HAPPENINGS IN NORTH CAROLINA

SHORT ITEMS OF EVENTS ABOUT THE STATE.

University Prof. Dead—Pet Dog Saves Family from Destruction by Fire—Oil Discovered at Richlands

Prof. J. W. Gore, one of the faculty of the University, died Wednesday night in Baltimore where he had gone for an operation.

Edenton, N. C., April 9.—Sheriff E. S. Norman, one of Chowan county's most estimable citizens, who has been critically ill and lost his right arm by amputation Wednesday, this being caused by blood poison, is greatly improved, and is considered out of danger.

Durham, N. C., April 9.—A small house dog, a pet, probably saved the lives of a family at an early morning fire today. The house was afire practically all over when the little dog went to the bed of his master and by barking awoke him and he awoke his family. The room was filled with blinding smoke at the time.

Richlands, N. C., April 9.—Some of the people of Richlands are excited over the discovery that the place is probably situated in the midst of an extensive oil field. A resident discovered an oily liquid oozing from the soil where he was digging a ditch. The substance looked and smelled very much like coal oil, and it is said to be the opinion of many that it is really oil and that a good flow will develop.

ROCHDALE SPROUTS.

Rochdale, N. C., April 9, 1908.

I will give you a few more items, but there is not much news except the sad occurrence of Mr. J. L. Smith getting drowned which was the most distressing that has happened to our community.

It was with much sorrow we learn of Dr. Bagwell's death.

Miss Mattie Little came from Wilson Saturday evening to be present at the funeral of J. L. Smith, and is visiting relatives and friends for a few days.

There was the largest gathering at the funeral of J. L. Smith Sunday evening that we ever saw on such an occasion. Some said that there were five hundred buggies present.

Corn planting is in full blast in this beautiful spring weather.

Tobacco plants are fine. Guess the farmers can get to transplanting soon if the weather continues favorable.

Peaches and plums were all killed by the frost last week.

Gardens are slow on account of the late spring.

My potatoes that had come up were all killed by the frost last week, but the bugs are there waiting for them to come again. I picked up fourteen in one row in the garden yesterday. Some seemed to be on picket, some walking about looking and some scratching around the stems trying to find some green to sustain life.

For Washing Greens.

Many of you know just how provoking it is to gather or buy a mess of greens and find insects all over them, says a writer in The Designer for May. Being so hard to clean, I've often given up in despair, and threw them away, but at last have discovered that to put a handful of salt in the water and wash in usual way the insects would all come off.—The Designer for May.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town, Briefly Told.

Ayden, N. C., April 10, 1908. Mrs. Blaney Jackson, of Grifton, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. F. Smith, this week.

W. E. Hooks and Frank Lilly have been appointed by the board of education, dispensary commissioners for the town of Ayden in place of Dr. L. C. Skinner and J. J. Hines, resigned.

The Knights of Pythias of this place went out to Dawson's beach Wednesday and had a fish a fry. They were accompanied by their families and lady friends and a most delightful time was realized. There were four large 4 gallon pots of stewed shad alone.

We are glad to learn C. M. Holton and little daughter, Olga, who have been quite sick are about well again.

Those who wish to register for the town election on the first in May call at the office of J. M. Blow and, if entitled, they can do so.

Sheriff Tucker, of Greenville, has been in Ayden during the week.

Next week we shall proceed to seize, advertise and sell the property of those due the town of Ayden taxes for the year 1907.

George Worthington has made an improvement on his lot by turning the stable around and moving it farther from the residence.

What's the matter with the tobacco warehouses? Don't let the subject drop, but let us go right ahead and have them ready for the summer sales. It is our interest and the interest of all around us. So don't let it lag.

R. T. Dickerson and family have moved to the country. Mr. Dickerson was a good and useful citizen.

Elder Nile Manning, of Winterville, has been several days with relatives near here during the week. He is very highly esteemed and no doubt one of the best men in the county.

H. B. Smith, of Winterville, was in town a short while Monday.

Rev. N. C. Duncan and Miss Olive Butt, of Winterville, spent Tuesday afternoon in town.

Services Saturday (11th) and Sunday at the Baptist church, conducted by the pastor Rev. T. H. King.

J. D. Smith, of Winterville,

DARTMOUTH DEFEATS TRINITY

Trinity Had Things Going Her Way Until the Eighth When Gantt Walks Three Men and Allows Hits for Three and 2-Baggers.

Durham, N. C., April 9.—Dartmouth turned the tables on Trinity today, winning the second ball game of the series, by the score of five to one. Trinity scored first in the fifth and seemed to have had things going her way until the fatal eighth. On this inning Gantt lost his own game by walking three men and allowing hits for three and two bags respectively. When the eighth closed five New Hampshire boys had crossed the pan. Trinity failed to score in their half of the eighth and in the ninth some subs were tried at the bat.

The team left at six thirty on a special for Atlanta, Ga., where they play Georgia Tech two games. The student body accompanied the team to the train to give them a good send off.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Dartmouth 000 000 050—5 4 1
Trinity 000 010 000—1 3 4

Batteries: Glaze and Leonard; Gantt and Claude Flowers.
Summary: Struck out by Glaze, 7, by Gantt, 10. Base on balls, off Gantt, 3; off Glaze, 2. Hit by pitcher, Gantt, 3. Earned runs, Trinity, 1; Dartmouth, 1. Umpire, Frank Wrenn. Time of game, 1:50.

The Meeting.

The subject of Rev. Mr. McWhorter's sermon in the Methodist church Thursday night was "Freedom," the text being "And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." It was a strong sermon, showing that there is no freedom from sin except in accepting the truth as spoken by Christ and belief in Him who is indeed able to make us free. No one has fallen so deep in sin but what he can be set free through faith in Christ.

The meeting continues to grow in interest and gives promise of resulting in much good to the community. Services each day at 10 a. m. and 7.45 p. m.

Geese as Hoe Hands.

Geese have been penned on cotton to eat the grass out of it successfully so often, that no doubt need be entertained that they can keep the grass out of the drill and will not injure the cotton. Some laugh at the idea of using geese for hoe hands, others think it too much trouble to fence them in, still others say only a lazy man would resort to such a method of keeping grass down. Only a foolish man will spend money to get work done if he can get it done for nothing. The geese will do it for nothing and turn the grass into feathers and meat, things that the market will take just as readily as it will the fleecy staple.—Ex.

made a short trip over here Monday.

Miss Rosa Bland was in Winterville Sunday visiting her sister, Mrs. B. F. Nunn.

Miss Clara Smith spent Sunday in Green county visiting friends.

Miss Alyce Smith spent Saturday night and Sunday in the country.

Miss Belva Dixon, of Winterville, spent Saturday afternoon in town.

Miss Lela Stocks is spending the week with Miss Myrtle Smith.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Castle Hall, Tar River Lodge, No. 93 Knights of Pythias.

Whereas, The Supreme Chancellor of the Universe has taken from our midst, William H. Bagwell, a good citizen, physician and father,

And Whereas, It is with sorrow that Tar River Lodge No. 93, Knights of Pythias, chronicles the death and loss of a loyal brother Knight and Past Chancellor; therefore, be it resolved:

1. That we extend to the widow, children and relatives of Brother Bagwell our deepest sympathy in their sad bereavement and loss.

2. That we commend them to our Heavenly Father who does all things well and who, alone, can minister comforts beyond that of mortal man.

3. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of Brother Bagwell; a copy be spread upon the minutes of our lodge; and copies be sent to The Carolina Pythian and Daily Reflector, for publication.

Respectfully submitted,

A. J. Moore, }

It Pays to Advertise.

In a great many places business men do not advertise sufficiently in their home papers, and they wonder why people go elsewhere to trade. It is a fact that in some villages and small cities the papers contain more advertisements of merchants doing business in other places than of merchants in their home towns. It is not clear that if the outside merchant finds that it pays to advertise, it would pay the home merchant still better if he would do the same? He may have just as good, and perhaps better goods and prices than the other man can offer, but this fact has to be brought to the notice of the public in an attractive way, and that can best be done through the columns of his local paper.—Durham Sun

Spring Opening.

Thursday, Friday, Saturday of this week I will display at my Green house in West Greenville, the finest collection of Easter plants ever seen in Greenville. Be sure and come at once and make your selection as most of the plants not spoken of here will be taken to other towns Monday. "First come, first served."

Ollen E. Warren, Florist.

Don't Forget Next Wednesday Night.

There is a rare treat in store for the theater goers in the presentation of "Meg's Diversion" at the opera house Wed. night, the 22nd. Everyone knows the talent of the amateurs of Greenville and they will put forth their very best efforts in this delightful play. Be sure and witness it.

"The King Clothier"

Frank Wilson, the King Clothier, has received his new Spring Goods composed of the latest styles in Gentlemen's and Boys' Furnishings and Shoes. He calls your attention to his line in a half page advertisement on fourth page of this paper. See it?

Lost.

Forty dollars in money, consisting of one $20. bill and two $10 bills. The finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving the same at Reflector office. 4-9 2td.

invite you to be present at the marriage of their daughter Bessie to Mr. Thomas Flavins Cheatham on the evening of Tuesday the twenty-first of April Nineteen hundred and eight at half after seven o'clock The Christian Church Suffolk, Virginia At home after June the first Greenville, North Carolina.

J. C. Lanier for Register of Deeds.

Many people in the various parts of the county are saying Lanier is the man for this office. His character is unstained, his qualifications unquestioned. Ten years ago he was spoken of by many as the right man for the place. Also four years ago, but he would not have his name go before the convention. Two years ago, I think he received next to the highest vote in the Democratic primary for this office. "Turn about fair play." 4-10 d w M. A. Jority.

Abandon Your Wife and Children.

If you do, the law will take you up for such crime. Death relieves you of law, but not responsibility, a man's wife and children are very different propositions from his widow and orphans. Buy a Policy in some safe old company, like The Mutual Life of New York, and be thankful every premium you live to pay.

H. Bentley Harris, Agent.

Women's Prohibition Meeting.

The women of the community having organized for the prohibition campaign, will hold a meeting in the Methodist church on next Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. All women of the town and surrounding community are invited to attend the meeting.

Got a String of Them.

The editor joined the van on a little fishing trip, Thursday afternoon, and had good luck. He got just two bites and brought home 17 perch. It's a fact, but you needn't ask how it was done.

Scarlet Sage Colves, Verbenas, Alternanthera, Geraniums etc. Get in your order. 4-7-5td. Ollen E. Warren.

In Pitt the offices of sheriff and treasurer are most sought after. So far there are several candidates out for each place,
and there may be others when
the returns are all in.

A brother editor wants to know how many strawberries it will take to make a short-cake.
One is the smallest number that can be used, but with that it will be a very strawberry-short cake.

In the distribution of Carnegie hero medals, some ought to be coming down Greenville's way.
In a week three boys were saved
from drowning by the heroic act
of two men, both of whom deserve medals.

For insubordination something like three hundred students have been expelled from Clemson college at Columbia, S. C. The faculty of that college are pursuing the right course to make it a better school.

The Fiddle and Bow is the name of a weekly paper that has just been started at Oak Ridge with Z. W. Whitaker as editor.
It says it is the organ of the "old time fiddlers" and its aim will be to advance the cause of music.

There is yet hope for reform in Philadelphia. The police of that city got to stealing so bad that a number of them were sent to prison for several years.
If some of the big grafters in that city were given the same medicine there might be a healthier condition in that very corrupt burg.

TWO SIDES TO EVERY QUESTION.

The supreme court has decided in the case of King against the Norfolk and Southern Railroad that an editor can't sell his editorial opinions and recover in a court of equity.

We entirely agree with the court and are sure that if newspaper men contracted this habit
it would lower the value of the newspaper to any community,
and all would soon realize that their editor and his opinions were only worth the price for which they could be purchased.

For this reason the people of any community should endeavor
to see that their newspaper, if it is worthy of the name, is not handicapped with financial troubles, for when men are embarrassed, a feeling of dependence
on those carrying your obligations is powerful searching, and some fears arise that are not wholly akin to the manhood necessary in the brave and fearless editor.

The crippled editor cannot serve well his community. The editor who has to struggle all day with his news matter, and lie awake at night thinking how he is going to pay his help Saturday night is not in the best of shape for work the next day.

It would be well for people to think somewhat along this line.
They demand that the editor of their paper shall be bold and fearless, beset by no difficulties that shall make him cringe to any interest or faction, and yet

sometimes fail to throw the proper amount of substance to him,
until necessity forces him to chain himself, or his honor compels him to retire from the field.
—Wilson Times.

WHEN TO SHOOT A MOOSE.

Hunter's Cure For the Blues in the Canadian Wilderness.

"Did you ever spend the winter in the woods up in Canada cruising for timber?" said H. N. Brown. "Do you know, it is a curious feeling being out there alone or with just an Indian guide.

"The thing that impresses you most is the awful stillness. The slightest sound seems like a cannon shot. You get to talking to yourself, asking and answering questions and lots of things which you would not think of doing down here,
or if you did they would be having a medical commission sitting on you
as a candidate for the dippy house.
About all you think of is how to get enough to eat, for your appetite increases as the supply of food grows less. We got into that condition finally when it was get something or begin to eat our boots.

"One morning my Indian came in with a grin on his face. Now, an Indian up there never smiles. In wrestling with that frozen north
he seems to get sour and sullen.
This made me more surprised when the Indian came into the shack beaming. 'Well, what is it?' I inquired.

"'Moose, big moose,' was the reply. 'Went by this morning. Catch
'em maybe.'

"That was enough for a hungry
man. I went out, and there were the footprints of a big moose that had gone by, as the Indian said, about three hours before. I got into my coat, strapped on my snowshoes, took my rifle, and we started after
Mr. Moose. We went about ten miles before we saw him. He was on a side hill browsing on the twigs.
It was a long shot, but I raised my rifle, when the Indian touched my arm, saying, 'No shoot.'

"I hesitated, but he insisted, saying, 'No shoot now, bimeby maybe.'
By that time the moose had sighted us and started off at a rate which took him out of sight in a few minutes. We were twenty miles farther on when we saw him again and were near enough to try to shoot,
but my Indian insisted I must not.
Well, we followed that moose three days. The big fellow tired at last and started back the way he came,
we following. Then we came up with him only a short distance from the shack. 'Now shoot,' said the Indian. I fired and the moose dropped.

"When it was all over and we had meat in plenty and the big hide stretched before the blazing fire in the shack I said to my Indian, 'Why didn't you want me to shoot that moose at first, when he was not so worn down as he was after that long chase?'

"'Lose heap fun,' was the reply.
Well, do you know when I came to study over it I began to see his point of view. It was not so much the killing as it was the chase, which to him was interesting, and he was willing to travel over forty or fifty miles just for the hunt, and the more I thought of it the more I agreed with him. I had been growing ugly and nervous myself before,
but after that long chase I was another man."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Undoubtedly.
The people of Holland are commonly as matter of fact as the Scotch, and a figurative phrase botters them sorely. Not long ago an American traveler found in a cafe
at Amsterdam a Dutchman who had traveled much and who spoke English perfectly well.

The Dutchman was smoking a china pipe of remarkable size and beauty, and the American, as an admirer and collector of such bric-a-brac, took the liberty to comment
upon it.

"You could not stumble upon a pipe like that every day," said the American.

The Dutchman took three or four whiffs at his pipe and then slowly
removed it from his mouth.

"Certainly not, without breaking
it!" he said gravely.

How Sea Lions Capture Gulls.

In capturing gulls the sea lion displays no little skill and cunning.
When in pursuit of a gull it dives deeply under water and swims some distance from where it disappeared;
then, rising cautiously, it exposes
the tip of its nose along the surface
at the same time giving it a rotary motion. The unwary bird on the wing, seeing the object near by,
alights to catch it, while the sea lion at the same moment settles beneath the waves and at one bound,
with extended jaws, seizes its screaming prey and instantly devours it.

Deafness Cannot be cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
There is only one way to cure deafness,
and that is by constitutional remedies.
Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result,
and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars
for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's the spring of 1902 I bought a bottle of Kodol and the benefit I received from the system, and at the same time it allays inflammation. Always use

MEERSCHAUM.

How It is Mined and Prepared For the Market.

Meerschaum is a hydrated silicate of magnesia appearing as an opaque earthy mineral, white, grayish or yellowish, compact in texture and breaking with a conchoidal or fine earthy fracture. Most of it comes from Asia Minor, especially from the plains of Eskischehr, where it occurs in nodular masses of variable size and irregular shape, distributed through the alluvial deposits of the plain, which are systematically worked for its extraction by means of pits and galleries. Meerschaum is found also, but less abundantly, in Greece and in some of the Grecian islands—at Hrubshitz, in Moravia, where it occurs in a serpentinous matrix, and in Morocco, where it is used when soft and fresh as a substitute for soap, while a coarse variety is found at Vallecas, near Madrid, and is employed as a building stone. Meerschaum also occurs in South Carolina. Almost the whole of the world's supply of meerschaum comes from the district of Eskischehr, in Asia Minor.

Mining is done in a primitive fashion, and precautions for safety are unknown, although accidents occur from time to time. A group of three to fifteen workmen work together to dig a shaft about one meter in diameter, and no props are fixed until they reach, at a depth of twenty, forty or even sixty meters, the bed of red clay under or in which the meerschaum is found mixed with serpentine in the form of irregular pieces from the size of a hazelnut to that of an apple. These pieces are often extracted with great difficulty after making long galleries in the red clay. In many places the earth is mined in such a way that the galleries of several different excavations are confused. The work is carried on day and night, the workings being lighted by means of oil lamps.

The meerschaum is not sold by weight, but by the case or box. After the purchase the meerschaum, which is damp, heavy and of a yellowish color, is set to dry in the sun in the summer time and in the winter for about nine days in a drying oven heated day and night. The product loses about two-thirds of its weight in the drying and becomes snow white. Afterward it is rubbed with flannel, moistened with warm water, any roughness is removed with a knife, the hollows are cleaned with sand, and finally the pieces are polished with wax. In this condition the meerschaum is sent to market.—Chicago News.

ACT QUICKLY

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Greenville

Do the right thing at the right time. Act quickly in times of danger. Backache is kidney danger. Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly. Cure all distressing, dangerous kidney ills. Plenty of evidence to prove this. Abraham Light, Furniture Dealer, residing on St. Patrick St., Tarboro, N. C., says: "My wife has used Doan's Kidney Pills with excellent results. When she began using them she complained of dull nagging backaches and of pains through her kidneys. The secretions did not act properly and caused her great annoyance. After using Doan's Kidney Pills the pains in her back and loins ceased, and the annoyances entirely disappeared. Doan's Kidney Pills proved of far more value to her than any remedy previously used and she is glad to speak in their favor." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

BACKACHE

"I wrote you for advice," writes Lelia Hagood, of Sylvia, Tenn., "about my terrible backache and monthly pains in my abdomen and shoulders. I had suffered this way nine years and five doctors had failed to relieve me. On your advice I took Wine of Cardui, which at once relieved my pains and now I am entirely cured. I am sure that Cardui saved my life."

It is a safe and reliable remedy for all female diseases, such as periodical pains, irregularity, dragging down sensations, headache, dizziness, backache, etc.

That carefulness has resulted in a substantial saving of money they formerly would have wasted. Why don't you start an account

A LESSON IN ECONOMY

A STENOGRAPHER in a prominent business house, who operated a typewriter where the carriage had to be raised to see what was written, wasted eight minutes in one hour in lifting that carriage.
She was employed eight hours per day. On this basis she lost 64 minutes that day.
She would lose in one year of 300 working days 320 hours.
She was paid $2.50 per day for eight hours' work, 35.7 cents per hour.
Her employer, therefore, would have paid her $114.24 in one year, for which he received no equivalent.
There were ten stenographers employed in this office, and if they all lost the same amount of time, he would have paid in one year $1,142.40 for which he enjoyed no benefit.
In ten years he would have paid $11,424.00 for nothing.
Every business man using a typewriter that does not write in sight, but on which you have to raise the carriage to see the writing, is losing money in the same proportion.

WHICH IS BETTER—
to have that saving of money in dividends, or pay it out for wasted time?

Think Success.

The oftener one gives exercise to any faculty—uses, not abuses, it—the stronger and more flexible it becomes. A Frenchman said once on a time that whenever he wanted a book on a certain subject and could not find it he wrote one. There is a tremendous lesson in that. It means that each of us can find out as much about anything we wish to be informed upon as any other human being in the world if we will only determine to do so. We can achieve and conquer anything another can if we make up our minds to the performance of it and make the determination the law of our life. Success has its laws, the basic principle of which is, "Give your best to get the best." A writer on mental forces says, "Think success and you win success."

Applied Externally.

While staying in the north of England a commercial traveler contracted a severe cold, which obliged him to remain in bed. His landlady, a sympathetic widow, was most attentive and made the sufferer some special onion porridge, which she placed beside him, remarking, "There; that will shift your cold." Later in the evening the good lady came to inquire how the patient was progressing. "So you've eaten it," she said, picking up the empty porridge dish.

"Eaten a poultice!" exclaimed the invalid. "I've—I've got it on my chest!"—London Answers.

Helping Him Out.

Borrower—I say, old man, I wish you would help me out today.
Busyman—Haven't time to do it myself, but I'll call the porter. John, open the door and help the gentleman out.—Chicago News.

"The best lightning rod for your protection," says Ralph Waldo Emerson, "is your own spine."

Potter to present them to me for payment, duly authenticated, on or before the 10th day of April 1908, or this notice will be plead in bar of their recovery.
