MEETING OF ALDERMEN.

Long Session With Small Amount of Business.

The board of aldermen held its regular monthly meeting Thursday night, and was in session until 11 o'clock but did not transact any considerable amount of business. All the members were present, except from the fifth ward, the vacancy in that ward not yet being filled.

The standing committees had no reports to make, but the finance committee gave notice that funds were getting low.

Amos Edwards was relieved of poll tax because of disability.

Dray license formerly granted to E. S. Edwards was changed to wood dealers license. Livery license was granted to J. B. Peed for six months from Jan. 1st.

Reduction of $50 was made in valuation of a lot owned by Henry Duff.

Dr. E. A. Moye made application for sewerage connection to the plant of the Greenville Mfg. Co. The matter was referred to the water and light committee with instructions to confer with the water and light commissioners as to the advisability of sewer extensions.

Miles Short was granted dray license.

The Electric Theatre made application for license to run a moving picture show and the rate was made $10 per month or $30 per year.

The water and light committee reported that something should be done at the plant at once, as the filterer is inadequate to the needs of the town.

On motion of Alderman Carr a committee was appointed to request the water and light commission to make immediate inspection of the plant and take steps to increase the filtering capacity.

Aldermen Flanagan offered a motion that a committee be appointed to give notice to the citizens of the town that owing to the scarcity of water, and the need in case a fire should occur, water is being pumped into the standpipe direct from the coagulating basin instead of through the filterers.

The several officers made report of collections for the past month.

Brinkley & Lassiter presented a bill for $75 for damage to their property by a sewer crossing it, and it was referred to a committee for investigation.

Orders were drawn on the treasurer, aggregating $956.

AYDEN ITEMS.

News Notes From a Hustling Town, Briefly Told.

Ayden, N. C., Feb. 7th 1908. Mrs. W. M. Forrest has purchased the stock of millinery of Miss Annie Dudley of Ayden and Miss Rosa Quinerly, of Grifton, and will conduct the business at the old stand of Miss Dudley in Ayden. Miss Annie Dudley will be in charge.

Jno. Z. Brooks, of Grifton, was in town yesterday afternoon.

W. J. Hooks returned Wednesday from Raleigh where he had been engaged in the special session of the legislature.

We are glad to learn that our popular dentist, Dr. C. A. Riddick, is rapidly convalescing from a severe attack of la grippe.

At the regular meeting of the Knights of Pythians Wednesday night the following officers were installed by Deputy J. R. Turnage:

W. E. Hooks, G. C.; W. L. Browning, V. C.; W. M. Edwards, Prelate.; E. L. Turnage, M. W.; F. Lilly, M. A.; S. F. Nobles, K of R and S; C. G. Moore, M. F.; E. J. Gardner, M. E.; J. H. Tripp, I. G.; W. B. Tyson, O. G.

Mrs. S. Redditt, of Kinston, is in town on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bland.

The Bank of Ayden under the sound management of its President, Dr. Joseph Dixon, Cashier J. R. Smith, and Assistant Cashier Stancill Hodges, has had a very successful year and is constantly increasing its patronage. It is indeed a credit to our town to have such safe, conservative business men at the head of such an institution.

D. Gibb, secretary of the Ayden Lumber Co., returned last night from an extended trip to New York City.

The Fair Assessment System.

State Auditor Dixon, speaking yesterday of the recent meeting at Columbus, O., of State Auditors and other officers of various States, having to do with matters of taxation, said, that he found the methods of assessment of property in the other States effected the same inequalities in taxation that we have in North Carolina and in some States they are greater. An equitable method is that of Illinois, in which State all property is assessed at its actual value and taxed at one-fourth this. Dr. Dixon's idea is that the only fair thing is to list all property at its true value and adjust the tax rate accordingly. Under this system the taxable values in North Carolina would appear on the books at about twelve hundred millions instead of four hundred millions and the State tax would be about ten cents on the hundred dollars instead of twenty-five cents. This would be perfectly equitable and we cannot conceive of any other method that would.

This system in effect, Dr. Dixon would not allow counties to levy special taxes, since some of them adopt this means, under low assessments, of taking care of their own interests while leaving others not only to pay the expenses of the State government but themselves drawing from the treasury more money than they pay into it. These are known as the "pauper counties" and they ought to be ashamed of themselves.—Charlotte Observer.

Weather.

Fair tonight and Saturday. Temperature close to freezing on the coast tonight.

SOCIETY PLAY WAS A SUCCESS.

"Young Mrs. Winthrop" Was Well Played—Large Attendance Saw Production.

The performance of "Young Mrs. Winthrop," a society drama enacted by Greenville society people at Brown's opera house last night, was a splendid success. The proceeds were for St. Peter's Episcopal church here and the Methodist church of that town, and a considerable sum was realized. The attendance was large, and the patronage deserved. The play was splendidly acted by all the participants, from the leading part to the lowest.

Mrs. Jarvis, as Mrs. Ruth Winthrop, was excellent.

Mr. Roy Flanagan, as Douglas Winthrop, her son, was unusually fine in his part.

Miss Winnie Skinner, as Constance wife of the above deserves especial mention, and was applauded frequently. The part was skillfully handled, and her acting could hardly be improved upon.

Mr. John Ivey Smith, alias Buxton Scott, barrister, brought peace to the separated man and wife and applause from the audience. He was the real thing in this line, and his portrayal of the part was realistic to a degree.

Miss Lottie Skinner, as Mrs. Dick Chetwyn, a society lady, was a clever actor.

Miss Ethel Skinner, Mrs. Constance Winthrop's sister, a blind girl in love with Herbert, was extremely clever.

Mr. Will Lipscomb, as Herbert, was complimented on his work.

Mr. Brown, as Dr. Millbank, in a small part, was a realistic family physician.

Miss Mary Shelburn, an attendant, was clever in the part.

The staging of the play was cleverly executed, and the costumes of the ladies were handsome, with much jewelry.—Washington Messenger, 6th.

Credit to Dowd and Doughton.

The Observer has not, until the appearance this morning of Mr. Adams' last Raleigh special, done justice to Representative Dowd of Mecklenburg, for his skillful work in securing the passage by the House of the Senate rate compromise bill as a substitute for the Weaver-Preston bill, the Buxton amendment to the Senate bill having been first rejected. This was effected by quick action and tactful management, in which he had the valuable assistance of Mr. Doughton of Alleghany. The Senate bill, more nearly than any of the four which were projected upon the House, met the terms of the Glenn-Finley agreement, and it is a pleasure to offer felicitation to Mr. Dowd, who led in the matter, as well as to Mr. Douglass, upon the success of their effort to have the house accept it.—Charlotte Observer.

Will Farmers Learn?

There are all quantities and all kinds of free advice given by various classes of people for the benefit of various other classes. Josh Billings said once that there was advice enough floating around to run several such worlds as this. The statement of the famous Mr. Billings may have been true, but that did not alter the fact that some of the much free advice that floats about is good and worth heeding. Some once—yes, perhaps many—have hinted, or said plainly, to farmers that when they buy large quantities of fertilizers on a credit in the spring their profits will be correspondingly small in the fall. And while it is true that many worthy farmers are compelled to buy their fertilizer on a credit or not buy at all, it is also true that many farmers depend too much on commercial fertilizers and pay too little attention to raising manure in their horse stables, cow stalls, mule lots and the like. Only a few days ago we drove up to the mule lot of the best talking farmer in this community where we expected to see things in "apple pie order" from what we had heard about his farm. But to our surprise the mule lot, which was splendidly located for raising manure, did not contain a load of manure outside of the stalls, and not much inside. Mules were, walking around on the bare ground. It did not appear that there had been a load of trash of any kind put in the lot in six months or a year. That farmer is missing a fine opportunity for raising a nice quantity of lot manure through the winter. But we do not mean to give advice—only a suggestion or two. Will farmers soon learn to buy less fertilizer on a credit and raise more stall and lot manure?—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

The Visitors Here and People Who Travel.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Mundy, of Newark, N. J., who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ola Forbes, left this morning.

The Washington Messenger says Col. I. A. Sugg, of Greenville, is quite sick in the Washington hospital. Col. Sugg came home last week from a hospital in Baltimore, and he went to Washington a few days ago.

Tuesday Night.

People who have attended concerts given by the Schubert Symphony Club speak in highest terms of them. This club will appear in the opera house next Tuesday night under the auspices of the Odd Fellows.

"Big Tom" Wilson Dead.

Asheville, N. C., Feb. 6.—"Big Tom" Wilson, the famous hunter of Yancy county, is dead at his home in the mountains, aged 86 years. A widow survives.

"Big Tom" was the most celebrated and best known hunter in the mountains of Western North Carolina. He had slain over 200 bears. It was through the efforts of Prof. Mitchell, after whom Mount Mitchell, was named, was recovered, after that distinguished scientist had lost his life while lost on the mountain.

"Big Tom" maintained a tireless search for many weeks until at last located the lifeless remains of the man who had sacrificed his life to scientific research.

State Has 1,750 Rural Libraries.

There are in North Carolina approximately 1,750 rural libraries, and every day the list is being added to. There are at present very few counties in the State without a number of libraries and applications for more are being made each day.

The department of education today announced seventeen more libraries, the counties receiving these being Union, 1; Montgomery, 1; Lincoln, 1; Cleveland, 3; Stokes, 4; Lenoir, 4; Greene, 1; Person, 1; New Hanover, 1.—Raleigh Times.

School Children Starving.

New York, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Tower, principal of Public School No. 114, this city, in a public statement declares that many of her school children are forced to come to school without breakfast (because of poverty); that scores have fainted in the class-room from hunger; that she has reported the facts often and never gotten anything but promises from the public authorities. The statement of Mrs. Towers has caused a sensation today.

There was not any such weather down this way as struck to the north and west of us.

Women of Yozzo.

The women of the island of Yozzo, whence it is supposed came the original inhabitants of Japan, have a very peculiar custom of making up their faces to look as though they have mustaches. These women are called Ainus, and upon the upper lip of each Ainu belle is tattooed something that resembles a long, flowing mustache. To possess an artistically tattooed ornament of this kind marks a woman as especially attractive, and her chances of making a good matrimonial alliance are very small if she is not thus adorned. As a matter of fact, the men of the island choose their spouses more for the beauty of this tattooed design than the grace of form or charm of feature.

FAMOUS JUDGE HARGIS.

Shot and Instantly Killed by His Son, Beach Hargis.

Jackson, Ky., Feb. 6.—Former County Judge James Hargis, for many years member of the State Democratic Executive Committee, accused of complicity in many killings and a prominent figure in the feuds which have disrupted Breathitt county for several years, was shot and instantly killed in his general store here about 3.30 p. m. today, by his son, Beach Hargis. The son fired five shots in rapid succession at his father, who fell dead while his clerks were waiting on customers. The exact cause of the murder has not been learned, but it is supposed to have been the result of differences which have existed between father and son for some time.

The two men are reported to have had a severe quarrel several nights ago, when the father it is alleged, was compelled to resort to violence to restrain his son. Young Hargis, it is said, had been drinking heavily of late. He came into the store this afternoon and was apparently under the influence of liquor. Judge Hargis, it is said, spoke to his son about drinking and a quarrel resulted. Father and son stepped behind a counter when the son, after a few minutes conversation, drew a revolver and fired five shots, four took effect. Judge Hargis falling dead. The young lady stenographer and the customers in the store fled in fright.

TO BURN HOTEL.

Two Unsuccessful Attempts Made—Negro Gets Mad and Gets Shot.

Roxboro, N. C., Feb. 6.—Two unsuccessful attempts have recently been made to burn Hotel Dowd, of this place. The last attempt was made this afternoon and came near succeeding, but the building was saved by the prompt action of the fire department. Suspicion fell upon one of the colored employes of the hotel by the name of Jeanne Bailey. Soon after the fire Mr. W. E. Winstead, clerk of the hotel, interviewed Bailey, who became very angry, denouncing Winstead as a liar and made a rush upon him. Winstead drew a pistol and fired three or four shots, first shot going wild, the others taking effect in both arms and hip. Bailey is not considered dangerously wounded.

"North Carolina Corn" in Washington.

"Bargains in whiskies and wines as the result of prohibition in North Carolina," was the significant wording of a placard at an E street establishment, which attracted a large crowd of would-be purchasers today. Pedestrians, who were plowing through the snow, were invited to enter by a strong-lunged auctioneer, who announced that he would sell at bargain prices the stock of an Asheville "bar keep" who was forced out of business as the result of prohibition in North Carolina. A big crowd was on hand. The article that brought the highest price was North Carolina corn, which the vender declared was "twenty years of age, and has cob webs on it."—Washington Cor. Raleigh News and Observer.

Moving Pictures.

Some new people have rented the building near Five Points, in which the Electric Theatre was carried on, and will open a moving picture shown there tonight. They promise a good show, and it is exclusively for white people.

The Wilson Times reports a "liquor man" as predicting that his side is going to win in the State prohibition election in May. That man must be poorly informed as to the sentiment for prohibition that prevails throughout the State.

The president has suspended Public Printer Stillings of the government printing office. It would be nothing detrimental to the government if reform was extended to some other departments.

If the water supply is insufficient steps should be taken to increase it, and those in authority should have another filterer installed. Don't be taking chances on unfiltered water.

We were reading in a letter from Washington about that city having become such an expensive place to live in, and it tallies with a remark Congressman John H. Small made in a conversation here a few days ago. He was telling of a long daily walk he takes around the capital and how much he enjoys the exercise, and added "walking is the only thing you can get in Washington without paying for it."

If we understand the temperament of the board of aldermen, the people living along Dickinson avenue must show a disposition to want that street paved or it will not be done. While through that street is the nearest route from Five Points to the A. C. L. depot, if the property owners make such demand for payment for sufficient width of street as will put the town to more expense than to take some other route, it stands to reason that another route should be taken. As paving a street will largely benefit people living on it, they stand much in their own light to put any obstacle in the way. The town has no money to spend unnecessarily, and the aldermen should select a route in paving that will result in greatest benefit to the town at the least expense.

Women who take most usually mean what they don't say.

TO MY FRIENDS.

Having been away for several months I wish to announce to my friends and patrons of the "empire" of Pitt that I am still connected with the firm of Chas. M. Stieff, and if bachelors are allowed to misuse the happy term home as a synonym for a "hanging out place" I still call Greenville my home, and while I intend to be away from Greenville a great deal of my time during this fall a postal care of box 325, Greenville, will reach me within a day or two. We now have a number of slightly used upright pianos, some of which have been rented during the summer months, others which were temporarily used by artists at the exposition and for orchestra work, at bargain prices. We also offer a special school piano for $225 00 fully measuring up in standard to any $350 00 instrument. This piano is especially built for college and school work for the special price named above and is full guaranteed by my firm for 10 years. Those interested in a school piano or in a good slightly used piano for the home should write me at once and will profit by it, and as ever I am always mindful of my patrons' protection and interest as well as my firm's interest. Grateful for past patronage. Very resp., G. G. Fineman, Box 325 Greenville, N. C.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the local. Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional. The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments. The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, ceases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price, 75c. per bottle. Everything taken into the stomach should be digested fully within a certain time. When you feel that your stomach is not in good order, the food you have eaten is not being digested, take a good, natural digestant that will do the work, the digestive juices are not doing. The best remedy known today for all stomach troubles is Kodol, which is guaranteed to give prompt relief. It is a natural digestant; it digests what you eat, it is pleasant to take and is sold here by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

A man's moral disposition depends largely on his financial standing.

A weak Stomach, means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. It's aptly that sick ones continue to drug the Stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves, not the organs themselves, need this help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative has, and is promptly helping so many sick ones. It goes directly to the cause of these diseases. A Fable of the Future.

In 1920 A. D. the Stingiest Man in Stringtown carted his Household Goods to the Depot and bought a ticket for Millionville, the Metropolis.

"Why are you moving to Millionville?" inquired a Citizen.

"To save postage," replied the Stingiest Man. Whereat the Citizen marveled mightily.

Now, be it known that the Stingiest Man in Stringtown was wise in his Day and Generation, for along back in 1907 A. D. or thereabout it became the Settled Habit of the Stringtown people to purchase Large Sheets of Little Stickers bearing portraits of G. Washington, B. Franklin, W. McKinley and other Late Illustrious Ones, which Specimens of Art they straightway stuck on envelopes and sent to a Large and Luring Mail Order Concern in Millionville. Wherefore it came about that the Seven Stores in Stringtown Shut up Shop, one after the other, until along in 1919 A. D. the Stingiest Man found it incumbent upon him to begin purchasing these Small Specimens of Art to present to the Maw of the Monster in Millionville, and the Aforesaid was Simply too Stingy to stand for the Same.

AN INNOCENT HOAX.

Canon MacColl's Letters, For Which Gladstone Got Credit.

The late Canon MacColl was a tiny man with a tiny voice, yet he was regarded as a giant among controversialists, and his voice reached to Europe. His voice proceeded from behind a mask, which men thought concealed the features of a greater man. His letters to the Times denouncing Germany in general and Bismarck in particular over the Franco-Prussian war were signed Scrutator. They were read with the closest attention, for everybody outside Printing House square seems to have believed that they were the letters of Gladstone. In this belief European statesmen poured missives upon the author of the letters, letting light into the strangest official secrets and treating him with the profoundest deference. The letters were sent to the office of the Times, and great was the enjoyment of the canon as he read them.

Possibly Gladstone did not know that he was regarded as the author of the letters. Be that as it may, he was as much in the dark as the rest of the world. Max Muller was among those most deceived and in one of his letters during the controversy quaintly apologized for any seeming deficiency in his argument, pleading that, while he used "only a wooden sword," he was called upon to withstand in argument "one of the most powerful athletes of our time," one who "wielded the very brand Excalibur." The "most powerful athlete" whom Muller had in mind was, of course, Gladstone. The German emperor was as effectively puzzled and caused a letter to be written suggesting that the time had come when the writer might raise his visor and reveal his identity. The canon still lay low, enjoying the fun. Bismarck had contemplated suing the author of the letters for libel, but when he was eventually let into the secret anger had disappeared, and he sent him a cordial invitation to Friedrichsruh. —St. James' Gazette.

Just a Difference in Sound.

The difference between English and American methods of pronunciation often produces misunderstanding. The other day an Englishman who had just arrived here went to the Waldorf-Astoria. He was a bit lost for a minute just where to find the register book, the Waldorf office being divided into several departments, one for the "information bureau," another for "letters" and so on. The Englishman finally stopped at one of the departments and inquired whether it was the desk of the hotel "clerk." "No," was the reply; "this is the Waldorf-Astoria hotel." Through saying "clerk" instead of "clerk" the young man at the desk had taken the Englishman to mean Hotel Clark. —New York Times.

Common Spiders.

Spiders are more varied and plentiful than is commonly supposed. In almost every locality in the country at least 300 or 400 species may be collected. In summer spiders abound on all kinds of plants, from grass to trees. It is only when the webs are covered with dew that they become especially conspicuous. The webs are then no more plentiful, but I often hear the question asked on dewy mornings or foggy days, "What makes so many more cobwebs than usual today?" The collecting moisture makes especially noticeable the flat webs on the grass. These are made by members of the agelenidae family of spiders. Each has a noticeable tube at one side in which the spider lives. —St. Nicholas.

Michael's Interpretation.

An old Irish gardener, meeting his employer, touched his finger to the tip of his cap and said: "Good morning, yer honor. Oi had a fine drame of ye last night." "Indeed, Michael!" remarked the employer. "What was the dream?" "Oi dramed that ye gave me a fine box o' tobacco an' that her ladyship, yer honored wife, gave me humble wife a can o' th' best tay." "Ah, Michael, but you know dreams always go by contraries." "Thin," said Michael, "maybe ye'll be after givin' me wife th' tobacco an' her ladyship 'll give me th' tay."

Worked the Mistress.

Here is a good story of the dangers of giving gratuitous information: A servant wounded her hand with the prong of a fork. In reply to her mistress' inquiries she explained that she was very nervous lest the wound should become inflamed, as she believed the fork to be nickel plated.

"Oh, you may set your mind at ease on that score," replied the mistress. "Those forks are all silver."

The next morning forks and servant were missing. —Strand Magazine.

At times when you don't feel just right, when you have a bad stomach, take something right away that will assist digestion: not something that will stimulate for a time but something that will positively do the very work that the stomach performs under ordinary and normal conditions, something that will make the food digest. To do this you must take a natural digestant like Kofol For Dyspepsia. Kofol is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids with natural digestants and contains the same juices found in a healthy stomach. Each dose will digest more than 3,000 grains of good food. It is sure to afford prompt relief: it digests what you eat and is pleasant to take. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

Fortune-tellers get a share of your fortune for telling it.

The trouble with most cough remedies is that they constipate. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts gently but promptly on the bowels and at the same time it stops the cough by soothing the throat and lung irritation. Children like it. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

Nothing succeeds like the success of some men who fail.

Bart Barber, of Elton, Wis., says: "I have only taken four doses of your Kennedy and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills as I want a perfect cure." Mr. Barber refers to DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. They are sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

Money doesn't always make the mare go under the wire first.

Grippe is sweeping the country. Stop it with Preventives, before it gets deeply seated. To check early colds with these little Candy Cold Cure Tablets is surely sensible and safe. Preventives contain no Quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh or sickening. Pneumonia would never appear if early colds were promptly broken. Also good for feverish children. Large box, 48 tablets, 25 cents. Vest pocket boxes 5 cents. Sold by Bryan's Drug Store.

Some men are born great—then proceed to slump.

IT DOES THE BUSINESS

Mr. E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Maine, says of Bucklen's Arnica Salve: "It does the business; I have used it for piles and it cured them. Used it for hopped hands and it cured them. Applied it to an old sore and it healed it without leaving a scar behind." 25c at J. L. Wooten's drug store.

Innocent, but Infectious.

A man running toward the Reading railway station in Germantown the other day as if in great haste to make the train was the cause of enlivening the gait of a number of other pedestrians bent on that purpose, among whom were several women who fancied they were late for the train. As the latter wore shoes none too roomy, their discomfort in running may be imagined. When, breathless, they reached the station, they found the first runner sitting comfortably and reading a paper, with ten minutes' margin before train time. One of the women, made bold by indignation, advanced upon the cause of her anger with the query, "What were you running for?" The answer was, "For my health." —Philadelphia Record.

She Couldn't Help It.

One of the brightest and nicest little patients in the surgical ward of one of the city hospitals lay on her bed moaning with pain, says the Boston Post. She had just come to consciousness after a slight operation and, though only five years old, was exhibiting heroic nerve.

Yet she couldn't keep from occasional low cries escaping her. She was the sort of child who hates above all things to give trouble, and when one of the nurses stopped before her and, as she thought, looked a bit reproachfully down at her she explained between the paroxysms, with a pitiful little smile:

"Oh, Miss Smith, I can't help it, I can't help it! I'm not used to operations."

"A Cold or a Cough nearly always produces constipation—the water all runs to the eyes, nose and throat instead of passing out of the system through the liver and kidneys. For want of moisture the bowels become dry and hard."

ABUSE OF THE HORSE.

Many Thoughtless Ways in Which the Animal is Tortured.

Is the stall always sweet and well ventilated—not at the rear or in the passageway, and in cool weather, but at the head and in the hottest nights of summer and at, say, 4 o'clock of a stifling July morning? You don't know? Well, why don't you? And are you fit to have a horse if you don't? Is the surcingle always comfortably loose, or is it, as usual, drawn as tight as an average husky groom can draw it "to keep the blankets in place?" Now, if it is tight when the animal is standing up, it is far more so when he is lying down; and if you have a horse whom your man says "sleeps standing up" just go personally and give him two or three holes in the surcingle for a few nights "unbeknownst" to your employee and then inquire again. This carelessness is universal and hideously cruel. It bruises the ridge and back, prevents rest and sleep and is indefensible upon any pretext, for a breast girth or any of the blankets with straps sewed on will keep the covering in place and allow the sufferer—for he is nothing else—to rest in peace.

While you are about it just measure his halter shank and see if he can lie down. Many a horse is purposely tied too short to save the groom trouble in cleaning him; also see if the nose band of the halter is loose enough so that he can chew comfortably, that the throat lash is not too tight, that the crown piece and brow band are not harsh edged leather, which will rasp and irritate his ears, and then offer him a pail of water or two and see if James has not, as usual, left him about half cared for to get along until daylight the best way he can.

Again, find out if he is afraid of the dark—many horses are—and if he is a night kicker. Be sure that he does thus dread the departure of daylight and leave an artificial light, dim or bright, but, at all events, enough to allay his paroxysms of terror. Ninety stall kickers in the hundred will abandon the practice forthwith if a light is left in the stable. The expense is small, the cure almost certain.—F. M. Ware in Outing Magazine.

Satire of a Logger.

In the pine clad hills of a certain state the country folks had gathered at a neighbor's house to spend the evening in a social dance. The male contingent of the gathering was composed of farmers, mill men and logging hands; the fairer sex, the wives, sisters and sweethearts of the men, and the district schoolteacher, who was the center of attraction of the young men and who seemed to be aware of her own popularity. During the evening an awkward, bashful and roughly dressed logging hand was introduced to the schoolteacher and asked if he might have a dance with her. The schoolteacher drew herself up haughtily and said: "No, sir-ee! I am particular with whom I dance." Whereupon the logging hand replied, with an air of indifference, "I am not a mite, or I would never have asked you."—Judge's Library.

Cause For Tears.

Dr. Pitcairn, being in a church in Edinburgh where the preacher was not only emphatic, but shed tears copiously, was moved to inquire of a countryman who sat by him what it was all about. "What the devil makes him greet?" was the inquiry. "Faith," said the man, slowly turning round, "ye had maybe greet yourself if ye was up there and had as little to say!"—Dundee Advertiser.
