ROMANTIC MARRIAGE.

Young Couple Go Driving and Return Man and Wife.

Our Winterville correspondent tells of a runaway marriage taking place in that town Tuesday in which Greenville is interested as the couple went from this town.

Miss Helen Jenkins, an attractive young lady of Gastonia, came to Greenville about two weeks ago, to visit a school-mate, as she had done on one or two former occasions. While she was well known here, among her new acquaintances on this trip was Mr. J. V. Harper, formerly of Kinston, who is proprietor of the "Palm Garden," a popular cold drink resort here.

It must have been a case of love at first sight, as they were married on an acquaintance of less than two weeks. The marriage was a complete surprise. Mr. Harper called for the young lady about 9 o'clock Tuesday morning ostensibly to go driving, and what followed is told in the correspondence above referred to.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper drove back to Greenville after the marriage, and left here on the evening train for Kinston to spend a few days with his people there.

A Card.

Someone has been persistently circulating a report to the effect that I am a candidate for sheriff in the interest of the present incumbent, Sheriff L. W. Tucker, under whom I have acted as a deputy for four years. I wish to just emphatically deny this report, and to say to the public that there is not one atom of truth in it; and to say that I am a candidate in my own interest, and not in the interest of any other person. I have no criticism to make of the conduct of the office under the administration of Sheriff Tucker, except to say that the same has been clean and capable so far as it was in the power of both himself and myself to make it, but I believe in rotation in office, and in the time-honored custom of electing a sheriff of this county for only two terms, to-wit: four years; and as Sheriff Tucker has enjoyed and held this office for four years, I feel as a life long Democrat that I have the right to aspire to this position, subject always, of course, to the action of the Democratic primary.

I desire to thank my friends for their many offers of support for this office, and will appreciate the support of any and all my friends and fellow Democrats of the county. If nominated and elected to this office, I promise the public a clean administration of the same, and as capable and efficient discharge of the duties of the office as I may be capable of.

WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From Our Hustling Neighbor.

Winterville N. C., Aug. 5, 1908. Rev. J. H. Griffith, of Kinston, and Rev. Mr. Huske, of Greenville, will hold services in the Episcopal church August 13th at 8 p. m. Mr. Griffith will preach. All are cordially invited to attend.

Profs. Nye and Lineberry are away looking up students. One day this week about ten or twelve roomers were engaged. One man in Craven county, writing to engage a room for his daughter, said, "The crops are almost ruined buy the storm, but I am determined to do my part and educate my children anyway." No man can do better. If we do our part all will be well.

Mr. Swain, of Vanceboro, was here yesterday to rent a house to move his family. He has accepted work with the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. He says he wants to get good work where he can put his children in a good school. Many children would be better off if their parents were as wise.

After several weeks visit in the central part of the State Miss Mollie Bryan has returned home. She reports a very pleasant sojourn up there. She is delighted with the fine water, beautiful country, and hospitable people, but driving over those hills and rocks are most too much. When it comes to driving there is nothing better than the level roads of the east if you have a Hursucker buggy and a good horse.

Lots of inquiries are coming in about school desks which the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. makes.

One county superintendent says he wants to seat all his schools with them, which means several car loads. The unusual strength and comfort of these as well as the low price commend them wherever tried.

Rev. T. H. King is at Spring Garden in Craven County aiding his father in a series of meetings this week. He will be away for several weeks engaged in revival work, only getting into fill his regular appointments.

We were glad to see W. L. Wooten, of Simpson, in our town Monday. He is one of the leading farmers of the county. He was looking for the best place in the State to send his daughters to school and when he had carefully examined the buildings here and learned of the work of the school and the careful attention given its students he seemed satisfied. He has found the right place as hundreds of patrons can testify.

Yesterday was a romantic day for our quiet little town. About eleven o'clock a rather loving looking couple drove up. It was soon learned that these "cooing doves" were none other than Mr. Jack Harper, the Palm Gardener, of Greenville, and Miss Helen Jenkins, the daughter of a prominent farmer near Gastonia, who while visiting in Greenville had met the swain of her choice. The noon train brought in Rev. Mr. Huske and other friends from Greenville. All repaired to the home of Mr. M. G. Bryan, our popular postmaster, where the proper vows were taken and two fortunes were linked in one. Mr. Bryan served a bountiful dinner to the happy party and all went on their way rejoicing "merry as a marriage bell."

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Ange and baby left Monday for Jamesville

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL BRIEFS.

The Visitors Here and People Who Travel.

Virgil Lee, of Norfolk, was here today.

Miss Mary Moye, of Farmville, is visiting Mrs. J. L. Carper.

Richard Russ, of Raleigh, came in this morning to visit relatives.

Miss Mary James left this morning to visit friends in Wilson.

William Whitmore, of Scotland Neck, is visiting his niece, Mrs. E. B. Higgs.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Willingham returned this morning from Farmville.

Miss Nannie Bowling left this morning for a visit to Buffalo Springs, Oxford and Durham.

Miss Bessie Harding returned Tuesday evening from a visit of several weeks to her brothers in Charlotte.

Mrs. Darden and Mrs. Anderson, of Wilson, who were visiting Mrs. Alice Harper, left Tuesday evening.

Miss Mary Crumpler, of Washington, who had been visiting Mrs. D. W. Arnold, returned home this morning.

Mrs. D. C. Moore and son, David, Misses Mollie Manning and Lennie Fleming have gone to Wilson for a visit.

Miss Annie Bet Harriss, of Washington City, spent Tuesday night here with Mrs. H. L. Carr and left today for Farmville.

Miss Mattie Cleming, of Kinston, who came over Monday to visit Miss Ruth Cobb, was taken sick and returned home Tuesday evening, much to the regret of her many friends here.

An Announcement.

I hereby announce to the Democratic voters of Pitt county that I desire the nomination of the party for State Senator from the county of Pitt, and that my name will be before the Democratic voters at the Democratic primaries, to be held on the 29th day of August, 1908.

The people of the county are familiar with my services to the party to which I have been attached from my birth. I have labored for its success in the days of prosperity and in its hours of adversity. I will very greatly appreciate any support that I may receive in every section of the county, and if it shall please the party to make me its candidate for senator I shall be very grateful and do what I can to roll up a big majority in the county. If elected senator I shall labor to represent the county in the upper branch of the legislature in a manner that shall reflect credit upon myself and honor upon the county that favored me with its confidence.

The result of the primaries will in no wise effect my allegiance to the party or earnest support of its nominees.

Alex. L. Blow.

to visit Mr. Ange's father.

Mrs. Taft left Monday to visit her daughter in Virginia.

The tobacco markets are open and the farmers are hauling in the bright weed, so they have made a rush on the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co., for their wagons. Quite a large number have been rolled out this week and still the orders are pouring in. Mr. Cox is justly proud of the reputation of these wagons and well he may be, for his customers say there are none better.

DUDLEY, LANIER AND WILSON.

Farmville Man Favors These Three Candidates.

Farmville, N. C., Aug. 4, 1908.

Editor Reflector:
Not that I wish to meddle with things that I'm not concerned with, but judging from what I have seen and heard I feel it behooves every voter in this grand old county of ours to see that they use every Democratic effort within their power to look before they leap and reason with their better wits in the selection of county officials in the near or coming primaries.

Not that our offices have not been properly and efficiently filled by our present occupants, but remembering that "there are others" who are just as competent, just as worthy and just as needy of the support of office as those who are now, and have been for some time enjoying them in our county.

I have heard many of our citizens remark that one term was enough for any officer but how about two or three? Whenever that is the case what becomes of the essence of the old favorite proverb of Jefferson of "Equal rights to all and special privileges to none." We are not an ignorant people and we well know that our county will and does handsomely pay our officers, and why should we continue to bestow upon one of our friends more luxuries or flowers than another? And among the many aspirants for office I see three men's names that are well known in every section of our county, and they are not only known in every section but almost in every household, and are known as strictly honest and business like gentlemen in every respect, and have never failed to uphold the old Democratic flag whenever opportunity presents itself. Therefore, as a voter, I shall use my efforts with my friends to help to nominate them. I would be glad to see unanimously nominated for sheriff, Sam Dudley; for register of deeds, J. C. Lanier, for treasurer, W. B. Wilson.

Republican County Convention.

Pursuant to the action of the Republican county executive committee, at a meeting held in Greenville, North Carolina Aug. 4th, 1908, the Republicans of Pitt county are hereby notified that the county convention was called to meet at the court house in Greenville on Saturday, August 22nd, 1908, at noon, for the purpose of electing delegates and alternates to the State and judicial conventions and the election of a county chairman.

The chairman of the several precincts will call their primaries to meet on Saturday, August 15th, 1908, at 3 o'clock p. m., to elect delegates to the county convention and at which precinct meeting an executive committee consisting of three members will be elected.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town, Briefly Told.

Ayden, N. C., Aug. 4, 1908.

Dr. J. C. Caldwell, of Wilson, arrived Saturday night and began a meeting in the Christian church. He is in fine spirit and doing some good preaching.

J. J. Smith and family have returned from Morehead. He tells us he was seized with congestion of the lungs and came near being drowned while in bathing.

Mrs. W. T. Hart returned Monday from Snow Hill.

The Ayden Lumber Co. has overhauled their plant, and installed a mill for sawing gum, ash oak and poplar. They have two boilers 250 h. p. each, with an engine 275 h. p.

Mr. Roberta McKinney, of Belhaven, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Worthington.

Levy Pierce, Stephen Nobles, W. E. Hooks, and J. J. Stokes returned Saturday night from an extended trip north, Baltimore and Washington city. They called at the White House, but had failed to herald their coming and "His Majesty" was at Oyster Bay.

Miss Velma Harrington, who has been visiting Misses Cora Lee, and Anna Garris, returned to her home in Kinston Monday.

All eyes are turned toward to the tobacco break Wednesday, Aug. 5th.

We learn that "Bud Joe" has improved so much at Seven Springs he will soon return to his snout pushing his quill.

Mr. and Mrs. Settle, of Grifton, spent Sunday in town attending the meeting at the Christian church.

How would Centre Brick warehouse in Ayden sound? Watch the progress our town and people are making.

Last week witnessed the heaviest rainfall in years, all the streams overflowed their banks. "Hen coop" dam washed away.

Miss Nana Whitehead, who had been spending some time here, returned to her home in Enfield Monday.

Miss Esther Blount has returned from her visit to F. T. Carr's, in Greene county.

Miss Laura Carr, of Willow Green, returned Monday.

Dr. J. C. Caldwell made a business trip to Robersonville Monday and returned on the evening train.

Our tobacco buyers are on hand in their best spirits and we expect big things Wednesday.

For County Commissioner.

We, the undersigned, the present incumbents of the office of the board of commissioners of Pitt county, hereby announce ourselves as candidates for re-nomination for said office.

Our board has now in progress certain permanent public improvements of great importance to the county and to the people, and our interest in the economic and speedy completion of these public improvements has induced us, as a body, to stand for re-nomination for the second term. This the 4th day of Aug. 1908.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. Two Lincoln Stories.

In 1864 some gentlemen who had just returned from a trip through the west visited Washington and went to call on Lincoln. During their visit one of the men spoke of a body of water in Nebraska which bore an Indian name.

"I cannot recall the name now," he said in a vexed tone, "but it signified 'weeping water.'"

President Lincoln instantly responded: "As 'laughing water,' according to Longfellow, is 'Minnehaha,' this evidently should be 'Minneboohoo.'"

On another occasion an Englishman calling at the White House was descending to President Lincoln, who had never been abroad, upon the difference between Englishmen and Americans.

"Great difference in some respects," he said, "great difference! You Americans do things that an Englishman would never think of doing. Now, for instance, an English gentleman would never think of blacking his own boots."

"Ah, indeed!" said President Lincoln quietly. "Whose would he black?"

A CHEMICAL FURY.

Fluorine is a Rabid Gas That Nothing Can Resist.

The fury of the chemical world is the element fluorine, although, strangely enough, it exists peacefully in company with calcium in fluorspar and also in a few other compounds. Although this element was known and named a good while ago, it long resisted the efforts of chemists to isolate it—that is, prepare it in a pure state, unmixed chemically with other substances—for the instant the compound containing it was torn apart the free fluorine attacked and combined with whatever substance composed the vessel containing it. It was finally isolated by the great French chemist Moissan.

Fluorine is a rabid gas that nothing can resist. It combines with all metals, explosively with some, or if they are already combined with some other nonmetallic element it mercilessly tears them away from it and takes them to itself.

In uniting with sodium, potassium, calcium, magnesium and aluminum the metals become heated, even to redness, by the fervor of its embrace. Iron filings slightly warm burst into brilliant scintillations when exposed to it. Manganese does the same. Ever the noble metals, which at melting heat proudly resist the fascinations of oxygen, succumb to this chemical siren at moderate temperatures.

Glass is devoured at once and water ceases to be water by contact with this gas, which, combined with its hydrogen, at the same moment forms the acid, glass dissolving hydrofluoric acid and liberates ozone. Even hydrofluoric acid eats into and destroys every known substance except platinum and lead.—Exchange.

(HOME OFFICE, GREENVILLE, N. C.)

WILL OPERATE WAREHOUSES THE COMING SEASON AT Greenville, Robersonville, Wilson, and Kinston.

It is the experience of every stockholder in this company that he never made a better investment, for the five years of its operations the original stockholders have been paid 113 1-2 per cent in cash dividends. That is the result of co-operation, good management and sound business methods.

Again it is the experience of every farmer who has sold his tobacco at the warehouses of this company that he received higher prices than other houses could obtain. For the coming season the company is prepared to even surpass the fine record it has made in the past, hence it is to the interest of the farmers to sell their tobacco with this company.

THE GUM WAREHOUSE

on the Greenville market, will this season be in charge of that prince of warehousemen, Capt. J. R. Hutchinson, formerly of Wilson, whom you have only to try to be convinced of his ability to please you.

THE STAR WAREHOUSES

on the Greenville market will again be in charge of that veteran warehouseman and champion of high prices, F. D. Foxhall, whose record in the past is a guarantee of what he can do for you in the future.

The warehouses at Robersonville, Wilson and Kinston will be under capable and efficient managers who will carefully guard the interests of all who sell with them. The wise farmer will sell his tobacco with BRICK TALK No. 4.

ABOUT BUILDING WITH BRICK.

Have you thought of the KIND of brick as affecting the VALUE of your building? Consider the quality and looks before turning it over to your contractor, for "BRICK" may mean something cheaper to him than to you, for its natural for him to want the cheapest. : : :

Cost too much to use pressed brick? Don't want a common brick front? What will you do? : : : : :

Just get our samples and prices before deciding that question and you will be surprised. : : : : :

A WALPOLE ANECDOTE.

To Save the Woman's Life She Couldn't Recall Who Told It.

"I heard a very funny story the other night about Horace Walpole," said Mrs. Blake. "I wish I could remember who told it. Henry, can you remember? Was it Mr. Sellers?"

"No," said Blake stiffly; "it wasn't Sellers."

"I wonder if it could have been Mr Windsor?"

"No," repeated Blake; "it wasn't Windsor."

Before Mr. Blake had a chance to express an affirmative or negative opinion of that hazard as to the source of the Walpole anecdote Mr. Barton came in. Mrs. Blake, being by that time sure of herself, tried on him her recipe for winning universal affection.

"Oh, Mr. Barton," she said, "I am very glad to see you. I have hardly stopped laughing since I saw you the last time."

Mr. Barton, a cadaverous man with solemn eyes, looked rather foolish.

"Indeed?" he said. "May I ask what about?"

"Over that funny story you told about Horace Walpole," said Mrs. Blake.

"M-m-m—Horace Walpole?" stammered Mr. Barton. "I am afraid you must have got me mixed up with some body else. I don't know the first thing about Horace Walpole, and if I did know anything funny about him I couldn't tell it. To tell a funny story is beyond my powers. Even if it was funny to start with it wouldn't be by the time I got through with it."

Mrs. Blake's spirits were somewhat dashed by her fiasco in finding an owner for the Walpole story, but she bore up courageously, and later when Mr. Markham came in she drew him out of earshot of Mr. Barton and dilated on the pleasure his story of Horace Walpole had given her. Mr. Markham was not cast in the funeral mold that gave to Mr. Barton his grave aspect but he protested himself totally incapable of telling a funny story about Horace Walpole or anything else.

Presently Mrs. Blake left the room to prepare the sandwiches. Mr. Blake followed her.

"For the love of the Lord," he said "don't make a fool of yourself again by trying to get some other idiot in there to father that Walpole story. told you that yarn myself."

Mrs. Blake stood still, with carving knife poised in air.

"You?" she said incredulously. "And it was so clever too."—New York Times.

ELIJAH AND THE RAVENS.

A Story Which Did Not Fit This Particular Minister's Case.

North Carolina probably never produced an abler preacher than Dr. Francis L. Hawkes, who once was pastor of Grace Episcopal church, New York. Short, thick set, swarthy, black eyed and black haired, he was a striking personage. He was not only a great pulpit orator, but considered the best reader in the New York episcopacy. His rather luxurious family deterred him from accepting a bishopric, which would have otherwise been tendered. One day a delegation from a Buffalo church waited upon him and invited him to accept a pastorate in that city.

"Well, gentlemen, other things being satisfactory, the question of acceptance narrows down to a business matter," said Dr. Hawkes. "What salary do you offer?"

"Dr. Hawkes," said the spokesman, "we recognize that you have a high reputation and are willing to be liberal. Our recent pastor received $2,500, but on account of your standing we have decided to offer you $3,500."

"My good man," cried the doctor, "do you know what salary I am receiving here?"

"No, sir."

"I get $15,000 and this parsonage, and, as I have an expensive family, I do not see my way clear to accept your offer."

The spokesman looked rather sheepish, but made another essay.

"If we had known that, sir, we would undoubtedly have looked elsewhere, but you should remember that the work of the Lord must be done, and, as for providing for your family, you know the story of Elijah and the ravens."

"Now, my friends," responded the clergyman quizzically. "I have made the Bible my study ever since I was twenty-eight. I have read it through carefully and prayerfully over 100 times. I remember the raven incident perfectly, but nowhere can I find any reference to the Lord's providing for young Hawkes."

THE CHARTER OAK.

Bells Told and Funeral Dirges Played When it Fell.

The charter oak of Hartford was a white oak. The story goes that when James, duke of York, ascended the throne of England and sent Andros to take away all colonial charters Connecticut alone refused to surrender hers. Andros was furious over this defiance, and Oct. 31, 1687, he returned to the assembly hall of Hartford with a body of soldiers and demanded instant surrender of the charter, which lay in a box on the table. A hot discussion followed. Finally Andros stretched out his hand to seize the disputed paper. Then the candles were suddenly extinguished, and the people who had gathered on the street outside rushed in a disorderly crowd into the hall. There was a period of wild confusion in the dark, and when the candles were finally relighted no charter was to be found. It had been removed by Captain Wadsworth and concealed in the oak, which ever afterward bore his name.

The oak was even then old. "When the first settlers were clearing their land the Indians begged that it might be spared. 'It has been the guide of our ancestors for centuries,' they said, 'as to the time of planting our corn. When the leaves are the size of a mouse's ears, then is the time to put seed into the ground.' The Indians' request was granted, and the tree, afterward becoming the custodian of the lost charter," became famous for all time. It fell in a windstorm Aug. 21, 1856, and so deeply was it venerated that at sunset on the day of its fall the bells of the city were tolled and a band of music played funeral dirges over its ruins.

At the time of its fall its circumference one foot from the ground was twenty-five feet, and it was estimated to be over 600 years old.—Kansas City Star.

Both Guilty.

The man who prided himself on his keen perceptions watched the witness on the stand with intensity and nodded his head vigorously at the closing words of the bewildered witness.

"That man's concerned in it," said the keen observer to his friend. "Didn't you notice how his eyes shifted around?"

"How about this next one?" inquired the friend.

"He's guilty of something," asserted the keen observer. "No man stares at people in that bold, defiant way if he has a clear conscience."—Youth's Companion.
