WHICH ROUTE SHALL BE PAVED?

ANOTHER CITIZEN EXPRESSES HIS VIEWS.

In Favor of Dickinson Avenue—People On It Entitled to Consideration.

Editor Reflector:

I read the communication in your paper last Saturday, by a citizen and tax payer of Greenville. This is not intended to answer his contentions, but I thought I would like to call the town aldermen's attention to some facts, in a friendly way.

They are all honorable, honest and high toned gentlemen, and I am sure they will act in the premises with forethought and wisdom, as they have in all matters that have heretofore come before them, and I assure them whatever may be their decision in this matter it will meet my approval.

1st. Is not Dickinson avenue the practical street to pave? There is more travel over that street than all the other streets combined.

2nd. What are streets paved for? For the benefit of the whole people, or the benefit of a few?

3rd. Is it not a fact that Dickinson avenue can be paved with half the money it would cost to pave Evans street to Ninth street, then to depot?

4th. Would the elections last April have been carried as a unit had the people known the money for improvement bonds would be used to pave any other but Dickinson avenue?

5th. Would not the bonds have been defeated?

6th. Has the committee waited on the property owners living on the avenue, to know what they would do towards helping secure side walks? I have heard there is such a committee, but they have failed to act up to this time.

7th. Is not Dickinson avenue the main thoroughfare through the town and leads out to the Norfolk & Southern and A. C. L. depots?

8th. Is not that territory around the depot one of the business parts of the town, and the property beyond the most valuable?

9th. Are not the citizens living on Dickinson avenue entitled to side walks, and is it not the duty of the town authorities to give side walks in some way? They are citizens and tax payers of the town, and they should have some consideration.

I am a Citizen and Tax Payer, Too.

The Local Man's Troubles.

The man who handles the local department of a newspaper learns after due experience not to expect very many thanks for a column of pleasant things, but he knows as surely as comes the seasons that a line in which there are unintentional mistakes will cause some one to be heard. Also that when he has made pleasant mention 999 times of some persons, place or thing, but on the thousandth time fails to do so, he is not to be forgiven. The omission may have been from accident, inadvertence or even an entire lack of knowledge, it matters not. The simple fact remains that he will be judged on that. He may say good things about some business man for weeks but let him make some mistake and the good things said are forgotten and that man's business is denied him.—Winchester Democrat.

MR. F. M. SMITH DEAD.

Suffers Stroke of Apoplexy And Dies in Short While.

Mr. Frank M. Smith died suddenly about 7 o'clock, Monday evening, at his home in South Greenville. For some time he had not been in good health, but recently seemed much improved. Just before night Monday evening he went to the store of Mr. H. A. Timberlake to make some purchases, and while talking with a friend there remarked that he felt better than he had in years. A few minutes later he was seized with nausea and violent pain in the head and had to be carried home. Medical aid was quickly summoned and all possible was done for him, but in a short while he passed away. His death was due to apoplexy. Mr. Smith was 59 years of age. He was reared near Greenville and spent nearly all of his life on the farm, changing his residence to town about two months ago. He leaves a wife and five children—Mr. Joe Smith, of Norfolk, Mr. E. V. Smith, of Georgia, Mrs. Maggie Evans, Mrs. Dora Tripp and Mrs. J. E. Fleming, the latter having recently gone to Georgia. He is also survived by two brothers and one sister—Chief of Police J. T. Smith, Mr. J. Q. Smith and Mrs. Jane Hardee.

Besides his immediate family there are a large number of relatives and friends who are grieved at his death. The hour for the funeral cannot yet be stated, as the arrival of Mr. Smith's children from Norfolk and Georgia will be awaited.

Fayetteville Chief Police Killed.

Fayetteville, Feb. 23.—For the second time within a year Fayetteville's chief of police has been murdered. James H. Benton, the head of the police department of the city, was shot about 1:30 o'clock this afternoon by Sam Murchison, a negro 30 years old, and died at 2:45 o'clock, living little more than an hour. The murderer was captured a short time after the shooting occurred and is now safely lodged in jail here.

Never Pull in Your Sign.

In all towns where a newspaper is published every man should advertise in it, if nothing more than a card stating his name and business he is engaged in. It nearly always pays the advertiser and besides lets the people at a distance know that the town in which you reside is a prosperous community of business men and that the people may settle in it with a chance to make a living. Never pull in your sign in a home paper while you expect to do business.—Peter Cooper.

$25.00 Reward.

We were keeping on our boat (Myrtle) one gun, Remington, cost about $20, also one Rifle, 16 shooter 32 cal. Winchester, cost about $35. They were lost from our boat some time about Oct. or Nov. 1907.

We will give the above amount to any one that will find either of the above guns and bring to us. J. O. Proctor & Bro. 144 1/2 W. Grimesland, N. C.

Weather.

ENJOYABLE AFFAIR.

Subscription Dance in Perkins' Opera House.

Reported for The-Reflector. There was a subscription dance gotten up last Monday night, and it was one of the most enjoyable dances of the season. The German was led by Miss Irma Cobb with Walter Wilson, Jr. The following couples were present: Miss Nell Skinner with A. M. Moseley.

Miss Gladys Wells, of Wilson, with Frank Wilson. Miss Mary Matthews with Alex. Blow.

Miss Bruce Swift with John Ivey Smith. Miss Helen Forbes with Cary Warren.

Miss Mary James with John Shelburn. Miss Margaret Skinner with Charlie James.

Mrs. A. S. Dockery, of Rockingham, with Andrew Moore. Miss Irma Cobb with Walter Wilson, Jr.

Miss Bertha Patrick with D. M. Clark. Miss Alice Lang with Mark Turnage.

Miss Mary Barnes, of Wilson, with Harry Skinner, Jr. Miss Lot Skinner with Jack White.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Forbes. Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Cobb. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hassell.

Mr. and Mrs. Cary Mayo Stags: Cook Wainright, Willard Smith, Bob Wilkins, of Wilson, and R. C. Bagby.

Music by the Italian band.

Some Plain Words from Dr. Hall.

At his service last night, Dr. Hall made some very practical remarks relating to the awful tragedy, which has thrown a shadow over our entire city, and bereaved an esteemed family, and slain our Chief of police. Dr. Hall said:

"While I am opposed to lynch law, and pray that a racial war may never take place amongst us, the ugly fact stares us in the face that within a year four of our officials have been shot down like dogs, and three of them murdered by negroes. This terrible state of things cannot continue without bringing about lynch law with all its horrors, and I call upon every intelligent colored man now too look this seriously in the face, and to teach their people from the pulpit, the public school, and more especially in the home respect for the white people; regard the law and its representatives; to earnestly labor for a higher state of morals, and to shun whiskey."

"But there are also some important thoughts for white people. We need a higher regard for our public officials. They are too poorly paid. They take their lives in their own hands, and are likely to lay them down any moment. We must stand by them, and encourage the men in the enforcement of the law. We should have a fund for their widows and fatherless children, when disabled or slain as Chief Benton was, who fell at his post of duty."—Fayetteville Observer

Epitaph First Aid to Cupid.

LaFayette, Ind., Feb. 20.—Hugh DeWitte, a Mexican War veteran at the Indiana State Soldiers' Home, who died last week, aged 93 years, was buried beneath a tombstone on which he himself had carved this epitaph: "A bachelor lies beneath this sod, Who's disobeyed the laws of God; Advice to others here I give—Don't live a batch as I did live."

ROCK THROUGH CAR WINDOW.

Thrown by Incompetent Small Colored Boy.

As the afternoon north bound A. C. L. train was passing the vicinity of St. Delight's church, about 3 miles south of Greenville, Monday afternoon, a rock crashed through one of the windows of the passenger coach. No passenger was struck and the only damage was to the window.

Capt. J. S. Barr at once signaled the train to stop and he got off and captured a small colored boy who had thrown the rock, and brought him on to Greenville. The boy was turned over to the authorities, but as he was only 8 years old he was deemed too young to prosecute and was taken to his parents to be chastised.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town, Briefly Told.

Ayden, N. C., Feb. 25, 1908.

C. V. Cannon and sister, Miss Blanch, spent Sunday in Bethel.

Robert Rountree, of New York, was here last week visiting his niece, Mrs. R. C. Cannon.

Mrs. W. J. Hemby was called to the bedside of her mother Sunday, who is very sick.

Oia Forbes, of Greenville, was here Monday.

Mrs. Sarah Smith is spending the week with friends in the country.

Rev. C. W. Howard, of Kinston, filled his first appointment at the Christian church here 4th Sunday. Services will be held there now on 4th Sunday only, instead of first and third as formerly.

Dave Whichard, of Greenville, was down to see us Friday and in company with ourselves he paid many of our citizens a social as well as a business visit. He is a hustler and added much to the Ayden department of The Reflector for which he has our sincerest thanks. He seemed very much impressed with the growth and development of our town especially the mercantile fraternity and in his issue of Saturday spoke highly of us all for which we bow our profoundest. Come again.

Frank Yelverton, of Fremont, has been visiting W. E. Hooks since Sunday.

This morning W. E. Hooks and Frank Yelverton left through the country for Fremont where on Wednesday evening they will attend the marriage of Mr. George Hooks and Miss Dickerson.

Walter Hooks, Esq., went to Greenville Saturday afternoon on legal business. As an attorney just located here we are pleased to note he is succeeding admirably.

Mrs. Moseley, of Kinston, spent Sunday here with daughter, Mrs. J. R. Turnage.

Frank White went over near Institute Sunday, to see his mother who is quite sick.

Rev. Mr. Duncan conducted services in the Episcopal church Sunday evening.

She Don't Belong to Beaufort.

Mr. A. J. Moore, of Greenville, is a repeated visitor to the Old Ford neighborhood, via this city. It is to be desired that Mr. Moore, who is a rising young business man of Pitt county, would abide with us, instead of seeking to decrease the population of good old Beaufort by one.—Washington Messenger.

THE HERO OF GETTYSBURG.

Those on Each Side Was the Private Soldier, Said General Pickett.

The wife of the Confederate General Pickett contributes to the March McClure's an article of most unusual interest called "My Soldier," which, without making any direct statement leaves one with a conviction of the appalling imbecility of war.

"My Soldier said, one day, that he should be glad to be in every war that had a just cause. I had been taught to believe that the war with Mexico lacked it, and when I asked him, he replied:

"At West Point some of us were reprimanded for expressing doubts of its justice. I was one of them. After we were in it, we had to fight it through, and, since it had to be done, I was glad to do my share."

Later on, when the war of the secession broke out:

"I pray God that this direful revolution which has come about because of misunderstandings, and for which I see no real necessity, may yet in some way be averted."

When the die was cast, General Pickett naturally, though sorrowfully, chose the side where were his own kith and kin. He distinguished himself at Gettysburg.

"When he reached Cemetery Ridge again and reported to General Lee, his face was wet with tears as he pointed to the crimson valley and said:

"My noble division lies there!"

"General Pickett," said the commander, "you and your men have covered yourselves with glory."

"My Soldier replied:

"Not all the glory in the world, General Lee, could atone for the widows and orphans this day has made."

"Some years later, George Augustus Sala asked my Soldier whom he considered the hero of Gettysburg on the Northern side. He replied:

"The hero of Gettysburg on both sides was the private soldier."

Pickett was appreciated on the Yankee side, and General Grant celebrated his son's birth with bonfires, all of which makes excellent reading as told by his widow

Difficult Operation.

Col. Isaac Sugg, of Greenville, underwent a very dangerous and difficult operation at the Washington Hospital yesterday, that of having his tongue removed on account of cancer. His condition is reported today as being very favorable.

This is one of the first, if not the first operation of this kind ever performed in North Carolina. Drs. D. T. and Joshua Tayloe and Ed. Brown were the surgeons.—Washington Messenger, 24th.

Intoxicants.

"For the protection of life and property and good service the enforcement is imperative," is the opening paragraph of a circular issued by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad management directing that hereafter no one connected with the running of trains, such as dispatchers, trainmasters, engineers, firemen, brakemen, conductors, and yardmen will be permitted to use intoxicants at any time, either on or off duty, and no person using such beverages will be employed hereafter by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.—Manufacturers' Record.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL BRIEFS.

The Visitors Here and People Who Travel.

R. J. Cobb went to Washington today.

J. R. Gaskill, of Tarboro, was here today.

O. L. Joyner went to Richmond today.

S. J. Nobles went to Grimesland today.

Dr. L. Smith left Monday evening for Richmond.

J. B. Randolph went to Scotland Neck today.

E. A. Kline returned Monday evening from Weldon.

Dr. J. E. Nobles went to New Bern Monday evening.

D. C. James returned Monday evening from Washington.

H. L. Coward and J. L. Starkey went to Kinston today.

D. D. Overton returned Monday evening from Pinetown.

H. A. White returned Monday evening from Grimesland.

Joe Rawls returned Monday evening from Washington.

J. J. Laughinghouse went to Grimesland Monday evening.

W. J. Proctor, of Norfolk, came in Monday evening to spend a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Timberlake returned Monday evening from Rocky Mount.

Dr. R. L. Carr and W. S. Atkins left this morning on a pleasure trip to Washington City.

The run of "hickory" shad is getting plentiful. Fishermen had many of them on the street today.

Whose Boy Is in Danger.

Dr. Cortland Myers, of Brooklyn, relates the following story as told by a ship's surgeon:

"On our last trip a boy fell overboard from the deck. I didn't know who he was, and the crew hastened out to save him. They brought him on board the ship, took off his outer garments, turned him over a few times and worked his hands and his feet. When they had done all that they knew how to do, I came up to be of assistance, and they said he was dead and beyond help. I turned away, as I said to them, 'I think you have done all you could,' but just then a sudden impulse told me I ought to go over and see what I could do. I went over and looked down into the boy's face and discovered that it was my own boy. Well, you may believe I didn't think the last thing had been done. I pulled off my coat and bent over that boy.

I blew in his nostrils and breathed into his mouth; I turned him over and over, and simply begged God to bring him back to life, and for four long hours I worked, until, just at sunset, I began to see the least flutter of breath that told me he lived. Oh, I will never see another boy drown without taking off my coat in the first instance and going to him and trying to save him as if I knew he was my own boy."—Epworth Herald.

Skating Rink.

The skating rink at Centre Brick warehouse was the attraction Monday night. There was quite a crowd of skaters and many more spectators, and the Aeolian band was out to make music for them.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OF GOOD WORK.

The Mechanics Perpetual Building and Loan Association of Charlotte, is arranging to celebrate its quarter of a century of operations on the first Saturday in March. The association will be able to make a most gratifying exhibit and one that will be a practical demonstration of the value of these associations to a community. The Mechanics Perpetual has been an inspiration to other associations throughout the State. It has been excellently managed and during its twenty-five years has handled $6,000,000 and made 3,000 loans. It has paid off in matured shares the sum of $2,500,000 and has earned for the shareholders in profits approximately $500,000. It has made loans of $850,000, and its last year's transactions amounted to $1,100,000. All of this business has been conducted on an expense basis of less than one per cent. The president gets no salary and the operations of the association are carried on at the minimum of expense. Great is the building and loan association. - Charlotte Chronicle.

Such articles as the above make us feel more proud of Greenville's building and loan association. The association here is doing a good work and is a great factor in upbuilding the town. Every person who can should have shares in it.

The senior class of the A. & M. college seem to have discovered that the people who are supporting the institution "are still unsatisfied" at the secret investigation of the recent hazing, hence they make another statement which they "believe is due the State." Their statement says the investigation "secured evidence to warrant us in insisting upon the withdrawal of two men." No, boys, the people who support the institution are not satisfied with this kind of "punishment" for the perpetrators of such outrages. Their names should be given to the public and the criminal court should inflict the proper punishment.

We hope the rumor that Germany wants to buy the Philippines will develop into a fact. Uncle Sam should jump at an opportunity to unload them.

Greensboro ought not to complain of hard times if much of the Cannon money is turned loose there.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists. Price, 75c. per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

The fruit of egotism is the apple of your eye.

At times when you don't feel just right, when you have a bad stomach, take something right away that will assist digestion; not something that will stimulate for a time but something that will positively do the very work that the stomach performs under ordinary and normal conditions, something that will make the food digest. To do this you must take a natural digestant like Kodol For Dyspepsia. Kodol is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids with natural digestants and contains the same juices found in a healthy stomach. Each dose will digest more than 3,000 grains of good food. It is sure to afford prompt relief; it digests what you eat and is pleasant to take. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

How is the earth divided? Why, by earthquakes, of course.

The trouble with most cough remedies is that they constipate. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts gently but promptly on the bowels and at the same time it stops the cough by soothing the throat and lung irritation. Children like it. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

There is nothing which is more liable to cause a loss of appetite than eating.

Are you lacking in health—the easiest thing in the world to keep, the hardest to get? Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is health itself. No other remedy so effective. Satisfy yourself. 35c. Tea or tablets. Wooten's Drug Store.

Who is it that is always ready to go to bail? Why, the cotton broker, of course.

DeWitt's Carbolyzed Witch Hazel Salve is best for cuts, burns, boils, bruises and scratches. It is especially good for piles. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

A true friend is the one who will bear with us in all our faults and failings.

Everything taken into the stomach should be digested fully within a certain time. When you feel that your stomach is not in good order, the food you have eaten is not being digested, take a good, natural digestant that will do the work, the digestive juices are not doing. The best remedy known today for all stomach troubles is Kodol, which is guaranteed to give prompt relief. It is a natural digestant; it digests what you eat, it is pleasant to take and is sold here by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

Poverty is just exactly like fire, it makes a good servant but a most cruel master.

IT DOES THE BUSINESS

Mr. E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Maine, says of Bucklen's Arnica Salve "It does the business; I have used it for piles and it cured them. Used it for hopped hands and it cured them. Applied it to an old sore and it healed it without leaving a scar behind." 25c at J. L. Wooten's drug store.

Don't fret and fume, and fuss and ferment. Never trouble trouble unless trouble troubles you.

Use DeWitt's Little Early Risers, pleasant little pills. They are easy to take. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

The way of the transgressor is now said to be hard, but they are generally careful not to give themselves away.

Girls, a clear skin is the first requisite for personal beauty; to secure it good digestions is the secret. Perfect digestion comes from the use of Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Makes rich red blood and clear healthy skin. 35c. Tea or Tablets. Wooten's Drug Store.

Bert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says: "I have only taken four doses of your Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. His Dream.

"There is some money, my love," said the husband. "I don't want any," replied the wife. "Come, now, darling, take this five pound note and go out shopping." "Thank you, dearest, but I really don't care to. I would rather stay at home and see to the housework." Then the husband awoke and found that he had been dreaming.—Liverpool Mercury.

Poems Offered.

A correspondent writes: "On reading your paper this morning I find a pretty little poem signed Leigh Hunt. I have one or two at present I would like to have you consider. Hoping for a favorable reply, I am," etc.

That's the way it goes. We just knew that if we let Leigh Hunt contribute some verses a lot of others would want to. Send your poems in, lady. But, understand, we didn't pay Leigh a cent for his, so don't expect any pecuniary advantage. Hunt is satisfied with the honor he got. You must be the same.—Cleveland Leader.

The Toad the Friend of Man.

There are no better friends to have in the garden than the toads. If they could be protected and encouraged to live there they would eradicate many of the grubs and cutworms that do so much damage to plants. The great enemy of the toad is the small boy. Bands of schoolboys have been known to go out in a single day kill as many as 300 of these useful animals. Boys regard this as innocent sport, being untaught and not knowing that the toad is a most valuable insect destroyer. Teach these young barbarians to avoid cruelty.—American Farmer.

Are You a Trust Buster?

Hey—You!
Yes, YOU'RE the man we mean.

You're always talking about the harm the trusts are doing. The country's going to the demdition bowwows, you say, because of the uncurbed trusts. Rich growing richer, poor getting poorer. Used to be that a poor man could go into business for himself in a modest way and make a good living. Now he must become a clerk or a roustabout or a hodcarrier for some corporation—some combination that has grown to be a Goliath of bigness, that has devoured the fat of the land and is still gourmandizing upon it, till there's not a scrap of bone left for the under dog.

That's your line of talk. You're still handing it out, and you're proud of it.

Well, now, let's see: Are YOU a trust buster YOURSELF?

Didn't we see you stalk up to the postoffice just now and mail a letter with the address of a city Mail Order Store on the envelope? Hey? Didn't we?

Don't you know that the Mail Order Store is a trust—one of the most dangerous in the crowd? Don't you know that it is secretly and silently and slyly closing the doors of opportunity to the young men in country towns and small cities like ours? Don't you know that the Mail Order Trust is collecting the patronage of town and country people by the mail route, thereby cutting down the patronage of the smaller merchant, the local man who is trying to build up a modest, independent, antitrust business?

Hey?

Didn't that ever occur to you?

N. B. (which means note well): Why don't you trade at home instead of helping to build up a trust that hurts your home place?

THE TIME TABLE.

Its Part In the Daily Life of the Locomotive Engineer.

The principal anxieties of an express driver have to do with keeping time. His employment depends upon his doing so. He is there in the cab of an express engine just, in fact, because he knows better than other men how to get the best results from a splendid piece of machinery. And they are demanded of him. No railway company in competition with another can afford to be lax about the running of its trains, and an express driver who means to keep his place has to remember this.

If the train is late from any fault of his he must expect to be reprimanded. If it is late at all frequently he may be either fined or in the end reduced. The checks upon him are strict. In every signal box he passes the time of his passing is recorded. He checks the record with his own time sheet, which is checked by the guard of his train in turn. He need not fear injustice, true. So many independent records establish the facts beyond mistake or cavil and enable his superintendent to say at once whether the fault lies between him and the engine or elsewhere. But time is one of his constant preoccupations.

He cannot forget it, as he may forget his perils. It is evidently not a matter to which a driver can become indifferent in the least, and there are times when it is oppressive. Engines differ, like pianos from the same famous workshop or watches made by machinery. They differ so notoriously that there is a railway saying, "A good engine makes a good driver."

Among modern express engines there is probably not a disappointing one in twenty. But every engine has her idiosyncrasies. She may respond to firing less readily than another or need more oiling or be oftener docked for small repairs. For better or worse the driver is married to her until he can show sufficient cause for a divorce. The time table is their moral law, enforced daily under the penalties aforesaid.—Keighley Snowden in Fortnightly Review.

Trifles That Cause Bravery.

On one of the streams in Yorkshire a man and a boy were seated in a boat fishing when suddenly the boy lost his balance and fell overboard.

The man gallantly jumped into the water and rescued the little fellow.

"Bravo!" remarked a farmer standing near. "They ought to give you the Humane society's medal."

"An' what for becos?" asked the old chap.

"For so nobly saving that poor lad's life at the risk of your own," replied the man.

"Now, look here, mister," he rejoined, "I don't want no praise w'ere no praise ain't doo. If you'd been me you'd 'a' done just the same."

"Why?" said the farmer.

"Why? Why, 'cos the young imp had all the bait in his pockets, that's why—an' a good why, too, mister."—Pearson's Weekly.

Immaterial.

The janitor of a small church on the south side raises a few chickens in a small inclosure in his back yard. The eggs of these he sells to some members of the church in which he works.

Last Saturday one of his customers asked him if he could spare a dozen eggs within the next two or three days.

"Oh, yes, ma'am," replied the janitor. "I'll bring you a dozen fresh ones tomorrow morning."

"Oh, no," protested the housewife. "I shouldn't want you to bring them on Sunday—not on Sunday, John."

"Well," replied John, "all right, ma'am, if you say so. But it don't make no difference to the hens."—Harper's Weekly.

A Hopeless Lunatic.

"Yes, sir," said the strange looking individual, "we are entirely satisfied with the flat we have now. There is plenty of room, the neighbors never bother us, no one within hearing plays the piano, there are no children in the block, my wife has no trouble in keeping help and the janitor is so kind and obliging that the heat is always exactly right and—"

But they didn't wait to hear any more. They simply held him gently, but firmly, while some one went and phoned for a padded ambulance from the insane asylum.—Bohemian.

Her Shopping.

"The idea of his calling me extravagant!" exclaimed Mrs. Schoppen.

"Well," replied her friend, "perhaps you're not as economical in your shopping as you might be."

"Nonsense! Why, I never buy a blessed thing but bargains."—Philadelphia Press.

All the Gold IN GEORGIA Could not Buy-

Roding, Ga. August 27, 1906.
Messrs. E. C. DeWitt & Co.,
Chicago, Ills.

Gentlemen:— In 1897 I had a disease of the stomach and bowels. Some physicians told me it was Dyspepsia, some Consumption of the Lungs, others said consumption of the Bowels. One physician said I would not live until Spring, and for four long years I existed on a little boiled milk, soda biscuits, doctor's prescriptions and Dyspepsia remedies that flooded the market. I could not digest anything I ate, and in the Spring 1902 I picked up one of your Almanacs as a poor emaciated Dyspepsia wreck will grasp at anything, and that Almanac happened to be my life saver. I bought a fifty cent bottle of KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE and the benefit I received from that bottle ALL THE GOLD IN GEORGIA COULD NOT BUY. I kept on taking it and in two months I went back to my work, as a machinist, and in three months I was well and hearty. I still use a little occasionally as I find it a fine blood purifier and a good tonic.

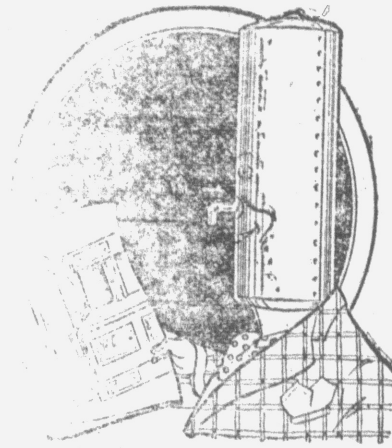

May you live long and prosper.
Yours very truly
G. N. CORNELL.

A WICKED MAN.

How He Planned to Turn the Tables on His Unsuspecting Wife.

He looked at his watch, debated with himself for a minute and then said: "Go on with the game. I'll sit in a little longer."

"Likely to be somebody sitting up for you?" asked the dealer.

"Sure to be," was the reply.

"Possibility that the party who is sitting up will be mad clear through?" inquired the player opposite.

"Not only a possibility, but a certainty," answered the man who had looked at his watch, "and I don't mind saying that if it was any other night I wouldn't dare stay another minute."

"What is there peculiar about tonight?" asked the dealer.

"The fact that I received this today," replied the player as he took an envelope from his pocket and held it up.

"Letter?" they asked.

"No; bill," he answered. "Milliner's bill."

"I don't see"—began one of the others.

"Why, it's simple enough," returned the man with the bill. "Can't you always find something to kick about in a milliner's bill?"

They admitted that they usually could.

"Well," he went on, "there's an item for a hat here that's all right. She told me she was going to get it and what it would cost, but here's another item of $4.35 for ribbons and things that would give me a chance to make my roar. I'll turn loose the minute I get in the house—before she has a chance to say a word."

"Well?" they said.

"Well," he answered, "that will put her on the defensive at the start, and then I'll keep it up until a certain lecture or any kind of a sarcastic reference to the club is about as far from her thoughts as we are from the Philippines. Just you show me a man who can't work out his own salvation when he once succeeds in putting a woman on the defensive, and I will show you a man who has not been married long. Give me two cards, please."—Exchange.
