ELDER GOLD ON PROHIBITION.

Cannot Vote for Manufacture and Sale of Intoxicating Drinks.

Some days ago the editor of this paper addressed a note to Elder P. D. Gold, the editor of Zion's Landmark and the ablest leader of the Primitive Baptist church, asking his views upon the pending State prohibition proposition. Everybody who knows Elder Gold knows that he stands against whatever is wrong and for what he conceives to be for the right, and that he does so with toleration and charity for others. Answering that letter, Elder Gold writes as follows, giving permission to print his views:

"To the Editor: From my youth I have considered whatever encourages drunkenness a damaging business, to good morals, and to everything else that is praiseworthy. Therefore, I have never from the outset of this prohibition campaign intended to vote for the manufacture or sale of intoxicating drinks.

"While I do not consider that prohibition, as it is called, will exterminate the evil of drunkenness, yet I cannot give my vote for what might seem to encourage the great evil of drunkenness. I would love to live in a country where every man is sober. It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor anything whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak."—Rom. 14:21.

"Let every man vote in this matter as seems right to him, or not vote. Bitterness should not be encouraged, but liberty of conscience should be allowed. Let your moderation be shown. I do not desire to control the votes of others. I desire to preach the Gospel which contains every good thing, and prohibits every evil.

"Respectfully,
P. D. GOLD.
Wilson, N. C., May 2nd."

In this brief letter Elder Gold has given the chief reason that will actuate good men in refusing to vote "for the manufacture or sale of whiskey." Every sensible man knows Elder Gold states the truth when he says: "I do not consider that prohibition, as it is called, will exterminate the evil of drunkenness." Of course it will not do that. It will lessen the evil and remove temptation, but no human law can make men good. Elder Gold, while looking at the question as it is and not carried away by any false hopes, adds, "Yet I cannot give my vote for what might seem to encourage the great evil of drunkenness." He then quotes the Word of God in support of his view and concludes with righteous admonition to "Let every man vote in this matter as seems right to him, or not vote. Bitterness should not be encouraged but liberty of conscience should be allowed."—Raleigh News and Observer.

HERE'S A KICK.

Are Dog Owners Favorites?

Editor Reflector:
Recently you offered space to any one who wanted to do some kicking, so here goes:
The question "Who struck Billie Patterson?" has not yet been satisfactorily answered. Neither is it known why five or six citizens of the town pay the entire dog tax of Greenville. Are the majority of dog owners favorites of the town government? Or is there such a thing as justice among our town officials?

MINISTERS' CONFERENCE

At the Christian Church—Ex-Gov. Jarvis Makes Welcome Address.

Tuesday night at eight o'clock the Minister's Conference was called to order by the president, P. B. Hall, of Kinston, in the Christian church. Devotional service was held by the regular minister, D. W. Arnold, and prayer by Mr. A. B. Wade, of Be'haven.

Ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis was presented to the audience by the minister. Gov. Jarvis delivered the address of welcome to the delight of all present. The audience was held in breathless silence as it hung on the words of wisdom and superb rhetoric while he portrayed the beauty of the minister's sacred calling and welcomed the preachers and visitors to the hearts and homes in Greenville.

The happy response by the ever ready and well known minister, C. W. Howard, was in its self a masterpiece, and won for him the "well done" from all present.

The address proper was delivered by P. B. Hall, the president. The "Mastery of the Minister's Calling" was held up before his hearers as being the greatest of all callings, and this calling should be adorned by a humble life, being filled by the holiness and fullness of God.

The earnest and zealous president made no attempt to festoon his thoughts with the seduction, witchery and alluring blandishments of rhetorical beauty and poetic fancy, or adorn the flow of his discourse with sparkling gems of brilliant metaphors. But he gave us a discourse that was strong and powerful, for it was armed with the irresistible batteries of Biblical truths, fortified with the insurmountable parapet of invulnerable logic, strengthened by the invincible abatis of unanswerable argument and clothed with the most beautiful kind of eloquence, the eloquence of truth, of facts, of zeal and of earnestness.

It was unquestionably an address of force and power, for his masterly array of facts had the sweep of an avalanche down a steep mountain. It had the rush of the waves when navies are stranded. It had the force of a storm when forests are rended. It was a tornado of logic in the unbridled sweep of its massive powers.

It was an irresistible cyclone of overwhelming argumentation in its undisputed march to conviction, and in every utterance he reminded us of some powerful Vulcan hammering out truths that will outlive the ivy that will grow upon the tomb of time and glow with the lustre of its own eternity of beauty amid the sunbursts of the fadeless splendors of immortality.

This morning an organization was instituted by which better work could be done among the Disciples of North Carolina. Some splendid addresses were made during the day. Tonight there is to be rendered a most interesting program.

The ministers in attendance are J. A. Hopkins, Winston-Salem, Messrs. Cunningham, Walker, Outlaw and Morton, Wilson; Messrs. Hall, Lewis, Macshburn and Howard, Kinston; A. B. Wade, Be'haven; Geo. Moore, Swan Quarter; E. E. Moore, Grifton; H. H. Ambrose, Farmville, D. W. Arnold, Greenville.

B. & L. ANNUAL MEETING.

Re-elects Old Board of Directors with One Change.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Home Building and Loan Association was held Tuesday night in the mayor's office. There was a good attendance and much interest was manifested in what the association is doing.

In calling the meeting to order President H. A. White spoke of the growth of the association during the past year and its prospect for future development. He was followed by Mr. H. W. Whedbee who showed what the association is doing for Greenville in the building of homes and that it was worth more to the town than any other institution here. He urged the stockholders to aid the officers and directors of the association by speaking a word for it at every opportunity and influencing others to become interested and take part in it.

The report of Secretary and Treasurer N. G. White showed that during the past year the total amount of business done was $22,599.17. There are now 1511 shares including the fifth series which began May 2nd. A detailed financial statement of the association will be published in a day or two.

The following were unanimously elected directors for the ensuing year: H. A. White, C. T. Munford, R. O. Jeffress, D. C. Moore, H. W. Whedbee, D. J. Whichard, B. W. Moseley, R. C. Flanagan, R. J. Cobb, C. O'H. Laughinghouse, S. T. White and C. C. Vines.

At the Colored Methodist Church.

F. in America it is our thanksgiving day, and every hearty Odd Fellow within our borders is kindly notified to meet at their hall at one o'clock sharp, and march down to the First street Methodist church, where the thanksgiving service will take place. The sermon will be preached by Past Noble Father R. Henry Sawyer, Jr., of Elm City lodge, New Bern, N. C. After the services at the church the procession will proceed to the cemetery where flowers will be placed on the graves of our departed dead.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 5, 1908.

Speaker Cannon does not mind throwing in a few cuss words.

New Bern is getting up in the world with a highway robbery.

We hope May will hurry up and get through with this cold spell business.

As returns roll in more lively some of the candidates are not altogether so certain of it.

The most valuable institution Greenville has is The Home Building and Loan Association.

The "night riders" have struck North Carolina, and a few nights ago destroyed two tobacco plant beds of farmers in Davidson county.

The Republicans of the first congressional district have chosen Harry Skinner and Wheeler Martin as delegates to their national convention.

If you do not think Pitt county is doing anything educationally, just attend some of the school closings now going on and you will not think that way any more.

The Durham Sun says it is painful to see two women wearing "merry widow" hats sit close together in church and try to whisper to each other. Naughty Jim.

The Durham Sun wants to know if the Republicans who voted in the Democratic primaries will vote for the Democratic candidates in the general election? Hardly.

It is a great deal worse in a Democratic candidate to get a Republican to attend a Democratic primary and vote for him than it is for a Republican to cast such a vote. It is stooping to dishonorable methods to get a nomination.

The unanimity of the people on prohibition is shown in the high plane on which the campaign is conducted. There is no bitterness, no strife, no saying harsh things about anybody, but there is unity of purpose to bring about that condition that will uplift humanity by removing a great evil from the State.

The Republicans have got enough of Marion Butler and have practically kicked him out. He cuts no figure in their conventions now. Yet they are under obligations to him for what he helped them do in the days of fusion rule, even though he grabbed enough from the pie counter in passing and from the graft he has raked off since to take care of himself the balance of his days.

No, it is not amiss now for you to kiss a miss.

To the Voters of Pitt County.

Some doubt and confusion having arisen in the minds of some persons as to what registration books shall be used as the legal registration books for the election to take place on the 26th of May 1908, I beg to say that the registrars should use the book used at the election on the 14th day of May 1907 and no other.

Whenever a new registration is ordered and taken all previous registration and registration books become useless and cannot be used at subsequent elections. The registration for the election on 14th, of May 1907 was a new registration and not a special registration. It is therefore certain that the registration books in use at the election on the 14th of May, 1907, must be used in the coming election. Any voter whose name is on the registration books used at the election on the 14th of May, 1907, need not register again. All whose names are not on these books will have to register for the coming election or they cannot vote.

The registration books were opened on the 24th inst and the law requires them to be closed at sundown on Saturday the 16th day of May, 1908. The law also requires the registrars to be at the polling places in their respective precincts on each Saturday during the period of registration, but the registrars can register the voters at other times and places. So it is clear that every voter whose name is not on the registration books used at the election in May 1907 has ample time and opportunity to have it put there if he so desires and I make this publication for the purpose of urging the voters to register and vote. A great moral question is to be decided upon which will seriously affect the habit, the homes and lives of the people and especially the boys and girls who are soon to become the men and women of the near future. You cannot vote in that great question on the 26th of May unless you are registered. I therefore urge you to register. This great question will be presented to you in the form of two ballots. One of these ballots will read "For the Manufacture and Sale of Intoxicating Liquors." The other ballot will read "Against the Manufacture and Sale of Intoxicating Liquors."

If any man is in doubt as to which of these ballots he ought to deposit in the box let him ask his wife or that darling little girl for whose safety he would give his life or that bright eyed boy whose future may be determined by the result of this election. They will tell him and tell him right. But I put it to every father and grandfather in the county of Pitt can you look that mother, that darling girl and that dear boy in the face and then turn away and vote "For the Manufacture and Sale of Intoxicating Liquors." I am expecting, hoping and praying that the men of Pitt will roll up a great big majority "Against the Manufacture and Sale of Intoxicating Liquors."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the but few years ago was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore require constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. To the Voters of Pitt County.

We the undersigned constituting a majority of the county board of elections for the county of Pitt hereby give notice that an election will be held on 26th day of May, 1908, at which all who favor the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors in North Carolina will vote a ticket with the words thereon "For the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors" and those who are opposed to the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors in North Carolina will vote a ticket with the words thereon "Against the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors"

In order to vote in that election, as in all other elections, it is necessary to be properly registered. It is our opinion that the registration books used at the election on the 14th of May, 1907, are the ones to be used in the coming election. We therefore advise every voter who did not register in that election to see that his name is put on the registration books before the close of the 16th day of May when the registration books will be closed by law.

He Noticed the Likeness.

A Parisian swell had a crayon picture of himself made, which he afterward pretended to find fault with.

"It does not bear the slightest resemblance to me," said he, "and I will not take it."

The artist protested, but all to no avail.

After the dandy had left the painter added to the portrait a magnificent pair of ass' ears and exhibited it in the window, thus altered, to the gaze of the curious public.

It hadn't been long exposed when the dandy entered the artist's studio in a towering rage, and, finding that threats amounted to nothing, he at last offered to buy it, even at a considerable advance upon the original price.

"It wasn't strange you didn't recognize your resemblance to the picture at first," said the painter, "but I knew you'd notice the likeness as soon as I added those ears."—Spare Moments.

How Dumas Amused Himself.

An interesting anecdote of the elder Dumas, illustrating the author's perennial flow of fine spirits, has been told.

A gentleman calling on the creator of "Monte Cristo" had been ushered into a room adjoining the host's studio, the servant telling him to go in, as M. Dumas was alone.

At that moment, says the narrator, I heard a loud burst of laughter from the inner apartment, so I said:

"I would sooner wait until monsieur's visitors are gone."

"Monsieur has no visitors. He is working," remarked the servant, with a smile. "M. Dumas very often laughs like this while at his work."

It was true enough. The novelist was alone, or, rather, in company with one of his characters, at whose sallies he was simply roaring.

WHEN HER BACK ACHES

A Woman Finds All her Energy and Ambition Slipping Away.

Greenville women know how the aches and pains that come when the kidneys fail make life a burden. Back ache, hip pains, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing urinary troubles, all tell of sick kidneys and warn you of the steadily approaching diabetis, dropsy and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills permanently cure all these disorders. He's proof of it in a Greenville woman's words:

Miss Susan Kinsoul, of No. 503 Fifth St., Greenville, N. C., says: "I have derived great benefit from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills and take pleasure in recommending them. For some time I suffered from dull nagging backache and had distressing pains through the kidney regions. My kidneys were very weak and the frequent action of the secretions caused me great annoyance. My back pained me severely and when first arising in the morning would be so lame and sore that I would be scarcely able to get around. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, procured them at Wooten's drug store and a short use entirely banished these troubles. The fact that my kidneys have given me no trouble whatever since using Doan's Kidney Pills leads me to recommend them most highly."

EDISON THE VICTOR.

He Humiliated the Pride of the Fast Telegraph Operator.

Edison made his first record as a telegraph operator in Memphis. A contemporary says he came walking into the office one morning looking like a veritable hayseed. He wanted a job, and, although his appearance was not prepossessing, the office was short handed, and he was assigned a desk at the St. Louis wire, the hardest in the office. "At the end of the line was an operator who was chain lightning and knew it," says Francis Arthur Jones' "Life of Edison."

"Edison had hardly got seated before St. Louis called. The newcomer responded, and St. Louis started on a long report which he pumped in like a house afire. Edison threw his leg over the arm of his chair, leisurely transferred a wad of spruce gum from his pocket to his mouth, took up a pen, examined it critically and started in about fifty words behind. He didn't stay there long, though. St. Louis let out another link of speed, and still another, and the instrument on Edison's table hummed like an old style Singer sewing machine. Every man in the office left his desk and gathered around the jay to see what he was doing with that electric cyclone.

"Well, sir, he was right on the word and taking it down in the prettiest coperplate hand you ever saw, even crossing his 't's' and dotting his 't's' and punctuating with as much care as a man editing telegraph for printers. St. Louis got tired by and by and began to slow down. Then Edison opened the key and said:

"Hello, there! When are you going to get a hustle on? This is no primer class."

"Well, sir," said the gentleman in conclusion, "that broke St. Louis all up. He had been rawhiding Memphis for a long time, and we were terribly sore, and to have a man in our office who could walk all over him made us feel like a man whose horse had won the Derby."

THRILLING SPORT.

Rafting Down the Canyons of an Unmapped Glacial River.

With provisions for only ten days a party of explorers in Alaska found one September that they must build rafts and take their chances of letting the swift river carry them to settlements where food could be obtained; otherwise ice and snow would shut them in from all hope of rescue. In "The Shameless Diary of an Explorer" Robert Dunn tells of the journey on the roughly made rafts.

"At 11 o'clock today began the most thrilling sport I know, rafting down the snaky canyons of an unmapped glacial river.

"Fred and I captured the Mary Ann II, the other three the Ethel May. We rasped and hauled them over the gravel shadows of our tributary, shot out between the main walls of the stream and seized upon that boiling current.

"We reached silently from cliff to cliff, jammed pike poles into the slate shelf overhead, twirled out of eddies. We bumped and grounded. We dashed overboard and on the run eased her across shallows. We tugged half an hour to make an inch at each shove through the gravel, suddenly plunged in to our necks, and she leaped free as we scrambled on.

"Boulders rose through white ruffs of water in midchannel. We might or might not hang on them for a perpendicular minute.

"You must be very handy with a pole. You must have a hair fine eye for moving angles, the strength of an eddy, the depth of foam ruffling over a stump. You must be surer of the length of your pole than a polo player of the reach of his mallet. You must be quicker than a Siwash dog. You must know the different weight of each log down to ounces, the balance of the duffel piled high like a dais, covered with the tent and the bean pot, the mackinaws and the ax lashed to all the lashings. It's a pretty game."

A Risky Subject.

"Do you think, sweetheart," queried the young man with the evenly divided hair, "that your father will consent to our marriage?"

"Well," replied the fair one, "of course papa will be sorry to lose me, but—"

"But," interrupted the rash youth, "I will remind him that instead of losing a daughter he will gain a son."

"Dearest," rejoined the wise maid, "if you really want me you mustn't say anything of the kind. Papa has three such sons boarding with him now, and he's a little touchy on the subject."

Queer Milk.

Many specimens of unconscious humor are received by the editors of that monumental work, the "Imperial Gazetteer of India." A district was said to be "an extensive rolling plain, consisting of alternate ridges of bare stony hills and narrow fertile valleys." An interesting item of natural history was afforded by the remark, "The buffalo differs from the cow in giving milk which is richer in butter fat, in voice and in having no hump."—London Globe.

Poured.

"I have poured every day this week at some function or other," remarked the vivacious girl.

"Well, well!" murmured the old gentleman who overheard her. "Now I know what is meant by the term 'a reigning belle.'"—St. Louis Republic.

No man prospers in this world by luck unless it be the luck of getting up early, working hard and maintaining honor and integrity.—Beecher.

SHORT WORDS.

Here Are Some, and They Are Right to the Point.

The following paragraph on "The Use of Short Words" is attributed to Horatio Seymour. It practices what it preaches therein, since there is no word in it with more than two syllables save such as are quoted for purposes of illustration:

"We must not only think in words, but we must also try to use the best words and those which in speech will put what is in our minds into the minds of others. This is the great art which those must gain who wish to teach in the school, the church, at the bar or through the press. To do this in the right way they should use the short words which we learn in early life and which have the same sense to all classes of men. The English of our Bible is good. Now and then some long words are found, and they always hurt the verses in which you find them. Take that which says, 'O ye generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come?' There is one long word which ought not to be in it—namely, 'generation.' In the old version the old word 'brood' is used. Read the verse with the term, and you will feel its full force, 'O ye viper's brood, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come?' Crime sometimes does not look like crime when it is set before us in the many folds of a long word. When a man steals and we call it a 'defalcation,' we are at a loss to know if it is a plunder or a crime. If he does not tell the truth and we are told that it is a case of 'prevarication,' it takes us some time to know just what we should think of it. No man will ever cheat himself into wrongdoing nor will he be at a loss to judge of others if he thinks and speaks of acts in clear, crisp terms. It is a good rule, if one is at a loss to know if an act is right or wrong, to write it down in short, straight-out English."

Don't Fold Your Arms.

By folding your arms you pull the shoulders forward, flatten the chest and impair deep breathing. Folding the arms across the chest so flattens it down that it requires a conscious effort to keep the chest in what should be its natural position. As soon as you forget yourself down drops the chest. We cannot see ourselves as others see us. If we could, many of us would be ashamed of our shapes. The position you hold your body in most of the time soon becomes its natural position. Continuously folding your arms across the chest will develop a flat chest and a rounded back. Here are four other hints which should be made habits: Keep the back of the neck close to the back of the collar at all possible times. Always carry the chest farther to the front than any other part of the anterior body. Draw the abdomen in and up a hundred times each day. Take a dozen deep, slow breaths a dozen times each day.—Family Doctor.

The Model.

The difficulty of saying a suitable thing about an unprepossessing person was once cleverly surmounted by the great Duke of Wellington. At a Mansion House dinner he was called on to propose the health of the lady mayoress, whom he had never seen. The duke got up and proposed the toast, describing the subject as "the model of her sex."

Now, the lady happened to be a very plain wizened little woman, so the then Lord Ellenborough afterward asked the duke how he could describe that ugly little creature as the model of her sex.

"Why," said the duke, "I thought I did very well. I had never seen her before and didn't know what she was like—and some models are blamed ugly!"

Physiognomy.

The science of physiognomy can be traced as far back as the time of Pythagoras, who is said to have examined carefully the faces of his would be pupils before admitting them to his school. Hippocrates, 450 B. C., refers to the science, and Cicero has many references to it. The first systematic treatise on the subject that has come down to us is that attributed to Aristotle. The sixteenth century was particularly rich in literature on physiognomy, and the eighteenth shows a still greater interest in the science, Lavater's book seeming to be the final word on the subject.

Active Girls.

From an early age the girls of Japan are instructed in physical exercise, with the result that at maturity the women are almost as strong as the men. It is not an unusual sight in the mikado's empire to see a company of girls who are strolling along a country road step back a few yards for headway and then, following a leader, all nimbly clear a five foot fence by leaping over it.

What Is the First Law of Nature?

"Self preservation is the first law of nature," answers Johnny Jones.

Correct, Johnny. Go right up to the head of the class. This law applies to a community as well as to an individual. Under the severe operation of this law a town that does not take care of itself, that does not look after its own interests first, that does not look out for Number One, soon falls into a bad way.

That's just as sure as shootin'. It's the law. We must obey the law or take the consequences. If we in this town and community do not work together for our own good, the mutual good of all of us, in all lines of business, we have only ourselves to blame if the place slides down the inclined plane instead of climbing the golden ladder of prosperity and progress.

For instance, if we do our retail trading with big city stores that have no interest in us except to get our money and keep it, local trade must suffer and shrink, town property values and farm land values must decrease—and there you are!

Johnny Jones, who knows the law, is a wise lad, but how about his papa and mamma!

Do they obey the law as applied to the old home place? If they don't, Johnny may have to apply the law to himself when he grows up. He may have to go to the city to make a living. Let's all think it over.

Land Leeches in Ceylon.

Land leeches are plentiful in Ceylon. These bloodsuckers hang on bushes and trees and lurk in the grass. They work their way through the thread of stockings and underwear. The average size before feeding is only about half an inch long, and no thicker than a hair—almost invisible. After feeding they are as fat as a finger. The only way to get them off one's body without breaking them and leaving their heads inside is to squeeze a few drops of lemon on them. Then they fall to the ground. The Ceylonese will stop every two or three minutes, take out a lemon and anoint carefully the half dozen leeches stuck in a black mass to the calf of his leg. Some Ceylon leeches are three inches long.—Indianapolis News.

What Makes a Bank Strong

In judging a Bank, always remember that it is Capital, Surplus and Undivided Profits that give security to the depositor, because that money is what stands between you as a depositor and any possible shrinkage in the securities held by the bank.

Few banks in the State have a larger margin of safety than THE BANK OF GREENVILLE which, with the watchful interest of a very capable and conservative board of directors and the constant inspection of the Corporation Commission, has built up here one of the best financial institutions in the county, one whose
