MINISTERS' CONFERENCE

At the Christian Church—Rev. J. C. Caldwell Speaker of the Evening.

At 9.30 o'clock Wednesday morning the conference reassemble with P. B. Hall presiding. Devotional service was held by C. F. Outlaw. Organization for better work was considered and a committee appointed on nomination. The report of committee was as follows: For president for one year, Jesse C. Caldwell, now president of Atlantic Christian College, Wilson; vice-president, Mr. Louis T. Rightsell, LaGrange; secretary and treasurer, Mr. Cecil F. Outlaw, Wilson.

The president elect being absent the vice-president was escorted to the chair and presided through the afternoon and evening sessions.

The address by W. G. Walker, State corresponding secretary was well delivered and made a good impression. The discussion of the address was an interesting one.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Devotions were held by L. T. Rightsell. At 2:30 p. m. Mr. J. A. Hopkins, of Winston-Salem delivered an address on "Unity and Missionary Co-operation." This address showed Bible study and was clearly a Bible subject. The commission of the Apostles was plainly set forth with forceful logic and lasting emphasis. His words greatly benefited all present. The "Call of the times to Ministers of the Gospel" was discussed by Mr. A. B. Cunningham, of Wilson. The "Call of the times" he said, demanded of ministers to be clean, manly men, continually on the side of right, standing for the right, and battling against the wrong, let the world say what it may be a man.

NIGHT SESSION

Praise service by Prof. J. L. Lewis, of Orphan Heights. M. C. F. Outlaw made a short talk on the "Students Opportunity" at A. C. College, Wilson. The president of the college was then introduced and delivered one of the best addresses we have heard for a long time on "The College as a Missionary Factor." It was a great address.

The music was all that one could wish for. The choir was in good shape as it is always, under the leading of Mrs. T. E. Hooker.

Miss Janie Tyson sang a solo with the sweetness of a bird and thrilled her hearers through and through. Nothing so soothing as the melodies of song that reaches the heart.

The new preachers in attendance Wednesday were Eld. J. R. Tingle, Plymouth; Jesse C. Caldwell, Wilson.

Daughters of the Confederacy.

The Geo. B. Singletary Chapter U. D. C. are requested to meet at the residence of the President, Mrs. T. J. Jarvis, on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock to perfect arrangements for the celebration on memorial day (Tuesday 24th). All members in arrears will please bring or send their dues. Any and all persons failing to do this next week will have their names dropped from the list as the few who have paid can not pay the State and National tax for those who do not pay.
May 7th 1908.

Missionary Society.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist church will meet with Mrs. D. L. James Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

GARDENVILLE ITEMS.

Garden Cross Roads, May 5 P. O. Moore went to Tarboro a few days ago.

J. A. Garden, had business in Greenville Friday.

There was a large crowd at Timothy Sunday. Rev. D. W. Davis preached a powerful sermon. Mr. Davis is a fine man and loved by all this community. Timothy now has a fine preacher and a singing choir.

We all were pleased to see Miss Rosa Lee Stokes and her niece, Miss Elwert, of Washington down to church Sunday.

C. D. Baker and several others of Shelmerdine were over to church Sunday.

We boys have had to fall back on the old white ham. These cool nights have stopped the fish from running. I don't care as long as I can get molasses pudding.

Jesse Bland, of Epworth, was in the neighborhood Tuesday.

J. L. Smith, of Maple Cypress was here Sunday.

G. L. Moore and sister, Miss Ada, visited near Shelmerdine Sunday.

Rev. E. E. Moore has returned home after a week's visit near Red Oak.

B. F. Edwards, of Vanceboro and Miss Ethel Mumford, of Clay Root, visited the family of Israel Moore Sunday.

Mrs. Arch Beddard is very ill but we hope she will soon recover.

Frank Carroll went to Greenville Saturday.

John A. Oates, of Raleigh, will speak on prohibition at Mill's school house next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Everybody come.

Miss Helen Haddock spent last Saturday night with Miss Rosa Tyson.

Henry Page went to Winterville Sunday.

H. H. Stanley, of Shelmerdine, was in this neighborhood Sunday.

W. M. Page went to Greenville Saturday on business.

Mysterious Figures.

Put down the number of your living brothers.

Double the number.

Add three.

Multiply the result by five.

Add the number of living sisters.

Multiply the result by ten.

Add the number of dead brothers and sisters.

Subtract 150 from the result.

The right hand figures will be the number of deaths.

The middle figures will be the number of living sisters.

The left hand figures will be the number of living brothers.

Strange freak of figures, isn't it?

Try it.—Ex.

Grand Opening.

The grand opening ball at the Atlantic Hotel, Morehead City, N. C., will be given on Saturday night, June 6th, 1908.

This will be a brilliant affair, and will attract from far and near.

W. J. House, Mgr.

DEAD BODY FOUND BURIED.

That of Hugh Cameron, Colored, With Throat Cut.

Ayden, N. C., May 6.—Early Tuesday morning the body of Hugh Cameron was found buried near Ormondsville, Greene county, the throat cut and several cuts and bruises on the person, showing brutal treatment. Strong circumstantial evidence warranted the arrest of Bill Taylor, who is now in jail at Snow Hill charged with the crime. Jealousy is supposed to have been the cause. The parties are negroes.

Temperance Meeting.

A new diamond field having been discovered in Canada may make more excuse for absconding Americans to go there.

No, they have not found any money while digging up the street for the paving, but Mayor Wooten says they would like to find some money to keep the digging going.

The Durham Herald says "The Democratic party is about as ungrateful to the whiskey interests as the Republican party is to the negro." It strikes us that the Democratic party can get along as well without whiskey as the Republican party can without the negro. The lap off isn't improvement to both parties.—N. C. Christian Advocate.

Corrupting The Press.

It seems now to be an open secret that the liquor power is making a desperate effort to carry the State against prohibition by buying up the small newspapers. We are glad to believe that even this will prove a dismal failure; but when a small country paper begins to howl about the liberties of the people being taken away from them it is pretty good evidence that the medicine is having the desired effect.

We are glad to know that, as a rule, the newspapers of the State are taking a manly position in favor of closing the saloons and this means much for the success of our cause. The good people of the country ought not to neglect to stand by these papers that are bravely fighting for the right. Moreover, we do not see that they are under any obligation to stand by those who either oppose the cause or fail to help it forward. Let those who espouse the cause of liquor get their patronage from the liquor men.

The Way it Goes.

The man with a $600 Federal job must keep out of politics or cut out the job. The man with a $50,000 Federal job can butt into politics and try as none of his predecessors ever have done, to make his office a self-perpetuating office by annexing the right to nominate his own successor. Now and then a two faced man can be found in high station.—Raleigh Times.

In nearly all the colored churches in Richmond, Sunday night, the preachers took the mongrel banquet for their subject and preached strongly against equality. They advised their hearers that the salvation of the colored race lies, not in social equality and the impossible hope of inter-marriage between the races, but in honesty of purpose, thrift in business and morality in living among the negroes themselves. Which shows that the Richmond negro preachers have more sense than some white people in New York.—Charlotte Chronicle.

OBEYED ORDERS.

The Lady Knew Just What to Do When a Fire Started.

Mrs. Wilcox had boundless faith in the wisdom and general effectiveness of her husband's advice, and consequently he had primed her with instructions for any emergency that might arise when he was absent. Among other things, he had repeatedly warned her in case of fire to spread a rug on the blaze and then telephone for the engines.

So deeply was this advice impressed on her subconsciousness that her actions the day of the fire in her home were purely automatic.

She had bought a new hat, and the room being rather poorly lighted, she used the gas jet over her bureau as an aid to studying the new millinery achievement. Suddenly as she was lifting the lace creation off her head, it slipped and fell directly upon the blazing gas jet.

The expected happened. The hat was soon burning fiercely, still on the top of the gas pipe.

Mrs. Wilcox, mindful of Jack's advice, grabbed a valuable Persian rug on the floor and, spreading it carefully over the lighted gas jet and flaming hat, rushed out to the telephone.

At the doorway she collided with her maid, Estelle, who, hearing the rapid movements in the room, was coming to learn the cause.

Running over to the bureau, the girl turned out the gas and, throwing the rug on the floor, stamped out the flames, which had burned a hole through the valuable tapestry.

"Why, Mrs. Wilcox," she cried, "why didn't you turn out the gas?"

"Turn out the gas?" answered her mistress. "Well, aren't you bright! I never thought of that. Jack has always told me to put a rug on a fire."—Youth's Companion.

A STORY OF NELSON.

The Presence of Mind of the Great English Admiral.

Captain Mahan relates the following anecdote concerning Lord Nelson's letter proposing a truce to the crown prince of Denmark, dispatched in the midst of hostilities:

The decks being cleared of all partitions fore and aft and all ordinary conveniences removed, Nelson wrote in full view of all on the deck where he was, at the casing of the rudder head, standing, and as he wrote an officer standing by took a copy. The original, in his own hand, was put into an envelope and sealed, with his arms. The officer was about to use a wafer, but Nelson said:

"No; send for sealing wax and candle."

Some delay followed owing to the man's having had his head taken off by a ball. "Send another messenger for the wax," said the admiral when informed of this, and when the wafers were again suggested he simply reiterated the order.

A large quantity of wax was used and extreme care taken that the impression of the seal should be perfect. Colonel Stewart asked:

"Why under so hot a fire and after so lamentable an accident have you attached so much importance to a circumstance apparently trifling?"

"Had I made use of a wafer," replied Nelson, "the wafer would have been still wet when the letter was presented to the crown prince. He would have inferred that the letter was sent off in a hurry and that we had some pressing reasons for being in a hurry. The wax told no tales."

He Didn't Like Pledges.

Judge Martin Grover of Troy, N. Y., was at one time approached by a young citizen who wished to be nominated to the state assembly. The shrewd old judge had certain doubts about him, which he expressed somewhat freely, and yet he was willing to afford him a trial. He therefore addressed the aspirant in this way:

"Young man, if you will give me your word that you won't steal when you get to Albany I'll see what kin be done about sendin' you there."

"Judge Grover," replied the young man, drawing himself up with great dignity, "I go to Albany unpledged or I don't go at all."

Small Tacks.

How is this for a stunt? The center of the tack industry used to be Bromsgrove, a town in Worcestershire, England, where all work was done by hand. It was a common feat for experts to forge 1,000 to 1,200 tacks so small as to fill the barrel of an ordinary goose quill, their weight being only about twenty grains.—New York Press.

A Glittering Bargain.

"Yes," said the prospective investor to the Billville real estate man, "your terms at $2 an acre are very reasonable. Is there any gold in the land?" The agent looked around as if to assure himself that no one was listening; then he leaned over and whispered: "It's mostly gold!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Irresistible Attraction.

"What are you stopping for, John? If we don't hurry we'll miss our train!" "You can go on if you want to, Maria. I'm going to see how they get that balky horse started!"

Out of a Job.

Minister—Is your father working now, Johnny? Small Johnny—No, sir. Minister—Why, only last week he told me he had a job. Small Johnny—Yes, sir. But the man he was working died.—Chicago News.

Against God's wrath no castle is thunder proof.—Spanish Proverb.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore require constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. ### To the Voters of Pitt County.

We the undersigned constituting a majority of the county board of elections for the county of Pitt hereby give notice that an election will be held on 26th day of May, 1908, at which all who favor the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors in North Carolina will vote a ticket with the words thereon "For the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors" and those who are opposed to the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors in North Carolina will vote a ticket with the words thereon "Against the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors."

In order to vote in that election, as in all other elections, it is necessary to be properly registered. It is our opinion that the registration books used at the election on the 14th of May, 1907, are the ones to be used in the coming election. We therefore advise every voter who did not register in that election to see that his name is put on the registration books before the close of the 16th day of May when the registration books will be closed by law.

WARNED BY DESERTS

What These Sandy Wastes Mean to Mother Earth.

A DEATH GRIP ON THE WORLD

They indicate the Beginning of the End of Our Beautiful Planet, Which is Doomed to Roll Through Space a Parched and Lifeless Orb.

Deserts already exist on the earth, and the nameless horror that attaches to the word in the thoughts of all who have had experience of them or are gifted with imagination to conceive is in truth greater than we commonly suppose, for the cosmic circumstance about them which is most terrible is not that deserts are, but that deserts have begun to be. Not as local evitable evils are they only to be pictured, but as the general inescapable death grip on our world, for it is the beginning of the end. What depauperates the forests to grass lands and thence to wastes must in turn attack the sea bottoms when they shall have parted with their seas.

Last of the fertile spots upon the planet because of the salts the streams have for ages washed down and of the remnant of moisture that would still drain into them, eventually they must share the fortune of their predecessors and the planet roll a parched orb through space. The picture is forbidding, but the fact seems one to which we are constructively pledged and into which we are in some sort already adventuring.

Gridding the earth with what it takes but little personification to liken to the life extinguishing serpent's coils run two desert belts of country. The one follows, roughly speaking, the tropic of Cancer, extending northward from it; the other, the tropic of Capricorn. Arizona is in the northern band, as are the Sahara, Arabia and the deserts of central Asia.

Now, these desert belts are growing. In the great desert of northern Arizona the traveler, threading his way across a sedgebrush and cacti plain shut in by abrupt sided shelves of land rising here and there some hundreds of feet higher, suddenly comes upon a petrified forest.

Trunks of trees in all stages of fracture strew the ground over a space some miles in extent. So perfect are their forms he is almost minded to think the usual wasteful woodchopper has been by and left the scattered products of his art in littered confusion upon the scene of his exploit. Only their beautiful color conveys a sense of strangeness to the eye, and, leaning down and touching them, he finds that they are—stone; chalcedony, not carbon! Form has outlived substance and kept the resemblance, while the particles of the original matter have all been spirited away. Yet so perfect is the presentment one can hardly believe the fact, and where one fallen giant spans a little canyon one almost thinks to hear the sound of water rushing down the creek.

But it is some millions of years and more since this catastrophe befell, and the torrent, uprooting it, left it prone, with limbs outstretched in futile grasp upon the other side. A conifer it was, cousin only to such as grow today, and flourished probably in the cretaceous era, for the land has not been under water here since the advent of tertiary times.

Nowhere near it, except for the rare cottonwoods along the bank of the Little Colorado, grows anything today. The land which once supported these forests is incompetent to do so now. Yet nothing has changed there since except the decreasing water supply. During tertiary and quaternary time the rainfall has been growing less and less. Proof of this is offered by the great pine oasis that caps the plateau of which these petrified forests form a part and is kernoled by the San Francisco peaks. The height above sea level of the spot where the chalcedony trunks are strewn is about 4,500 feet. The lower present limit of the pine in its full development is 6,500 feet. Two thousand feet upward the verdure line has retreated since the former forests were. And this is no local alteration, for upon the other side of the plateau petrified remains of trees are similarly found.

The line of perpetual green has risen because in desert regions the moisture is found most plentiful nearest to the clouds from which it falls upon a parching earth. Streams, instead of gathering volume as they go, are largest near their source and grow less and less with each fresh mile of flow. The brooks descending from the Anti-Lebanon, in Syria, water the gardens of Damascus and, thence issuing upon the plain, lose themselves just beyond the threshold of its gates. So in the Arizona desert, though in a less degree, and those who live there know it but too well.—From Percival Lowell's "Mars and the Future of the Earth" in Century.

Breaking Wire.

Anybody who has tried to break a piece of wire without the aid of a pair of pliers will probably agree that the operation is both a difficult and painful one. There is a method, however, by which it may be easily accomplished. By bending the wire into a loop and pulling both ends as tight as possible an injury will be caused to the wire, which on being straightened will immediately break. By this means wire up to No. 12 gauge may be successfully dealt with.

Fire and sword are, but slow engines of destruction in comparison with the babler.—Steele.

POSTAGE STAMP CHEATS.

Foolish Persons Who Run the Risk of Going to Prison.

"You would be surprised," said a postoffice clerk, "at the efforts people make to avoid the payment of postage. And quite often it is not the work of children either. The most common trick is to take the stamp that has been canceled by hand and the impression just touches the edge of the stamp. After pricking the marked edge with a pin or cutting it with a pair of shears to resemble the punctured edge of the stamp or tearing away that part the stamp is put on an envelope for another voyage. All these are placed in the hands of postal inspectors for investigation.

"Others try to give the impression that a stamp had been put on an envelope and become loose and lost in transit by sticking a stamp on the envelope and then pulling it with part of the envelope sticking to it off again. These as well as underpaid letters, unless they have a foreign destination, where postage is then collected, are marked 'Returned for postage' and sent back to the sender. Second class matter, as a roll of newspapers, is often sealed against inspection by having the stamps overlap the cover. Whether foreign or not it is returned for postage. When it again shows up, the mistake rectified, upon inspection it is usually found to contain written letters, photographs (unmounted), jewelry, merchandise of all kinds, making the package underpaid; hence it is again returned.

"But the limit of foolishness comes when a person tries to efface the indelible ink from the stamp and with half the features of the stamp missing or rubbed away and some of the ink still remaining affixes it to an envelope, with the address of the sender upon the back to facilitate investigation.

"This, though, is stretching it a little too much: A postcard that had been put through a canceling machine and delivered to the addressee had the canceling impression and the address scratched off with the aid of a sharp knife and a new address substituted and a written message pasted on the reverse side."—New York Sun.

AN OLD GORMANDIZER.

One Man Who Lived That He Might Simply Eat and Drink.

In a little yellowed English magazine, dated April, 1864, I came across the following amusing scrap:

If the Duke of Q. does not extend his life to a still longer period, it will not be for want of culinary comforts and those other succulent arts by which longevity is best promoted. His grace's sustenance is thus daily administered:

"At 7 in the morning he regales in a warm milk bath perfumed with almond powder, where he takes his coffee and a buttered muffin, and afterward retires to bed. He rises about 9 and breakfasts on cafe au lait, with new laid eggs just parboiled; at 11 he is presented with two warm jellies and rusques; at 1 he takes a veal cutlet a la Maintenon; at 3 jellies and eggs repeat; at 5 a cup of chocolate and rusques; at 7:30 he takes a hearty dinner from high seasoned dishes and makes suitable libations of claret and madeira; at 10 tea, coffee and muffins; at 12 sups off a roast poulet, with a plentiful solution of lime punch; at 1 in the morning he retires to bed in high spirits and sleeps till 3, when his man cook, to the moment, waits upon him in person with a hot and savory veal cutlet, which, with a portion of wine and water, prepares him for further repose that continues generally uninterrupted till the morning summons to his lacteal bath.

"In this routine of living comforts are the four and twenty hours invariably divided, so that if his grace does not know, with Sir Toby Belch, 'that our life is composed of four elements' he knows at least, with Sir Ague Cheek, 'that it consists in eating and drinking.'—London Chronicle.

A Reason For Thanks.

The impecunious author's wife was trying on a new dress and endeavoring to observe the hang of it by means of a round mirror on top of a high chiffonier. Every woman will appreciate what that means.

"Oh, dear," she exclaimed as she thought with some pathos, "I haven't seen the bottom of my skirt since I was married."

Her husband looked up, brute that he was; and remarked:

"Well, you can thank your lucky stars for that."—New York Press.

Had Left For Parts Unknown.

In a murder trial in Texas some years ago the counsel for the defense was examining a venieman regarding his qualifications to serve. The candidate admitted that he had once been a member of a jury which tried a negro for murder. It is not permissible in such cases to ask the result of the trial, so the counsel said:

"Where is that negro now?"

"I don't know," was the reply. "The sheriff hanged him at the appointed time."

No Idle Boast.

Bilkins—Smythe tries to make people believe that he belongs to the "upper crust." Bilkins—Well, I should think he did belong to the "upper crust." Bilkins—In what way does he show it? Bilkins—Always short and easily broke.—Brooklyn Life.

Imposing.

"The Swelltons seem to keep up an imposing establishment," remarked the canned goods drummer.

"You bet they do," replied the groceryman, with a sigh long drawn out, "and I'm one of the fellows they impose on."—Chicago News.

What Is the First Law of Nature?

"Self preservation is the first law of nature," answers Johnny Jones.

Correct, Johnny. Go right up to the head of the class. This law applies to a community as well as to an individual. Under the severe operation of this law a town that does not take care of itself, that does not look after its own interests first, that does not look out for Number One, soon falls into a bad way.

That's just as sure as shootin'. It's the law.

We must obey the law or take the consequences. If we in this town and community do not work together for our own good, the mutual good of all of us, in all lines of business, we have only ourselves to blame if the place slides down the inclined plane instead of climbing the golden ladder of prosperity and progress.

For instance, if we do our retail trading with big city stores that have no interest in us except to get our money and keep it, local trade must suffer and shrink, town property values and farm land values must decrease—and there you are!

Johnny Jones, who knows the law, is a wise lad, but how about his papa and mamma?

Do they obey the first law as applied to the old home place? If they don't, Johnny may have to apply the law to himself when he grows up. He may have to go to the city to make a living.

Let's all think it over.

A SMART ENGLISHMAN.

The Story He Told of His Experience in "the States."

A tall, practical Englishman went over to "the States" the other day from London. He took lodgings at an inn in a small village, which shall be nameless. He had dinner, and among those who sat at the table with him was the waiting maid, whom he designated as "servant," but he received an indignant correction from the landlord.

"We call our servants, sir, 'helps.' They are not oppressed; they are not Russian serfs."

"All right," said the Britisher; "I shall remember."

And he did, for in the morning he awoke the whole house by calling out at the top of his voice, which was like the tearing of a strong rag:

"Help, help! Water, water!"

In an instant every person equal to the task rushed into his room with a pail of water.

"I am much obliged to you, I am sure," he said, "but I don't want so much water, you know. I only want enough to shave with."

"Shave with!" said the landlord. "What did you mean by calling: 'Help! Water?' We thought the house was afire."

"You told me to call the servant 'help,' and I did. Did you think I would cry 'Water' when I meant fire?"

The explanation, it would seem, was satisfactory, and he can call the servants "servants" as much as he likes at that place now.—London Answers.

Not Very Flattering.

When the artist had finished his scenic sketch of the stretch of woods skirting the suburban road, he looked up and beheld a serious faced Irishman whom he had previously noticed digging in a trench by the roadside gazing queerly at his canvas.

"Well," said the artist familiarly, "do you suppose you could make a picture like that?"

The Irishman mopped his forehead a moment and, with a deep sigh, answered, "Sure; a mon c'n do anything if he's driv to ut!"—Argonaut.

What Makes a Bank Strong

In judging a Bank, always remember that it is Capital, Surplus and Undivided Profits that give security to the depositor, because that money is what stands between you as a depositor and any possible shrinkage in the securities held by the bank.

Few banks in the State have a larger margin of safety than THE BANK OF GREENVILLE which, with the watchful interest of a very capable and conservative board of directors and the constant inspection of the Corporation Commission, has built up here one of the best financial institutions in the county, one whose

Capital, Surplus and PROFITS

now amounts to over

Sixty - Eight Thousand Dollars.

Business respectfully solicited.

R. L. Davis Pres. J. L. Little Cashier

To The Ladies---

Do not forget those pretty Pattern Hats at Munford's. Your dress will not be complete without that Hat.

Growing Girls

Growing girls need care, advice and medicine, especially on reaching the age of puberty. A mother's tender care and words of caution will often accomplish wonders. As for medicine, a gentle, safe and reliable strengthening tonic is Wine of Cardui.

It will prevent and relieve pain, regulate the functions, clear the complexion and strengthen the constitution.

It is a valuable medicine for growing girls. It has tided thousands over a critical period, and saved them from years of suffering. It can never do harm and is sure to do good.

A relief or cure for all female disorders in girls and women.

At every druggist's in $1.00 bottles. Try it.
