AYDEN ITEMS.

News Notes From a Hustling Town,
Briefly Told.

Ayden, N. C., Aug. 7, 1908.

The Centre Brick tobacco warehouse is a certainty. The sky lights have arrived and the work is being pushed rapidly. It will be run by J. W. Dixon, of Greene county and W. J. Hooks, of Johnson. Both are up-to-date tobacco men, having had several years experience in the warehouse business. They will open Centre Brick Aug. 25th.

Miss Nannie Smith, the invalid daughter of C. J. Smith, died Thursday evening. Her remains were laid to rest at the old, family burying ground, Rev. T. H. King conducting the funeral service.

The district meeting of I. O. O. F. was a grand success, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather. After the usual routine of business, a banquet was spread at the Carolina hotel, which was a much enjoyed feast.

Every day seems like Saturday to our merchants and business men since the tobacco market opened here on the 5th. The Ayden house sold near 17,000 pounds the first day, 12,000 Thursday and near 19,000 Friday. Our managers and buyers are all hustlers, and clever men, and we can now see what we have been losing, to, these many years.

John David Jones, of Greene county, has accepted a position as salesman in the large department store of J. R. Smith Co.

Mrs. Lena Davenport, of Rocky Mount, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harris.

Rev. C. W. Howard, of Kinston, arrived Wednesday to assist Dr. Caldwell in a meeting at the Christian church.

W. B. Dennis is building a store on Lee street, which will be occupied by J. F. Smith.

The trustees of the graded school are now receiving bids for an annex to the school building.

D. B. Taylor, of Kinston, spent Friday on one tobacco market.

Elias Turnage went to Ormondville yesterday to attend the annual meeting of the mercantile company and a barbecue given by Billie Darden, the general manager.

The cemetery committee is having the cemetery cleaned up and beautified. If the individuals would only exercise a little more pride in cleaning off their lots it would not be so expensive to the town, besides would show the proper respect for their loved ones, in the silent city of the dead.

The Ayden bank will move into the brick store in rear of R. C. Cannon's as the brick stores of J. R. Smith & Bro. are being converted into a tobacco warehouse.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hobstetter are down on the coast, making pictures. We learn they will be away until October.

Miss Pattie Sutton, of Winterville, is visiting her cousin, Miss Mary Alice Smith.

Escapes from New Bern Jail.

George Brinson, a white man who was sometime ago arrested in this county for violation of the revenue laws, broke out of New Bern jail Thursday night. He was being held for Federal court.

Bids for Sidewalks.

The Board of Aldermen are advertising for sealed bids for the sidewalk paving. Bids will be received until the 18th.

Another Candidate.

To the people of Pitt and other counties:

I desire to say that I am a candidate. Not through the earnest solicitations of my friends, but purely and solely, for the one article that keeps off cold and hunger, and makes me respectable and comfortable. I have not "entered" nor put up $10, but the State manager has "entered" me, and I require those who "support" me to put up the $10 or more. I have in this and adjoining counties six good speakers and will employ two or three more. Not stump speakers, but to make speeches to individuals or in private families. No false statements or misrepresentations will be allowed. I induce my friends, both sexes between the ages of 16 and 70 to "support" me. We urge our friends to do the best for themselves and their loved ones, while supporting me. There is over five hundred million dollars at headquarters besides twelve millions of cash surplus to be divided among our "supporters" in 1908. Anyone wishing to aid me in this campaign can do so by making application to me and passing the recruiting office at Five Points. Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse in charge.

Thanking my patrons for past favors, and pledging my efforts in supporting their widows and orphans through the Grand Old Mutual Life of New York.

I am truly yours,

H. Bently Harris,
District Manager.

Sealed proposals for the construction of approximately 4000 square yards of granolithic sidewalks will be received by the aldermen of Greenville until 12 m. Aug. 18th, 1908. For full information apply to

SOIL SURVEY.

And Map of Pitt County—Arrangements Have Been Perfected.

Washington, N. C., Aug. 6th.

Editor Reflector:

It is extremely gratifying to be able to announce that arrangements have finally been perfected by which the bureau of soils of the United States department of agriculture, in co-operation with our State department of agriculture, will make a soil survey of the whole of Pitt county, the work to begin not later than April 1st, 1909.

This important piece of work has been discussed by intelligent farmers of Pitt county for several years, and in response to their wishes, I have endeavored to arrange for this work, and regret exceedingly that it could not have been done at an earlier date. The map which will be published as a result of this survey will contain some most valuable data and information regarding the soils of the county, their character, deficiencies, advantages, productiveness, and much other valuable information. The map will not only be informing to residents of the county, but will serve a valuable purpose in giving publicity to the resources of Pitt county and in attracting a desirable class of settlers.

There has been a distinct advance by the people of Pitt county during the past decade. In public education the increase in the number of modern school buildings and appliances, the increased sums raised by local taxation for the support of such schools, and the increased efficiency in the teachers, all under the leadership of one of the strongest and most aggressive county superintendents, has marked a very high, if not the highest advance, of all the counties in the State. In agriculture, the general adoption of more improved and intelligent methods has increased production, and at the same time lessened the relative cost, thereby promoting our greatest single industry. The publication of modern soil map will simply be in line with this general trend toward progress and prosperity.

Very respectfully,

Jno. H. Small

New Uses For Cotton.

One of the things The Chronicle has never been able to understand is why the farmers of the South have not adopted cotton bagging for baling cotton, instead of paying tribute to the tariff burdened jute. By using cotton bagging, they would not only get a cheaper article and one as good as jute, but they would create a market for low-grade cotton that would put money in their pockets. We are reminded of this by the action of the Southern Wholesale Grocer's Association, recently in session at Asheville, in recommending that the merchants give preference to all goods packed in cotton bags, instead of burlaps and jute. They urged all flour, rice, grits, sugar and salt manufacturers and all packers and dealers to use cotton for bags and coverings. This movement ought to succeed. Cotton covering is cleaner than burlaps or jute, and as the grocers truthfully claim, the adoption of cotton bags would increase the business of the cotton mills and have a good effect on the raw cotton market. The suggestion is an excellent one.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Ages Aggregate 375 Years.

Pittsboro, N. C., Aug. 7.—An unusual occurrence, and perhaps one never before duplicated, was the grouping together of five sisters whose ages aggregate over 375 years, on the streets of Pittsboro this evening, Mrs. J. J. Jackson, Mrs. Roxana McNeill, Mrs. Addie Bagwell, Mrs. Corinna Jackson, and Mrs. Elvira Moffit, daughters of the late Governor Worth, composed the party. This was the first time in years that the reunion has taken place. A photographer from Raleigh came up to Pittsboro to photograph the group. Three of the sisters married brothers, Miss Lucy Worth, having married Mr. J. J. Jackson; Miss Elvira Worth married Samuel S. Jackson, and Mrs. Corinna Roberts' second marriage was to Mr. H. C. Jackson. The sisters compose a delightful house party at the home of Mrs. J. J. Jackson.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Cheap Three Day Excursion to Norfolk.

On Monday, Aug. 17th, the Atlantic Coast Line will sell tickets to Norfolk and return at greatly reduced rates, and the tickets will be good for return on any regular train from Norfolk up to and including Thursday, 20th. The fare from Greenville is $2, Winterville $2.25, Ayden $2.50, Grifton $2.75. This gives an opportunity of visiting the attractions around Norfolk at a very cheap rate.

An Old Gourd.

Mr. B. F. Tugwell, of Farmville township, has an old gourd which he says belonged to his people through several generations, covering a period of more than a hundred years. The gourd is remarkable in size, as it will hold five pecks. Mr. Tugwell says he recently placed a 3-year-old girl in the gourd and it was large enough to hide her when she sat down in it.

Knockers Classified.

The men who do a town more harm than good may be classed as follows: First, those who oppose improvement. Second, those who run it down to strangers. Third, those who never advertise their business. Fourth, those who distrust public-spirited men. Fifth, those who show no hospitality to any one. Sixth, those who hate to see others make money. Seventh, those who oppose every movement that doesn't originate with themselves. Eighth, those who put on long faces when a stranger speaks of locating in their town. Ninth, those who oppose every public enterprise, which does not appear of personal benefit to themselves.—Mt. Olive Tribune.

What He Did Say.

Through an oversight of the printer The Reflector in its report Friday of the meeting of the board of aldermen made Alderman E. G. Flanagan say exactly opposite to what he did say, and placed him in a wrong light. The report as written read "Alderman Flanagan explained that he favored the 10 per cent. commission basis and would oppose a contract AT A STIPULATED PRICE WITHOUT ADVERTISEMENT BEING FIRST MADE AND THE CONTRACT let to the lowest bidder." The words in small caps were left out by the printer which entirely reversed what Alderman Flanagan said.

Another Fine Sale.

Here is more of Foxhall's way of doing. Friday at the Star warehouse he sold for J. F. Buck 130 pounds at $9.52 at $22.28 at $16.50, 90 at $13, an average of $13.15. If you want the best prices take your tobacco to Foxhall at the Star branch of the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Co. 8 8 1td 1tw

The Picnic.

Fatal Fight in Edgecombe.

Tarboro, N. C., August 7.—As a result of one of the most bloody fights in the history of Edgecombe county last night at Lawrence, R. B. O'Neal died this afternoon and S. W. Sparks was lodged in jail on the charge of murder. The two men had an old grudge but were quite sociable yesterday evening, having taken a number of drinks in the presence of Kenney Bland at Dave Williams' saloon. Upon meeting at the bar Sparks attacked O'Neal upon a small provocation and drawing a keen edged pocket knife stabbed O'Neal five times, twice in the abdomen, from which wounds five feet of his intestines oozed out; one in the right lung, one in the left lung and the left arm.

FRIDAY, AUG 7, 1908

We shall not be in any hurry to try a flying machine.

The cry goes up for more money to conduct the national campaign. Now is the time to subscribe.

Greenville business men should bear in mind that they get trade only as they work for it.

If you do not stand by your town and talk for it and help to carry it forward, you need not expect outside people to do so.

In a letter, published elsewhere, from Congressman John H. Small, it is shown that he never tires doing something good for Pitt county.

The jury in the trial of the Oxford doctor for killing a negro twenty five years ago while insane, brought in a verdict of not guilty, as might have been expected.

There are plenty of them in the running, but on the night of the 29th many will find that they ran too slow. We wish you all could win, gentleman, but you can't do it.

Really it would be no discredit to the State for the salary of the governor to be higher, but we do not want to see it raised just to reimburse the candidates for what they spend trying to get it.

The national campaign committee got the right man when it selected Josephus Daniels, of the Raleigh News and Observer, to be at the head of its publicity department. Another good selection was T. J. Pence to assist in the literary work.

Aspirants for county offices should bear in mind that they have but one week more in which to register with the county chairman. Those who fail to register by the night of the 15th cannot be voted for in the primary on the 29th.

Today the polisher of this Reflector of events sees himself turning another milestone in life's race, and feels grateful that his head yet sticks close to its original color, in spite of the number of summer suns and winter winds that have kissed his brow and fanned his auburn locks. Here's hoping for more of them.

Mr. C. C. Moore has been made circulation manager of the Charlotte Observer and the other papers published by The Observer company. This is a good step for those papers; for Mr. Moore is so well known over North Carolina that he will add largely to their circulation.

SHOOTING THE SUN.

Simplest Way of Locating a Ship's Position at Sea.
 The average transatlantic traveler displays very little interest in the navigation of the vessel beyond watching the ship's officers, sextant in hand, making observations, says a writer in Travel Magazine. Very few have any idea of the process, by means of which the modern navigator is enabled to accurately place the ship's position at a stated time on the chart. Out of sight of land a ship's geographical position is determined either by keeping a careful record of the course steered and the distance run, known as dead reckoning, or by the combined use of chronometer and sextant—that is, by observation of the heavenly bodies. The operation of finding the latitude and longitude of observation can be performed in a number of ways, of which the simplest and most convenient is by measuring the altitude of the sun above the horizon at noon, as is indicated on the verner of the sextant and spoken of at sea as "shooting the sun." An arithmetical computation by the aid of logarithms is thus quickly made which shows exactly how far the ship is north or south of the equator, or, in other words, the latitude. Finding the longitude, however, is a somewhat longer process. An observation is made either in the forenoon or afternoon, the chronometer time of the position of the sun's image being noted. A calculation is then made which gives the exact time at the spot where the ship happens to be, and, as the chronometer carried aboard shows the exact time at Greenwich, the prime meridian of longitude, the difference between the two expresses in hours and minutes (readily convertible into degrees and miles) the distance east or west of Greenwich.

A MAN'S HAT.

Why is it Always Regarded as a Fit Subject for Jokes?
 "I wonder why it is," says a young gentleman who spends most of his leisure time studying human nature at a populous street corner, "that a man's hat is always regarded as a fit subject for jokes? Anything that happens to his shoes is a serious matter, and, although his vest, especially if it is out of the usual in design or color, is sometimes made the subject of pointed remarks, disaster to any other garment is regarded as a matter of sympathy. "But if he goes to church and puts down his hat at the end of his pew, where somebody kicks a dent in it and knocks it five feet down the aisle, or if he places it carefully beside him in a lecture room or theater and a preoccupied young woman comes in and sits down on it people laugh with out seeming to feel the slightest sympathy for him or his sky piece. "A man chasing his hat through the street on a windy day will always attract a grinning, unsympathetic crowd ready to lay bets on the distance the hat will travel before he catches up or on the amount of damage it will sustain before it is finally recovered, and so irritated does the owner become when he finds his vicious dab and grabs at it greeted with ironical applause that he generally forgets to thank the man who stops it by stamping on it and hands it back. I believe Joe Miller perpetrated jokes about chasing the hat, but the heavy felts and cocked hats of Miller's time did not lend themselves readily to joking purposes, for when those old fashioned headpieces were blown off they dropped to the ground and stayed there. A panama, a stovepipe or even a derby may run and fly by turns from Broadway to the postoffice and attract as much attention as a runaway team."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

An Announcement.

I hereby announce to the Democratic voters of Pitt county that I desire the nomination of the party for State Senator from the county of Pitt, and that my name will be before the Democratic voters at the Democratic primaries, to be held on the 29th day of August, 1908. The people of the county are familiar with my services to the party to which I have been attached from my birth. I have labored for its success in the days of prosperity and in its hours of adversity. I will very greatly appreciate any support that I may receive in every section of the county, and if it shall please the party to make me its candidate for senator I shall be very grateful and do what I can to roll up a big majority in the county. If elected senator I shall labor to represent the county in the upper branch of the legislature in a manner that shall reflect credit upon myself and honor upon the county that favored me with its confidence. The result of the primaries will in no wise effect my allegiance to the party or earnest support of its nominees. Alex. L. Blow.

A Card.
 Someone has been persistently circulating a report to the effect that I am a candidate for sheriff in the interest of the present incumbent, Sheriff L. W. Tucker, under whom I have acted as a deputy for four years. I wish to just emphatically deny this report, and to say to the public that there is not one atom of truth in it; and to say that I am a candidate in my own interest, and not in the interest of any other person. I have no criticism to make of the conduct of the office under the administration of Sheriff Tucker, except to say that the same has been clean and capable so far as it was in the power of both himself and myself to make it, but I believe in rotation in office, and in the time honored custom of electing a sheriff of this county for only two terms, to-wit: four years; and as Sheriff Tucker has enjoyed and held this office for four years, I feel as a life long Democrat that I have the right to aspire to this position, subject always, of course, to the action of the Democratic primary. I desire to thank my friends for their many offers of support for this office, and will appreciate the support of any and all my friends and fellow Democrats of the county. If nominated and elected to this office, I promise the public a clean administration of the same, and as capable and efficient discharge of the duties of the office as I may be capable of. This August 4, 1908. S. I. Dudley. 85 d f

For Sheriff.
 I hereby announce myself a candidate for sheriff of Pitt county, subject to the will of the people as expressed in the Democratic primaries on the 29th of August. I will appreciate any support given me. 86 O. W. Harrington.

The Farmers Consolidated Tob. Co.

(HOME OFFICE, GREENVILLE, N. C.)

WILL OPERATE WAREHOUSES THE COMING SEASON AT

Greenville, Robersonville, Wilson, Kinston

It is the experience of every stockholder in this company that he never made a better investment, for the five years of its operations the original stockholders have been paid 113 1-2 per cent in cash dividends. That is the result of co-operation, good management and sound business methods.

Again it is the experience of every farmer who has sold his tobacco at the warehouses of this company that he received higher prices than other houses could obtain. For the coming season the company is prepared to even surpass the fine record it has made in the past, hence it is to the interest of the farmers to sell their tobacco with this company.

THE GUM WAREHOUSE

on the Greenville market, will this season be in charge of that prince of warehousemen, Capt. J. R. Hutchinson, formerly of Wilson, whom you have only to try to be convinced of his ability to please you.

THE STAR WAREHOUSES

on the Greenville market will again be in charge of that veteran warehouseman and champion of high prices, F. D. Foxhall, whose record in the past is a guarantee of what he can do for you in the future.

The warehouses at Robersonville, Wilson and Kinston will be under capable and efficient managers who will carefully guard the interests of all who sell with them. The wise farmer will sell his tobacco with BRICK TALK No. 4.

ABOUT BUILDING WITH BRICK.

Have you thought of the KIND of brick as affecting the VALUE of your building? Consider the quality and looks before turning it over to your contractor, for "BRICK" may mean something cheaper to him than to you, for its natural for him to want the cheapest.

Cost too much to use pressed brick? Don't want a common brick front? What will you do?

Just get our samples and prices before deciding that question and you will be surprised.

WE have the QUALITY and PRESSED BRICK APPEARANCE at COMMON BRICK PRICE.

THE BLOOD LINE.

Most Potent Factor in Telling the Correct Story of Descent.

A drop of the blood of a walrus shows no relation with a drop of whale's blood or of the blood of any other cetacean, such as seals or porpoises, which, like the walrus, are mammals that have taken to the sea, says Dr. William Hanna Thompson in Everybody's. Instead of that, the blood of the walrus immediately reacts with the blood of horses, asses and zebras, thus proving that he is an equine that no longer crops grass, but goes where he can live on an exclusively fish diet. Likewise the hippopotamus is shown to be a modified fish.

Where the blood relationship exists, but is distant, these reactions are proportionately faint, but where no reactions occur there is no relationship at all. Thus geology indicates that birds are descended from reptiles, and, oddly enough, the blood of a bird shows a distinct though very faint reaction with the blood of a snake, but none whatever with that of the winged bat or the flying squirrel, for these are mammals.

On the other hand, the marsupials, once such a great family, but now reduced to the kangaroo, the opossum and a small creature in South America, have not a single blood relation left. As to man, he has no relationship to monkeys, but the blood of anthropoid apes shows a very faint reaction with his. Meantime all the races of man are unmistakably of one blood, whatever their color or abode.

Hence the blood is by far the most hereditary thing about us. Neither the shape of the skeleton nor the contour of the body nor brain, heart, lungs, stomach, intestines, liver or skin nor even ancestral habits about the great food question—how to eat or keep from being eaten—are comparable to a single drop of blood for telling the correct story of descent. All this gives a new meaning to the words, "For the blood thereof is the life thereof." Likewise the old saying that insanity runs in the blood now wears a scientific look since blood and family are so inseparably associated.

A Waiter's Dilemma.

It was in one of the large downtown restaurants that the short little woman and her tall husband went for dinner one night.

"Will you have oysters?" asked the man, glancing over the bill of fare.

"Yes," said the short little woman as she tried in vain to touch her toes to the floor. "And, John, I want a hassock."

John nodded, and as he handed his order to the waiter he said, "Yes, and bring a hassock for the lady."

"One hassock?" asked the waiter, with what John thought more than ordinary interest, as he nodded in the affirmative. Still the waiter did not go, but brushed the tablecloth with a towel and rearranged the articles on it several times, while his face got very red. Then he came around to John's side and, speaking sotto voce, said: "Say, mister, I haven't been here long, and I'm not on to all these things. Will the lady have the hassock broiled or fried?"—Chicago Chronicle.

When Children Were Made to Smoke.

It may seem strange that there was a period in English history when juvenile smoking was enforced officially, but it is nevertheless true. The diarist Hearne in writing of the plague of London, says: "Even children were obliged to smoke. And I remember that I heard formerly Tom Rogers, who was yeoman beadle, say that when he was a schoolboy at Eton that year when the plague raged all the boys of that school were obliged to smoke in the school every morning and that he was never whipped so much in his life as he was one morning for not smoking."—London Chronicle.

Talkative.

"That woman who lives next door, James," said Eliza, the young married woman, to her husband, "is the laziest, dreadfulest, most gossiping person I have met during my whole life! She does nothing but talk, talk, talk, morning, noon and night! I am perfectly certain that she can never get any work done!"

"Ah," replied her husband, "I thought she was a chatterbox! And to whom does she talk all day long?"

"Why, my dear, to me, of course," was the reply. "She talks to me over the garden wall."—London Scraps.

Not a Fit.

Nell—Maude has a new dress-maker. What do you think of the fit of her new gown?

Belle—I shouldn't call it a fit. I should call it a convulsion.—Philadelphia Record.

Better Than Spanking.

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W. Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

Soldiers in Battle.

Those who have taken part in a battle have confessed that were it not for the shouting and the noise they would lose their nerves and run away. There is always an interval of cowardice in the soldier, but it is quickly overcome and he fights grimly, unmindful of impending death. Bands were, of course invented to raise the spirits of soldiers. Martial music, whether from the drum or the bugle, has done a great deal in saving campaigns. No body can fight in a cold blooded manner, and in the excitement of a general engagement the most nervous of fighters recover wonderfully.

Smoothing It Over.

Irate Individual—I'm going to square matters with you right now! You've been telling it around that I lie!
The Other Man—Nothing of the sort. All I have said about you is that you are habitually unvarnished.
Irate Individual (calming down)—Oh I don't mind that, if that's all. I acknowledge I do get that way once in awhile. But how can a fellow help it when everybody insists on treating him?—Chicago Tribune.

A Scrap of History.

"General Washington, the soldier of the Continental army are men of iron," exclaimed the Marquis de Lafayette in admiration.
"And as a consequence," remarked the great commander with a sly twinkle, "they are hard at work pressing the redcoats."—Woman's Home Companion.

At the Barn Party.

"These country dances are enjoyable after all, aren't they?"
"I tell you, the old fashioned dances are the reel thing."—Baltimore American.
