WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From Our Hustling Neighbor.

Winterville N. C., Aug. 19, 1908.

Miss Elise Vincent, of Greenville, spent a short while here last week with Miss Huldah Cox.

Theodore and Harvey Cox, two of our most excellent young men, returned from Wilmington and Wrightsville Sunday evening. They report a most delightful trip.

Quite a number of our people attended services at Hancock's Sunday morning. They speak in highest terms of the sermon preached by Rev. Sylvester Hassell, of Williamston. It is a rare treat to hear such able men as he is.

Miss Mimie Cox returned from Morehead Saturday evening accompanied by little Miss Margaret Wyatt. She spent some time there with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wyatt.

Miss Lela Roach, of Coxville, spent part of last week with Misses Kate and Lala Chapman. She is an old pupil of W. H. S. and we are always glad to see them.

A. G. Cox is not only an expert manufacturer but he is an excellent farmer. During the past spring he had the stumps taken out of part of his farm, and now he is building a large storage room for his corn and hay. The farmer that makes plenty of corn, hay and meat will generally be above board in regard to finances. The money crops are all right, but let our farmers not forget the hog and hominy problem.

Rev. T. H. King assisted his father in a series of meetings at Ft. Barnwell last week. He returned home Monday.

Miss Nannie Braxton, after spending some time visiting near Louisburg and Kenly, returned home Saturday morning.

Profs. Nye and Lineberry are still finding boys and girls for Winterville High school. They are very busy canvassing and corresponding with prospective pupils.

Miss Eunice Harget, of Jones county, is spending some time here with relatives.

Prof. G. E. Lineberry delivered an educational address at Reelsboro Saturday.

Miss Yula Cox and little Carey, accompanied by Mrs. Mabel James, came home Tuesday from near Grindool.

Mrs. Betsey Cox, the aged mother of A. G. Cox, is spending some time here with her many relatives.

Miss Alice Tripp has just had her house near the campus beautifully painted.

J. D. Cox returned home Friday morning after having spent about six weeks in Marion and Marlboro counties, South Carolina in the interest of the Beaufort County Lumber Co. He looks like he was in good hands while away. We are glad to have him back home.

Aeolian Orchestra Concert.

The boys of the Aeolian Band have organized an orchestra, and to aid them in maintaining it they are going to give a dance in the Perkins opera house, Thursday night, 20th, at 9:30 o'clock. Mr. W. B. Wilson, Jr., will lead the dancers. The public is invited, the admission being $1 a couple.

The dance should be well patronized. Greenville has long needed a good orchestra and there is no reason why we cannot have it if the boys have the proper support.

WOMEN WINNING AGAINST RUM

Half the Union has Joined in the Prohibition Movement.

With astonishing rapidity the fight against the sale of intoxicating liquor is sweeping over the country, says the September Delineator. In the South, state after state has enacted laws absolutely closing all the saloons within its borders. After January 1, 1909, there will not be a legal saloon in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Oklahoma, or North Carolina; half of South Carolina, a large part of Florida, all but four cities in Tennessee, and nearly all of Kentucky are in the same situation. Virginia, Maryland and Delaware are moving in the same direction. Ohio is tending toward state prohibition. Indiana has taken steps toward it, and each new election sees more townships in Illinois shifted to the "dry" column. In other states the struggle is not yet so successful, but already half the people and two-thirds of the territory of the United States are embraced in the now rapidly growing prohibition districts.

In this struggle women have taken a remarkable part, and they are reaping a remarkable reward. This is a new form of campaign, and it is different. There has been little or no hysterical agitation, but rather prosaic comparison of figures to show how much better off the dry states are than the wet. And the women, to whom prohibition means indefinitely more to the men, have furnished what excitement was necessary, by flocking about the polls serving temperance drinks to the voters, and endeavoring to convince them that a vote against the saloon is a vote for the home, and perhaps, most of all, for the clean administration of the public schools. They have had to present figures, too. Saloon men have shown the amount of taxes paid, almost fabulous millions every year, by the manufacturers, the wholesalers and the retailers of drink. They have piled up the totals of corn and rye and rice consumed in the factories, and computed how men were employed. But the women have shown that every dollar so spent is only a tithe of the amount that the men pass in over the counter for drinks which net them nothing at all; that out of ten dollars which leaves the home for this useless thing only thirty or forty cents eventually reach the public treasury in license and tax, and even less goes to the grain producer; and that each drinker could better afford to pay his share of the liquor tax out of his pocket, chip into a fund for grain production, and keep the rest to use in buying useful things for his home in such a way as to give more and more useful employment to his fellows and at the same time improve his own condition in life.

Next Sunday's Excursion.

The excursion to Beaufort and Morehead over the Norfolk & Southern road, next Sunday, promises to be an interesting one. The train over this division will start from Raleigh at 6 a. m. and pass Greenville at 9.17 a. m. Another train will start from Belhaven, taking passengers at all points on this side of the sound, and the two trains will be joined at Chocowinity. If you have friends or relatives over that way it will be a good time to meet them and spend the day together at the seashore.

What Candidates Stokes Favors.

Greenville, N. C., Aug. 18, 1908.
Editor Reflector:—

I think your suggestion of having the candidates for the various offices to meet in Greenville a few days prior to primary for speech-making is a good one. However, I am sure that such will not meet the approbation of most of the aspirants, and therefore I am asking your indulgence to say a few things any way.

I believe that the voters should know the position of a candidate for the legislature with reference to certain legislation he proposes to try to enact should he be elected. Therefore, very briefly, I wish to say that I am in sympathy with those desiring the abolition of the right of home-stead, as guaranteed by the constitution; with those desiring the popular election of the members of our county board of education; with those desiring the adjustment of the salaries of our county officers in a manner commensurate with the services actually rendered; with those believing in keeping the government as near the people as possible. I will add, also, that I am standing firmly and squarely on the state and national Democratic platforms, and if nominated and elected will busy myself in bringing to pass those things essential to the perpetuation of the blessings of a free and independent Democracy.

Yours for good government,
J. F. Stokes.

The Story You Hear.

If you hear an unpleasant story about an acquaintance, perhaps you will not feel like keeping it to yourself, even though you are not at all sure that it is true. The chances are that you will pass it along, imagining that you have freed yourself from all responsibility if you explain this is only what you were told, and that personally you know nothing about the matter. Have you ever noticed how soon all these little qualifications are dropped out of a story? Every "perhaps" and "maybe" is lost by the second telling. "I thought" soon becomes "I saw," and somebody's careless guess is accepted as his positive statement. Since this is true, you can not escape any responsibility by saying that you heard a certain report, but are not positive as to its truth. The results of repeating it are likely to be just as bad as if you pledged your honor for its correctness in every point.

When you hear a doubtful story which attacks somebody's character, set your lips together and resolve that no word of this shall pass them. If true it will be verified only too soon. If false you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you have not helped to harm a brother or sister by lending the weight of your influence to a lie.—Written for The Inland Printer.

STATE NEWS.

Washington, N. C., Aug. 18.—Quite a sensation was produced in this city this morning by the suicide of Mr. George Bennett, a middle aged lumberman of this city. It seems that Bennett had been drinking for the past few days and, being out of work temporarily, became despondent.

Spencer, N. C., Aug. 18.—Robert Saunders, aged 25 years, of Danville, Va., was killed on the Spencer yards of the Southern Railway today by falling from the top of a water tower eighty feet to the ground.

Sanford, N. C., Aug. 18.—William Cooper, a negro barber, who is employed in John Phillips' shop, has a hard head, for yesterday afternoon a 38 bullet, speeding on its course, came in contact with his cranium just above the temple and flattened itself against the said cranium, stopping between the skin and skull and doing but very little damage.

COX'S MILL ITEMS.

Cox's Mill, N. C., Aug. 18, 1908.

Misses Hollie Page and Bessie Moore spent Saturday night and Sunday with Miss Lillie Carroll.

Miss Helen Haddock spent last week with Miss Allie Cox, near Rose Hill.

Good many of our people attended church at Rose Hill and Hancock's Sunday.

Willie Tyson, of Greenville, spent Sunday at his home near here.

There is lots of hand shaking among the candidates these days. Its nothing to see five or six any time.

A candidate for register of deeds was here one day last week and a large grasshopper pitched on his nose and said he was too green.

Ed Moore went to Winterville yesterday on business.

Farmers are in full progress pulling fodder now, for which we have been having fine weather.

Joseph McLawhorn, a candidate for sheriff, was here awhile Saturday shaking hands.

George Rouse went to Morehead Sunday and reported a fine trip.

Mary and the Kitten.

Little Mary was playing with her pet kitten. The kitten scratched her, and she exclaimed, "You is a darned old kitty!"

Her mother told her she must never utter such a naughty word again: and to be sure to impress it on her mind, washed her mouth out with soap and water.

The next day Mary was again playing with the kitten, and again trouble arose, when she was heard to remark:

"You is just the same kind of a kitten you was yesterday!"—The September Delineator.

Remains Taken to Hertford.

The remains of Mrs Trautman, who died at Ayden Tuesday morning, were brought here on the Atlantic Coast Line this morning and transferred to the Norfolk & Southern for Hertford. Mr. D. G. Berry, of Ayden, accompanied the remains to Hertford.

South Carolina Firm Gets Contract.

The committee in charge of letting out the contract for paving the sidewalks on Evans street from the court house corner to Five Points and Dickinson avenue to the A. C. L. railroad, opened bids for the work Tuesday. A firm at Greenville, S. C., made the lowest bid and was awarded the contract.

Keeping It Up.

F. D. Foxhall, at the Star warehouse branch of the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Co., is keeping up his way of leading the market on high prices. Today he sold for Shem Tyson 190 pounds at $10, 64 at $16, 34 at $36, 20 at $20.50, 184 at $7, an average of $11.88. You only have to sell with Foxhall to get high prices. 8 19 1td 1tw

Earthquake Shocks Felt.

Eureka, Cal., Aug. 18.—Three sharp earthquake shocks which knocked down more than a hundred chimneys, shattered about forty plate glass windows in the business portion of Eureka, broke much crockery in the houses and sent many people scurrying from their beds into the streets, occurred here early today.

FEES OR SALARIES.

The communication of Mr. J. F. Stokes, one of the candidates for the legislature, that was published Tuesday, has put people to talking, especially that portion of it relating to regulating the salaries of county officers to a basis commensurate with the services rendered.

This also recalls to mind the fact that the county convention of two years ago adopted a resolution favoring the placing of the county officers on salary instead of allowing them fees. In keeping with the spirit of this resolution a bill to that effect was introduced in the legislature but some who were interested got up and presented a petition against it and the bill did not pass.

We do not know just what the people want in this matter at this time, but we do know that there is considerable talk over the question, some of it on both sides. We also know that there are several counties in the State that have adopted the salary system instead of fees, and it works satisfactorily in those counties.

There are so many who think of but little else besides politics just now.

In a week more Charlotte will be seeing what a Republican State convention looks like.

If the county candidates do not want to make any speeches, they are doing plenty of personal talking all the same.

The flying machines seem to have a way of finding obstructions on the track or running into an open switch.

The Charlotte Observer's gander generosity is likely to put that paper in the dilemma of not having enough ganders to supply the demand.

The way people are getting out of work throughout the country makes those who have a job feel like it is a good thing to hold on to.

Those fellows who run to Washington and to the North to give out interviews as to how North Carolina is going, must love to see in print what they have to say.

As Judge Pritchard says he will not have it, Marion Butler will have to try his hand on some other caper. May be Butler is feeling the pulse of the others with an eye to trying to get it for himself.

When a Southern community goes about it, the offending negro is lynched and the affair ends at that; but out in Illinois they lynch a bunch of them and

CUBE ROOT.

Do You Know the Method of Extracting It Without Pain?

Think of the inestimable value of knowing how to extract cube root! Ah, there is the priceless boon! Knowing that has saved us money many and many a time, to say nothing of the social blunders it has assisted us to avoid. Do I know yet how it was done? Certainly, I know it just as well as if it were yesterday that I studied it. You take the number whose cube root is wanted so that nothing but extraction can relieve it, put it down on a piece of paper or on your slate and divide it off into periods of three figures each. Write 4-11-44 to the left, multiply that by 300, divide it by something, then pour some red ink on your handkerchief, tell teacher you have the nosebleed and go home. That's the way I usually did it. No doubt it is done much the same way by the ingenious youth of the present generation.

Is there a successful man living today and holding up his head among other successful men who cannot painlessly extract the cube root without giving the number an anaesthetic? If so, he should be ashamed of himself. He is a freak, and he attained distinction by a fluke. Some day the muck rakers will get to probing around, and when they discover that he can't extract the cube root of anything his career will be ended and his gray hairs will sink in sorrow to a dishonored, Jimson grown grave. The jails and asylums are filled with vacant faced and craven hearted wretches who never learned the way to remove a cube root, no matter if the number containing it was threatened with blood poison. They don't know whether to run a horsehair loop down its throat, as in the case of gapes, or whether to use tweezers.

Let us try to impress upon our children—by precept—the importance of cube root extraction, but let us have business elsewhere in case they ask us to show them how.—Strickland W. Gillilan in Chicago News.

A Spoiled Compliment.

An Announcement.

I hereby announce to the Democratic voters of Pitt county that I desire the nomination of the party for State Senator from the county of Pitt, and that my name will be before the Democratic voters at the Democratic primaries, to be held on the 29th day of August, 1908.

The people of the county are familiar with my services to the party to which I have been attached from my birth. I have labored for its success in the days of prosperity and in its hours of adversity. I will very greatly appreciate any support that I may receive in every section of the county, and if it shall please the party to make me its candidate for senator I shall be very grateful and do what I can to roll up a big majority in the county. If elected senator I shall labor to represent the county in the upper branch of the legislature in a manner that shall reflect credit upon myself and honor upon the county that favored me with its confidence.

The result of the primaries will in no wise effect my allegiance to the party or earnest support of its nominees.

Where the Compass Came From.

The earliest references to the use of the mariner's compass are to be found in Chinese history, from which we learn how in the sixty-fourth year of the reign of Hoang-ti (2634 B. C.) the emperor attacked Tehiyeon on the plains of Tchou-lou and, finding his army embarrassed by a thick fog raised by the enemy, constructed an instrument for indicating the south, so as to distinguish the four cardinal points, and was thus enabled to pursue his adversary and capture him.

The power of the loadstone to communicate polarity to iron is said to be for the first time explicitly mentioned in a Chinese dictionary, finished in A. D. 121, where the loadstone is defined as "a stone with which an attraction can be given to the needle."

The Chinese appear to have once navigated as far as India by the aid of the compass.

The Farmers Consolidated Tob Co.

(HOME OFFICE, GREENVILLE, N. C.)

WILL OPERATE WAREHOUSES THE COMING SEASON AT Greenville, Robersonville, Wilson, Kinston

It is the experience of every stockholder in this company that he never made a better investment, for the five years of its operations the original stockholders have been paid 113 1-2 per cent in cash dividends. That is the result of co-operation, good management and sound business methods.

Again it is the experience of every farmer who has sold his tobacco at the warehouses of this company that he received higher prices than other houses could obtain. For the coming season the company is prepared to even surpass the fine record it has made in the past, hence it is to the interest of the farmers to sell their tobacco with this company.

THE GUM WAREHOUSE

on the Greenville market, will this season be in charge of that prince of warehousemen, Capt. J. R. Hutchinson, formerly of Wilson, whom you have only to try to be convinced of his ability to please you.

THE STAR WAREHOUSES

on the Greenville market will again be in charge of that veteran warehouseman and champion of high prices, F. D. Foxhall, whose record in the past is a guarantee of what he can do for you in the future.

The warehouses at Robersonville, Wilson and Kinston will be under capable and efficient managers who will carefully guard the interests of all who sell with them. The wise farmer will sell his tobacco with Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Co.

Delicious Banana Cream

This recipe is highly recommended by one of our correspondents; try it for dessert tomorrow.
Peel five large bananas, rub smooth with five teaspoons of sugar. Add one teacup sweet cream beaten to a stiff froth, then add one 10c package of Lemon JELL-O dissolved in 1 1-2 teacups boiling water. Pour into mold when cold garnish with candied cherries. Serve with whipped cream, or any good pudding sauce. JELL-O is sold by all Grocers at 10c. per package.

A FRIGHT IN MIDAIR

Going Up In a Balloon and Coming Down In a Parachute.

THE AGONY OF A FIRST TRIP

Experience and Sensations of an Acrobat Who Took the Place of a Professional Aeronaut in an Emergency. The Dash Through Space.

I once went up in a balloon and came down in a parachute. Something went wrong, and all the money in the world doubled would not induce me to make the experiment again.

One grows strangely accustomed to dangers as an acrobat, and when it was suggested that I should earn $25 in as many minutes by taking the place of a parachutist who had fallen ill at the last minute I jumped at the chance. It was at a large country fair. The laughing crowd had probably never seen a balloon go up. As the great silk bag gradually swelled a silence fell upon the onlookers.

The sick parachutist's manager patted me on the back and said it was money easily earned. I agreed—then.

"Keep cool," he said, "and whatever you do, don't look down except to judge your distance from the earth. You see that tower? It is about a thousand yards away. When you are that distance up pull the check string and shut your eyes."

A dull murmur rose as the ropes were cast off and I felt my feet leave the ground. The upward movement was gentle, and a great cheer came up to me until the band drowned it.

I hardly heard the cheering or the band. The involuntary murmur still rang in my ears. Perhaps my nerves were upset, possibly it was intuition, but from the moment I was drawn up from the ground I felt the conviction that grim trouble lay ahead.

Ignoring the oft repeated instructions, I looked down. How slowly the balloon went up! Could it be possible that I had not gone more than a hundred yards? The giant overhead became a living thing, intent on torturing the puny mortal who had trusted his life to it. I knew I dared not leap before I was high enough, for the parachute takes 100 feet sometimes to open.

I shut my eyes and tried to count to kill time, but the figures became jumbled, and I looked down again. A swallow skimmed past underneath. Far below there was a sea of upturned faces, and the music floated up distinctly. The balloon seemed to have stopped rising, and for an eternity I tried to gauge the height.

Again the band stopped, and I was in a silent world. The crowd of breathless specks far beneath was getting full value for its money. The only noise I heard was the beating of the blood through my head. I was afraid. It was the first real fear I had ever felt in my work.

When the supreme moment came I pulled the string without realizing what I was doing.

What years I lived in those next few seconds. An appalling nausea and a wild desire to live came with the first terrible rush, and my heart stood still as I looked eagerly aloft. The ropes of the parachute had twisted, and I was falling to instant death.

Grasping the ropes in a clutch of steel, I shook them frantically. Half the huge parachute belled out with a noise like a pistol shot, and the speed of the fall was lessened with a jar.

Again I shook the death trap. The ropes were sliding at a snail's pace, and bit by bit the parachute was opening. Still I fell far too fast. I could not breathe, and my hands seemed to be refusing to hold on.

Bang! The last fold had opened out, and I was saved. Dizzy and numb with fear, I held on tightly, wondering whether I should faint before I touched the ground. That, and that only, was my thought as I sailed through the space. I had almost lost consciousness when my feet touched the ground gently. And then I collapsed.—Buffalo Times.

A Drawback.

"My!" exclaimed little Billy as he gazed at the lithograph. "I'd like to be a giraffe. Just think how easily you could 'rubber' over the baseball fence."

"That's all right," replied Tommy. "but there is another time when you wouldn't want to have a neck like a giraffe."

"When is that?"

"Why, in the mornings when your ma begins to scrub your neck with soap and water."—Chicago News.

Objectionable.

"I don't see why Goodley should be so unpopular with you all. He never speaks ill of any one."

"No, but he's one of those very stung fellows who can say 'Oh, yes, Jones seemed very happy when I saw him last,' and say it in such a way as to give the impression that Jones was horribly drunk."—Philadelphia Press

PASTIMES OF MADMEN.

Cunning and Ingenuity Displayed by the Insane.

Some of the inventions of the insane are of scientific value. A patient at Villejuif invented a "panification machine" by combining a bottle, a plank and small metallic tubes, to which he had fitted faucets. Having set up his machine, he produced loaves of bread the size of a man's head. The bread was good—so good that it was decided to make the machine known. One day when it was in action the doctor suggested taking a photograph of it. The inventor watched him as if petrified for a moment; then he fell upon the machine, wrenched it apart and trampled it underfoot. The invention, an exceedingly useful one, was lost, because no one had seen him make it, and no one dares speak of it to him. To allude to it is to bring on a furious attack.

Most lunatics, no matter how contented they may be, generally cherish a furtive longing to escape. They collect wax from the polished floors, take the impressions of locks and make keys from empty sardine boxes, spoon handles or anything to be found. Dr. Marie's museum includes a collection of knives of strange and unheard of shapes. Some of them have blades made from pieces of glass or slate and set in handles of corset steels. Objects harmless in themselves become dangerous weapons through the ingenuity of madmen.

Insane sculptors are as common as insane painters. The insane sculptor hews out coarse statuettes, fantastic animals, ferocious little horned and grinning devils. An ex-mechanic carves all his soap bones. That his old trade is still in his memory is shown by the little screws that he makes out of the smaller pieces of bone. He works all day at his senseless and ridiculous task. Another lunatic, who believes he is the incarnation of the soul of Beelzebub, passes his time carving toy men out of wood. Each pair of his creations are joined together, now at the necks, now at the shoulders.—Helen E. Meyer in Harper's Weekly.

Agreed With Him.

Father (calling from head of stairs at 11:30 p. m.)—Jennie, don't you think it's about time to go to bed? Jennie—Yes, papa dear. What on earth keeps you up so late?—Pathfinder.

Not Unusual.

"Sometimes," said Uncle Eben, "I catches myse'f lambastin' a mule foh doin' purty much de same as I would do if I was in de mule's place!"—Washington Star.

Nature creates merit; fortune brings it into play.—Rochefoucauld.
