A RECORD OF THE CIVIL WAR.

List of Officers in Confederate Army of 1861-64.

An old Confederate veteran, of Pitt county, has contributed the following for the information of the young men and boys of Pitt county especially, and all others generally.

At the organization of the government of the Confederate States of America, President Jefferson Davis appointed the following list of Cabinet officers: R. W. Barnwell was first chosen for Secretary of State but he having declined, the tender was made to Robert Toombs, of Georgia; S. R. Mallory, of Florida, was appointed Secretary of the Navy; Judah P. Benjamin, of Louisiana, was selected for Attorney General; John H. Reagan, of Texas, for Postmaster General; C. C. Memminger, of South Carolina, for Secretary of the Treasury; Leroy Pope Walker, of Alabama, for Secretary of War, of which President Davis states: "Unincumbered by any other consideration than the public welfare, having no friends to reward or enemies to punish, it resulted that not one of those who formed my first Cabinet had borne to me the relations of close personal friendship or had political claims upon me; indeed, with two of them I had no personal acquaintance."

There was in the Confederate army eight full generals, nineteen lieutenant generals, eighty one major generals, three hundred and sixty-seven brigadier generals. The total number of general officers was four hundred and seventy-five, as follows:

Full general with state and date of commission.—Samuel Cooper, Virginia, May, 1861; Inspector General; Albert S. Johnston, Texas, May, 1861; Robert E. Lee, Virginia, June, 1861; Joseph E. Johnston, Virginia, July, 1861; P. G. T. Beauregard, Louisiana, July, 1861; Braxton Bragg, Louisiana, April, 1862; E. Kirby Smith, Florida, February, 1864; J. B. Hood, Texas, July, 1864

Lieutenant Generals—James Longstreet, Alabama, October, 1862; Leonidas Polk, Louisiana, October, 1862; Theophilus H. Holmes, North Carolina, October, 1862; William J. Hardee, Georgia, October, 1862; Thomas J. Jackson, Virginia, October, 1862; John C. Pemberton, Virginia, October, 1862; Richard S. Ewell, Virginia, May, 1863; Ambrose P. Hill, Virginia, May, 1863; Daniel H. Hill, North Carolina, July, 1863; Richard Taylor, Louisiana, April, 1864; Jubal Early, Virginia, May 1864; Richard H. Anderson, South Carolina, May 1864; Stephen D. Lee, South Carolina, June 1864; Alex. P. Stewart, Tennessee, June, 1864; Simon B. Buckner, Kentucky, September, 1861; Wade Hampton, South Carolina, February, 1865; John B. Gordon, Georgia, February 1865; Joseph Wheeler, Georgia, February, 1865; Nathan F. Forrest, Tennessee, February, 1865.

Major and Brigadier Generals, and other reminiscences will follow later.

Safe Crackers Caught.

Five safe crackers who blew open and robbed the safe in the postoffice at Dunn, have been captured in South Carolina and were brought to Raleigh.

Weather.

Rain tonight and Thursday. Warmer tonight in the interior.

NEWS ITEMS FROM WINTERVILLE.

News Notes From Our Hurling Neighbor.

Winterville, N. C. Feb 12, 1908. Miss Elizabeth Boushall spent Sunday with Mrs. J. O. Bobbitt, of Shelmerdine, and returned Sunday afternoon.

Several of the school boys attended services at the Baptist church at Ayden Sunday.

Prof. G. E. Lineberry left Tuesday afternoon for his old home in Chatham county to see his brother, who is critically ill.

Miss Ella Woolard spent Sunday at her home near Stokes and returned Monday morning accompanied by Miss Eva Woolard, who entered W. H. S.

J. E. Greene and Roy Cox, two of our most popular young men, attended services at Red Bank's Sunday.

There were regular services at the Free Will Baptist church Sunday morning.

Rev. T. H. King returned Monday morning from Ayden where he preached Sunday.

Miss Lydia Roberson spent Saturday night here with her sister Miss Vivian and returned to Robersonville Sunday morning.

Rev. N. C. Duncan filled his regular appointment at St. John's Sunday.

Miss Blanche Ferebee spent Sunday with her sister, Miss Cora, who is a pupil of W. H. S.

Miss Maud Holladay, Jamesville, came in Tuesday night to enter school.

A. D. Cox went to Grifton Monday.

A. G. Cox and B. F. Manning are masters of stumps. They put about one or two sticks of dynamite under the large ones and loosen them up, then the stump puller comes along and pulls them out with little trouble.

Preaching will be at the Baptist church on the first and third Sundays in each month beginning next Sunday morning.

The pupils of Antioch school will give a basket party on February 21st at 7 p. m. The proceeds to go towards purchasing a library. The public is cordially invited.

The Schuberts Please.

The Schubert Symphony Club and Lady Quartette had a large audience in the opera house Tuesday night. The entertainment was truly delightful, lovers of music and elocution enjoying it to the fullest. Every number on the program was excellent, and the performers were generous in responses to encores. The Schuberts are an organization of real artists and give an entertainment that is refined and uplifting.

Notice to Water Consumers.

On account of not being able to run a sufficient quantity of water through our filter to meet the demands and to furnish a sufficient supply for the town's use just at this time, we have been forced to connect our coagulating basin with our reservoir and have forced some water through a siphon which has been mixed with our filtered supply. We are giving this information in order that any one using the city water for drinking purposes may boil the same if they desire to do so. However, we feel that it is perfectly safe to use the water just as it is.

W. P. Buck and daughter, Miss Minnie, spent Saturday night with A. R. House and family.

Mrs. D. C. Adams, of Chocowinity, is spending this week with her people, A. R. House and family.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Quinn spent Saturday night with T. L. Little and family.

Miss Linda Highsmith is spending this week with Misses Fannie and Eva House.

R. R. Whitehurst, of Parmele, visited A. R. House Saturday.

Our people are very busy preparing to plant crops.

R. F. Pittman, of Ayden, will preach at Parker's Chapel next second Sunday. He is a good preacher and all would do well to hear him.

J. C. House spent Saturday night with his uncle, A. R. House.

T. C. Quinn will move tomorrow on Great Swamp.

There will be a party at Parker's Chapel school house Friday night, February 14th. Everybody invited.

We are having some cold weather now, and have paved streets most every morning.

There is much grip in our neighborhood.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

The Visitors Here and People Who Travel.

Miss Helen Forbes has returned from a visit to LaGrange.

H. L. Fennell, of Wilmington, is visiting relatives here.

The Acme Theatre has a good program every night.

J. Z. Gardner, of Williamston, came in Tuesday evening.

F. C. Harding returned Tuesday evening from Washington.

Miss Fannie Blow, of Littleton, came in Tuesday evening to visit her sister, Mrs. W. B. Wilson.

May Prosecute A. & M. Hazers.

Wilmington, Feb. 11.—H. L. Fennell, father of Freshman James Fennell, who was one of the ten cadets subjected to alleged outrageous treatment at the A. & M. College one night last week, has gone to Raleigh to fully investigate the hazing and has retained Herbert McClammy, a leading criminal lawyer, to advise him as to the best course to pursue.

A letter from Mr. Fennell tonight states that 72 hours after the occurrence there are yet five finger prints on the boy's throat, where he was choked. His face is badly injured and may be permanently affected as the result of being painted with nitrate of silver. The forepart of his hair was cropped close by the hazers, the remainder of his hair being left long. Mr Fennell has been advised to call upon the governor for the fullest investigation of such conduct as a state-managed institution and to employ local counsel at Raleigh to prosecute the offenders criminally.—Raleigh Times.

Edison's Cement House.

Of all the Wizard Edison's inventions—and he has invented some—none will be more eagerly watched for than his "cement house," which will make it possible for the poor man to own a home. Several weeks ago Mr. Edison announced that he had put the cost of this structure at $1,000 and now he again says that it will be even cheaper. Now, if some other genius will solve the problem of getting land cheap, we and other poor men will send him a trunkful of thanks.—Raleigh Times.

Shut The Door!

Now that "good old summer time" no longer causes us to swelter and sweat at our daily grind in the editorial treadmill, and the mercury is nightly indulging in shameful flirtations with zero, while the price of coal is holding close communion with the moon, we are often sorely tempted to remind some careless caller that:

A baptism of fire in hades' depths
As hot as boiling tar
Awaits the yap who quits a room
And leaves the door ajar.
—Ada (I. T.) Democrat.

Was Not in Hospital.

A letter from Dr. James M. Parrott, of Kinston, says the statement in The Reflector about Charles Jones, who dropped dead in Mr. C. C. Parkerson's store soon after getting here from Kinston, having been in the hospital there, is a mistake. He says Jones was not in the hospital there, and that they do not accept negroes except in emergency.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

Entertained by Miss Bessie Harding.

Reported for Reflector.

The Epworth League met at the home of Miss Bessie Harding on Friday evening, February 7th.

After the assembling of the young people, it was announced that the subject for the evening was Lee. Although we were somewhat out of date in celebrating the anniversary of this great general, our meeting having been postponed for sundry reasons, the occasion was greatly enjoyed by all present.

After the devotional exercises, first on the program was a recitation by Ben Taylor, who entertained us in his usual enthusiastic style.

Mrs. Carrie Hooker then sang an appropriate song affording a great amount of pleasure to the entire audience.

Miss Nina Harriss fascinated her hearers by gracefully rendering a beautiful patriotic recitation.

Miss Gaston delighted us with her sweet, charming voice in a vocal selection, the appreciation of which was manifested by such prolonged applause that compelled an encore.

An exceedingly interesting contest was participated in by all present. The answers to this contest were the names of generals on Lee's staff.

Last on the program was the singing of old songs by the entire assembly. The enthusiasm exhibited in the singing of these was sufficient proof of the pleasure realized.

At a late hour we adjourned declaring Miss Harding champion hostess, as she ever proves in her untiring efforts for the enjoyment of her many friends.

And Miss Ashford Will Not Marry Ex-Senator Henry G. Davis.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 11.—Miss Maude Ashford, of this city, today announced that she was no longer engaged to former United States Senator, Henry G. Davis, the Democratic candidate for vice president in the last national campaign. Miss Ashford stated that she broke the engagement last night. She said she and the former senator had then discussed the matter and Miss Ashford referred to the publicity which had been given the subject and to the determined opposition of some of the members of Mr. Davis' family to the proposed marriage. She said that she had no desire to estrange the senator, at his age, from his family. For these reasons she did not care to have the engagement continued. Mr. Davis declined to be interviewed, saying that he had no purpose of making any newspaper statements on the subject.

What Corporations Contributed to Campaign Fund.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 11.—A resolution was offered in the house today by Mr. Pou, of North Carolina, directing the speaker to appoint a committee of five representatives to ascertain what corporations contributed to presidential campaign funds in the years 1896, 1900 and 1904, especially with a view to discovering whether such a list will include any of the corporations mentioned as law violators by the president in his recent message. The resolution requires the committee to report to congress some time in the present session so that the facts may be laid before the people prior to the coming presidential campaign.

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS SOUTH.

Bill Reported Favorably by House Committee on War Claims.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 11.—About $10,000,000 may be secured from the government by people of the South if a bill reported unanimously by the house committee on war claims becomes a law. The bill gives to the court of claims jurisdiction of the claims for captured and abandoned property which was sold during the civil war and the proceeds turned into the United States treasury. During that war the government authorized the seizure of abandoned property to be sold and the net proceeds placed in the United States treasury. There was a provision that if any one should bring suit within two years after the close of the war and prove that the property sold belonged to him the money received would be paid over, but to do this the citizen bringing the suit had to prove loyalty to the Union. This disqualified most Southerners until the amnesty proclamation was declared in 1864, which came too late to make claims to court, the two years grace having expired. The object of this bill is to enable the original owners of the confiscated property to get the money it brought when sold.

Last Round for Taxes.

I will make the last visit over the county to collect taxes due for the year 1907 at the following times and places:

Falkland, Falkland township, Tuesday March 3, 1908.

Farmville, Farmville township, Tuesday March 3.

Bethel, Bethel township, March 3.

Pactolus, Pactolus township, Thursday March 5.

Grimesland, Chicod township, Saturday March 7.

Ayden, Contentnea township, Saturday March 7.

C. D. Smiths' Store, Beaver Dam township, Tuesday Mar. 10.

Bell X Roads, Belvoir township, Tuesday March 10.

Stokes, Carolina township, Saturday March 14.

Grifton, Swift Creek township, Saturday March 14.

All who fail to pay will be advertised and cost added to their taxes. Pay promptly and save cost and trouble.

Another Liquor Bill in Congress.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Senator Bacon, of Georgia, has introduced a bill regulating the control over liquor in interstate commerce and after they have come within the borders of the State to which they are consigned.

The bill is intended to meet the objection raised against the Tillman bill, the object of which is to extend the police-powers of the State to insure strict enforcement of option laws

Hertford and Northampton.

Judge B. B. Winborne of Hertford county, is in the city attending the Supreme Court. He stated yesterday that Hertford and Northampton counties will go by large majorities for prohibition, and that the people in those counties are well satisfied with the work of the Legislature, both as to providing for the State prohibition election and settling the passenger rate question.—News and Observer.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 12th. 1908.

If somebody has got it in for you, you may look for an expression in a comic valentine about Friday.

It is getting to look like if the president is given enough rope he will hang his candidate long before the convention comes.

The Charlotte Observer gives assurance that the smallpox has been wiped out. This is encouraging. Now bottle up the purse snatchers and we will all come in April.

Some folks act just like they were conferring a favor when they pay a bill. The favor came in when the creditor let them owe the bill, and the square thing to do is to pay promptly.

If those A. & M. hazers were given six months on the roads it would be less punishment than their despicable conduct deserves. Anarchists are gentlemen in comparison with them.

The Charlotte Observer's Washington City correspondent says "Uncle Joe" Cannon's chances are growing for securing the presidential nomination.

The man who through animosity against a railroad will place obstructions on the track with the intent of wrecking a passenger train, ought to be hung to the first limb in reach if he is caught in the act.

The most important matter confronting the authorities of Greenville at present is the water supply. Every other matter can afford to wait until the trouble at the plant is remedied. Taking chances on water furnished for domestic use is dangerous in that it might result in injury to health, and this is too important to neglect.

We hope the governor can see his way to commute the sentence of Fraizer Jones. The negro has been scared within an inch of his life and perhaps after all if he had had plenty of money he wouldn't have come anywhere near being hanged.—Greensboro Telegram.

Not a very respectful opinion to render of the law, but all the same it is true that the man with money can escape punishment more readily.

Some one at Greensboro sent The Reflector a post card containing a picture of the contemplated auditorium and written on the margin "hung one, secured 5 new families same day." That is gaining some, sure, and if it keeps up at that rate the directory makers will have to be called in again to enumerate the increase. But come to think about it, the one was not hanged, either, so the population remains intact.

At times when you don't feel just right, when you have a bad stomach, take something right away that will assist digestion; not something that will stimulate for a time but something that will positively do the very work that the stomach performs under ordinary and normal conditions, something that will make the food digest. To do this you must take a natural digestant like Kodol For Dyspepsia. Kodol is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids with natural digestants and contains the same juices found in a healthy stomach. Each dose will digest more than 3,000 grains of good food. It is sure to afford prompt relief; it digests what you eat and is pleasant to take. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

The good either die young or out-grow it.

The trouble with most cough remedies is that they constipate. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts gently but promptly on the bowels and at the same time it stops the cough by soothing the throat and lung irritation. Children like it. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

Broad hints are wasted on narrow minded people.

Pert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says: "I have only taken four doses of your Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills as I want a perfect cure." Mr. Barber refers to DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. They are sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

Jealousy is a tree that bears nothing but bitter fruit.

Grippe is sweeping the country. Stop it with Preventics, before it gets deeply seated. To check early colds with these little Candy Cold Cure Tablets is surely sensible and safe. Preventics contain no Quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh or sickening. Pneumonia would never appear if early colds were promptly broken. Also good for feverish children. Large box, 48 tablets, 25 cents. Vest pocket boxes 5 cents. Sold by Bryan's Drug Store.

Nature seldom stores a lot of brains behind a pretty face.

DeWitt's Carbolyzed Witch Hazel Salve is best for cuts, burns, lumps, bruises and scratches. It is especially good for piles. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

Be sure you are wrong before you go away back and sit down.

TO MY FRIENDS.

Having been away for several months I wish to announce to my friends and patrons of the "empire" of Pitt that I am still connected with the firm of Chas. M. Stieff, and if bachelors are allowed to misuse the happy term home as a synonym for a "hanging out place" I still call Greenville my home, and while I intend to be away from Greenville a great deal of my time during this fall a postal care of box 325, Greenville, will reach me within a day or two. We now have a number of slightly used upright pianos, some of which have been rented during the summer months, others which were temporarily used by artists at the exposition and for orchestra work, at bargain prices.

We also offer a special school piano for $225.00 fully measuring up in standard to any $350.00 instrument. This piano is especially built for college and school work for the special price named above and is full guaranteed by my firm for 10 years. Those interested in a school piano or in a good slightly used piano for the home should write me at once and will profit by it, and as ever I am always mindful of my patrons' protection and interest as well as my firm's interest. Grateful of past patronage. Very respectfully,

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists. Price, 75c. per bottle.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A man who pleases only himself must furnish all the applause.

Everything taken into the stomach should be digested fully within a certain time. When you feel that that your stomach is not in good order, the food you have eaten is not being digested, take a good, natural digestant that will do the work the digestive juices are not doing. The best remedy known today for all stomach troubles is Kodol, which is guaranteed to give prompt relief. It is a natural digestant; it digests what you eat, it is pleasant to take and is sold here by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

The average man would rather pay half a dozen grudges than one debt.

A weak Stomach, means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. It's a pity that sick ones continue to drug the Stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves, not the organs themselves, need this help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative has, and is promptly helping so many sick ones. It goes directly to the cause of these diseases. Test this vital truth, and see. Bryan's Drug Store

The man who accomplishes things has learned to labor while he waits.

Use DeWitt's Little Early Risers, pleasant little pills. They are easy to take. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

The less money some men have the easier it is for them to be good.

If you have Catarrh, rid yourself of this repulsive disease. Ask Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis., to mail you free, a trial box of his Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy. A simple, single test, will surely tell you a Catarrh truth, well worth your knowing. Write to-day. Don't suffer longer. Bryan's Drug Store.

A man should try to do his best only when he is doing the right thing.

IT DOES THE BUSINESS
Mr. E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Maine, says of Bucklen's Arnica Salve "It does the business; I have used it for piles and it cured them. Used it for hopped hands and it cured them. Applied it to an old sore and it healed it without leaving a scar behind." 25c at J. L. Wooten's drug store.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible, but I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.
In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend

How Many Bricks Have You Sent Away?

That sounds like a funny question, addressed to every citizen of this town and community, but it's really a serious one.

Listen: There is now just completed a magnificent building of red brick exterior and concrete interior right in the business heart of one of the biggest of American cities. It occupies a whole block and calls itself in a large lettered sign "The Largest Monolithic Building In the World." It has many floors, with about a hundred acres of floor space. The entrances are of solid marble. The floors are beautifully tiled. Altogether it is a credit to the big city in which it stands. Oh, it's a Jim Dandy!

Now, how many bricks have you sent to the city to go into this big building? Honest, how many?

Of the hundreds of thousands of bricks put into the walls of this building the city where it stands has contributed not a single red brick. Country people, the people of small towns and cities far away from the big metropolis, have sent in the bricks for the construction of this splendid edifice.

You may have sent in a few hods of bricks yourself without knowing it.

Listen: This magnificent structure, which ornaments a city you probably never will see yourself, is built of bricks bought with the dollars of people living in towns just like ours—towns that would like to have some new brick buildings themselves now and then. Every dollar contributed to the city building fund means a nice, hefty hod of bricks for this big, beautiful skyscraper, "largest in the world" of its kind. This building was put up, through the kind donations of their unknown country cousins, by a firm that ran a small store in that city a few years ago.

But this firm conceived the cute idea of having thousands of strangers contribute bricks to build its fine, large, new store.

And the building is a Mail Order Store. See?

POPULAR DANCES.

The Origin or the Significance of Their Names.

The names of popular dances have in most cases a very interesting origin or signification.

The position taken up by the dancers gave the name to the quadrille, which is literal French for "a little square," while country dance has no connection with rustic gymnastics, but is simply a corruption of the French contre danse, which has reference to the position of the couples opposite to each other during the dance.

The lancers derived its name from the fact that this variation of the quadrille was originally improvised by a company of lancers for their own amusement while seated in their saddles.

The polka is a Polish dance, and its name comes from the Bohemian word polka, meaning half, and refers to the half step which occurs in this lively measure, of which the more graceful schottish is a variation, both names, like that of the national dance of Poland—the mazourka—being native terms.

The short steps peculiar to the old time favorite, the minuet, gave the dance its name, the Latin for "small" being minutus.

The waltz, again, owes its name to its characteristic movement, the German walzen, meaning to revolve, expressing the circling motion of the dancers.

The Roger de Coverley is named after its originator, while the less familiar dance known as the tarantella is so called because its vigorous movements were supposed to be a certain antidote to the poison of a noxious spider at Taranto, in Italy, where the dance is highly popular.

The evolutions of the dancer sufficiently explain the term reel. Jig is from the French gigue, and breakdown is a term from across the Atlantic and refers to the final rout before the breakup of a free and easy dancing party.—London Telegraph.

Conclusive Reasoning.

A little elderly German who keeps a stationer's shop amuses and interests himself by making up stories about his customers and telling them to his family.

"Dat young lady who has de pink cheeks, she be married soon, I tink," he announced one night.

"Now, my Carl, you know nottings of her whateffer. Is it not so?" And his wife tried to look as if she did not think him a wonderfully clever man.

"It is like dis," said the stationer solemnly: "I observe, and I know. At first she buy paper and envelopes de same, later she buy twice as more paper and den five times as more paper as envelopes. So I know she is become betrothed."

"And today," he said, beaming with pleasure; "today she buy only one-half dozen envelopes and five times as more paper, and when I tell her she get dem cheaper if she buy many she say to me, 'I have no need of more, 'ank you.' So I know de friend he comes soon, and so comes de marriage on quickly."

Proved the Forgery.

"When Lincoln was practicing law," said a retired judge, "he had a case involving a disputed will. The opposition claimed that the will was genuine and for several hours adduced proof of this. For Lincoln, who had to prove the will a forgery, things looked black."

"Lincoln, however, called only one witness, a retired paper manufacturer renowned the country over for his wealth and probity."

"Mr. Dash," Lincoln said to the witness, handing him the disputed will, "please hold the paper up to the light and tell us what is the watermark on it."

"The watermark of my own firm, Blank & Co.," the witness answered.

"When did your firm begin to manufacture paper?"

"In 1841."

"And what's the date of the document in your hands?"

"Aug. 11, 1836."

"That is enough. Gentlemen of the jury, our case is closed."—Los Angeles Times.

The Primitive Fishhook.

The first implement used by man for catching fish with a line was not a hook. It was a pointed piece of bone or flint, a simple bait holder, and the line, possibly a length or so of some dried vine or grass, was tied to the middle of the piece. The fish swallowed the whole bait, bone and all, and so the first implement was what we would call a gorge hook today. In time bronze was substituted for bone, but the form of the first implement was retained. Untold ages passed before the first fishhook was made, and, strangely enough, when a prong was fashioned on the hook the prong turned outward and not inward.

STAGE REALISM.

Humor and Courtesy of Irving In a Reply to a Critic.

The late Sir Henry Irving's famous London production of "Henry VIII." ended with the christening of the infant Princess Elizabeth, for which, of course, a large life-like doll was used instead of a real baby. The play had run a good many nights when one day the actor received a letter of protest from one who made it plain that he was a firm believer in realism on the stage.

"The complete success of 'Henry VIII.' was marred last night," the letter ran, "when the king kissed the baby. The whole house tittered. 'Herewith I offer the hire of one real baby—my own—for the purpose of personating the offspring.'"

It was a delicate matter for Sir Henry to decline the services of a man's own baby, but with the help of his manager, Mr. Bram Stoker, the famous actor composed a reply which combined courtesy and humor and which has been incorporated in "Personal Reminiscences of Henry Irving."

"Mr. Irving fears," wrote Mr. Stoker, "that there might be some difficulty in making the changes you suggest with regard to the Princess Elizabeth in the play."

"If reality is to be achieved it should of necessity be real reality and not seeming reality, for that we have already on the stage. A series of difficulties then arises, any of which you and your family might find insuperable."

"If your real baby were provided it might be difficult or even impossible for the actor who impersonates King Henry VIII. to feel the real feelings of a father toward it. This would necessitate your playing the part of the king and further would require that your wife should play the part of Queen Anne Boleyn. This might not suit either of you, especially as in reality Henry VIII. had afterward his wife's head cut off."

"To this your wife might naturally object. But even if she were willing to accept this form of reality and you were willing to accept the responsibility on your part Mr. Irving would, for his own sake, have to object."

"By law if you had your wife de-capitated you would be tried for murder. But as Mr. Irving would also be tried as an accessory before the fact he, too, would stand in danger of his life. To this he distinctly objects, as he considers the end aimed at is not worth the risk involved."

The Novelist's Mission.

The neglect of Disraeli's writings may be in part due to the fact that most people think it is below the dignity of a statesman or of any man following what is called a "serious" profession to compose works of fiction. Certainly many do not yet understand that the man who writes novels may be a very wise man. They do not realize that accurately to portray human nature and to present pictures of life is not only a most worthy but also a most difficult task, requiring for its performance an intelligence far above the average acute powers of observation and a keen sense of humor, for surely the great novelist is the observer sounding the depths while others glance at the surface and examining the mysteries of life while others are content to overlook even the obvious.—Melville's "Victorian Novelists."

A Great Pity.

In his very, very early youth Mr. Mumpser had been a pretty child. His friends did not believe this was possible, and even he had forgotten all about it until one day he unearthed a painting of himself at that period from among some old lumber. This he handed to his wife as some compensation for his present somewhat worm eaten appearance.

"There, Alice," said Mrs. Mumpser, proudly exhibiting the picture to the servant, "that is a portrait of your master painted when he was a child."

Alice gazed open mouthed at the production.

"Lor, mum," she said after some moments, "what a pity it is we have to grow up, ain't it?"—London Standard.

His Idea of a Wife.

Discussing with a representative of an Irish paper the qualities a wife should possess, a tramp said the other day that she should be "an all around woman," between forty and fifty years, not handsome, but temperate. "If there is any drinking to be done," he said, "I can see to it. She should be able to walk twenty miles a day and be good at begging bottles and potatoes and also at ballad singing. She should be able to fight a round or two to defend her husband when in action."

All the Gold IN GEORGIA Could not Buy-

Roding, Ga. August 27, 1906. Messrs. E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ills.

Gentlemen:— In 1897 I had a disease of the stomach and bowels. Some physicians told me it was Dyspepsia, some Consumption of the Lungs, others said consumption of the Bowels. One physician said I would not live until Spring, and for four long years I existed on a little boiled milk, soda biscuits, doctor's prescriptions and Dyspepsia remedies that flooded the market. I could not digest anything I ate, and in the Spring 1902 I picked up one of your Almanacs as a poor emaciated Dyspepsia wreck will grasp at anything, and that Almanac happened to be my life savor. I bought a fifty cent bottle of KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE and the benefit I received from that bottle ALL THE GOLD IN GEORGIA COULD NOT BUY. I kept on taking it and in two months I went back to my work as a machinist, and in three months I was well and hearty. I still use a little occasionally as I find it a fine blood purifier and a good tonic. May you live long and prosper. Yours very truly G. N. CORNELL.

BIRD MIGRATION.

How Do the Flocks Accomplish Their Annual Flights?

Bird migration remains a puzzle to the naturalists. The feathered travelers are known to leave their southern habitats at the end of the rainy season and to gather in vast flocks at regular meeting places. Not all the migratory birds, by the way, migrate. In many or most of the species there are individuals who rest and mate in their winter homes, letting the flocks of their kind depart. But most of them mysteriously draw together at one place and time and rise high in the air, where they can be seen moving like a swift dark cloud, making for the north.

Some of our North American birds winter as far south as Central and even South America. They are observed to take certain routes in their annual journey. The long, narrow Pacific slope is one of these aerial ways, another lies across the Texas plain and northward to the Missouri valley, and a third passes over the Antilles and Florida and forks in central Alabama to the west and east of the first walls of the Appalachians. The westward way leads to the eastern Mississippi and the great lake basins, the eastward fliers skirt the coast midlands and pass after leaving some of their number along the way into the Hudson valley, their gateway to New England and the north. These routes all furnish rest and water and avoid ocean stretches, great mountain heights and head winds.

But how do the birds concert their meeting? How do they direct their flight? Do they await the south wind to blow them north as fast again as they can fly? What tells them east and west and the location of the faroff places to which they are bound? How long do they take to cover the zone from the tropics to the cold north? How many birds pass in those great clouds of migrants which farmers in certain regions can see during half the spring? Why do they travel such enormous distances, passing over in certain instances regions that seem quite as well suited for their habitat as are the places where they finally decide to settle? All the mysteries of the air have not yet been solved by the naturalists, nor are all of them likely to be solved very soon.—Scrap Book.

Festival of the Dolls.

A curious custom of the Japanese is that of the observance of a certain day in April of each year called dolls' day, or the festival of the dolls.

On this day all the girls and women array themselves in gaudy attire, and the mother of each household adorns the family room in gay colors. Then the little girls dress all their dolls, old and new, in their best Sunday clothes and prop them up about the walls. In the afternoon a great feast is prepared, ostensibly for the benefit of the dolls, though the repast is actually consumed by the grown folks in the evening. Japan is the only country that has such a festivity.

A Lawyer's Retort.

A lawyer in Washington was telling some colleagues of neat retorts he had heard in court when he was reminded of the interchange of compliments between a western judge and a sharp tongued attorney from Chicago. The judge, a quick tempered man, had had several "run ins" with counsel when suddenly he observed, "I can teach you law, Mr. Perkins, but I cannot teach you manners." "That is true, your honor," retorted the Chicago lawyer.

AFFECTIONATE BIRDS.

Ways of the Geese of Keppel Island, Tierra del Fuego.

To the naturalist wild life is every way more interesting than that of domesticated creatures. Nowhere can this life be studied better than in regions least frequented by man. Captain Snow tells in his "Voyage to Tierra del Fuego" how completely unacquainted with man were the birds of those South American islands. What particularly interested him was the fellow feeling shown among the sea fowl.

"I remember once when I wanted to give the men a change of diet at Keppel Island I shot in an hour and a half twenty-nine of the best upland geese, quite as good and large as our finest geese at home.

"It was not always, however, that I wanted to shoot these birds. They went in pairs or threes when feeding. On the occasion to which I refer I was making ead slaughter among them, when I observed a male bird suddenly turn from the flight which he and his companion were making and look around. I had shot his mate, and the poor thing had just dropped on a hillock not far from me.

"For a moment the male hesitated and walked off after alighting near his partner. But he again returned on seeing the female struggling in death. On he came leisurely toward the fallen bird and so indifferent to his fate that for a second or two I did not shoot, until I bethought me that I would end his grief, if grief he had, by making him share the same fate.

"Another male bird that I winged fell in the water, where I could see him swimming about closely attended by his female companion. When at last I sent the boat and captured the wounded one his poor consort took to the shore and wandered about by herself, apparently quite disconsolate, and refused to mix with the others.

"I could mention several instances which I noticed of affection between these wild birds, but must give only the following: One of the loggerhead ducks had been caught alive and carried about with me on the beach. The other bird, seeing his companion in this situation, at once came on shore for it and followed us about to some distance, until at last I allowed the captive to go, when they joined each other and immediately waddled away to the water."

Surf Bathing.

The oft repeated warning to surf bathers, and particularly to those who dive, to protect their ears from the water by cotton plugs, etc., is not generally heeded, to judge by the damage often traced to its neglect, says a medical journal. They who have lost the membrana need to be especially careful and to give up diving. The tympanum is readily protected by the cotton plugs firmly introduced, but in diving even then the air in the nasal fossae, accessory sinuses and naso pharynx is compressed and partially escapes by the eustachian tubes, and in consequence the water enters so far and high in the nasal fossae as to painfully irritate the pituitary membrane and leads to protracted congestion.
