MARION BUTLER IN IT.

Lobbyist of one of the Torpedo Boat Companies.

Washington, D. C., March 9.—The name of ex-Senator Marion Butler has been connected with the sub-marine boat lobby, which is being investigated by a select committee of Congress on charges preferred by Representative Lilley, of Connecticut. The committee held its first meeting today and the name of the ex-Populist senator from North Carolina was among those furnished the members by Mr. Lilley, whom he desires to be examined.

It has been current report here for some time that Marion Butler is the lobbyist of one of the torpedo boat companies. Representative Lilley asserted tonight that the ex-Senator has been and is now on the pay roll of the Electric Boat Company, which he claims has exerted a wrongful influence in the halls of legislation here.

This is not the first time that the charge of lobbying has been brought to the door of Marion Butler. He has been accused of exerting his influence as an ex-senator to get legislation in Indian claim bills pending before congress. The committee has assumed a hostile attitude towards Mr. Lilley, giving color to the report that he is not to get a fair consideration of his charges.—T. J. Pence in News & Observer.

The Contrast—Atlanta and Wilmington.

For the first time in forty years there is not a negro in prison in the city of Atlanta. Two years ago when Atlanta was full of saloons and dives, negro criminals thronged the jails and their whiskey-produced crimes caused the most horrible race riot of this decade.

There are over sixty saloons in Wilmington. Mr. W. E. Hocutt, writing in today's paper says: "Last Tuesday I visited the county jail and found every nook and corner of this tremendous building rammed and packed full of negro men, women, boys and girls—over two hundred waiting trial for all sorts of crimes." After State prohibition goes into effect next January, there will be a mighty thinning out of the criminals in the jail at Wilmington just as there has been in Atlanta. While prohibition will not stop all crime, it will greatly lessen it.

The contrast between the empty Atlanta jail where State prohibition prevails, and the crowded Wilmington jail where three score saloons are wide open, is argument enough for prohibition.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Suit for Slander.

Three suits have been instituted by A. P. Kitchin, of Scotland Neck, against S. W. Morrissett, Frank Shields, and N. B. Josey, of the same place, for $20,000 each. The bills of complaint filed allege slanderous statements by the defendants to the effect that the liquor election by which Scotland Neck went wet several years ago was stolen for the saloon interest by Mr. Kitchin, who was one of the poll-holders. The case promises to be hard fought and to attract a great deal of attention. The attorneys for the prosecution are Kitchin and Smith, of Scotland Neck; W. E. Daniel, of Weldon, and E. L. Travis, of Halifax. Albion Dunn, of Scotland Neck, and Day, Bell and Dunn, of Enfield, will conduct the defense.—Enfield Progress.

FOREST FIRE FATAL TO FOUR.

One White Man and Three Negroes Perish.

Wilmington, N. C., March 10.—Passengers arriving on a belated Atlantic Coast Line train from Fayetteville this morning report a fierce forest fire raging in the vicinity of Tomahawk, fifty miles west of Wilmington. Hundreds of cross-ties were burned and four men of the community, one white and three negroes who had turned out to fight the flames, were cut off and fatally burned, one of the colored men having succumbed to his injuries last night. The fire was fanned by a strong March wind and swept everything before it. The railroad track of the Coast Line was burned for some distance, delaying for six hours the train which brought news of the fire. There is no telephone communication with Tomahawk and the extent of the damage to property cannot be learned.

FARMVILLE ITEMS.

Farmville, N. C. March 10, 1908.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Thomas and their little boy, Scott, who have been with us since last August, left for their home in Rocky Mount Saturday. Mr. Thomas was the American Tobacco Co's buyer on the Farmville market.

Luther P. Thomas, who has been with Monk, Davis & Company, left last Friday for his home in Virginia.

C. E. Alien, the clever auctioneer, who has been with Monk Davis & Co., left for his home yesterday.

W. E. Goolsby went to Richmond yesterday.

A. M. Moseley, of Greenville, was in our town yesterday.

Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Weeks, who went to Leggett's last Friday, returned yesterday.

The Republicans of Farmville township, so it is said, held primary here last Saturday.

S. C. Wooten went to Fountain this morning.

AYDEN ITEMS.

News Notes From a Hustling Town, Briefly Told.

Ayden, N. C., Mar. 10, 1908

Mrs. David Manning died at her home near here Sunday. She had been sick for several months. She leaves a husband.

The little baby of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McCaskey is very sick.

Rev. T. H. King, of Winterville, filled his regular appointment here last Sunday.

Our clever attorney, W. J. Hooks, left Saturday to spend several weeks with his family at Kenly. He will take a special course of lectures at Wake Forest before returning to Ayden.

R. W. Smith left today for Rocky Mount to meet his family who are on their way home from an extended trip to Florida.

The remains of Mrs. Palmer, mother of the late Dr. J. R. Palmer, were brought here from Hookerton and carried to Warrenton for burial.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Darden, J. O. Sugg, Oscar Harper, Miss Martha Harper of Snow Hill, and Miss Boyette, of Dunn, were the guests of Robert Coward Sunday.

L. H. Cox and wife, of Grifton, were visiting the family of J. F. Smith last week.

Saturday during the absence of Mr. Joyner, one of the seminary students, some one broke into his room and ransacked things generally. Nothing was stolen, but the room had the appearance of a recent visit from a cyclone.

The net profits from the dispensary here for the quarter ending February 13th, were $1664.57 cents.

Mrs. W. E. Hooks and child ren, after being in the country with her father, R. H. Garris, who has been very sick some time, came home Sunday. Mr. Garris we are pleased to learn, is greatly improved.

J. E. Green and Fountain Cox were over from Winterville a short while Sunday afternoon.

The Republican primary here last Saturday was a tame affair. We are told there were five present in a very large store. No one knew anything about it until it was all over. There are but few radicals in Contentnea and if you have any business with one you have to look him up. They never have a revival hence no new converts.

Miss Nellie Barnhill, after a pleasant visit to her sister, Mrs. A. L. Sumrell, returned to her home in Greenville Monday.

Misses Lillie Savage, Mary Whitehead, Letha Fair and Gabelle Dawson went to Conetoe Friday and returned yesterday.

Misses Edith and Thelma Mumford were very pleasant callers Friday afternoon.

A colored man rode a horse belonging to Mr. Charles Smith, near here, Saturday evening and tied him to a post until he could go over town and transact some business. When he went for his horse to go home the animal was gone and it was not until late the next afternoon that he was found tied in another part of the town. Some rascal had ridden him during the night.

Mrs. C. B. Howard, of Tarboro, spent from Friday until Monday here with her sister, Miss Henrie Brown, one of the teachers at the graded school.

Notice to Tax Payers.

All parties who owe taxes for the year 1907 are requested to pay same before the 15th day of March. Positively all who do not pay by that date will be served with notices and cost added. L. W. Tucker, Sheriff mar 9 d 6t w 1t.

SOMETHING TO ACT ON.

To the Chamber of Commerce: Senator Simmons some time ago secured the adoption of an amendment to the House rivers and harbors bill appropriating five hundred and fifty thousand dollars for the construction of a canal which will connect the waters of Pamlico sound with the Atlantic ocean at Beaufort. On March 2nd, he introduced a bill providing for a survey looking to the establishment of a ten foot channel from the respective mouths of the following rivers emptying into the Pamlico and Albemarle sounds:

Neuse river to Kinston; Trent river to Trenton; Roanoke river to Weldon; Pasquotank river to Elizabeth City; Chowan river to Winton; Pamlico river to Washington.

The purpose of calling the attention of the Chamber of Commerce to this matter is to impress the necessity of insisting that the Pamlico river is opened up as far as Greenville and farther if possible. It is not known that it is practical to establish a ten foot water way as high up as Greenville, but this is a golden opportunity to get an accurate survey made of the river and determine what depths can be obtained as high up as our city. The Chamber of Commerce should take this matter up immediately with Senator Simmons as he can and no doubt will if properly brought to his attention, amend his bill to include Tar river.

COX'S MILL ITEMS.

Cox's Mill, N. C. March 9.

L. H. Rouse, of Chocowinity, spent Saturday and Sunday with friends here.

Miss Lillie Corey visited Miss Bessie Moore Sunday.

Miss Mittie Wilson, of Pactolus, is spending this week with Miss Bessie Moore.

J. M. Cox went to Kinston last week.

Ed. Moore and Oscar Evans went to Greenville Saturday.

This fine weather has got the farmers to hustling.

L. F. Everette and Griffin Rouse went to Washington Saturday.

There will be preaching at Black Jack next Saturday and Sunday.

Fire On Train.

News reached here this morning of an exciting experience among trainmen and passengers on the eastbound Greensboro and Goldsboro train which left here for Goldsboro last evening at 6:30 o'clock. It seems that several miles this side of Goldsboro one of the passenger coaches caught fire and could not be extinguished with appliances available on train and a "wild run" for Goldsboro was only hoped. Train went into Goldsboro at a seventy mile an hour speed and the flames were soon extinguished without really serious damage other than painful burns for those engaged in the fire fighting.—News & Observer

Meeting of School Superintendents.

The graded school superintendents of towns east of the Wilmington & Weldon branch of the A. C. L. will hold a meeting in Greenville on March 20th and 21st. The purpose of the meeting is mutual helpfulness and advancement of the cause of education. Such a meeting ought to result in much good and will no doubt do so.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL BRIEFS.

The Visitors Here and People Who Travel.

E. G. Flanagan went to Wilson today.

W. P. Edwards went to Bethel today.

A. B. Moore went to Oak City today.

T. A. Person went to Henderson today.

Mrs. J. S. Tunstall went to Bethel today.

Burwell Riddick, of Suffolk, was here today.

H. A. White and W. C. Cannon went to Winterville today.

C. B. Mayo and C. L. Wilkinson went to Grimesland today.

Miss Lucille Cobb returned Monday evening from a visit to Kinston.

OAKLEY ITEMS.

Oakley, N. C. Murch 10, 1908

Well several times we have been thrown in the waste basket but we come again. Oakley has been on a rest [When did you get in the waste basket?—Ed.]

C. H. Ross and family, of Virginia, are spending a few days in this section with friends.

We regret to state that Mrs. Bettie Belcher is but little better.

S. Belcher, of Charleston, spent two days here the past week at his old home.

Mack Hawley and family, of Goldsboro, were here last week.

Frank Warren and family have moved to Rocky Mount.

Charlie Moore, of Whichard, was a caller here Saturday.

Farmers are pushing farm work in this section.

Miss Willie Everett, the accomplished and worthy teacher of the Piney Green school, gave a basket party Friday night, which was largely attended from both Pitt and Marcin counties.

The baskets were pretty, the girls were all smiles, and the young men were Pitt's and Martin's best specimen of manhood. They spent their money freely for a good cause.

Mr. Simon Nobles, one of Alwood's oldest and most worthy farmers, was here Saturday shaking hands with his many friends.

C. Belcher spent a few days in Goldsboro last week.

Tom Whitehurst, one of Greenville's clever young men, visited his father here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Rogers went to Robersonville last week.

W. J. Whitehurst, of Rocky Mount, was here Thursday to the delight of his many friends.

Fed Bryant, of Grindool, was a business caller here Saturday.

Miss Bessie Curry, one of Hobgood's pretty young ladies, is visiting in this section.

T. F. Nelson and family attended church at Parmele Sunday.

John Moore of Pactolus visited here Sunday.

E. Carson went to Washington Monday.

J. R. Williams, of Alwood, was a caller here Monday.

Brought Back Prisoner.

Policeman George A. Clark went to Grimesland today to hunt for a negro, Jesse Wade, who is wanted here for "crap shooting." He found his man all right, and also found a new suit of clothes that had been stolen. The officer brought the man back and placed him in the lock-up to answer two charges instead of one.

TUESDAY, MARCH 10, 1908.

Minnesota makes the biggest Johnson whoop that has yet sounded down the line.

And the rain came just in time to mud the streets and let the school trustees see them in bad plight.

With New York lining up for Hughes, Taft's prospects will permit his belt being drawn up a few holes.

Speaker Cannon stands but little show for the presidency, and if the present session will finish up his reign in congress there will be a sigh of relief in many quarters.

Greenville is glad to have the trustees of the Eastern Carolina Teachers Training school here today. They are here to arrange for work to begin on the buildings and other necessary steps to get the school started. After seeing Greenville and noting the enthusiasm of our people for the school, the trustees can see that the State board made a wise selection for location.

If there is anything mean going on and Marion Butler is anywhere in reach, sound the meanness to the bottom and he is apt to be found in it. He was foremost in trying to rob North Carolina in that old bond matter, and an investigation now going on in congress shows that he is lobbying for one of the torpedo boat companies that is trying to fleece the government.

Quack Remedies in Japan.

Somebody has discovered that the Japanese suffer as much from quack medicines as we Americans and the English. In the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Japan, says a London paper, the sale of quack medicines in the land of the rising sun is effected by an organization of peddlers rather than in shops. Among the things sold are "brain healing pills," "poison expelling pills," "spirit cheering pills," "healing everything powders," "one dose healing," and "touch the spot pastilles." Don't they sound enticing? It would be nice to take some of the "spirit cheering pills," if the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Japan had only mentioned where these quack doctors are to be addressed.—Boston Herald.

At the Bankers' Banquet held in Washington Saturday night, Senator Taylor, of Tennessee, speaking on the subject of "Temptation," is reported as saying that the love of gold and of power, which destroyed all the great nations of the ancient world, is getting a firm hold on this nation. He expressed the opinion that if the "United States" were transplanted to heaven the bankers would have the golden pavement dug up in three hours and be charging interest on the gold, and that a revenue tax would be placed on the harps of the angels to protect American industries.—New Bern Sun.

REST YOUR RAZOR.

Fry Sharpening It After and Not Before You Shave.

A man who was showing his new set of ivory handled razors to some friends the other day explained to them the shaving system which he has perfected for his own use.

"I'm an old dog, and I learn few new tricks," said he. "Using a safety razor is one of the many modern accomplishments which I cannot boast. I stick to the old fashioned implement and have accumulated some very fine specimens of the same.

"These ivory handled ones I bought in England, and as I regard them as the choicest ones I have, I use them only on Sundays and holidays. No. 1," he pointed to a mark on one handle, "I use on the second and the fourth Sunday and on holidays. No. 2 I use on the first, the third and the fifth Sunday.

"That gives them about the same amount of use and allows them the rest which they need. I always give my razors rest.

"It isn't the act of shaving which is so hard on them. It is the sharpening, especially as the average man's method of stropping is positively brutal maltreatment of a defenseless and delicate victim.

"Even the most careful sharpening leaves a razor blade in a very susceptible and precarious condition. For that reason I never sharpen my razor just before I shave. On the contrary, I sharpen it when I have finished. Then I put it carefully in its case, and it has a chance to rest and to regain its temper before I use it.

"You strop a razor vigorously and the friction produces heat in the blade. This very materially affects the exceedingly thin edge, so that the crystallization breaks down when you begin to shave. Let your blade cool off, become set and cold, and you will find your morning's shave a much easier and calmer performance."—Washington Post.

Her Revenge.

It happened on a crowded Broadway car. Two portly gentlemen were occupying a large amount of space. "Hi there," said the conductor, "shove up and give this here lady a chance."

The men grudgingly uncovered some four inches of seat, and "this here lady" balanced herself cautiously on the edge. She was a little slip of a schoolgirl, but even she couldn't be comfortable on four inches of car seat. The men were buried in their papers and showed no intention of yielding further.

The schoolgirl waited till a massive scrub lady, pale and all, entered the car. She quickly rose and offered her seat. The original offenders were lost to view, buried under 250 pounds of scrub lady. Then the schoolgirl laughed. Her revenge was complete.—New York Sun.

Eighty Degrees of Frost.

It is difficult for us to form any conception of the degree of cold represented by the 80 degrees of frost recorded from certain parts of Russia. Sir Leopold McClintock tells how in one of his arctic expeditions a sailor was foolish enough to do some outdoor work at precisely this temperature. His hands froze, and when he rushed into the cabin and plunged one of them into a basin of water so cold was the hand that the water was instantly converted into a block of ice. At 23 degrees, Dr. Kane says, "the mustache and under lip form pendulous beads of dangling ice. Put out your tongue and it instantly freezes to this icy crusting. Your chin has a trick of freezing to your upper jaw by the kindly aid of your beard. My eyes have often been so glued as to show that even a wink was unsafe."—Dundee Advertiser.

Almost a Lie.

"Good bordig," said the boarder with a bad cold.

"What?" cried the other boarders in surprise and also in unison as they desisted from their burned oatmeal.

Clearing his throat and blowing his nose vigorously, the boarder with the bad cold explained somewhat wearily that he had merely attempted to pass the time of day.

Whereupon the other boarders apologized, saying:

"We thought you said 'good boarding.'"

A Hungarian Bull.

It is a mistake to suppose that only Irish members in the British house of commons perpetrate bulls. It was a representative in the Hungarian diet who when hated Austria tried to interfere in local Magyar affairs declaimed passionately, "Gentlemen, the apple of discord has been thrown into our midst, and if it be not nipped in the bud it will burst into a conflagration that will deluge the world."

This is what Hon. Jake Moore, State Warden of Georgia, says of Kodol For Dyspepsia: "E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill.—Dear Sirs—I have suffered more than twenty years from indigestion. About eighteen months ago I had grown so much worse that I could not digest a crust of corn bread and could not retain anything on my stomach. I lost 25 lbs; in fact I made up my mind that I could not live but a short time, when a friend of mine recommended Kodol. I consented to try it to please him and I was better in one day. I now weigh more than I ever did in my life and am in better health than for many years. Kodol did it. I keep a bottle constantly, and write this hoping that humanity will be benefited. Yours very truly, Jake C. Moore, Atlanta, Aug. 10, 1904." Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

A dissipated man is always dizzy-pated.

Be careful about that little cough. Get something right away; some good reliable remedy that will move the bowels. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts gently yet promptly on the bowels and allays inflammation at the same time. It is pleasant to take and it is especially recommended for children, as it tastes nearly as good as maple sugar. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

And the baker is now the busiest when he is loafing.

Mr. John Riha, of Vining, Ia., says, "I have been selling DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills for about a year and they give better satisfaction than any pill I ever sold. There are a dozen people here who have used them and they give perfect satisfaction in every case. I have used them myself with fine results." Sold by Jno. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

During the month of March the subscription list of The Daily Reflector will be revised so as to comply with the law of the Government Postoffice Department which goes in effect April 1st. Under this law daily newspapers cannot be sent to subscribers who do not renew within 3 months after date to which their subscription is paid. To send it more than 3 months longer than it is paid for will require a 1-cent stamp on each paper.

Therefore we ask every subscriber to The Daily Reflector who owes for 3 months or longer, to send a remittance at once so we can keep your name on our list. The publisher can have no choice in this but will have to comply with the law.

If subscribers prefer to remit for three months at the time it is all right, but in that case they will have to pay every 3 months, or they can pay as many months at the time as they like so as to save the trouble of remitting oftener.

We hope every subscriber will attend to this promptly as we had rather not drop a single name from our list. But bear in mind that The Daily Reflector cannot be mailed after April 1st to any person who owes for 3 months or longer.

Are You a Trust Buster?

Hey—You!
Yes, YOU'RE the man we mean.

You're always talking about the harm the trusts are doing. The country's going to the demnition bowwows, you say, because of the uncurbed trusts. Rich growing richer, poor getting poorer. Used to be that a poor man could go into business for himself in a modest way and make a good living. Now he must become a clerk or a roustabout or a hodcarrier for some corporation—some combination that has grown to be a Goliath of bigness, that has devoured the fat of the land and is still gourmandizing upon it, till there's not a scrap of bone left for the under dog.

That's your line of talk. You're still handing it out, and you're proud of it.

Well, now, let's see: Are YOU a trust buster YOURSELF?

Didn't we see you stalk up to the postoffice just now and mail a letter with the address of a city Mail Order Store on the envelope? Hey? Didn't we?

Don't you know that the Mail Order Store is a trust—one of the most dangerous in the crowd? Don't you know that it is secretly and silently and slyly closing the doors of opportunity to the young men in country towns and small cities like ours? Don't you know that the Mail Order Trust is collecting the patronage of town and country people by the mail route, thereby cutting down the patronage of the smaller merchant, the local man who is trying to build up a modest, independent, antitrust business?

Hey?

Didn't that ever occur to you?

N. B. (which means note well): Why don't you trade at home instead of helping to build up a trust that hurts your home place?

STAGE REALISM.

Humor and Courtesy of Irving in a Reply to a Critic.

The late Sir Henry Irving's famous London production of "Henry VIII." ended with the christening of the infant Princess Elizabeth, for which, of course, a large life-like doll was used instead of a real baby. The play had run a good many nights when one day the actor received a letter of protest from one who made it plain that he was a firm believer in realism on the stage.

"The complete success of 'Henry VIII.' was marred last night," the letter ran, "when the king kissed the baby. The whole house tittered. 'Herewith I offer the hire of one real baby—my own—for the purpose of personating the offspring.'"

It was a delicate matter for Sir Henry to decline the services of a man's own baby, but with the help of his manager, Mr. Bram Stoker, the famous actor composed a reply which combined courtesy and humor and which has been incorporated in "Personal Reminiscences of Henry Irving."

"Mr. Irving fears," wrote Mr. Stoker, "that there might be some difficulty in making the changes you suggest with regard to the Princess Elizabeth in the play."

"If reality is to be achieved it should of necessity be real reality and not seeming reality, for that we have already on the stage. A series of difficulties then arises, any of which you and your family might find insuperable."

"If your real baby were provided it might be difficult or even impossible for the actor who impersonates King Henry VIII. to feel the real feelings of a father toward it. This would necessitate your playing the part of the king and further would require that your wife should play the part of Queen Anne Boleyn. This might not suit either of you, especially as in reality Henry VIII. had afterward his wife's head cut off."

"To this your wife might naturally object. But even if she were willing to accept this form of reality and you were willing to accept the responsibility on your part Mr. Irving would, for his own sake, have to object."

"By law if you had your wife decapitated you would be tried for murder. But as Mr. Irving would also be tried as an accessory before the fact he, too, would stand in danger of his life. To this he distinctly objects, as he considers the end aimed at is not worth the risk involved."

The Novelist's Mission.

The neglect of Disraeli's writings may be in part due to the fact that most people think it is below the dignity of a statesman or of any man following what is called a "serious" profession to compose works of fiction. Certainly many do not yet understand that the man who writes novels may be a very wise man. They do not realize that accurately to portray human nature and to present pictures of life is not only a most worthy but also a most difficult task, requiring for its performance an intelligence far above the average acute powers of observation and a keen sense of humor, for surely the great novelist is the observer sifting the depths while others glance at the surface and examining the mysteries of life while others are content to overlook even the obvious.—Melville's "Victorian Novelists."

A Great Pity.

In his very, very early youth Mr. Mumpser had been a pretty child. His friends did not believe this was possible, and even he had forgotten all about it until one day he unearthed a painting of himself at that period from among some old lumber. This he handed to his wife as some compensation for his present somewhat worm eaten appearance.

"There, Alice," said Mrs. Mumpser, proudly exhibiting the picture to the servant, "that is a portrait of your master painted when he was a child."

Alice gazed open mouthed at the production.

"Lor', mum," she said after some moments, "what a pity it is we have to grow up, ain't it?"—London Standard.

His Idea of a Wife.

Discussing with a representative of an Irish paper the qualities a wife should possess, a tramp said the other day that she should be "an all around woman," between forty and fifty years, not handsome, but temperate. "If there is any drinking to be done," he said, "I can see to it. She should be able to walk twenty miles a day and be good at begging bottles and potatoes and also at ballad singing. She should be able to fight a round or two to defend her husband when in action."

Shop-Girl's Fines.

It was not a very cheerful memorandum, and the shop-girl's look was not very cheerful either as on pay night she brought it home to her mother. It was a memorandum of the fines that had taken a good slice out of her wages, and it ran:

"Standing on chair, 10 cents; leaving less than one yard on ribbon roll, 10 cents; permitting patron to depart unserved, 25 cents; lateness, 5 cents; gum chewing, 10 cents; error in addition, 5 cents; writing indistinct duplicate, 10 cents; error in address, 10 cents; total, 85 cents."

"There are 100 rules posted up in our little shop," said the girl bitterly, "and an infraction of any one of them is finable."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Longest and Shortest Days.

At London and Bremen the longest day has sixteen and one-half hours. At Stockholm it is eighteen and one-half hours in length. At Hamburg and Dantzig the longest day has seventeen hours. At St. Petersburg and Tobolsk, Siberia, the longest day is nineteen hours and the shortest five hours. At Tornea, Finland, June 21 brings a day nearly twenty-two hours long and Dec. 25 one less than three hours in length. At Wardbury, Norway, the longest day lasts from May 21 to July 22 without interruption, and in Spitzbergen the longest day is three and one-half months.—London Standard.

Book Titles.

One may honestly congratulate modern authors of all sorts upon the brevity, at least, of their titles. In these enlightened times no one would be guilty of a "First Blast of the Trumpet Against the Monstrous Regiment of Women." Worse still is "Discovery of a Gaping Gulf Wherein England Is Liable to Be Swallowed by Another French Marriage," for which Stubbes, the author, was deprived of his right hand in the presence of a "deeply silent multitude."

A SLEEP PROBLEM.

The Way It Bothers One Man Who is Growing Old.

"In these later years," said Mr. Grayboy, "I have found that I required less sleep. When I was younger, I used to sleep eight hours, and frequently when I was very tired I could use nine. But there came a time a few years ago when I discovered that seven hours' sleep was ordinarily all that I required.

"Now, I mentioned this fact casually one day to a friend of mine, and he said that this was one of the benefits that came to men as they increased in years—that requiring less sleep they had more time for labor and so could accomplish more, and that this was one reason why men of maturer years were counted as of greater value.

"A pleasant fancy, that, I thought.

"Another friend of mine said more plainly that my requiring less sleep was a sign of my advancing age; that very young people, young children, required a great deal of sleep; that as people grew older they required less, until in middle life they needed, say eight hours of sleep, but that as men came to be past middle age they required less sleep, and my needing less simply showed that I was getting old.

"Not quite so pleasant, that, but here is a new complication:

"I find within the last few months that I am again requiring more sleep. Whereas for some years seven hours I found sufficient, I now sleep eight hours. And what does that mean? Does it mean that I have stopped growing old, that I am growing young again or that I am advancing now to my second childhood?"

"H'm! This sleep business I guess I hadn't better dwell on too much."—New York Sun.

The One He Kept.

A young man entered a hat store and asked to see the latest styles in derbies. He was evidently hard to please, for soon the counter was covered with hats that he had tried on and found wanting. At last the salesman picked up a brown derby, brushed it off on his sleeve and extended it admiringly.

"These are being very much worn this season, sir," he said. "Won't you try it on?"

The customer put the hat on and surveyed himself critically in the mirror. "You're sure it's in style?"

"The most fashionable thing we have in the shop, sir. And it suits you to perfection—if the fit's right."

"Yes, it fits very well. So you think I had better have it?"

"I don't think you could do better."

"No, I don't think I could. So I guess I won't buy a new one, after all."

The salesman had been boosting the customer's old hat, which had become mixed among the many new ones.

Scratched Furniture.

When the varnished furniture becomes scratched the spots should be gone over with a camel's hair brush and shellac varnish until they disappear. Nothing should be allowed to touch the places until the application is thoroughly dry. Another method is to take just a spoonful of turpentine and mix with this an equal quantity of linseed oil. Take a small soft brush, dip it in the mixture of oil and turpentine and pass quickly over the scratch. In half a minute the scratch will disappear. Instantly wipe off the mixture with a soft cloth and rub for a few minutes.

New Shoe Shop

On February 1st I will open a Shoe Shop in the building on 5th street opposite Hotel Bertha. Shoes made to order and all kinds of repair work. Save your orders and work for me.
JOE BARTOVICH

That young man who forged his way to the front, is now in the penitentiary.
