EACH SUNDAY IN AUGUST.

Note Carefully the Difference in Schedule on Alternating Sundays.

The excursion to Morehead City over the Norfolk & Southern road last Sunday was not so largely patronized as the previous ones, though it gave about three hours longer at the seaside. The small lumber to take advantage of it was doubtless due to the heavy storm that had preceded, making many fear that the track might be unsafe. We saw several people from the country who came in too late, thinking the train would leave at the same hour as on former excursions, notwithstanding it had been advertised to pass Greenville at 7.20 a. m.

Agent Hassell tells us the Norfolk & Southern will operate an excursion on every Sunday during the remainder of August, starting from Raleigh on one Sunday, and from Wilson on the alternating Sunday. For instance on the 9th and 23rd the train will start from Raleigh at 6 a. m., passing Greenville at 9.17 a. m., and returning will leave Beaufort at 5 p. m. On the alternating Sundays—16th and 30th—the train will start from Wilson at 6 a. m., passing Greenville at 7.20 a. m., returning leave Beaufort at 6 p. m. giving three hours longer at the seaside on these two Sundays.

Now if our readers will make a careful note of these dates and schedules that is on the 9th and 23rd the trains will pass Greenville at 9.17 a. m., and on the 16th and 30th at 7.20 a. m.—no one need make a mistake and miss the train.

On next Sunday, 9th, the State guard will be in camp near Morehead, and the excursion train will pass Greenville that day at 9.17 a. m.

For County Commissioner.

We, the undersigned, the present incumbents of the office of the board of commissioners of Pitt county, hereby announce ourselves as candidates for re-nomination for said office.

Our board has now in progress certain permanent public improvements of great importance to the county and to the people, and our interest in the economic and speedy completion of these public improvements has induced us, as a body, to stand for re-nomination for the second term.

This the 4th day of Aug. 1908.

ARRESTED FOR COUNTERFEITING

Taken Off Excursion Train and Held in New Bern Jail.

Every Sunday this season on which excursions have been run over the Norfolk & Southern road from this section to Morehead City, some counterfeit dollars have been worked off on the conductor in charge of the train in payment of fares. The conductor noticed that each time the counterfeit money was worked on him at flag stations between Greenville and Chocowinity.

On last Sunday Mr. W. C. Hines, who has done a good bit of detective work, was asked to go along with the excursion and help to watch all who got on the trains at flag stations.

Several parties got on the train at Simpson and when the conductor took up their fare he got a bad dollar. Mr. Hines was watching close by and spotted the man who passed the bad money and kept him under surveillance.

From Chocowinity a telephone message was sent to the U. S. commissioner at New Bern asking him to meet the train there, which he did and the facts were given him. The commissioner said he would have a warrant ready at the depot when the train returned in the evening, and asked Mr. Hines to shadow the man all day.

When the train reached New Bern on the return trip on officer was there ready to serve the warrant on the man whose name was Dixon. He was taken from the train and committed to jail in New Bern to await preliminary hearing.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

To be Held in Greenville Friday August 14th.

The annual farmers institute for Pitt county will be held at Greenville, Friday August 14th, 1908. There will be two or three speakers present, furnished by the State department of agriculture and probably one from the United States department of agriculture in addition to local speakers.

These institutes are for a free and informal discussion of every day farm problems and no farmer can attend and take part in these discussions without receiving more than enough benefit to pay for the time spent.

Under the present management of the farmers institutes no attempt is made to lay down hard and fast rules for farming and no lecturer at these institutes is expected to discuss or recommend any practice which he himself has not done successfully or that dozens of farmers in this part of the State are not also doing successfully at this time.

The institute lecturers this year will be selected from among the State's most successful farmers; the workers in our State department of agriculture; the United States department of agriculture and the faculty of the North Carolina college of agriculture.

Do not forget the date of this meeting and see that your neighbors know of it and attend.

The Gypsy Festival.

The Gypsy festival is to be given tonight on the lawn of Mrs. J. S. Tunstall from 7 to 11 p. m., by the ladies of the Christian church. The public will be gladly welcomed and a pleasant evening is in store for you.

RESOLUTIONS OF SYMPATHY.

Adopted by Memorial Baptist Sunday School.

Whereas, it has pleased our Heavenly Father in His infinite wisdom and love to remove from earth little Jennie James White to her home in heaven.

Whereas the cradle roll of Memorial Baptist Sunday School has lost one of its brightest and most promising members, therefore be it resolved.

That we bow in humble submission to His will, and extend our heartfelt sympathy to the parents, little sister and brother, and commend them to the tender mercies of Him who alone can give comfort in these sad hours.

Mrs. E. B. Higgs,
Mrs. J. G. Woodward,
Miss Nannie Wilson.

Last Week's Storm.

The storm of last week was an unusually severe one and great damage has resulted from it. Not only did the railroads suffer by washouts and damaged bridges that interrupted traffic and cost much to repair, but the farmers also suffered much loss through damage to their crops. The last day or two we have heard a number of farmers speak of the storm and the damage it caused to crops and roads.

William Russ Hurt.

Master William Russ, the son of Clerk of Court Russ, while playing at the home of Mr. R. C. Strony yesterday evening fell from a tree and received a painful gash on his head. At first it was thought that the wound was serious, but last night the boy was resting well and it is thought that nothing serious will result.—Raleigh news and Observer.

Contentnea Presents Joseph McLawhorn for Sheriff.

Editor Reflector:

Contentnea township presents to the voters of Pitt county the name of Joseph McLawhorn as a candidate for the office of sheriff.

We ask every voter of Pitt to consider the claims of Contentnea and of Mr. McLawhorn for this important office. If that is done Mr. McLawhorn, we believe, will be our next sheriff.

Now, as to why Contentnea is entitled to this office, we wish to say that Contentnea is next to the largest Democratic township in the county. It has always been Democratic—never wandered off after strange and new gods, but has held fast to the faith. It has never received an important county office. Its people have been content to let others enjoy and have the honors and emoluments and we now think, after all these years of loyalty, of work and achievement, it is entitled to this office.

There are several reasons why we favor and endorse Mr. McLawhorn:

1st. Because he is a Contentnea man and Contentnea wants him to have it.

2. He is a man of the people—a working man from the ranks of the people, that great mass of voters who make up the rank and file of the party and is so seldom recognized or rewarded, who by his own exertion, conduct and deportment stands out pre-eminently a proper candidate and representative of the working people of the county.

3. He has always been an active worker in the ranks of Democracy and to him and his relatives is due as much as any other factor the fact that Contentnea is always right and can be relied upon.

4. He has filled every office and trust to which he has been called faithfully, efficiently and well. The people of the county know how well he fills the office of superintendent of the road force. He made a good constable and in all positions he has measured up to the full requirements of a man and officer.

We trust and hope that the people of the county will give these reasons full consideration and at the approaching primary cast their votes for McLawhorn for sheriff.

ANOTHER PAYING ENTERPRISE.

Earns 55 Per Cent. in Less Than a Year.

A few days ago there was a meeting of the directors of the Greenville Lumber and Veneer Co., at which a cash dividend of 55 percent was declared and paid to stockholders. This dividend has been earned since November of last year, and there is yet on hand enough of this season's finished product to pay a further 15 percent dividend when it is sold. The company makes barrels, baskets and crates in which to ship truck, and boxes in which to ship goods turned out by cotton mills, and also sells lumber. Mr. W. M. Pugh has been manager of the plant for nearly three years, during which time the total dividends have reached 85 percent. It shows the efficiency of his management.

The Eagle Back Home.

Capt. Ola Forbes, who for several weeks has had his launch, Eagle, at Morehead City and Beaufort, brought his handsome craft back home Monday. The start was made from Morehead a little after 3 o'clock a. m. and Greenville was reached at 11 p. m., about three hours having been consumed in stops at Atlantic and Washington. Capt. J. S. Barr, L. D. Wade, E. H. Taft, J. M. Taft, J. A. Ricks and Ben Taylor came back with Capt. Forbes and greatly enjoyed the trip by water.

To the Democratic Voters of Pitt County.

The citizens of Swift creek township have asked nothing in the contest now before the people for county officers, and ask for very little now; but suggest the name of Mr. Jesse P. Quinerly for one of the board of county commissioners. He is well known, both as a gentleman of the highest order, and a thorough business man. His name will be placed before you for suffrages, on the 29th of August 1908.

All together the speeches of acceptance would make a big book.

Some women may want to vote, but most of them possess no such desire.

If Taft should be elected it would only be another term of Roosevelt under a new name.

We hope it will be a long time before the coming of another storm like the last one.

John Robinson's circus is again making some dates in this State after an absence of several years.

The candidates are coming up and registering for the primary. Monday was a good day for them.

As there is no censor to whom Mr. Bryan must refer his speech of acceptance for blue penciling, he can make it as long as he pleases.

The opening of the tobacco market ought to make business better, and The Reflector hopes to feel the effects of it by swapping some subscription receipts for cash.

The woman does not stand to take the heating every time. One in Pennsylvania drew a gun and fatally shot her husband while he was inflicting severe punishment upon her. Even if it was needed we can't say that we would have any sympathy for him.

The Southern railway has been remarkably free from wrecks for several months, and there were hopes that the hoodoo that seemed to hang over the operation of trains on this road had been removed. But one occurred near Bessemer City Sunday night that was quite serious though not attended by loss of life and without injury to a single passenger. The accident was to the north bound fast mail composed entirely of Pullman cars. The tender and one mail car left the track and rolled down a 25-foot embankment. Five mail clerks in the car were badly injured.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. WALTZ OF THE OSTRICH.

The Big Bird Shows Its Good Spirits by Strenuous Dancing.

The so called waltzing performance of the ostrich is familiar to all in South Africa, but few outsiders have ever heard of it. It consists of a rapid whirling movement, sometimes one way, sometimes another, the wings spread out and alternately elevated and depressed. It is a fascinating sight when indulged in by a large flock. First one bird will dart forward and begin the circular movements. Another will follow and then others until the entire flock is careening around in the mad whirl. Some will continue until they drop exhausted or, apparently becoming giddy, stumble and fall.

The dance is seen in all its glory only when a considerable number of birds are together. It often takes place among only a few, but is never so intense or prolonged as when the flock is large.

Chicks only a month or two old engage in the amusement, though they are rather clumsy and sometimes stumble, particularly when they are reversing. As they grow older they perform several complete turns with great facility, though even adult birds sometimes stumble and break their legs in falling.

This gay behavior is no doubt instinctive, and, as with other instincts, it is perfected by experience. Ostrich chicks begin the whirl even when reared away from other ostriches and without having seen the performance. The South Africans have the following theory of the significance of this playful activity:

The wild ostrich can protect itself against lions and leopards in no other way than by flight. When chased by a beast of prey the ostrich, starting to run, twists and turns in a curious fashion and jerks so quickly from side to side that no beast would be likely to have time to set himself for a spring in one direction before the bird had changed its course.

Ostriches thus pursued have been seen to stop at full speed, turn as if pivoted and flee again in almost the opposite direction. Probably no other animal can do this.

The South Africans believe that the instinctive waltzing movement of the ostrich is useful in perfecting the bird in the art of suddenly twisting and turning, which is most likely to assist it to elude its natural enemies, the larger carnivora. —New York Sun.

A Story of Dr. Mitchell.

The following anecdote is told of Dr. Weir Mitchell: While on one of his foreign trips he decided to consult a very eminent German specialist regarding a nervous disease of his own of long standing. The two men had never met before, so he sent up his card as "Mr. Mitchell of Philadelphia" and was received by the German under this title. The physician examined him very carefully and then said, "My dear sir, do you say you come from Philadelphia?"

The doctor was forced to admit the iniquity. "Well," said the physician, "have you consulted Dr. S. Weir Mitchell of that city?"

The doctor said that he had. "And he couldn't help you?" "No," was the answer. "Then," said the doctor, removing his spectacles with an air of finality, "I'm afraid I can't do anything for you."

Warned by His Whiskers.

Of what use are a cat's whiskers? Are they merely to give puss a handsome, martial appearance, or have they a distinct use? The latter is the case. They are organs of touch, each one being connected with the nerves of the lip, says Answers. The slightest contact of these whiskers with any object is therefore felt by the animal, although the hairs themselves are insensible. When a lion is stealing through the jungle his whiskers warn him of any obstacle which may retard his progress or of any bush which might rustle if he touched it in passing. So his whiskers, in conjunction with his padded feet, enable him to move through the thickest growth with a deadly silence.

He Could Bear No More.

Two old school chums met after the separation of many years in the house of the prosperous one, and something like the following dialogue ensued: "How is the wife?" asked the host. "Don't ask me. She died two years ago." "I'm sorry. And your girl?" "Oh, didn't you hear? She's got divorced, and it's been a lot of trouble to me." "Terrible! But how is your son getting on?" "Don't mention him. He ran away last year, in debt." The host rose, touched the bell and said to the butler: "Tomkins, throw this man out. He is breaking my heart." —Pall Mall-Gazette.

Ralston's are Different.

From Any Other Shoes We Know

You'll say the same if you will drop in and look over our Spring Styles—they're beauties.

You may not be able to tell by looking at them that they're different from shoes costing one or two dollars a pair more. But try on a pair and you'll FEEL the difference.

Owing the fact that they are foot moulded while being made Ralston shoes need no "breaking in."

This is a FACT, not merely a claim.

DOCTORS' DILEMMAS.

The Question of Revealing the Employee's Condition.

Many dilemmas arise from the doctor's duty of keeping his patients' secrets. There was recently the much discussed case of a doctor who discovered that a signalman on a railway was in such an unsound condition that he might have been the cause of an accident. What was the doctor's duty? Was it right for him to keep the patient's secret, or should he have disclosed the fact to the directors of the company? It seemed quite clear that the signalman could have brought an action for damages against the doctor, but it is very doubtful if any jury would have let the doctor suffer in the circumstances.

Lay, legal and medical opinion differed greatly in the matter. Of course it was the doctor's duty to use all his influence to get the man voluntarily to permit him to report the case. It was urged by some that if doctors consistently disclosed the condition in such cases it would merely mean that they would not be consulted. The ailment would be concealed, and the doctor would lose the chance of treating the case properly and using the moral influence to get the patient to disclose his condition. The moral of the whole case was that employees in important positions should be frequently examined by a doctor representing the company.

The less serious problem arises—ought a doctor to disclose the condition of an employee to an employer where there is no public danger involved? An employee, for instance, may be ill or incapacitated through drink. Here the doctor must be guided entirely by the patient's consent and should, even at the risk of offending the employer, keep his patient's secret. In England the law is indefinite on the point, and the unfortunate medical man may be held guilty of contempt of court if he refuses to answer questions in the witness box, or if he does so he may have an action for damages brought against him by the patient.

In 1896 the Royal College of Physicians took the opinion of eminent counsel—Sir Edward Clarke and Mr. Horace Ivory—on the question of professional secrecy, and their view was that a doctor should not reveal facts which had come to his knowledge in the course of his professional duties even where there was suspicion of a criminal offense having been committed. Mr. Justice Hawkins (afterward Lord Brampton), however, held that in very serious cases, involving the screening of criminals, it was the duty of medical men to speak out.—London Mail.

Home of the Orange.

Careful research has shown that India was the country from which the orange spread to western Asia and eventually to Europe and the Americas. Oranges are at present found wild in many parts of northern India. Cultivated from a remote period in Hindustan, they were carried to southwestern Asia by the Arabs probably before the close of the ninth century. They spread ultimately through the agency of the same race to Africa, Spain and possibly Sicily, following the tide of Mohammedan conquest.
