BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

Receive Petition for Prohibition Election and Transact Regular Business.

The board of aldermen met Monday night in monthly session, the meeting being deferred from Thursday night because of the absence of a quorum at that time. Six members of the board were present. Alderman T. R. Moore having withdrawn his resignation.

The matter of most interest was the petition for the calling of election on prohibition which it was known would be presented, and many people were attracted to the meeting. Speeches were made on the petition by Messrs G. E. Harris, E. B. Ficklen, and F. C. Harding.

The board adopted a resolution setting January 23rd as the date for passing on the petition.

The board then took up its regular business.

The finance committee had no report to make, nor the market committee.

The street committee reported the streets in bad condition and explained the need of more tiling. A request was made for the appointment of a special committee to investigate the matter of a house being in Thirteenth street. That is an unlucky house.

The cemetery committee reported that the west side of the cemetery had been laid out in lots and walks opened.

The different officers made their reports for the past month, the dispensary report being ordered published.

In connection with these reports Alderman Flanagan raised the point that they should be checked up by the finance committee before coming before the board for action, and the committee was instructed to perform this duty as to subsequent reports.

W. P. Ormond was granted license to conduct a market business near the Center Brick warehouse.

Haywood Telfair was granted license to conduct a restaurant in a building opposite Center Brick warehouse.

The ordinance committee was instructed to draft an ordinance requiring that death certificates be obtained before any burials are permitted in the town.

Mayor Wooten and Aldermen Bowen were appointed a committee to negotiate for building a driveway from Third street to the water and light plant.

Messrs McGuire and Merritt were employed to make survey and profile of Evans street and Dickinson avenue with a view of paving.

A committee of the aldermen was appointed to confer with other towns relative to the cost of paving.

A committee was also appointed to investigate the petition for the prohibition election. Accounts were allowed and the board adjourned to meet again on the 23rd.

To Subscribers.

Next week is court, and The Reflector requests its subscribers of the county to come in and pay for their paper. There are some whose names the postal laws will compel us to drop from the list unless they pay soon, and we had rather not have to take off any names. If you do not come to town during court week send us a remittance by mail.

Weather.

Fair tonight with colder in central and east portions, Wednesday fair.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hastling Town Briefly Told

Ayden, N. C. Jan. 7. D. G. Berry and wife, who have been away on an extended visit came home Saturday.

Tom Dawson, of Grifton, has been here visiting his sister, Mrs. F. G. Buhman.

W. J. Hooks, Esq. came in Saturday from his holiday visit to his family in Kenly.

It is with sincere regret that the many friends of Dr. Louis C. Skinner learn of his determination to leave Ayden. Dr. Skinner since coming here about six years ago has not only endeared himself to our people, but by his gentlemanly bearing and sociable intercourse has built up a very lucrative practice in his profession. He will be sadly missed and all truly wish for him in his new field all the success and happiness one so pleasant and accomplished as he richly merits.

We return thanks for an invitation to be present at the marriage of Mr. J. R. Turnage, of Ayden, to Miss Eva Moseley, of Kinston, which happy event takes place in Kinston on the 15th inst.

John Tripp has traded the old gray to Ed Lyon for courting purposes. Some folks seem to have been born lucky. Ed is all right now.

David Gibb is away on a visit to New York.

There were services in the Baptist and Christian churches Sunday.

Dixie Cannon, Allen Cannon, Charlie Ross, Hyman Buck and J. H. Coward left Saturday evening for Chapel Hill.

Miss Meta Mewborne spent Friday with Miss Helen Quinerly.

We learn that a Mr. Grubbs near Centerville had his home consumed by fire Friday night.

J. J. Edwards has recently been on the sick list.

Dr. Joseph Dixon has purchased the entire plant of the Ayden Milling and Mfg Company.

W. J. Hemby went to Greenville Monday.

Governor Glenn Refuses a Pardon for E. E. Hart.

Yesterday in refusing to grant the application of E. E. Hart for pardon the governor said: "The defendant was convicted of larceny at November term, 1906, of Lenoir superior court, and sentenced to 18 months on the road. At first I was inclined to grant the pardon. The defendant was a Mason and was duly tried by that body subsequent to his conviction by the jury, and after a full hearing, was acquitted. To make no mistake, however, I sent for the evidence taken before both the court and the Masonic lodge and after careful reading and considering all the testimony, I am convinced that defendant was guilty. Neither trial judge nor solicitor recommend the pardon and as the evidence was very much against the prisoner and the sentence was not excessive, I am compelled to decline application for pardon.—Kinston Free Press

Your Attention.

The special week of prayer which is being observed by the Missionary Society of the Baptist Church will be held on Wednesday afternoon at Mrs. C. D. Rountree's. The Christmas offering for China will be brought in at this meeting.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Takes Action in the Matter of Freight Rates.

The Greenville Chamber of Commerce held its quarterly meeting Monday night in the mayor's office, with a good attendance of business men present.

Almost the entire meeting was taken up with discussions of the matter of freight rates to Greenville. Representative J. J. Laughinghouse spoke at length in introducing the subject, calling attention to the combination of rates between the two railroads, the claim that the State corporation commission had ordered an advance in rates, the discrimination against Greenville, and urged immediate action in regard to establishing transportation by river to check this outrage against the business interests of Greenville.

Dr. Charles Laughinghouse, Dr. E. A. Moyer, Mr. J. R. Moyer, Mr. Wiley Brown and others took part in the discussion, citing instances of discrimination and extortionate rates, and advising river transportation as a redress to these wrongs against Greenville. As a result of these discussions two committees were appointed, one to investigate the matter of rates and the attitude of the corporation commission, and the other to begin negotiations for steamboat transportation on the river. The first committee composed of Dr. E. A. Moyer, Messrs. G. E. Harris and J. R. Moyer; the second of Dr. Charles Laughinghouse, Messrs. J. F. Davenport and Wiley Brown. The latter committee was also instructed to confer with congressman John H. Small relative to securing such appropriations as will keep the river in good navigable condition.

Another important matter that came up before the meeting was the matter of street paving. This was discussed by Mr. McGuire representing a construction company, Mayor F. M. Wooten, Aldermen C. S. Carr and others. A committee was appointed on the part of the chamber of commerce to act with and assist the board of aldermen in securing property rights of way along the streets proposed to be paved. This committee is Dr. Charles Laughinghouse, Messrs. S. T. White and H. W. Whedbee. The chamber adjourned to meet again Monday night, 20th, to receive reports from the committees on freight rates and river transportation.

Meeting of F. M. F. I. A.

On next Monday, 13th, the Pitt county branch of the Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Association will hold its annual meeting in the court house. As this meeting is the time for election of officers, it is urged that all policy holders of the association be present. Do not fail to come. G. T. Tyson, President.

Opera House Tonight.

Mr. Coley of Fay, Coley and Fay, who are to appear tonight at the Masonic opera house in "When Smith Came Home" is a Southerner by birth. He was born and brought up in Raleigh, N. C. and has been a decided hit in those towns of the South in which he has appeared. He has also achieved to great popularity through the West—where he is equally as well known. Mr. Coley has a remarkable fine voice and is an entertainer of more than ordinary ability.

Attention Red Men.

Mohican Tribe No 56, of Winterville, N. C., will have a public raising of Chiefs on Wednesday night, Jan. 8th 1908. Dr. D. L. James, of Greenville and Great Prophet, Ben W. Taylor, of Washington, are expected to be present. Visiting brethren and the public in general are invited to attend.

J. A. Manning, C. of R. O. W. Rollins, Sachem.

Officers of Medical Society.

At the last meeting of the Pitt county Medical Society, held in Greenville on Jan. 2nd, the following officers were elected:

President, Dr. Wm. Cobb Whitfield, Grifton.

First vice president, Dr. T. G. Basnight, Stokes.

Second vice president, Dr. Zeno Brown, Greenville.

Treasurer, Dr. E. A. Moyer, Greenville.

Secretary, Dr. J. E. Nobles, Greenville.

Delegate to State Society, Dr. J. E. Nobles, first alternate, Dr. C. M. Jones, Grimesland; second alternate, Dr. T. G. Basnight.

The society decided to revise the black list by the first of February.

Don't Stir up Strife.

Some murmuring are heard among the advocates of the prohibition election that they were not treated with entire fairness by the aldermen, when the petition was presented Monday night, in the matter of putting off the hearing until the 23rd. Many think the hearing should have been set for an earlier date. The Reflector has no imputation to lodge against the aldermen, but with the petition so largely signed and the sentiment for prohibition so strong, it seems that the matter should proceed with as little friction as possible and avoid stirring up bitterness and contention over it.

Under the Laurels.

It has been definitely decided to have this play next Monday night, 13th. Earnest rehearsals are being held ever day. Each character in the play is good and you may expect something that will please you. The comic characters are up to date. No better play has been put before our people than this will be. There will be no dull moments, as first class specialties will be had between every act.

Coffee as Remedy for Asthma.

Coffee is a very excellent remedy for asthma. Those who don't know how to cut short their attacks and have not tried coffee should do so by all means. It often succeeds admirably when almost everything else has failed. There are one or two little points to be attended to in taking coffee.

In the first place, it should be very strong—in fact, perfectly black. Weak coffee does more harm than good, if made very strong, much of it need not be taken; a large quantity is a positive disadvantage, for it is less rapidly absorbed and only distends the stomach. Then it should be given without sugar or milk, pure "cafe noir." It should be given on an empty stomach, for when taken on a full stomach it often does harm by putting a stop to the process of digestion.—Family Doctor.

Stolen—Monday night between 9 and 10 o'clock, at the home of E. D. Flanagan, about 1 mile from Farmville, someone stole a horse and bridle from his stable. Horse was last seen about 200 yards from there in the hands of the thief, Color, gray; age about 8 years; slimly built, short head, high rump, will weigh about 900 pounds. He was owned for the last two years by Mr. Ben McLawhorn, near Ayden. Any information of his whereabouts will be appreciated and liberally rewarded.

GREENVILLE AROUSED OVER FREIGHT RATES,

The business men of Greenville are sitting up and taking notice of the way they are being imposed upon in the matter of freight rates by the Atlantic Coast Line and Norfolk & Southern railroads. Freight rates were considered high enough when we had only one railroad to this town, and instead of the coming of the second road giving lower rates through competition, as was hoped for, rates are very much higher than formerly. For a time the rates of the Norfolk & Southern road were lower than the Atlantic Coast Line, and in consequence the bulk of the business went to the Norfolk & Southern. Suddenly there came the announcement of a general advance in rates on both roads, the rate being the same on each. The reason given by the Norfolk & Southern for making its rates the same as the Atlantic Coast Line was that the State corporation commission compelled it to adopt the same rate as the competing road. This seemed a strange procedure to our business men, and they are going to make an investigation of the matter.

It has also developed that these same railroads are giving the town of Washington a freight rate only two-fifths as high as the rate to Greenville, and our business men have determined not to submit to such a discrimination. At the meeting of the chamber of commerce Monday night this matter was fully discussed, and committees were appointed to investigate the matter fully and also to negotiate for steamboat transportation on the river. If the railroads do not give this town a more just freight rate the business men will sign an agreement to withdraw all shipments from them and have their shipments made by water.

This is going at the matter right. With a navigable river at our doors Greenville does not have to submit to the extortionate freight rates charged by the railroads, and is not going to do so. The river transportation should be established as quickly as possible and show the railroads that we are not at their mercy in the matter of rates, and will not submit to their discriminations.

There is hope for Greenville as long as the business men take hold of things like the chamber of commerce went after the freight rate matter, Monday night.

His friends throughout the State learn with regret that Capt. Swift Galloway, of Greene county, while returning from a visit to Mt. Airy, was taken quite sick on train and had to be taken off to a hotel in Greensboro. All wish that he may be speedily restored.

WHO'S WHO AND WHY

Who made the best crop in Pitt County during the year 1907

EVERYBODY admits that this has been a bad crop year and as a whole it has been, but some planters had bounteous yields in return for their labours.

Why because they used Cotton Seed Meal as a Fertilizer.

DR. BONSTEEL of the Bureau of Soils of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in his address to the planters of Pitt county strongly advised its use, stating that as a fertilizer stable manure was the best adapted to our soil and the next best was cotton seed meal.

WINTERVILLE MEAL IS THE BEST OF THE "NEXT BEST"

IF you did not use it last year inquire of someone who did and you will try it in 1908.

WE will buy your cotton seed and sell you meal at reasonable prices, or we will exchange Meal for Seed on a liberal basis, delivering the meal at any railroad station in the county.

SACKS furnished to seed shippers upon request.

WRITE or telephone us at once how many seed you have, what station you can ship from and whether you wish to sell for cash or exchange for meal. All enquiries will have prompt attention

Affected His Brain.
According to a Danish medical journal, the Roentgen rays were recently used upon a boy five years old, who was treated in hospital for a disease of the hair. After twenty-five applications of the rays the lad was sent home cured. But whereas his nature had previously been bright and intelligent, now he became absentminded and unreliable and was sent back to the hospital. He has been for some time since under medical observation, and the pronouncement of the doctors attending the case is that the Roentgen rays can easily penetrate the thin scalp of a child and have an undesirable influence on the brain.

For the Rug by the Door.
To keep a rug in place in front of a door sew a brass ring on each upper corner of the rug. Put a brass headed tack close to the edge of the floor, hook the brass rings over the tacks and the rug will not slip or turn up when opening or closing the door.

Rheumatism
I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.
In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. These sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. FLORAL SUPERSTITIONS.

Country Beliefs About the Mints, Flowers and Luck.

There is nothing which grows around which there is more superstition woven than the homely mints. Not only is mint the crowning enticement of a julep and a thing which makes sedate tabbies gambol and roll like six-month-old kittens; but, according to tradition, the different mints have supernatural properties, and there are good and bad mints. Pennyroyal, aside from its qualification as a flea discourager, is said to make a quarrelsome husband and wife stop bickering if it is given to them by some friend. Catnip, on the other hand, when chewed creates quarrelsomeness and is said to make even mild and gentle people fierce. If catnip is held in the hand until heated and then put into the hand of another, it will, so goes the superstition, so control that person that he or she cannot leave you so long as the catnip is retained in the hand.

Spearmint will prevent illness so long as it is worn about the wrist. If spearmint is mixed with salt and applied to the bite of a mad dog, the wound will heal, it is said. In the olden days the children used to put a bit of spearmint in the coats on Christmas day, believing that at the exact time when the Saviour was born the mint would blossom.

The superstitions which cluster around flowers are as many as there are different flowers. It is considered unlucky to gather flowers out of season, as before and after the season they are said to belong to the fairies. The first wild flowers which are gathered by a young woman in the spring should spell the initials of her future husband, if the superstition holds true.

Here is a schedule of superstitions about finding the first flower of the season:

If found on Monday, good luck all the year.

If found on Tuesday, large undertakings, which will be successful.

If found on Wednesday, a wedding in the family.

If found on Thursday, hard work with little profit.

If found on Friday, unexpected wealth.

If found on Saturday, misfortunes.

If found on Sunday, best luck of all.—New York Tribune.

Compensation.

When Wilson Hobart married Hetty Lewis there were many people who predicted domestic troubles, even tragedies, but they were mistaken. The Hobarts were to all appearances an unusually happy couple.

"I reckon Hetty must have learned to keep her temper better than she used to," remarked one person to whom this state of affairs was inexplicable. "You don't look a bit older than the day you were married, Wilson."

"I don't know as she has," said Mr. Hobart, with his slow smile. "I tell her I guess she's got enough on hand to last her. She needn't save any to accommodate me. And I can tell you," he added, with enthusiasm, "it would take more than any temper ever I saw to sour Hetty's bread or her cream pies."—Youth's Companion.

Inches of Time.

Beware of losing or wasting inches of time. They are the little foxes that run away with many days. So much can be done in them and with them, often the very things for which we sigh hopelessly. Fill them, every one. Keep something handy—something that fits the interval. Remember a famous lawbook was written because a lord chancellor chose not to be idle throughout the fifteen minutes his wife made him wait each day for dinner. Recall, too, all the men, noble and eminent, who have climbed to the heights by saving inches of time. All of us cannot hope to become likewise eminent, but we can reasonably and easily make ourselves happy with things wrought in the fragmentary moments which we might unthriftyly leave vacant.—Delineator.

A Moving Appeal.

He was a motherless boy and his relatives had decided that he should be sent to a boys' school fifty miles from home, and at last the father had agreed to the plan.

Forty-eight hours after his boy's departure the father received a letter, which was, although not faultless as an example of spelling, so much to the point and so in accord with his own feelings that the plans for the future were speedily readjusted.

"Dear father," wrote the exile, "It's all right here, and I'm not homesick, I believe, but life is very short, and don't you think you'd better let us spend some more of it together? Your affectionate son, Thomas."

WOEBEGONE STATUES.

Some Old Monuments That May Be Seen in London.

Sometimes when lost in the city one stumbles across a forgotten philanthropist in bronze who, true to his principles, furnishes a temporary escape from motor buses and other death dealing vehicles, while he sits there splashed with rich London mud and more than ever a philanthropist. Certain old statues London has quite overgrown, so that they overtop the stupendous traffic with a kind of infantile enjoyment. There is that little King Charles on his little horse in Trafalgar square, forever prancing down Whitehall and getting no farther, and a small, unostentatious Milton leans modestly against St. Giles', Cripplegate. In front of St. Paul's stands poor Queen Anne, disrespectfully described by a Jacobite lampooner "with her face to the gin shop and her back to the church." She looks all the more worn and dingy now because her scepter and crown have been daubed with some of that superabundant gilding left over when they desecrated the noble interior of St. Paul's. Poor Queen Anne! She has indeed been the uncomplaining victim of aspiring stonemasons and the weather! In Bloomsbury there is still another woebegone statue of her which is probably the most desolate in all London, and that is saying a good deal.

In Pall Mall, too, stands a small, sleek King George III., mounted on a small, sleek horse, from which he perpetually and forgivingly reviews his ex-beloved American subjects trooping out of the Carlton hotel. And does the loyal Carlton remember England's loss when making out their bills? The chances are that it does. When a statue is not looking down at a drinking fountain it is sure to be gazing into a sand bin, both, of course, very useful. The only statues that are really well off in London are those gallant gentlemen in Trafalgar square surrounding Nelson on his mighty column guarded by his gigantic lions. But even these are less impressive as statues than as part of a magnificent architectural whole. Next to them the eminent men in Parliament square are in luck, for not only are they in bronze and shut in from the traffic, but three of them are fortunate enough to have on mantles. But really one's advice to a hero is—should his destiny be a statue—if you don't want to look ridiculous and be forgotten, get them to put you on top of a column. That is the only thing that will save you. But indeed you have to be a very great man to survive your statue.—Mrs. John Lane in Fortnightly Review.

A Large Family.

A single young man heard the banns called in church one day. Perhaps he had not always been very attentive to the service or perhaps marriages were more frequent than usual that season, for the ordinary announcement seemed to make an impression on him. At dinner that day he observed thoughtfully, as if communing with himself: "They must be a large family!" "Who?" asked the company, for the speaker was a silent man and one whose remarks were few and far between.

"Why, those Spinsters," he answered gravely. "There was another of them called in church today."

He thought it was a proper name. But he was right. The spinsters are a large family.—Pearson's Weekly.

He Got at Least Good Measure.

A shepherd in a highland inn was once recounting to a companion his experiences with one of those "mad Englishmen," who proved to be a celebrated professor then collecting specimens in the neighborhood.

"There was one of them," he said, "who asked me to carry his bag by a short cut across the hills to his inn, while he went by the road. When he was out of sight I stopped to look into it, for it was unco' heavy, and would you believe it, man, it was full of stones—nothing but stones!"

"Stones!" repeated his companion. "Stones! And did you carry them?"

"Not I. I just emptied the bag there and filled it up from the cairn near the inn, and I gave him good measure for his money, I'll warrant ye."

Brethren.

A tinker read a sweet poem about the brotherhood of man.

And later he spied the author of that poem in the market place and ran up to him and grabbed him by the hand and said, "My brother—my dear brother, let us go and pick a bit o' dinner together!"

And the poet answered that he was not in the habit of picking bits of dinner with persons whom he did not have the honor to know.—"Literary Parables."

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Hints on the Renovation of Old-Laces, Domestic Notes.

The fortunate possessor of very fine laces cannot be too careful in washing them. Even the gentlest rubbing must be avoided if laces are to be preserved.

Lace should always be soaked before washing, more especially if it is much soiled, in water in which a teaspoon of borax has been dissolved. The water should be boiling, the usual proportion being one pint of water to every teaspoon of borax. Then make a lather with some good soap and hot water.

Take the lace from the water in which it has been soaked, place it in the soapy water and squeeze it exactly as if it were a sponge till it is clean.

This will prevent the lace from being torn, more especially if it is of a fine make. Repeat the process, if necessary, in another basin of soapy water. Then rinse in clean cold water till all the soap is removed. If the lace is white a little blue in the rinsing water will improve the color.

Transferring Pictures.

Take a small, cheap brush and a little bottle of ordinary turpentine. Paint the picture you wish to transfer with the turpentine and blot with a blotter so that the ink will not run. Turn face of the picture down on paper you wish to transfer it to and rub the entire surface quite hard with a smooth instrument, and the transfer is complete. It can be transferred on fabric as well as upon paper if a little care is taken. This recipe is excellent for transferring designs on wood for pyrography or scroll saw work.

Dainty For an Invalid.

Toast a slice of bread a delicate brown and dip it into a small quantity of hot water to which has been added a generous piece of butter. Remove from water, pile on top of toast the beaten white of an egg, placing the yolk squarely in the center. Salt lightly and set in a hot oven until firm, but not hard.

For Enlarged Pores.

There is nothing known to science that will remove enlarged pores unless the skin is kept scrupulously clean. A warm, soapy facial bath must be taken every night, the face then rinsed in several clear waters and a good skin food applied. A mere wiping of the face with a wet cloth is not washing it.

Brightening Gilt Frames.

Take sufficient flour of sulphur to give a golden tinge to about one and one-half pints of water, and in this boil four or five bruised onions. Strain off liquid and when cold apply with soft brush to any gilding which needs restoring. When dry, it will be as bright as new.

Pressing Seams.

When making up woolen goods that have to have seams pressed open, soap them lightly on the wrong side of the goods and press in the usual way. They will be found to lie perfectly flat and stay so. This can be used on smoothly finished worsteds to advantage.

Croup and Hoarseness.

A lump of fresh lard or butter the size of an English walnut rubbed in with sugar the same as you would prepare butter and sugar for a cake and rolled into small pills, giving one at intervals of every twenty minutes, is excellent for croup or hoarseness.

Homemade Lemon Extract.

Cut off carefully the yellow rind of three lemons and put into a half pint of alcohol. In four days pour off into bottle and add one ounce of oil of lemon. This makes a fine, strong flavor at less than half price. Orange extract can be made in the same way.

Grape Shrub.

Four quarts of grapes to one quart of vinegar; let stand four days, then strain. To each pint of juice add one pound of sugar; boil twenty minutes, bottle and keep in a dry, cool place. Red raspberries or black are also nice.

An Ironing Wrinkle.

When ironing a starched garment and a part of it becomes dry, do not dampen with water, but with a cloth wet with a little cold starch. This will keep all parts of the garment of equal stiffness.

Freshening White Clothes.

White dresses and waists may be made to look as fresh as new by making a thin raw starch and dampening with a clean muslin cloth. Let set a few minutes and then press with a hot iron.

Skirts Kept Shapely.

To keep skirts in good shape, fold evenly at the belt several times, put a large safety pin through this and hang it up by safety pin on a hook in the closet.

The finest coffee Substitute ever made, has recently been produced by Dr. Shoop, of Racine, Wis. You don't have to boil it twenty or thirty minutes. "Made in a minute" says the doctor. "Health coffee" is really the closest coffee imitation ever yet produced. Not a grain of real coffee in it either. Health coffee imitation is made from pure toasted cereals or grains, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert—were he to unknowingly drink it for coffee. J. E. Hooker & Co.

Are you having trouble with your kidneys? There are lots of people today who wonder why they are tired and lacking in energy and ambition. Your kidneys are wrong. They need relief without delay. Take Dr. Shoop's Kidney and Bladder Pills; they are for weak back, inflammation of the bladder, backache and weak kidneys. Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation, even to very young babes. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lunghealing mountain shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's cough cure. It cures the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, snuff, chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a restorative plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb". Always demand Dr. Shoop's cough cure. Bryans Drug Store.

TO MY FRIENDS.

Having been away for several months I wish to announce to my friends and patrons of the "empire" of Pitt that I am still connected with the firm of Chas. M. Stieff, and if bachelors are allowed to misuse the happy term home as a synonym for a "hanging out place" I still call Greenville my home, and while I intend to be away from Greenville a great deal of my time during this fall a postal care, of box 325, Greenville, will reach me within a day or two. We now have a number of slightly used upright pianos, some of which have been rented during the summer months, others which were temporarily used by artists at the exposition and for orchestra work, at bargain prices.

We also offer a special school piano for $225 00 fully measuring up in standard to any $350 00 instrument. This piano is especially built for college and school work for the special price named above and is full guaranteed by my firm for 10 years. Those interested in a school piano or in a good slightly used piano for the home should write me at once and will profit by it, and as ever I am always mindful of my patrons' protection and interest as well as my firm's interest. Grateful of past patronage. Very respt., G. G. Fineman, Box 325 Greenville, N. C.

Notice

Persons ordering hacks or wagons from me for passengers or baggage, will please hold for my hack or wagon to arrive. I have recently been put to much trouble by people letting other hacks or wagons serve them after placing the order with me, W. J. Turnage.

What About Christmas?

With the compliments of the season to all our readers we ask you the question of the hour

WHAT ABOUT CHRISTMAS

The children are asking it with wondering and hopeful expectations of what Santa Claus is likely to bring them.

The older people are asking it, not so much in speculation regarding the remembrance that Christmas will bring to them, but rather as an inquiry as to how they are to provide suitable and satisfactory presents for relatives and friends without too heavy a drain upon their time and purse.

May we help you to solve the problem and put you in the way of doing your Christmas shopping with pleasure satisfaction and economy?

We offer the advantage of selection that can only be found in a very extensive showing of first class goods. We take pleasure in pleasing customers and will do all in our power to help you to just the right article at the right price, so that you may leave our store glad that you came, and perfectly satisfied with your purchases in every respect.

We extend to all a cordial invitation to call and see our line of
