

CHRISTMAS DANCE.

One of the Leading Social Functions of the State and the Largest Dance Ever Given in Greenville.

The Christmas dance was one of the most elaborate affairs ever held in this part of the State. The dancing hall was decorated very beautifully with the large American flags that hung from the ceiling down and in between were the large Japanese parasols with the small lanterns hanging around, the sides of the hall were papered with uncle Sam's colors, stars and stripes. The hall was lighted with electricity throughout and was shaded with the red, white and blue paperings. The stage was also a scene of beauty as the decorations were extensive, floors carpeted in white with the stars and stripes, holly and mistletoe for the side walls. The orchestra sat on the stage and the music was inspiring during the whole evening.

The chaperones sat in the rear of the hall where a very beautiful place was prepared for them, the decorations also many and pretty with the floors carpeted in white.

The German was led by Miss Muse Blount, of Washington, and Walter B. Wilson, Jr., of Greenville, the figures were very long and some of the most beautiful ever seen here, in one of which fireworks were used, the couples passing in front of the chaperones.

Mrs. J. L. Hassel and Mrs. Sam Parham passed the interior fireworks, which were given to all the couples, then forming a circle around the hall the fireworks were lighted, it was a lovely scene and one to be long remembered by the many people present. Another very pretty figure was led by the two cadets from West Point who were with us, the figure was with American flags and the couples formed arch way through the hall where the couples passed through.

The following couples were present: Miss Muse Blount, of Washington, with Walter Wilson, Jr.; Miss Eva Hassell, of Washington, with Theo Owens, of Norfolk; Miss Betty Tyson with Cadet H. E. Marshburn, of the United States Military Academy West Point; Mr. Marshburn was in his dress uniform used at the academy; Miss Irma Cobb with J. Burt James; Miss Janie Tyson with Harold Parsons, of Philadelphia; Miss Nannie Lou Waldrop, of Hendersonville, with L. E. Scoggins; Miss Kate Taylor, of Durham, with Will Lipscomb; Miss Olive Morrill, of Snow Hill, with Cadet Durwood S. Wilson, of the United States Military Academy West Point; Mr. Wilson was also in his full dress military uniform; Miss Mary James with Cary Warren; Miss Rasha Sherrad, of Hamilton, with Dr. Major Fleming, of Hamilton; Miss Della May Farmer, of Wilson, with Frank Wilson, candidate for the Naval Academy, Annapolis; Miss Mary Cobb, of Cobbdale, with Alex Blow; Miss Fannie Bagwell, with Judson Blount, candidate for the Military Academy, West Point; Miss Bertha Patrick with Harry Shelburn, of Durham, Miss Lottie White, of Winston Salem, with John Shelburn, Miss Pattie Davenport, of Pactolus, with Mr. Williams, of New Bern, Miss Jamie Bryan with Will Ellison, of Washington, Miss Mary D. Higgs with D. M. Clark, of Weldon, Miss Lottie Blow, with Andrew Moore, Miss Elizabeth Jones, of Bethel, with Bill Patrick, Miss Mary Sherrad, of Hamilton, with Robert Baker, of Hamilton, Miss Jerrie Dixon, of Rocky Mount, with Levi Ames Brown, Miss Maggie Dixon, of Rocky Mount with Thurman Moore, Miss Rosa Wells, of Wilson, with Jack White, Miss Verda Waldrop, of Hendersonville with Frank Wilson, Miss Hennie Ragsdale with Dr. R. L. Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert White, Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Dail, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hassell, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Garden Mr. and Mrs. Sam Parham, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ferrall, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. House, Mrs. A. L. Blow, Mrs. Gov. Jarvis, Mr. and Mrs. Cary Mayo.

Music was furnished by the band from Washington, D. C. Flowers for the evening were American beauty roses, carnations and white roses, together with the young ladies and chaperones in evening gowns and the gentlemen in dress suits and tuxedos made the dance one of the most beautiful sights ever seen in Greenville.

The stags were George Pennington, of Tarboro; Will Meadows, of Rocky Mount; Jim Simmons, of Tarboro; L. Laughinghouse, New Bern; John Clark, of Wilson, Dr. J. Williams, of Washington; H. Bryant, of Tarboro; Mr. Rasberry, of New Bern; Cobb Wainright, Wilson; Frank Wooten Dr. Dixon, of Rocky Mount, Tom Meadows, Rocky Mount; Lawrence Morrill, of Snow Hill; Claud Carroll, of Washington, Mr. Ramsey, of Rocky Mount; Ballard Smith, Danville; Paul Davenport, A. M. Moseley.

We regret not publishing full account of the stags that were present but we were unable to get them all as there were many of them from New Bern, Wilson, Rocky Mount, Raleigh, Washington and other places.

Souvenirs for the evening were small American flags. This dance was a success, but it took hard work to carry it through and the management is to be congratulated. Every one enjoyed it, and the hospitality shown will be a send off for our hustling town of Greenville.

For several good reasons the banquet could not be held at the Carolina club after the dances as first planned, but luncheon was served at the different homes.

The decorations for the dance and souvenirs were all ordered from New York, American beauties came from Richmond.

The following chaperones were asked: Mesdames Harry Skinner, Gov. Jarvis, R. J. Cobb, Robt. Jeffers, J. L. Hassell, J. G. Moye, W. B. Brown, J. D. Garden, Sam Parham, Haywood Dail, Roy Flanagan, Chas. Skinner, A. L. Blow, L. C. Arthur, Herbert White, E. B. Ficklen and C. S. Carr.

Mrs. Walter Wilson entertained after the dance at a late luncheon complimentary to Cadets Durwood Wilson and H. E. Marshburn of the Military Academy, West Point. The home was decorated with American beauties and carnations and the interior fireworks was used which was quite a novelty. Those present were: Cadet H. E. Marshburn of the United States Military Academy with Miss Bettie Tyson, J. Burt James with Miss Irma Cobb, Miss Rosa Wells, of Wilson, with Jack White, Durwood Wilson of the United States Military Academy, West Point, with Miss Olive Morrill, of Snow Hill, Miss Jamie Tyson with Harold Parsons, of Philadelphia, Miss Eva Hassell, of Washington, with Theo. Owens, of Norfolk, Stags, John Clark Wilson, Walter Wilson, Jr. Jim Simmons, Tarboro, George Pennington, Tarboro, Judson Blount and Frank Wilson.

Covers were laid for 18 and the luncheon was very much enjoyed.

Husband Management Secrets.

Here are some suggestions advising woman on the management of a probable husband:

When you marry him, love him.

After you marry him, study him.

If he is honest, honor him.

If he is generous, appreciate him.

When he is sad, cheer him.

When he is cross, amuse him.

When he is talkative, listen to him.

When he is quarrelsome, ignore him.

If he is slothful, spur him.

If he is noble, praise him.

If he is confidential, encourage him.

If he is secretive, trust him.

If he is jealous, cure him.

If he cares naught for pleasure, coax him.

If he favors society, accompany him.

If he does you a favor, thank him.

When he deserves it, kiss him.

Let him think how well you understand him; but never let him know that you "manage" him.

Weather.

Fair and colder tonight. Tuesday fair, colder.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town Briefly Told

Ayden, N. C., Dec. 28, 1907

W. J. Boyd, who has for several days been confined to his home with rheumatism, we are pleased to see on the streets again.

John Hooks, of Fremont, is here on a visit to his brother, W. E. Hooks.

Bob Greene, of Greenville, was here Tuesday.

Mrs. B. H. Garris, from the country, is visiting relatives in town.

Christmas passed off pleasantly and quietly in Ayden. There was not a single disturbance, and less drunkenness than we ever saw on a similar occasion.

Sunday evening Mrs. Zeno Lyon, of Greene county, died at the home of her husband near Ormondsville. Mrs. Lyon was formerly a Miss Wingate and was a lady of many lovable traits of character. She was a consistent member of the Christian church in this town. Her funeral was preached by the Rev. Dennis Davis and her body was interred in the Ayden cemetery Monday afternoon. She leaves a husband and five children beside a large circle of relatives and friends, to all of whom we extend our sincerest sympathy.

To Delinquent Subscribers.

Under the ruling of the post-office department of the government, newspapers cannot carry on their mail lists persons who are long in arrears on subscription. Newspapers are given second class rates of postage to legitimate subscribers, and as the postoffice department does not want to handle any more papers than necessary at this rate, the ruling is to prevent newspapers from carrying dead heads or padding their subscription lists. The postoffice department construes that a man who will not pay for his newspaper in a reasonable time is not a legitimate subscriber of the paper and his name must be dropped or a higher rate of postage charged for mailing the paper to him.

Under this ruling newspapers will be compelled to drop the names of delinquent subscribers, as they cannot afford to pay the additional postage to send papers to them. It is not a matter of choice with the newspapers, but they must act in accordance with the ruling.

In order to comply with this rule The Reflector will begin early revising its subscription lists and cutting off the names of those far enough in arrears to come under the ruling. Before dropping such names notice will be given by placing a blue cross mark on the paper. Those who see the blue mark should pay promptly in order to keep their names on the list.

We shall print this article a few times so as to be sure that none fail to see it. In the meantime if you see the blue cross mark on your paper do not delay to act on it. If it is not convenient for you to call at the office, send a remittance by mail and receipt will be promptly returned.

Patriarchs Notice.

Greenville Encampment No 45 I. O. O. F. will have a special meeting tonight for degree work. All members please be present.

Time to prepare new year resolutions.

Help Your Town Grow.

No town will become a good business center so long as its business men rely on a few merchants to make the effort to bring trade to town. Too often the men in a few lines of trade are about the only ones that reach out after custom. Other merchants was it until these men induce the people to come to town and content themselves with trade that naturally drift to their place. A public spirited man should ask himself if he is doing his part to attract people to come to town to trade in helping the entire business community, and no town is a success unless all lines working to extend the trade as far as possible and trying to bring a larger territory in the circles in which the town is the business center.—Wilmington Enterprise.

Carriers Get Holiday New Year.

Rural mail carriers had to cover their routes on Christmas day; but they will have a well deserved holiday on new year's day and will not have to go that day. The department does not give them a holiday Christmas because so many people get packages that day and would be deprived of much pleasure not to receive them. The rural mail carrier is a great institution and the people should appreciate him.

Red Tape In France.

For thirty-four years past the accounts of the naval port of Toulon refused to balance. There was 1s. 2½d. too much in the cash books, and ever since 1873 this 1s. 2½d. has puzzled the official accountants. Some time ago orders were sent from Paris that this state of affairs must cease. Seven special accountants were set to work, the Express says, and after seven months' hard labor the Gordian knot has been untied. Admiral Gallibet, a former minister of marine, who was thirty-four years ago one of the officers of Toulon arsenal, but who for many years has been living in Paris on his pension, has just received official notice asking him to call at the ministry of finance and draw the sum of 1s. 2½d. He was underpaid by this amount when he left Toulon in 1873.—St. James' Gazette.

Changing a Boat's Name.

After twenty years the name of a vessel registered in this country cannot be changed unless it be rebuilt at a cost of at least one-half the original cost. A navigation company on the great lakes is in an unusual predicament. It recently put on a new steamer named City of Cleveland. The company has an old steamer of the same name, which it changed to City of St. Ignace, only to find, to its surprise, that it had collided with a government regulation which forbids the name of a vessel to be changed after being carried longer than twenty years, and the older boat was named in 1886.—Popular Mechanics.

How to Pick a Bank Clerk.

Commenting to a friend the other day on the number of embezzlements that have been perpetrated by bank employees the last year, Richard Delafield, president of the New York National Park bank, remarked, with a wearied look:

"In hiring a bank clerk these days it is a vital mistake to judge a man by his appearance. He may look as innocent as a babe in a cradle, have hang up references and may not drink, smoke or swear, but all these count for naught. The only way you can tell his true character to a dead certainty is when he appropriates a big wad of the bank's money and disappears."

Telephone and Telegraph Poles.

Recent estimates give 800,000 miles of telephone and telegraph pole line in the United States. At an average of forty poles to the mile there are 32,000,000 in use and, assuming that the life of a pole is twelve years, there are needed each year more than 2,650,000 poles.—Woodcraft.

Tobacco Seed Free.

The Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade has ordered a quantity of the best varieties of bright Tobacco Seed. White Stem, Orinoco and other sorts, which they will put in the hands of the Greenville Warehousemen and drug stores to be given to all farmers who may ask for them who have been raising what is known as the Cobb Tobacco as well as other kinds. None of the buyers like to buy Cobb Tobacco and the Tobacco Board of Trade has ordered seed to give away to farmers in order to induce them not to raise any more Cobb Tobacco. So when you get ready to sow your plant bed, do not use the Cobb seed, but come to Greenville and get free of cost a better kind.

The Raleigh dispensary has quiet dispensing.

Wilmington is yet squabbling over the water question.

When you turn over a new leaf let it stay turned, and try to keep it clean.

Tomorrow is the day to prepare your resolutions to be broken the next day.

Try a few shares of building and loan stock for a new year resolution.

Mr. Bryan is something of a duck hunter. too. He bagged twenty five in one day.

The result in Raleigh shakes the nerves of Wilmington, Winston and Salisbury.

The coming year is leap year, and we will see if it brings a bigger crop of marriages.

Let your foremost new year resolution be to get on the subscription list of your home paper, with the cash.

If everybody pays the first of the year, who says they are going to, there will be money passing around that day.

Never did Greenville have a greater demand for houses that cannot be supplied than at this time. Almost daily we hear people inquiring for houses, and there are none to rent. The town would grow much faster if people desiring to move here could get houses in which to live. More houses should be built with as little delay as possible.

This is the time of year when everybody who travels through the country complains of the bad roads. Complaining of them, and yet doing nothing to make them better, does no good. There will be better roads when the people make up their minds to have them, but until then they will go on traveling over bad roads, breaking down their teams, wearing out their vehicles, and cursing because they get stuck in the mud.

RANDOM REFLECTIONS.

By a Contributor

A high school debating society in Atlanta has decided in favor of a third term for Mr. Roosevelt. We suppose that thing is getting to be more or less a habit in this country.

"Listen to your wife," says the governor of North Carolina. Evidently this is intended for the men who coolly turn over and goes to sleep before the lecture is half over.

"How a snow storm does obliterate the local color of city life," exclaims the Chicago Post. And the "local color" in Chicago is principally smoke and mud.

Several members of the president's cabinet have been kept from the meetings by attacks of grip, because they know that cabinet meetings are not to be sneezed at.

John Sharp Williams apparently objects to being pushed into the Ananias club by any but the recognized and authorized recruiting agent.

Thousands of men and women in all walks of life are suffering from kidney and bladder troubles. Don't neglect your kidneys. Delays are dangerous. DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills afford quick relief for all forms of kidney and bladder trouble. A week's treatment 25c. Sold by J. L. Wooten's drug store.

Five eclipses are scheduled for 1908.

Jack and Jill were both quite ill. Now each is well and wiser. For blues and headaches have to go. When they take an Early Riser, DeWitt's Little Early Riser Pills are sold by J. L. Wooten's drug store.

The almanac is the advance agent of the new year.

Whenever you feel that your stomach has gone a little wrong, or when you feel that it is not in good order as is evidenced by mean headaches, nervousness, bad breath, and belching, take something at times, and especially after your meals until relief is afforded. There is nothing better offered the public today for stomach troubles, dyspepsia, indigestion, etc than Kodol. This is a scientific preparation of natural digestions, combined with vegetable acids and it contains the same juices found in every healthy stomach. Kodol is guaranteed to give relief. It is pleasant to take; it will make you feel fine by digesting what you eat. Sold by John L. Wooten, druggist.

It is an interesting question: When is a prize fight not a prize fight?

DeWitt's Carbolyzed Witch Hazel Salve—don't forget the name, and accept no substitute. Get DeWitt's. It's good for piles. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

Bob Evans will probably be able to do enough swearing for the entire fleet.

Are you having trouble with your kidneys? There are lots of people today who wonder why they have pains across the back, why they are tired and lacking in energy and ambition. Your kidneys are wrong. They need relief without delay. Take DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills; they are for weak back, inflammation of the bladder, backache and weak kidneys. Sold by J. L. Wooten's drug Store.

Boys should not skate on thin ice. Financial adventurers will do as they please about it.

Trial Catarrh treatments are being mailed out free, on request, by Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. These tests are proving to the people—without a penny's cost—the great value of this scientific prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy. Sold by Bryan's Drug Store

What stage thrillers some of the breach of promise cases would make if they could only be dramatized.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation, even to very young babes. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lunghealing mountain shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's cough cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb". Always demand Dr. Shoop's cough cure. Bryan's Drug Store.

BADLY MIXED UP.

Abram Brown, of Winterton, N. Y., has a very remarkable experience; he says: "Doctors got badly mixed up over me; one said heart disease; two called it kidney trouble; the fourth, blood poison, and the fifth stomach and liver trouble; but none of them helped me; so my wife advised trying Electric Bitters, which are restoring me to perfect health. One bottle did me more good than all the five doctors prescribed." Guaranteed for blood poison, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, by Jno. L. Wooten, druggist, 50c.

ROYALTY COULD MOVE ON.

It Was When Buffalo Bill's Show Reached the Eternal City.

Buffalo Bill's Wild West arrived under the walls of the Eternal City, and toward the great scout's whooping arena we bent our steps, writing Booth Tarkington in Everybody's. The dance was on when we arrived, but we found an usher who was shoving and haranguing a confused, seat seeking crowd of Italians, exhorting them in homelike Nebraskan words.

"Everything's gone all to thunder today," he remarked to us crossly. "That there king and queen's here." (His manner of alluding to the royal personages suggested that he thought of them as cards in a deck.) "We never got a word they were comin' till half an hour before we opened. The boxes were all took, and we've had one blank of a time fixin' things up and gittin' that king and queen settled right. These coupons call for the next box beyond 'em, and the dago ushers have gone and stuck some people in there, somebody that belongs to the king and queen, I reckon, and"

"Then we'll have to give up our box?" some one asked nervously. "Naw! You got the tickets, ain't you? You git it! Come on!"

A lady and three gentlemen were seated in the box numbered upon our coupons. "You git out o' there," said our guide informally. "That ain't your box."

There was an exclamation of horror from an upper tier, and one of the English speaking Italian ushers came rushing down an aisle with a blanched face. He bent himself double before the occupants of the box, uttering stricken apologies in Italian, which were abruptly checked by our guide.

"Here! I ain't got no more time to waste. These folks got coupons fer the whole box. Tell them people to git out o' there, and tell 'em to hurry."

"Get them out?" repeated the Italian, immeasurably shocked. "Impos-sible! You do not understand! It is the Prince and Princess di—"

Our guide bent upon him a look of withering pity. "That cuts all the ice in Hudson's bay, don't it?" he replied, with venomous distinctiveness, and then, exasperated to the extent of his self control, "You git 'em out o' there!"

We interferred at this point and effected a compromise by squeezing more chairs into the box, to the pained surprise of our usher, who as he slouched away manifested his opinion of us as "easy."

Our Honeybees.

All the honeybees in this country having originally been imported from Europe or Asia, there is no racial difference between the wild ones and the domesticated. Those that live in trees are simply the descendants of those that from time to time have taken "French leave" from their owners' hives and reverted to a state of nature. The vast bulk of the wild bees are of the German or black race, while the standard domesticated bee is the Italian. But that, however, is only because the Germans were the first to be introduced here. Just when the Germans came is in doubt, but it was some time in the seventeenth century. Certainly it was not until near the close of the eighteenth century that any bees were found west of the Mississippi. The Indians used to say they could mark the advance of the white man by the appearance of bees in the woods. —David Almon in Outing.

Helping the Witness.

For more than an hour a witness for the defense had dodged questions. His faulty memory was particularly exasperating to the counsel for the plaintiff, who was seeking to recall to the witness' recollection an event of four or five years previous. Eventually the man remembered "something about it."

"Ah," continued the lawyer for the plaintiff, "what did you think of it at the time?"

"Really," said the witness, speaking before the lawyer for the defense had time to interpose objection, "it was so long ago I can't recall exactly what I thought of it."

"Well," shouted the cross examiner excitedly, "if you can't recall exactly tell us what you think now you thought then." — New York Times.

Not to Be Wasted.

Ben Cary had near his house a swamp, which was a breeding place for herds of man eating mosquitoes. Some enterprising neighbors, who learned of the crude oil treatment, went to Ben and tried to persuade him to exterminate the pests.

"Exterminate 'em!" said Ben. "Not much, not much. Why, Mis' Cary an' I just paid $32 for screening the side piazzer that she's been pestering me about for years. How we goin' to get any good of it if we kill off the skeeters?" — Youth's Companion.

MENTAL PHOTOGRAPHS.

How Do You Remember People With Whom You Are Acquainted?

"How do you remember people?" asked the professor. "It is always safe to answer the professor guardedly. 'Remember people?' his vis-a-vis replied. 'Why, I don't know that I can say exactly. I suppose I remember them for what they've been to me—friends or foes. Sometimes,' he added, 'I remember them for what I've been to them.'"

"So do I," rejoined the professor; "so do I. But that isn't just what I mean. I'm referring to the way in which you remember them, the characteristics that come to mind when you think of a person you haven't seen for—well, we'll say a year."

"Characteristics? I don't believe I think of any characteristics, at least not till later. I picture the person as a whole, of course, to begin with."

The professor's smile showed that he really was about to begin to talk. "That is precisely what you do not do," he said. "It's just the other way around. You think of the characteristics, or rather of one dominant characteristic first, then of another which doesn't appeal to you quite so much, and you end up by getting what you speak of loosely as the 'whole.' Take me, for example. Close your eyes and tell me what, if you were trying to recall me to your thoughts, would come before your mental vision first."

"I think," the answer came slowly, "it would be the way that you sit in your chair when you are talking to me, with your legs crossed and your hands folded and the twinkle in your eye as you show me where I'm wrong in an opinion."

"Exactly," returned the professor in high good humor. "That proves what I've been saying. You piece me out, as it were. And that's the way you'd do with anybody. It's the little things about a man or woman that stick in the memory. When you put enough of the little things together you get your general notion. It's because personality, individuality—call it what you want—expresses itself, as a rule, through the little things. It is with no disrespect to my father—peace be to him—that I say my thoughts concerning his appearance center about his beaver hat. I see that beaver hat the first thing when I remember him, and, as you might say, he groups himself under it. In thinking of you, if you will pardon my making the remark, you arrange yourself around your omnipresent pipe." — New York Press.

Speaking Proposals.

They were a crowd of married men, reminiscent of the days of their courtship.

"Jim, I don't see how you ever plucked up courage enough to ask your wife to marry you. You were always such a bashful sort."

"Well," replied Jim, "she made it pretty easy for me. You know I shined up to her a long time, and of course she must have known I meant business. But the only time we ever made reference to it was one night we were sitting on the porch. I said to her rather casually, so she wouldn't think I meant anything definite:

"Do you think you'll ever marry?"

"She said she thought she might, so I said, 'When?'"

"Whenever you do," was her quick return, and I said, 'All right.' So we fixed it up." — Youngstown Telegram.

Posters In France.

French law gives the authorities of every village and commune complete control over posters. No one is permitted in France to deface streets and public places with crude, ostentatious announcements of his business or other subject. Billboards are infrequent in Paris and are generally built permanently into a wall, where they are taxed according to their superficial area. When a building is in construction and board screens are erected to shield the public from dust and other annoyance such temporary screens will soon be covered with posters, but each poster so displayed has been previously submitted to the authorities, a license obtained, and each sheet bears the canceled revenue stamp, according to its size.

Unconvinced.

In a certain school of Washington there was one lad who would persist in saying "have went."

One day the teacher "kept him in," saying:

"While I am out of the room you may write 'have gone' fifty times."

When the pedagogue returned he found that the boy had dutifully performed the task, having written "have gone" fifty times. On the other side of the paper, however, was this message from the absent one:

I have went. JOHN WHITE. — Argonaut.

CONDENSED STORIES.

A Little Boy's Method of Capturing a Refractory Mule.

F. Augustus Heinze in the course of a dinner on board his yacht Revolution said of a certain mooted mining reform:

"Oh, yes, it would be a good thing if it could be done, but there is no possible way to do it. Ask these reformers how they are going to put their ideas in operation and they give you answers that are about as practical as the little boy's method of catching the mule.

"There was once, you know, a mule in a large field that refused to be caught by its owner. Round and round the field the mule galloped. The owner tore along behind, red and angry, swinging a halter in his hand and swearing passionately.

"The mule would let him draw near, almost near enough to throw the halter over its head; then it would kick up its legs merrily and run away like the wind.

"A boy, his face wreathed in smiles, watched the unequal chase for an hour or so; then he entered the field and said:

"I'll tell you how to catch that mule, mister, if you'll give me a nickel."

"All right," panted the man. "Here's your nickel. Now tell me."

"Get behind that thick hedge over there," said the boy, "and make a noise like a carrot."

A Technical One.

"The late Angelo Heilprin," said a Philadelphia scientist, "had a most learned and a most lucid mind. He could not merely master a question; he could lay it so clearly before you that you in a short while became master of it too.

"Professor Heilprin claimed that they who could not explain a subject perfectly did not know that subject perfectly, and he used to tell a story on this head.

"He said two commercial travelers on the way from Reading to Philadelphia once got into an argument over the action of the vacuum brake.

"It's the inflation of the tube that stops the train," said the first commercial traveler.

"Wrong, wrong!" shouted the second. "It's the output of the exhaustion."

"So they wrangled for an hour, and then, on the train's arrival in Philadelphia, they agreed to submit the matter for settlement to the engineer.

"The engineer, leaning condescendingly from the window of his cab, listened with an attentive frown to the two travelers' statement of their argument. Then he smiled, shook his head and said:

"Well, gents, you're both wrong about the workin' of the vacuum brake. Yet it's very simple and easy to understand. It works like this: When we want to stop the train we just turn this here tap, and then we fill the pipe with vacuum."

The Prize Fly.

Poultney Bigelow, the brilliant author and journalist, said the other day of the chicken farm that he is about to set up at Malden:

"I hope we succeed with this farm. I hope our experience won't too closely resemble that of my old friend Horatio Rogers.

"Rash Rogers lived in the suburbs. On the suburban train one morning he said to me, with a sour laugh:

"I've got something nobody else has got, Mr. Bigelow."

"Have you, Rash?" said I. "What is it?"

"Well," said Rogers, "I bought a fifty dollar incubator last month, put $15 worth of eggs in it and hatched out a blue bottle fly."

"He frowned, then sighed. "Yes," he said, "I've got the only sixty-five dollar blue bottle fly in the world." — Boston Herald.

TO MY FRIENDS.

Having been away for several months I wish to announce to my friends and patrons of the "empire" of Pitt that I am still connected with the firm of Chas. M. Stieff, and if bachelors are allowed to misuse the happy term home as a synonym for a "hanging out place" I still call Greenville my home, and while I intend to be away from Greenville a great deal of my time during this fall a postal care of box 325, Greenville, will reach me within a day or two. We now have a number of slightly used upright pianos, some of which have been rented during the summer months, others which were temporarily used by artists at the exposition and for orchestra work, at bargain prices.

We also offer a special school piano for $225 00 fully measuring up in standard to any $350 00 instrument. This piano is especially built for college and school work for the special price named above and is full guaranteed by my firm for 10 years. Those interested in a school piano, or in a good slightly used piano for the home should write me at once and will profit by it, and as ever I am always mindful of my patrons' protection and interest as well as my firm's interest. Grateful of past patronage. Very respt., G. G. Fineman, Box 325 Greenville, N. C.

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the sneeze stage—they break, or head off these early colds. That's surely better. That's why they are called Preventics. Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Nice for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you ache all over, think of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child, if there is feverishness, night or day. Herein probably lies Preventics' greatest efficiency. Sold in 5c boxes for the pocket, also in 25c boxes of 48 Preventics. Insist on your druggists giving you

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. What About Christmas?

With the compliments of the season to all our readers we ask you the question of the hour

WHAT ABOUT CHRISTMAS

The children are asking it with wondering and hopeful expectations of what Santa Claus is likely to bring them.

The older people are asking it, not so much in speculation regarding the rememces that Christmas will bring to them, but rather as an inquiry as to how they are to provide suitable and satisfactory presents for relatives and friends without too heavy a drain upon their time and purse.

May we help you to solve the problem and put you in the way of doing your Christmas shopping with pleasure satisfaction and economy?

We offer the advantage of selection that can only be found in a very extensive showing of first class goods. We take pleasure in pleasing customers and will do all in our power to help you to just the right article at the right price, so that you may leave our store glad that you came, and perfectly satisfied with your purchases in every respect.

THE UNTAMED NEW YORKER.

A German newspaper with a large circulation publishes at regular intervals little articles "from America" which are probably read with much interest abroad, where it is not generally known that they are misleading. One of them, published a few weeks ago, tells about safe deposit vaults. "It should be understood," the correspondent says, "that despite the high civilization as seen here in science, art, commerce and philanthropy there is still a certain wildness about the people which makes the rich man fear the plunderer. It is on that account that one can find these safe deposit vaults in all parts of New York city, and there people take their valuables when they do not require them for public show. In the opera season one may see long lines of carriages and automobiles in front of the strong box places early in the evening, when the women call for their jewels, and again after the opera, the theaters and the balls are over, when they return them to the burglar proof boxes. Diamonds, amethysts and sapphires made of glass are also deposited in these places and taken out when others can see the operation by women who court recognition in the circles where jewelry is a badge of superiority."

Washing Woolen Stockings.

Wash woolen stockings quickly in a lukewarm lather and do not let them lie in the water to soak. If they seem very much soiled, a little borax in the water will quickly cut the dirt. Rinse in the same temperature of water.

Marking Linen.

Write your initials or name in pencil; then carefully stitch over these lines on your sewing machine. Either red or white marking cotton can be used as a close stitch, and coarse threads give best results.

A Kitchen Hint.

If a glass tumbler into which very hot water must be poured is set on a tray or table during the process instead of being held in the hand it is much less apt to break.
