HUSBAND BOUND TO COURT.

Swore His Bride Was 18 While Her Parents Say She is Only 16.

A week or two ago Mr. Henry Mills and Miss Ella Bullock, both of this county, were married. In obtaining the license, which was issued on information furnished by the groom, the usual oath was subscribed to that the young lady was 13 years old. It seems that the marriage was without parental consent and the father of the bride, Mr. O. Bullock, asserting that his daughter was only 16 years of age, took steps to indict Mr. Mills for obtaining the license falsely. A warrant was issued for Mills and on Friday afternoon the case was heard before Justice O. W. Harrington. At the trial both the father and mother of the young bride swore that she was 16 years old on the 9th day of last March, that prior to this year Mills had lived in their home for about 18 months and knew well what was the age of the girl. The defendant had no witnesses, but stated that he did not know what the age of the girl was except that she had told him that she was 18. He was required to give bond in the sum of $250 for his appearance at September term of Superior court. The young bride was present at the trial and seemed to be contented with her husband.

STATE NEWS.

Wiley Osborne, a prominent farmer of Guilford county, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a pocket knife.

Loney Bell, a colored woman, was tried at Williamston for the murder of Lizzie Hill, another colored woman. She was convicted of manslaughter and sent to the penitentiary.

At Raleigh Friday a banner was presented to Buncombe county for the largest prohibition majority in the recent election, and one to Yancy county for casting the largest per cent. of her vote dry.

Nathan Dawson, of Conetoe, one of the most prominent citizens of Edgecombe county, narrowly escaped death Thursday night from an overdose of nuxvomica, which was taken by mistake for his regular medicine.—Tarboro Southern.

Sunday School Convention.

The tenth district Sunday school association, embracing the counties of Greene, Lenoir and Pitt, will meet in annual convention in Ayden on the 26th. Every Sunday school in the district of whatever denomination, is asked to send delegates to the convention so that a complete organization may be effected. All ministers are urged to be present.

More Money Needed.

PROCLAMATION BY GOVERNOR.

State of North Carolina, Executive Department, Raleigh.

I, R. B. Glenn, governor of North Carolina, by virtue of an Act of the General Assembly of North Carolina passed at its special session of 1903, and ratified on the 31st of January, 1908, do issue this my Proclamation declaring the result of the election held on the 26th day of May, 1908, which election was held to take the sense of the people on the question of prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors in North Carolina, to be, according to the returns made to the State Board of elections as canvassed by it, as follows:

There were cast at said election one hundred and eighty-three thousand and twenty-eight (183,028) votes, of which one hundred and thirteen thousand, six hundred and twelve (113,612) votes were cast "Against the Manufacture and Sale of Intoxicating Liquors," and sixty-nine thousand, four hundred and sixteen (69,416) votes were cast "For the Manufacture and Sale of Intoxicating Liquors," the majority "Against the Manufacture and Sale of Intoxicating Liquors" being forty-four thousand, one hundred and ninety-six (44,196) votes.

Done at our City of Raleigh this 19th day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eight, and in the one hundred and thirty-second year of our American Independence.

By the Governor, R. B. GLENN,
A. H. ARRINGTON,
Private Secretary.

The Command to Love.

You are not commanded simply to love your neighbor. There is a very important qualification attached thereto, and, with it, there comes into play the grim humor that lights up the pages of Scripture; and be sure the uttermost depths are sounded. The command is large and healthy invitation to self-knowledge, the necessity of which has been insisted on by the sages and prophets of all the tribes of men since experience came out of the underbrush, full of wounds and bruises, in search of a full meal and a soft pallet. The behest is simply to love your neighbors as you love yourself, and the qualification is such as to fit every case; for when you look frankly into the depths of your own heart—into the dark room, as it were, where your native thoughts and desires seethe and rage, and catch a glimpse, however fleeting, of the liar of the beast, you will have to acquire a strange taste for what is almost wholly bad if you fall in love with the things you find there. Let no thin scum of piety, however real it may be, interfere with the thoroughness of this self-examination; let no veneer of culture and refinement come between your vision and the thing you really are; and when you have seen all there is to be seen, and learned a great deal you never knew before, you will be compelled to admit that your neighbor must indeed be a monster if you cannot love him as you love yourself.—Joel Chandler Harris, in Uncle Remus's—The Home Magazine for June.

WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From Our Hustling Neighbor.

Winterville, N. C., June 20, 1908.

Dr Perkins, of Hanrahan was here Thursday and bought a Hunucker buggy.

Misses Olive Woodard, of Shelmerdine, and Laura Salisbury, of Hossell, spent Thursday here visiting their many friends. They were students of W. H. S. the past session and we were glad to see them.

Mrs Mary Gray returned to her home at Blount's Creek Friday morning after having spent a few days at the home of Mrs. Maggie Butt.

H. A. White, the hustling insurance agent of Greenville, spent some time here on Thursday.

We are glad to note that Mrs. A. G. Cox, who has been very sick for several days, is improving rapidly.

C. T. Cox, our hustling furniture dealer, is spending the week at Seven Springs with relatives. We miss his genial laughter.

F. A. Edmundson has just returned from a trip on the road in the interest of the A. G. Cox Manufacturing Co. He is selling trucks and flues now in large lots.

Mrs. L. G. Tripp returned to Ayden Friday after having spent some time with Mrs. Maggie Butt.

Miss Julia Hargett, of Kinston, is spending some time with Miss Janie Kittrell.

SOUTHERN'S SPECIAL TRAINS.

To the State Convention at Charlotte, North Carolina.

Mr. W. W. Croxton, of Norfolk, traveling passenger agent of the Southern Railway, was here Friday in the interest of the special train service the Southern will operate to Charlotte for the State convention.

On Tuesday, 23rd, a special train will leave Goldsboro at 2 p. m. running through to Charlotte, arriving there at 10.15 p. m. same date.

On Monday, 22nd, a special train will leave Greensboro at 8.45 p. m. reaching Charlotte 11.55 p. m.

On Wednesday, 24th a special train will leave Greensboro at 6.30 a. m. reaching Charlotte 10 a. m.

Parties from the eastern section of the State can make connection for either of these trains.

Three Brilliant Orators to Nominate Candidates.

The speeches placing the three candidates for Governor in nomination at the State Convention will be worth going to Charlotte to hear, Ex Governor Charles B. Aycock, of Goldsboro, whose oratory has won for him the distinction of being one of the greatest speakers of his time in America, will place Hon. Locke Craig in nomination. Hon. C. W. Tillett, of Charlotte, one of the former advocates in the State and a speaker of compelling power, will make the nomination speech for Hon. W. W. Kitchin. Hon. T. W. Bickett, of Louisville, eloquent and forceful as a speaker, will put Hon. Ashley Horne in nomination.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Abernathy Nominated.

New Bern, N. C., June 19.—In the convention of the Third Judicial district, held here today, C. L. Abernathy, of Beaufort, Carteret county, was nominated for solicitor by acclamation.

FARMVILLE ITEMS.

Farmville, N. C., June 20.

The Farmville base ball team lost its first game yesterday.

Fountain took the game by 13 to 8. The Farmville boys deserve much credit for showing up as well as they did, taking into consideration the disadvantages under which they played. Three of their best players were out of the game, and the boys had to take anybody to make out the number Weeks and Sheppard, two of Farmville's pitchers, were out of the game and their places could not be filled. Fountain played good ball but ought to have played much better after having gone into two counties to select a team.

H. A. White came up from Greenville yesterday morning and spent a few hours here.

G. V. Smith, of Falkland, was here yesterday.

W. J. Rasberry went to Macclesfield yesterday.

ROCHDALE SPROUTS.

Rochdale, N. C., June 19, 1908.

Miss Agnes Smith returned home last week from Durham and her brother, Joe, returned home with her from school.

Mrs. Lloyd Smith came home Monday from Henderson where she had been visiting relatives and reports a good time.

Constable J. B. Joyner went to Greenville Monday evening to take a prisoner to jail.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McLawhorn have been attending the revival that is going on at Farmville this week. They went to the baptism Wednesday evening when there were twenty immersed. Six more made confessions Wednesday and Thursday nights. There has been good congregations and very much interest is manifested.

Miss Carrie Belle Smith is spending some time this week visiting at Farmville and attending the meeting.

Horse Falls Down.

Friday evening a driver started down the street with Mr. J. G. Moyer's horse and trap. Coming to the paving at the corner of Third street the driver turned the horse too suddenly and the animal slipped down. One shaft of the trap was broken and one of the horse's legs badly skinned.

Request for Papers.

If some friend after reading his copy of The Eastern Reflector (weekly) of June 19th will send it back to the office it will be appreciated. Our file number was missed on that date and we desire two copies for that purpose.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL BRIEFS.

The Visitors Here and People Who Travel.

Miss Inez Wooten, of Kinston, is visiting Mrs. J. L. Wooten.

Paul Jones of Bethel, came over Friday evening for a visit.

Miss Lula Taylor returned Friday evening from a visit to Greensboro.

Miss Bettie Russ, of Raleigh, arrived this morning to visit relatives.

Miss Bettie Gray Sutton, of LaGrange, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Alice Harper.

Mrs. Alice Harper and son, Alexander, came home Friday evening from LaGrange.

Misses Eddie and Evelyn Aydlett, of Elizabeth City, who were visiting Mrs. F. J. Forbes, have returned home.

S. V. King, a Pitt county boy, who is manager for the Western Union Telegraph Co. at Charleston, W. Va., has been home on a visit to his parents near Falkland. Sorry Sam could not extend his visit long enough to take in Greenville.

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Made Both Nominations on First Ballot.

Chicago, June 19—The republican national convention is over. The hour sine die adjournment was 11:41 a. m.

The national republican standard-bearers for this year are:

For president William Howard Taft, of Ohio.

For vice-president—James Schoolcraft Sherman, of New York.

Each was selected on the first ballot. The nomination of each was made unanimous.

Mr. Sherman was nominated by 816 out of 979 votes cast and Secretary Taft yesterday received 702 out of 978 votes cast.

The real work of the convention was done outside. Inside the convention hall all was harmonious except for a few brief clashes which, withal, brought out no ill humor.

The result of the convention, candidates and platform, is the work of Theodore Roosevelt. His control from beginning to end was complete, and his will prevailed in everything.

"SLUMBERLAND" OPERA.

Home Talent Rehearsing for this Production.

The efforts of the ladies of The King's Daughters to raise funds for the State reformatory, named the Stonewall Jackson Normal and Industrial Training school, should meet the encouragement of all our people. Under the management of these ladies a large company of home talent, directed by Harry Foote, of New York, is rehearsing the opera "Slumberland" to be presented here at an early date. From the way those enlisted in it are taking hold of the rehearsals and the enthusiasm they are manifesting, the outlook is that "Slumberland" is going to be the best and most elaborate production that has yet been undertaken here by home talent.

SATURDAY, JUNE 20, 1908.

They are packing their grips ready for Charlotte.

Taft and Sherman. It does not fit the mouth worth a cent.

Wonder how "Uncle Joe" feels over cutting such a small figure.

There is a great difference in the pictures the papers are printing of Taft.

The piano trust may endeavor to pitch the key of the tune a little higher.

The tail end of the ticket is such a reminder of that "march through Georgia."

Except in size we believe Governor Hughes is the biggest man in the bunch that was mentioned.

Funny that they raised the price of meat right at this time of year. Must have thought the vegetable crop had failed.

The 45 minutes pandemonium that followed the mention of the president's name was noise enough to de-light his ambition.

Remember in submitting propositions to the government for a site for that public building in Greenville, not to make the price too high.

We came near forgetting to remind them of it, but the Charlotte brethren should assure Bob Phillips that there will be no pick pockets in the city.

The president has the satisfaction of knowing he run the Chicago convention even if he was not present in person. The long distance phone kept him in speaking distance.

One of the special trains the Southern will run from Greensboro to Charlotte will make a half hour stop in Salisbury. That means some of the passengers may never reach the convention.

A negro undertook to burglarize the home of Editor Stewart, of the Salisbury Watchman. The negro found nothing, of course, but the editor found the negro with a bullet and laid him up for repairs.

At this time it does not look like any body is going to get a nomination in the State convention by acclamation, as there are several candidates for every office. But Grimes, for secretary of State, is going to come nearest to being the unanimous choice of all the delegates. Watch this prediction.

Some folks will say it is too hot to go to church, yet they will swelter for hours in a crowded convention hall. They will not sing at service when a hymn is given out, but at the convention the very mention of the name of their favorite will make them holler loud enough to be heard a mile. Who says this is not a great world?

The many friends of Major H. A. London will be pleased to learn that his prospects for the nomination for Corporation Commissioner are most encouraging.

Only 23 counties have instructed for that office and the vote in them is 116 for London, 86 for Aycock, 13 for Middleton and 9 for Bagwell.

In the hotly contested primary in Mecklenburg county, on last Tuesday, the vote was 1953 for London, 1166 for Aycock and 298 for Bagwell, being a majority of 489 for Major London over all competitors.

FATALITY OF A BULLET.

A Miraculous Escape From Death and Its Tragic Sequel.

"People may jeer at fatalism and poke fun at all ideas which are embodied in predestination," said a Texas official at a small gathering of friends in Washington, "but sometimes a man rubs elbows with events which make him less skeptical about such things. A young boy near Dallas was shot while out hunting, and the bullet lodged so near his heart that there was not one chance in a thousand that he could survive an operation. But he did survive, and the operation was one of the things of which the surgeons in the local hospital were very proud. But the boy's recovery was tedious, and as soon as the fever left him he was allowed to see his friends and to play cards and generally to amuse himself. The bullet had been given to the boy and occupied a conspicuous place on the table. Every caller saw and handled the bullet and talked over his almost miraculous escape from death. One day the boy's mother was with him and several relatives when a boy who had formerly gone to school with the patient paid him a visit, and of course he wanted to hear all about the operation and to see the bullet. The boy told it all with great vim, and then, taking up the bullet, he said, 'Here's the bullet that caused all the trouble, and now I shall bite it to pieces to pay it back,' and he laughingly put it in his mouth. Just then he was seized with a coughing fit. The bullet slipped down his throat, lodged in his windpipe, and in a few minutes he had strangled to death. The poor mother was nearly crazed with grief, but she afterward told the pastor of her church that she felt her son was destined to die of that bullet and that she had little confidence of his recovery, even when the operation was pronounced successful. She had dabbled somewhat in the occult sciences, and she declared that the boy had been predestined from all time to die from that particular bullet and that nothing could save him from that fate."—New York Press.

Knife, Spoon and Fork.

Two table articles are found among all uncivilized peoples—the knife and the spoon. The knife was originally a weapon of attack or defense. It was used for cutting and carving flesh, but its convenience in eating soon became apparent.

The origin of the spoon is uncertain. It must have been invented at a very ancient date, for it is found among people that have never come into contact with civilization. The necessity of having some implement for dipping water seems to have led first to the invention of the calabash or the use of the coconut shell and later on to the spoon.

We must wait 4,000 years before we find the fork, or, as a French writer on table etiquette has said, "From the creation of the world to the beginning of the seventeenth century man ate only with his fingers." This is, however, a mistake of 400 years, for we find forks as early as the thirteenth century, when they are mentioned as being kept for special purposes. Thus John, duke of Brittany, is said to have used a fork to pick up "soppys," and Piers Gaveston had three for eating pears with.

To Know an Artist.

The Munich Jugend has discovered five new signs by which to detect the school to which a painter belongs. First, if he paints the sky gray and the grass black he belongs to the good old classical school; second, if he paints the sky blue and the grass green he is a realist; third, if he paints the sky green and the grass blue he is an impressionist; fourth, if he paints the sky yellow and the grass purple he is a colorist; fifth, if he paints the sky black and the grass red he shows possession of great decorative talent.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. WHEN THE ICE BROKE.

Description of an Old Time Spectacle on the Hudson River.

The breaking of the ice on the Hudson river is described in "Memoirs of an American Lady" as a "sublime spectacle." A hundred and fifty years ago the whole population of Albany deemed it a sight well worth some effort to see. The first noise of the breaking ice, like a long, loud peal of thunder, sent every one hurrying to the riverside, and if it happened to be an early morning hour there was a grotesque assemblage.

No one who had a nightcap on waited to put it off. As for waiting for one's cloak, it was a thing out of the question. You caught the thing next to you that you could wrap around you and ran. On the way you saw every door left open and pails and baskets without number set down in the street. People never dreamed of being obeyed by their slaves until the ice was past.

The houses were left quite empty. The meanest slave, the youngest child, were to be found on the shore.

When arrived at the show place the multitude, with their eyes all bent one way, stood, immovable and silent as death until the tumult ceased and the mighty commotion ended. Then every one tried to give vent to the vast conceptions with which his mind had been distended.

The swelling of the waters under the ice, increased by rivulets, enlarged by melting snows, led to the general bursting of this mighty mass of ice. Conceive a solid mass from six to eight feet thick bursting for many miles in one continued rupture, produced by a force inconceivably great and in a manner inexpressibly sudden.

Thunder is no adequate image of this awful explosion. The islands and lowlands were all flooded in an instant by an impetuous torrent, bearing down, with incredible and tumultuous rage, immense shoals of ice, which, jammed together in some places, in others erecting themselves in gigantic heights for an instant in the air, seemed to combat with their fellow giants and, falling together with an inconceivable crash, formed a picture animated and various beyond conception.

A Fable of the Future.

In 1920 A. D. the Stingiest Man in Stringtown carted his Household Goods to the Depot and bought a ticket for Millionville, the Metropolis.

"Why are you moving to Millionville?" inquired a Citizen.

"To save postage," replied the Stingiest Man. Whereat the Citizen marveled mightily.

Now, be it known that the Stingiest Man in Stringtown was wise in his Day and Generation, for along back in 1907 A. D. or thereabout it became the Settled Habit of the Stringtown people to purchase Large Sheets of Little Stickers bearing portraits of G. Washington, B. Franklin, W. McKinley and other Late Illustrious Ones, which Specimens of Art they straightway stuck on envelopes and sent to a Large and Luring Mail Order Concern in Millionville. Wherefore it came about that the Seven Stores in Stringtown Shut up Shop, one after the other, until along in 1919 A. D. the Stingiest Man found it incumbent upon him to begin purchasing these Small Specimens of Art to present to the Maw of the Monster in Millionville, and the Aforesaid was Simply too Stingy to stand for the Same.

THE FREAKISH WIND.

Pranks It Has Played With Smoke, Dust and Grain.

During a volcanic eruption in the Hawaiian Islands the smoke rose to a height of between five and six miles and then drifted away to the northeast. At a distance of 600 miles it settled on the surface of the sea and was then carried back by the northeast wind to its place of origin, where it arrived a fortnight after its original departure and covered the entire group of islands with its heavy pall.

Not long ago a steamer was on her way along the north African coast from Asia to England and had entered the Galita channel between the island of that name and the coast of Tunis when a fine dust began to darken the air and soon afterward to fall on deck. Some of this dust was collected and subjected to chemical analysis in Europe. Its constituents proved that it had been carried high in the air from the Sahara desert and had finally dropped into the Mediterranean.

More extraordinary still was a dust shower that fell in Hungary some years ago. Analysis showed that this dust was identical with the sediment of the Nile. The dust was believed to have been brought by the wind all the way from Egypt, a pretty long journey for a shower of that description to accomplish.

It must have been a high wind indeed that brought a shower of wheat on one occasion to the villagers in a place on the southern coast of Spain. The wheat fell like rain. There were so many witnesses of the occurrence that it was impossible to doubt that it had appeared. But for some months it could not be accounted for.

Then came the other side of the story. It was learned that shortly before this fall of wheat some farmers near the northern coast of Morocco had been thrashing wheat with flails when suddenly a tornado swept over the ground and carried all the wheat and chaff on the thrashing cloth into the air. The cloth was swept away by the storm, and the farmers fell to the ground, but were not injured. When the storm had passed they were horrified at discovering that the result of their labors had totally disappeared. There seemed little doubt that the wheat that fell in Spain was that which belonged to the Moroccan farmers. It had been blown clear across the Mediterranean.—Pittsburg Post.

His Defense.

How sweet is the innocence of childhood!

Tommy Jones, aged seven, and his mother were invited to tea by Mrs. Brinks. While the meal was being prepared Mrs. Jones wandered about the two yard square garden and admired the weeds.

Presently the absence of her cherished Tommy alarmed her, but shortly the truant reappeared contentedly munching a huge slab of cake.

In her relief, as is usual, Mrs. Jones began to upbraid the lad.

"Thomas," she said, "I'm afraid you've been greedy and asked kind Mrs. Brinks for that cake."

But the boy faced her fearlessly.

"Oh, no, mother," he replied, "I wouldn't be so rude! I waited till she turned her back; then I snatched a piece!"—London Mail.

Water as a Headache Cure.

"The best cure I know of for a headache is to wash your face," said a bright looking man. "Yes, I believe suddenly to cleanse your face with cold water will open up the pores and probably start the blood in circulation, and I know it will relieve you of a headache in a jiffy. I have tried it myself a great many times and have always been successful. There is something in the nature of a stimulant in the cold water treatment that braces me right up. My head when it aches gets hot and throbs, and the water makes it cool and fresh."—Philadelphia Record.

Gothland.

In the Baltic sea, forty miles from the mainland, lies the Swedish island Gothland, a Mecca for students of early Gothic architecture. In Wisby alone, the chief town of the island, with its population of 8,000 souls, may be studied what remains of no less than ten churches, some of which date from the eleventh and twelfth centuries. The oldest of them, is the Church of the Holy Ghost, completed about 1046.—Youth's Companion.

SIGN OF A BEATEN MAN.

Runner Who Looks Behind Almost Sure to Lose the Race.

"There are many more good distance runners now than in my days," said an old time champion after watching a three mile scratch race at the New York Athletic club games. "But the habits of the runners have not changed any, for I noticed one little trick in the race that bore the significance that used to attach to it."

"To the casual onlooker there was nothing to choose between the two leaders when they were beginning the last quarter of a mile. Right from the crack of the pistol they were running almost stride for stride with the low, graceful, easy action of the real long distance runner.

"Neither had called into use the reserve power which must be utilized in the final sprint for victory when they turned into the stretch for the final lap. Then one of them slightly turned his head to see where the third man was.

"That man is beaten," was the thought which occurred to me at once, and it proved true, as always, for when the dash for the finish began he allowed his rival to get a lead of five yards before going after him in earnest pursuit.

"From that point to the finish there was no perceptible difference in the speed of the men, but the man who had turned his head to make sure that he would get second place, instead of bending every energy to win, of course landed where his thoughts placed him."—New York Sun.

A WONDERLAND.

New Zealand's Belt of Geysers of Boiling Water.

If one can imagine a furious and active volcano with a crater a thousand miles in extent, sunk level with the earth and thinly covered with a screen of soil, one has some idea of the awe inspiring "wonderland" of New Zealand's north island. You cannot poke a stick into the ground without starting a boiling spring, and wherever you turn the ground is fairly alive with geysers of boiling water—steam jets and blowholes, with quivering volcanoes and gurgling "mud pots," all colored fantastically with rainbow hues, ranging from brilliant sapphire to vivid scarlet. Stranger still, the entire face of this region is constantly changing in shape and color, and there are hot springs here stretching in a continuous chain for 300 miles. The ground throbs and quivers with volcanic activity, and set in the midst of it all are native Maori villages of surpassing interest, a strange race of magnificent savages, who, although they have been cannibals within the memory of man, are now a highly intelligent race and actually send representatives to the parliament in Wellington.

The native women, gorgeous in garments of crimson, green and purple, are forever puffing stolidly at big pipes and going hither and thither about their household work with the quaintest of babies slung across their backs. This reminds me that domestic work in this strange region is made light indeed for white housewives as well as the Maori women. Every garden and back yard has its hot water provided by nature.

And when these easy going people grow hungry the mother prepares a meat pudding or a joint and drops it into a convenient pot of natural boiling water in the earth, and in a few minutes it is cooked. The same conveniences are still more in evidence on washing day. Stepping carefully through a tangle of boiling geysers and gurgling mud pots, one suddenly comes upon a great collection of native women and girls doing their washing in a vast smoking lake big enough to have steamers on it—W. T. Fitz-Gerald in St. Nicholas.

An Economical Cook.

A Chinaman will bake a dinner for a dozen with a mere handful of fuel. The boiler he uses is large and cone shaped, being sometimes two feet in diameter and one foot deep. It covers the fire with merely a small portion of the lower part of the case, but the heat and flames infold the rest. Water and rice are put at the bottom, with a frame over them, and on this are placed dishes of fish, fowl and vegetables to boil. The whole is covered with a wooden cover, in the center of which is a hole about four inches in diameter, and in this another dish is often placed, the contents of which are cooked by the steam.

RUNNING AN ENGINE.

Force of a Locomotive Going Sixty Miles an Hour.

At sixty miles an hour the resistance of a train is four times as great as it is at thirty miles—that is, the fuel must be four times as great in the one case as it is in the other. But at sixty miles an hour this fuel must be exerted for a given distance in half the time that it is at thirty miles, so that the amount of power exerted and steam generated in a given period of time must be eight times as great at the faster speed. This means that the capacity of the boiler, cylinders and the other parts must be greater with a corresponding addition to the weight of the machine. Obviously, therefore, if the weight per wheel, on account of the limit of weight that the rails will carry, is limited, we soon reach a point when the driving wheels and other parts cannot be further enlarged, and then we reach the maximum speed. The nice adjustment necessary of the various parts of these immense engines may be indicated by some figures as to the work performed by these parts when the locomotive is working at high speed. Take a passenger engine on any of the big railroads. At sixty miles an hour a driving wheel five and one-half feet in diameter revolves five times every second. Now, the reciprocating parts of each cylinder, including one piston, piston rod, cross head and connecting rod, weighing about 650 pounds, must move back and forth a distance equal to the stroke, usually two feet, every time the wheel revolves, or in a fifth of a second. It starts from a state of rest at the end of each stroke of the piston and must acquire a velocity of thirty-two feet per second in one-twentieth of a second and must be brought to a state of rest in the same period of time.

A piston eighteen inches in diameter has an area of 254 1/2 square inches. Steam of 150 pounds pressure per square inch would therefore exert a force on the piston equal to 38,175 pounds. This force is applied alternately on each side of the piston ten times in a second.—Chicago News.

Spring Cleaning, Spring Cleaning
The prevailing rage now, in domestic life, is Spring Cleaning. While you are at that, get out your spring dresses, suits, etc., and have them cleaned up-to-date and ready to wear. Also have your winter clothes cleaned and treated with my special chemical solution to prevent moth eating, and pack them away until winter. RIGHT NOW IS THE TIME.
Yours to please,
