the Good Government forces have combined and nominated the present acting mayor, who is opposed by Republican, as well as a Union Labor candidate, and the three cornered fight is decidedly lively.

The Reporters' Gallery.

It was my privilege once to witness statesmen absolutely refusing to allow the great machinery of parliament to be put in motion in the absence of the reporters. It was Dec. 2, 1902, when the education bill was before the house of lords. The Marquis of Londonderry, president of the council of education, refused to address the house until the reporters arrived. What an absolute change in the point of view of statesmen since William Woodfall sat in the strangers' gallery of the house of commons with closed eyes, endeavoring to fix on his memory the points of the discussion, and later still Charles Dickens stood for hours with tired feet among the crowd at the bar of the house of lords furtively reporting!—Macmillan's Magazine.

Air Hogs.

"Air hog is the epithet applied by the author of one of the typical growls the English send to the editor of the London Times. The correspondent was sitting reading in his garden, he says, when he noticed a balloon pass overhead and pretty soon after received a shower of the ballast that was nothing more or less than dirt. He goes on to work up indignation against the time when air travel becomes a fad of the vulgar rich. "Suppose I am peacefully tracking a snail to its lair and I am suddenly assailed with the tea slops and heel taps of a millionaire's tea party. Multiply the instance and you have a country oppressed as if under the domination of the Puritans."—Boston Transcript.

Fan Baths and Typhoid.

Fan baths are the latest remedy employed by the Boston City hospital physicians in the treatment of typhoid fever. Heretofore the ice plunge was used, and a patient whose temperature had reached the danger point was soured in a bathtub filled with broken ice until his teeth rattled. This treatment after a time was found to be too heroic, as the shock was too severe and pneumonia sometimes developed. Then ice water sponge baths were substituted, but the fan baths, the doctors declare, are just the thing. The patient is sponged off with ice water first, then a sheet that has been soaked in ice water is wrapped about the body and more ice water is sprinkled on the sheet. The current of an electric fan is then turned on him, so that he is chilled by the rapid evaporation caused by the breeze. Recent experiments have proved this measure highly successful.

NAVAL BUNTING.

Costly Dress Suit Flag Outfit of Our Warships.

Few realize the number of flags carried by a warship nor the cost of all the gay bunting which flutters from mast to mast at holiday-time. In addition to fleet communication, necessary during all forms of maneuvers in home waters, the ship must be equipped with an extensive array of flags stored on board for various forms of ceremonial and official occasions. This "dress suit" outfit of bunting therefore consists of 250 different flags, the material and making of which cost just $2,500. Each ship is entitled to a new flag equipment every three years, though a flagship will often require a new set of signals, owing to their constant use and handling, in about a year.

A great deal more time and labor are required to finish certain of these flags than generally supposed. For instance, the president's flag requires the longest time of any to make, as it takes one woman nearly a whole month to complete it. The life sized eagle, with long outstretched wings, and other emblems are all hand sewed and involve the most patient work. The most difficult and likewise consuming the longest time to make are the foreign flags. This is especially true of the South and Central American ones. A half dozen specially skilled hand device sewers, each having acquired the knack of making certain of the center designs in those to perfection, are continually kept on these respective flags. Every battleship carries forty-three foreign flags, 25 feet long by 13 wide.

The most expensive ensign to make is the German, which, owing to the delicate scroll work of the large imperial eagle and royal crown, necessitating delicate, slow and careful sewing, costs $56.50. The dragon flag of China consists of 200 separate pieces. Twelve to fourteen days are ordinarily consumed in finishing this flag, which costs $51.75. The flag of Siam, with the huge white elephant, costs $38. The Mexican, with its center design of a large eagle holding a serpent in its bill, costs $39.50. The cheapest foreign flag made is the Moorish, which costs $21.—Army and Navy Life.

Wanted a Monopete.

"Yes, sir. Hair cut, sir? Shave, sir?" asked the obsequious barber of the customer who entered. "Shave, please," said the gentleman, seating himself in the chair. "I pride myself on my quick methods," went on the assistant, lathering the customer's face and then bringing the razor into operation.

After a few lightning strokes he made a gash or two.

"Sorry, sir," he said, scraping away and drawing blood here and there. Another good cut or two and the operation was nearly finished. "Want anything on your face, sir?" he asked.

"Well," said the customer, ruefully looking at his face in the glass. "I'd be obliged if you'd leave my nose."—London Tit-Bits.

Poor Wages.

John B. Lennon, treasurer of the American Federation of Labor, delivered recently in Bloomington an address on strikes.

Turning to the amusing features of the strike question, Mr. Lennon said:

"I remember a strike of bobbin boys. These boys conducted their fight well, even brilliantly. Thus the day they turned out they posted in the spinning room of their employer's mill a great placard inscribed with the words:

"The wages of sin is death, but the wages of the bobbin boys is worse."—New York Tribune.

A Famous Pitcher.

Elmer Stricklett, the "spit ball" pitcher, had been listening a long while in a New York club to the boasting of a rival.

"Well," he said, exhausted at last, "you are pretty good, Mike, but out in Mountain View there is a young fellow who can beat you. You'll hear from him next season. His specialty is the slow ball. This young fellow has such a slow ball that when he pitches it and sees that it is going to be hit he can run after it and fetch it back again."—Exchange.

PROGRAM FOR TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

Saturday, November 9, 1907.

10:30 a. m. Devotional exercises, Rev. J. E. Ayscue.

10:40 "The Idle, Bad Boy. What Shall be done with him?" Supt. W. H. Crie, Giffton school.

10:55 Opening exercises, of what shall they consist? Miss Lily Helen Pair, Quinerly school.

11:05 Assembling and Dismissing Pupils, How? Miss Randolph Archer, Falkland school.

11:15 Drawing, Illustrated lecture, Mrs. E. W. Read, Nashville Tenn.

11:55 The State course of study, Supt. C. L. Coon, Wilson Graded school.

12:40 p. m. Address, Prof. N. W. Walker, University of North Carolina.

1:00 Adjournment.

The above program, as will be seen, promises much for the next meeting which no teacher can fail to miss. These subjects are all practical. They are a part of the daily life of every teacher. You may expect them to be treated in a manner that will be exceedingly helpful to you. The State course of study is to be discussed by the man who prepared it, and probably no man in North Carolina so fully comprehends it as he does, or can present it in a more helpful manner to the teachers than he can. Each teacher will be furnished with a copy of this course of study so that she may have it during the discussion and thereby fully acquaint herself with it in every detail and thereafter be able to use it with profit to herself and to her pupils. I do hope to see every teacher in the county present at this meeting. I believe you will be glad that you came.

The Southern Railway Company wants to make a compromise now that it is plain that it is losing Rockefeller and Morgan know when to come before the public to get praises. They love to be seen of men.

Many of the boys in town are wasting 25 cents a week that they ought to save. Parents would teach them a valuable lesson in economy by encouraging them to save that amount by taking a share in the Building and Loan Association.

For several days we have been assured that the money market is quiet once more. In all the hubbub the South has been practically unshaken. This shows that the Southerners are wise and conservative financiers.

Now that the people of the State are condemning the action of President Winston he tries to class the action of the two classes along with the action of many other institutions. But he will not be able to satisfy the minds of the reading people in any such way.

When President Winston advised the boys of the freshman and sophomore classes at the Agricultural and Mechanical college to "fight it out in the open" he was encouraging two hundred or more young men under his charge to violate the criminal law of the state.

The Hartwells were entertaining a distant relative, a man of ponderous physical attainments, who weighed nearly 300 pounds. On the morning after his arrival he came down to breakfast rather late and looking as if he had not had a good night's rest.

There is a law of the college that there shall be no hazing of students. Do the college officials admit that they cannot enforce that law? Do we understand them to have taken the position that the only way they can enforce a college rule is to countenance and advise the breaking of the criminal law of the state?

The wise old doctor was impressing upon his little patient the essentiality of mastication. "My lad," he advised, "no matter what you eat, always chew each mouthful thirty times."

Mrs. Acklins—I don't want to be impertinent, but how old are you anyway? Some of the ladies were discussing your age at the club the other day, and several of them claimed that you were at least thirty-five, but I insisted that you were not more than thirty-three.

Of course you didn't mention that you were ready to graduate when I was at school,

NOT A CRIMINAL

He Was Only Serving Ten Years For Just "Quarreling."

The standard of morals is not the same all the world over. In Montenegro, for example, conduct is seen from another point of view than among ourselves.

Only three men were chained, and of these one remained moodily seated, staring on the ground before him. He formed such a contrast to his fellow prisoners' smiling faces that we observed him more closely and noticed that his clothes were such as the officials and better class wear.

"Who is he?" I asked. "A government clerk convicted of embezzlement," was the answer. "Six weeks in chains is his sentence."

"And what have the other criminals done?" was our next query. "Oh, they have mostly quarreled among themselves. They are not criminals. We have very few thieves and robbers in Montenegro. This youth," went on our informant, pointing to a young man with a pleasant face and who grinned with joy as he noticed the attention with which we favored him, "has a ten years' sentence for quarreling."

"But, 'quarreling,'" we repeated, "is it punishable to quarrel?"

"Yes. Too many lives are lost," was the laconic reply.

"Oh," we exclaimed, a light breaking in upon us, "you mean murder! They are all murderers?" "We have no murderers," came the indignant response. "Our land is as safe from murder as any other in the world. No one kills or robs or steals in Montenegro. But we just quarrel among ourselves. We are hot blooded and shoot quickly, that is all."

The English Habit.

The man from London paused in front of the little shop and read and reread the mysterious sign that was suspended from the wall. It read:

"Englishmen will please not stand over this grating while talking."

The more the Londoner read the sign the more he was mystified.

Finally he summoned up his courage and entered the shop.

"Good afternoon," he greeted politely. "Could you tell me why you have that sign out there which reads, 'Englishmen will please not stand over this grating while talking?'"

"I can, sir," replied the shopkeeper.

"And why, my good man?"

"Well, you see, if they stood there talking they would drop their hats, and the porter would have to lose time going down in the basement looking for them."

And the man from London walked away after remarking that America was a "bloomin' queer country!" —Brooklyn Citizen.

It Did Not Fit Him.

The Hartwells were entertaining a distant relative, a man of ponderous physical attainments, who weighed nearly 300 pounds. On the morning after his arrival he came down to breakfast rather late and looking as if he had not had a good night's rest.

"You are not feeling well this morning, are you, Mr. Barnes?" asked his host, with some anxiety.

"Oh, it's nothing serious," said the guest. "I have caught a little cold, that is all."

"Papa," whispered Bobby, the youngest member of the family, loudly enough to be heard by the visitor, "how can a man as big as he is have a little cold?" — Youth's Companion.

It Wouldn't Work.

The wise old doctor was impressing upon his little patient the essentiality of mastication.

"My lad," he advised, "no matter what you eat, always chew each mouthful thirty times."

But Jimmy shook his head significantly.

"That wouldn't do at our house, doctor."

"And why not, my son?"

"Because I'd always be hungry. The rest of the kids would clean the table off before I got through with that one mouthful." — Kansas City Independent.

Marking Back.

Mrs. Acklins—I don't want to be impertinent, but how old are you anyway? Some of the ladies were discussing your age at the club the other day, and several of them claimed that you were at least thirty-five, but I insisted that you were not more than thirty-three.

Mrs. Biswick—I'm glad you were of course you didn't mention that you were ready to graduate when I was at school,

All stomach trouble are quickly relieved by taking a little Kodol after each meal. Kodol goes directly to the seat of the trouble, strengthens the digestive organs, supplies the natural digestive juices and digests what you eat. It is a simple, clean, pure, harmless remedy. Don't neglect your stomach. Take a little Kodol after each meal and see how good it makes you feel. Money back if it fails. Sold by John L. Wooten.

You can never make another noise with the cracker that has been exploded.

A prompt, pleasant, good remedy for coughs and colds, is Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It is especially recommended for babies and children, but good for every member of the family. It contains no opiates and does not constipate. Contains honey and tar and tastes nearly as good as maple syrup. Children like it. Sold by John L. Wooten's Drug Store.

Get a free sample of Dr. Shoop's "Health Coffee" at our store. If real coffee disturbs your stomach, your heart or kidneys, then try this coffee. Dr. Shoop has closely matched Old Java and Mocha Coffee in flavor and taste, yet it has not a single grain of real coffee in it. Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted grains or cereals, with Mat, Nuts, etc. Made in a minute. No tedious wait. You will surely like it. Sold by T. E. Hooker & Co.

Bert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says "I have only taken four doses of your Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills as I want a perfect cure." Mr. Barber refers to DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills, which are unequalled for Backache, weak kidneys, inflammation of the bladder and urinary troubles. A weeks treatment for 25c. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

When you feel the need of a pill take DeWitt's Little Early Riser. Small, safe pill, sure pill. Easy to take, pleasant and effective. Drives away headaches. Sold by John L. Wooten's Drug Store.

THE CAR OF JUGGERNAUT.

Fanatics Believe to Be Crushed Under It to Gain Heaven.

In the third week in June, following a custom established over a thousand years ago, Hindoos by tens of thousands flock to Pouri, in Orissa, India, for the religious festival of Juggernaut.

From the temple the famous car of Juggernaut is brought forth and dragged through the streets. It heads the annual procession of devotees of the god Vishnu, or Juggernaut, lord of the universe, whose image or statue, without legs and with stumps of arms, rests within the colossal car.

Hundreds of pilgrims harness themselves to the stout cables by which the car is drawn. As they pull the ponderous car on its clumsy wheels many work themselves up to a degree of religious fervor little short of madness. And fanatics attempt to throw themselves to destruction under the murderous wheels as a voluntary sacrifice to their idol. British civil officers prevent any act of suicide.

Hindoos believe that to gain the favor of Juggernaut opens for them the gates of heaven. Therefore in the days before the British occupation of India natives occasionally cast their bodies under the car to be crushed to a pulp, the belief being that self immolation thus would be speedily rewarded by entrance into paradise.

The car is forty-three feet high. Its wheels are each more than six feet high. A wooden cage around the top, an addition of recent years, keeps fanatics from jumping upon their idol within. Body and wheels are of wood beautifully sculptured and inlaid, and for the festival the car is draped with gold cloth.—Exchange.

Lucky Escape.

"Many years ago," says an Alabama congressman, "a son of Erin had the misfortune to be charged with stealing pork. Being without counsel, the court appointed a young sprig of the law to represent him. It was a poor effort made to defend the prisoner, and the members of the jury without leaving their seats returned a verdict of guilty. The court asked the prisoner if he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced. His reply was: 'Your honor, it is hard for a man to go to prison without a fair trial.'

"You've had a fair trial," said the judge. "The court appointed counsel to defend you."
"The Irishman cast a glance at the young lawyer and muttered: 'Sure, an' if I'd had two such this jury would have hung me for murder.'"—Life.

CHARITY NATURALLY PAINFUL

General Booth, the head of the Salvation Army, was discussing the anti-suicide bureaus that his church has opened.

"Kindness and charity," he said, "are factors of these bureaus. The charity will be of the right kind, I trust. There are, you know, two kinds of charity, and too much of it is like the barber's."

"There was a poor deacon in Warwick who had no money and needed to be shaved, and he went from barber to barber, but none of them, despite his holy office, was willing to shave him for nothing."

"In the end, though, he found a barber who on hearing his tale said gruffly:

"Sit down there in that chair." "And this barber shaved him. But the razor he used! Dear me! Its dull edge and the nicks in it! Under the operation the tears flowed in rivulets down the poor deacon's cheeks."

"Suddenly the barber's dog in the adjacent room set up a terrific howling."

"Be still, there!" cried the barber, and he muttered anxiously, "What can they be doing to him?"

"Alas," said the deacon, "I shouldn't wonder if some one was shaving him out of charity."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Lord Mayor a Drummer.

When the present lord mayor of London, Sir William Treloar, president of the London branch of the United Kingdom Commercial Travelers' association, attended the annual dinner of that organization he told a story of his early traveling life.

"Forty years ago," he said, "I called on an upholsterer in Southampton, whose daughter, a very nice looking girl, rang the bell for her father. As soon, however, as she recognized the visitor she gently called up the stairs:

"You need not come down, pa. It's only a drummer."

"When she returned to the shop the girl remarked, with a pleasant smile, 'I took you for a gentleman.'

"I apologized," added the story teller, "and expressed my regret that my appearance should have deceived her, and so we became excellent friends."—London Strand.

For a Useful Floor Polish.

For a useful floor polish take two ounces of white and yellow wax, an ounce of white soap and a quart of boiling water. Shred the soap and the wax and melt them in a saucepan with the water over the fire. Mix by stirring and pour into a jar or bottle until wanted for use.

Apply with a woolen rag or a piece of flannel, then rub with another flannel and polish well until all stickiness is removed.

For Spongy Gums.

Sometimes there is a sort of spongy softness about the gums, very unpleasant. For this rub them several times daily with a mixture of half an ounce of Peruvian bark with six grams each of powdered ratanhia and chlorate of potash. A little soft brush dipped in pure lemon juice and applied to the gums where they are soft or slightly ulcerated will sometimes effect a cure.

For Sunburn.

Mix buttermilk with enough talcum powder to make a paste and spread it on the face when retiring. Another homemade remedy is to rub the skin thoroughly with the inner side of the rind of a freshly pared cucumber, and still another is baling soda—sovereign healer of all burns—either made into a solution for washing or applied in hot compresses.

Smothered Bread.

Dip thick slices of bread in milk, just enough to moisten, then fry in a little butter and lard. While this is cooking, fry in another spider, closely covered, a lot of sliced onions. Let the onions be cooking before starting the bread. When both are done, heap the onions on the bread. See that they are well seasoned and serve piping hot.

Glycerin in Cookery.

Good cooks know the value of a few drops of glycerin added to the flour in cake making, in the proportion of a teaspoonful to every pound of flour. This makes the cake light and feathery. Three teaspoonfuls to every pound of fruit in making preserves prevents the fermentation of the sugar and obviates all danger of crystallization.

To Whiten the Hands.

A whitening paste for the hands is made by mixing fine oatmeal with honey and sweet almond oil. First cleanse the hands thoroughly, using almond meal in place of soap; rinse, dry and fill with the paste; then put on big gloves with finger tips and palms cut off and out. The astringent only helps to contract flabby skin. The flesh food should be used freely with massage for lines around the eyes.

CONDENSED STORIES.

Story of the New York Lobby and an Honest Legislator.

Gene Wood, chief of the Albany lobbyists, told the other day what he regarded as a good joke on "Honest Dan" Bradley, a former Brooklyn senator. Senator Bradley abhorred lobbyists and side-stepped every bill that had any semblance of graft connected with it; hence his sobriquet. A corporation measure was up for vote in the senate, and rumor had it that $5,000 per vote was being paid to place it on the statute books. Bradley heard of the bribery and, meeting some of the corporation lobbyists in the corridor, shook his fist in their faces and shouted:

"I might have supported this bill, but you cannot get my vote now!"

"But the corporations opposing the bill are paying $5,000 to those who vote against it," said the lobbyists. "You'll get $5,000 either way."

"Then I'll stay out of the senate chamber when the bill comes up for action," snapped the senator as he strode away.

True to his word, Senator Bradley left the senate chamber, and during his absence the bill was beaten. Bradley congratulated himself on his escape from suspicion of having accepted a bribe. He went back to his desk and there found an envelope. It contained $500.

"What's this for?" he asked of his neighboring senators.

"That's what the corporations paid for those who stayed out while the vote was being taken on that bill."—New York American.

They Walked Back.

Admiral Schley was talking about war and peace at Port Deposit, Md. "War must still go on," he said. "Mankind is not yet highly enough developed to be peaceful. Yet I am in favor of peace societies and peace congresses, for these things help the cause of peace along. They bring the day of universal peace a little nearer."

The admiral mused a little; then he resumed:

"Yes, we will have universal peace some day, for we all love it in our hearts. The bravest fighters in their hearts love peace with incredible devotion—with devotion as incredible as that which the pigeons of Newark had for their home."

"There was a Newark man who kept pigeons. One day he sold a half dozen birds to a Philadelphian. But the pigeons loved their former home, and the first time they were let out they flew straight back to it, covering the fifty miles in no time."

"The Philadelphian got them again, and this time he clipped their wings so that they could not fly, but he left their hutch open, and they disappeared. Nothing was seen of them for some days. Then, thin and dusty and footsore, they limped slowly into the old home in Newark."

"They had walked the whole way back."

Tribute to the Ad.

The late William Johnson of Brooklyn, the owner of Printers' Ink, was for many years a leading light of the advertising business. An advertisement writer said of him the other day:

"Mr. Johnson had a stock of advertising stories on the tip of his tongue. He used to tell them to young solicitors. He claimed that they were useful in getting business. 'One of his favorite stories was about two little children. They came to their mother one evening and asked if they might play store.'"

"Yes," said the mother, "but you must remember that the baby is asleep. Play store if you like, but don't make a noise. Play quietly." "All right, mother," said the older child. "We'll pretend we don't advertise."

TO MY FRIENDS.

Having been away for several months I wish to announce to my friends and patrons of the "empire" of Pitt that I am still connected with the firm of Chas. M. Stief, and if bachelors are allowed to misuse the happy term home as a synonym for a "hanging out place" I still call Greenville my home, and while I intend to be away from Greenville a great deal of my time during this fall a postal care of box 325, Greenville, will reach me within a day or two. We now have a number of slightly used upright pianos, some of which have been rented during the summer months, others which were temporarily used by artists at the exposition and for orchestra work, at bargain prices.

We also offer a special school piano for $225.00 fully measuring up in standard to any $350.00 instrument. This piano is especially built for college and school work for the special price named above and is full guaranteed by my firm for 10 years. Those interested in a school piano or in a good slightly used piano for the home should write me at once and will profit by it, and as ever I am always mindful of my patrons' protection and interest as well as my firm's interest. Grateful of past patronage. Very respt., G. G. Fineman, Box 325 Greenville, N. C.

THESE are HART SCHAFFNER & MARX Clothes; and you can put it down as a fact that better clothes, more stylish, more perfectly tailored, never came from the hand of a tailor.

THE new suits are in a number of very smart models, and the patterns are varied enough to suit every taste.

THE new Fall overcoats are certainly very snappy; you'll find your kind here. It is hardly necessary to say that Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes are always all-wool; you get no cotton mixture stuff under that name.

OTHER Departments are full also of fine seasonable goods hats on the latest blocks, shirts and neckwear like a regular flower garden of color and rich design.
