GUPTON-WINSTEAD NUPTIALS.

Mr. William V. Gupton and Miss Iva Lucille Winstead United in the Presence of Many Friends.

A pretty early morning marriage was celebrated at Hotel Woodard at eight o'clock today when Mr. William Vance Gupton led to the Hymeneal altar Miss Iva Lucille, a popular daughter of Mrs. M. O. Winstead. The ceremony was performed in the ladies parlor of the hotel and was witnessed by a large number of relatives and admiring friends. Rev. Willard O. Bodell, formerly of Geneva, N. Y., pastor of a Universalist church embracing churches at Durham, Greenville and others in eastern Carolina, officiated, and the service was beautiful and impressive.

Mrs. Jacob Battle, Sr., presided at the piano and sweetly rendered the wedding march as the bridal party advanced to the altar, the bride, very charming indeed in a rich brown cloth traveling suit, with her brother, Mr. Hamner Winstead, and the bridegroom with Mr. Paul R. Capelle, who was best man. Miss Lizzie Winstead, a younger sister of the bride, was maid of honor. During the services soft music was rendered by the pianist, as an accompaniment to the impressive words of betrothal. The ceremony being over and after hearty congratulations and hasty good byes the bride and groom, accompanied by a number of friends were driven to the A. C. C. depot, where they boarded the train for Ocean View for a short bridal trip, after which they will return to this city to live.

The bride and groom are both deservedly popular and have a large number of friends in this city and elsewhere. Mr. Gupton is a young merchant of recognized worth in the community and enjoys the confidence of the public to a large degree, and the bride is liked by all who know her, for her many graces and genial disposition. Especially is she popular with the many travelers and others who have found her kindly consideration for their comfort one of the pleasant attractions at the hostelry of which her mother is proprietress. The popularity of the young couple was partly attested in the number of handsome and expensive presents received by them, which was indeed one of the largest lists received by any bridal couple in this city, comprising useful articles in cut glass, silver, china and gold.

Monday evening there was an informal gathering of friends at the home of the bride, at which the wedding cake was cut and the symbols drawn by lucky ones, as follows: The dinner by Mr. Hugh Williford; the thimble by Mr. Joe Ramsey, and the ring by Mr. Ed. Gordon.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mrs. W. M. King, of Greenville; Mrs. L. I. Moore, of New Bern; Mrs. W. I. Skinner, of Greenville; Mrs. S. C. Wells, of Wilson; Mrs. R. L. Stevens, of Wilson; Mrs. G. B. King, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. B. R. King, of Goldsboro; Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Carlton, of Salisbury; Mr. W. H. Williams, of Durham; Miss Rosa Wells, of Wilson; Rev. W. O. Bodell, of Geneva, N. Y.—Rocky Mount Record.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town, Briefly Told.

Ayden, N. C., July 24, 1908.

Mrs. Henrietta McLawhorn went to Kinston Tuesday evening.

J. R. Smith and daughter, May, took in the Sunday school excursion to Raleigh Wednesday.

The district meeting composed of the I. O. O. F. lodges of Pitt, Martin, Beaufort and Hyde counties, will meet in Ayden on August 6th. Rev. H. E. Tripp will make the address of welcome after which the brothers will proceed to attend to the business of the district.

At this writing we learn that Miss Nannie Smith, daughter of Mr. C. J. Smith, is thought to be dying. She has been confined to her room for 5 years with rheumatism and has gradually grown worse until the end seems near.

Misses Nannie and Ella Hearne, of Farmville, came Tuesday to visit the family of Joe McLawhorn, on Lee street.

Mr. John Turnage, who has been sick for two months at the home of his mother, on Lee street, died Wednesday evening, and was buried Thursday at Mr. Joyner Wingate's, his father-in-law. Mr. Turnage leaves a wife, five children, a mother, brother and two sisters, was 42 years old.

Miss May Smith is visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. C. Jackson, at Middlesex.

R. W. Smith has been on the sick list for several days.

Miss Cora Litchfield left Tuesday to visit friends in Kinston.

Our tobacco warehouse is now completed, sales will open Aug. 5th.

Mr. McPherson, of Raleigh, was here Wednesday prospecting with a view of investing in real estate.

Rev. H. E. Tripp has been called to Greenville twice this week to conduct funerals, (their preachers being away). What would Greenville do if it was not for Ayden anyhow?

Robert Washington, and wife spent several days last week visiting their old friend C. L. Tyson, near Rountree.

You will find a nice line of coffins and caskets on hand at J. R. Smith Co., & Dixons.

Arden Mill's wife died near here last week, was only sick a short time. She was 30 years old and the daughter of Richard Craft, deceased. She leaves a husband and 6 children.

W. L. Browning came home from a visit to Martin county Tuesday.

A man named Sauls, with a woman came here Tuesday and stopped with Mr. Broadway for the night, Wednesday evening a message came to our police from Dover saying a man named Sauls had run away from there taking a man's wife by the name of Avory, and if they were here to arrest Sauls and take him to Kinston on the next train. The police proceeded at once to the home of Broadway and made the arrest. The woman insisted on going with Sauls to the lock up where they spent the night saying they had been married 3 weeks, but Thursday morning when the police carried them breakfast they confessed they were guilty of the charges against them. They were taken to Kinston Thursday.

Now is a good time to invest in Ayden property before the advance comes which usually follows after a tobacco market is established.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings of Interest Over North Carolina.

News was received in the city last night of the death of Lonnie Rogers, near Knightdale, who was killed by having a tree fall on him. He was overseeing the cutting of pine timber when a large tree fell on him, killing him almost instantly. —Raleigh Times.

The State Democratic Executive Committee elected at the Charlotte convention met last night for the first time and elected as its Chairman Hon. A. H. Eller, of Winston Salem, who at once re-appointed Mr. A. J. Feild as secretary. —Raleigh News and Observer.

The trustees of the A. & M. College at Raleigh have elected Dr. D. H. Hill as president of the institution to succeed Dr. George T. Winston, resigned. Dr. Hill has long been a member of the faculty of the institution and is admirably fitted to preside over it. He is popular with the students and with the people of the State.

High Point, N. C., July 22 — Chas. B. Welborn, a son of Philip Welborn, of this place committed suicide at Caroleen Monday evening by shooting himself in the temple with a pistol. The deceased was about 28 years old, and had been employed as a clerk in a store at Caroleen sometime. Monday afternoon he left the store and went to his room where he was found later in the evening prostrated on the floor, with a bullet hole in his head, and the weapon grasped in his hand.

Too much cannot be said about the development of our inland waterways, North Carolina is rich in her chain of lakes and rivers near the sea shore, that with comparatively small outlay can be so deepened as to carry ocean commerce on the western side of old Hatteras. All our people ought to be deeply interested in this work, which means as much to our mountain counties as to those along the coast.

Hon. John H. Small, who has for years been in the fore-front of this mighty movement, is entitled to the lasting gratitude of every citizen of North Carolina. —Charity and Children.

There was quite a mad dog scare at the court house this morning, and for a few moments the wheels of justice in Squire Hilton's court were stopped while the litigants, witnesses, officers and court all combined were dog-hunting. A Shepherd dog came bounding down the street, barking at every step and snapping at every one. The dog ran into Mr. Hilton's office while a trial was in progress. The dog sprang upon the table and snaped at the court. Of course all proceedings were at a standstill for the moment. Before any one could strike the dog with a stick the animal ran out of the door and disappeared around the corner and could not be found. —Charlotte News.

Colored Excursion Goes Through. A colored excursion from Kinston to Raleigh over the Norfolk & Southern road, passed here Thursday at 11.40. There were six coaches all well filled. The route of the excursion was around by New Bern and Chocowinity. The train passed here on return trip at 11 o'clock at night.

KINSTON SHUT OUT.

The Score Was 5 to 0 in Favor of Greenville.

A little practice together counts when it comes to playing ball, and the Greenville team has been making such progress that the boys are in shape to put up a good game. They went to Kinston last week and came home defeated, but when the Kinston boys came over Thursday to return the visit and play a game here, the home boys paid them back in kind with good measure shaken down and running over. In a fast and snappy game of an hour and twenty minutes the visitors were given a complete shut out, not being able to send a man across home plate. It was a game worth seeing and there was some good playing on both sides.

The line up was as follows:

Greenville	Kinston
White	p Brown
Haskett	c Tull
Timberlake	1b Moseley
Lipscomb	2b Hines
Smith	3b Rhoads
Lanier	ss Rodgers
Bowling	rf LaRoque
Ragsdale	cf Allen, W. A.
Johnson	lf Allen, C.

Time 1 20, J. V. Harper umpire, attendance large.

Score by innings:

Greenville	3 0 0 0 0 0 2 x-5
Kinston	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 -0

Struck out by White 12, by Brown 6.

Base on balls, White 1, Brown 2, struck with ball by Brown 2.

Some of the features were the pitching of White and catching by Haskett, and a three-bagger hit by Lipscomb. Brown also made a star play when he made a double play in catching a red hot liner from the bat and delivering it in time to also put out a base runner.

The visit of the Kinston boy's was enjoyed and Greenville will be glad to see them over again.

Will go in Camp Monday.

The drum corps and the boys' brigade are busy with preparation for their going in camp next week. Thursday evening the drum corps was out for drill and made a good appearance. The boys will leave for Beaufort Monday afternoon and spend the remainder of the week there. They contemplate a big time.

Quite a Drubbing.

The Kinston "amateur" baseball team went over to Greenville today, to treat the Greenville fans to another drubbing. The "amateurs" have developed a splendid team of good ball players and are arranging a schedule of games with several neighboring towns. Kinston Free Press, 23rd.

You ought to have been along with them and seen the "drubbing" they got themselves in the shape of a big 0.

FRIDAY, JULY 24, 1908.

The next month will be an active one in county politics.

As only campaign contributions in excess of $100 are to be made public, there are many who need not fear being exposed.

We don't like so much of this "brain storm" business and expect that not a few folks take advantage of it to excuse their deviltry.

The fellow who wants to contribute to the campaign funds need not be afraid of very much embarrassment through publicity being made of his offering.

Once Hobson's praises were sung as the greatest hero of the world. Now he is the brunt of almost as much ridicule. Why such a change?

The article yesterday headed "Small and the Waterway" should have been credited to the Raleigh Times, but through an error was credited to another paper.

Notwithstanding the pressure being brought upon them the Frieses, of Winston, they say that neither of them will accept any nomination on the Republican ticket.

The Durham Herald wants to know how it would do to elect some man to the legislature and make him promise to keep his mouth shut. It would not be the worst thing that has happened.

A Tarboro citizen has offered to put in a good electrical plant and furnish lights at 25 percent less than the town is paying. He may be able to do that, but in the long run a well conducted municipally owned plant is best. We are not saying that Tarboro has that kind, but it is the kind that every town ought to have.

It is perhaps a fact that many congressmen find it impossible to live in Washington on five thousand a year who live at home and save money on half that amount. -Durham Herald.

That is easy enough to account for, as it does not cost them half as much to live at home as it does to live in Washington. The capital is said to be the most expensive city in the country to live in.

The United States circuit court of appeals has reversed the action of Judge Landis in fining the Standard Oil Company $29,240,000 in the famous suit against that company, some months ago, for violating the laws of Indiana. As the judge who wrote and read the decision had some spite against Judge Landis, he went out of his way to harshly criticize the latter.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hal's Family Pills for constipation.

AN OLD GORMANDIZER.

One Man Who Lived That He Might Simply Eat and Drink.
 In a little yellowed English magazine, dated April, 1894, I came across the following amusing scrap:
 If the Duke of Q. does not extend his life to a still longer period, it will not be for want of culinary comforts and those other succulent arts by which longevity is best promoted. His grace's sustenance is thus daily administered:

"At 7 in the morning he regales in a warm milk bath perfumed with almond powder, where he takes his coffee and a buttered muffin, and afterward retires to bed. He rises about 9 and breakfasts on cafe au lait, with new laid eggs just parboiled; at 11 he is presented with two warm jellies and rusques; at 1 he takes a veal cutlet a la Maintenon; at 3 jellies and eggs repeat; at 5 a cup of chocolate and rusques; at 7:30 he takes a hearty dinner from high seasoned dishes and makes suitable libations of claret and maderia; at 10 tea, coffee and muffins; at 12 sups off a roast poulet, with a plentiful solution of lime punch; at 1 in the morning he retires to bed in high spirits and sleeps till 3, when his man cook, to the moment, waits upon him in person with a hot and savory veal cutlet, which, with a potato of wine and water, prepares him for further repose that continues generally uninterrupted till the morning summons to his lacteal bath.

"In this routine of living comforts are the four and twenty hours invariably divided, so that if his grace does not know, with Sir Toby Belch, 'that our life is composed of four elements' he knows at least, with Sir Ague Cheek, 'that it consists in eating and drinking.'"—London Chronicle.

A Reason For Thanks.

The impecunious author's wife was trying on a new dress and endeavoring to observe the hang of it by means of a round mirror on top of a high chiffonier. Every woman will appreciate what that means.
 "Oh, dear," she exclaimed as she thought with some pathos, "I haven't seen the bottom of my skirt since I was married."
 Her husband looked up, brute that he was, and remarked:
 "Well, you can thank your lucky stars for that."—New York Press.

Had Left For Parts Unknown.

In a murder trial in Texas some years ago the counsel for the defense was examining a ventriloquist regarding his qualifications to serve. The candidate admitted that he had once been a member of a jury which tried a negro for murder. It is not permissible in such cases to ask the result of the trial, so the counsel said:
 "Where is that negro now?"
 "I don't know," was the reply. "The sheriff hanged him at the appointed time."

Triumphant.

"When you get in a crowd, my dear," said Mr. Winkles to his wife, "always look out for pickpockets."
 "I'm not afraid of them, dearest," answered Mrs. Winkles. "They can't pick my pocket."
 "That's just like you women," said Mr. Winkles, "always so sure. Pray tell me why you couldn't have your pockets picked."
 "Because I haven't got any," answered Mrs. Winkles proudly.

For Register of Deeds.

To the voters of Pitt county: I will be a candidate before the Democratic primaries on August 29th for the nomination for Register of Deeds, and will appreciate any support you see fit to give me.

Very Respectfully,
 J. C. Albritton.

Salt is a Necessity.

"Salt is" a most necessary article of food," says a well known scientist. "All races of mankind, either civilized or in a savage state, have the same regard for salt. In parts of central Africa the natives regard salt as a luxury and will willingly do much to obtain it. So much do they like the taste of salt that the ashes of the burnt veldt grass are used to season their meat. These ashes contain salt-peter, which imparts the coveted flavor to food. Animals, too, are fond of salt. In a wild state they will readily go to a spring the water of which has been salted. Sportsmen know this and use it as a bait."

The Cotton Plant.

So far as we know, the cotton plant originated in India, probably in Mandalay. The earliest writings of that country, dating back as far as 600 B. C., speak of the manufacture of cotton cloth. Herodotus speaks of "trees in India that bear a white fleece like wool." He had in mind the cotton plant. Cotton was cultivated by the Peruvians and Mexicans before the discovery of America, as the records clearly show.—New York American.

 "I suppose it's because he is the best off," growled the fussy old bachelor.—Kansas City Newsbook.

DOING THEIR DUTY.

Scores of Greenville Readers are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty. When they fail to do this the kidneys are sick. Backache and many kidney ills follow.

Urinary trouble, diabetes, Doan's Kidney Pills cure them all. J. Frank Powell, living in West Bayboro, N. C., says: "I suffered a severe attack of LaGrippe which left my kidneys in a disordered condition. Standing on my feet so much during the day greatly aggravated the pains in my back, and frequently I was forced to sit down to relieve my trouble. A dull aching across the small of my back kept me in almost constant misery and whenever I attempted to stoop or lift anything sharp shooting pains would dart through my loins. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills and they gave me relief in a short time. I have not suffered from backache since, and my kidneys have been regular in action. I am pleased to recommend this excellent remedy to other sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

How Many Bricks Have You Sent Away?

That sounds like a funny question, addressed to every citizen of this town and community, but it's really a serious one.

Listen: There is now just completed a magnificent building of red brick exterior and concrete interior right in the business heart of one of the biggest of American cities. It occupies a whole block and calls itself in a large lettered sign "The Largest Monolithic Building In the World." It has many floors, with about a hundred acres of floor space. The entrances are of solid marble. The floors are beautifully tiled.

Altogether it is a credit to the big city in which it stands. Oh, it's a Jim Dandy!

Now, how many bricks have you sent to the city to go into this big building? Honest, how many?

Of the hundreds of thousands of bricks put into the walls of this building the city where it stands has contributed not a single red brick. Country people, the people of small towns and cities far away from the big metropolis, have sent in the bricks for the construction of this splendid edifice.

You may have sent in a few hods of bricks yourself without knowing it.

Listen: This magnificent structure, which ornaments a city you probably never will see yourself, is built of bricks bought with the dollars of people living in towns just like ours—towns that would like to have some new brick buildings themselves now and then. Every dollar contributed to the city building fund means a nice, hefty hod of bricks for this big, beautiful skyscraper, "largest in the world" of its kind. This building was put up, through the kind donations of their unknown country cousins, by a firm that ran a small store in that city a few years ago.

But this firm conceived the cute idea of having thousands of strangers contribute bricks to build its fine, large, new store.

And the building is a Mail Order Store. See?

AN INSOLENT DOCTOR.

Instances of the Rudeness of the Famous Abernethy.

The Duke of Wellington, having insisted on seeing Dr. Abernethy out of his usual hours and abruptly entering his room, was asked by the doctor how he got in. "By that door," was the reply. "Then," said Abernethy, "I recommend you to make your exit by the same way." He refused to attend George IV. until he had delivered his lecture at the hospital, in consequence of which he lost a naval appointment. To a lady who complained that on holding her arm over her head she felt pain he said, "Then what a fool you must be to hold it up!" He was fond of calling people fools. A countess consulted him, and he offered her some pills, when she said she could never take a pill. "Not take a pill! What a fool you must be!" was the courteous reply.

A farmer of immense bulk came from a distance to consult him, and, having given an account of his daily meals, which showed an immense amount of animal food, Abernethy said: "Go away, sir! I won't attempt to prescribe for such a hog!" A loquacious lady he silenced by telling her to put out her tongue. She having done so, "Now keep it there till I have done talking," said Abernethy. A lady having brought her daughter, he refused to prescribe for her, but told the mother to let the girl take exercise. Having received his guinea, he gave the shilling to the mother and said, "Buy the girl a skipping rope as you go along."

When the Duke of York consulted him he stood whistling, with his hands in his pockets, and the duke said, "I suppose you know who I am?" "Suppose I do," was the uncourtly reply. "What of that?" To a gentleman who consulted him for an ulcerated throat and wanted him to look at it he said, "How dare you suppose that I would allow you to blow your stinking, foul breath in my face?" But sometimes he met a Tartar.

A gentleman who could not succeed in getting the doctor to listen to his case suddenly locked the door, put the key in his pocket and took out a loaded pistol. Abernethy, alarmed, asked if he meant to murder him. No. He only wanted him to listen to his case and meant to keep him a prisoner till he did. The patient and surgeon afterward became great friends.

Beware of the Talk Wire Girl.

"You know that red headed cashier that had the nerve to complain of me to the boss the other day," said the girl at the telephone desk. "Well, I got even with him, all right. He isn't married, but he's got a best girl. Her father owns a shoe factory over in Jersey and rich—my! Well, she called him up the other afternoon at her usual time. 'Is Mr. Smith there?' she asks in her most romanticist voice. 'Yes,' I answers, just as honeylike as she. 'It's his wife wants him, isn't it?' With that Miss Girl hung up with such a jerk my ear hurt. Smith goes around wondering why she does not call him up. Every time he dares he says to me, 'Has any one called me on the phone, Miss Limit?' And I look as innocent as a kid and shake my head. 'No,' I tell you, us telephone girls can turn 'joy to the bride' into 'nothin' doin'' any time we please. Me for us."—New York Times.

The Meaning of "Muff."

The record of the fact that muffs were once worn by more men than women in Paris suggests the old ingenious definition of a muff as "a soft thing that holds a lady's hand without squeezing it." "Muff" appears to have come to us from German, in which language, curiously, "muff" means not only a hand warmer, but also a sulky person or a growling dog. These seem, however, to be two different words. Was our own metaphorical "muff" an allusion to the effeminacy of muff wearers or simply an intimation that the person was distinctly "soft"?—London Chronicle.

True to the Adage.

"My son, my son!" exclaimed the dismayed mother as she saw all her boy's belongings stacked in a corner of the closet. "Haven't I tried over and over to teach you that you should have a place for everything?" "Yep," said the son cheerfully, "and this is the place."—Chicago News.

Popping the Question.

"Hello!" said the corn. "Was that you whispering?" "Yes," replied the wind. "I've been trying to catch your ear for some time."—Bohemian Magazine.

THE SAILFISH.

It Takes Great Skill to Land Him With Reel and Rod.

The small number of sailfish annually taken in Atlantic waters is partially explained by the uncertainties and difficulties to be encountered in locating their presence as well as the great skill, experience and endurance required in handling them with rod and reel.

Although infrequently seen near the Florida keys, they seldom leave the vicinity of the warm gulf stream, whose waters approach within five miles of Palm Beach.

One usually finds them on warm, sunny days, swimming with their great dorsal fins slightly out of water, and immediately a school is discovered all power must be used to forge ahead of them, cross their path a hundred yards in advance, then stop and allow the boat to drift slowly, when a lively fresh bait should be cast.

While they often strike at cut bait or a spoon in trolling, they are seldom well hooked, owing to the peculiar character of their jaws. As a rule they bite very quietly and must be given thirty to forty feet of line before striking, as their mouths are small, hard and bony, not unlike the tarpon in their internal structure, and can rarely be captured unless the bait is well swallowed.

When hooked they create a terrific commotion, first endeavoring to peel the most powerful reels in their rushes, then making perpendicular leaps in rapid succession, clearing the waves by many feet, trying desperately to shake out the hook and finally making long side dashes just under the water, somewhat like a kingfish.

These movements are occasionally interrupted by low, rapid flights just above the water, when their immense sail seems to play its part in aerial navigation.—Forest and Stream.

A TENDERFOOT'S REVENGE.

Bully of New Mexico Town Had the Tables Turned on Him.

The average tenderfoot is not a coward. He simply lacks ranch experience. An illustration of this fact occurred down in New Mexico several years ago. One day a pale looking, thin and sickly young man alighted from the train and put up at the little adobe hotel at Bernal Springs. The tenderfoot walked up to the bar and called for a bottle of soda pop. "Tain't allowed to drink that sort o' stuff out here," said a toughy. "What you want is a stiff drink o' red liquor. Mr. Barkeeper, set out the pison for this young feller." "You have the best of me," replied the tenderfoot, "and I'll have to drink the stuff, but I hope the time may come when I can make you drink my choice of liquid."

The tenderfoot raised the glass and gulped down the whisky. Sandy had had his way about it, and he made no effort to comprehend the vague remark of the stranger. The tenderfoot left for a ranch down the Pecos the next day after the incident in the saloon, and he was forgotten until one afternoon more than a year afterward a strong, healthy looking young man rode up to the hotel on a broncho, dropped the bridle reins upon the ground and dismounted. He had the appearance of a typical young man of the range. His face was bronzed and his eyes clear and penetrating. "I owe a fellow a debt which I believe I will pay right now," the stranger said.

No sooner had he made the remark than he walked off in the direction of Sandy, who had his gun in his right hand and was firing it into the air every few steps. The stranger approached Sandy, pulled his gun and unceremoniously dragged the bully up to the saloon and led him in that fashion up to the bar. "Get me a pan of water and set it upon the floor," he said to the barkeeper.

The order was complied with, Sandy standing there meekly, wondering what was going to happen to him. "Now, get down on the floor and drink water out of that pan like a dog," the former tenderfoot ordered. Sandy at first refused, but when the stranger began twirling his gun around on his forefinger and said the order must be obeyed the cowed fellow unlimbered and lay down upon the floor and began drinking water out of the pan.—Denver Field and Farm.
