AYDEN ITEMS

News Notes From a Husky Town Briefly Told
Ayden, N. C., Nov. 22, 1907.

Wednesday afternoon we had occasion to go out to the home of our friend, the late John Pierce, on a matter of business. There were present Mrs. Pierce, her two daughters-in-law, three sons, one son-in-law, several grand-children and, last, if they were the least but most important of all, four little babies, ranging in age from three weeks to six months. It was a happy group. Every mother thought her cherub the sweetest and best, while they themselves were supremely happy and content in the possession of such precious jewels. The fathers and Uncle Johnnie just owned the whole earth. It was a pleasant occasion and one we shall not soon forget, for a visit to this hospitable home is a rare treat to those whose privilege it may be to go there.

F. G. Buhmann is at home for a few days with his family.

Cotton is coming in more rapidly than for some time past.

Mrs. Maggie Waters, of Grimesland, has been visiting Misses Bessie and Lena Harris. Standard Keeper Charlie Fleming was here Wednesday testing weights and measures.

Miss Lillie Savage came down from Greenville Wednesday evening and has accepted a position as teacher in the graded school. There are now about 300 pupils in this school.

Again we tip our derby to our friends in and around Ayden and assure them we will greatly appreciate any news item or personal they may furnish us for the Ayden department in The Reflector. Help us, please, friends!

Lewis Manning, of Winterville, spent Tuesday afternoon here.

Car load Portland Cement at J. R. Smith & Co.'s.

Mr. J. A. Whitley, of Everett's, N. C., is visiting relatives here. He is Martin county's Representative and very popular in his county.

Mr. J. B. Tripp, of Philadelphia, Mr. J. C. Tripp and daughters, Misses Nancy and Ieta, of Greenville, are visiting Mrs. Titus Jolly.

Mrs. R. M. Tuton, who has been an invalid confined to her bed for a number of years, died at her home near here Wednesday and was buried Thursday afternoon.

Mr. G. W. Prescott, our clever postmaster, has moved his family to his new home on Lee street which he purchased of Cannon & Tyson.

Glad to see our good friend, Mr. J. J. Edwards, out again. He has been confined to his room for several days.

A little more rain last night and today has increased the stickiness of Greenville's mud.

No attraction has ever been more popular, or drawn larger or better pleased crowds in Greenville, than the Electric Theatre. This popularity is merited, for the entertainment given is first class in every respect and worth several times the price of admission. If you haven't been there before be sure to go out tonight and see how good the show is. If you have already attended you will find something new on the program to amuse and entertain you.

Trade Report.

Bradstreet's, Saturday, will say for Richmond, Va., and vicinity: Little change is noted in the wholesale dry goods and notion market since last week. Ordering generally is light as is usual at this season. Manufacturers and wholesalers of shoes are receiving satisfactory orders for spring delivery. Dealers in holiday goods and toys continue active. There is less activity shown in groceries, provisions and produce and kindred lines. Retailers and general stores appear to be either curtailing or holding orders. Locally offerings of tobacco are small, but for such as has been marketed good prices have been received. The scarcity of currency continues to retard the marketing of cotton and other crops, much of which is still in the hands of the producer. This has had a deleterious effect upon retail trade and caused collections to be very slow at this time.

Something out of the ordinary is promised our theatregoers when the "Daniel Boone on the Trail" company visits our city at the Masonic Opera house next Tuesday night. Nearly every one is familiar with the history of the famous pioneer and know of his many exciting experiences, all of which are presented in a realistic manner by this company. To properly present this play, real wolves, bears and Indians are carried by the company, which will be seen on the streets the day of the show. The company numbers over twenty people of artists, and there will also be several clever specialties. One of the most exciting climaxes of the bill is when Daniel Boone has a fight with the ferocious wolves in order in order to save his daughter who is thrown into their den by the Indians. This feature, alone, is worth more than the small admission price of 25, 50 and 75c.

Doings Around G. Itton.

One of Grifton's good citizens was in The Reflector office this morning and gave us the following news items from that community:

Dr. Battle, of Kinston, preached a sermon on temperance in the Methodist church Thursday night. Much good was done and the large congregation was highly pleased with him.

John A. Oates, of Fayetteville, will speak to the Grifton people Sunday afternoon, 24th, and Governor Glenn will address them at 2.30 o'clock Monday afternoon, 25th. The subject of both addresses will be temperance, which is the main topic of interest at this time.

Grifton will hold its election next Tuesday. Much interest is manifested in the result. The leading people of the community have aligned themselves on the side of temperance and it is conceded that prohibition will carry.

Entry of Vacant Land.

Entry No. 514.—R. H. Garris, by F. C. Harding, Atty., enters and claims about 100 acres, more or less, of vacant land in Swift creek township, Pitt county, N. C. In Swift creek swamp, on both sides of said creek, adjoining the lands of M. N. Ewell and A. B. Garris on the south; M. M. Ewell and R. H. Garris on the west; by lands known as Littlejohn's, on north, and by Laura Anderson and the Littlejohn lands on the east.
This Nov. 22, 1907.

R. H. Garris, by F. C. Harding, Atty.
Any person or persons claiming title to or interest in the foregoing described land must file their protest in writing with me within the next thirty days, or they will be barred by law.
R. Williams, Entry Taker ex-officio.

MOVEMENTS OF THE PEOPLE.

Those Who Come and Go—Some You Know Some Know You

Miss Emma Lee, of Dunn, is visiting Mrs. L. H. Lee.

T. L. Bland returned to Rocky Mount this morning.

G. W. Goodson went to Norfolk this morning.

M. H. Hardee came in Thursday evening from Washington.

Mrs. J. C. West is visiting her father, W. J. Fleming, at House.

Rev. H. W. Battle, D. D., of Kinston, was here this morning.

Mrs. Garden has returned from a visit to the Jamestown exposition.

E. H. Shelburn returned from a trip to Washington Thursday evening.

J. B. Stewart went to Kinston Thursday night and returned this morning.

Mrs. Eunice Draughn, of Whitakers, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. T. King.

Prof. W. H. Ragsdale went to Quinerly this morning to attend the hippodrome at the high school tonight.

Contractor J. C. West is at Grimesland, superintending the erection of a store and several dwellings.

J. B. Tripp left this morning for his home, in Philadelphia, after spending several days with relatives here.

John M. Taft came in from Norfolk this morning to spend a few days with relatives. From here he goes to Kelford, to accept a position with the Coast Line.

A young gentleman, whose name the reporter was unable to ascertain, arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Moya, Sr., early this morning.

W. H. Renfrew and Mrs. C. E. Whichard and little daughters returned this morning from a visit to relatives at Rocky Mount.

Beginning January 1st, free passes are outlawed in Georgia. By order of the Georgia Railroad Commission every citizen must from that date pay the legal rates when he rides on a train, unless he is a railroad employee, a preacher, or an employee of an eleemosynary institution.

Dr. John B. Carr, eldest son of the late Governor Elias Carr, died Wednesday morning at his home, Bracebridge, Edgecombe county. Many Pitt county people knew and esteemed Dr. Carr and will regret to learn of his death.

Major General A. W. Greely, who will retire next March after 46 years' service in the army, says that the average army officer is compelled to spend 21 per cent. over his allowance in order to live. Not more than eight cents a day, he says, is spent by an officer in recreation for his family.

It is said in our exchanges that a 10 per cent. reduction has been made in the price of meat. This may be true, but if so the fact seems not to have become known in Greenville. At any rate housekeepers are compelled to pay the same old prices.

Today's markets are fully corrected and up-to-date. For the past few days our Norfolk service has been poor, but that is now obviated.

MR. SMALL'S GREAT WORK.

Receives Credit for the Work He Has Done Toward Securing Inland Water Route.

Philadelphia, Nov. 20.—The prominent part taken by North Carolina in the Atlantic deeper waterways conference is a matter of interest to all North Carolinians. Congressman John H. Small receives all the credit which he so richly deserves as he has worked for the project in season, and has obtained the first appropriation from Congress for the construction of any portion for water ways. The resolutions outlining the plans of conference and calling upon Congress for the necessary appropriations for the Boston-Beaufort waterway, presented for the committee by its chairman, Prof. Collier Cobb, were upon motion of Mr. George W. Morton, of Wilmington, amended to extend the project to Key West, Fla. In the permanent organization Mr. J. H. Leroy, of Elizabeth City, was made vice-president for North Carolina, and Mr. Morton delegate at large. After adjournment delegates from Virginia, North and South Carolina, met and agreed upon January 2, 1908, as the date and Charleston the place for the next meeting of the Norfolk-Beaufort Waterways Association.

Large Sales.

The tobacco warehouses had good sales this week, with much the largest sales today of any during the week. Another pleasing feature of it is the good prices that have prevailed and the generally satisfied sellers.

$5.00 Reward.

I will give the above reward for information leading to the conviction of the party or parties who secured without my knowledge or consent a quantity of envelopes bearing the address of J. M. Moore & Bro. and used the same for the purpose of circulating an anonymous pamphlet. As the father of J. M. Moore, deceased, I denounce the party who stole these envelopes, and take this method of informing the public that neither I nor any member of my family knew of the use of the envelopes for the infamous purpose of circulating an anonymous communication.
J. R. Moore.

Weather.

Rain tonight and Saturday, colder tonight.

In Russia pits for cock fighting are unknown, but "goose-pits" some sixty years ago were common throughout that mighty kingdom. The effect of this can be seen today in the geese which are indigenous to the country, the Arsmas and the Tula varieties particularly showing to a marked degree the fighting characters of their ancestors. The Arsmas gander has a bill which is entirely different in form from that of the geese known in any other part of the world. This special structure enables the bird to take a firm grip on the neck or back of its antagonist.

Thomas C. MacMillan, who was chosen moderator of the thirteenth triennial National Congregational Council, is clerk of the United States Circuit court of the Northern Illinois District. He is the first layman in nine years to serve as head of the council.

STATE NEWS.

Haynes Kinlaw, an aged man of Robeson county, was killed Tuesday by being caught in the shafting of cotton gin.

The John L. Roper Lumber Company, at New Bern, has made a cut of about 20 per cent in the wages of its employees.

Mrs. Richard Slaughter, an aged woman who lived near Hookerton, was found suffering from the effects of an overdose of laudanum. Efforts were made to revive her, but they failed and she soon died.

One Raleigh alderman could not hold up the prohibition election in that city, and the board proceeded to appoint registrars and poll holders for the election to be held Dec. 26th.

In suggesting his definition of a monopoly, Mr. Bryan did not mean to admit that he controlled less than 25 per cent. of the democracy.

A grand jury in Oklahoma indicted a man for calling another a liar. Perhaps this is the real reason why President Roosevelt does not like Oklahoma ways.

A boy in Illinois had his neck broken in a football game the other day. This should be a warning to Uncle Joe to do nothing more risky than kick-off the ball.

It is now proposed to use checks instead of greenbacks because there are no microbes on the checks, though a tainted greenback is better than a check against a balance when 'taint.

Senator Foraker is still thinking of himself as a "receptive candidate." If he remains a candidate he will certainly receive something at the hands of his party, but he may not want it when he gets it.

A North Carolina paper says the world is the most magnificent place it has ever visited. But the editor will have to tell us whether it was heaven or the other place that he contrasts the world with, before we shall know whether to feel complimented.

Since the earthquake and fire in San Francisco, eighteen months ago, the sum of $136,000,000 has been spent for rehabilitation and reconstruction.

The city of Tacoma, Washington, with a population of only 100,000, is to have the largest building in the world. It will be twenty-four stories high, 209 feet broad, 445 feet long, and will cover with its roof an area of forty-eight acres.

"Delightfully agreeable" is the way Senator Foraker describes his recent visit to President Roosevelt. Evidently Foraker escaped without being clubbed or called an infernal liar.

General Isaac R. Sherwood, who was elected to Congress from the Toledo, Ohio, district, returns to that body after thirty-four years. He was re-elected after three attempts.

Wesley Markwood, who began to serve government as a messenger boy in the War Department in 1835, is now, at the age of 81 1/2 years, serving the government as "messenger boy" in the Forest Service, Department of Agriculture. He has served the government continuously for 55 years.

Says the Philadelphia Record: "It is the usual thing for the treasury to relieve a stringent money market by distributing money in the purchase of bonds. It is an unprecedented thing for it to seek the same end by a precisely opposite process—the selling of bonds."

Estrada Palma, who was the first president of the Republic of Cuba, and perhaps the last, believes that the hope of prosperity on the island lies in its coming under American rule, either as a province or a member of the United States. Former President Palma is not the first man who has sounded the death knell of Cuba as an independent republic.

CREDIT MEN CONFIDENT.

Evidence is accumulating from all over the country that there is no real foundation for apprehension or business depression. Existing conditions are due absolutely and entirely to a lack of confidence on the part of the people.

As soon as confidence is restored and the people who have withdrawn their deposits from the banks restore it to circulation, the present stringency will be at an end, without waiting for the government or any one else to come to our rescue.

There could be no higher authority as to the condition of the country than the National Association of Credit Men, whose business is to keep their fingers on the pulse of the country, and at a recent meeting of that association, held at Indianapolis, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That from trustworthy trade and financial information received from every section of the country, the association unhesitatingly declares general business conditions to be fundamentally sound, and believes the present financial disturbance, notwithstanding the stringency of the currency, will be of short duration. Be it further

Resolved, That the association calls on all its member to support one another in an effort to restore the confidence of the people, so unnecessarily shaken at this moment, and to urge upon everyone the necessity of upholding business interests by depositing their money now, as in the past, in the banks of their respective cities and towns, to the end that it may be used for its legitimate purposes, viz, the carrying on of the vast business of the country. Be it

Resolved further, That this association pledges every member to do all in his power to restore the confidence of the public at large in the solvency and prosperity of our nation."

This is a clean cut and conclusive statement from a body of men who know what they are talking about. They are not waivering to keep their courage up, and certainly they are not attempting to deceive the people. Great weight should be attached to the cheerful and encouraging resolutions they have adopted.

Why Bryan Will Win.
 Hon. John W. Tomlins, in the Birmingham Ave-Herald gives three reasons why Bryan will win, as follows:
 "The Republican party will be held responsible for the present financial troubles. Such has been the history of political parties. The shutting down of industries, the curtailment of business, the throwing of men out of employment all over the country, when there is no reason for it, will be visited on the party which has control of all the departments of the Federal government."
 "Furthermore, they will not have the immense corruption fund which they have had in the past presidential campaigns. Officials will be afraid to appropriate for election purposes the funds of their companies since the disclosures brought out in the investigations of insurance companies in New York."
 "The Democratic party is going to make the strongest race in its history next year, and the result of it will find Bryan President of the United States."

A new sort of reciprocity proposal comes from a Japanese. Maro Takyano, a leading citizen of Tokio, who seems to be a sort of unrecognized priest of Hymen, is in Seattle, according to a dispatch from that city, with a project to induce 10,000 of the best young women on the Pacific coast to go to Japan and marry the flower of the chivalry of that country. Still further to cement the ties of friendship between the two great powers of the Pacific, he proposes that Japan shall send over an equal number of its young men to seek their affinities among the fair maidens of the Pacific States. An association of Japanese gentlemen, he claims, will pay all the expenses of the brides expectant going, and also returning, if any of them become dissatisfied with conditions there. Evidently the Japanese have been studying the foreign alliances of our blue blooded American girls. As the Japanese wife is, reports say, the submissive slave of not only her husband but her mother-in-law, it is not likely that the spirited American girl will take kindly to the proposition. Maro might as well go home. Anyhow, American girls would not marry Asiatics.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

The United States government imposes a tax of 10 per cent on the issue of the State banks. The people of the country should insist upon one of two things: Either that the government provide a banking system that will meet the needs of the South, West and East, or that it repeal the tax on State bank issues, and so give the people an opportunity to help themselves through State financial institutions. "More money" will not meet the requirement, what we want is money in circulation where and when we want it.—Columbia State.

The chairman of the Democratic party in New Jersey almost rivals James K. Jones in his refusal to give up the fight until everybody else has done so. Secretary Loeb has recently been in the hands of the dentist. We presume that he was treated for lock-jaw.

An every night all year round medicine, pleasant to take, positive results. Dr. H. H. Hester's Rocky Mountain Tea, the greatest family remedy. 35 cents. Tea tablets. Wooten's Drug Store.

elated her hand, she said to me, "I think you that your wife would be." Great weight should be attached to the cheerful and encouraging resolutions they have adopted.

 by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves". Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write to-day for sample and free Book. Next to having money, the most important thing is how to take care of it. How best to invest it.

A banking institution of this kind cannot only care for your financial interests in a conservative way—giving you abundant banking facilities in every department of finance, but can also give you valuable advice about investments and securities. Open accounts and enjoy the advantages accrued.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.
 Care of the Sewing Machine—Directions For Oiling.
 Half the secret of fine work on the sewing machine lies in the oiling. The oil holes should never be clogged. In case of this accident, however, a crochet hook will be found invaluable as a means of cleaning them. When a machine has been put away for a time it is best to clear away all stagnant oil before attempting to work or to relubricate the machine. This may be done by squirting kerosene liberally into the holes as if oiling them and then working the needle for a few minutes on a piece of calico until the bearings are quite clear. Machine oil may then be applied. Do not oil too frequently and be careful not to overlook any of the holes, as this causes an undue strain on some part of the mechanism. Before sewing carefully wipe off the machine, with a small duster kept for the purpose, the platform and the wheel and see that the shuttle is free from cotton waste or dust. Never leave the machine unprotected when not in use.

Recovering an Umbrella.
 Umbrellas can be recovered at home so that they will look as good as new if the work is done carefully and neatly. Begin by removing the old cover and the metal top which holds it at its top edge. Get a good, smooth sateen or a firm piece of taffeta or a softer silk if preferred for the new cover. Use one of the sections of the old cover for a pattern, laying it with the outer edge on the selvage. Sew the sections together, using a French seam—that is, first a small seam on the right side, then turn it in and sew it on the wrong side. Slip the cover over the rod and tack it securely at the points and at the middle of the ribs. Then tack the top and replace the cap.

To Clean Tortoise Shell.
 Tortoise shell combs that have lost their luster can be repolished with a paste made of very finely powdered pumice stone and sweet oil, rubbed on with an old suede glove. When the polishing has been effected rinse quickly in warm water to get rid of the paste. It may, however, be necessary to repeat the process, as in many cases it is not easy to obtain a very bright polish.

Soap the Boiler Well.
 One often hears complaints that the washhouse boiler rusts and iron molds the clothes. To prevent this rub the boiler directly it is emptied and while still hot with any good household soap. Give it a good coating of soap, which will not only prevent rust, but will also help to make the necessary suds when the boiler is filled with water for the next washing.

Papering a Room.
 When papering a room remember that large patterns and dark colors will make it appear smaller, while a plain or striped paper of a light hue will give an effect of increased size. White, cream, yellow and light blue increase the apparent brilliancy of the light. Red, dark green and blue and brown make the apartment seem darker than it really is.

Stretch Drying Blankets.
 To prevent your blankets from shrinking when washed stretch them firmly by two pairs of hands before hanging up to dry. When half dry take them down and give them another thorough stretching. This is important. When quite dry a little stretching and pulling, especially at the ends, will finish them like new articles.

Apples Baked With Raisins.
 Select one dozen large apples, even in size. Pare and core and place in a baking pan with two teaspoons of boiling water and two of sugar, filling the centers of the apples with part of the sugar. Place on top of each apple several seeded raisins and a small piece of butter. Bake in a moderate oven until clear.

Household Hints.
 Use hot water and no soap for all fruit stains.
 Use cold water and soap for tea, coffee and cocoa stains.
 A tablespoonful of oxalic acid dissolved in a pint of water will take grease or oil stains from the floor. After applying it wash well with soda and soap and water.

Liquid Face Powder.
 To one-half ounce of tincture of benzoin add one ounce of glycerin, one ounce of alcohol and two ounces of prepared chalk. This liquid powder is perfectly harmless.

For Biliousness.
 A good remedy for biliousness is phosphate of soda. Take one teaspoonful of the pure salt in a glassful of water, preferably hot, two or three times a day.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.
 Why the Young Girl Sat Waiting by the Broken Down Auto.
 A young girl sat wearily by a broken down automobile. It was at least twenty miles away from the nearest town. There was no one in sight. The lonely road, the huge machine, the patient figure, the setting sun, all made a wonderful picture, full of pathos and a certain tragedy. Suddenly there was the sound of a horn. Another machine came up. The driver, seeing the young girl sitting there, stopped.
 "Can I be of any help to you?"
 "No, thank you."
 "Are you alone?"
 "Just at present."
 "Is your machine broken down?"
 "Yes."
 "Um! You are a long way from town."
 "Yes."
 "Where has the gentleman with you gone?"
 "For help."
 "But he will not be able to get the machine fixed before the night sets in."
 "I know it."
 "Possibly—he is your husband."
 "No, sir."
 The stranger leaned forward anxiously.
 "Are you sure I can do nothing for you?"
 "She smiled sweetly. "Absolutely nothing," she replied. "We broke down on purpose, and the gentleman with me has gone—for a clergyman."—Tom Masson in Woman's Home Companion.

Just a Dig.
 Nell—I don't see why you call her spiteful. I thought she was paying you a compliment.
 Belle—Oh, you don't know her!
 Nell—Why, didn't she tell you you were looking quite yourself again?
 Belle—She said quite my "own self," with the accent on the adjective. —Catholic Standard and Times.

His Proposal.

 She—This proposal's so sudden!
 He—Well, to even it up you kin accept me kind of gradual if you like.—New York World.

As Impressions Change.
 "How time changes our impressions," remarked the melancholy man.
 "I have been reminded of that," answered the indolent friend, "by my alarm clock. An hour which at night I look forward to with eager interest becomes next morning merely a matter of passing curiosity."—Washington Star.

What the Doctor Said.
 "Doctor," queried the middle aged man, "what is the best remedy for baldness?"
 "Plenty of hair, sir; plenty of hair," answered the M. D. "Two dollars, please."—Chicago News.

 She gave to him a locket
 With sparkling jewels set,
 Her lovely face was in it,
 Bewitching and brunette,
 He vowed that he would never,
 No, never from it part
 And promised her to wear it,
 Forever o'er his heart.

But, lo, there came a Monday
 When he was short of cash;
 Three golden balls alluring
 He saw before him flash;
 He took the pretty trinket
 And pawned it for a ten
 And bought her flowers and candy—
 Such are the ways of men.

CONDENSED STORIES.
 Senator Tillman's Amusing Tilt With a Colored Man.
 Senator Tillman spoke of the negro problem in San Francisco not long ago. The Call of that city tells an incident of the senator's lecture. Tillman had announced his intention of proving that the negro was not the equal of the white man and asked any one in the audience

"HAVE YOU A DAUGHTER?"
 who held the colored man to be the equal of the white to stand up. In the rear of the hall a man arose.
 "I will prove to you," said Tillman, "that you yourself do not believe the negro to be the equal of the white man. First let me ask you if you are a man of family."
 "I am," answered the man from the rear of the hall.
 "Have you a daughter?" asked the senator.
 "I have," was the reply.
 "Now, let me ask you," continued Tillman, "would you allow her to marry a nigger?"
 "A negro scoundrel," was the reply.
 The senator started in amazement at the unexpected answer when suddenly some one in the audience cried out, "It's a negro you're talking to!"
 Tillman finally discovered that it was in truth a negro, and he called out to the man that if he had had his specs with him he would have known his kind.—Chicago Post.

Judge Hacked a Billboard.
 Justice John W. Linck of Tacoma, Wash., recently gave proof of his interest in civic improvement when he set an example to other advocates of the city beautiful by chopping down a high billboard planted upon his property. The story of Justice Linck's work was told by himself. Said he:
 "What do you think I did in the way of getting a bit of exercise the other day? I got a hatchet, and, going to my property, I found an excellent form of exercise in chopping down a large newly painted billboard put up without my permission.
 "My objection to the billboard, however, was not that it had been erected without permission or upon my lot. My objection was to the thing itself as a nuisance which, being upon my property, I had a right to destroy. I did it all myself. It was a stiff job, but finally it fell to the ground.
 "I have a suspicion," concluded the justice, "that the billboard agency will not erect any more signs upon my property."—Brooklyn Eagle.

His Hamlike Honesty.
 Mrs. M. G. Quackenbos, whom Attorney General Bonaparte has made one of his special assistants in the campaign against the trusts, is a New York lawyer.
 Mrs. Quackenbos has the faculty of underscoring a remark with an appropriate fable. Thus, discussing the other day the character of a certain notorious millionaire, she said:
 "I suppose there is some honesty in the man, but it is hard to find. It reminds me of the railway ham sandwich."
 "I don't see no ham yet, young woman."
 "Oh, you ain't come to it yet," said the maid, with a smile.
 "A minute or two passed. The man's jaws worked gloomily. Then they stopped again, and he said:
 "I don't see no ham yet, young woman."
 "Oh," she replied, "you've gone and bit over it now."

How Many Miles to Babylon?
 How many miles to Babylon?
 Three score miles and ten.
 Can I get there by candlelight?
 Yes, and back again.

How shall I go to Babylon?
 Who will tell me true?
 Oh, there are trains and there are boats,
 And automobiles too.

And one may ride a bicycle
 Or go in a balloon,
 Or one may travel on his feet,
 And get there 'most as soon.

For trains go off the track, you see,
 And boats go down below,
 And automobiles go to smash
 In ways that none may know.

And trees of bicycles go pop,
 Balloons will go and bust,
 So, taking all in all, I think
 If I were you I'd walk.

No Cause For Worry.
 Mrs. DeStyle—Oh, doctor, you must do something to get me on my feet. This is my "at home" day.
 Dr. Cubebs—Don't worry, madam. You'll be at home all right.—Chicago News.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.
 An Amusing Variation of the Old Bean Bag Game.
 The usual game of bean bags played with a board is too well known to need description, but there is a variation of the game which will prove a welcome diversion for a rainy day in the nursery.
 The first requirement is that of an ordinary iron hoop, which should not be less than fourteen inches across. This should be covered with two shades of ribbon in contrasting colors, there being wound round and round the hoop, finishing the latter with a bow and a loop with which to hang up the hoop. A small bell must be fastened beneath the bow, so that it will hang free in the center, while four bags made of ordinary calico, two of them four inches square and two five inches square, should be filled with beans or peas and provided with a knot of ribbon carried out in the colors of the ribbons on the hoop.
 The game consists in throwing the bags through the hoop so as to avoid hitting the bell. If a player succeeds in this with one of the smaller bags it counts five and if with one of the larger ten, while if the bell is hit at all five is taken from the score.

The Cat Tiggys.
 This is a game for out of doors. When all are ready to begin they cry out, "The last perched is cat," at which every player tries to get a perch—that is, to get his feet off the ground. They may stand on a piece of wood or a stone, sit on the fence or a gate or in fact do anything so long as their feet are off the ground. The last perched is the cat.
 The other players beckon to one another, changing places by signal or going to new perches, and the cat has to try to touch them before they have perched themselves. If the cat should succeed in touching any one while off his perch the player touched becomes cat. He cannot touch the old cat until the latter has been perched once.

A Sugar Pine Forest.
 It is said that the greatest known forest of sugar pine lies along the backbone of the Cascade mountains, in southern Oregon. The giant trees of the forest tower 200 and 300 feet in height and are excelled only by the great redwoods of California. In point of value the sugar pine is equal to any of the marketable trees of the west, except the redwood. In lightness, durability and strength it is superior to the celebrated and almost extinct white pine of the eastern states.

The Giantsess.
 The introduction of a giantess will provide an amusing incident at a young folks' party. It is very easy to do. A tall boy or girl is dressed in a long skirt. He or she holds an umbrella partially opened as high over his or her head as possible. Over this umbrella place a large shawl, as shown in the picture. At the top point of the umbrella attach a ball, on which place a bonnet and thick veil. A good effect is produced by holding the umbrella not so high when entering the room. After you have been announced to the assembled company gradually raise it until you have stretched your arms up to make the giantess overreach the highest picture in the room. When the giantess bows she looks as funny as when she stalks around at full height.

A Queer Musician.
 If any boy or girl who has a garden and is not afraid of creeping, crawling things will take a small piece of it on an ordinary pane of glass he or she will hear something amusing when the snail begins to crawl.

How Many Miles to Babylon?

TO MY FRIENDS.

Having been away for several months I wish to announce to my friends and patrons of the "empire" of Pitt that I am still connected with the firm of Chas.
M. Stieff, and if bachelors are allowed to misuse the happy term home as a synonym for a
"hanging out place" I still call Greenville my home, and while I intend to be away from Greenville a great deal of my time during this fall a postal care of box
325, Greenville, will reach me within a day or two. We now have a number of slightly used upright pianos, some of which have been rented during the summer months, others which were temporarily used by artists at the exposition and for orchestra work, at bargain prices.

We also offer a special school piano for $225.00 fully measuring up in standard to any $350.00 instrument. This piano is especially built for college and school work for the special price named above and is full guaranteed by my firm for 10 years.
Those interested in a school piano or in a good slightly used piano for the home should write me at once and will profit by it, and as ever I am always mindful of my patrons' protection and interest as well as my firm's interest. Grateful of past patronage. Very respt.

G. G. Fineman,
Box 325, Greenville, N. C.

NEW GROCERIES

We have purchased the grocery business of James Brown and will continue to carry it on at the same stand. Stock will be kept new and fresh at all times and persons wanting good family groceries are invited to call or send me their orders. Goods delivered anywhere in town.

G. A. JACKSON & CO.

MAYBE you'll realize the business value of being well dressed; everybody doesn't.
It grows out of the fact that people have to judge your ability and standing by the way you look, until you give them something else to judge
by.

That Means that we are in a position to increase the business value of every man in this town; we've got Hart Schaffner & Marx
clothes for you; and if you live up to your looks in these clothes, you'll be a sure success in
