AYDEN ITEMS.

News Notes From a Hustling Town,
Briefly Told.

Ayden, N. C., Sept. 1, 1908.

J. Marshall Cox and son, of Chicod, were here a short while Monday.

Elias Turnage and E. L. Turnage are at the northern markets purchasing their fall and winter goods.

During the absence of Dr. Joseph Dixon, who will be away indefinitely, Dr. A. V. Howard, of Kinston, will attend to the professional calls of Dr. Dixon.

Miss Rosa Bland spent Sunday with Miss Florence Blount.

There were services in the Episcopal church Sunday conducted by the rector.

H. D. Lilly and two sons, W. H. and Augustus, of Vanceboro, are visiting F. Lilly.

Sunday was a beautiful day, but Monday the rain came again.

The primary passed off quietly here Saturday. Our people, however, do not seem to like the manner of change. There seems to be too much confusion in multiplicity of names and tickets.

Miss Addie Johnson, formerly of Kinston, has come to Ayden, and we are informed, will very soon open a millinery store here.

H. H. Stanley, of Shelmardine, has been a visitor in Ayden during the past week.

Mrs. R. C. Coward is away on a visit to friends in Snow Hill.

There were several from here to leave on the excursion for Richmond Monday.

We are looking forward with much pleasure to the opening session, for the fall, of the graded school. Then the teachers will be back and our town overflowing with happy children, pretty girls and handsome boys.

Constable W. J. Hemby has been on the sick list for several days.

Thomas Edmundson, who has been on a short visit to his aunt, Mrs. H. G. Burton, left for his home in Conetoe Monday.

Misses Ida and Annie Edwards spent yesterday in Greenville.

Will Have Piano Tuner Here.

We will have a first class tuner in Greenville in the next few days. Parties desiring to have their pianos tuned can get it done at a very reasonable rate by dropping us a card, care of box 261, Greenville.

It is our aim to have our own make of pianos, or those which we handle, kept up by our own men. Any unsatisfactory work, if such complaint will be reported to our Mr. G. G. Fineman, our check for the charges will cheerfully be refunded. Parties finding fault with tunings, tone, or action regulations will kindly report complaint to our Mr. Fineman in writing. This we want for our file as a precaution against our tuners.

Very Respectfully,
Chas. M. Stieff.

Cannot be Fooled.

For 100 years our people had the blessing of cheap foods. It is so no longer, whereas the clothing of the American is the highest priced in the world—a great dealer higher than the Canadian has to pay. The clamor for tariff revision comes from those who are pinched by the enhanced cost of living. There are millions making the demand for cheaper food, cheaper clothing, cheaper shelter. They are intelligent, in earnest, and cannot be fooled.—Washington Post.

GENERAL NEWS.

Happenings in Various Parts of the World.

Biloxi, Miss., Aug. 30.—Gen. Alexander P. Stewart, one of the last two surviving lieutenant generals of the Confederate States army, died at his home here to-day. Although in his 87th year and suffering from the infirmities of old age, General Stewart's death was sudden and came as a distinct shock to his relatives and friends.

New Orleans, Aug. 30.—Fire which broke out in the centre of the commercial district here this afternoon swept over portions of three blocks, destroying a large number of wholesale houses, manufacturing plants and small stores. Originating at Bienville and Chartres streets, the flames worked their way north as far as Conti street and west toward Royal, bringing about a property loss of between one and two million dollars before they were finally subdued.

Huntsville, Ala., Aug. 30.—Charles Eaton, an aged one-armed man, who had been released from jail by Federal Judge Hundley to visit his sick wife, surrendered himself last night after having walked over 100 miles to fulfill his promise to return. After visiting his wife at Winchester, Tenn., Eaton found himself without funds and was forced to walk back to Huntsville, where he was serving a sentence for illicit distilling.

All Questions Answered.

In a book store in Georgia stands a glass tank filled with water, in which there is a single goldfish. Hanging on the outside of the tank is a placard, which contains the following answers to questions which the proprietor of the shop had got tired of replying to by word or mouth:

This is a goldfish.
It is alive.
There is only one of it.
We got it from a boy.
We do not know where the boy got it.
It has never died.
We feed it whenever we want to.

It eats what we give it.
That is water it is in.
We get the water out of a well.
We do not know how old it is.
We have had it ever since we got it.

We have had more, but have not got them now.

If it sleeps we do not know.

We change the water as often as we want to.

We do not know how long it will live.

We do not miss the water it drinks.

We do not know how large it will grow.

We can catch it, but do not want to.

When we get too much water in the tank we take part of it out.

This is all we know about it.
It is not for sale.—Youth's Companion.

Telegram from Teddy.

Greensboro, N. C. Aug. 31.—There was much interest displayed in the following supposedly spurious telegram picked up on the streets here today: "White House, Washington, D. C., August 27, 1908. "Dear Cox: When I said the Quakers were not desirable citizens because they would not fight, I was not studying you. Taft says you'll fight. Glad of it."
(Signed),
"TEDDY."

100 FAMILIES HOMELESS.

The Cape Fear Flood Inundates Large Areas of Pender County.

Wilmington, N. C., Aug. 31.—The crest of the flood in the Cape Fear river, which has been raging at Fayetteville, reached Wilmington today, with the result that the railway tracks used jointly by the Seaboard Air Line and W. C. and A. and A. and Y. divisions of the Coast Line, between Wilmington and Navassa stations between the confluence of the Cape Fear and Northeast rivers, a distance of more than two miles, were completely inundated and several culverts in the right of way were washed up. On this account all trains out of Wilmington today over these lines were annulled except by transfer by boat from the city to Navassa. Further damage is expected tonight as the height of the flood continues to come down and is met by the tide from the ocean.

More than a hundred passengers on through trains 85 and 89 south bound, who have been marooned here and at Marion, S. C., on account of the high waters, were able to get through to Florence and Columbia over the Coast Line tonight and every effort will be made to continue the trains to Charleston, though the water is reported to be still rising on the trestle over the Santee river on the Northeastern road below Florence.

It is not expected that traffic on the Coast Line will assume anything like regularity before late tomorrow or Wednesday, though the officials here and at various points on the line are working like beavers to restore communication. Between the Cape Fear and Black rivers, a strip of about eight miles wide, 30 miles above Wilmington, in what is known as the lower Canetuck section of Pender county, it is reported that all but seven of nearly one hundred families in that area have been forced to leave their homes for higher land this afternoon. The damage to crops, live stock and buildings being enormous.

Expert Tuner Here.

Mr. J. F. Seigler, expert piano tuner and repairer, is here and will be here for several days. People that are hard to please and want the best of workmen to do their tuning will find more satisfaction by getting Mr. Seigler to do their tuning than to wait for a tuner from some unreliable firm. Mr. Seigler has won the highest respect of all customers in Virginia and North Carolina and holds the best of recommendation from some of the best known firms. He tuned for the Bush & Gertz Piano Co., of Chicago, at the Jamestown exposition. If you will leave your name and address at the postoffice, care Box 100, Mr. Seigler will call and do your tuning for $2.50.

Don't pay a fancy price for tuning when you can get better work for a better price to you and a guarantee with Mr. Seigler's signature, that if the work is not satisfactory to refund the money paid for the tuning.

E. L. Dawson,
Pianos and Organs,
Washington, N. C.
Mr. Seigler's home office,
Richmond, Va.

Mrs. Howard Parker and children left Sunday to visit relatives and friends in Greenville.—Tarboro Southerner.

ANOTHER LARGE SALE.

Farmers Who Cannot Come With Teams Ship Tobacco Here.

Regardless of the rains there was a big tobacco break today, the warehouses having fully a quarter million pounds. So many of the farmers are poorly equipped for housing and keeping their tobacco through such a long spell of bad weather that they do not want to take chances in holding it, hence they come rainy days as well as fair ones. The best thing in their favor is the continued good prices even if the sales are large.

The high water in the river preventing bringing teams across, several car loads of tobacco are being shipped here daily from stations beyond the river.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

The schools are opening in several sections of the county.

We ought to know how to appreciate good weather when it comes.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist church will meet with Mrs. C. D. Rountree Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Seats for the first night of the Four Pickets engagement Thursday will go on sale Wednesday at Reflector Book Store.

The bridge building crew complain that its failure to get lumber for the flooring delivered fast enough that is retarding the progress of the work.

S. J. Nobles has moved his barber shop to the building on the corner of Evans and Fourth streets. He has nicely fitted it up.

People north of the river have to ship their tobacco by train, but this does not deter them from coming to the best market in the State.

Wanted—Second hand bags and burlap, any kind, any quantity, anywhere; we pay freight. Richmond Bag Co., Richmond, Va. 8 29 10td

Mr. V. C. Fleming and Miss Emye Smith will be married in Jarvis Memorial Methodist church at 7.30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The grading down of the sidewalks leaves some of the business houses on the east side of the street about two feet above the sidewalk.

Mr. G. A. Evans placed a 40-pound watermelon on a pile of tobacco in the Liberty warehouse, Monday, the melon to go to the purchaser of the pile. There was some lively bidding on it.

Have you ever noticed how closely a man resembles an ostrich hiding when he has his head under an ordinary umbrella in a rain like that we had this morning.

For Sale—Several desirable farms in Pitt and Craven counties. One 250 acre tract, 50 acres cleared, near Tuscarora, can be bought for 3,000, one $1,000 cash, balance deferred payments. J. W. Stewart, 8 27 TST New Bern, N. C.

Central Academy, Littleton, N. C. an advertisement of which we have been printing for the last two or three months has had the largest opening in its history. This school, located in Warren county on a 700 acre farm, has a great future and will doubtless continue to have a large patronage.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL BRIEFS.

The Visitors Here and People Who Travel.

Oscar Green, left this morning for Warrenton.

B. N. Sykes went to Ahsokie today.

Jarvis Sugg and D. M. Clark went to Grifton today.

W. F. Evans returned Monday evening from Raleigh.

R. M. Jones of Durham, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. B. E. Parham.

W. H. Dail, Jr. left Monday evening for Hendersonville to attend the Wilson-Waldrop marriage.

Miss Alexander, trained nurse who has been with Mrs. B. W. Moseley during her recent sickness, left for Norfolk today.

STATE NEWS

Items of Happenings Over the State Gathered from Our Exchanges

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 31.—The labor unions of Raleigh are preparing for an elaborate Labor Day celebration September 7th, a big barbecue and brunswick stew to be one of the special features. There will be addresses by State Treasurer B. R. Lacy and Assistant Commissioner of Labor and Printing M. L. Shipman.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 31.—Two burglars, a white man and a negro, were discovered this morning in the residence of Ed. Grogan, in West Raleigh. Mrs. Grogan was alone. She fired at the white man, who was rifling her husband's trunk, wounding him slightly in the hand. The two men turned on the woman, overpowered and chloroformed her and completed the burglary. Mrs. Grogan revived sufficiently to fire four shots at them as they left the house.

A colored man was brought in the city this morning from Snow Hill and taken to the hospital to be operated on for a gunshot wound received over a year ago in an altercation with another negro. The negro who did the shooting was convicted of assault with deadly weapon in the Greene county court some time ago. The wounded negro is considered in a critical condition and operation may not be possible.—Kinston Free Press.

Winston-Salem, N. C., Aug. 31.—Today marked the close of the tobacco year in Winston market. Leaf sales for the past year were 17,158,959 pounds, a gain of 1,681,548 pounds over the previous year. The average price the past year was $10.75 per hundred. Tobacco manufacturers this month shipped 417,821 pounds, this being a decided increase over the same month last year. Stamp sales this August, $205,063.28.

The Man Who is "Rooted."

We have heard thoughtful men condemn the little hired "rooters" that go about in the interest of the candidates who are paying them, but they shouldn't be condemned too severely. They couldn't do anything to produce results without so-called voters who permit themselves to be "rooted". The fellows who place themselves in a position to be "rooted" are the ones to condemn. They ought to be made ashamed of themselves by an outraged public sentiment that they will either learn how to vote without having somebody to tell them, or quit voting until they can learn how to think for themselves.—Our Home of Marshville.

Artist Earle's first wife did not lose much when she gave him up.

Not only the crops, but last week was also a bad one for drowning candidates.

There are calls for help from the flood stricken districts that should be heeded.

Yes, the Republican State ticket is all right—plenty good for the Democrats to beat.

Those who will have to run in the second primary are determined to go about it in earnest.

The Durham Herald has acknowledged that it got fooled. Plenty of them would have said "I told you so".

There are enough things going on around Greenville to make people take notice that the town is going ahead.

The usual announcement is now being made that the next fair will be the best ever held in the State.

Mr. Bryan's speeches come along in installments, and every installment is as good as the other one.

Some folks get so concerned about other peoples' business that they lose sight of the fact that they have any of their own.

While Republican candidate Cox is reputed to have a good sized pile, it is said to be a hard proposition to get him to separate from any of it.

The Greensboro Record compares the present weather with a drunken man trying to taper off from a big spree. It does look that way.

How the Republicans do profess to love the Confederate veterans. Yet they go right on robbing them to pay pensions to Federal unworthies.

The Greensboro Industrial News is likely to eat its dish of crow with good grace even if it does leave a bad taste in the mouth.

While there is no danger of the Democrats not electing their ticket, it is just as well not to do anything that is going to turn votes to the Republican side.

Mr. Cox is perhaps the strongest man the Republicans could have put up, and has about the biggest pile from which to put up campaign funds, but that does not imply that he will be governor.

The Raleigh News and Observer is certainly scoring some good points in showing up some of their records. That black type makes them face some things they have been saying and there is no getting around it.

Governor R. B. Glenn has the following to say about the ticket nominated by the recent Republican State convention:

"While a number of those on the State ticket named by the Republicans at Charlotte are unknown to me, others I do know. They are men of good, clean upright character, but from a political standpoint it is certainly the weakest ticket that has been named in years. Some are of the old Russell regime; others actively associated with trusts and monopolies, while still others have had so little to do with the material, industrial and educational advancement of the State that they are actually unknown. The fact that two men on the ticket are from Mecklenburg and two from Rowan shows how hard pressed the convention was to get together a representative ticket. I think Democrats will have easy sailing in maintaining former majorities."

Judge Bynum, a gentleman who is given to analytical problems, is almost in the notion of placing a bet on the election of Mr. Cox. He says he had no idea that the Republican party could make any more than the usual showing this year but he is about to change his mind and he gives these as his reasons—that Mr. John Smith, plain John, a native of this county, now a candidate for congress against Webb in the Charlotte district, appeared here before the Republican State executive committee and said that if the committee would hold the convention in Charlotte he would guarantee an increased vote of 25,000 for the party. On the heels of this Mr. Cowles, or some candidate from the western part of the State, told the convention in Charlotte the other day that if the body would advocate an exemption of $200 worth of property from taxation he would guarantee another increase of 30,000 votes. "Now", says Judge Bynum, "this is plain; the Democratic majority has been about 40,000; John Smith is down for an increase of 25,000 and the other man for 30,000, so that the usual methods of addition, subtraction and multiplication show conclusively that Cox will have 15,000 majority."

I think I shall place a bet of two to one if I can't do any better, for it is a sure thing. Anybody who knows John Smith knows he will deliver the goods and as for Cowles, of course he will come across likewise. However, should an exemption of $200 be made no body west of Lexington, including Davidson county, would pay a cent of tax."—Greensboro Record.

It is possible that because of the noise in the wind swept equator the Jovian is deaf.

Quite likely, on the other hand, he has good ears, but with a device, either artificial or contributed by nature, for stopping his ears, except when he wishes to listen.

This tremendous, good natured Jovian has a leather-like skin to protect himself from the scratches of flying things and a device for sifting the air that he breathes, for Jovian atmosphere is full of dust, and in spite of the difficulties of his existence he is a long lived gentleman. On the average he exists for about 800 of our years. Probably many a Jovian exists a full thousand of our little years.—Detroit News-Tribune.

THE PLANET JUPITER

A Monster World, 1,300 Times the Size of Ours.

WHIRLS WITH AWFUL SPEED.

It Spins Around at Such a Fearful Gait That a Furious Gale Perpetually Envelops Its Equator—Its Possible Inhabitants and Its Moons.

It is curious how little the average person knows about Jupiter. He has heard a lot, too much perhaps, about Mars, but that world, 1,300 times the size of ours, whirling in the terrible outer distance of space with its five moons, its 144 months yearly, known as Jupiter is almost if not quite a mystery.

In the first place, Jupiter, according to some astronomers, is inhabited. So are some of its moons, in the midst of which the great planet spins around like a top at such tremendous speed that it causes around the equator a furious wind that blows perpetually at a rate of about 250 miles an hour.

In the midst of this never ending, howling gale live the Jovians. Some astronomers say that because Jupiter is so much bigger and heavier than the earth no creature of any weight can support itself. A man weighing 200 pounds on this earth would, if carried to Jupiter, weigh 500 pounds, and, reasoning thus, they believe that nothing bigger than a cat could stand on this vast world.

But this is no doubt a mistake. If Jupiter stood still or revolved no faster than our earth all that astronomy says would be true, and a terrestrial man could not stand upon its surface. But as a fact the tremendous rate of revolution is so much faster than the earth's that in spite of its monstrous size it turns about in less than ten hours as against our twenty-four hours.

As it is, a man of normal earthly size, if transported to the equator of Jupiter, would actually feel much lighter than he does here on earth, because the swift rotation of the planet would almost lift him from his feet and throw him into the heavens. He would feel so light that the 250 mile an hour tornado that blows incessantly would pick him up and carry him around and around the planet like a speck of dust.

In order to keep on his feet the Jovian man or woman would have to be about fifty feet tall. Some of them would doubtless reach the height of fifty-five feet. Like all big bodies, the Jovian would have a tendency to slowness of motion. Having once seated himself, he would spend a good twelve hours at his breakfast and perhaps eighteen at his dinner and would probably throw up his job if his employer allowed him less than six hours for his lunch.

The oceans of Jupiter, torn into fury by the hurricanes, would pay no attention to one moon such as moves the tides on our earth, and it takes no fewer than five of these satellites to perform this work for Jupiter. They travel at various rates of speed, some flying very close to Jupiter's surface and others far off. They have atmospheres somewhat like ours on earth, and a moonlight on Jupiter is indeed a glorious sight, for these moons have a variety of colors. Two are blue, one is yellow and one red.

Jupiter needs all its moonlight night for illumination, for without them its five hours of darkness would be black indeed. So distant is the sun that broad daylight is hardly brighter than twilight on earth, and one lone moon would not reflect enough of the sun's rays to guide the Jovian footsteps.

In the polar and semipolar areas the 250 mile an hour tornado of the equator is not present. Doubtless there are eddies and occasional windstorms such as there are on earth. And in these localities it is possible for smaller creatures to exist, and here, too, vegetation would flourish. The food supply of Jupiter must come from these areas, where it is cultivated and shipped to the equatorial regions by the diminutive races. The polar oceans are not frozen because of the great internal heat of Jupiter. And on these still oceans probably ships not greatly different from ours ply, but about the equator the unending storm would make surface sailing impossible.

If there are ships at all at the equator they are submarines, which dive into the calm depths beneath the surface. Locomotion by flying machines is extremely easy on the equator because, by taking advantage of the wind, the Jovians can navigate their planet at tremendous speed.

It is possible that because of the noise in the wind swept equator the Jovian is deaf.

Quite likely, on the other hand, he has good ears, but with a device, either artificial or contributed by nature, for stopping his ears, except when he wishes to listen.

This tremendous, good natured Jovian has a leather-like skin to protect himself from the scratches of flying things and a device for sifting the air that he breathes, for Jovian atmosphere is full of dust, and in spite of the difficulties of his existence he is a long lived gentleman. On the average he exists for about 800 of our years. Probably many a Jovian exists a full thousand of our little years.—Detroit News-Tribune.

The Farmers Consolidated Tob Co.

(HOME OFFICE, GREENVILLE, N. C.)

WILL OPERATE WAREHOUSES THE COMING SEASON AT Greenville, Robersonville, Wilson, Kinston

It is the experience of every stockholder in this company that he never made a better investment, for the five years of its operations the original stockholders have been paid 118 1-2 per cent in cash dividends. That is the result of co-operation, good management and sound business methods.

Again it is the experience of every farmer who has sold his tobacco at the warehouses of this company that he received higher prices than other houses could obtain. For the coming season the company is prepared to even surpass the fine record it has made in the past, hence it is to the interest of the farmers to sell their tobacco with this company.

THE GUM WAREHOUSE

on the Greenville market, will this season be in charge of that prince of warehousemen, Capt. J. R. Hutchinson, formerly of Wilson, whom you have only to try to be convinced of his ability to please you.

THE STAR WAREHOUSES

on the Greenville market will again be in charge of that veteran warehouseman and champion of high prices, F. D. Foxhall, whose record in the past is a guarantee of what he can do for you in the future.

The warehouses at Robersonville, Wilson and Kinston will be under capable and efficient managers who will carefully guard the interests of all who sell with them. The wise farmer will sell his tobacco with Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Co.

HIS NINE CHEESES.

An Old Time New England Story of a Stingy Parson.

Anecdotes in which the mean and grasping man is outwitted or held up to ridicule are popular everywhere and always. Few ancient towns are without their historic or traditional instances of stinginess punished or sharp practice defeated. In one village of New England, says the Youth's Companion, there is still current such a tale concerning an unpopular parson of more than a century ago.

Although a learned man of impressive manners, this clergyman was noted for undue reluctance to expend and readiness to acquire. He had a habit of pleading poverty and hinting for gifts.

The parish, although with some murmuring, had responded with fuel for his kitchen, hay for his horse, Thanksgiving turkeys for his table and a "subscription cloak" of black satin for his wife when her wedding manteau became shabby. The murmurs increased when it was found that the parson turned an honest but over-shrewd penny by selling instead of using many of these donations. But they were not loud enough to disturb his stately calm, and he went his way without condescending to notice them. At last, however, fortune played him trick for trick.

One pleasant winter day he made a round of calls, and at each house, when just about to leave, he casually asked his hostess if she could let him have a little piece of cheese, as his wife happened to have none in the house and unexpected company had arrived. In each case the good housewife, instead of a little piece, generously presented him with a whole cheese, which he graciously accepted. As he turned from the door stone at the close of the last visit, while the mother of the family and her brood of nine children stood politely gathered to watch him drive away, he carelessly pulled the wrong rein, the sleigh tipped sharply on a drift, and out from under the ministerial lap robe rolled nine large cheeses, which spun friskily away in all directions on the icy crust.

His hostess understood the situation at a glance.

"Don't disturb yourself, pray, sir," she said politely as he made a motion to descend. "It is quite unnecessary. The children will gather them up, and none will be overburdened or will there be any quarreling for the privilege. See; it is just a cheese to a child."

So it was, and the embarrassed parson, unable to escape, was obliged to receive back his cheeses, with due thanks to each giggling volunteer as they came up in gleeful procession one by one.

Too well he knew that by the next day the whole parish would be laughing at his misadventure, although he could scarcely have guessed that the joke would be recalled a hundred years later.

Nature's Cunning.

Protective mimicry, that cunning device of nature to preserve animals from their enemies, is well known in the eggs of certain fishes, notably the California shark, known as Gyropleurodus francisci. The shark is of a sluggish habit, lurking among rocks, and its dark egg resembles a leaf of kelp or seaweed folded up spirally. It is deposited among the beds of kelp and clings to the leaves by the edges of the spirals. The young shark bursts open the end of the egg and swims away. Another shark's egg of the Pacific coast has tentacles which clasp the seaweed and also imitate its appearance.

Mozart and Bretzner.

When Mozart was at the height of his fame he composed the music of Bretzner's "Belmont und Konstanze" ("The Abduction From the Seraglio") at the request of Emperor Joseph II. The author of the drama was so angry at this that he inserted the following notice in the Leipziger Zeitung: "A certain fellow of the name of Mozart has dared to misuse my drama, 'Belmont und Konstanze,' for an opera text. I hereby solemnly protest against this invasion of my rights, and I reserve to myself further procedures. (Signed) Christoph Friedrich Bretzner, Author of 'Rausch-chen.'"

Long Necked Belles.

Eastern standards of beauty differ, like the customs, from those of the west. In Malacca, we are told, the small waist and velvet eyes do not count, but instead the length of the neck is the criterion of beauty. The girl of Malacca at a very early age is fitted with a metal collar, which compels her to keep her head erect, and as she grows the collar is increased in size, and by this means the neck is gradually elongated.

Quite Enough.

"I should think you'd go slow," said the cautious friend. "You know, as Lincoln said, you can fool all the people some of the time and some of the people."

"That's all right," interrupted the sharper, "but I find it's always possible to fool enough of the people enough of the time."—Philadelphia Press.

BRICK TALK No. 9.

Is quantity and price the only things to consider in buying brick? Do you do this way when you buy other things?

NO, you consider QUALITY, yet you turn your house over to a contractor and specify "brick." He's after the money. That means Most Quantity for Least money.

If you specify "WALTON" brick you get the "QUALITY" at COMMON BRICK PRICE and what's lots better, you get a building that LOOKS LIKE PRESSED BRICK.

If this is true its worth investigating isn't it? We are ready so lets hear from you.

RELIC OF LONG AGO.

An Old Tax Receipt—Probably an Error in Date.

Monday Mr. W. F. Carroll showed us an old tax receipt dated August 20th, 1819, that was signed by B. G. Albritton, sheriff. The receipt was for $37.50 for taxes for the year 1818 due the county by Mrs. Hollan Carroll, great grandmother of Mr. Carroll. They must not had printed forms of receipts in those days, as this one was written out on a narrow strip of blue paper. The writing on it is quite distinct. However, there is evidently an error in the date, as the records of the county show that B. G. Albritton was sheriff in 1849 and that there were two sheriffs Jesse Rountree and Peter Sugg in 1819, hence this receipt must have been written in 1849.

WATER CONTINUES RISING.

In Two Feet of Highest Record—The Dam Beyond Bridge in Danger.

Report from Tarboro this morning stated that the water in the river reached a stand there last night and would soon begin falling. Ordinarily the water stops rising at Greenville about twenty-four hours after it reaches a stand in Tarboro, but with the continued rain of last night and today it is hard to tell when it will stop rising. The rise here last night was 5 inches, putting the stage this morning within two feet of the high water record. Water has reached the top of the dam beyond the bridge, and it has been necessary to haul dirt on it today to keep the dam from washing in two. Much of a rise tonight would be a disaster to it.
