

LET US HAVE PROHIBITION.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

A few days ago, to my surprise, I was asked to sign a petition to be presented to the board of aldermen of the town of Greenville, asking them to call an election to decide whether we should continue to have a dispensary, or whether we should have prohibition. I very readily signed that petition, thinking at the time that it was what all the people of the town wanted. Since that time I have heard there are many objections to it for different reasons, some of which I will mention later.

I am aware that the people of the town know that I did not vote for the dispensary when that election was held. When the petition was presented to me by Rev. A. T. King asking for an election to be called to vote for a dispensary I refused to sign it, telling him at the time that I would sign it for prohibition. His reply was that it was a stepping stone to prohibition, which was agreed to all by the advocates of the dispensary.

Now we are asking the people of the town to help us to call an election and carry it for prohibition, or take the next step. I have no doubt but the dispensary has done much good, and am sure that prohibition will do more good. Some say prohibition will not prohibit, but I say it will if the officers do their duty. They very readily say they could locate and stop whiskey selling in town better if the dispensary was out of the way.

I heard a man say a few days ago "If that whiskey shop was out of the way I could stay sober." That man was a drunkard. I know myself how hard it is to resist the temptation when it is put before you. I have been a slave to whiskey myself in my life, but thank God it does not trouble me now.

Now for some of the excuses for not signing the petition to call an election:

First, "Let's wait for the next legislature." I say let's do it now, we have no idea what the next legislature will do.

Second, "It will make taxes higher." I say let's have it regardless of taxes.

Third, "We will not have any paved streets in town." I say let's pass it whether we ever pave a street or not. I had rather see sober men walk in the mud than drunken men walk on paved streets.

Fourth, "We could not sell the school bonds." I say if that will stop the sale of the bonds, let them go unsold. I had rather see children grow up in ignorance sober, than to see them educated and drunkards.

Fifth, "The petition was first gotten up by an ex-barkeeper and signed by a lot of drunkards." I say let's carry it. It matters not who got it up or signed it, it's a good thing, and let's carry it, for God's sake.

Meeting of F. M. F. I. A.

On next Monday, 13th, the Pitt county branch of the Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Association will hold its annual meeting in the court house. As this meeting is the time for election of officers, it is urged that all policy holders of the association be present. Do not fail to come. G. T. Tyson, President.

Meet Early.

The chamber of commerce will meet at 7 o'clock tonight in the mayor's office. The early hour is selected so the chamber may get through its work in time for the board of aldermen to meet. Every member is urged to be on hand at 7 o'clock. C. E. Bradley, Sec.,

Sunday School Officers.

The Memorial Baptist Sunday school has elected the following officers for this year:

C. D. Rountree, supervisor.

W. T. Lipscomb, Jr. assistant secretary.

J. J. Cherry, treasurer.

Miss Margurite Higgs, pianist.

Miss Lillian Burch, assistant pianist.

Miss Mattie Lawrence, librarian.

The school began the new year with an attendance 35 larger than on the first Sunday of last year.

Weather.

Rain in east, rain or snow in west portion tonight and Tuesday.

The Aeolian Band.

Ask the encouragement of everybody. The band is getting on nicely. We already play two pieces of music and will soon be in position to give the people some good music. We wish to thank the members of the old band for turning over their instruments to the new band, which all did except one. The band has lots of talented musicians and will soon be in shape to furnish music for all occasions. Every member is requested to be present at 7 o'clock tonight as matters of much importance will be taken up. The meeting is to be one of a private nature.—The Members

Under the Laurels.

Rehearsals will be begun again tonight in the opera house on that splendid play, "Under the Laurels," to be given by home talent. The services of Mr. Boyd and his brother, two gentlemen widely known as specialists in the work of presenting plays, and giving themselves entertainments of a very high order have been secured. They will assist in the preparation of the play and will give specialties between the acts. The play will be had either Friday or Monday night. The announcement of the time will be given in tomorrow's paper. The town has, in the presenting of this play, the promise of a "feast of reason and a flow of Soul" and we all ought to be getting ready to be there.

THE SAILOR OBEYED.

Four sailors, one of whom was exceedingly intoxicated, boarded a Brighton Beach train at the Park Row terminal last week and took seats in the forward part of the first car. They were on their way to the Brooklyn navy yard and wanted to get off at the Brooklyn terminal. When the train stopped three of the sailors roared their drunken companion from a stupor and told him it was time to get out. They literally dragged him to his feet, and, tottering before the front door of the first car, the helpless one tried to get out. The guard and a number of passengers shouted to him that he could not get out through that door and would have to go to the rear end of the car. The sailor fumbled at the front door for fully a minute. The car was already four minutes late, and the guards and passengers became uneasy. Suddenly a man who had been absorbed in a newspaper looked up disgustedly and shouted "Lay aft!" The command worked like a charm. Instantly the drunken sailor turned, staggered to the rear end of the train and went out on the platform.—New York Tribune.

Enriching the Soil.

Two tiny heaps of a white chemical substance and a piece of cotton wool with some specks upon it constituted one of the scientific marvels exhibited at the Royal Chemical society's conversation in London recently. The three things weighed an ounce and a half, yet were capable of increasing by a third the produce of two acres of land. Professor W. B. Bottomley explained the properties of this wonderful ounce and a half of matter. "It is an inoculating material," he said, "beneficial only for pod bearing plants. The two little heaps of white stuff are food material, while the cotton wool contains bacilli, the bacillus radicicola. It is the latter which, operating at the roots of the crop, takes the free nitrogen from the air."

Making the Refuse Pay.

The system of refuse destruction in some of the English cities is beyond criticism. The money derived from the material in many instances more than covers the cost of collection and reduction, and, in addition to this, heat, light and power are supplied for municipal purposes. A notable instance is at Nottingham, England, where a third incinerator is about to be erected which will be much larger than the two existing plants. In that city one of the by-products of the plants is bricks for paving or building. The clinkers from the furnace are mixed with cement and under hydraulic pressure formed into blocks which are said to be harder and more enduring than rock itself.

Remedy For Hives.

A simple remedy for hives and one which is usually very successful is this: Every morning for three mornings and immediately upon rising take a cup of milk in which have been stirred one tablespoonful of bicarbonate of soda and a teaspoonful of sulphur. For a child a teaspoonful of the soda is sufficient, and in either case the sulphur may be dispensed with, as the main thing is the alkali to neutralize the acid stomach.

NONE SUCH NOW.

"Pierpont Morgan's superb collections in his London town house," said a New York decorator, "were opened to a few of us during our summer convention at the South Kensington museum.

"Among Mr. Morgan's treasures there was an old book that I liked for its quaintness. This book, which was splendidly bound, was Hopbun's 'Concordance of Years.' It was a chronology of remarkable events, and I copied a few of these events down. We have none such now. Listen."

The decorator then read:

"1116—The moon seemed turned into blood.

"1128—Men wore hair like women.

"1233—Four suns appeared, beside a true sunne, of a red colour.

"1361—Fiends were scene speake unto men as they travelled.

"1401—A red birde with a girl's head seen thrice in London.

"1477—A blazing star on Palm Sunday, nere the sun."

He Was Behind Him.

Admiral Dewey at a recent dinner praised the bravery of the American troops during the civil war.

"Both sides alike were brave," he said, "north and south, soldiers and sailors. And the bravery of the recruits was a thing to be seen to be believed.

"There used to be circulated, though, a good story about a Connecticut recruit. This young man after he had got initiated fought heroically, but in his first engagement he was very nervous.

"A chum of his was in the line ahead of him, and when the bullets began to fly the chum began to dodge.

"Thereupon the recruit shouted excitedly:

"Hey, Jim, don't duck! I'm behind ye!"

Almost a Second Niagara.

The Whitney Reduction company announces the completion of the great cofferdam, undoubtedly the largest in the southern states. More than $1,500,000 has been spent in spanning the Yadkin river thirty-one miles from Salisbury. The dam is forty-six feet high and 917 feet long. The minimum flow of water gives 46,000 horsepower, second only to Niagara. On Jan. 1 next year the water will be turned on the turbines, and all the industries within forty or fifty miles will be supplied with electrical power. The Whitneys have contracted for 20,000 horsepower. The plant will cost $7,500,000 complete.—Salisbury (N. C.) Dispatch to Baltimore Sun.

A Famous Pianist's Work.

Paderewski frequently sits at his instrument until well into the small hours of the morning, says Tit-Bits; hence he seldom rises until 9 or 10 a. m., and immediately he is dressed he gets to work, generally practicing on the piano, but often composing. He keeps to his task until 1 o'clock, and not a minute earlier does he break his fast. By that time, however, his appetite is keen, and the feeling that he has already earned his breakfast helps to make the hour of his first meal by far the most enjoyable of the day. The meal itself never occupies long. He follows it with a quiet game of billiards played against himself. He is an enthusiastic devotee of the game.

Frozen by Heat, Melted by Cold.

In Germany, the land of scientific curiosities, a substance has been produced by chemical experiment which seems to contradict the law that heat melts and cold solidifies. The substance is called "cryostaz" and is formed by combining equal quantities of phenol, camphor and saponine with a little turpentine. When its temperature is lowered below the point at which water freezes it becomes liquid, but when it is heated it turns to the solid state.

Growth of City Population.

In 1790 the population of the country was 3,929,214, with 131,000 living in cities. In 1900 the country's total population was 75,477,467, with a city population of 24,992,199. In other words, the percentage of city population in 1790 was 3.1-3 per cent, while in 1900 it was, over 33 per cent. The next census will probably show an urban population of at least 40 per cent.—New York American.

Funeral of Mr. J. E. Langley.

The remains of Mr. J. E. Langley, whose death occurred in Richmond, Friday night, arrived in Greenville Sunday evening and were taken to the home of his aunt, Miss Mellie Harris, on Dickinson avenue.

The remains were accompanied by Mrs. Langley, widow of the deceased, Miss Maggie Langley, sister, Miss Bertha Langley, niece, and Col. R. N. Northern, of Richmond, Messrs J. L. Shaw and H. J. Boney, of Littleton.

Willis Langley, an old and faithful servant on the Langley farm, and now a respectable colored citizen of Bethel township, also came with the remains.

Mr. Langley was a Mason, and the burial this afternoon was with Masonic honors by Greenville lodge, Rev. J. E. Ayscue being the officiating minister. The pall bearers were Dr. Zeno Brown, Dr. Charles Laughinghouse, Messrs McG. Ernul, W. B. Wilson, D. J. Whichard, J. R. Moye, W. B. Brown, R. A. Tyson, D. C. Moore, R. J. Cobb, J. L. Starkey and J. B. Little.

The interment was in Cherry Hill cemetery. There were many beautiful floral tributes both from Richmond and from friends in Greenville.

MONDAY JAN. 5th 1908

Night riders are again making terror in Kentucky.

Don't talk panic and hard times, but get to hustling to do something.

There is lots of misplaced energy in the world. Some people exert themselves more in the effort to swindle somebody else out of a dollar than would be required to earn a dollar.

Charlotte is moving to establish a bank with a million dollars capital. The Queen City usually lands what it starts after, and the big bank will be a certainty.

Governor Glenn refused to pardon T. W. Dewey, the defaulting bank cashier of New Bern, who is serving a term in the penitentiary. Again the governor is right.

During the past year the managers of the penitentiary paid into the State treasury $175,000 and then had on hand assets amounting to $104,000. That shows excellent management, and the result stands in marked contrast to what some former administrations did, notably in the days of fusion rule.

Governor Glenn has invited President Roosevelt to come to Eastern North Carolina for a bear hunt. If he accepts game had just as well take to the tall timber. By the way, if part of the hunt should be in Pitt county, some of our Black Jack friends could show the governor and president more about bears in half a day than could be learned elsewhere in a week. Pitt has some hunters who know what it is to trail bear.

Down in South Carolina the Southern railway has voluntarily adopted the 2 1-2 cents passenger fare rate. If that disposition had been shown in North Carolina when the lower branch of the legislature of 1905 passed a 2 1/2 cents bill, instead of the railroads having it killed in the senate, all the agitation in this State might have been avoided. It was the persistent fight that the railroads themselves put up that caused it.

Pity but what there was a way to rid the towns of dead beats. There is a class that drops into a town to start up some small enterprise or work, stay long enough to get in debt to various parties for goods or labor, then skip out to play the same game in some other town. And a strange part about it is these dead beats can get patronage that the established home man ought to have. Greenville has had some of these. Honest people are welcomed to any town, but there should be no quarter for dead beats.

WHO'S WHO AND WHY

Who made the best crop in Pitt County during the year 1907

EVERYBODY admits that this has been a bad crop year and as a whole it has been, but some planters had bounteous yields in return for their labours.

Why because they used Cotton Seed Meal as a Fertilizer.

DR. BONSTEEL of the Bureau of Soils of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in his address to the planters of Pitt county strongly advised its use, stating that as a fertilizer stable manure was the best adapted to our soil and the next best was cotton seed meal.

WINTERVILLE MEAL IS THE BEST OF THE "NEXT BEST"

IF you did not use it last year inquire of someone who did and you will try it in 1908.

WE will buy your cotton seed and sell you meal at reasonable prices, or we will exchange Meal for Seed on a liberal basis, delivering the meal at any railroad station in the county.

SACKS furnished to seed shippers upon request.

WRITE or telephone us at once how many seed you have, what station you can ship from and whether you wish to sell for cash or exchange for meal. All enquiries will have prompt attention

Whenever you feel that your stomach has gone a little wrong, or when you feel that it is not in good order as is evidenced by mean headaches, nervousness, bad breath, and belching, take something at times, and especially after your meals until relief is afforded. There is nothing better offered the public today for stomach troubles, dyspepsia, indigestion, etc. than Kodol. This is a scientific preparation of natural digestions, combined with vegetable acids and it contains the same juices found in every healthy stomach. Kodol is guaranteed to give relief. It is pleasant to take; it will make you feel fine by digesting what you eat. Sold by John L. Wooten, druggist.

Papier Mache Trays.
Papier mache trays should never be allowed to remain wet from tea, water or milk spilled on them. Wash them with a sponge, not too wet, and cold water. While still damp sprinkle a little flour over, then rub with a soft flannel and polish with a chamois leather.

White heat marks may be partially removed from papier mache trays by rubbing with a flannel dipped in sweet oil and afterward lightly in spirits of wine.

Cleansing Brushes.
To clean hairbrushes put one-half teaspoonful of pulverized borax in a saucer or deep plate. Pour on a sufficient amount of hot water to wet the bristles of the brush. Let cool and put in the brush, taking care not to wet the outside of the back. When clean shake well and let lie in the sun until dry. This method will leave the bristles stiff.

For the Rug by the Door.
To keep a rug in place in front of a door sew a brass ring on each upper corner of the rug. Put a brass headed tack close to the edge of the floor, hook the brass rings over the tacks and the rug will not slip or turn up when opening or closing the door.

Inexpensive Furniture Polish.
Equal parts of turpentine, boiled linseed oil and common household vinegar make an inexpensive and excellent furniture polish. The vinegar and oil combine to make an emulsion which eradicates smoke and dirt.

Best He Ever Had.
A young man one day stepped into a barber's shop and asked for a shave. When he had been shaved he said to the proprietor, "Sir, that is the best shave I ever had in my life." "Ah," said the proud barber, smiling, "and how is that? Extra sharp razor, eh?" "Not exactly," he said, laughing. "You see, it is my first one." And with that he walked out.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease. In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. These sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes slowly pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

Funny Things Youngsters Say to Make Us Laugh.

Teacher—Now, Harold, can you tell me what water is?
 Small Harold—Yes, ma'am. It's mud with the dirt taken out.

Little Bobby (with paper)—What's an autocrat, Margie?

Little Margie—An autocrat is a person who—who—owns an autocar.

Edgar—Does your mother ever give you anything when you are real good?

Jimmie—No; but you bet she gives it to me good and proper when I ain't.

Friend (teasingly)—Oh, your cat hasn't such nice long whiskers as my cat has.

Johnnie (indignantly)—Pooh, that's nothin'; my cat's got fleas.

Teacher—Tommy, what are the different kinds of time in use?

Small Tommy—Sun time, standard time, fly time and a monkey and parrot time.

Sunday School Teacher—Augustus, what does it signify when they say a man is above reproach?

Augustus—It signifies he's dead.

NEW USE FOR DUMB WAITER

A new scheme of protecting silverware from burglars in the most fashionable country houses has been hit upon, and it is declared by several well known architects to be more successful than the safes that used to be built into house walls.

Many suburbanites are having the dumb waiters in their homes built so that they can be locked between floors and with special burglar alarm attachments so that if they are moved ever so slightly they will start great gongs to awakening the neighborhood.

The plan is to take the silverware at night, place it on the dumb waiter and station it between two floors. In this way it is absolutely inaccessible. No burglar could pull the dumb waiter down by hauling on the ropes, and yet if he tried to drop on top of the waiter it would move enough to start all the alarms. There is said to be just one way of getting at silver protected in this way, and that is to climb in some way up the shaft and cut a hole in the bottom of the waiter. Such a process, however, detectives declare, no ordinarily cautious burglar would chance.

A Well Treated Thermometer.

A prominent physician of Baltimore tells of an amusing experience of the early days of his practice when he was residing in a small town where by far the majority of the workers were miners.

"I was greatly distressed at the unsanitary conditions prevailing in their cottages," says the doctor, "and, among other things, I tried to explain to each household the importance of maintaining a wholesome atmosphere in their sleeping rooms. I laid in a stock of thermometers, which were distributed to the household where they were most needed. I took pains to point out to each family in turn just how the thermometer would indicate the proper degree of temperature.

"As I was making the rounds one day I inquired of the woman at the head of one establishment, wherein I observed my thermometer proudly displayed at the end of a string, whether she had followed my instructions.

"Yes, sir," answered she; "I'm very careful about the temperature. I watch the thing all the time as it hangs up there."

"What do you do when the temperature rises above 68?"

"I take it down, sir, an' put it outside till it cools off a bit."—Harper's Weekly.

When Bees Swarm.

When bees are about to swarm they fill their honey bags with a large quantity of honey and then take their flight. Whither are they bound? None of them can tell exactly. They swarm up into the sky, forming a cloud, and then settle down to rest wherever their fancy takes them, for the swarms rarely decide to make a home at the spot where they first alight. This is but a halt in their journey, and in the meantime they send out emissaries in search of a new domicile, which is usually selected in some cavity, such as a hollow tree trunk, a hole in a wall or a chimney.

The swarms which settle thus often assume the most unexpected and grotesque shapes. The shape of a swarm forming a pendant to a branch of a tree is well known, but more eccentric alightings are not uncommon.—Strand Magazine.

A Strange Siamese Custom.

Every Siamese girl who reaches a certain age without marrying is ticketed and labeled and placed in a privileged class, under the special care of the king, who binds himself to find a husband for them all. His method is delightfully simple. A prisoner in any of the Siamese jails may gain his pardon and release by marrying one of the ineligible class. Whether he is already married or not is not of great consequence, for in Siam it is not necessary to draw the line at one wife. This method of matchmaking can hardly result in domestic bliss.

Sour Cream Salad Dressing.

Another excellent salad dressing for potatoes or cabbage has sour cream for a foundation. Add to a small cup of thick sour cream three tablespoonfuls of cider or tarragon vinegar, a teaspoonful of paprika or a pinch of cayenne. For a potato salad a teaspoonful of onion juice or minced onion and a tablespoonful of minced parsley will be found an addition.

Bathing the Eyes.

Few practices are more beneficial to the condition of the eyes than is that of bathing them regularly every night before going to bed. Dust readily accumulates on the lids between the lashes and causes them to smart. An excellent method of cleaning them is the old fashioned one of dabbing them with a piece of cotton wool dipped in cold weak tea.

OLD JIM BRIDGER.

A Rocky Mountain Guide Who Thought Munchausen Was a Liar.

Sir George Gore, a wealthy Irish sportsman, began in 1855 a hunting expedition among the Rocky mountains which occupied two years and exceeded anything of the kind ever seen on this continent. The outfit consisted of fifty persons, including secretaries, a steward, cooks, flymakers, dog tenders, servants, a train of thirty wagons and numerous saddle horses and dogs.

Old Jim Bridger was Sir George's guide and interpreter, and no man on the frontier knew the glens and passes of the mountains so accurately as he did. Though illiterate and as unconventional as an Indian, Bridger was honest, kind, generous and shrewd—just the man to attract the Irish sportsman.

In his "Old Santa Fe Trail" Colonel Inman describes the companionship of the two men—one a rich, educated, whole souled Irish nobleman, the other a man who from boyhood had lived on the plains, depending on his tact and rifle for food and life.

Sir George would lie in bed until 10 o'clock in the morning. Then he took a bath, ate his breakfast and set out generally alone for the day's hunt. It was not unusual for him to remain out until 10 at night, and he seldom returned without "meat." His dinner was then served, to which he extended an invitation to Bridger.

After the meal was over Sir George was in the habit of reading from some book and drawing out from Bridger his ideas about the author.

The Irishman usually read from Shakespeare, which Bridger reckoned was too highfalutin for him.

"That thar big Dutchman, Mr. Fullstuff," he commented, "was a leetle too fond of lager beer."

Sir George read the "Adventures of Baron Munchausen" to Bridger, who remarked that he'd be doggoned if he swallowed everything that thar baron said. He thought he was a "liar," yet acknowledged that some of his own adventures among the Blackfeet would be equally wonderful "if writ down in a book."

Bridger thought Sir George a successful hunter, an opinion justified by the records of the two years' hunt—forty grizzly bears, 2,500 buffaloes, numerous antelopes and other small game.

A Mark of Identification.

During the holding of an inquest which had been adjourned several times an important witness from the north was being questioned by the coroner when the following dialogue took place:

Coroner—You knew the deceased pretty well, I believe, and could identify him.

Witness—Yes; I should know 'im ag'in.

A photograph of the deceased was then handed to the witness.

Coroner—Do you recognize that?

Witness (shaking his head)—No; I dunno who that is.

Coroner—You said you should know him again if you saw him.

Witness—So I should, sir. But I don't think I could tell 'is picture.

Coroner—What was there about the deceased that you would know again?

Witness (brightening up)—His stutter, sir. 'E stuttered awful!—London Judy.

The finest Coffee Substitute ever made, has recently been produced by Dr. Shoop, of Racine, Wis. You don't have to boil it twenty or thirty minutes. "Made in a minute" says the doctor. "Health coffee" is really the closest coffee imitation ever yet produced. Not a grain of real coffee in it either. Health coffee imitation is made from pure toasted cereals or grains, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert—were he to unknowingly drink it for coffee. I. E. Hooker & Co.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one creaked disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and a strong nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimony. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 7c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mother-ly, where to give it without hesitation, even to very young babes. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lungheating mountainous shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's cough cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, snorechloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous-plant extract, that helps to heal acting large. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb". Always demand Dr. Shoop's cough cure. Bryans Drug Store.

TO MY FRIENDS.

Having been away for several months I wish to announce to my friends and patrons of the "empire" of Pitt that I am still connected with the firm of Chas. M. Stieff, and if bachelors are allowed to misuse the happy term home as a synonym for a "hanging out place" I still call Greenville my home, and while I intend to be away from Greenville a great deal of my time during this fall a postal care of box 325, Greenville, will reach me within a day or two. We now have a number of slightly used upright pianos, some of which have been rented during the summer months, others which were temporarily used by artists at the exposition and for orchestra work, at bargain prices.

We also offer a special school piano for $225 00 fully measuring up in standard to any $350 00 instrument. This piano is especially built for college and school work for the special price named above and is full guaranteed by my firm for 10 years. Those interested in a school piano or in a good slightly used piano for the home should write me at once and will profit by it, and as ever I am always mindful of my patrons' protection and interest as well as my firm's interest. Grateful of past patronage. Very respectfully,
 G. G. Fineman,
 Box 325 Greenville, N. C.

What About Christmas?

With the compliments of the season to all our readers we ask you the question of the hour
WHAT ABOUT CHRISTMAS

The children are asking it with wondering and hopeful expectations of what Santa Claus is likely to bring them.

The older people are asking it, not so much in speculation regarding the remembrance that Christmas will bring to them, but rather as an inquiry as to how they are to provide suitable and satisfactory presents for relatives and friends without too heavy a drain upon their time and purse.

May we help you to solve the problem and put you in the way of doing your Christmas shopping with pleasure satisfaction and economy?

We offer the advantage of selection that can only be found in a very extensive showing of first class goods. We take pleasure in pleasing customers and will do all in our power to help you to just the right article at the right price, so that you may leave our store glad that you came, and perfectly satisfied with your purchases in every respect.
