WANTS TO CUT OFF TRAINS.

Atlantic Coast Line Wants to Lessen Service on This Road.

In a letter to the Kinston Free Press, State Senator Y. T. Ormond says the Atlantic Coast Line R. R. Co., has filed with the corporation/commission notice that trains Nos. 73 and 74 will be discontinued. These trains are those that arrive at Kinston from Weldon at 12.30 o'clock and leave Kinston at 3.20 o'clock p. m. The corporation commission has ordered that said trains be not discontinued until there can be investigation and has asked for certain information to enable it to act intelligently. This information has not yet been furnished but it is expected at any time and the matter will probably be taken up next week.

In the notice filed it is stated that those trains are unprofitable and on account of reduced fares etc., the discontinuance is desired. The statement of receipts and disbursements embracing September October and November, shows that in the operation of these trains there has been no loss but a small profit, though very small.

The chamber of commerce of Greenville has already taken action in this matter and sent a protest to the State corporation commission against these trains being discontinued. If all other towns interested will act at once the trains may not be taken off.

Thought Him Dead.

In a letter received by a friend in this city information is given that near Hamilton last week a Mr. Gurganus who was ill with pneumonia and who was thought to be dead, narrowly escaped being buried alive. The body had been prepared for burial and had been placed in the coffin, when sounds as if coughing were heard coming therefrom. Upon opening the casket the man was found to be alive, and at last accounts was on the road to recovery. — Rocky Mount Echo.

PYTHIAN BANQUET.

Tar River Lodge The Host—Large Crowd Present and Plenty to Eat.

Whatever the Pythians undertake they perform, and the manner of this performing in social affairs is with such ease as makes it delightful. The career of Tar River Lodge has been marked with many charming entertainments, but none of them surpassed in elegance and real enjoyment the banquet given on Friday night.

The first half hour of the occasion was devoted to a reception in Masonic hall where a large number of chivalrous men and beautifully gowned women met and passed the time pleasantly. At 10 o'clock Mayor F. M. Wooten tendered a brief hearty welcome to the guests, closing with an invitation to repair to the banquet in the Pythian hall.

A scene of striking beauty was their castle hall in its splendid arrangement and artistic decoration in Pythian colors—blue, orange and red—shields bearing the motto "F. C. B." being prominent.

After an invocation by Rev. M. T. Plyler the guests were quickly seated at the richly laden tables and enjoyed an elegant menu of oyster cocktails, old ham, turkey, crackers, wafers, olives, coffee with whipped cream, ice cream and cake, that was prepared by the ladies of the End of the Century Book Club.

Mr. R. C. Flanagan presided as toast master and proved the right man to wear this honor. His introductions of the speakers, as well as his apologies for the absent ones, were timely and witty, and at the end of the regular program his calls for impromptu toasts were such decided hits as to bring applause from the guests, even if those called upon were too modest to respond.

The regular toasts that were responded to were as follows, the speeches being excellent:

"Pythianism," Mayor F. M. Wooten.

Pythianism, its Regard for Women," Mr. F. C. Harding.

"Secret Orders and Their Relation to the Churches," Rev. D. W. Arnold.

Ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis and Prof. H. B. Smith were also to have responded to toasts, but weather conditions prevented the former, and sickness the latter, from being present to fill their part of the program.

The banquet was immensely enjoyed by every guest, and the occasion will be long and pleasantly remembered as one of the brightest events in Greenville's social life.

Layman Will Speak.

Mrs. J. S. Mundy, of Newark, N. J., will occupy the pulpit of Memorial Baptist church tomorrow night, and speak on the subject of "Indifference." All cordially invited. Young men especially should hear him.

Farmers' Meeting.

Monday is the day for the farmers' educational meeting here and the attendance should be large. Those who stay away will miss much that is for their benefit.

WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From Our Hustling Neighbor.

Winterville, N. C., Feb. 1st. G. T. Tyson, from near Farmville, was here Friday to take his son Elbert home to spend Sunday.

The Vance literary society gave a good debate last night. You may expect to hear from the boys later in a public debate. A. G. Cox has constructed a wood saw mill by a gasoline engine. It does the work nicely and it only requires a few minutes to devour a cord of wood. E. F. Tucker, one of our rural free delivery carriers, is detained at his home on account of a gripe.

We notice from the amount of wire being carried away from here that there is a great amount of wire fence taking the place of the old rail fences. This will make a decided improvement in the appearance of our farms and will also do away with so many law suits concerning mischievous stock.

Mrs. M. G. Bryan is visiting relatives near Whichard.

Miss Lala Chapman came in from Stokes yesterday afternoon to spend Sunday.

Misses Fannie Mizell, Roland Stallings and Ethel Flowers went to Greenville today.

R. M. Page, of Stokes, spent the night with J. R. Cooper.

Jno Flanagan and M. G. Bryan went to Greenville today.

Store Burned in Greene County.

A special to The Kinston Free Press says that Mr. W. D. Mewborn's store, at Jason, Greene county, was totally destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon. The fire caught in the oyster saloon and in a few minutes the flames had spread to the store which was entirely consumed. Efforts to extinguish the flames were useless. The majority of the stock of dry goods were saved but the stock of groceries was a total loss. The loss will amount to several thousand dollars, which is but partially covered by insurance.

Newspapers Saved the Day.

There was no real basis for a panic and yet the public seemed to demand panic. How then was terrifying situation ameliorated and the country saved from a financial wreck of tremendous proportions? Not by a knowledge of the conditions, for the public had that and threw it to winds. A simple declaration of fear on the part of a score of depositors was enough to start a run on any bank. Institutions were toppling on every hand, not because of unsoundness, but because of the inability of any bank to liquidate all its liabilities on a moment's notice. And yet where millions talked of ruin, and fought madly for deposits in October and November, the same millions in December spoke lightly of the late financial flurry.

How was this salvation worked? Simply by the iteration and reiteration of the true conditions, in the light of which a panic was unwarranted. And by whom the truth hammered home? By the American press.—Appleton's Magazine.

President Sends His Message to Congress.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Couched in phrase of resolution and determination, a message was received by Congress from the president today asserting the necessity for greater control of corporations by the government, deploring the attempt in certain quarters to create a reaction in favor of criminal business projects and asking for the re-enactment of the employers' liability act so that it shall be constitutional.

It is probable that the records of no government can show such a strong denunciation of illegal business ventures as is contained in this message. It shows that the president is as determined as ever to do all in his power to wipe out improper business dealings and deals in this country.

He points out that the use of injunctions in labor cases has been abused and asks that this be remedied by congress. He also declares that the government should not any damage to employes injured in its service.

HOUSE ADOPTS SENATE BILL.

Only Change Made Was to Cut Out Objectionable Buxton Amendment.

After a struggle of four hours, the House at 10:30 last night passed the Senate rate bill, after cutting out the Buxton amendment. It had previously voted down the Yount bill (practically the Senate bill) and had by a large majority voted for the Weaver bill. Almost solidly until the last vote the Republicans voted against every measure looking to any agreement, but on the vote to take the Senate bill several Republicans changed their vote and supported the Senate bill, thus giving it a majority of 59 to 50.

The Weaver bill was the best of the two, particularly as strengthened by the Justice amendment requiring the railroads to put in operation the freight rate bill which Judge Pritchard enjoined. But the House greatly strengthened the Senate bill by cutting out all reference to the Corporation Commission, thus making it impossible for a Federal Judge to enjoin the operation of the act.

The Senate will accept the bill as amended by the House and the bill as amended will become a law today. It carries out the recommendations of the Governor, putting his promises into statute but leaving no obligation upon the railroad except its promises to Governor Glenn to put on sale the mileage book and to sell interstate tickets at 2½ cents instead of 3 cents, as at present.

The bill also exempts all independent railroads not over 100 miles long from the lower rate and lets them put up the fare to 3 cents. This, too, was in accordance with the recommendation of the governor.—Raleigh News and Observer.

The senate was expected to concur today in the action of the house in cutting off the Buxton amendment, in which event the special session would adjourn.

SATURDAY, FEB. 1st. 1908.

Greensboro gets the Republican State convention, so should be satisfied to let Charlotte have the other one.

So far as we have seen no legislator has arisen to the opportunity in presenting a bill to prevent ground hogs running at large.

It was thought early in the week that the special session of the legislature would be ready to adjourn by today, but with the controversy over the rate bill the end is not yet in sight.

Surely North Carolina has made enough advancement in twenty seven years to reverse a majority of one hundred and sixteen thousand against prohibition in 1881 to one hundred thousand for prohibition in 1908. Don't let it be under that figure

The papers the past week have contained many accounts of disastrous fires. In the midst of such high winds as prevail fires are exceedingly dangerous and people cannot be too careful in taking every care to prevent one starting.

The South Carolina legislature killed a bill for prohibition in that State. Doubtless they thought to step from the whiskey scandals in that State to prohibition would be too rapid reform.

When some of you folks who have money hid around the house find that robbers have broken in and carried it off, you will wish that you had put it in the bank. There are seven good banks in Pitt county, either of which will keep your money in safety and pay you interest on it.

The case has shown quite conclusively that Thaw is not a sane man, but just what the jury will say about it is another question. At any rate the trial will soon be over and it is to be hoped that it will not come up again.

Street paving in Greenville will soon begin, with work on the training school buildings to follow soon. And perhaps by spring the steel bridge across Tar river may be started. Don't this look like there will be something doing in Greenville this summer? Yet you can hear some people talk nothing but panic and hard times ahead.

Several ladies of South Carolina visited the legislature of that State while a prohibition bill was pending, and took hymn books along with them. The speaker spied the hymn books in the gallery and had the sergeant-at-arms quietly inform the ladies that they must not sing. The solons don't know what they missed.

They are trying to get up more law suits against Mrs. Eddy. Looks like they might give the woman a rest in her old age.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. WHO'S WHO AND WHY

Who made the best crop in Pitt County during the year 1907

EVERYBODY admits that this has been a bad crop year and as a whole it has been, but some planters had bounteous yields in return for their labours.

Why because they used Cotton Seed Meal as a Fertilizer.

DR. BONSTEEL of the Bureau of Soils of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in his address to the planters of Pitt county strongly advised its use, stating that as a fertilizer stable manure was the best adapted to our soil and the next best was cotton seed meal.

WINTERVILLE MEAL IS THE BEST OF THE "NEXT BEST"

IF you did not use it last year inquire of someone who did and you will try it in 1908.

WE will buy your cotton seed and sell you meal at reasonable prices, or we will exchange Meal for Seed on a liberal basis delivering the meal at any railroad station in the county.

SACKS furnished to seed shippers upon request.

WRITE or telephone us at once how many seed you have, what station you can ship from and whether you wish to sell for cash or exchange for meal. All enquiries will have prompt attention

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible, but I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.
In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. How Many Bricks Have You Sent Away?

That sounds like a funny question, addressed to every citizen of this town and community, but it's really a serious one.

Listen: There is now just completed a magnificent building of red brick exterior and concrete interior right in the business heart of one of the biggest of American cities. It occupies a whole block and calls itself in a large lettered sign "The Largest Monolithic Building in the World." It has many floors, with about a hundred acres of floor space. The entrances are of solid marble. The floors are beautifully tiled. Altogether it is a credit to the big city in which it stands. Oh, it's a Jim Dandy!

Now, how many bricks have you sent to the city to go into this big building? Honest, how many?

Of the hundreds of thousands of bricks put into the walls of this building the city where it stands has contributed not a single red brick. Country people, the people of small towns and cities far away from the big metropolis, have sent in the bricks for the construction of this splendid edifice.

You may have sent in a few hods of bricks yourself without knowing it.

Listen: This magnificent structure, which ornaments a city you probably never will see yourself, is built of bricks bought with the dollars of people living in towns just like ours—towns that would like to have some new brick buildings themselves now and then. Every dollar contributed to the city building fund means a nice, hefty hod of bricks for this big, beautiful skyscraper, "largest in the world" of its kind. This building was put up, through the kind donations of their unknown country cousins, by a firm that ran a small store in that city a few years ago.

But this firm conceived the cute idea of having thousands of strangers contribute bricks to build its fine, large, new store.

And the building is a Mail Order Store. See?

The Holidays Have Passed and all are down to business again.

CONCENTRATED FOOD.

It Would Prove a Poor Diet and Destructive to Humanity.

"It is a notion fondly cherished by some persons," writes a prominent English physician in a London medical journal, "that the day will come when the human race will subsist entirely on highly concentrated food. The time occupied in eating the daily meals will be saved by swallowing a tablet of concentrated essence, and all questions of fastidiousness for food will be banished, while the dyspepsia arising from an overbulky and hastily swallowed meal will finally disappear.

"The idea is of course utterly fallacious and plainly opposed to sound physiological teaching. Such a dietetic consummation thus innocently entertained would probably end in the extinction of the race by disease as a sequence of inanition. The fact is that the volume of food serves a definite purpose in the body.

"Highly concentrated foods are prone to be very irritating to the digestive organs, and they also tend to exhaust the secretory powers of the stomach, the digestive juices being poured out in a quantity far in excess of the requirements of that food, and thus secretory energy, which is the key to assimilation, is uselessly spent.

"Concentrated meat essences containing merely the extractives of meat are, for example, the most powerful exciters of gastric secretion that we possess, but when partaken of exclusively they avail nothing in the direction of real nutrition and lead most likely to serious waste of tissue—in a word, to starvation.

"They serve admirably, however, as a kind of condiment or adjuvant to food, preparing the ground for its reception and digestion; hence soup is the first item in the physiologically well designed meal. When kept within reasonable limits the bulkiness of food excites a healthy stimulus to the muscular action of the stomach and the bowels, and altogether the indications are plain that the digestive organs are not adapted for dealing with highly concentrated food.

"Food must have, so to speak, a physiological ballast before it is acceptable to the digestive processes. The simplest way of reducing the bulk of most foods is by depriving them of their natural moisture. Eight pounds of mutton or beef would thus be reduced to two pounds of dry substance, but the water must be replaced to a large extent before the meat can be cooked or eaten.

"There are, of course, particular cases, as, for example, in illness, in which it is necessary that the diet should be sparing in quantity and yet highly nutritious in quality, but in health the use of concentrated foods is physiologically absurd, if not mischievous. The time when men will take for their meals and be satisfied with as much concentrated food as will cover a three-penny piece can never be so long as the human mechanism is as it is and physiological laws are inexorable."

Man's Best Age.

At what age is a man at his best and most likely to achieve his life work? The Rev. F. B. Meyer once put the age at forty-six. That seemed late to a critic, but Dr. Leonard Guthrie at the Royal College of Physicians supported the statement. He quoted Jastro's table dealing with specially precocious people, which showed that the average age at which great artists did their first work was 13.8; their first great work, 28; their greatest work, 46.7, and that the average age at death was 60.1. For poets the figures in the same order were 15.6, 27.8, 43.9 and 61.6; for philosophers, 17.6, 32.1, 47.7 and 66.3. Here is comfort for those who think of middle life as flat prose.—Sunday School Chronicle.

His Business.

"You say the officer arrested you while you were quietly minding your own business?"

"Yes, your worship. He caught me suddenly by the coat collar and threatened to strike me with his truncheon unless I accompanied him to the station."

"You were quietly attending to your business—making no noise or disturbance of any kind?"

"None whatever."

"It seems very strange. What is your business?"

"He's a burglar, your worship," said the constable.—London Globe.

A Proposal.

Thomas—I suppose, Susie, that there comes to every woman sooner or later an irresistible yearning to lay her head upon some strong man's shoulder and give vent to the outpourings of a full heart.

Susie (timidly)—Yes, Thomas.

Thomas—Well, Susie, if you feel that way my shoulder is at your disposal.—London Telegraph.

TO MY FRIENDS.

Having been away for several months I wish to announce to my friends and patrons of the "Empire" of Pitt that I am still connected with the firm of Chas. M. Stieff, and if bachelors are allowed to misuse the happy term home as a synonym for a "hanging out place" I still call Greenville my home, and while I intend to be away from Greenville a great deal of my time during this fall a postal care of box 325, Greenville, will reach me within a day or two. We now have a number of slightly used upright pianos, some of which have been rented during the summer months, others which were temporarily used by artists at the exposition and for orchestra work, at bargain prices.

We also offer a special school piano for $225.00 fully measuring up in standard to any $350.00 instrument. This piano is especially built for college and school work for the special price named above and is full guaranteed by my firm for 10 years. Those interested in a school piano or in a good slightly used piano for the home should write me at once and will profit by it, and as ever I am always mindful of my patrons' protection and interest as well as my firm's interest. Grateful of past patronage.

Very resp.,
G. G. Fineman,
Box 325 Greenville, N. C.

IT DOES THE BUSINESS

Mr. E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Maine, says of Ficklen's Arnica Salve "It does the business; I have used it for piles and it cured them. Used it for hopped hands and it cured them. Applied it to an old sore and it healed it without leaving a scar behind." 25c at J. L. Wooten's drug store.

A LITTLE MARPLOT.

Margaret's Guileless Watchfulness Over a Pair of Lovers.

On the return voyage of one of the big liners not long ago were two little girls, cousins, of twelve and thirteen years. They got on beautifully together, though they differed in disposition and character as well as in appearance, Sallie, the elder, being an extremely discreet little woman, while Margaret's methods were distinctly guileless. Sallie, too, was tall and slender and Margaret a real little ball of hard, white flesh.

Both their mothers were too ill to be on deck, and when the voyage was a little more than half over Sallie descended one day to her aunt's stateroom with a troubled face.

"Auntie," she said, "I do wish you'd speak to Margaret. Honestly, she hasn't one bit of tact. There is the dearest young lady aboard, Miss Agnew, and Mr. Phillips is in love with her, I know. Anyhow, they wander off by themselves every afternoon and are gone for hours. And yesterday Margaret followed them and stayed all the time—she ought to know better."

Margaret's mother sighed and seized the first opportunity to have it out with her daughter.

"Oh, my fat Peggy, you didn't follow Miss Agnew and Mr. Phillips, did you?"

"Yes, mother, I did," responded Margaret unfalteringly. "Every single day they go away and stay for hours, and I couldn't think what they found to talk about so long, and I wanted to know, so I thought I'd go and see."

She paused for breath, and her mother's sigh became a groan. Then she resumed: "And I went, and they sat down together and never said a word! I stood right in front of them and sucked my orange and watched them. After a long time Miss Agnew said wasn't it a lovely day, and Mr. Phillips said how blue the sky was, and oh, look, there's a sail! And, mother, they didn't talk about another thing all the time I stood there, 'most two hours, listening hard. Once Miss Agnew asked if I wasn't cold, and I said how could I be with my nice thick reefer? Mr. Phillips looked cross somehow, but after awhile he got very pleasant again and said:

"Aren't you hungry, Margaret? Don't you want to go and get another orange?"

"No, I don't," said I. "I'm not hungry. I've had eight today already."

"And then, mother, they didn't stay there any longer. I saw Mr. Phillips go into the smoking room, and Miss Agnew said she was so tired she guessed she'd have a nap." —New York Times.

At times when you don't feel just right, when you have a bad stomach, take something right away that will assist digestion; not something that will stimulate for a time but something that will positively do the very work that the stomach performs under ordinary and normal conditions, something that will make the food digest. To do this you must take a natural digestant like Kodol For Dyspepsia. Kodol is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids with natural digestants and contains the same juices found in a healthy stomach. Each dose will digest more than 3,000 grains of good food. It is sure to afford prompt relief; it digests what you eat and is pleasant to take. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

Many a man who has the respect of others is minus self-respect.

The trouble with most cough remedies is that they constipate. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts gently but promptly on the bowels and at the same time it stops the cough by soothing the throat and lung irritation. Children like it. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

"Health coffee" is really the closest coffee imitation ever yet produced. This, the finest coffee substitute ever made, has recently been produced by Dr. Shoop, of Racine, Wis. Not a grain of real coffee in it. Health coffee is made from pure toasted cereals, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert—who might drink it for coffee. "Made in a minute" says the doctor. T. E. Hooker & Co.

Bert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says: "I have only taken four doses of your Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills as I wait a perfect cure." Mr. Barber refers to DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. They are sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

Grippe is sweeping the country. Stop it with Preventics, before it gets deeply seated. To check early colds with these little Candy Cold Cure Tablets is surely sensible and safe. Preventics contain no Quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh or sickening. Pneumonia would never appear if early colds were promptly broken. Also good for feverish children. Large box, 45 tablets, 25 cents. Vest pocket boxes 5 cents. Sold by Bryan's Drug Store.

You cannot secrete it anywhere that it is not subject to loss. Try putting it in THE NATIONAL BANK. You'll be surprised how you at once are relieved of all worry as to its safety. With the compliments of the season to all our readers we ask you the question of the hour

WHAT ABOUT CHRISTMAS

The children are asking it with wondering and hopeful expectations of what Santa Claus is likely to bring them.

The older people are asking it, not so much in speculation regarding the remembrance that Christmas will bring to them, but rather as an inquiry as to how they are to provide suitable and satisfactory presents for relatives and friends without too heavy a drain upon their time and purse.

May we help you to solve the problem and put you in the way of doing your Christmas shopping with pleasure satisfaction and economy?

We offer the advantage of selection that can only be found in a very extensive showing of first class goods. We take pleasure in pleasing customers and will do all in our power to help you to just the right article at the right price, so that you may leave our store glad that you came, and perfectly satisfied with your purchases in every respect.

Circumstances Alter Cases.

"Now, I want to know how long it will be before I get an answer to this letter?" a young lady demanded, with a telltale blush, as she handed the postoffice clerk a communication addressed to her lover.

"That depends," said his majesty's representative reflectively. "If he's in jail, they only let them write once a week and in some places only once a month, on Sundays. If he's dead broke, he'll have to wait until he earns the price of a stamp, and I have no data on which to base an opinion of his earning capacities. If he's ill in bed, he may feel demoralized, tating his real sentiments to a cold, disinterested third person, and if it's smallpox they won't let him write at all. Then, again, if he's got a new girl!"

Defeated by a Laugh.

A simple question put in parliament some years ago caused a laugh throughout all England and defeated a great measure. Mr. Curzon, then undersecretary for India, was making a long and elaborate speech against a measure urged by the opposition as certain to result in a loss to the government of many lacs of rupees. He repeated with emphasis, "Consider—not pounds nor guineas, but lacs of rupees."

A quiet voice on the opposition benches asked, "Exactly how much is a lac of rupees?"

Mr. Curzon opened his mouth, stammered, grew red and then, with English candor, said, "I really don't know." The house laughed, and in that laugh he lost his cause.

Tremendous High-grade Stock of Fine Merchandise Having been brought to Greenville and Placed in C. T. MUNFORD'S big store for a quick sale.

CONSIDERATION! After considering what we and our Creditors think best, and they say the only wise thing to do with this combined gigantic stock of high-grade merchandise is to sell and satisfy our creditors, the best way possible, as we have no ready cash to keep them quiet, we must listen to them, have this sale, and throw this immense stock on the market. We must take their advice, mark it down like they say, so we can raise a few dollars to send them so that every time the train blows our color won't change, knowing that as soon as the mail is handed to us we will open after where some house writes like this: "You must pay this bill at once."

Our Doors will be thrown open to the Public January the Twenty-fifth, 1908
