THE PROPOSED PROHIBITION LAW

WHAT IT WILL AND WHAT IT WILL NOT DO.

By The State Organizer of the Anti-Saloon League of North Carolina.

WHAT IT WILL DO.

It will abolish every licensed whiskey and brandy distillery in the State.

It will abolish every saloon and dispensary in the State.

It will stop the wine traffic within the State. For wine can be sold only at the place of manufacture in quantities of two and one-half gallons or more and not shipped anywhere in the State.

It will stop the sale of all those chemical mixtures by whatever name known that will produce intoxication.

It will place under the most stringent and binding regulations pharmacists and physicians, who may handle intoxicating liquors for medical purposes only.

It will allow the officials of any county or town to regulate or prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors by pharmacists in the drug stores.

WHAT IT WILL NOT DO.

It will not prohibit the farmer from making cider from fruits grown on his own land and selling the same at home or in his market town.

It will not stop the manufacturer from making his wine and shipping it outside of the State.

It will not stop the sale of those medical preparations and essences that may have alcohol in them to preserve them or to hold the medicinal agents in solution, such as camphor, vanilla, etc.

It will not repeal existing prohibition laws.

It will not prohibit the sale of wine to ministers or church officials for sacramental purposes.

If this law fails to be ratified by the people at the polls on May 26th, 1908, it will not affect the present status of any existing prohibition law in the State. In other words, the dry territory will not be changed.

We are sure when you have studied this law you will agree with us that it is fair.

Under this law, Greensboro's voting wet would not make it wet, and Salisbury's voting dry would not make it dry. Under local option Greensboro has voted dry, and as a locality she must remain so until the locality as such votes wet, while Salisbury has voted the other way. This vote on "the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors" in North Carolina is quite a different thing from local option.

Again, this law is right. For the influence of liquor is never local. Salisbury or Wilmington citizens, while controlling the sale of the traffic, do not control the dangerous and damaging influence of this traffic. This influence is felt for hundreds of miles around. Every citizen in the State has a right to self-protection against the influence of this traffic, now centered at a few points, and the only protection is the abolition of the traffic throughout the State.

Choir Practice.

Members of the Christian church choir will have practice Friday night at 7 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. T. E. Hooker. It is requested that all be there. Any others who will take part will be gladly welcomed.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

Republican convention for the election of delegates to the State and Congressional conventions, called for the purpose of electing State and Congressional delegates to the National Republican Convention which is to convene in the city of Chicago, Ill., on the day of June, 1908.

By virtue of the authority invested in me, and by direction of the executive committee of Pitt county, I hereby call the Republicans of Pitt county to meet in their respective townships, at the usual place of public meeting on Saturday, March 7th, 1908, at 3 o'clock p. m. for purpose of selecting delegates to attend a county convention to be held in the county court house in Greenville, N. C., on Saturday March 14th, 1908, for the purpose of selecting delegates to attend the State convention and the Congressional convention.

The basis of vote in this convention is on the Governor's vote of 1904, and the following townships are entitled to the following votes in this convention, and to the same number of delegates and the same number of alternates, to-wit:

Beaver Dam 1, Bevoir 1, Bethel 2, Carolina 2, Chicod 2, Contentnea No. 1 4, Contentnea No. 2 1, Falkland 1, Farmville 1, Greenville 4, Pactolus 1, Swift Creek, 3.

R. C. Flanagan, Chmn. Rep. Ex. Com. of Pitt Co.
E. E. Dail, Secy.

Run the Saloons Out.

Washington City is infested with highwaymen to an alarming degree and congress is asked for money to put on a hundred or two more policemen. To this request Representative Simms, of Tennessee, proceeds to say in a speech in the house, that what Washington should do is to close her saloons; that the rag tag and bob-tail of creation is coming to Washington, run out of other places by the closing of booze dens, and that as they cannot get work and do not in fact want it, they must steal in order to live. It is a well recognized fact that the tough element is not going to hang around any town long at a time where there are no saloons. There is considerable sense in what Mr. Simms says, but Washington is not going to adopt his plan just yet.—Greensboro Record.

Fire in Edenton.

Edenton, N. C., Feb. 19.—A fire alarm was sounded this afternoon at 5 o'clock. The fire was in the Branning Manufacturing Companies dry kilns, which were totally destroyed. The kilns were full of pine lumber being dried for the planing mill.

The entire fire company of Edenton responded, Reel No. 1 being the first on the scene, and assisted in quenching the flames. It took hard work on the part of the firemen to get it under control. The loss amounts to about $35,000, partly covered by insurance.

Reduction All Right for Other Fellow.

A candidate for congress or for the legislature will split his throat about reduction of railway rates, but when you talk about reducing his income he yells. A bill was mentioned in congress the other day cutting down the mileage of congressmen from twenty cents to eight, but it was snowed under before it could wink. Reduction and economy is all right—for the other fellow.—Greensboro Record.

Trade Report.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 20.—Brad street's Saturday will say for Richmond, Va. and vicinity:—The wholesale dry goods and shoe trade shows slight improvement over last week, this improvement, however, is not general and sales show an increase in localities peculiarly effected. Produce and provisions are in better demand and prices show an upward tendency. Tobacco continues to be marketed in moderate amounts, and prices are well maintained. Lumber continues in little demand, and many lumber mills are still shut down. Many laborers and mechanics are unemployed and factories in practically all lines have curtailed their output. The banks have an ample supply to meet their legitimate demands. Collections are slow and show no improvement over last week.

Wife and Two Small Children Burned to Death.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Feb. 19.—Mrs. John Angus and her two small children were burned to death in their home at Tallyho last night. The house is supposed to have caught fire following the explosion of a lamp. Mr. Angus was at church when the accident occurred. He reached home in time to see the roof falling in. When he learned that his loved ones were lost he tried to commit suicide by jumping into the flames. He was prevented by neighbors.

Some Funny Statements By Those Seeking Insurance.

The statements made in application papers by those who are about to take out life insurance are occasionally amusing, and below are some examples which cause overworked application clerk to pause and smile in his work.

In the application of a young widow for membership in answer to the question, "What is your husband's occupation?" the applicant replied, "An angel."

Mother died in infancy.

An uncle died of cancer on his mother's side.

Father went to bed feeling well and the next morning woke up dead.

Grandfather died suddenly at the age of 103. Up to this time he had fair to reach a ripe old age.

Applicant does not know anything about maternal posterity except that they died at an advanced age.

Applicant does not know cause of mother's death, but states that she fully recovered from her last illness.

Applicant has never been fatally sick.

Father died suddenly; nothing serious.

Applicant's brother, who was an infant, died when he was a mere child.

Grandfather died from gunshot wound caused by an arrow, shot by an Indian.

Applicants fraternal parents died when he was a child.

Mother's illness was caused from chronic rheumatism, but she was cured before death—Exchange.

The Mutual Life of New York is the best.

SELECTED BRICK FOR STREET PAVING.

Will Dickinson Avenue or Evans St. be Paved From Five Points?—Surveys to be Made of Evans St.

The board of Aldermen met in response to call, Wednesday night, for purpose of purchasing paving brick and considering the relative merits of Dickinson avenue and Evans street, as to which should be paved.

The committee appointed to make a selection of brick made a recommendation as to which of those submitted should be purchased. The recommendation was adopted and committee continued with instructions to make contract with the brick manufacturers.

Other matters of minor importance were discussed and disposed of, when the board came to question of which route should be paved after leaving Five Points. Assurance was given on good authority that a substantial amount would be contributed should the Forbestown route be decided on. It was ordered that a survey be made of each route; and a committee consisting of E. G. Flanagan, F. J. Forbes and C. S. Carr was appointed to ascertain the cost of each, to investigate and consider thoroughly the conditions, advantages and disadvantages of each, and to make a report and recommendation to the board at an early date.

Colonial Records in Clerk's Office.

The papers of the state have been requested by State Librarian M. O. Sherrill, to inform their readers of the fact that complete sets of the Colonial Records, 32 volumes, can be found in the office of the clerk of the superior court, in every county. Citizens of the county and state have a right of access to the records and can use them—whenever they so desire—in the clerk's office. The request for this statement is made by Mr. Sherrill, because so many letters are received by the librarian asking for extracts from these records. They are accessible to every citizen of the state. They are in the office of the clerk of the court in your county. Take due notice of above mentioned fact and govern yourselves accordingly.

Big Blizzard in The West.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—The worst blizzard in the weather history of Chicago, according to the weather bureau swept over the city yesterday and continues this morning unabated.

The storm was general all over the west and southwest, extending over Missouri, Arkansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin and the northern portion of Illinois.

Traffic on the railroads was impeded and some lines in Nebraska, made impassable by the huge drifts of snow.

A number of lives were lost while the storm was raging its worst, two members of the fishing tug Anstatch losing their lives in Lake Michigan off Waukegan when the vessel, crushed by ice, went to the bottom.

Other fatalities were reported as due to the severity of the blizzard.

I have on hand 90,000 lbs cotton seed hulls, bulk or in sacks. See me before you buy. F. V. Johnston. 20-4td 1tw.

EASTERN CAROLINA ALL RIGHT.

Solicitor Abernethy to Have No Opposition For Renomination.

In attendance on the Supreme Court this week among the other attorneys here was Solicitor Charles L. Abernethy, of Peaufort, of the Third Judicial district.

Mr. Abernethy is an optimist in his views of conditions in eastern North Carolina, and speaking of his section said: "The outlook is very bright in eastern North Carolina, and with the effects of the financial depression rapidly passing away industries are getting in good shape and business is going straight ahead. There has been much development of our section, but I believe that this has only begun, and that we are going to make a greater progress than ever before. Eastern North Carolina is a garden spot and its future is a bright one."

Mr. Abernethy has made a most excellent record as Solicitor of his district. He is a candidate for renomination by the Democratic party, in which he is a zealous worker, and visitors from the district say that there will be no opposition to him, as he has performed his duty and has made a most excellent official.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Mrs. J. L. Ballard Dead.

Mrs. J. S. Congleton has received a letter from her brother, Mr. Joseph L. Ballard, of Jackson county, announcing the death of his wife which occurred a few days ago of pneumonia. Mr. Ballard moved from Pitt county some years ago, and his friends here sympathize with him in his bereavement.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANK.

Bill to Establish Them Introduced in Congress.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Senator Knox, of Pennsylvania, introduced this afternoon a bill to establish postal savings banks. The plan he proposes has the approval of the president and the postmaster general. Section 1 authorizes the postmaster general to designate as postal savings bank such money order post-offices as he may select, which shall be required to accept from the public whatever deposits are offered, dispose of them in accordance with the terms of the bill and arrangement for their repayment to depositors.

Accounts may be opened by any person ten years old or over, by married women, by trustees, by parents, guardians or benevolent or charitable societies. Deposits are to be received in even dollars only, in person or by mail. No sum less than one dollar is to be accepted. Interest is to be paid at the rate of two per cent., payable quarterly, the last days of September, December, March and June.

Postal savings may be deposited by the postmaster general with the approval of the secretary of the treasury in national banks to be selected by the postmaster general and secretary of the treasury. Such deposits are to be made in national banks in the states and territories in which the funds are received and as far as possible in the counties and immediate vicinity of the postoffice in which the monies were deposited.

Chicks and Chickens.

The cocks and hens of the barnyard are unique among feathered animals in the fact that they have no specific name. We call them chickens, but as a matter of fact a chicken is a young barnyard fowl, and the term should not be applied to an old fowl. We have become so used to calling them chickens, however, that there is little chance of making a change. It seems strange that the naturalists did not give them a suitable name at the outset.

THURSDAY, FEB 20th, 1908.

The Greensboro Record says that Cannon money is floating around in that town. Taft will have to get his barrel ready to roll out.

An Indiana merchant advertised in his local paper for a boy, and the next day twins arrived at his home, both boys. Another proof that it pays to advertise.

Talking about explosions, one in a factory in Wharton, N. J., not only demolished things generally throughout the town, but also broke the windows of a passenger train that was passing at the time.

"Let everybody stop kicking and knocking" says the New Bern Sun. You might make two exceptions to that: Let the football player kick all he wants, and the man with a hammer keep up his knocking.

Congressman Webb has introduced a bill in congress requiring the census bureau to issue daily bulletins of the number of bales of cotton ginned, instead of twice a month. People in the cotton growing states would like to see this bill pass.

Whiskey literature, with which the state is being flooded cannot put much check on the wave of prohibition sentiment. Like a drowning man, the whiskey folks catch at every straw, but the only thing open to them is to get in some other business

Speaker Joe Cannon's candidacy for the presidential nomination is taking on shape. Selection of speakers to present his name to the convention has already been made. Cannon and Taft will make a fight for the North Carolina delegation.

Has it ever occurred to you that there is a bar directly in front of the man on the water wagon. - Wilmington Star.

That may be the case in Wilmington, as there are enough bars in that town to have one in front of every man, whether he is on or off the wagon.

As this is election year, patronage is beginning to get in its work. A young lady stamp clerk in the revenue office at Reidsville who performed her duties faithfully, has been removed to make room for a man who is a politician. The young lady cannot vote, you see, and will not be a delegate to any of the political conventions.

Two wagons loaded with eight bales of cotton raised in Guilford county, were driven into Greensboro the other day, and created a sensation almost equal to a circus. Even Andrew Joyner joined in the crowd of spectators and patted the bales of cotton, it reminded him so forcibly of "down home."

A law suit that has been going on in Union county for eight years over the possession of a book worth about 10 cents, came to an end a few days ago. It was a big to do over nothing.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio., by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

At times when you don't feel just right, when you have a bad stomach, take something right away that will assist digestion; not something that will stimulate for a time but something that will positively do the very work that the stomach performs under ordinary and normal conditions, something that will make the food digest. To do this you must take a natural digestant like Kodol For Dyspepsia. Kodol is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids with natural digestants and contains the same juices found in a healthy stomach. Each dose will digest more than 3,000 grains of good food. It is sure to afford prompt relief; it digests what you eat and is pleasant to take. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

"What is beer?" asks a contemporary. In Goldsboro it is Beerine.

The trouble with most cough remedies is that they constipate. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts gently but promptly on the bowels and at the same time it stops the cough by soothing the throat and lung irritation. Children like it. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

"Where is the limit?" asks a Florida newspaper. Where tomorrow is.

Bert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says: "I have only taken four doses of your Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills as I want a perfect cure." Mr. Barber refers to DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. They are sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

The conductor had every appearance of being new to the business. The car was well filled with a matinee crowd, and among the passengers was a flashily dressed individual escorting two overdressed young women. The conductor entered, stood before the trio and asked for the fares. The man handed him a dime and a nickel, whereupon the conductor asked:
"Three?"
"No; four," said the sporty chap, smiling.
Four fares were promptly registered, and the green conductor seemed at a loss to know what the passengers were laughing at.—New York Times.

Forks In England.

The enormous ruffs so much in favor in later Tudor times are responsible for the introduction of forks in England. The difficulty of reaching one's mouth when so adorned must have impressed itself very forcibly on every one, and so the invention of some means of prolonging the reach became an imperative necessity, and thus, as demand usually creates supply, forks came into existence.—Captain G. A. Hope in Grand Magazine.

A Precaution.

"Good!" exclaimed a Welsh hotel proprietor as a departing guest prepared to photograph the establishment. "I rejoice to see that you take with you one little memento of your visit. It shows you have been happy here. Is it not so?"
"Not exactly," was the morose answer. "I'm taking it to prevent any chance of my making a mistake and coming here again."—London Express.

A man is nearly always more of a man when his wife isn't about.

Everything taken into the stomach should be digested fully within a certain time. When you feel that your stomach is not in good order, the food you have eaten is not being digested, take a good, natural digestant that will do the work, the digestive juices are not doing. The best remedy known today for all stomach troubles is Kodol, which is guaranteed to give prompt relief. It is a natural digestant; it digests what you eat, it is pleasant to take and is sold here by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

What Is the First Law of Nature?

"Self preservation is the first law of nature," answers Johnny Jones.

Correct, Johnny. Go right up to the head of the class. This law applies to a community as well as to an individual. Under the severe operation of this law a town that does not take care of itself, that does not look after its own interests first, that does not look out for Number One, soon falls into a bad way.

That's just as sure as shootin'. It's the law.

We must obey the law or take the consequences. If we in this town and community do not work together for our own good, the mutual good of all of us, in all lines of business, we have only ourselves to blame if the place slides down the inclined plane instead of climbing the golden ladder of prosperity and progress.

For instance, if we do our retail trading with big city stores that have no interest in us except to get our money and keep it, local trade must suffer and shrink, town property values and farm land values must decrease—and there you are!

Johnny Jones, who knows the law, is a wise lad, but how about his papa and mamma?

Do they obey the first law as applied to the old home place? If they don't, Johnny may have to apply the law to himself when he grows up. He may have to go to the city to make a living. Let's all think it over.

PERFUMES.

How the Dainty Odors Are Coaxed From Freshly Picked Flowers.

Glass sheets held by frames a few inches apart are smeared rather thickly with lard, and between these sheets the freshly picked blossoms are scattered, touching the frames, but not being pressed by them. In one day the oil of the flowers exudes, and the lard absorbs the precious drops. If the flowers are plentiful, they may be changed as often as every six hours and in the case of jonquils thirty times. Jasmine is usually changed eighty times before the layers of lard are entirely saturated. When the lard has absorbed as much oil as possible from the flowers, it is melted and dissolved in purified alcohol made from grain. When this mixture is filtered, the concentrated extract may be redissolved in spirits, diluted or mixed with other oils, according to the strength or quality desired.

Attar of roses and neroly, the base of eau de cologne, are made by a different method. The perfume may be extracted by an ordinary process of distillation if a very even heat is maintained, but the usual method is the bain marie. A large kettle of lard is immersed in a tub of water at the boiling point until the grease reaches a uniform temperature and is entirely melted. Into this warm lard the petals of orange blossoms or of roses are thrown. The petals remain a day or less in this bath, and then the odoriferous wilted flowers are removed and fresh ones submerged until the mixture attains the desired strength. The women beat the mixture into a cream. After the pomade is made the oil may be shipped in this state or distilled and sold in its concentrated form as attar of roses or neroly or diluted to the strength of "perfume" or eau de cologne.

Twenty thousand pounds of rose petals are required to make one pound of attar of roses, valued at about $200. A thousand pounds approximately of the petals of the flower of the bitter orange are necessary to make a pound of neroly, valued at $20 on an average.—Jane Rosamond White in World Today.

He Wanted a Smoke.

An old Welsh preacher in his eightieth year, who was an inveterate smoker, was one day driving out with his servant, also noted for the quantity of tobacco he consumed.

Suddenly the trap overturned, with the old man underneath, the groom having succeeded in jumping on to the hedge.

A crowd of men by whom the old man was almost worshipped at once rushed to the spot and proceeded to raise the capsized vehicle, believing that the old gentleman was seriously hurt, if not killed.

They had raised one side of the trap when he thrust his head from beneath and addressed his servant: "George, have you got a light?"—London Tit-Bits.

As Many Bald Women as Men.

"Why is it men get bald and women don't?"

At this question the hairdresser laughed.

"My dear sir," he said, "there are quite as many bald women as men—in fact, I incline to believe that there are more."

He pointed to the switches, curls, fronts, fringes and complete female wigs in his window.

"Why would those things exist if women didn't get bald?" he said.

"The hairdresser puts in all his spare time in making false hair contrivances, and nine out of ten of them are made for woman. Well, woman wouldn't wear them if she didn't need them, would she?"—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Savage Proverbs.

"The proverbs of the savages of Africa are interesting," said an ethnologist. "They are full of color. Here are a few from the Basutos, the Yorubas, the Wolofs and the Pashtos:

"Cross the river before you abuse the crocodile."

"He who unjustly spears another knives himself."

"The mud hippopotamus does not bring forth the gazelle."

"One head impaled on the gatepost is more valuable than six on the shoulders of enemies."

"Kraals built in a day are mud ruins in a week."

The Dragon and the Goddess.

A woman was at a dinner party with an eminent Chinese philosopher when she said: "May I ask why you attach so much importance to the dragon in your country? You know there is no such creature, don't you? You have never seen one, have you?" "My dear madam," graciously answered the great Chinaman, "why do you attach so much importance to the Goddess of Liberty on your coins? You know there is no such lady, don't you? You have never seen her, have you?"

ANCIENT SWORDS.

The Famous Old "Two Hander" Was a Terrible Weapon.

In the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth centuries the development of the sword was carried forward rapidly. Hitherto the military organization of Europe had been of the most irregular character, but in the fourteenth century the German troops and the men from the Swiss mountains became known far and wide for their thorough discipline and their excellent organization. They approached more nearly to the modern notion of a soldier than any troops that had yet been put in the field, and they were employed as hired troops by the various European sovereigns. They were armed with a pistol and a huge two handed sword, which, through their marvelously skillful handling, became one of the most famous weapons of the army. This "two hander," as the Germans called it, often reached a length of seven feet, and one still preserved in Westminster abbey weighs quite eighteen pounds.

The wavy outline of the blade, a style of decoration that was much in favor in the arts about this time and from which came our word "flamboyant," or "flaming," gave greater efficacy to the blow. The prongs below the crosspieces protected the guard. Wielded by trained men, this weapon was capable of doing terrific execution. The brawny man-at-arms grasped the sword firmly in both hands. Balanced on one foot, he swung the blade in a circle above his head and fetched a crashing blow that mowed down everything before it. It was a favorite weapon with the English soldiery, to whose strongly built frames its huge proportions were well adapted. Richard the Lion Hearted, who from his great size alone would have been the foremost man on any field, handled this heavy weapon with such strength and skill that his name became a terror to the foe.

According to an old romance, an expert swordsman might hope to leave sixty of the enemy disabled on the field. But these mighty brands had all the faults of their virtues. Like the cumbersome armor of the Gothic period, they were a sore tax on the spent energies of the weary soldier, and owing to their awkward size extreme care was required in handling them lest an unexpected blow might be bestowed upon some fellow soldier in the furious assault. Besides, it took a lifetime of training to produce men of sufficient strength and dexterity to render effective service.—Chicago News.

A Deadly Insult.

A west side youngster was caught literally wiping up the street with another boy with whom he was supposed to be on especially friendly terms. The detector of his pugilistic encounter was his mother, who after she had yanked him into the house proceeded to deliver a lecture on the sin of fighting. The boy listened for awhile in silence.

"That's all right," he broke out at last in uncontrollable indignation. "It's all right for you to talk, but if you just knew what he said about you!"

The pause was significant. The mother took alarm.

"About me?" she said. "Why, what on earth did he say about me?"

"He said," blubbered the small boy in impotent wrath, "that you—wear—petticoats."—New York Times.

Still a Puppy.

The youth had only just left college, and his ambition, like his collar, was high.

At home the all engrossing subject was the young man's future career, and he was discussing with his parents which of the professions stood most in need of his genius.

The father's idea of his son's ability was disgustingly low.

"I think," said the old man, "that you had better adorn one of the stools in my office."

The young man drew himself up, and the high collar grew tight as he strove to swallow his righteous anger. Folding his arms, he asked:

"Am I a dog?"

"No, not yet, but you'll grow," came the crushing response.

The Safety Pin.

"The originator of the safety pin," said a historian of inventions, "was a little boy, an English blacksmith's son. The little boy, Harrison by name, had to look after his baby brother. The baby often cried, and its tears were usually to be traced to pin punctures. The boy nurse tried a long time to bend pins into such a form that they could be used with safety to his brother's flesh.

"In this he failed, but his father, the blacksmith, perceiving the utility of the idea the lad had been at work on, took it up on his own account and eventually turned out the safety pin that is in use today all over the world."

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup

"A Cold or a Cough nearly always produces constipation—the water all runs to the eyes, nose and throat instead of passing out of the system through the liver and kidneys. For want of moisture the bowels become dry and hard!"

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup relieves Colds by working them out of the system through a copious action of the bowels.

EPISTOLARY AFFECTATION.

The Art of Letter Writing in the Olden Times.

Not infrequently complaint is made in the magazines and more conservative newspapers that the art of letter writing has been lost; that the grace and charm as exemplified in the correspondence of writers in other days find no parallel in this matter of fact period.

Answer is usually returned that the man or woman of today is too busily engaged to permit of their indulgence in the epistolary affectations of olden times. Certainly the letter writers of those days enjoyed the advantage of great leisure. It is difficult otherwise to account for their prodigality of phrasing.

Lady Pomfret, we are told, presented to Lady Hereford a pair of alabaster vases and received in return a letter of thanks fitted to the times.

"There is," wrote the recipient of the vases, "an elegance in them superior to anything I ever saw, and yet, inestimable and beautiful as they are in themselves, their being a mark of your friendship enhances their value to me even beyond their merit. I sit and look at them with admiration for an hour together. I have not a room in the house worthy of them, no furniture good enough to fit with them—in short, I find a thousand wants that never entered my head before. I am grown ambitious all at once and want to change my house for a palace and to ransack all the cabinets in Europe for paintings, sculptures and other curiosities to place with them."

Even Lady Pomfret, who was herself a pretty fair phrasemaker, seems to have been a little abashed by her friend's enthusiasm.

"You quite confound me, dear madam," she replied, "with the encomiums you bestow upon a couple of alabaster vases fit only for the obscurity of a grotto and very justly make me blush for having sent so trifling a present."

This extravagant diction is equalled by that of the Princess Craon when writing to Sir Horace Walpole. After thanking Walpole for some trifle the princess says:

"The generosity of your friendship for me, sir, leaves me nothing to desire of all that is precious in England, China and the Indies."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Bad Mix.

Mr. Gladstone, speaking of Mr. Parnell on one occasion, made use of the oft quoted phrase "Marching through rapine to the dismemberment of the empire." On the same day there was a horse race in which the winners were respectively Veracity, Tyrone and Lobster. These facts were cabled to New Zealand together in the usual shorthand style of the cable. The result was that next day the New Zealand papers contained the following extraordinary paragraph: "Mr. Gladstone denounced Mr. Parnell as marching through rapine to the dismemberment of the empire and said that the Irish leader had the veracity of a Tyrone lobster."

Expert Opinion.

Physicians as a class are supposed to be indifferent to poetry. They have other and more important things to think of.

"What do you think of my poems?" inquired the young man.

"They betray an astonishing ignorance of anatomy," replied his medical friend.

"But they're not supposed to be scientific, you know."

"That may be the case, but it affords no excuse for your saying they 'spring from an aching heart' when it is so apparent that they proceed from a deranged liver."

Where She Found the Sermon.

A certain Boston man doesn't go to church often, but a week or so ago he was persuaded by his wife, and they attended services together. Upon their return home he regarded her with a teasing look and asked:

"Now look here, dear. Which is worse, not to go to church at all, or to go and pay absolutely no attention to the service?"

"If you mean that for me, I think you are horrid," she said.

"Well, you didn't. You were looking at all those diamonds the woman in front of you had on all the time."

For an instant she blushed, for she is an honest little woman, but quickly recovered her poise.

"Oh, well, suppose I was," she retorted. "Didn't you ever hear of sermons in stones?"—Exchange.

TO MY FRIENDS.

Having been away for several months I wish to announce to my friends and patrons of the "empire" of Pitt that I am still connected with the firm of Chas. M. Stieff, and if bachelors are allowed to misuse the happy term home as a synonym for a "hanging out place" I still call Greenville my home, and while I intend to be away from Greenville a great deal of my time during this fall a postal care of box 325, Greenville, will reach me within a day or two. We now have a number of slightly used upright pianos, some of which have been rented during the summer months, others which were temporarily used by artists at the exposition and for orchestra work, at bargain prices.

We also offer a special school piano for $225 00 fully measuring up in standard to any $350 00 instrument. This piano is especially built for college and school work for the special price named above and is full guaranteed by my firm for 10 years. Those interested in a school piano or in a good slightly used piano for the home should write me at once and will profit by it, and as ever I am always mindful of my patrons' protection and interest as well as my firm's interest. Grateful of past patronage.
