NOW FOR GOOD ROADS.

County Commissioners Will Have Experimental Mile Built.

Though the efforts of Congressman John H. Small, who is always on the lookout for the interests of the people of his district, the government offered to send an expert road builder here to superintend the construction of a mile or so of experimental road, if the county commissioners would provide the labor and material necessary for building it.

On Monday Mr. W. L. Spoon, an expert in road building, was here to talk over the matter with the board of commissioners, and explain how good roads can be made of sand and clay, both of which are abundant in this section.

Tuesday afternoon committees from the chamber of commerce and the tobacco board of trade went before the commissioners to urge the acceptance of the offer of the government and to have the experimental piece of road built as an object lesson to the people of the county and awaken interest among them for better roads.

After fully considering the matter the commissioners decided to accept the offer of the government and ordered Superintendent McLawhorn with the convict force, under the direction of the expert road builder, to construct about a mile of good road, beginning at the town limits on the old plank road. The work will be done the latter part of this month.

COUNTY NEEDS GOOD OFFICERS.

Editor Reflector:

Having read the articles in your paper of Monday and Tuesday about the candidates for county offices, I wish to make a few remarks. I am not a politician but a tax payer.

Are the county offices to be put on the pie counter and dished out at specified terms, or are the offices to be held by officials, who have proved themselves worthy of the trust, placed in them?

This is a great mistake, when a county has an efficient and trusty corps of officers, to remove them because, "they had it long enough". This county now needs good and tried servants, who know and understand their business.

Every time a change is made, there is some time before the offices get into proper shape again, as the new officials must learn the routine of office. Now the county is not benefitted by this frequent change, nor the taxpayers, either. Therefore drop this term business and vote for the man, who will benefit you and the county.

There is one office, where every one in the county ought to be interested which is a responsible one, the office of registers of deeds. This is an office of great responsibilities and the voters ought to be careful who they select. The present incumbent is a man of sterling qualities, honor, honesty and integrity. He has brought the office of register of deeds up to a very high standard, second to none in the State, and all by his hard work, which is not finished.

Come out and vote for him, and the best interest of the county.

A WOMAN AT THIRTY-FIVE

Is at Her Best—With Youth and Maturity Both Within Her Grasp.

At thirty-five a normal, interesting woman is at her best, and so should she continue to be for fifteen years at the minimum count. She is no longer frivolity, for frivolity is empty and scarcely soul-satisfying, but she is bright and jolly and happy of heart in a substantial and thoroughly beautiful way. She could not possibly be a silly prude, for experience has taught her that there is a great deal of utter nonsense at which one should not be improperly shocked. In fact, she has graduated from the kindergarten of foolishness and giggle to the big university of wisdom and hearty laughter.

She is luckier than she knows. She has reached the age at which she can cast away the useless and worthless pleasures and revel in the bigger, greater more divine delights of intelligent appreciation of all that is splendid, exquisite and uplifting.

She has climbed to the middle height of the mountain where she can glance back at youth, wave her hand and cry out encouragingly: "Come along, thirty five is fine!" And she can gaze above with steady eyes to the pinnacle where all is rest, quiet and soft lights. At the moment, although she sees plainly the past and the future, she is in the midst of endeavor, bountifully strengthened with the knowledge that each age brings its own fulfillment of hope.—The October Designer.

The Third Term Question.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

Yes, we have heard very much of late about keeping the same men in office for more than two terms, and rightly so, but out of the three thousand Democratic voters in the county of Pitt there is no reason why our grand old party should favor the same man for the same office for a longer period than two terms.

What are the principles of our party organization? "Equal rights to all and special privileges to none." If we continue to nominate the same old officers, when there are others just as good, are we not extending "Especial privileges" and refusing others just as efficient, "Equal Rights?" We have nothing to say against the present incumbents of the several county offices. On the contrary we think they have given us a good, clean and efficient administration, and when they were nominated four years ago, deservedly had the harmonious support of a united party. But now, having had recognition and support for four years, it is time for them to emulate the "Father of our Country"—step down and out, and let others, equally as worthy and equally as entitled, have a show.

This is a republic, not a monarchy, and the foundation of our government is based on the principal that no man have life tenure of any elective office. Fellow Democrats, if you wish to hold your party together and have harmony in its ranks vote for S. I. Dudley for sheriff, W. M. Moore for register of deeds, and last, but not least, W. B. Wilson for treasurer, otherwise you may have strife.

"Let each voter carefully consider for himself."

A Democrat, Who Never Scratched a Ticket.

GENERAL NEWS.

Happenings in Various Parts of the World.

New York, Sept. 8.—Four are dead and the bodies of many others are believed to be in the ruins of a fire which destroyed the seven-story building which extends from No. 542 to 548 Water street.

Denver, Col., Sept. 8.—Awakened from their sleep by the shouts of fire shortly after 4 o'clock this morning, guests of the hotel Belmont, 1737 South street, were thrown into a panic which resulted in the death of five.

Danville, Ills., Sept. 8.—President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, attacked the record of Speaker Cannon in the latter's own home town here yesterday. Before an enthusiastic audience of 2,000 labor men in Lincoln Park Mr. Gompers said some mighty complimentary things about the speaker. He came to Danville for the purpose of making a speech to the laboring men of this place, hoping in this way to defeat Uncle Joe for congress in November.

WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From Our Hustling Neighbor.

Winterville N. C., Sept. 9, 1908.

Miss Janie Kittrell, one of our most popular girls, left Tuesday morning for the musical conservatory at Durham, where she will take a special course in music.

Mrs. M. G. Bryan is visiting her mother near Whichard's this week.

Rev. T. H. King and Perry Jackson left Tuesday morning for Middlesex.

Miss Edith Mumford, of Ayden, spent several days with Mrs. R. H. Hunsucker. She returned home Tuesday.

Miss Bertha Moore, from House, spent Sunday with Miss Bonner Kittrell.

Rev. T. H. King filled his regular appointment Sunday morning and night, preaching two fine sermons to large congregations. At the morning service there were two accessions and at night the ordinance of baptism was administered to two. Also at the morning service Jno R. Carroll was granted license to preach the gospel.

Bruton Bryan has accepted a position with Walter McGlohon at Hanrahan and left Monday to begin work.

Mrs. Nannie Lou Waldrop, of Hendersonville, came in Sunday evening and is getting along nicely with her work as assistant music teacher in Winterville High School.

Several new pupils entered school Monday and everything is moving off nicely.

J. S. Cox, who is an express messenger on the Atlantic Coast Line between Richmond and Fayetteville, is spending a few days at home.

Miss Sarah Barker, who has a position at Chocowinity is spending a few days with her parents, Miss Clevia Harris is also spending some time with her.

Misses Helen Biddle and Lizze Brinson, of Craven, entered Winterville High School yesterday.

Muzzle Dogs.

The Kinston Aldermen have passed an ordinance requiring dogs to be muzzled or kept in. Greenville might with good advantage follow this example.

CHARLES R. SUGG REWARDED.

An Important Promotion for a Pitt County Young Man.

Charles R. Sugg has been appointed superintendent of buildings, government printing office, vice Ewald Schmitt, whose resignation was tendered and accepted yesterday afternoon following a controversy with the purchasing agent, which was taken to the Public Printer for adjustment. After the dispute with the purchasing agent had been disposed of Mr. Schmitt, it is said, registered a complaint with the Public Printer's secretary about another matter. The Public Printer then caused a letter to be sent him, ordering him to report to Charles R. Sugg, an assistant in Schmitt's office, whom the Public Printer had appointed in his stead, for duty as an architectural draftsman at $1,200 per annum. The position of superintendent of buildings pays $2,500 per annum.—Washington Times.

The above clipping tells of the good fortune of a Pitt county boy in being promoted to a $2,500 position in the government service. Charlie Sugg is the oldest son of the late Col. I. A. Sugg. When a mere boy during President Cleveland's second administration he was appointed a messenger at small salary in the government printing office at Washington, D. C., and has been employed in that great work shop ever since.

In a private letter received from Mr. G. B. King, of that city, he says that Mr. Sugg's new position is an important and responsible one, the duties of which include supervision over the engineers, electricians, machinists, draughtsmen, carpenters, watchmen, doorkeepers, sanitary division, etc., all these numbering hundreds of people. He further says Mr. Sugg was selected for this responsible place because the Public Printer was impressed with his highly efficient work and recognizing his qualifications so rewarded him on the ground of merit. Mr. Sugg's success is gratifying news to his friends at his old home.

STATE NEWS

Items of Happenings Over the State Gathered from Our Exchanges

Durham, Sept. 7.—B. T. Chandler, aged 64 years, died today at Watts Hospital, where he went five weeks ago for treatment for typhoid fever. His death marks the end of five within six months. Beginning March 10, he lost a son, and later another son; July 23d his wife and another son and today the head of the family went as all the others went, by fever.

Reidsville, N. C., Sept. 8.—J. M. Swann, eighty years old, was killed by a freight train on the Southern today, while crossing the track just north of the depot. Some one called to him to get out of the way and as he turned around he was struck by the train.

The Highest Yet.

To-day F. D. Foxhall at the Star Warehouse branch of the Farmers' Consolidated Tobacco Co., made a sale that eclipses anything that has been done on the market this season. He sold for J. F. Buck, 20 pounds at $13.25; 56 at $14.75; 92 at $28; 108 at $40; 74 at $50; 52 at $52, an average of $35.80. It pays to sell at the Star. 1td 1tw

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL BRIEFS.

The Visitors Here and People Who Travel.

S. T. White went to Bethel this morning.

W. H. Kilpatrick went to Walstonburg this morning.

Misses Nana King and Lillie Minzia, of Raleigh, who have been visiting Mrs. E. H. Evans, left Thursday evening.

Prof. J. D. McIver, who was once superintendent the graded school at Farmville and now at Wadesboro, was a visitor here today.

Misses Mamie and Rosa Hooker and Mrs. Louisa Forbes and children left this morning for Richmond, where they will make their home.

Rev. R. R. Fleming, who has a pastorate in Newton, Kas., came in Tuesday evening and spent the night with his sister, Mrs. R. D. Harrington. Today he went to Pactolus where he will spend a while with his father, R. R. Fleming. We were glad to have a call from him while he was in town.

CALLS FOR AID FOR SUFFERERS.

Governor Asks People of State to Contribute to Funds.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 8.—Governor Glenn issued today a proclamation in which he declared that the governor is powerless to relieve the suffering in the flood devastated sections of Eastern Carolina and calling on all humane citizens of the state to contribute to a fund for relief in these sections; also that he has directed the attention of the national governor to devastated conditions, especially in Pender and Lenoir counties, urging that steps be taken for relief. The proclamation is issued with the approval of the council of State. It follows, "To the People of North Carolina:

"Owing to the unusually heavy and disastrous rains during the last few weeks, the rivers and other streams in North Carolina have overflowed their banks, and done untold injury to people living along them. Entire crops have been washed away, farming lands utterly ruined, outhouses and many dwellings washed off or destroyed, and some lives lost. Untold suffering has been and will continue to be upon these people on account of this Providential visitation.

"It, therefore, behooves the good people of the entire State to ascertain where this distress is, and at once try to relieve it. Many sections are entirely laid waste, especially in the counties of Pender and Lenoir and along the Cape Fear river.

"There is absolutely no authority vested in me by law to relieve the suffering, or even to investigate the loss and report where relief is most needed. This seems to have been left entirely for action on the part of the general assembly. I have, however, reported the condition of affairs to the national government and begged the proper authorities to make a thorough investigation of the conditions in this state. I now request each locality where the damage has been severe and the people suffering, to at once investigate and ascertain who truly needs assistance, and report the same to the board of commissioners of the county; and then I appeal to all humane citizens of the state, as God has prospered and blessed them, to give liberally toward the help

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 9, 1908

You will yet see Pitt county pushing ahead for good roads.

There are yet a few gentlemen who will find out Saturday night that they were merely running.

Taft must be going to cover the entire United States in his speech making, as it is said he will devote his time to doubtful territory.

Give the people of the country rural free mail delivery, telephones and good roads, and they will enjoy advantage of communication equal to those had by people living in town.

Some time ago The Reflector offered space for a "kicker's column," but only one kicker used it one time. This is referred to by way of a reminder that if you will not take advantage of an opportunity when it is offered, don't expect somebody else to do your kicking for you.

If Pitt county at the session of criminal court which begins week after next does as well as Durham at a recent term, Superintendent Joe McLawhorn will have enough hands to build that mile of experimental road in quick order. Durham sent forty two to the roads at one term of court.

Remember the joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and the Tobacco Board of Trade in the court house Friday night. Every member of both of these organizations, and all other business men of the community, should be present and help to devise plans for the advancement of the town and county. Any farmers who can do so are also invited to be present at this meeting. Let every person interested in progress and development be present.

The experimental mile of good road which the Board of County Commissioners has ordered constructed under the direction of an expert road builder to be sent here by the government, will prove a good object lesson to the people of the county. We have no doubt that this step will begin the awakening of interest in better roads that will ultimately extend over the entire county. Nothing will help the county more than to have a system of good public roads.

We never could see any good excuse except in rare instances, for persons not giving in their taxes during the time prescribed by law, yet at several meetings of the county commissioners after tax listing time much of their time is consumed by delinquents who come to list their taxes. There ought to be a change in this respect, as many people take advantage of it for dodging part of the taxes they ought to pay. When a month is set apart for tax listing, those who fail to come forward and list in that time, unless there is some extraordinary reason for not doing so, ought to be subjected to the full penalty of the law.

Perhaps there may be something in the story that Wall street is opposing Governor Hughes' renomination because of his excessive zeal against crooked gambling. Public sentiment do not formerly run so strong against wagers at the race track because formerly the public had at least the gambler's chance of winning. Lately there is no such chance, every thing being set out and fixed so that the 'profession' always takes the coin. The same thing, there appear to be reasons for believing, appertains to the operations on the Stock Exchange.—Chat-tanooga Times.

Mr. Josephus Daniels, chairman of the Publicity Committee of the Democratic national campaign, after a stay of some days in New York City, predicts that New York State will go Democratic. They do say that the enthusiasm for Bryan in the Greater City, especially among the working people, is something calculated to make the Democratic outlook very flattering indeed. It is the up-state farmers, who are staunch Republicans, who will defeat Bryan in New York if he is defeated there. But this is the year when the farmer is beginning to see that he is bearing more than his share of the governmental budget and perhaps even the New York State's electoral vote is by no means a Republican asset this year.—Greensboro Telegram.

THE CHILTERN HUNDREDS.

One of the Political Curiosities of Great Britain

This is a survival of the time when the people were very jealous of the crown and were constantly in fear that the throne would destroy the independence of the commons by corrupting members with offices, a use of patronage not entirely unknown in present day America. To prevent that it was wisely required that a member must give his constituents an opportunity to approve or disapprove of his course by expressing their confidence by a re-election to parliament or showing their displeasure by defeating him. Of course nowadays a seat in the cabinet is not at the disposal of the sovereign, but is solely the gift of the prime minister, the party chief, so that no question of bribery can enter into the acceptance of a place under the government. But the electorate still reserves to itself the right of approval, and the new minister, after he has accepted office, but before he can take his seat in the house of commons as a minister of the crown, must have the assent of his constituents.

Curiously enough—and this is interesting as showing how the English people cling to tradition—there is no provision made for the resignation of a member of parliament, and the only way in which he can resign is for him to accept an office of profit and trust under the government and decline re-election. There is a nominal and fictitious post known as the stewardship of the Chiltern Hundreds, a district in Buckinghamshire whose steward some centuries ago was charged with the duty of suppressing robbers and who was, of course, compensated for his services.

A member who desires to retire or to seek re-election because he has entered the government applies to the prime minister to be appointed steward of the Chiltern Hundreds, which vacates his seat. The appointment is duly published in the Official Gazette, and the vacancy in the house of commons is thus created. There is, of course, no limit to the number of persons who may be appointed stewards of the Chiltern Hundreds, although it is the unwritten law that the appointment must not be conferred twice on the same day. If there were a dozen men who wanted to resign at the same time they would have to take their turn.

TALE OF A LACE WRAP.

Involving in its Climax the Problem of Feminine Shrewdness.

One of several men employed in a downtown office boisterously proclaimed the time honored principle that women are devoid of principle. "They are tricky to the core, every mother's daughter of them," he said. "They don't know what honesty means."

Mr. Bateman resented the imputation.

"I don't believe a word of that," he said. "Women have just as sound principles as men. Take my wife, for instance. She is the soul of honor. You couldn't hire her to do a tricky thing. Just let me tell you what a trump she showed herself to be a week ago. She was coming home from the matinee. While crossing Broadway she found a package that had evidently been dropped from the platform of a car. Obviously there was no way of catching the car and restoring the package, so of course she brought it home. It contained six yards of beautiful creamy lace. The check said it had been paid for and cost $13.50.

"Now, my wife had two wraps whose sleeves needed remodeling, and, human nature being what it is, her first thought was that she could utilize the lace for trimming. But her spirit of rectitude triumphed.

"No," she said, "I won't use the lace. I will take it back to the store. Possibly the person who lost it will inquire about it at the lost and found department."

"I advised her to keep the lace and not bother about the woman who had lost it. My wife seemed startled at my iniquity.

"If I return it and the loser doesn't call for the lace, what will become of it?" she asked.

"The store will gobble it up," said I, "and sell it over again. It belongs to you just as much as to them."

"But she was resolute. 'Possibly you are right,' she said, 'but I cannot keep what is not mine. I must return the lace.'

"And she did," continued Mr. Bateman proudly. "And that, I take it, is as pretty an instance of honest dealing as you will find in anybody, either man or woman."

The scoffer at feminine honesty admitted that for an example of probity Mrs. Bateman's heroic surrender of lost property would be hard to beat, and the meeting adjourned with sentiment leaning pretty strongly toward the maligned sex.

Mr. Bateman went home in a particularly happy frame of mind. He kissed his wife with unusual fervor and finally offered to take her to a theater. When she was dressed he noticed a difference in the appearance of her mohair wrap.

"Isn't that lace something like that you found in the street the other day?" he asked.

"Yes," she said, "it is the same piece."

"I thought you took it back?" said Bateman.

Mrs. Bateman blushed. "I did," she said faintly, "but I—I got it again. I couldn't give it up. I went to the lost and found department the next day and asked for it myself."

"Oh!" said Bateman.—New York Times.

Revenge!

"I," declared the popular author, "have signed an exclusive contract with one magazine."

"But now that you are famous," protested a friend, "other magazines will be writing for your work."

"And I shall decline their offers with thanks. I have even ordered some printed slips."—St. Louis Republic.

His Periodicals.

"Do you take any periodicals?" asked the clergyman on his first round of parish visits.

"Well, I don't," replied the woman, "but my husband takes 'em frequent. I do wish you'd try to get him to sign the pledge!"—Judge.

The Farmers Consolidated Tob Co.

(HOME OFFICE, GREENVILLE, N. C.)

WILL OPERATE WAREHOUSES THE COMING SEASON AT Greenville, Robersonville, Wilson, Kinston

It is the experience of every stockholder in this company that he never made a better investment, for the five years of its operations the original stockholders have been paid 113 1-2 per cent in cash dividends. That is the result of co-operation, good management and sound business methods.

Again it is the experience of every farmer who has sold his tobacco at the warehouses of this company that he received higher prices than other houses could obtain. For the coming season the company is prepared to even surpass the fine record it has made in the past, hence it is to the interest of the farmers to sell their tobacco with this company.

THE GUM WAREHOUSE

on the Greenville market, will this season be in charge of that prince of warehousemen, Capt. J. R. Hutchinson, formerly of Wilson, whom you have only to try to be convinced of his ability to please you.

THE STAR WAREHOUSES

on the Greenville market will again be in charge of that veteran warehouseman and champion of high prices, F. D. Foxhall, whose record in the past is a guarantee of what he can do for you in the future.

The warehouses at Robersonville, Wilson and Kinston will be under capable and efficient managers who will carefully guard the interests of all who sell with them. The wise farmer will sell his tobacco with

RATTLESNAKES' TEETH.

If You Should Happen to Get Any, Handle Them With Care.

The zoo keeper carefully unfolded a small paper packet, which looked as if it might contain a headache powder.

"Want a rattlesnake's tooth?" he inquired.

"Tooth?"

"Well, call it a fang if you want to, but ain't there something in the good book about 'sharper than a serpent's tooth'? Look at this one and you'll think that the old fellow that wrote that must have known what he was talking about."

He opened the paper and showed what seemed like a miniature horn. It was shaped like a cow horn, which has only one curve. It was yellowish white, like a discolored tooth.

It was about three-quarters of an inch long and a sixteenth of an inch in diameter at the base, where it seemed as if it had been broken off. The point was as sharp as a needle. An eighth of an inch back of the point, on the outer curve of the tooth, was an opening, the end of a sort of tube, which ran the whole length of the tooth.

This little channel through the tooth seemed to be full of a dried substance, which the zoo keeper evidently regarded with proper suspicion, for he warned the recipient of the tooth to handle the same with care. He did not think that one would get a true case of snake bite from one of these discarded teeth, but if the skin should be scratched or pierced by it a bad sore would probably result.

According to him, the keepers at the zoo often pick up these loose teeth in the snake cages. They are apparently shed in the course of natural changes, something as the serpent sheds his skin. They are not merely the snake's baby teeth, for he sheds them more than once.—Washington Post.

The Gaelic Language.

The old Gaelic language was spoken by all the branches of the great Celtic race, for, while a dialect of the Celtic language, it was so like the other Celtic dialects that no Celt would find difficulty in speaking it. Specifically, it was the speech of the Manxmen, Welsh, Scotch highlanders, Cornishmen, Bretons and many of the Irish. It is still spoken in some parts of Ireland, Wales, the highlands and the Isle of Man.—New York American.

A Mere Pittance.

Mrs. Nurich—I told Widow Downes to send her boy to you and you'd give him a position. Mr. Nurich—Well, I didn't give him no position. He came with a note from her, an' she said in the note, "I must find employment for my boy, even if he works for a mere pittance." The nerve of her callin' me "a mere pittance!"—Philadelphia Press.

Nothing!

"Have you," asked the judge of a recently convicted man, "anything to offer the court before sentence is passed?"

"No, your honor," replied the prisoner; "my lawyer took my last farthing."—London Tit-Bits.

The Last Word.

Conductor—This here transfer expired an hour ago, lady. The Lady (digging in her purse snappishly)—No wonder with not a single ventilator open in the whole car!—Puck.

If you would relish your food, labor for it.—Danish Proverb.

A Card.

HIDDEN DANGERS.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Greenville Citizen can Afford to Ignore

Danger Signal No. 1, comes from the kidneys' crierions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kid eyes send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill-meling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

Danger Signal No. 2, comes from the back. Back pain, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here's Greenville proof:

James Hardison, business address 319 Fifth St., Greenville N. C., says: "My kidneys acted too freely, especially during the night when I would be forced to rise several times. In the morning my back would be very lame and at such times I was subject to pains through my loins. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Wooten's drug store, restored my kidneys to a normal condition, I am now able to sleep well at night and the lameness and soreness across the small of my back has entirely disappeared. I have found Doan's Kidney Pills to be exactly as represented and I have no hesitancy in giving them my endorsement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's—and take no other.

VOTE FOR THE NEW CANDIDATES.

Pitt County Democrats Should Do Away With Third Terms.

Rally! Boys! Rally!
To the grand old Democratic flag, and let the majority of the Democratic voters be compensated for the noble work, in harmony which was so faithfully carried out in our first primary for the support of our many friends. Now we realize that all can not hold an office. And we do not think it just for one to hold office more than two terms, and we do not approve of any more third term doctrine.

Not that we think any the less of the present office holders who have made officers that have faithfully performed their duties, and men against whom there is not a word of complaint. Now we appeal to the voters to cast their votes for the new men on Saturday, the 12th day of September. There being only eight hundred and fifty two votes out of two thousand five hundred and forty six cast for L. W. Tucker, and five hundred and thirty five out of two thousand three hundred and fifty two cast for Williams, eight hundred and three out of two thousand three hundred and ninety eight cast for S. T. White.

Therefore we the undersigned Democratic voters, do hereby appeal to the better judgment of the voters of old Pitt, and ask them to vote for the new candidates on second primary, September the 12th, 1908, which are as follows: S. I. Dudley for sheriff, W. M. Moore for register of deeds, W. B. Wilson, for treasurer.
