TEMPERANCE MASS MEETING.

Adopts Resolutions Endorsing State Prohibition.

A mass meeting of citizens was held in the opera house, Monday night, to express the sentiment of the community on the question of State prohibition. Mayor F. M. Wooten presided over the meeting and D. J. Whichard was secretary.

Short addresses were made by Mayor Wooten, Rev. M. T. Plyler, Dr. Charles Laughinghouse and others, and the following resolutions were adopted by a rising vote:

We, a portion of the people of Pitt county in mass meeting assembled, do resolve.

1. That we urge upon the General Assembly at its special session to pass on an act prohibiting the manufacture and sale of liquor in North Carolina. We urge this upon the legislature because we believe a great majority of the people of the State favor such action and that the time is opportune for the passage and enforcement of such a law.

2. That we earnestly request our senator and representatives in the legislature to vote for the passage of a law that will put an end to the manufacture or sale of liquor in this State after the 30th day of June, 1908.

Not quite all present voted for the resolution, but not one voted against it.

A telegram from Chairman John A. Oates, of the State Anti-Saloon League was read, asking that as large a delegation as possible be sent to the convention in Raleigh. Some volunteered to go, and a committee composed of E. B. Ficklen and Rev. J. E. Ayscove was appointed to secure as large delegations as possible and collect the voluntary subscriptions made to defray expenses.

Teachers' Contest Notes.

The first grade of the Greenville Graded school came this morning and cast several votes each for their teacher.

Have you voted for the most popular teacher?

Persons out of town can vote by sending to the treasurer of The Aeolian Band as many stamps or money as they wish votes.

The voting contest will close on the next teachers meeting in Greenville.

Dont let your teacher get left.

There's going to be something doing around here when those Centerville fellows come to town. We hear there are some good looking teachers down there.

Some body remarks "There's a popular teacher or two around Shelmerdine."

Whats the matter with Ayden?

Get busy Greenville we have some popular teachers.

A 1908 Art Calendar For Our Readers.

We are requested to announce to our readers, that they can get a beautiful art calendar for 1908, by sending three 1 cent stamps, to D. Swift & Co., Patent Lawyers, of Washington, D. C.

The size of this wall calendar is 6 by 9 inches.

Weather.

For North Carolina—Generally cloudy tonight and Wednesday. Warmer tonight in central and extreme western portions.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Discusses Boat Line and Protests Against A. C. L. Taking off Midday Passenger Train.

Immediately after the prohibition mass meeting in the opera house, Monday night, the chamber of commerce held a meeting to hear reports of the committees appointed at last regular meeting looking to the advance in railroad freight rates and the establishing of a boat line between Greenville and Norfolk.

The first committee read a letter from the clerk of the State corporation commission disclaiming that the commission had forced the Norfolk & Southern railroad to advance its rates to an equality with the Atlantic Coast Line. As the committee had also been asked by the commission to furnish a list of commodities on which rates to Greenville had been advanced, so that the commission might make an investigation, the committee was continued to look further into the matter.

The committee on the boat line reported that it had visited Washington and held a conference with the North Carolina and Virginia Steamboat Co., that representatives of the company had been invited to attend this meeting and were present.

Messrs. Walter Daniels and J. F. Tayloe, of Washington, addressed the meeting upon the organization of the company and its plan of operation and invited the co-operation of the business interests of Greenville with the movement.

There was considerable interest in the matter, and a committee consisting of Dr. Charles Laughinghouse and Messrs. Wiley Brown, J. F. Davenport, E. P. Ficklen and B. W. Moseley was appointed to confer further with the North Carolina and Virginia Steamboat Co. relative to Greenville business men taking stock and co-operating with it.

The matter of the Atlantic Coast Line seeking to withdraw its midday passenger train from this branch of their road was discussed, and the secretary was instructed to write both the corporation commission and the officials of the A. C. L., entering a protest from the Greenville chamber of commerce against the discontinuance of the train. Other towns along the road are requested to join in this protest.

Tax Notice.

Taxes for the year 1907 are long past due. All persons delinquent are notified to come forward and pay promptly, as the law requires me to settle with the State treasurer in January.

L. W. Tucker, Sheriff.

As I have decided to enlarge my business I will move my stock of goods to the store formerly occupied by Johnston Bros. where I can be found after Feb. 1, better prepared than ever, to supply the needs of my customers.

J. B. Johnston.

NOTICE.

I have purchased the interest of the late W. T. Fleming in the mercantile business heretofore conducted under the firm name of Fleming & Mooring, and will continue to carry on the business at the same stand. All accounts due the firm are payable to me.

Thanking the public for the patronage given the firm in the past, and hoping to merit a continuance of their favors, I invite all to call to see me at the same stand.

J. S. MOORING.

The State Board Applauds Small.

The state geologist board, which met in Raleigh today in annual session, adopted resolutions commendatory of Congressman John H. Small, of the first district, for his work in regard to the inland waterways proposition. The board audited the accounts of the state geologist and found them correct. The resolution follows:

Whereas, it appears to this board that the inland waterways proposition is to be of great advantage to this state and country at large, commercially and otherwise; so, therefore, be it.

Resolved, That the geological board is heartily in favor of the inland waterways proposition as advocated by Hon. John H. Small, member of congress from the first district of North Carolina, and do hereby appoint Mr. Frank Wood, a member of this board, and Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, State geologist, to convey to Mr. Small the desire of this board to assist him in any and every way possible to further this movement.

After being in session from 11 to 2 o'clock, the board completed its work and adjourned.

Present at the meeting were: Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, state geologist; Col. Henry E. Fries, of Winston-Salem; and Mr. Frank Wood, of Edenton, Col. A. H. Arrington acted as secretary.—Raleigh Times.

Hear the Message.

At a meeting of Democratic senators and representatives held in the hall of the house of representatives last night, it was decided by a unanimous vote that at today's session, no bill be introduced except those relating to rate matters mentioned in the governor's proclamation, and that after hearing the governor's message the session adjourned until Wednesday. It was also decided without opposition, that separate caucuses of Democratic members of the senate and house be held tonight to consider whether at this extraordinary session any general legislation, besides the rate matter, will be gone into.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Weather clouding up again, but it remained good most of the time court was in session, which is something unusual for January court.

MESSAGE FROM SICK ROOM.

Governor Jarvis Unable to Attend Convention But Sends Telegram.

Ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis was to have been present and speak at the State prohibition convention in Raleigh this afternoon, but much to his own disappointment and the regret of a host of people he is detained at home by sickness. With that great love for humanity that wells in his heart, from his sick room he sends a message to Chairman Oates that breathes the deep earnestness he feels in the important question that means so much for North Carolina. The telegram reads:

Greenville, N. C., Jan. 21.

John A. Oates,

Raleigh, N. C.

Deeply regret sickness keeps me from temperance meeting. Legislature has great opportunity to voice will of people and render humanity and State great service. Eternal conflict between school room and bar room. School room makes men. Bar room destroys them. It is good statesmanship, good politics and good religion to multiply and replenish school rooms and to destroy bar rooms. I appeal to the legislature with all the fervor and intensity of my soul to rise to this high plan.

Thos. J. Jarvis.

THE STORY OF KHAKI.

A Lasting Dye That Was Discovered by Accident.

Khaki, the olive colored canvas cloth worn by soldiers in hot climates, owes its present use to a lucky accident, as is the case with many inventions. This cotton stuff has been worn in India by British troops for many years. Its tint was a greenish brown, but it always faded when it was washed with soap.

A business man from Manchester while traveling in India chanced to enter into conversation with an English officer, who remarked carelessly that the first manufacturer who could produce a cotton drill that would not fade would make his fortune.

The young Englishman never forgot this hint. He came home, found a skillful dyer and with him began the search for an olive dye which when used on cotton cloth would not yield to soap or soda. They spent years in these experiments, all of which proved fruitless.

One day they found among several scraps of dyed cloth one which retained its color under the most severe tests. The puzzling fact was that it had been cut from the same piece of cloth and subjected to the same processes as the other scraps, all of which faded. The two experimenters were greatly perplexed and for months tried in vain to solve the riddle. The one little fragment of khaki was the only one which kept its color against all attacks.

By chance one day they found that the dye in which this scrap had been dipped had remained for a time in a metal dish of a peculiar kind. The secret was found. The metal of the dish in combination with the chemicals of the dye had furnished the one thing needful. They tried the experiment with other pieces. The dye held, and their fortunes were made.—Chicago Record-Herald.

TUESDAY JAN. 21th, 1908.

Greenville has joined with hundreds of other towns in declaring for State prohibition.

The special legislature is in session and we will all watch for reports from Raleigh.

The special legislature will miss its opportunity if it fails to heed the popular call for State prohibition. But we do not think it will fail.

Charles Emory Smith, editor of the Philadelphia Press, and postmaster general under President McKinley, died Sunday at his home in Philadelphia.

Mr. Bryan is reported as saying if the opposition to him musters one-third of the votes of the convention he will withdraw from the race for the nomination for president.

The chamber of commerce is doing its part toward establishing a freight boat line between Greenville and Norfolk. The business men of the community should stand behind the movement and push it to success.

When men like Governor Jarvis and Senator Simmons declare for State prohibition, it is time for those opposing it to stop and consider. These are wise men in their day and generation and do not advise the people wrong.

That was a pretty plot unearthed by the police of Rio Janiero that anarchists had conspired to destroy the American fleet anchored in the harbor there. There would be something like war sure enough should there be an attempt to put such a plot into execution.

When the thing is sifted to the bottom, it will likely develop that the advance of freight rates to Greenville was the result of a combination or collusion between the two railroads operating here. Greenville needs to rebuke this by establishing and patronizing a boat line.

Greenville can accomplish almost anything her people make up their minds to do, and the boat freight line on the river will be a certainty if they just keep after it. There will be no relief from excessive freight rates charged by the railroads until the boat line is established.

When the Norfolk & Southern railroad advanced its freight rates to Greenville on an equality with the rates of the Atlantic Coast Line, the claim was made that the State corporation commission had forced this advance. The corporation commission has disclaimed having anything to do with it. Take the case, gentlemen, it is up to somebody.

WHO'S WHO AND WHY

Who made the best crop in Pitt County during the year 1907

EVERYBODY admits that this has been a bad crop year and as a whole it has been, but some planters had bounteous yields in return for their labours.

Why because they used Cotton Seed Meal as a Fertilizer.

DR. BONSTEEL of the Bureau of Soils of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in his address to the planters of Pitt county strongly advised its use, stating that as a fertilizer stable manure was the best adapted to our soil and the next best was cotton seed meal.

WINTERVILLE MEAL IS THE BEST OF THE "NEXT BEST"

IF you did not use it last year inquire of someone who did and you will try it in 1908.

WE will buy your cotton seed and sell you meal at reasonable prices, or we will exchange Meal for Seed on a liberal basis delivering the meal at any railroad station in the county.

SACKS furnished to seed shippers upon request.

WRITE or telephone us at once how many seed you have, what station you can ship from and whether you wish to sell for cash or exchange for meal. All enquiries will have prompt attention

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific nerve sickness—nothing else.
It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.
For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

"Boost the Booster!"

That's the official slogan of a certain town in Arkansas which through boosting itself and boosting its boosters has doubled its population since the 1900 census.

BOOST THE BOOSTER!
The Arkansas town had been quarreling among itself for years, and standing still. It had boosters, but it had others who refused to boost the boosters, refused to stand by them and yell, "Good boy—keep it up!"

BOOST THE BOOSTER!
Finally the town got together with itself, organized a "Boost the Booster Club" and began to boom. Now its principal thoroughfare, which was a stretch of mud, is a stretch of asphalt, and it has new buildings to match. Now everybody boosts the booster and booms the boom.

BOOST THE BOOSTER!
This town might take a hint from that one. We have our town boosters—every town has some. But sometimes they get discouraged because of opposition right here in our midst.

BOOST THE BOOSTER!
Cut out the criticism! Quit the queering! Boom the Boom! Then watch the old town perk up and plunge forward. You can see it move.

WHEN YOU BOOST THE BOOSTER YOU BOOM THE BOOM.

A DREAMING MATCH.

The Indian Did Pretty Well, but the White Man Did Better.

Among the famous Indian traders of the past was George Galphin, whose trading station at Silver Bluff, S. C., was frequented by Indians from far and near. In "Bench and Bar of South Carolina" a characteristic anecdote is related of Mr. Galphin and an Indian chief.

Chief Mogoloch from beyond the Savannah river spent the night at Mr. Galphin's. In the morning the Indian said, "Me dream last night."

"Ah!" said Galphin. "What did my red brother dream?"

"Me dream you give me fine big rifle," in Galphin's possession at the time.

The trader instantly passed the rifle to the chief, saying, "If you dreamed it, you must have it."

Next morning Galphin said to the chief, "I dreamed last night."

"What you dream?" asked Mogoloch.

"I dreamed you gave me the Chickasaw stallion," which the chief was then riding.

"If you dream um, you must have um," said the chief, and the horse was straightway transferred to the trader.

The next morning the Indian remarked, "I dream last night."

"What did my red brother dream?" was the inquiry.

"I dream," answered Mogoloch, "you gave me red coat you wear and much calico."

"If you dreamed it, you must have it," said Galphin, and the Indian received the red coat and calico.

Next morning it was Galphin's turn. He said to the chief, "I dreamed last night."

"What you dream?" was Mogoloch's inquiry.

"I dreamed," replied Galphin, "you gave me ten miles of land around the Ogeechee old town."

"Wugh!" said the Indian. "If you dream, you must have um, but I dream with you no more."

The Impossible Truth.

In one of Silas Hocking's novels there is an irresistible scene which some of the critics condemned as too absurdly impossible. A farmer and his pretty but strong minded wife arrive for service, put up their horse and cart at the village inn, then take their places in their pew, bringing in their whip with them. During the sermon the farmer, rendered drowsy by the heat and the after effects of a heavy week's work, nods and finally falls asleep. His wife quietly reaches out for the whip in the corner of the pew, picks it up and gives him a regular dealer's cut across the ear with the lash, with a supremely funny tableau for sequel. That was what the critics declared to be an impossible situation. As a fact, the present writer heard the whole story from Mr. Hocking's lips. It actually happened before his eyes, and he was the preacher. The heroine of the story is still alive on her farm near Boston, Lincolnshire.—St. James' Gazette.

Old French Dial Ring.

"A dial ring," said the curio dealer—"a French dial ring of the eighteenth century. You can tell the time with it."

The ring, of gold, was beautifully chased, and where the stone sparkles usually there was set a tiny sundial.

"All you have to do," said the dealer, "is to stand in the right way, holding the dial so that the sun strikes it, and a tiny shadow will tell you the hour. Such a ring," he concluded, "is more a curio than an accurate timepiece. It is only good in the locality it is made for, and even there, unless it is set toward the right point of the compass, it will be several hours out of the way."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Unobliging Moon.

As illustrating the care with which preparations should be made for night marches, Brigadier General Sir Henry Rawlinson, speaking at the Royal United Service Institution, said they should always consult an almanac and not be "sold," as on one occasion in South Africa, when the force was directed to march at 9:30 p. m., when the moon rose. The army waited in vain for the moon to rise, and some considerable delay and confusion occurred when it was discovered that on that particular night there was a total eclipse.—London Mail.

Only One End.

A young couple had been married by a Quaker, and after the ceremony he remarked to the husband: "Friend, thou art at the end of thy troubles."

A few weeks after the man came to the good minister boiling with rage, having found his wife to be a regular vixen, and said: "I thought you told me I was at the end of my troubles?"

"So I did, friend, but I did not say which end," replied the Quaker.

The best coffee substitute ever made, has recently been produced by Dr. Hoop, of Racine, Wis. You don't have to boil twenty or thirty minutes. "Made in a minute" says the doctor. "Health coffee" is really the best coffee imitation ever yet produced. A grain of real coffee in it either Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted cereals or grains, with malt, nut, etc. Really it would feel an expert—were he to unknowingly drink it for coffee. Are you having trouble with your kidneys? There are lots of people today who wonder why they have pains across the back, why they are tired and sick in the night and a million other things are wrong. They need relief without delay. Take DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills; they are for weak back, inflammation of the bladder, backache and weak kidneys, sold by J. L. Wooten's drug store.

It appears that some captains of industry are not captains at home.

Thousands of men and women in all walks of life are suffering from kidney and bladder troubles. Don't neglect your kidneys. Delays are dangerous. DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills afford quick relief for all forms of kidney and bladder trouble. A week's treatment 25c. Sold by J. L. Wooten's drug store.

Don't expect to strike any man favorably if you aim at his pocket book.

TO MY FRIENDS.

Having been away for several months I wish to announce to my friends and patrons of the "empire" of Pitt that I am still connected with the firm of Chas. M. Stieff, and if bachelors are allowed to misuse the happy term home as a synonym for a "hanging out place" I still call Greenville my home, and while I intend to be away from Greenville a great deal of my time during this fall a postal care of box 325, Greenville, will reach me within a day or two. We now have a number of slightly used upright pianos, some of which have been rented during the summer months, others which were temporarily used by artists at the exposition and for orchestra work, at bargain prices.

We also offer a special school piano for $225 00 fully measuring up in standard to any $350 00 instrument. This piano is especially built for college and school work for the special price named above and is full guaranteed by my firm for 10 years. Those interested in a school piano or in a good slightly used piano for the home should write me at once and will profit by it, and as ever I am always mindful of my patrons' protection and interest as well as my firm's interest. Grateful of past patronage. Very respt., G. G. Fineman, Box 325 Greenville, N. C.

Land Sale.

By virtue of a mortgage executed and delivered by A. E. Tucker and wife to J. P. Quinerly on the second day of January 1904 and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt county in Book X-7 page 318, the undersigned will sell before the Court house door in Greenville on Monday the 3rd day of February 1905 the following described two tracts of land, situate partly in Contentnea township and partly in Beaver Dam township: One tract called the Flanagan place being the same deeded to A. E. Tucker by A. C. Tucker and wife April 4th 1898 and recorded in Book K-6 page 94 in the Register's Office of Pitt county containing 181 acres more or less.

Also one other tract adjoining the above and known as the May place and fully described in a deed from W. H. Taylor and wife to A. E. Tucker recorded in Book N-6 page 281 of the Register of deeds office of Pitt county, containing 40 acres more or less. Reference to both of which deeds is hereby made for better description.

Terms of sale: One half cash balance payable in 12 months, or all cash to suit the purchaser. Said property will be sold in 60 acre lots or as a whole to the best advantage. This January 3rd 1905. J. P. QUINERLY, F. G. James Attorney.

Preparing Gold Powder.

Finely powdered gold may be prepared by a most simple process. Fill a small unglazed earthenware bowl with common kitchen salt, cover it and expose it for some hours to heat. The stove oven is a good place for it. When the water has all been dried out put equal quantities of this salt powder and honey on a glass grinding plate and mix in with it the necessary quantity of gold leaf. Grind this up very gently, being careful not to press hard on the mass. The salt acts as a disintegrator, and the honey is used because it will not dissolve the salt. When the gold is reduced to the finest possible powder it must be thoroughly and carefully washed with an abundance of pure water to remove the salt and honey.

Revenge.

Two Thompsons lived next door to each other, and, having to call on one of them, Green of course went to the wrong house. A crabbed servant answered the bell, and on Green asking, "Is this Mr. John Thompson's?" she replied snappishly as if she had been bothered with many such inquiries: "No, it ain't," and slammed the door in his face.

Green walked on a few yards or so, when a bright thought struck him. He returned at once and rang the same bell. Again the crabbed servant appeared. "Who said it was?" asked Green and triumphantly walked away.—London Answers.

Mixed Metaphor.

Edwin Markham at a dinner said of mixed metaphors: "When I was teaching in Los Angeles I used to read every week a little country paper whose editor's metaphors were an unending joy to me. Once, I remember, this editor wrote of a contemporary, 'Thus the black lie issuing from his base throat becomes a boomerang in his hand and, hoisting him by his own petard, leaves him a marked man for life.' He said in an article on home life, 'The faithful watchdog or his good wife standing at the door welcomes the master home with an honest bark.' In an obituary of a farmer he wrote: 'The race was run at last. Like a tired steed, he crossed the harbor bar and, casting aside whip and spur, lay down upon that bourn from which no traveler returns.'—Rochester Herald.

BLOCK AND BLANKET.

There Was Nothing Dainty About This English Squire's Bed.

An old highland chief, finding his youngest son, a mere boy, sleeping on the battlefield with a huge snowball under his head, kicked it away, exclaiming: "What do ye want wi' a pillow? I'll nae such effeminacy in my family!" A similar aversion to "effeminacy" marked Charles Waterson, an English squire, who in early life had wandered through many lands as a naturalist, intent on making collections of birds, reptiles, insects and wild beasts.

The bedroom where the squire slept and also prepared the specimens in his natural history collection was in the roof and open to the rafters. Across a stretched rope were thrown a striped blanket and his working clothes. The furniture was rough, coarse and scanty—an old deal table, three crazy chairs, a deal clothespress and a chest of drawers. The floor, deal boards, was uncarpeted.

Mrs. Byrne, who narrates the incident in her volume, "Social Hours With Celebrities," on surveying it remarked on the anomaly of a bedroom lacking a bed.

"I've long learned that a bed is a useless luxury," said the squire, drawing from a corner an oblong block of oak two feet long, ten inches wide, eight inches deep, hollowed and polished in the middle. Then he pulled down the striped blanket, rolled it around him and lay down on the bare boards, resting his head on the block.

"There, that's my bed! It's soon made, and I'll answer for it none of you sleep more soundly than I."

For thirty years the block and blanket had been the squire's bed, summer and winter, in health and sickness. When traveling, as he couldn't carry about his timber pillow, he used the best substitute he could devise. Once he was Mrs. Byrne's guest in London and, as usual, retired to rest at 9 o'clock. The German maid, not supposing that he had retired at so early an hour, went into the bedroom to take in the can of hot water. She gave a scream and rushed out. The next morning her mistress asked for an explanation.

"Ach, vell may you ask! I went into de room, and vat did I see? A long body roll up in a blanket on de floor and a cray head on a portman-teau."

What About Christmas?

With the compliments of the season to all our readers we ask you the question of the hour

WHAT ABOUT CHRISTMAS

The children are asking it with wondering and hopeful expectations of what Santa Claus is likely to bring them.

The older people are asking it, not so much in speculation regarding the remembrance that Christmas will bring to them, but rather as an inquiry as to how they are to provide suitable and satisfactory presents for relatives and friends without too heavy a drain upon their time and purse.

May we help you to solve the problem and put you in the way of doing your Christmas shopping with pleasure satisfaction and economy?

We offer the advantage of selection that can only be found in a very extensive showing of first class goods. We take pleasure in pleasing customers and will do all in our power to help you to just the right article at the right price, so that you may leave our store glad that you came, and perfectly satisfied with your purchases in every respect.

IN A NEW LIGHT.

How a Different Point of View May Change the Whole Aspect.

Discontent or satisfaction with an object often depends entirely on the way in which it is regarded. A difference in the point of view changes the whole aspect. This truth is well illustrated by a pleasing little incident of Robert Dale Owen's childhood, told by himself in "Threading My Way."

Near the isolated country seat where I spent my boyhood there was a footbridge but little more than a mile away. For the first ten years of my life I was forbidden to cross it, and until then I never walked on the turnpike road.

One day father told William and me that he would take us to walk over the bridge and to the other side of the river. This was blissful news.

He conducted us by a winding country road up the opposite bank of the stream. Suddenly the view called out my youthful admiration. Across the river appeared a large house standing in beautiful grounds not very distinctly seen through the trees. Spacious gardens were surrounded by walls, there was a large greenhouse, and beyond stretched a meadow.

"Oh," I exclaimed, "what a beautiful house, papa! Don't I wish I could live there! What a time we could have!"

My father smiled. "We are going to live there, my son," he said.

"Truly, papa?"

"Yes."

"Oh, I am so glad! There must be plenty of nuts there."

"You have never seen the house before?" asked father.

"Of course not. We have never been here before."

"True. Take a good look at the grounds. What do you think of them?"

I did so and announced they were much larger and finer than ours.

"My child," said father, "you are doing what much wiser and older people have done before. You are looking from a distance at a beautiful place with envious eyes. It is a very pretty place. It is Boxfield, your own home, where you have lived all your life."

A Puzzle.

"There's wan thing," said Cassidy in the restaurant, "that's always puzzled me."

"Only wan thing?" piped Casey sarcastically. "An' w'at's that?"

"Is turtle soup fish whin 'tis made out o' veal?"—New York Globe.

Pedigree of "Tote."

"Tote" is good English on higher authority than that it is a colloquialism which has become engrafted into our language. It is Anglo-Saxon to the core, as, says Bosworth's Anglo-Saxon Dictionary, London, edition of 1852, thus: "Tote from Totian, to lift up, to carry in the hands or upon the person in the same sense as the Latin—Tollere." Tote is not known except among English descended people and is unquestionably correct, although now obsolete to a great extent.—New Orleans Picayune.

Poor Woman!

"Yes," declared a suffragette, "women have been wronged for ages. They have suffered in a thousand ways."

"There is one way in which they have never suffered," said a meek looking man standing up in the rear of the hall.

"What way is that?" demanded the suffragette.

"They have never suffered in silence."—London Telegraph.

Treating Warts.

Children's hands are often disfigured by warts, and they can be cured in a simple way. Get harts-horn and sweet oil of equal mixture and paint the warts with this each day. It is slow, yet thoroughly satisfactory. Acetic acid touched to the most tenacious warts will in time kill them, and they can be easily removed. Most children, however, object to your cutting even the dead part away, since they have a fear of its hurting. After removing warts wash the parts with a weak solution of carbolic acid. A drop of peroxide of hydrogen in the cavity will cleanse all impurities. Do not believe in such absurd things as superstitious persons entertain for the removal of warts, for warts are almost as difficult to remove as teeth, and the foolish notion which has ever prevailed of causing them to disappear through some magic is not to be thought of in this enlightened age.—Exchange.
